Your Weekly Guide to TV Entertainment For the week of July 21 - 27, 2018 Shaun Evans stars in 'Endeavour'

Back on the case

British crime drama "Endeavour" returns to PBS with a new episode on Sunday, July 22. Author Norman Colin Dexter's beloved characters clean up the streets of 1960s Oxford as Det. Sgt. Morse continues to investigate an assassination attempt after the probe is unexpectedly cut short and DCI Fred Thursday, his partner in solving crime, looks into a related case. Not the first adaptation of Dexter's novels, "Endeavour" is the prequel to long-running detective drama "Inspector Morse."

iterary detectives are right at home in PBS's "Master-■piece," especially the British ones. British crime drama "Endeavour" returns to PBS with a new episode on Sunday, July 22. The series follows the most recent television incarnation of Endeavour Morse, a detective popularized by author Norman Colin Dexter's Inspector Morse novels. Sunday's episode sees Det. Sqt. Morse, portrayed by actor Shaun Evans ("The Last Weekend"), continue to investigate an assassination attempt in Oxford after his probe is unexpectedly cut short, while his partner Fred Thursday (Roger Allam, "V for Vendetta," 2005) looks into a related case.

"Endeavour" is not the first TV adaptation of Dexter's famous detective, though it is chronologically the first. Set in the 1960s. "Endeavour" is a preguel to the long-running detective drama, "Inspector Morse" which ran on British television from 1987 to 1993 and continued airing specials until 2000. A spinoff of "Inspector Morse," called "Lewis," was created in 2006 and centered on Robert Lewis (Kevin Whately, "The English Patient," 1996), Morse's sergeant from the original show. The current series has seen Morse begin as a young, disillusioned constable about to quit the force until he is taken under the wing of veteran Det. Thursday, who sees his potential. Under his tutelage, Morse thrives as he successfully investigates the crimes of Oxford and eventually becomes a sergeant after a long road toward passing his exams.

Evans certainly can relate to his character's rise through the ranks as he quickly found success as an actor once he put his mind to the task. He began appearing on stage and in film after making the decision to act at a young age, telling Express Sunday, "I just thought, 'I think I will do that.' That's why I feel quite lucky that it's always been quite clear to me what I should do." One of Evans' first roles was in the comedy series "Teachers," which was also one of the first roles for current "The Late Late Show" host James Corden. The two both later starred in the biopic "Telstar: The Joe Meek Story" in 2008.

Evans has spent more than 15 years stacking his filmography with varied roles in British television, like those in miniseries "The Take," legal drama "Silk" and TV movie "The Scandalous Lady W," making him a natural choice to take over such an iconic role as Morse in "Endeavour."

Evans is not the only "Endeavour" actor bringing a wealth of screen and stage experience to his performance in the show. Allam is one of those British actors that you've seemingly seen in everything. He has appeared in episodes of notable crime dramas "Midsomer Murders," "Waking the Dead" and "Foyle's War" as well as on film in movies such as "Pirates of the Caribbean: On Stranger Tides" (2011) and "The Lady in the Van" (2015). He notably portrayed Illyrio Mopatis in "Game of Thrones," and in a timebending appearance, he played character Denis Cornford in an episode of "Inspector Morse."

The long list of memorable film credits attributed to him is something of a new development in his career as Allam began his screen work rather late. Not initially predisposed to building a career on screen, he told the Irish Times, "I had to make a conscious decision to do more on screen ... I never thought it was something I could actually do because it wasn't obvious to me how it was made." Allam began his acting career in a feminist theater troupe in the 1970s before spending a decade with the Royal Shakespeare Company. Though proud of his film and television work, Allam admitted to The Guardian that his greatest achievement was performing as Falstaff in the 2010 production of "Henry IV" at Shakespeare's Globe in London.

Credit for the success of "Endeavour" is not solely due to its performances, compelling though they are. Screenwriter Russell Lewis has written every single episode of the series since its debut. Though now a prolific television writer, Lewis began his career as a child actor performing in films and on stage in a 1972 production of "Young Winston" directed by Richard Attenborough. Lewis gave up acting to pursue music before joining fringe theater to begin his writing of "Agatha Christie's Marple." As proof of the series' popularity, the current fifth season has expanded to six episodes from the four that previous seasons had, an expansion that's meant many sleepless nights for the man helming the script. The pace apparently not only works for Lewis but for viewers as well, as the popularity of "Endeavour" has already secured a sixth sea-

Cooking, country style: Cheese is king in 'Trisha's Southern Kitchen'

By Andrew WarrenTV Madia

ho doesn't love cheese? It's just such a rich, flavorful food with so many varieties to enjoy, whether it's made from the milk of a cow, goat or sheep — or maybe even something more exotic. Even the vegan alternatives are tasty; trust me — give them a try!

