Troubled World...

A MOTHER'S CULINARY SKILL MAY PROTECT CHILD'S HEART

As Christmas approaches, mothers all over Minnesota will be busy shopping for gifts to fill the stockings to be hung by the chimney with care. In the interest of protecting hearts, the Minnesota Heart Association urges all mothers to pay as much attention to what goes into the youngsters' shiny new lunch boxes, and onto the family table.

A mother's skills in selecting and preparing foods can help protect the entire family's hearts. There is increasing evidence that a diet which controls the intake of cholesterol and saturated fats can reduce the hazard of atherosclerosis, a disease of the arteries which underlies most heart attacks. And youngsters stand to gain most from such risk reduction measures. In their formative years they will develop a taste for the right kinds of foods, and thus find it easier as they mature to adhere to a diet that reduces their risk of premature heart disease.

The typical American diet is rich in foods that contribute to the progress of atherosclerosis. To reduce this risk, scientists recommend a diet that is low in cholesterol and saturated fats, but which still provides all the nutrients essential to good health. Adopting this diet usually requires moderate changes in eating habits.

There are four goals to keep in mind in following the suggested diet:

1. To meet daily needs for protein, vitamins, minerals and other nutrients.
2. To control calories and maintain desirable weight.
3. To avoid eating excessive amounts of food containing cholesterol and saturated fat, by lowering the total intake of such foods.
4. To see that more of the fat eaten is polyunsaturated, and less of it is saturated.

The Minnesota Heart Association can supply you with two new booklets containing recommended diets, recipes and tips on food preparation to achieve those four goals. The publications are: The Way to A Man's Heart, and Recipes for Fat-Controlled and Low Cholesterol Meals.

Scientists agree that diet is a factor in reducing the risk of heart attack. But there are other factors to guard against. See that your youngsters do not acquire the cigarette smoking habit; have them exercise regularly; keep their weight at appropriate levels; and take them for regular medical checkups.

This same plan of action applies equally to adults as a program to reduce their risk of heart attack. It is never too early or too late to start a campaign to protect the heart. Do it this Christmas and help to give your family the priceless gift of health.

Gibbs Farm Museum

The scent of evergreens will fill the old farmhouse when the Gibbs Farm Museum, maintained by the Ramsey County Historical Society, opens for its winter season on December 15.

The farmhouse will be decorated for Christmas, with an old-fashioned Christmas tree surrounded by toys which belonged to children during the 1870's and 1880's, and boughs, festoons and other decorations typical of a pioneer farm home.

A Christmas tree, decorated with the types of ornaments made by children of about 70 years ago, will be set up in the little white schoolhouse on the museum property. The school room has been restored to the period of the 1890's.

The museum will be open to the public every Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. During the week,

Tuesday through Friday, the museum will be open to groups of 15 to 40 persons who have made appointments for special tours.

During the holidays, the museum will also be open to the public from 2 to 5 p.m. Dec. 26, Dec. 27 and Dec. 31. The museum will close March 15 for six weeks, said Mrs. James O. Wall, 620 Keller Parkway, Little Canada, president of the Ramsey County Historical Society.

ARTS, SCIENCE FUND DRIVE EXCEEDS GOAL, SETS ALL-TIME MARK

The 1968 St. Paul Arts and Science Fund drive has reached its half-million dollar goal, raising more money than any previous appeal in the history of the cultural organization, according to Terrence G. O'Brien, financial vice president of the Council of Arts and Sciences.

O'Brien said the drive to date has brought in pledges of $500,052, exceeding the $500,000 goal set for the current campaign.

The previous highest figure was the $4342,000 raised in 1967 when the goal was $475,000.

"Due to expanding programs of all member agencies," O'Brien said, "the Council's Board of Directors had to set the highest goal in history for the 1968 campaign. The wisdom of this move seems to have been justified by the response of contributors, many of whom have raised their pledges from preceding years.

"The success of this campaign," O'Brien noted, "is due to the diligent efforts of more than 500 volunteers who translated their concern for the cultural life of our community into a most effective fund-raising effort."

