Inver Hills/Oneida to offer courses in Highland area

College level adult continuing education classes will begin the week of March 27 at six Highland area locations. Offered through the Inver Hills Community College/Oneida Education Center inner-city program, the classes are designed specifically to serve the needs of those who'd like further schooling for job advancement, a career change, or simply personal development.

The cost of the courses is $11.50 per credit, and tuition assistance is available. In addition, students are welcome to use Inver Hills/Oneida educational counseling services free of charge.

Classes to be offered in this area will meet at Homecroft Elementary School, the St. Paul Jewish Community Center, the Adult Community Education Center (the old Gordon School), the Minnesota Opera Company, Family Tree Clinic, and Oneida Education Center.

Spring quarter classes will be offered in the following subject areas: English, business management, human services, career development, law enforcement, basic skills, physical education, psychology, secretarial skills, and speech. Topical study courses to be offered include History of St. Paul, Opera Behind the Scenes, and Urban Studies: The American City.

For information on specific course offerings, class times and locations, contact Kathy Shannon or Terry Crowley at 227-7803.

City now accepting funding requests

The city of St. Paul budget director is now accepting funding requests for capital improvement and community development proposals from citizen organizations and city departments.

Requests must be submitted to the Budget Office in City Hall by April 3. The budget process, which includes participation in requesting, analyzing and recommending funding priorities for capital projects, concludes by October 1, 1978 when the City Council adopts the 1979 Capital Improvement Budget.

For more information, or request forms, contact the Mayor's office at 298-4354.

St. Paul Primary Election: Vote Tuesday, March 14

Listed below are the candidates' names for St. Paul city and District 625 school board positions in which there is opposition on the primary ballot. The names of all other candidates who have filed will automatically appear on the voting machines in the April 25 general election.

Heat loss photos of Highland area homes to be on display

Aerial infra-red photographs of Highland area homes will be on display at two Grand Avenue locations during March.

The photos, which indicate the level of home heat loss experienced at about this time last year, will be interpreted for interested area residents by a specially trained team from the St. Paul Housing and Redevelopment Authority. They will also offer tips on techniques available to homeowners to conserve energy.

The photo display is currently on view at Minnesota Federal, located at Grand and Fairview Ave. Viewing hours are from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. on March 1 and 2, and from 9:00 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. on March 3.

The display will open at First Grand Avenue State Bank, 1074 Grand Ave., on March 13 and run through March 24. Viewing hours there will be from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays, and from 9:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. Fridays.

Homeowners who visit the exhibition should know the amount and type of insulation in their homes, and the number of homes between theirs and the nearest intersection.

A fund to establish a cultural events and lecture series to promote better understanding between Twin City Jewish and Christian communities was recently set up at the College of St. Catherine. Gifts in excess of $2500 were received by St. Catherine's from the family and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Goodman to establish the fund. Pictured above during the presentation of a

Non-credit spring courses to begin at St. Catherine's

Registration for a series of spring non-credit courses is now being accepted at the College of St. Catherine, according to an announcement by its Office of Continuing Education.

The courses will be conducted one evening a week for seven or eight weeks beginning March 27, with the exception of one which will be offered on two consecutive Saturdays in April.

Offered for the first time will be Techniques for Coping with Conflict, a course designed to help participants identify conflicts in their lives.

Other courses include: Self-Understanding Through Journal Writing, Parent Effectiveness Training, and Assertiveness Training.

Building Career Plans and Skills is the course which will be taught on two Saturdays, April 8 and 15, from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. The instructor is Suzanne Sisson, training program manager at the University of Minnesota Hospitals. She will also teach Techniques for Coping with Conflict.

Self-Understanding Through Journal Writing will be taught by Christina Baldwin, author of the book "One to One: Self Understanding Through Journal Writing." The course will explore the use of the personal journal as a means of developing self reliance.

Parent Effectiveness Training, an educational program for parents, is open to couples and single parents.

In the Assertiveness Training course, participants will explore individual values, strengths and resources, and practice skills to improve expression.

Information on the courses and fees may be obtained by calling the Office of Continuing Education at 690-6542. Pre-registration is necessary for all courses and seminars.

Area churches to observe World Day of Prayer Friday

Churches throughout the area will observe the 1978 World Day of Prayer this Friday, March 3. The ecumenical services scheduled for the day are being sponsored locally by the St. Paul Area Church Women United.

Services in the immediate Highland Village area will begin at 10:00 a.m. at St. Leo's Church, 2055 Bohland Ave. Nativity Church, 324 So. Prior Ave., will host a 1:00 p.m. service for all churches in what has been designated the central region of St. Paul.

World Day of Prayer services will be held at 1:00 p.m. at St. Mark's Church, 2001 Dayton Ave., for all those in the Merriam Park area. Residents of Mendota and Mendota Heights are invited to attend services at Salem United Methodist Church, 5590 Babcock Trail East, beginning at 1:00 p.m.

All those who'd prefer to attend an evening service may participate in the World Day of Prayer observance at the Church of the Messiah Episcopal, 1631 Ford Pkwy., beginning at 6:15 p.m. The service will include a dinner for which reservations are required. They can be made by calling Ruby Wood at 645-7426 or Una Hartman at 225-1542.

Further information on World Day of Prayer services may be obtained by calling Mrs. Dorothy Johnson at 225-6619.

Pancake supper prepared by scouts

Several area Cub and Boy Scout troops are sponsoring a pancake supper from 4:00 to 8:00 p.m. Saturday, March 4 in the Fellowship Hall of Gloria Dei Church, Snelling and Highland Pkwy.

Cost is $1.50, free to children under 5 years. Tickets may be obtained at the door or by calling one of the following scout groups: Troop 74 at 699-6519; Troop 90 at 690-2739; Pack 26 at 690-3207; Pack 21 at 698-6250; and Post 47 at 698-1785.

CIB Committee seeks applicants

St. Paul's long-range Capital Improvement Budget (CIB) Committee is seeking citizens interested in serving on the committee's three task forces.

CIB task forces recommend funding priorities for projects being considered in the 1979 Capital Improvement Budget. They will meet weekly between the middle of April and the end of June.

The task forces and times they meet are: Community Facilities, Wednesdays at 9:00 a.m.; Streets and Utilities, Tuesdays at 2:00 p.m.; and Residential and Economic Development, Fridays at noon.

Each of St. Paul's 17 planning districts is allowed one representative on each task force. Information on the duties of the task forces and nominating forms can be obtained by calling 298-4354.

HGRA soccer registration to open March 15

Registration opens Wednesday, March 15 for the Highland-Groveland Recreation Association (HGRA) spring soccer season, which gets underway during the first week of May. Last year over 850 area youngsters in grades K-9 participated.

Registrations forms, which have been distributed through area elementary and junior high schools, should be turned in—along with the $4.00 registration fee—on March 15 at Groveland School, March 22 at Homcroft playground, or March 23 at Hillcrest playground. Hours are 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. each night. Those who did not already receive a form can pick one up during those times.

The HGRA still needs a few men and women who'd like to serve as coaches for the 1978 season. Those interested should drop by during registration to sign up.

For any further information, contact Sam Walker, HGRA soccer league chairman, at 699-2543.

Workshop slated on children, TV

A workshop entitled "Children and Television" will be presented from 9:00 to 3:00 p.m. Saturday, March 4 in Jeanne d'Arc Auditorium at the College of St. Catherine.

Joseph McDermott from KTCA-TV, channel 2, will present the main address, "Children and Television." Following his presentation, Dean and Shirley Lieberman of Project Focus will deliver a talk entitled "TV: The Flickering Blue Parent."

Registrants can choose from among four afternoon workshops for parents, teachers, or anyone interested in television awareness. Cost for the day is $5.00 for adults, $2.50 for students. For more information, call Project Focus at 484-7161.

The Metropolitan Organization for Displaced Women (MOD Women), 1373 Grand Ave., got a big boost last week when it was presented with a check from the Gillette Manufacturing Company to assist in the expansion of its current programs. On hand at the presentation were, from left to right: Gillette's employment manager Robert Nance; MOD Women executive director Pat Schmidtke; board of directors chairperson Joann Nelson; and vice chairperson and Minneapolis Mayor Al Hofstede. MOD Women is a non-profit information referral and counseling facility for female head of households.

Public meeting scheduled March 7 to help save remaining elm trees

What can area residents do now to help control the spread of Dutch elm disease this year?

Plenty.

Suggested actions will be explained at a public meeting for people throughout the St. Paul-Minneapolis metropolitan area at 8:00 p.m. Tuesday, March 7 in the fifth floor auditorium of the First National Bank of Minneapolis, 5th St. and 2nd Ave. So.

The meeting is sponsored by the Citizens League, a private, Twin City public affairs association. Speakers will include David W. French, University of Minnesota plant pathologist; representatives of neighborhoods which are carrying out an effective program in controlling Dutch elm disease; and representatives of the Citizens League, which recently published a report on the importance of neighborhood-city cooperation in controlling the disease.

The meeting will stress the importance of effective removal of firewood plus ways a neighborhood can organize itself.

According to the Citizens League report, if several trees on a block are afflicted with Dutch elm disease at the same time, the source of infection more than likely comes from within the neighborhood. If such sources can be eliminated, significant strides in lengthening the lives of elms are possible.

Elm bark beetles will begin to emerge in April from beneath the bark of dead and dying elmwood where they survived the winter. They will fly to the nearest healthy trees to feed and, in the process, deposit deadly Dutch elm disease fungus.

In the two to three weeks between the time the snow melts and the beetles emerge, neighborhood residents should get rid of all firewood piles and other bark-on elmwood.

A successful elm firewood effort carried out by a Twin Cities neighborhood last year will be a major part of the March 7 program.

Persons with questions about the meeting may call the Citizens League at 338-0791.

MISCH- MASH

by Maurice F. Mischke

One thing I've never regretted is the title of this column. At least it makes no great claims for what usually follows below!

Some of you may wonder how come the Villager's "election issue" comes in a week earlier than might have been possible within our normal every-other-week schedule. Well, folks, it's just the way the calendar happened to fall this year. Besides, back in December, when we made up our 24-issue schedule of dates for '78, the prospects of a genuine city election worth writing about seemed rather remote.

Who could have known at that time that Councilman Pat Roedler and Bob Sylvester would hang 'em up, giving way to some new candidates? Who could have guessed that in one slot (Seat "A") the DFL would fail to endorse? Who could be sure Councilwoman Rosalie Butler would draw formidable DFL-Labor-endorsed opposition and go independent for the general election in April? Who would have surmised that there'd be a dichotomy of endorsements for the School Board, between DFL and Labor?

You might think this election a little pallid in comparison to some donnybrooks of the past. But have you thought what a dull primary it could have been... had Roedler and Sylvester not deigned to resign?