Trisha Yearwood, I think, would agree that cheese is one of the greatest foods out there. The country music superstar is as skillful in the kitchen as she is in a recording studio, and her Emmywinning Food Network series "Trisha's Southern Kitchen" kicked off its latest season last week and currently airs Saturday mornings.

This week's episode is all about cheesy goodness. Trisha spends a day with her friend, and together they visit their local cheese shop, where the duo picks out a stunning variety of the good stuff. Once they're back in Trisha's kitchen, the magic begins as they transform the cheeses into some absolutely stunning dishes.

So what's on the menu? Well, there's a classic French onion soup with an eye-opening amount of cheese melted on top that's served with a mouth-watering goat cheese fondue and roast beef with Camembert paninis with arugula aioli. Cheese isn't just for appetizers and entrees, either, and the two friends make sure that cheese stars in the dessert course, too, with a stunning cheesy apple skillet pie.

"Trisha's Southern Kitchen," which won a Daytime Emmy in 2013 for Outstanding Culinary Program, features the country music legend inviting viewers into her own kitchen so that she can share her love of southern-inspired cooking. In last week's season premiere, she had her band over before a concert for homemade snacks that included orange barbecue steak kabobs, cornbread and chili bites and a charred lemon ricotta dip.

It's that genuine, down-toearth feel that makes the show what it is; Trisha Yearwood may be a bestselling country artist who's sold more than 15 million albums, but she still loves nothing more than cooking up her favorite dishes for family and friends. "Trisha's Southern Kitchen" airs Saturdays on Food Network.

Q: Have "Zoo" and "The Last Ship" been canceled?

A: Yes and ... sort of. It's all bad news for "Zoo," which got the axe last fall after three increasingly unsuccessful seasons on

The bad news for "The Last Ship" is that TNT canceled it in May, but the good news is it still has an entire season in the hopper that the cable channel will air later this year.

The upcoming final season of "The Last Ship" will be its fifth, which is a pretty respectable run for any TV show. And the producers and cast seem to have been told ahead of time that it would be canceled. which is a bit of extra good news for

I say they "seem" to have been told because when shooting finished on the fifth season last fall (months before the cancellation announcement), series co-star Travis Van Winkle posted on Instagram that it was a "series wrap." The producers made him take down the post shortly afterward.

The reason this is good news is because it means the show won't end in a cliffhanger — season 5 will finally provide some resolution to the sci-fi plot of a mysterious plague wiping out humanity. There's a little less intrigue about the end of "Zoo." The show started strong in the ratings (well, as strong as a summer show can be - they never do as well as fall and winter shows), but it dropped prettv steadily from there. And it was pretty expensive to make — networks rarely do scripted shows over the summer because they're pricier than reality TV shows and, again, they're competing for smaller audiences.

There's even a tiny bit of good news here, though: one of the reasons CBS went ahead on an expensive show in the summer is because it cut a deal with Netflix ahead of time to allow the streaming service to offer each season shortly after it aired on CBS. That means what there is of "Zoo" can still be found online. And its offthe-wall plot about animals going mad makes it pretty rewatchable.

been doing since "Burn Notice"?

A: Playing Kennedys, mostly. Perhaps it's natural for a handsome guy from Massachusetts, but Jeffrey Donovan has the odd distinction of having played both John F. Kennedy and his brother Robert in major films.

He played Bobby in the highprofile 2011 film "J. Edgar," a biography of the legendarily powerful FBI head, directed by the equally legendary Clint Eastwood.

Five years later, another great director, Rob Reiner, was making the biopic "LBJ." and he turned

Q: What has Jeffrey Donovan again to Donovan and his eternally babyish face, this time to play

> Of course, it hasn't just been Kennedys since Donovan's show "Burn Notice" ended in 2013. He took another crack at series television in 2016 with "Shut Eye," an oddball crime drama that only lasted a season on the online Hulu channel. He also did an arc in the critically acclaimed cable drama "Fargo."