He announced that the Guarantors Division, which includes pledges from $100 to $999, exceeded its $40,000 goal by $2,668, 106 per cent of its quota. Chairmen of the Guarantors Division are John Schorger, Thomas Swain and Dr. Charles Rea.

PO Open Saturday

Carrier stations and branches and the main Post Office will be open Saturday, December 21st from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. They will be closed Sunday, December 22 and Christmas Day.

Opportunity often knocks—but some are too busy knocking the other fellow to hear it!

The Patrons Division, O'Brien reported, accounted for pledges of $378,388, or 100.2 per cent of its $377,500 goal under Chairmen J. Thomas Simonet and Edward R. Titcomb, and the Residential Division obtained pledges of $28,996.48, or 88 per cent of its $32,500 goal. Chairmen of the Residential Division are Peter Seed, Boyd Ratchye and Lehan Ryan.

The Arts and Science Fund is a unified effort to provide year-round support for the city's six cultural and scientific organizations: St. Paul Opera Association, Science Museum, St. Paul Art Center, Schubert Club, St. Paul Philharmonic Society and the parent Council of Arts and Sciences.

Also part of the ASF total is an allocation of $50,000 from the Ramsey County Board of Commissioners.

"A particularly significant aspect of the 1968 campaign," O'Brien concluded, "is the fact that our volunteers were able to complete their work in record time. This is the first time in the ten-year history of the ASF that our goal has been reached before the end of the calendar year."

MUSICAL HIT "THE FANTASTICKS" AT CHANHASSEN DINNER THEATRE

Current attraction at the new Chanhassen Dinner Theatre is the world-famous musical hit, "The Fantasticks."

The Tom Jones-Harvey Schmidt musical tells the simple story of two fathers who try to get their son and daughter together by keeping them apart. A handsome bandit is hired to assist in match-making and he succeeds almost too well.

Hit songs from the show include "Try to Remember," "Soon It's Gonna Rain," and "The Rape Ballet." The play features George Lee as the romantic bandit and David Anderson and Allan Lotsberg as the two bumbling fathers.

Chris Black and Dick Mueller play the two young lovers. Other cast members include John Hoyt and Tom Sherihman as a pair of hilariously decrepit actors and Carol Houston as a

Thin Ice Warning

"Getting into hot water" is only a synonym for trouble, but trouble from getting into cold water is a reality, and sometimes a tragedy, for many Americans each winter.

They are the skaters, iceboatmen and fishermen who fall through the ice while engaging in their favorite winter sports.

"All too frequently this trouble comes from going on the ice too early," says Judge Otis Godfrey, chairman of St. Paul Area Red Cross Safety Programs. "The first ice of the season is deceptive because normally it is not uniform in thickness. Wait until the ice is safe."

Judge Godfrey made these additional suggestions for winter sports enthusiasts:

- Skate in supervised areas, ideally a shallow pond or lake in which the water is not more than waist deep. Skate with a companion.

- Avoid congregating on the ice in large groups.

- Build fires on the bank—NOT on the ice.

- Remember that ice is especially dangerous now, during thawing spells and toward the end of winter.

- Keep simple rescue equipment handy at skating areas—ropes, poles, ladders, or planks—in case of accident.

Student Newspaper Wins First-Class Honor Rating

Hamline's student newspaper, the Oracle, received a first-class honor rating in the 79th All-American Critical Service conducted by the Associated Collegiate Press Association for the second semester of last school year.

The Oracle received 3,595 honor points from the overall rating, 105 below the top classification of All-American.

Perfect scores were received in maintaining a balance of the news between various sources, creativeness, the nameplate, running head and masthead, sports display and printing. Feature sections of the papers were complimented, both for creativeness and writing.

Sixteen issues of the Oracle were submitted to the rating service by its 1967-68 editor Charles Lantz, now a law student at the University of Minnesota.

Social Security Medicare News

R. H. Gower, social security district manager in St. Paul, today urged everyone who signed up for the doctor bill insurance part of Medicare, to spend some time between now and the end of the year in checking over his record of medical expenses.