Showalter (Joanne), of course, is a shoo-in... with all the necessary credentials—blessings from the boss (Roedler), DFL and Labor... sans any real competitive threat.

But look what happens when the party (DFL, that is) doesn't agree enough to endorse. What a different ball game then. Shows you how different the competition would be if we had an open primary instead of a DFL city convention.

As a result, Seat "A" for the city council looks to be something of a three-way race among Ron Maddox, Virginia Zasada and Bill Carlson, with a couple of heretofore unknowns thrown in for good measure. I couldn't begin to call that one. It just happens to be the only suspenseful battle in the whole primary scene. Unless Douglas Ward manages to challenge Catherine Piccolo and/or Wayne Wittman.

But here's an interesting sidelight to the election system the DFL-dominated legislature wished on the big three cities of Minnesota just a few years ago. The American Party candidates (3) appear on the primary ballot, although without opposition; the Socialist candidate for Mayor does, too. Of course, so do the IR's and DFLers... but not the Independents.

It makes a difference, although maybe not much, in the Butler-McMahon race, where another Independent is also running. Were Independents included in the primary, only one would be left in the general election... and chances for a clear-cut majority would be improved.

Somebody explain to me why it wouldn't be a better system to cut the Independent ranks to one also, via the primary. It could make a heap of difference sometime in the future. After all, according to a recent Harris survey, fealty to political parties is still waning nationally. In 1976, 54% claimed to be Democrats... the latest count came in at 43%. Republicans were down to 22%, from a high of 30% in 1971.

The greatest degree of Independent sentiment, the survey found, is in our very own Midwest... 37%. Another 34% called themselves Democrats, and 24% Republicans. But look at the figures for the youngest voters, 18 to 29... 41%, Independents; 36%, Democrats; and 14%, Republicans.

It might be safe to surmise that the DFL in St. Paul outnumbered the Independents... but aren't there many more Independents than IR's (Independent-Republicans)? Unless the IR's can muster more strength and make the 'Independent' half of their name more meaningful, shouldn't we make it a little easier for true "Independents" to get involved in the political spectrum? Who knows, some of them might even join a party sooner or later.

After all, we do want to keep this election process going, don't we? Either that, or save the taxpayers the cost of the whole voting operation... much like the legislature was suggesting with our Senate vacancy not so long ago.

You may or may not be aware of Mpls. "The City Magazine of St. Paul-Mpls." Chances are pretty good that you aren't, for according to recent news reports the mag is in financial trouble and will either sell or phase out in the not-too-distant future. But there was an interesting, if admittedly subjective article in its February issue, entitled "The Best of the Twin Cities." Most of their "bests" in Goods and Services were centered in and around downtown Minneapolis but, believe it or not, they also "found" their way into St. Paul. They called the Bungalow Bake Shop at 1080 Grand Avenue, the Best Bakery; Natural Habitat Plant Shop, 1429 Grand, the Best Plant Store; Raess Quality Store, 1783 St. Clair, the Best Small Grocery; and the Hungry Mind, 1648 Grand, the Best Bookstore.

Under Sports, they called Fort Snelling State Park, the Best City (site for) Cross-Country Skiing. Food and Drink favorites included Weigh To Go, 238 South Snelling Avenue, as the Best Salad Bar.

The two women who authored the piece also called Summit Avenue at the Mississippi River in St. Paul, the Best Place to Watch the Sun Set; The Beebe residence at 2022 Summit Avenue, the Best Historic Architecture and, wouldn't you know, Downtown St. Paul was for them, the Best Place to Get Miserably Lost! You gotta have lived in the saintly city awhile to realize that there is actually some kind of rhyme and reason to the street-numbering system in this town. Nobody told me, tho... I had to figure it out for myself.

The Minneapolis-St. Paul Metropolitan area, you may or may not know, ranks as the 15th largest metro market in the nation. Saw the updated figures and projections in a recent issue of Advertising Age, a media trade magazine. When it comes to growth in recent years we're, of course, way down the list... the South and West have fared much better on that count, along with Washington, D.C., obviously a GREAT growth area.

But Vitt Media, whoever they are, thought well enough of us here in these parts, to include Minneapolis-St. Paul as "one of the ten markets chosen for its especially good growth potential" and therefore did a special profile on us. Want to hear a little of what they have to say?:

"From 1960 to 1970, the Twin Cities were the third fastest growing market in the nation. Despite a burgeoning out-migration of people from other areas to the booming Sunbelt states, the Twin Cities managed not only to hold their continuing growth patterns, but to add to them, slowly to be sure, but steadily."

Along with some favorable comments on our weather-proof skyway systems and our Metro council, they add the comment that "many former suburbanites are moving back to the city."

How about these impressions the Vitt Media team got from its interviews with local execs: "High on the list of priorities within the next five years is a new domed stadium, which should prove a boon to the city's professional teams and their singularly sturdy fans." (Over whose dead body? MFM)

There may be some questions, here and there, about what should be built on the Interstate 35E corridor in St. Paul. But the District 15 Planning Committee recently passed a resolution asking "the Metropolitan Council to adopt a plan for the 35E corridor which eliminates freeway automobile traffic from Highland Park residential streets and provides a satisfactory route for trucks from the freeways to the Midway and downtown St. Paul areas. Our preferred plan is to build Interstate 35-E on its original location. We ask that any environmental impact study consider the impact of present freeway traffic on Highland neighborhood streets..." The resolution was given widespread distribution to people and organizations concerned. Anyone disagree?

Energy note... Remember the words of the late J. Paul Getty: "The meek shall inherit the earth, but not its mineral rights."

There was a typographical boo-boo in our last column... or did you notice? With reference to Aldine Playground Improvements, the District 13 Planning Committee recommended that the (improvements)... "long delayed due to Short Line extension... can NOW proceed as soon as possible." Substitute "not" for "now" and you could have gotten quite a different impression!

Final nostalgia-type note: "Best way to learn Speed Reading is to spend a winter on a farm with outdoor plumbing."

Aufwiedersehen.

Benefit hockey game scheduled

A benefit hockey game between St. Paul Harding and Johnson High School alumni will be held at 1:00 p.m. Saturday, March 4 to raise money for the Bob Nicosia Fund.

Bob Nicosia, 17, is a Johnson High School athlete who discovered he had leukemia between the football and hockey season. Proceeds will help his family defray hospital expenses. The game will pit players from the 1950's in the first period, 1960's in the second and 1970's in the third.

Tickets are available at Northwestern State Bank, 875 E. Minnehaha, and at Harding and Phalen arenas.

Justice Wahl to lecture at Hamline on March 9

Rosalie Wahl, newest member of the Minnesota Supreme Court and the 1978 Putnam Lecturer at Hamline University, will speak on "Equal Justice Under Law: Dream or Reality?" at 8:00 p.m., Thursday, March 9 in the Hamline Student Center ballroom.

Her lecture is open to the public free of charge.

A former defense attorney and associate professor at William Mitchell College of Law, Wahl was appointed by Governor Perpich to the Supreme Court in October.

Raised in Kansas and graduated from the University of Kansas, she entered law school at age 38 and earned a degree from William Mitchell in 1967. After five years as assistant state public defender, she joined the law faculty at

Rosalie Wahl

William Mitchell in 1973.

Wahl is the seventh Putnam Lecturer at Hamline. The lectureship was established to provide students and the public with an annual forum for the discussion of social and ethical issues.

Snelling-Selby revitalization proposals reviewed March 7

Preliminary design proposals for the commercial revitalization of the Snelling-Selby business district will be presented and discussed during a public meeting which begins at 7:00 p.m. Tuesday, March 7 at Liberty

State Bank, 176 No. Snelling Ave.

The Community Design Center of Minnesota, in cooperation with the Merriam Park Neighborhood Housing Service, Inc. and the Snelling-Selby Business Association, has been developing a rehabilitation and design project to strengthen the commercial area by such means as visual improvements and better parking facilities.

The study, which is being funded by the National Endowment for the Arts to promote urban revitalization through neighborhood preservation, is now at the stage when preliminary design proposals are ready for review and suggestions by neighborhood residents.

All those who'd like to take an active role in design process are invited to attend the March 7 meeting.

Dog licenses needed

Dog licenses in St. Paul expire on March 1. Applications for new licenses may be obtained at all city libraries or from the St. Paul License Inspector in room 209 of City Hall.

Minnesota scrabble tournament slated

Registration is now being accepted for the third annual Minnesota Scrabble Players Tournament, which is being sponsored by the St. Paul Park and Recreation Department at the South Saint Anthony Recreation Center.

Competitors will play three games from 12:30 to 5:00 p.m. on either Saturday, March 4 or 11. The top eight scorers from each week will qualify for the finals on Saturday, March 18.

The tournament is free and open to everyone 16 years and older. To enter, write to Jean Baumgartner, Midway Stadium, 1000 N. Snelling Ave. 55108.

Registration set at Highland nursery

Registration is now being accepted for the 1978-79 school year at the Highland Co-op Christian Nursery, located in Ford Parkway Baptist Church, 1901 Ford Pkwy.

Classes for children who will be four years old before September 1, 1978 will be offered on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Children who will be three years old by that date will meet on Tuesdays and Thursdays. All classes are held from 9:15 to 11:30 a.m.

Openings also remain for the remainder of this year. For any further information, call 698-6387 any weekday morning.

"Carpet Cat" sweeper free with $5,000 deposit

You may have heard of this tough, little, non-electric sweeper. It's made by the same people who make the "Hoky." It's famous for picking up pet hair, lint, dirt and sand. Works beautifully on carpeted stairs, under cabinets and furniture. And believe it or not, this steel marvel weighs just 2½ lbs. Folds flat for storage. Empties in a snap. You may want to order several "Carpet Cats" for your home, cabin, boat, van — and for gifts. See it on display at all 13 offices of First Federal. Or, order by mail.

WE WON'T KEEP YOU WAITING.

MOD Women schedules two workshops in March

The Metropolitan Organization for Displaced Women (MOD Women) is sponsoring two special programs for women during March.

A life planning workshop will be offered from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. Tuesdays, March 7, 14, 21 and 28. The eight-hour workshop will cover decision making, vocational planning and career goal-setting.

In addition, participants will be given the opportunity to take a series of vocational and personal interest tests. Cost of the workshop is $10.00, or $15.00 if the tests are taken.

Household budgets, establishing credit, credit rights, and preparation of taxes are a few of the topics to be discussed during the three-session seminar entitled "Purse Strings—Financial Management for Women." The seminar will be held from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Wednesdays, March 15, 22 and 29. A $1.00 donation will be asked for at each session.

Both workshops will be held at MOD Women headquarters, 1373 Grand Ave. Child care can be arranged, and additional information obtained by calling 690-2429.

