ABOUT THIS GUIDE

The Essex-Hunterdon-Morris-Somerset area served by The New Jersey Hills Media Group is a diversified area inhabited by high-level corporate executives, middle management, and trade and service employees in all fields. Schools are ranked with some of the best in the state and cultural offerings are plentiful.

The coverage area shares borders with Warren, Sussex, Passaic, Middlesex and Union counties.

Residents can enjoy music, art, theater and other endeavors as spectators or participants. Recreation opportunities abound with many playing fields, bikeways and other sites for the active. Scenic parks beautify the area for the passive. Community service clubs and other organizations are plentiful, forming the lifeblood of our communities.

Our Town is a guide for both the newcomer to the area and the longtime resident. In it you will find brief histories of our communities, listings of service clubs and organizations, health care facilities, schools, places of worship, libraries and the key people to contact for any of those organizations.

You will also find listings of the key players in municipal government. Not sure of the name of the president of the local Board of Education? You can find it in this book. Want to contact the chair of the Planning Board? You can find it here.

The map at the top of this page shows the entire area covered by the New Jersey Hills Media Group, the name of each newspaper and the area it covers.

Browse through Our Town, keep it on the kitchen counter, the table next to the recliner, the magazine rack in the family room. Refer to it often.

CHESTER BOROUGH

The borough, renowned for shopping, schools, restaurants and cultural opportunities, is located in southwestern Morris County and is completely surrounded by Chester Township like the hole in a doughnut.

Incorporated in 1930, the borough enjoys a flourishing commercial area with modern shopping centers along Route 206 and a quaint historical district filled with upscale boutiques and shops, although most of the land area of its 1.59 square miles is devoted to single-family housing.

Historic Chester, along Main Street (Route 24), was known as "Black River" in the early 1700s. The area, at the time, was rich with farming, mining, milling and inn-keeping until iron ore brought prosperity to the area in the latter half of the 1800s. The majority of the buildings erected along Main Street during this boom period were used as shops by local merchants; many continue today in the same capacity, although there was a major change in the 1990s, as the town evolved from a well-known antique center to a more diversified shopping area offering a selection of specialty stores.

One special use of an historical building is the Black River Playhouse on the corner of Grove Street and Maple Avenue (down the street from the fire station). This 104-seat theater-in-the-round is in a 140-year-old building that once served as a community church and Chester Borough Hall, but now hosts quality productions.

The Historic Chester Business Association sponsors numerous events throughout the year (see www.ilovechester.com), including one of the largest craft shows in the Northeast, usually held the second weekend in September. These events and those of surrounding farms (including one of the most complex corn mazes every fall at Stony Hill Farm), parks and scenery draw people from points far and wide.

Chester Borough and Chester Township share a grades K-8 school district, public library, police department, first aid squad, fire department, community pool, athletic programs, and many civic organizations. High school students attend the highly regarded

CHESTER TOWNSHIP

The 30 square miles that make up Chester Township completely surround Chester Borough and the township itself is surrounded by Mendham Township, Randolph, Mount Olive, Washington Township and the border of Bedminster Township and Peapack-Gladstone in Somerset County.

According to the 2020 U.S. Census, Chester Township has a population of 7,709.

While Chester Township boasts many modern homes on sprawling lots, historic buildings from the 1700-1800s still are found in abundance, giving the community an historic country ambiance.

Once known as Black River in the early 1700s at a time of active farming, the area enjoyed an iron ore boom period in the late 1800s.

Mining subsequently declined and the area returned to farming as the primary business of the area. Farm stands and "pick-your-own" fields continue to operate in the Chester area.

The township has been aggressive in farmland and open space preservation. In addition, much of the town is in the Highlands preservation area, aimed at maintaining a clean water supply. This also serves to thwart development and maintains Chester's rural atmosphere.

Much of the parkland in Chester Township follows the Black River from the Wildlife Management Area on the east side of the town southward past Cooper Mill in the Milltown section into Black River County Park and Hacklebarney State Park.

Chester Township residents use routes 206 and 24 when commuting and as access to interstate highways, employment centers and local shopping.

Even though the two Chesters separated in the 1930s over a dispute over construction of a public water supply, they still share a public library, police department, first aid squad, fire department, community pool, athletic programs, civic organizations and a grades K-8 school system.

High school students attend the highly regarded West Morris Mendham High School, which has one of the few International Baccalaureate programs in the state.

Chester is governed by a five-member Township Council headed by a separately elected mayor, all of whom serve three-year terms. They meet at 7 p.m. the first and third Tuesdays of the month in the municipal building on Parker Road.

HARDING TOWNSHIP

Named after President Warren G. Harding, this quiet enclave of roughly 3,868 residents is best known for its rural rolling landscape and affluent population. Harding boasts one of the highest per capita family incomes in the country at a median of $141,197.