He said that this is most important for those older people who incurred expenses for covered medical services between October 1, 1966, and September 30, 1967. If a claim isn't made for reimbursement of these expenses by December 31, 1968, it will not be possible to make a payment.

Gower pointed out that, in the past, some Medicare beneficiaries postponed making a claim because they thought that if the doctor declined to take an assignment, the patient had to submit a receipted bill with his application. Unable to supply evidence of having paid the doctor or the medical supplier, they failed to file a claim, he added.

"These people are in danger of shortchanging themselves," Gower said. "The 1967 amendments to the Medicare law eliminated the requirement that a bill submitted with a claim must be receipted to show that it was paid in full or part. Starting in 1968, an itemized bill showing the services or medical good received and the charges for these, even if unpaid, became sufficient."

Medicare pays for 80 percent of the reasonable charges of the covered services and medical goods, less an annual $50 deductible that the patient must pay. If the expenses of the last 3 months in any year do not come up to the amount of the deductible, they can be carried over to the following year to reduce the deductible for that year.

All social security offices are prepared to help people make claims for doctor bills insurance payments. Evidence of the services received should be brought to the nearest Social Security office. Another "must" is the older person's Medicare card or other official document showing their health insurance claim number.

The St. Paul district office is located at Room 185, Federal Building, 316 Robert Street.

'Art of Poetry' Program in Search Of Local Support

The National Endowment for the Arts, Washington, D.C., will award a $5,463 grant extension to enable the University of Minnesota to continue its "Art of Poetry" program, provided that the University raise matching funds.

Mrs. David LaBerge, director of the program, recently announced the beginning of a drive to raise the necessary sum. The grant extension and matching funds will enable the program to operate through the spring of 1969, she said.

During the winter and spring of 1968, the grant made possible a program entitled "Dialogues on the Art of Poetry," co-sponsored by the University's General Extension Division, the Minneapolis Public Schools and the Academy of American Poets.

Nine major American poets gave a series of public poetry readings and held seminars for Minneapolis teachers. In addition, the program brought local poets into Minneapolis classrooms to work directly with the students.

Anyone who wishes to contribute to the support of the program can contact Mrs. LaBerge at the University's MacPhail Center, 1128 LaSalle ave., Minneapolis (telephone 332-4424), or at her home, 2410 Sherwood Hills Road, Minnetonka (telephone 545-6879).

Lines for LOVELINESS

by Stella

CHRISTMAS DAY

PEOPLE are waiting all over the world for the sound of sleigh bells fading in the crisp early morning dawn. With the silence following the last tiny sound the natural world seems to cease its restless movement. Tensions disappear, and fear leaves the earth now preparing a "Halleluja!" for the ever new miracle of this day. And along with the miracle which is observed on this CHRISTMAS DAY we find only man still afraid to love too much. He dares to love only as much as he is loved. In nature, love is an outpouring unmeasured . . . but poor frightened man demands proof, and are so occupied with measure for measure that the joy of love is often missed altogether.

This Christmas we resolve to love, for at least 24 hours without fear. This will be our miracle, if we can do it. Will you, our many friends and patrons share this divine risk with us? For after all what is Christmas without a miracle.

NEW YEARS EVE—

Try our special "night 'on' The Town" Service. What could be more exhilarating than the feeling of luxury one gets from being all dressed up and feeling like a well-polished jewel. Of course you'll come to us to have your hair done for this big event. When you come in be sure to tell us all about your gown so that we can give you the absolutely perfect hairdo to go with it. You'll probably need an extra hairpiece to give you the finishing touch. Bring yours along to be restyled. If you haven't invested in that necessary luxury yet, we suggest at once that you pick one out here.

And don't forget, A GIFT CERTIFICATE may be purchased here.

Again, STELLA, ANDY, and the ENTIRE STAFF WISHES EVERYONE THE BEST EVER SEASON'S GREETINGS.