Those desiring to know more about MOD Women's programs and services are asked to attend informal drop-in sessions between 11:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. on Thursdays at its Grand Avenue office.

Meeting slated on Aldine playground

A public meeting will be held at 7:15 p.m. Wednesday, March 8 at Aldine playground to discuss playground improvements scheduled for the summer and proposals for community development monies to be used on a new or improved recreation building.

For more information, contact Swanee at 646-0744.

Coffee & Tea, Ltd. opens in Victoria Crossing Mall

Mexican, Venezuelan, Columbian Supremo, even a special house blend . . . doesn't sound like your standard street corner fare. And, in fact, it isn't.

What it is, is just part of the list of more than 25 kinds of coffee and 60 varieties of tea now available at Coffee & Tea, Ltd., Inc.

Recently opened in the Victoria Crossing Mall at 867 Grand Avenue, Coffee & Tea, Ltd. is the sister store of another one located in Wayzata. Both are owned by Twin City native Jim Cone, who patterned them after similar successful operations on the west coast where he lived for eight years.

According to Cone, customers are invited to come in and sample any of the 85 regular and decaffeinated brands of coffee and tea available at the shop, and select the beans or leaves they like best. The coffee beans are ground while you wait.

Coffee & Tea, Ltd. also features the largest assortment of brewing accessories available in the area.

Lecture slated on Buddhism at Mac

H.H. Sakya Trizin, the 40th Patriarch of the Sakya Tradition of Tibetan Buddhism, will speak on "Tibetan Buddhism in India Today" at 8:00 p.m. Friday, March 10 in the Weyerhaeuser Memorial Chapel at Macalester College. The lecture is open to the public free of charge.

Trizin escaped to India in 1959 at the age of 15, and assumed the leadership of his people in India. He is currently the political and religious leader of Sakya settlements in India and Nepal, and is the religious director of Sakya centers in Malaysia, Switzerland, France, Canada and the United States.

Mud slinging starts

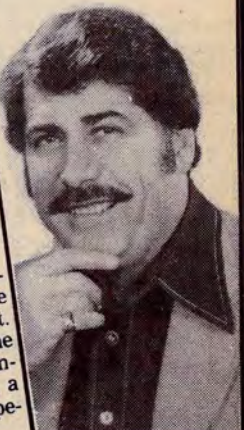

Now that the mud has begun to fly in the DFL nomination campaign for City Council, one can hardly sit back and ignore it. Candidate Ron Maddox has responded to an uncalled for personal attack by stating that he had hoped to campaign on the issues facing the city. We wish him luck on elevating the temper of the debate, but probably not too much hope.

He is the outstanding candidate in the DFL field seeking the seat being vacated by Robert Sylvester and has our backing. We have commented now and again on the ups and downs of Ron Maddox as he sought in one way or another to promote the city of St. Paul and the lot of its business and working men and women.

He has been attacked, to name one item, for the failure of the World's Greatest Garage Sale. After all expenses were paid, it raised about $2,000. Maddox was president of the co-sponsoring Downtown Council at the time. If getting on the end of a broom, to help clean up the leavings at the Civic Center, constitutes "questionable business dealings," then this is truly a strange and somewhat innocent world.

To refer to him as "a downtown bar owner" in a perjorative sense is merely a cheap shot. This ignores the fact that he pays his taxes, employs a number of persons and is, in fact, a member of that endangered species, the small businessman.

His enthusiasms for St. Paul are boundless. We hope he makes it all the way.

J.J. Hill home to house new tenants come spring

With the approval of the Minnesota State Legislature, the Minnesota Historical Society will soon become the owner of the James J. Hill mansion, 240 Summit Ave. The four-story sandstone mansion, known for years as "The Hill House," has been the property of the Archdiocese of Saint Paul and Minneapolis since 1925 when it received the home as a donation from the Hill family.

A Senate sub-committee has approved a $250,000 payment to the Archdiocese to assist with the cost of relocating the various Archdiocesan offices now located in the building.

The 32-room house was completed in 1891. From 1926 to 1950, the house served as the Diocesan Teachers College and housed the offices of the superintendent of schools and his staff.

According to Monsignor Ambrose Hayden, Vicar General of the Archdiocese, the future of the house is of concern to the Archdiocese, which has sought to preserve the building as near to its original state as possible.

Saunders Sandbox registration opens

Registration is now being accepted for the 1978-79 session of Saunders Sandbox pre-kindergarten and afternoon "Baer Care."

Pre-kindergarten classes, emphasizing reading readiness, meet daily from 9:00 to 11:30 a.m. Baer Care, an afternoon of supervised educational activities, is offered from 11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday. All children age 33 months and older are eligible.

Registration information is available by calling Jeanne Baer at 698-1955.

"We recognize the historical significance of the building and appreciate the munificence of the Hill family in making it available to us. He said, "We are confident the Historical Society will preserve the house in a way the Hill family would approve of."

An occupation date for the Society has not yet been set, but will probably be sometime in early spring.

Weekend activities slated at Pike Island Nature Center

More than a dozen free activities have been scheduled during the weekends of March at the Pike Island Nature Center, located within Fort Snelling State Park.

Events begin at 12:30 p.m. Saturday, March 4 with an "off-the-beaten-path" ski tour. Reservations are required for the tour and may be made by phoning 726-9247. The tour will be followed at 4:00 p.m. by the film "Patterns of the Wild."

A snowshoe hike will be conducted at 2:00 p.m. Sunday, March 5. At 4:00 p.m. that day, the film "The Pond" will be screened.

A "winter wildflower" hike will step out at 2:00 p.m. Saturday, March 11. It will be followed by the film

"So Little Time" at 4:00 p.m.

Events on Sunday March 12 will begin at 2:00 p.m. with the movie "Life in the Forest," and conclude with a 3:00 p.m. crafts program on making seed and weed wallhangings.

A hike at 2:00 p.m. Saturday, March 18 will focus on identifying trees during the winter. After the hike, the movie "Conservation and Balance in Nature" will be screened.

The following day, the film "Downstream" will be shown at 2:00 p.m. A hike designed especially for children will begin at 3:00 p.m.

A program on how to make and fly kites will be presented at 1:00 p.m. Saturday, March 25. Reservations are required for the program. At 4:00 p.m. that day, the film "Coon Rapids Cats" will be shown.

The movie "Wood Duck Ways" will be shown at 2:00 p.m. Sunday, March 26. It will be followed by a nature hunt for children at 3:00 p.m.

Craft class set at Highland Library

Children in kindergarten through sixth grade are invited to make green-haired potatoes at the Highland Park Branch Library at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 7.

All supplies for the craft class will be provided. Since attendance is limited, registration is required and may be made by calling 698-0823.

Senate Report

by Senator Ron Sieloff
District 63

At this writing, most of the significant legislation considered by the 1978 Legislature has not yet been finally acted upon by either the House or the Senate.

The Determinate Sentencing Bill, which was passed by both the House and the Senate in 1977, remains in a conference committee of the House and the Senate. The House and the Senate have taken two quite different approaches on the subject. The conference committee will have to iron these out before any final action can be taken.

Bills introduced to limit welfare funds for abortions have had several well publicized meetings in both the House and the Senate. A weak bill passed out of the Health, Welfare and Corrections Committee and will now be sent to the House floor. The Senate Health and Welfare Committee seems to be about evenly divided on the issue and has been unable to reach a consensus on what kind of bill will be sent to the Senate floor. It appears that the leadership in the Senate does not wish to have the issue presented to the full Senate, and ultimately to the Governor for his signature, because they wish to avoid taking a recorded position on the issue.

The bill to restructure public financing of political campaigns is now in conference committee. This bill was necessitated by a federal court decision which ruled that the present system of distribution of monies in legislative races was unconstitutional. The bill still has many problems and the exact nature of the conference report is still not known.

The bill to require deposits on beer and soda pop containers is still awaiting action on the Senate floor. There has been no movement in the House on this issue pending Senate action. A compromise bill introduced by Senator Borden has not been acted upon either. The last I have heard on this issue is that some type of compromise may be worked out.

A bill placing new requirements for certificates of need for health services recently passed the full Senate. The bill as passed did not include doctors' offices or clinics in the certificate of need requirements.

It appears that the Legislature will adjourn on March 17. As has been true for many years, most of the major legislation will be finally acted upon within the last few days of the session.

My address is 128 State Office Building, St. Paul, Minnesota 55155 and my phone 296-4310. Please contact me if you have any questions or comments.

Dutch elm beetle could be breeding in your backyard

A recent survey of a 144-block residential area of St. Paul identified more than 250 breeding places for the beetle responsible for the loss of thousands upon thousands of the city's elms.

These breeding sources, mostly elm woodpiles and stumps of already removed elm trees, become particularly critical after April 1 when the elm bark beetle emerges and begins infesting the tops of healthy elms within 600 feet of its winter quarters.

Because snow-covered elm wood is protected from the extreme cold which might otherwise destroy the beetle and its offspring, detecting and eliminating on-ground breeding sources is the most pressing part of St. Paul's disease control program, according to Judy Barr, coordinator of the city's Shade Tree Program.

Area residents who'd like more information on how to organize or participate in a program to identify and eliminate elm wood from their neighborhood should call 298-5660. Elm wood will be picked up by the city free of charge.

St. Kate's education department honored

The department of education at the College of St. Catherine has been named to the 1978 "Recognition Roll for Sound Practices" by the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education (AACTE) for its human relations program.

Dr. Kenneth E. Vos, department chairperson, received the award during the AACTE's annual meeting held February 21 in Chicago.

The AACTE cited St. Catherine's program for "exemplifying a sound approach to on-going organizational and instructional problems and practices."

St. Catherine's implemented a human relations program following a Minnesota State Board of Education ruling that applicants for certificates in education must complete a human relations training program.

Most Minnesota colleges responded to the ruling by designing a specific course to meet the requirements. At St. Catherine's, however, a four-year non-credit program was instituted requiring intense personal involvement on the part of each pre-service teacher.

'Million-dollar service' made 1977 a productive year for these professionals

In today's market, a million dollars won't buy as much as it used to. But to have sold and marketed that much or more real estate property in a single year still rates more than a passing nod. It deserves the special recognition we are giving these Jambor sales counselors right here and now.

To do that much volume requires a keen knowledge of business and the market in which you operate. It means you must have pleased a lot of people, given a great measure of time and effort, and served them well. It signifies the confidence of a great many clients, that these are indeed the best possible professionals to handle a very important assignment.

Just call Jambor Realtors anytime you want real 'million-dollar service'.

SHABBAT DINNER

A special Shabbat dinner for JCC senior adults has been planned for 5:30 p.m. Friday, March 17 at the Center. Dinner will be followed by services at the Temple of Aaron Synagogue. The $2.50 fee includes bus transportation. Please make reservations before March 14 by calling Evelyn at 698-0751.

KOSHER CHINESE COOKING

Because of its popularity, Kosher Chinese Cooking will be offered again as an adult class on four consecutive Mondays from 9:00 to 11:00 a.m. beginning March 6. Fee is $20 for members and $30 for non-members. Call or stop by the Center to register.

YIDDISH CLUB

Shmulik Lahar, Twin City Community Shaliach, will speak on "In Yiddish—about Yiddishkeit" for the Center's Leisure League Yiddish Club at 2:00 p.m. Thursday, March 2.

NEW HORIZONS

New Horizons members will attend an Ice Follies performance at 6:00 p.m. Sunday, April 2. The $4.60 fee includes the ticket and bus transportation. Door-to-door transportation is available upon advance reservation. (Call Evelyn at 698-0751.) Paid reservations are due by Monday, March 13 at the Center.

GROUP LEADER NEEDED

The JCC is accepting applications for a mature group leader to assist with the Center's "Eastern Trip" for senior high students. The group will visit Washington, D.C., New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Niagara Falls and Toronto from June 14-30. Interested persons should contact Ken Weintraub at 698-0751.

SPRING DAY CAMP

The JCC's spring day camp is scheduled for Monday, March 20 through Friday, March 24. Children in kindergarten through sixth grades who are members can participate in five full days of field trips and activities.

Pre-school spring day camp (for three, four and five-year-old members) includes games, stories, free play, swimming and gym activities.

Contact the Center (698-0751) for more details about times, fees, specific trips and registration deadlines.

Flynn given citizenship award

Susan Flynn, 1690 Hillcrest Ave., was recently selected the St. Paul area winner of the Soroptimist Foundation Citizenship Award.

Flynn, a senior at Highland Park Senior School, is now a candidate for the regional award, the winner of which will be announced in April. Applicants for the citizenship award are judged on their service in the home, school and in the community, and must have executed responsibilities with "truthfulness, loyalty and punctuality."

The contest is open each year to high school seniors.

Report from the House

by Ray Faricy
District 63A

Because many of the bills presently before the Legislature are in a state of flux, I thought maybe it would be well to point out one of the services provided for you by the Legislature.

The House Information Office is a public information source which strives to educate the public about state government, as well as promote state government and create an awareness of its existence on a year-round basis.

Promotional efforts include:

(1) An annual statewide essay contest for junior high school students on a particular aspect of government.

(2) A booth at the State Fair which has as its theme "Meet Your Minnesota House of Representatives." Many publications are available at the booth and they also offer a quiz called "What's Your State Government I.Q.?" All of the persons working at the booth operate in a non-partisan manner.

(3) Non-partisan publications, including Weekly Wrap Up, which lists all bills introduced, covers all full committee meetings, reports on floor action, and lists weekly advance committee schedules, bills that pass and their Chapter numbers as they will appear in the Minnesota Session Laws. This publication is sent weekly from House Information and is available throughout the Capitol complex. A monthly newsletter entitled "Session" or "Interim," depending on the status of the legislature, is also published. This publication typically provides comments, interviews and stories concerning activities in the House. The third publication is the daily and weekly committee meeting schedules which are available one week in advance. These schedules list committees that will be meeting, their times, place and the bills that will be before the committee that particular week.

By either writing or calling House Information, one can also obtain a brochure entitled a "Bill for an Act," which describes how a bill becomes a law in Minnesota. There is another brochure entitled "Guide to Minnesota House of Representatives" which shows visitors where they can find their representatives' offices, as well as all other areas of the Capitol and the State Office Building. House Chamber seating charts are also available.

Lastly, there is an Official Directory of the Minnesota Legislature which lists House and Senate members, their addresses, phone numbers, and House and Senate Committees and their members. It also lists House and Senate employees.

To obtain any of the above publications, call House Information at 296-2146, write House Information, Room 8, State Capitol, St. Paul, MN 55155, or call me at 296-4267.

Science Fair planned at Mac

Macalester College will host a Regional Science Fair for Twin Cities area junior and senior high school students Friday, March 10 and Saturday, March 11.

Approximately 350 student projects in life, physical, and earth science will be on display in the Macalester Olin and Rice Halls of Science. Judging of the projects will be held Friday, March 10 from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m., with public viewing of the projects scheduled for Saturday, March 11 from 8:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m.

An awards ceremony will be held March 11 at 11:00 a.m. in the Macalester gymnasium. Winners in the various divisions will advance to the state competition.

James A. Jones, professor of biology at Macalester and Science Fair coordinator, extends a special invitation to the community to attend the fair, see the projects, and talk with the fair participants during the public viewing period on March 11. There is no admission charge.

Smoking seminar set for teachers

"America's number one preventable health problem" will be the subject of a seminar for Ramsey County elementary school teachers and nurses on Thursday, March 2, 9 and 16 at the St. Paul Public School Administration Building, 360 Colborne.

The seminar, which will run from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m. each day, will provide information and teaching ideas on the physical, psychological and legislative aspects of cigarette smoking which can be incorporated into classroom instruction.

No registration fee is required, but those taking it for credit should contact their school principal. To register, call 224-4901.

Vacation without worry

A few dollars a day can save thousands

While Mr. and Mrs. Haten vacationed in Florida last winter, the pipes in their Highland Park home froze, burst and spewed out hundreds of gallons of water. The tanned and rested Hatens returned to find $19,526 worth of uninsurable damage.

For three days a squirrel who fell down the Anderson's chimney gnawed at their picture window frame for its freedom. The window frame cost $1,684 to replace.

Vandals stole a TV and a camera from the Peterson home, then poured vermouth on their furniture. The vermouth soured—destroying the furniture—by the time the Petersons came home from the lake.

Let us check your home while you're away. We've been in the business for 61 years and know the important things to look for. Whether it's a weekend, 10 days or a whole season, our daily visits to your home will give you real peace of mind while you're gone.

DEPOSIT LEGISLATION

To the editor:

This past January, citizens from across the state mailed empty pop and beer cans to Governor Perpich to dramatize the broad support for mandatory deposit legislation. At the end of the month, over 3500 cans had been received by the Governor's office.

Deposit legislation would place a simple 10 cent refundable deposit on pop and beer purchased in throwaway containers: When you bring a throwaway back, you get your 10 cents back; if you throw it away, you lose 10 cents, you pay for the litter pickup, and you waste recyclable material.

Deposit legislation has several merits, including energy savings, consumer savings, resource conservation, litter reduction, and a net increase in jobs. These benefits have been shown in every independent study done on this issue. Yet the legislature continues to avoid the issue because a few affected industries have engaged in a heavily financed lobbying effort against the bill and have threatened labor with job losses—this in spite of the fact that studies show a net job increase. Instead, the affected industries want another tax!

The Senate will be voting on a deposit bill within the next few weeks. Speak now or resign yourself to the alternative legislation now being considered—another tax that will be hidden in added consumer costs on nearly everything from newspapers to dog food.

Groveland family education program to hold open house

An open house has been scheduled by the Groveland Early Childhood and Family Education Program from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 14 in room 113 of Groveland Park School.

The Early Childhood and Family Education programs, which are sponsored by Community Education and Adult Vocational Education, will be explained at the open house. The programs give parents and their pre-school children the opportunity to learn together. Children in the programs range from 3 months to 5 years.

Interested parents may register at the open house for the spring session which begins March 27. Cost for the ten-week session is $20.00 for one class, $10.00 for each additional class.

For more information, contact the Groveland Community Education office at 690-5037.

Volunteer job list available

An extensive list of summer volunteer opportunities for young people has been prepared by the Voluntary Action Center of the St. Paul Area and is now available in all local school counselors' offices.

The list includes a wide variety of volunteer jobs, ranging from museum tour guides to hospital and nursing home aides.

Young people between the ages of 13 and 18 who are interested in doing volunteer work this summer are advised to see their counselors, or call the Voluntary Action Center at 222-0561.

From the Legislature

by Dick Cohen
District 63B

With tax time coming once again, I thought it might be helpful to explain some of the changes in the property tax law. Though the legislature passed some 300 bills during the last session, I feel the number one issue in our district is property taxes. In 1973 the legislature set a goal of some day eliminating the property tax altogether. We have been working toward that goal ever since. I want to take this opportunity to explain the 1977 property tax relief bill and what it will mean to you, the homeowner.

In 1975 the legislature passed the "circuit breaker," which was the initial breakthrough in property tax relief. In 1977 we continued in that direction and developed further property tax relief measures. The table below will help explain what this means to you in dollars and cents.

Not included in the table is the homestead credit, which gives you a credit of up to $325 on your taxes when you file your homestead exemption form.

I must remind you that efforts to lower your property taxes will mean nothing unless you remember to fill out the yellow form in the middle of your state income tax booklet.

Income	Gross Property Tax (Before Homestead Credit)	1976 "Circuit Breaker" Rebate
		Regular	Seniors
$ 5,000	$ 600	$205	$315
	$ 700	$160	$310
$10,000	$ 700	$160	$235
	$ 800	$150	$325
$15,000	$ 900	$150	$350
	$1,000	$150	$350
$20,000	$1,100	$150	$350
	$1,200	$150	$350
$25,000	$1,300	$ 67	$267
	$1,400	$ 67	$267

Income	New Property Tax Credit		Percent of Increase in Tax Credit
	Regular	Seniors	Regular	Seniors
$ 5,000	$235	$350	14%	11%
	$225	$345	40%	11%
$10,000	$193	$255	20%	8%
	$218	$345	45%	6%
$15,000	$220	$350	46%
	$255	$400	70%	14%
$20,000	$257	$403	71%	15%
	$292	$453	94%	29%
$25,000	$228	$396	240%	48%
	$263	$415	292%	55%

The new property tax relief act increases the maximum property tax credit available for senior citizens from $475 to $800. It also reduces "assessment ratios" on homes. The former method was to assess a home at 25% of the first $13,000 of its value and then at 40% of the remainder over $13,000. The assessment ratio has now been changed so that in 1978 your home will be assessed at 22% of the first $15,000 and 36% of the remainder over $15,000.

If you have any further questions, please call me at 296-3641 or write me at Room 365, State Office Building, St. Paul, MN 55155.

CST wrestlers nab 2nd in conference

For the second straight year, St. Thomas wrestlers have finished in second place in the Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference.

St. Thomas matmen accumulated 73 points to Augsburg College's winning total of 92½ in the conference championship meet, held recently in Moorhead.

The Toms managed to place five wrestlers in the finals, but only Kevin McNamer was able to win an individual title. McNamer captured the top spot in the 158 pound division for the second straight year.

St. Thomas wrestlers are now preparing for the national championships of NCAA Division III schools, scheduled for March 3 and 4 in Wheaton, IL.