Minnesota Hockey Classic Dec. 20-21

College hockey has become something more than a home for pro rejects in Canada, and the University of Toronto, one of the protagonists in the 1968 Minnesota Hockey Classic Dec. 20-21 at Metropolitan Sports Center in Bloomington, embodies the renaissance spirit.

Toronto has won two of the last three Canadian college national titles and rates as something more than a darkhorse in the race to unseat defending Classic champion and current Western Collegiate Hockey Association leader North Dakota.

"The difference is more colleges are playing hockey," says Toronto coach Tom Watt. "Ten or fifteen years ago there weren't very many schools playing hockey here, and a lot of kids went to the United States. Now, with forty or more schools having hockey teams, a lot of them are staying home."

MINN. THEATRE CO. REVISED SCHEDULE FOR "69" SEASON

The Minnesota Theatre Company announced that it is revising its 1969 Minneapolis season at the Tyrone Guthrie Theatre.

Selections of four of the five plays, which are subject to final approval by the company's board of directors, were made by Peter Zeisler, Edward Payson Call and Mel Shapiro.

The 1969 season includes Julius Caesar by William Shakespeare, The Beauty Part by S. J. Perelman, Uncle Vanya by Anton Chekhov, and Mourning Becomes Electra by Eugene O'Neill. The fifth play of the Minneapolis season will be announced later.

The changes in the repertory became necessary, Peter Zeisler said, when it became impossible to arrive at satisfactory conditions for the production of a new play. With the elimination of that play, it became necessary to revise the total repertoire to better serve the acting company and to maintain the proper artistic balance of the season.

The Minneapolis season opens late in June and will run 25 weeks, closing near the end of December after approximately 200 performances.

FLOWERS, MUSIC AND SOME of St. Paul's most charming residences were utilized in a novel fund-raising idea by the St. Paul Women's Philharmonic Association. The Association sponsored a Holiday House Tour of four homes, each decorated for Christmas or Hanukkah by four local florists. Here a flute ensemble of the St. Paul Philharmonic Youth Orchestra entertains at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mast, 2144 Upper St. Dennis Road, decorated with the traditional blue and white flowers of Hanukkah by Highland Park Florists. Members of the ensemble are, from left, Pamela Mayo, 904 Brenner Avenue, Nancy Borow, 565 Otis Avenue, Liza Cutter, Anoka, and Barbara Held, 506 Fourth Avenue N.E., Minneapolis. Cretin Band to Represent State at Nixon's Inaugural

The 70-piece Cretin High School military marching band of St. Paul has been selected as the band to represent the State of Minnesota in the Inaugural Parade of President-elect Richard Nixon.

In making the announcement today, State Republican Chairman George Thiss said, "Each state is permitted to be represented by one band and one float and we are pleased that Cretin High School band will play and march for Minnesotans."

Thiss pointed out that the 118-year-old parochial school, with a four-grade enrollment of 1,133 has just completed its 50th year of having a military band and a Junior ROTC program and that the Inaugural Parade performance will cap the school's Golden Jubilee activities. With its enrollment, Cretin High School is the largest all-boys school in the state.

The band will be under the direction of Robert Paulson, St. Paul. Brother Theodore Drahmann is principle.

While in Washington, D.C., Brother Drahmann said, "The band members will be the guests of the Cadets of St. Johns Military High School, which also is a Christian Brothers Military High School, like Cretin."

Biafra-Nigeria Relief Contributions

Contributions for Biafra-Nigeria relief are being received by the St. Paul Area Red Cross, following a plea by the International Red Cross for funds to pay for transportation of available supplies into the bush country of the African nation.

Franklin E. Truax, St. Paul chapter chairman, said checks, made out to the American Red Cross for Biafra-Nigeria relief, should be mailed to the St. Paul Red Cross, 413 Auditorium St., St. Paul, Minn. 55102. The money will be sent immediately to the International Red Cross in Geneva.

"Red Cross coordination of the huge relief operation for the starving victims of the civil war is imperiled by a shortage of money to pay for transportation of more than $23 million worth of food and medical supplies, all readily available in neutral ports," Mr. Truax explained.