Tax investment seminar slated

"Fight the Bite," a two-part seminar on tax-related investments, will be presented in March at the Highland Park Branch Library by Mrs. Lois Rhoades of Bache, Halsey, Stuart, Shields, Inc.

The first part will be given at 6:30 p.m. Monday, March 31; the second at 6:30 p.m. Monday, March 27. To register, call Mrs. Rhoades at 340-4544.

Kids' craft classes

Hillcrest Recreation Center will offer children's craft classes in leatherwork and plaque-painting beginning Wednesday, March 1. Anyone age 6 and older is invited to participate in the after-school classes. To register, call Hillcrest at 698-1435.

Puppet show set

"Dragon Stew," a puppet show for children, will be served up at 10:30 a.m. Saturday, March 4 at the Lexington Branch Library, 1080 University Ave. There will be no admission charge.

Area resident given ACA service award

Mrs. Viola Schmid, 164 Montrose Place, was recently presented with the Sue Tinker Award for Distinguished Camping Service by the Minnesota section of the American Camping Association. The award is given annually to a person who has given outstanding service to children's camps.

Mrs. Schmid is the owner and director of Camp Foley, a private children's camp near Pine River, Minnesota. She has been active in the Minnesota section of ACA for over 20 years.

Dave N. Eggers (center) of Sperry Univac's Defense Systems Plant Services Department recently accepted a "Certificate of Achievement in Energy Conservation" from company officials R.L. Seabert (left) and V.E. Herzfeld (right). During the past year, electrical use at the plant was cut 9.1 percent and gas and oil use was reduced 24.3 percent. Over 2400 employees produce computer systems at the Shepard Road facility.

Girl Scout cookie drive in progress

Members of the Girl Scout Council of the St. Croix Valley are taking door-to-door orders for Girl Scout cookies now through March 6 for delivery beginning April 3.

Proceeds from the annual sale not only help support scout camps and other council-wide programs and events, but directly aid local troop coffers as well. Of the per box price, 75 cents is deductible for income tax purposes.

Area residents missed by the door-to-door drive may still place their orders by calling 339-4740.

Highland BPW to meet March 1

The Highland Park Business and Professional Women will meet on Wednesday, March 1 at the Twins Motor Inn, University at Prior Avenues. A social hour will begin at 5:30 p.m., the meeting at 6:30 p.m.

Candidates for Young Career Women will be presented at the meeting. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

Women's seminar set at Normandale

For the second consecutive year, Normandale Community College and area chapters of the Mrs. Jaycees are co-sponsoring a day-long seminar with topics of special interest to women.

The "Day for Women" is scheduled for Saturday, March 11 from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. in the Normandale Fine Arts Building.

Topics to be discussed include women as homemakers, women at work, opening a business, assertiveness training, chemical dependency, and competency-based education.

Tickets for the day, including lunch, are $4.00. Those who wish to attend the sessions only, may do so for $2.00. Tickets may be ordered by calling Margie Woodhouse at 831-5001, ext. 227.

Workshops on American painting and dome building and three feature films will be offered for young people during March at the Minneapolis Institute of Arts.

Youngsters ages 7-14 will discover the Wild West as it was painted by American artists exploring the new frontier in a workshop on Sunday, March 12 from 1:00 to 2:30 p.m. Tuition is $4.00.

Students will build a geodesic dome in a special spring vacation workshop on Wednesday, March 22. Two sections will be offered: ages 6-8, 1:00 to 2:30 p.m.; ages 9-14, 3:00 to 4:30 p.m. Tuition is also $4.00.

Family Theatre films to be shown during March include the 1933 film version of Louisa May Alcott's classic Little Women, starring Katherine Hepburn and Joan Bennett, on Saturday and Sunday, March 4 and 5.

Preston Foster and Roddy McDowell star in the 1943 film My Friend Flicka, which will be shown on March 18 and 19, and The Wizard of Oz will highlight the Easter weekend, March 25 and 26.

Family Theatre films are shown on Saturday and Sunday afternoons at 2:00 in the museum's Pillsbury Auditorium. Admission is 50 cents for children and adult companions, 75 cents for unaccompanied adults.

Walk for Mankind steps out May 13

The ninth annual Walk for Mankind, scheduled for Saturday, May 13, will have two separate Twin City routes this year. The east route will run from Lakewood Community College in White Bear Lake to Stillwater and back, the west route from Normandale Community College in Bloomington to Eden Prairie and back.

Twin City agencies, churches and schools have been encouraged to assume responsibility for recruiting walkers from their immediate communities this year. Any organization interested in receiving further information on the 1978 Walk for Mankind is asked to contact the local Walk for Mankind office at 835-6975.

Divorce program offered in March

A free, three-session program on divorce, funded by the Ramsey County District Court, will be offered to county residents in March, June, September and November of this year.

Agencies presenting the program include the Domestic Relations Division of Ramsey County Court Services, Family Service of St. Paul, Catholic Social Service, and Jewish Family Service. Topics to be covered are personal loss, the legal structure and parenting.

The March program will be held at Epworth United Methodist Church, 1965 E. Sherwood Ave. in St. Paul, on Tuesday evenings from 7:00 to 9:15 p.m. The program dates are March 7, 14 and 21. For further information, call 222-3001.

"Are you the CENTURY 21 Lady?"

"Ever since our TV commercials started, children have been asking me that," says Mary Witzany, CENTURY 21 - Creative Realty listing leader for January.

"If children know I'm with CENTURY 21 and they don't see me wearing my Gold Coat, they ask me where it is.

They're very perceptive and can really make the connection between our commercials and our ability to sell homes," adds Mary.

Mary Witzany: "The biggest pitfall for people trying to sell their own home, is that they deal with unqualified buyers... people whose finances are quite questionable... We quality buyers BEFORE we bring them into your home."

"WE DON'T JUST SHOW YOUR HOUSE, WE SHOW IT OFF..."

"That's our new slogan. It means that we really believe in a home we've listed. We learn all we can about it, and we really care what the seller feels the positive points of the house are."

"We also offer 21 great suggestions of things you can do to improve the property to sell faster."

Call "A Neighborhood Professional," Mary Witzany, if you are considering selling your home or other property.

Mt. Zion art auction planned

An art auction will be hosted by the Sisterhood of Mt. Zion Temple on Saturday and Sunday, March 11 and 12 in Margolis Hall of the temple, 1300 Summit Ave.

The auction, which will begin at 8:30 p.m. on Saturday and at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday, will be preceded by a viewing hour, during which refreshments will be served.

The art pieces, brought to St. Paul by Russell Charnack of Marina Gallery in Nyack, N.Y., represent over 200 world-famous artists, including Nieman, Chagall, Sholom of Safad and Peter Max.

Auction prices will start at $20.00. The auction is open to the public and admission is $1.50.

Bridgman benefit concert slated at Hamline

Soprano Neva Pilgrim will appear in a benefit concert at Hamline University this Sunday, March 5 in Bridgman Hall.

The 8:00 p.m. concert highlights restoration plans for Bridgman, located in Hamline's Old Main, a building recently named to the National Register of Historic Places.

Pilgrim, a 1960 Hamline graduate, will sing the one-act opera La Voix Humaine (The Human Voice) by Francis Poulenc.

The second half of the Bridgman benefit features Rees Allison, keyboard, associate professor of music at Hamline, and Adele Zeitlin, flute, a member of the Minnesota Orchestra, performing two sonatas for piano and flute.

Ticket prices are $5, $10 and $25. All proceeds will go to the Bridgman Hall restoration fund.

'U' Extension Classes set for teachers

Teachers who wish to complete their graduate work or brush up on specialties may register for any of the dozens of courses offered through University of Minnesota Extension classes. All departments in the College of Education offer courses through Extension, and most are for graduate credit.

In addition to education courses, there are courses in music, theater, economics, family social science, English, ethnic and women's studies, art, and others. Selected courses may be applied to the Master of Arts in English or Speech-Communication, which may be completed through Extension.

Mail registration for spring classes may be made through March 10, the last day for registration and payment of tuition without a late fee.

For further information on classes for teachers, as well as other Extension courses, phone 373-3000.

Wednesday, March 1, 1978

Gelsey Kirkland and Ivan Nagy star in the lyrical repertory ballet piece, "The Leaves Are Falling," on Thursday, March 2, as part of the American Ballet Theatre's week-long residency at Northrop Auditorium. Set in a forest grove, "Leaves" features a series of classical dances set to Dvorak's "Cypresses." Tickets to this and the five remaining ABT performances are available by calling 373-2345.

Sure sign of spring Twins tickets go on sale

The Minnesota Twins ticket office has announced that mail orders for individual 1978 Twins games will be accepted beginning Wednesday, March 1, the same day the team's full-squad workouts begin in Orlando, Florida. Over-the-counter sales will get underway Monday, March 27.

The 81-game, 79-date Met Stadium schedule starts Friday afternoon, April 14, when the Seattle Mariners come to town to battle Gene Mauch's men.

The Twins are holding the line on ticket prices, with dugout boxes again priced at $5.50; field, loge and terrace boxes at $5.00; and reserved grandstand seats at $4.00. General admission tickets, $2.00 each, are available only at Met Stadium on the day of the game.

All mail orders should be addressed: Twins Ticket Office, Metropolitan Stadium, Bloomington, MN 55420. Checks or money orders should be made out for the correct amount, with the desired game dates clearly specified.

Directed by Meri Golden and written by students and faculty at the college, Exposed Encounters will be presented at 8:00 p.m. March 2-4 and 9-11 in Metropolitan's Memorial Hall Auditorium, 50 Willow St. in downtown Minneapolis. Admission is free.

Free concert set

Soprano Madalyn Staupe will sing the area premiere of Ned Rorem's "Women's Voices," as well as a Bach Cantata, in a free concert at 3:30 p.m. this Sunday, March 5 in the Walker Art Center Auditorium.

Staupe will be joined by pianist Beatrice Giere on "Women's Voices" which sets women's poetry to music. For the Bach piece, Michelle Edwards will conduct the Danner Strings with Stuart Mitchel, oboe; Ann Pesavento, bassoon; and James Martin, harpsichord.

Mixed Blood stages 'Black Picture Show'

A tense and fascinating look at the growing madness of a writer is the subject for Mixed Blood Theatre Company's next production, Bill Gunn's Black Picture Show. The play opens March 9 and runs through March 25 at the Firehouse, 1501 S. 4th St., Minneapolis.

Curtain times are at 8:00 p.m. Thursday through Sunday nights. Tickets are $3.00, $2.00 for students, and $1.00 for senior citizens. For information or reservations, call 338-6131.

Young Pennsylvanians return to Twin Cities March 11-12

Master showman Fred Waring and the Young Pennsylvanians will return to Orchestra Hall at 8:00 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, March 11 and 12 with the 1977-78 edition of the Fred Waring Show, entitled "It's All About Love."

Three talented young Minnesotans will be part of the Waring company this season—Steve Hensley and Tom Larson of Bloomington, and Steven Friedlein of Benson.

Hensley has been a featured soloist with the Minnesota Orchestra, has done work in nightclubs and commercials, and has recorded an album.

Larson started out as a dancer at age four and by age 11 was accepted into the Minnesota Dance Theater. A past member of the Schubert Club, he plays the flute, piccolo and oboe besides having an outstanding tenor voice.

Friedlein was formerly associated with the pop-show group "Heritage" in Minneapolis. His baritone voice and flair for performing and dancing and stylizing pop songs make him a very popular Pennsylvanian, and the company's newest member.

To obtain advance reservations for the show, call the Orchestra Hall box office at 339-3600.

Junior high drama presented March 2

The culmination of a ten-week junior high school drama workshop sponsored by Chimera Theatre's Educational Center will be presented at 1:00 p.m. Thursday, March 2 at the Edyth Bush Theatre, 690 Cleveland Ave. So.

The show, which will run about an hour in length, will feature young thespians from Monroe Junior High School who will perform a series of scenes they developed through improvisational techniques.

Designed especially for pre-school age children, the program is open to the public free of charge.

Area resident to direct Simon's 'Gingerbread Lady'

A once popular singer who returns home after spending ten weeks drying out in a sanitarium reveals the sometimes comic, sometimes tragic artistic touch of Neil Simon in Theatre 1900's production of The Gingerbread Lady.

Directed by area resident Rene Porte, the play will open at 8:00 p.m. Friday, March 3 in the Howard Conn Fine Arts Center, 1900 Nicollet Ave., Minneapolis. Future production dates are March 4, 10, 11 and 17 and 18 at 8:00 p.m., and March 5, 12 and 19 at 2:00 p.m.

'Passion' performed

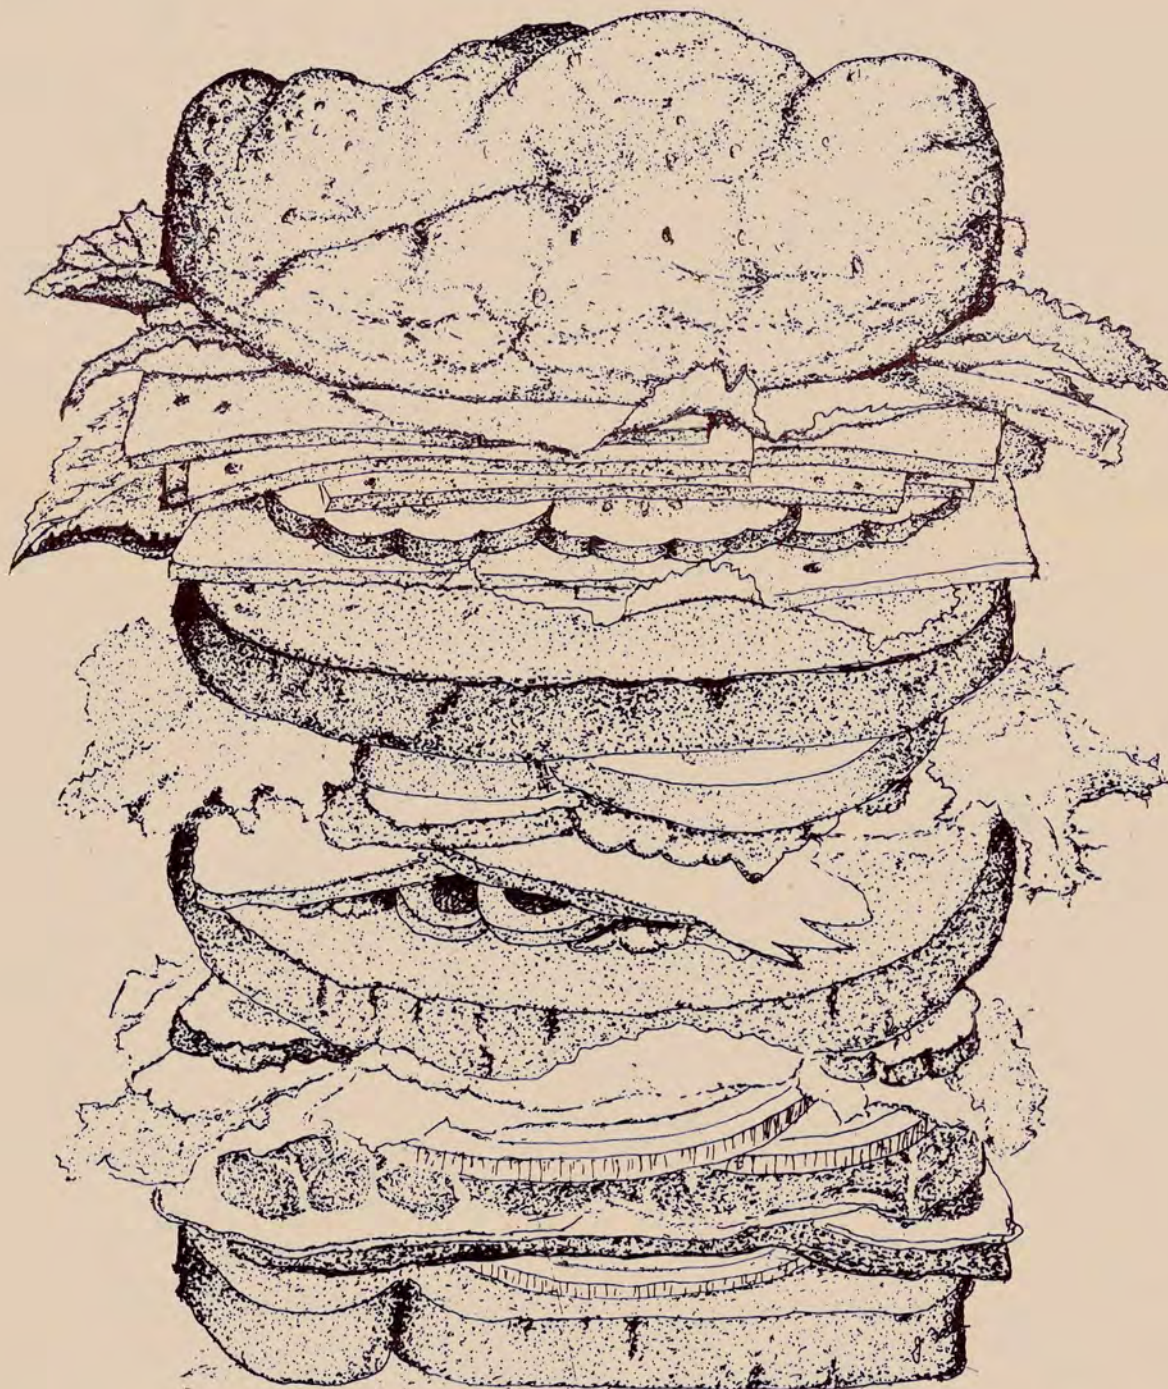

The University of Minnesota Chamber Singers will perform Heinrich Schuetz's St. John Passion with guest soloists Donald Hoiness and Michael Riley at 8:00 p.m. Thursday, March 9 in the Theatre/Lecture Room of Coffman Union at the University of Minnesota. The concert is open to the public free of charge.

Israeli pianist to debut with Minn. Orchestra March 1-3

Israeli pianist Ilana Vered will perform with the Minnesota Orchestra, under the baton of music director Stanislaw Skrowaczewski, for the first time on Wednesday and Friday, March 1 and 3 in Orchestra Hall, and on Thursday, March 2 in O'Shaughnessy Auditorium. All three concerts begin at 8:00 p.m.

Born in Tel Aviv to a Russian concert pianist and a Polish violinist, Ilana was dubbed a child prodigy when at age three she played from memory a Haydn Sonata which she heard her mother teaching an unwilling pupil.

At 13, she was sent to study at the Paris National Conservatory on a grant from the Israeli government. Two years later she graduated from the conservatory with first prize and began a tour of Europe and South America.

In 1957, she moved to the United States to study with Rosina Lhevinne at the Juilliard School of Music.

Ilana Vered

and in 1963 made her New York debut. Since then she has performed with the world's top orchestras.

Advance reservations for the concerts are available by calling the Orchestra Hall box office (339-3600) or Dayton's ticket offices.

The Villager's Guide to Food, Fun & Entertainment

CSC/CST theatre department to present 'Moral Bears' March 1-5

Moral Bears and Harmless Laughter, an original play which takes a humorous, informal view of America as it was in 1840-1920, will open a five-day run in Frey Theatre at the College of St. Catherine on Wednesday, March 1. Curtain times are 8:00 p.m. each evening through March 5.

Written by John Orlock, director of Actors Studio in Minneapolis, the play is a presentation of the speech/theatre department of the Colleges of St. Catherine and St. Thomas.

According to Orlock, Moral Bears is a "Reader's Theatre" production, the dialogue of which is taken from newspaper columns by such 19th and early 20th century journalists as Bill Nye, George Ayrd and Henry Wheeler Shaw.

"It's an extension of country-store talk and back-porch gossip," Orlock said. "Kind of an old-time, down-home philosopher's outlook on life. It's out of this tradition that such humorists as Mark Twain grew."

Among the play's eight cast members are two from the Highland area. They are Monica Bieter, 176 So. Mississippi River Blvd., and Daniel Keyport, 1987 Summit Ave.

General admission to the play is $2.00. For reservations or further information, call 690-6795 Wednesday or Friday between 1:00 and 4:00 p.m.

Guest soloist Remenikova performs in JCC concert

World-renowned Russian-born cellist Tanya Remenikova will perform as guest soloist with the JCC Symphony Orchestra, the Temple of Aaron Choir, and the Rennan Dance Troupe when the St. Paul Jewish Community Center presents its Jewish Music Month concert at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, March 5 at the Center, 1375 St. Paul Ave.

Selections by the JCC Symphony, under the direction of Dr. James Sample, will include "Fanfare to Israel" by Ben-Haim, "Concerto for Violin Cello and Orchestra" by Saint-Saens, "Ballet Parisien" by Offenbach, and "Kamen Old Timers" in traditional renditions.

The Temple of Aaron Choir, under the direction of Shelley Singer, will perform "Hasidic" by Kosakoff, "El Yuvneh Hagaul" by Chajes, "Songs of the Palmach" by Goldman, "Uv Yom Hashabos" by Machtenberg, and "Am Yisrael Chai" by Weinzeig. Accompanying the choir will be Esther Kahan.

According to concert chairperson Betty Agranoff, the performance is open to the public free of charge. Because seating is limited, she suggests tickets be picked up in advance at the Jewish Community Center reception desk.