Work of the International Red Cross, which is serving as an umbrella for the relief operations of churches, private and public agencies and governments, started in July, 1967 and has been continuing under extreme hardship because neither of the belligerents will assure safe conduct. Workers have been under anti-aircraft fire many times during the past month in which four have been killed and a number wounded.

Since early September, 500 night time airlifts from the island of Fernando Po, where supplies are stored, have carried 5,000 tons of food and medical supplies into Biafra-Nigeria. More than 700 refugee camps and 20 field hospitals are in operation in the stricken area.

The Red Cross must have $8 million to continue the flights from now until February.

MODEL OF IRANIAN DAM BUILT AT U OF M TO SOLVE EROSION

The $50,000 cost of a model dam is "peanuts" compared to the cost of the real thing, according to Professor A. G. Anderson of the St. Anthony Falls Hydraulic Lab of the University of Minnesota.

The dam model has been constructed in a huge room at the hydraulic lab. The lab, located on the banks of the Mississippi river near Minneapolis, uses the river as a water source.

The real dam, worth an estimated $150 million, is being constructed on the Karun River in Iran.

At the hydraulic lab, water shooting from the end of the "ski-jump"-type model spillway rises over three feet above the water surface during maximum flow. The actual dam being built in Iran is 80 times larger than the model.

The model is being used to determine the most economical, best-engineered spillway design. Spillway design in a dam is especially crucial due to effects of downward erosion of stream below the dam during floods, points of erosion near the dam structure—which could lead to collapse of the dam—and effects on the topography in the area of the dam during periods of maximum water flow.

The model, including the spillway and a mock-up of the river gorge, is being built according to the latest field findings of geologists, engineers, and other scientists at the actual dam site under the sponsorship of the designers of the dam, Harzo Engineering International of Chicago, for the government of Iran.

The Karun Dam project is important to Iran's future growth. The dam will provide electrical power to all parts of the country, meeting the ever-increasing needs of that rapidly developing nation.

"This model is typical of the research we do for consulting engineers who are responsible for the overall design of a given real system," Anderson said.

"Our interest in these projects has considerable educational benefits to our students. We are able to do an engineering study of real-life problems as well as facilitating on-going technical developments.

"The use of models is quite common in hydraulics projects, saving millions of dollars in materials, time, and labor as well as providing an improved hydraulic system."

Hairdressers Christmas Party, Contest

by STAN FOSS

St. Paul Hairdressers Association held their Christmas Party at Paul's Place Saturday. The party was called to order mid a setting of gay holiday decor, glamorous clothes, and exotic hair styles.

One need only enter the room to know these were professional hair stylists in attendance.

A new feature this year was a Holiday Hair Fashion Contest open to all in attendance.

Wide use was made of the new popular hair pieces or wiglets, some stylist using several on a head to create styles to bedazzle the eye.

Several high lites were the classic Greek form.

Bird cages complete with love birds and holly. The cage being made of braided hair.

A Christmas tree all achieved by expert styling and hair only. This featured tiny tree bulbs and all lited by tiny lites.

A touch of New York was seen in one that was curls, curls, curls — all sprinkled with large white snow flakes, and tiny white ribbons plus glittering snow.

Our comments would be incomplete with out a brief word on the gowns, worn by wives, sweethearts and stylist themselves.

Long, short, inbetween, ruffles and velvet, greek toga's and the now fashionable evening pant suit - all glowing with shiny braid & jewels.

Needless to say. The Gentlemen were not outdone either with their Nehru suits and the other well known mod styles worn by better dressed gentlemen today.

Truly one must say we have not seen in a long time, a better gowned or coiffed group. Our eye soon told us, that proper make up by artists can't be out done, and is so necessary for the new total look, daytime or evening.

Blood Donors Have Special Holiday "Gift"

A plea to St. Paul area residents to put blood donations high on Christmas gift lists comes this week from the American Red Cross.

Franklin E. Truax, chairman of the St. Paul chapter, said that illness and accidents increase sharply during the holidays.

"The need for blood is critical in all hospitals at this time of year when people are busy and blood donations slump. We are asking regular donors and first-timers to make a special effort to come to the Red Cross blood center at 413 Auditorium St."

Because there are no collections on Christmas day, the blood center will be open from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Tuesday. Galton club members, who have given one to 15 gallons, will start their annual donation on Thursday and Friday, continuing the week of New Year's day.

Donors are urged to call the Red Cross to make appointments in advance of coming in to give blood.

new year to

Pipers to Have 'Ball Night' December 27

The Minnesota Pipers will have a "Ball Night" Dec. 27 at Metropolitan Sports Center, and kids attending the game will have a ball.

General Manager, Vern Mikkelsen of the Pipers said red-white-and-blue basketballs will be given away to children attending the Piper-Kentucky game scheduled at 8:05 p.m.

Mikkelsen said each student 15-years old and under, accompanied by an adult and sitting in a reserved seat, will receive free a regular size basketball similar to the red-white-and-blue ball Thursday, December 19, 1968 used in the American Basketball Association.

The balls will be given away to fans with reserved seats as they enter the gates at Metropolitan Sports Center.

The Pipers will have hundreds of basketballs at the Met for the occasion.

Meanwhile, the Pipers are leading the American Basketball Association Eastern Division with a 15-5 record. And Connie Hawkins is battling with Oakland's Rick Barry for the ABA scoring lead, both with averages over 34 points per game.

VA Flight Training Program

Veterans in Minnesota taking flight training under the GI Bill will get Veterans Administration payments on a monthly basis starting in January 1969.

Payments have been made quarterly in the past, but the long period between payments often caused a hardship for both the trainee and flight school operator, according to John R. Murphy, Manager, VA Center, St. Paul.

The new payment system was authorized by a law signed by President Johnson last month. Murphy said the system of monthly payments is in line with most other payments for GI training. Veterans attending college on a full-time basis, for example, receive monthly payments of $130 per month if unmarried; more if they have dependents.

Those in flight training are reimbursed at the rate of 90 per cent of the cost of their flight training, but for each $130 paid, their eligibility for educational benefits is charged one month. The $130 rate applies regardless of marital status.

St. Thomas Professor Writes Book

Mr. Joseph P. O'Brien, Ph.D., instructor in English in English at Saint Thomas Academy, has published a book of his poetry A Bushful of Birds.

Mr. O'Brien has taught English at Saint Thomas for 24 years. Prior to coming to the Academy, he taught for 4 years at Mt. Lowe Military Academy in Altadena, California. He was graduated summa cum laude from Notre Dame in 1937.

Aside from his avocation of writing, Mr. O'Brien has many hobbies: hunting, fishing, painting and sports. His varied interests are readily discernable in the selections in his book of poetry. The cover design was done by the Rev. Thomas Kolar of the Academy Art Department, and the introduction was written by a longtime friend and co-worker George E. Langeland of the English Department. He is a member of the National Poetry Society and National Council of Teachers of English. He and his wife Victoria have seven children and reside at 1830 Dayton Avenue, St. Paul.

or number of dependents, he said.

An eligible veteran may take an approved course of flight training under the VA's educational assistance program if such training is considered necessary to attain a recognized vocational objective in the field of aviation.

Murphy said the veteran must first possess a valid private pilot's license or have satisfactorily completed the number of hours of flight training instruction required for a private pilot's license. Also he must meet the medical requirements necessary for a commercial pilot's license, he said.

HUMOR
POLITICS
OPINIONS

It is apparent that proposed cutbacks in recreational facilities, library hours, and other city services are born more of necessity than any scheme to scare the voters into granting taxing authority the city needs to maintain current levels of operation. True, the case for tax authority this November, for the Charter a year ago, have been impotent and ill-advised in their approach to the basic physical and psychological needs of the constituents, and it could even be argued that the City Fathers are caught in the plight of the boy who cried "wolf" too often. However, it is increasingly evident that Joe Mitchell has nothing but feathers left in his mattress, and that the citizens are about to feel some of the pains of austerity rather quickly and acutely. In the case of closing down playgrounds on weekends, and libraries on Saturdays, we would take issue with the scheduling, and strongly urge that libraries be closed on Mondays and that playgrounds be closed on Mondays and Tuesdays.