'Details, Details' now on display

"Details, Details," an exhibition of photographs by Bob Olsgard, is on display now through March 24 in the Film in the Cities Gallery, 2388 University Ave. at Raymond.

Olsgard, a Twin City photographer/teacher, is currently involved in a year-long film documentary of Minneapolis. His works can be viewed from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays.

Make Artistic Photographs A Part of Your Home

The photographs of Shash Broxson will be on sale now through April. All are in color. They are matted and double matted, and all are signed by Ms. Broxson. Content consists of plantlife, flowers, some scenery and sculpture - ideal for home decor.

Four free gallery concerts presented at Institute of Arts

The Minneapolis Institute of Arts will present four gallery concerts during March featuring Renaissance and Baroque music by a variety of composers, as well as contemporary jazz and original compositions. Admission to the concerts is free, though museum admission is required.

Marvin Busse, piano, and Paul Beyerl, flute, will present a program ranging from Baroque pieces to contemporary jazz at 3:00 p.m. Sunday, March 5 in the museum's Sculpture Court.

The I Musici Recorder Ensemble will perform Renaissance and Baroque music on recorders and violas da gamba in a concert at 3:00 p.m. Sunday, March 12 in Gallery 380. Ensemble members are Bette Wortman, Bonnie Casber, Laura Thompson, Elliott Royce and Toy Blethen.

Michael Victor will play original compositions for piano at 3:00 p.m. Saturday, March 11 in the museum's Pillsbury Auditorium.

The Twin Cities Brass Quintet will perform a program ranging from fanfares to concert pieces at 3:00 p.m. Saturday, March 25 in the Sculpture Court. Featured composers include Dukas, Pezel and Gabrieli.

Photo show

The winning color and black and white photographs from the 30th annual Minneapolis-St. Paul International Exhibition of Photography are now on display in the lobbies of the Northwestern National and First National Banks in downtown St. Paul.

WHERE TO WHAT TO GO & DO
The Villager's Guide to Food, Fun & Entertainment

The seemingly immortal jazzman, Dave Brubeck, will return to Orchestra Hall with his three sons as the New Brubeck Quartet this Saturday, March 4 at 8:00 p.m. Formally introduced to the jazz scene in 1977, the quartet includes Dave Brubeck on piano, Dan on percussion, Darius on electric keyboard and synthesizer, and Chris on electric bass and trombone. For advance reservations, call the Orchestra Hall box office at 339-3600 or Dayton's ticket offices.

Junior high jazz

The Ramsey Junior High Jazz Ensemble will kick it out in the cafeteria at 7:30 p.m. this Thursday, March 2. Admission is $1.00 for adults, 75 cents for students.

A mirror for the masses: Kitsch exhibition to open

Kitsch will be the featured art form in the galleries of the College of St. Catherine throughout the month of March.

Target Store cake decorator Charles Correy will be the visiting artist for the exhibition's opening preview on Saturday, March 4 from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m. Correy will create the evening's refreshments which, after being viewed, will be devoured by gallery visitors.

The show itself will include such typically kitschy items as "Mother" pillows, souvenir ash trays, black velvet paint-by-number sets, pinball machines, 40's sheet music, and assorted knick-knacks like a poodle-shaped poastic toilet bowl brush holder, and a mahogany clock with a gyrating hula dancer and bongo player.

Items on display in the show will run the gamut of kitsch available at any K-Mart or corner Clark station. Political kitsch, religious kitsch, lawn kitsch, home kitsch, and architectural kitsch will all be included as reflections of the taste in today's mass culture.

Those attending the opening preview this Saturday are encouraged to join in the spirit of the show by dressing in kitsch. Hawaiian shirts, mouse trap shoes, just about any woman's hat, printed T-shirts, and other attire evoking a similar "kitsch-as-kitsch-can" approach will be entirely in keeping.

The opening preview will include door prizes (given out at 15-minute intervals) and kitschy background music. There will also be a continuous slide show illustrating kitsch in architecture, e.g., the 40-foot high polar bear on Hwy. 36, the White Castle castles, the Burger Chef sign, and the Copper Dome on Como Ave.

Lyell Henry, one of the collectors represented in the exhibition, will also give two talks in the gallery on Monday, March 6—one at 3:15 p.m., the other at 8:00 p.m. The topic of his talk is "Fetched by Beauty: Confessions of a Kitsch Collector."

West Bank variety show set March 5

The West Bank School of Music will continue its Sunday Night Music Series with a variety show at 8:00 p.m. this Sunday, March 5 at the Walker Church, 3104 16th Ave. So., Mpls.

Performing will be Tommy Ray, old-time barrelhouse, honk-tonk and boogie-woogie piano; Warren Park, original jazz piano; and Joan Autry-Hanson and Ken Schaefer, pop and folk guitar and vocals. Tickets are $2.00.

Maury's Ice Cream Emporium hosts grand opening celebration

A cool reception is in store for all who drop by to help celebrate the grand opening of Maury's Ice Cream Emporium this Thursday, March 2 through Saturday, March 4.

It's not that Maury's such an unsociable sort, you understand. Fact is, for those who don't find half-price chocolate sundaes reason enough to venture down to the Emporium this week, Maury will also be serving hot coffee and coney islands at half-price throughout the three-day housewarming.

The opening of Maury's Ice Cream Emporium, located in the space formerly occupied by Baskin Robbins at 718 So. Cleveland Ave., is the product of a long-standing aspiration for Maury Shankey who, with his wife, Jean, their twin sons Joe and Jeff, and daughter Debby, will be minding the store. For the past 20 years, Maury worked in the purchasing department for Montgomery Wards, the last 11 in St. Paul.

Maury's Ice Cream Emporium will open daily at 9:30 a.m., serving coffee, rolls and pastries. The lunch menu will include Maury's coney islands, chili, fresh fruit pies and a list of ice cream specialties that can't be licked. A new scoop in the Highland area will be Maury's sculptured ice cream cakes and pies.

Baroque trio to play free concert

L'Ensemble LeClair, a baroque trio, will present a free concert at 8:00 p.m. Sunday, March 5 in the Music Building Recital Hall at the College of St. Catherine.

Members of the trio are: Richard Walz, baroque violinist; Alison Crum, gambist; and Elaine Funaro, harpsichordist. All three studied in Europe and have performed as soloists and in ensembles in the U.S. and abroad.

The ensemble will perform a trio sonata by Buxtehude, sonatas for violin and continuo by Corelli and J.S. Bach, concert pieces for trio by Rameau and Marais, and harpsichord solos.

ASPC launches study of St. Paul neighborhood issues

The Association of St. Paul Communities recently announced it has begun an eight-month city-wide study of neighborhood issues.

The study, entitled Operation Resource Exchange, will document specific areas of expertise and leadership which communities have developed in attempting to solve community problems.

Joanna Buzek, former researcher for the University of Minnesota, is the project director. The study is being funded through a grant from the Center for Urban and Regional Affairs at the University of Minnesota.

Operation Resource Exchange will attempt to bridge much of the isolation which many communities now face. Goals of the project are to:

*Document successes and failures of neighborhood efforts to solve neighborhood problems.

*Catalogue community resources, especially in the areas of expertise, experience and leadership.

*Provide a forum for sharing those resources.

*Assist newly-formed community organizations in efforts to develop a structure.

*Assist mature organizations in a critical self-examination of their past activities.

Essay winner

Theresa Bird, a sixth grader at Mendota Elementary School, recently won an essay contest sponsored by the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Theresa's essay dealt with "Growing Up in Colonial Times."

Robert J. Keyport, 1987 Summit Ave., was recently appointed vice president of Minneapolis operations for the Data Card Corporation. Keyport joined the company in 1972 as director of engineering.

Women's lib talk slated March 7

The Lawyers' Wives of Ramsey County is sponsoring an address by Judith Justad at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 7 at Gloria Dei Lutheran Church, 700 S. Snelling Ave.

Mrs. Justad is the executive director of the Center for Humanism, Awareness and Resource Training, and has been a counselor of women for the past 17 years. The title of her address is "Women's Liberation... Freedom or Frustration?"

The event is open to all interested women. Admission is $2.50.

Class for parents offered at Ramsey

The Perinatal Education Center of St. Paul Ramsey Hospital and Medical Center will offer a class in parenting beginning Tuesday, March 7.

Classes will meet at Ramsey for six consecutive Tuesdays from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. topics to be discussed include nutrition, child development, safety, minor illness, environment and family relationships.

Cost is $10.00. Registration can be made by calling the hospital at 221-3852.

Mattress Clinic opens on Randolph

Hardware has been largely replaced by software at 1332 Randolph Ave.

Recently opened in the former location of Ran Ham Hardware between Knowlan's and Elite Repeat is The Mattress Clinic.

Owned and operated by Richard Rayburn, The Mattress Clinic specializes in box springs, mattresses, beds and related furnishings.

Formerly with Wickes, Donaldsons and Shopper's City, Rayburn brings over 23 years in the furniture and bedding business to his new venture.

talking out of school

by Bill Rosenbloom
and
Carl Nelson

"My kids are out of school more than they're in."

"I thought there was supposed to be a minimum number of school days required for students."

"Why in the world am I paying so much for school taxes when my children are continually being excused from school?"

These somewhat pointed reproofs from Highland area residents are the result of what appears to be an inordinate number of times secondary school students have been dismissed from school of late. In fact, within the past three weeks alone, area senior high school students have been excused from classes a total of five half-days. Reasons given for the early dismissals range from parent-teacher conferences, to teacher workshops, to arena scheduling, to PER meetings.

Talking Out of School recently asked St. Paul Public School officials how and by whom the decision to dismiss classes is made. This is the response we received: At the present time, the St. Paul School District requires a minimum of 176 days of school, but it is possible for school principals to dismiss classes pretty much as they see fit. The only requirement is approval from the downtown office.

Though we were assured that permission was not given without careful consideration, we ask: Five half-days in three weeks?

At any rate, there is good news for all those parents and students who feel this system of dismissal has been abused. It comes in the form of a new state law which will require 175 days of school, including 170 full days of student-teacher contact time.

In essence, this will mean students may only have five partial days off per year. Even an hour early dismissal will be counted as one of the five.

WHAT'S GOOD?

When we posed that question to Groveland Elementary School principal Jerry Madigan, he bent our ears for quite a while about a myriad of good things happening there.

Only problem was our editor, Iron Mike Mischke, couldn't see fit to turn over a substantial part of this issue to a "Groveland Gazette." (He said we'd undoubtedly make a Misch-Masch of it, and one per paper seemed sufficient.)

Sibrinky slated for March 4

The St. Paul Sokol Gymnastic Society will host its annual Sibrinky. (Czechoslovakian for "Mardi Gras") on Saturday, March 4.

The public is invited to the evening of dancing, food, singing and surprises. Gordy Prochaska's "Little Fishermen Band" will provide the music and the St. Paul Czechoslovak Folk Dancers will perform during intermission.