On the latter there are several schemes afoot to bridge the closing entirely. In Highland Village, for example, efforts are already underway between Lloyd Robinson, Highland Civic Association President and Frank Boudewyns, active Little League President and youth leader, to provide the four to five hundred dollars it would cost to keep Hillcrest Playgrounds open for the Winter season.

John Daubney, ex-mayor, lawyer and Ramsey County Board member is trying to free $40,000 of County funds which were earmarked for land acquisitions (none of which are being made or under consideration this budget year) and place them in an underwriting position for the Parks & Playgrounds Commissioner Victor Tedesco. We heartily concur with John's thinking on the subject: "Since most of the County's money comes from the City, we should, wherever possible, help them out when we have the funds to do so." Regarding the library, Saturday is a prime day for youngsters to use the library. Most elementary and secondary schools in the city have their own libraries, which youngsters can use for class related assignments, but the public library is used for recreational reading, or for the college or general public reference use, and it would be a very large inconvenience if it were closed on the one day most people have time to use it.

Generally, we can expect citizens to be alarmed—even up in arms—if and when cutbacks occur. The politics of the financial crisis the city faces make solutions extremely difficult. Senior Citizens (the ones that hollar the loudest about rampant youth on the streets) are the major voting bloc against tax reforms in the city. In St. Paul, they comprise an estimated 30-35% of the registered voters. While it is inconceivable that existing City Services can survive even the inflation of rising materials and labor costs, it is the more frustrating that the city government unit, as we know it, cannot apparently survive its constituents travesty on logic—namely, that a class A city can continue on a budgetary plane, while its physical problems, the economics of the state and the nation, and the new increments of social disorder and public welfare accelerate annually. We have said many times in the past, that it is time for the citizens of St. Paul to either fish or cut bait on what kind of a city they want. If they want the typical American urban conglomeration, they are, by their apathy, headed directly for it: a core industrial, retail service center surrounded by a three mile belt of senior citizens housing, welfare oriented neighborhoods, slums and socially disorganized blight, with bad schools, bad streets, poor lighting, and the corrosion of law and order that is bred by all of the above. We have purposely placed Senior Citizens at the center of our discussion here, and for a reason.

They are our best citizens perhaps. They built St. Paul. In many ways they have a greater stake in what happens than do young people who can move out to the suburbs, or further, and start new lives. Yet, senior citizens increasingly deter progress in the City with their vote. Nobody, least of all the local newspaper, has ever recognized their political importance to the city. They are rigidly aligned against any and all benefits to people other than themselves—education, general improvements, capital investment, industrial development and a score of progressive programs that city government must be engaged in today if a city is to have the vitality to survive the handicap of being big and cumbersome and alive with the potential for physical and psychological disease and breakdown.

We criticized the Charter Proposals two years ago, because they were sophomoric and politically naive. Mrs. Butler received the political bonus delivered by the hard core senior citizen and fixed income voters of St. Paul. We criticized the recent "tax ask" because it was negative, and from the small amount spent on promotion even its negative appeal (an estimated $10,000) it was hardly anything but a boy sent to do a man's job.

We have criticized the Mayor for allowing a tax, tax, tax image to haunt not only himself but his administration, and even further, City Government as an institution. It is evident that the voters in St. Paul have never been truly solicited for their support in a constructive way, and here, the enus falls squarely on the shoulders of the politicians. This is a partisan problem, for there is nothing recorded in the annals of recent times that would indicate that the Republicans are in serious danger of being any more creative in their approach to urban government than the Democrats.

Therefore, we strongly urge the Mayor and all city government officials to contemplate a program of public information and education of a magnitude which will communicate rather than confuse the senior citizen and fixed income voter of St. Paul. I would suggest a blue-ribbon bipartisan committee, and a neighborhood oriented task force to inform and sell better government to the voters. If as many people were engaged in this kind of activity as are engaged in the mid-Winter Carnival romp, you'd have your majority vote by Spring boys!