The Sibrinky will be held from 8:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. at the CSPS Hall, 381 Michigan Ave. at West Seventh St. Tickets may be obtained by calling Babe Vanyo at 225-5874 or Marlin Heise at 224-8754, or may be purchased at the door. Cost is $3.00 for adults, $1.50 for those under 16 years.

Church schedules workshop March 13

A workshop entitled "Families: Being a Part of/ Apart from Your Family" will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday, March 13 at Unity Church-Unitarian, Portland and Grotto Avenues.

Focus of the program will be on ways an individual can play a specific role in a family and yet remain apart to fulfill individual needs and wants.

Cost is $1.00. To pre-register, call the church office at 226-1056.

Wednesday, March 1, 1978

We will, therefore, pass along as much Groveland good news as he and space permit.

The first item in the Groveland "What's Good?" grab bag concerns third grade teacher Nancy Fogelberg. According to Madigan, Nancy has made science come alive in her classroom with an approach that challenges her students at the same time it creates in them a desire to learn.

A graduate of an aerospace course developed through NASA, Nancy uses an aerospace curriculum she helped to form. Map reading, geography and wind currents may sound like rather mundane subjects to most of us, but students in Nancy's class would undoubtedly disagree. Nancy's teaching method? Simple enough: Involve the students.

For example, when her class was doing a unit on weather, she rented a tank of helium, had each student fill a balloon with the gas and attach a return postcard to it.

As the post cards are returned (the sender is asked to specify where the balloon was found), the students plot their courses on a map. Post cards returned to date have come from as far away as Illinois and southern Michigan.

To help make a subject like anatomy come to life (so to speak), Nancy has hung a skeleton in the classroom. The class feels so comfortable with the skeleton that the kids have christened it "Dr. Emily Bones." Last week one student even provided a pair of sunglasses for Dr. Bones.

Nancy credits the success of many of her projects to the support she has received from both parents and school staff. "It couldn't work without their help," she says.

Talking Out of School salutes Nancy Fogelberg for the extra lengths she is willing to go for her students.

We would also like to salute the many, many area teachers who are doing an exceptional job with their young charges. Unfortunately, we don't know who they all are. If you've got a "What's Good?" suggestion for a future column, we invite you to contact either Carl Nelson at 690-2075 or Bill Rosenbloom at 690-1460.

Area women elected to Camp Fire Board

Two Highland area residents were recently elected to the board of directors of the St. Paul Camp Fire Council.

Mrs. Michael Arend, 1456 Summit Ave., was elected the board's third vice president and Mrs. Robert Mares, 855 S. Lexington Pkwy., was elected board secretary.

'Rejoice' presented

Rejoice, a musical witness to Christ, will be presented by the Rejoicers of Immanuel Lutheran Church at 7:00 p.m. Wednesday, March 8, at Gloria Dei Lutheran Church, 700 So. Snelling Ave.

Written by Dawn Villars Hilbert and Nancy Villars Mulliken, the musical will also be available on tape following the performance.

'Rabbit Remembers'

The COMPAS Storytellers will present "Rabbit Remembers," a familiar tale with a new twist, at 7:00 p.m. Tuesday, March 7 in the Groveland School auditorium. Kids of all ages are invited to attend the free show, which is being presented by the Groveland Community Education Program.

Pancake breakfast

Boy Scout Troop 252 will host its annual pancake breakfast this Sunday, March 5 at Olivet United Church Of Christ, 1850 Iglehart Ave. Serving hours are from 10:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. Donation is $1.25 per person or $6.00 per family.

Gordon scholarship applications slated

The Louis Gordon Memorial Foundation is now accepting applications for scholarships for the 1978-79 academic year. The Foundation, established in memory of long-time St. Paul Jewish educator Louis Gordon, seeks to promote Jewish education and Israel.

Scholarships are available for students who wish to study in Israel or are pursuing a career in Jewish education. Consideration will also be given to those interested in Jewish communal service.

Deadline for applications is March 31. For further information, contact the Talmud Torah of St. Paul at 698-8807.

How many smoke alarms do you need?

Is one, two or three enough to be really safe?

Highland Electric, in the fire alarm and security system business for years has the answer.

How many do you need? As many as it takes to detect smoke in every potential combustible area in your home!

What does this mean? It means that you may spend from $17 to $65 each for 7 to 10 or maybe more smoke detectors.

What if we can't hear one of these alarms in a more remote area of our home?

You've got a problem. We recently helped a young mother of two children in a nearby town with a new fire alarm system for their rebuilt home. A few months ago a fire started in her home while she and the children were asleep. Luckily, she awoke, smelled the smoke and got the children to safety. For whatever reason, she did not or could not hear the two battery operated alarms in her home.

Is there a better way?

We think so. The key is installing low-cost electrical sensors near bedrooms, tops of stairs, hallways and storage areas which will send a signal to a Fire Control Panel. This panel will then set off horns or bells at a number of key areas throughout the whole house. This insures that an alert will be heard by everyone. Instead of having seven to 10 alarm devices, you only have one powerful, economical and effective one.

If protecting your family in this manner makes sense to you, call us now...

A social hour will get underway at 11:15 a.m. and will be followed by a luncheon at 12:30 p.m. The style show will be presented by Albrecht's, and a limited number of children's fashions will be presented by the Pied Piper.

For information on tickets, call Mrs. Robert Hanson at 690-4191.

Pre-Paddy's Day book party planned

Lawrence Millman, Pulitzer Prize nominee and author of Our Like Will Not Be There Again—Notes from the West of Ireland, will be the guest of honor at an Irish literary celebration on Sunday, March 12 at Micawber's Bookstore, 2238 Carter Ave. at Como.

Festivities, which will run from 2:00 to 5:30 p.m., will include Irish music and refreshments. Millman will be available to speak informally with guests and autograph copies of his new book.

Angel dust in the streets

The problem with PCP

Angel Dust. The name conjures up images of sparkling, white crystals on soft, feathered wings. Users of the drug know better.

According to the Drug Abuse Warning Network (DAWN), PCP now represents up to 25 percent of the psychedelic drug use in the nation. Chuck Peterson, pharmacist at the Hennepin County Medical Center's Poison Center, believes that PCP is "by far the most heavily abused drug on the street today."

Phencyclidine (PCP) was developed in the late 1950's as a human anesthetic. Its use was discontinued when patients complained of hallucinations, disorientation and extreme agitation. Today it is manufactured legally by only one drug company, and then only for veterinary purposes.

The magnitude of the PCP abuse problem in the Twin Cities is reflected in the fact that in 1975 this area accounted for 15 percent of all PCP overdoses nationally.

Unlike street drugs such as THC or LSD, PCP is easy to make and the ingredients are readily available. It may be ingested in all possible ways, i.e., smoked, shot, snorted, or swallowed. However, PCP is most often ingested by inhaling the smoke from a joint.

According to the Poison Center, PCP is dangerous because the results of using it are so unpredictable. Unlike drugs such as Valium or Quaalude, PCP is bought on the street and is always made in illicit laboratories. One time a user may ingest a concentration of ten percent PCP, the next time a concentration of 60 or even 100 percent. The effects of the drug are almost impossible for the ordinary user to control, and they can vary unexpectedly.

It was the unpredictability of the drug, and its often hellish effects, which caused its drop from use in 1968. It resurfaced as a street drug in the early 70's, and from 1976 to 1977 its use skyrocketed.

Today the Hennepin County Medical Center's Poison Center sees two or three PCP overdoses a week, and the center expects the number of PCP overdoses to spiral this spring and summer as it has done in the past few years.

Whether PCP's growing popularity rests on its own special effects is not known at this time. PCP is often sold as "street THC," which is the extremely difficult to extract hallucinogenic chemical found in marijuana. Sometimes PCP is passed off as other hallucinogens such as LSD, mescaline or psilocybin.

The effects of the drug are felt within two to thirty minutes, depending on the means of ingestion. Operating in a dream-like state, the "dusted" PCP user is normally uncommunicative and often stares into space.

During the next two to four hours the effects level off. A "come-down" is then experienced, marked by feelings of paranoia, irritation, isolation, and possibly suicidal behavior. In 24 to 48 hours a user returns to what he or she considers "normal."

Although the growing use of PCP seems to indicate that its users feel it triggers a positive experience, many people find using it unpleasant—sometimes in the extreme. Those using it for the first time report feelings of weightlessness and decreased body size, perceptual distortions, extreme feelings of apathy, and emotional and social isolation.

The long-term effects of regular PCP use are not yet known. What is known is that chronic users have shown definite symptoms of persistent, long-term disturbances in their brain functions and thinking patterns, even after two or three weeks of abstinence.

Depending on the degree, PCP overdose patients exhibit catatonic rigidity, seizures, and movements which are grossly uncoordinated. Deaths from a PCP overdose are often attributed to "behavioral toxicity," that is, while on the drug, users have burned to death, drowned or fallen. The complications of seizures have caused other deaths due to PCP overdose.

Two symptoms which mark a PCP overdose, rather than one from another drug, are nystagmus (a spasmodic, involuntary movement of the eyeballs) and increased blood pressure. Those suspected of having taken an overdose of PCP should be taken to an emergency room immediately.

Musical Offering to do its thing: offer music

Musical Offering, a chamber music ensemble, will present a concert with guest soloist Neva Pilgrim at 8:00 p.m. Saturday, March 4 in the Walker Art Center Auditorium.

Included in the program will be "Ten Blake Songs for Voice and Oboe" by Vaughn-Williams, "Cantata for Voice, Flute and Continuo" by Vivaldi and "Cantata for Voice, Violin and Continuo" by Buxtehude.

Founded in 1971, Musical Offering is made up of Rees Allison, piano; Marcia Peck, cello; Basil Reeve, oboe; Frederick Sewell, violin; and Adele Zeitlin, flute. Sewell is concertmaster and soloist of the Bach Society; Peck, Reeve and Zeitlin are members of the Minnesota Orchestra.

Admission to the concert is $3.00; students and senior citizens $2.00.

State artists exhibit at 'U'

Over 20 Minnesota artists are participating in an exhibition in the West Bank Union Gallery of Willey Hall at the University of Minnesota now through March 10. The exhibition includes paintings, sculpture, photographs, prints and environmental art.

Among the participating artists are Mary Abbott, Guy Baldwin, Cameron Booth, Peter Busa, Thomas Cowette, Raymond Hendler, Susan Lucey, Cork Marcheschi, Warren MacKenzie, George Morrison, Malcolm Myers, Katherine Nash, Wayne Potratz, Zigmunds Priede, Thomas Rose, Herman Rowan, Jane Starosciak, Sharon Stockwell and Stewart Turnquist.

The West Bank Union Gallery is open to the public free of charge from 8:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.