Thursday, December 19, 1968

St. Paul, because of its size (relatively manageable) and because of its high order of social, ethnic and religious fabric, has great potential for building a model pyramid of well-organized, efficient government—government for all people, for black, white, business, labor, young and old. But, somebody has to tell somebody about it!

Mentally Retarded Annual Gift Drive Sponsored by St. Paul and Mpls. Units

The St. Paul Association for Retarded Children has reappointed Mrs. Stuart Snyder, 818 Goodrich Avenue, as chairman of the annual Christmas for the Mentally Retarded Campaign to gather gifts for retarded men, women and children living in institutions, local residential facilities, and homes who might otherwise receive no gifts during the Christmas season.

SPARC is cooperating with the Minneapolis ARC and all the chapters of the Future Farmers of Minnesota to cover the entire 87 counties of Minnesota with the campaign.

The greatest need is for clothing and gifts for men and women. Especially appreciated are clothing, belts, shampoo, shaving toiletries, cosmetics, ear muffs, key chains, wallets and purses, inexpensive wrist watches, playing cards, table games, gloves and mittens, ball point pens, stationery, and other everyday items.

For children SPARC needs building blocks, pull toys, rhythm band instruments, clothing, large stuffed animals, squeak toys, doll buggies, tricycles, rubber balls, handicraft materials, sewing kits, and games. Mrs. Snyder especially needs white figure skates, sizes 3½ and 4½, boys hockey skates, sizes 3, 5½ and 13, and sleds of all sizes.

The ten Red Owl stores, the Northwestern National Bank of St. Paul, and the 1st Grand Avenue Bank of St. Paul have agreed to act as collection centers for the gifts. Each establishment has placed a large barrel with a Christmas for the Mentally Retarded Collection Center sign attached where gifts may be deposited. SPARC volunteers will pick up the gifts several times a week and get them to the Snyder residence for distribution.

Gifts should be new or unused and should not be gift wrapped. Volunteers will select gifts to fit the needs of the individual recipients and then gift wrap them.

Donations of money are also welcomed and will be used to purchase playground equipment, TV sets, radios, phonographs and other badly needed large items as well as to purchase special needed items that have not come in the barrel collections. Checks made out to "Christmas for the Mentally Retarded" can be sent to Post Office Box 1868, Minneapolis or St. Paul, or to WCCO Radio, in care of either city.

Howard Viken, WCCO Radio personality, is once again acting as the "voice" of the Christmas for the Mentally Retarded Campaign which will run through December 21st.

Mrs. Snyder has appealed for donations of gifts or money to be made at the earliest possible time in order to allow time for them to get to the recipients in time for Christmas.

Christmas Opera

"Amahl and the Night Visitors," Christmas Opera by Gian-Carlo Menotti, will have its final five performances this weekend.

Allen Lorensen's colorful staging will play 7:30 p.m. Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, with matinees at 2 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

For reservations and tickets call the theatre office 226-0625.

Osman Auxiliary

Mrs. J. L. Mittelstadt was installed recently as the 1969 Chairman for The Osman Women's Auxiliary to the Shriner's Hospital. Other officers installed are: Mrs. C. H. Bunch, first V. P.; Mrs. Lawrence Mortenson, second V. P.; Mrs. Earl Holcomb, third V. P. (Honorary); Mrs. Kenneth Brindley, recording secretary; Mrs. Guy Grove, correspondence secretary and Mrs. Lloyd Fisher, treasurer.

Cleveland Ave. Mess?

We have received complaints that Cleveland Avenue from Randolph to St. Leo's Catholic Church is strewn with litter most of the time. This is true—and a spot check yesterday showed that Ford Parkway from the top of the hill to the bridge is generally littered — but then, we must remember that it is not an election year. If you might agree with us, write a letter to your favorite Councilman (if you have one). They know what to do with litter on 4th & Wabasha—throw it in the litter basket!