While in eastern Morris County, close to New York City and surrounded by upscale suburban towns, shopping centers and major highways, Harding Township itself literally has no downtown.

There is only a very small commercial area long Mount Kemble Avenue (Route 202) and a dabbling of local businesses in Green Village and New Vernon.

The desire to preserve Harding's rural character was evident even in 1928 when an unusual private land preservation effort began with the New Vernon Neighborhood Restrictive Agreement. Several estate owners convinced many others voluntarily to place a restrictive covenant on their land to limit development and save the pastoral qualities of more than 1,000 acres.

These efforts influenced subsequent zoning codes and the town's strong notions of the landscape value. In the late 1960s, Harding and other nearby communities gained national attention for defeating a proposal to build an airport in what is now known as the Great Swamp National Wildlife Refuge.

Forty percent of this 20-square-mile township is now protected open space and includes large portions of the Great Swamp National Wildlife Refuge and Morristown National Historical Park (Jockey Hollow).

Harding is surrounded by Long Hill Township and Chatham Township to the east, Morris Township to the north, Mendham Township on the west and Somerset County to the south.

Harding is governed by a voter-elected five-member Township Committee which elects one of its members to serve as mayor for the year.

The committee meets at 7 p.m. the third Monday of each month at Kirby Hall Municipal

MENDHAM BOROUGH

Common lore states that Mendham's name is derived from a local Revolutionary-era seamstress who could "men 'em" for the soldiers, although another (probably more reliable) account says the name was given by Ebenezer Byram in 1745.

In 1906, Mendham Borough separated from Mendham Township because the Borough needed a gravity based water system to fight fires. The gravity flow system allowed water to stretch one mile in four directions from the intersection of Main and Hilltop roads.

The borough of slightly less than 5,000 residents is known for its quality schools and small-town sense of community. The historic center of town is at the crossroads of Route 24 and Mountain Ave./Hilltop Road where the landmark Phoenix House and Black Horse Tavern still stand. The town has a variety of shopping options including a boutique clothing shop, coffee shops, chocolate shops, gift stores, as well as salons, a dance studio, a yoga studio, realtors and banks.

The Mendham Village Shopping Center is on the eastern end of Main Street toward Morristown and has multiple dining experiences, groceries, a florist, a jewelry store, a book store and more.

Mendham Township surrounds the borough on three sides like a horseshoe and Bernardsville is its neighbor to the south. Only 35 miles from New York City, the Mendhams do not have any direct access to a major highway, which has helped it avoid overdevelopment over the years and maintains its genteel atmosphere.

Annual civic events include the Labor Day weekend celebration sponsored by The Pastime Club that features a carnival, child-friendly games and contests, band concert, small-town Main Street parade and evening fireworks.

The Mendham Fall Fest is another crowd favorite with food trucks, kids' bouncy house, vendors and live music.

The children of Mendham Borough attend their own elementary and middle schools, then join Mendham Township and the Chesters at the highly rated West Morris Mendham High School, which boasts one of the few International Baccalaureate programs in the state.

The borough is governed by a voter-elected Mayor and six council members, two of which

The Mayor can veto ordinances and appoint subordinate officials, ad hoc committees and certain officials to boards, committees and commissions.

The council confirms the Mayor's appointments and can override a veto by a two-thirds majority of members.

Meetings are held the 2nd Wednesday and 4th Monday of each month at 8 p.m. in the Garbrant Center, 4 Wilson St.

MENDHAM TOWNSHIP

Within the 17.8-square-mile horseshoe-shaped township are large, sprawling residential properties and the historical districts of Ralston and Brookside. Mendham Township maintains its rural atmosphere with large-lot zoning and preservation of parkland. According to the township, the median value of a single-family home is $470,000.

Except for Sammy's restaurant on Route 24, an established, family-owned eatery in a white house with no sign, and one small artist studio next to the historic Brookside Post Office, the township does not contain any commercial zoning.

Mendham Township has much to offer for its roughly 6,006 residents from the Brookside Community Club, a frequently used community center, to its annual Fourth of July Parade, fishing derbies and Brookside Beach, a pond next to the elementary school that is open for swimming during the summer and skating in the winter.

Much of the community's charm has to do with its unique isolation from major highways yet still managing to be just an hour from New York City. The township surrounds three sides of Mendham Borough, has Bernardsville and Harding as neighbors to the south, Chester to the west, Randolph on the north and Morris Township to the east.

In addition to Patriots Path, which meanders through town, other public parks include Buttermilk Farms in the northwest corner of town which is a natural area for hiking and cross-country skiing; Dismal Harmony Natural Area in the Ralston section of town for horseback riding and long walks; and the Schiff Nature Preserve in the southwest for passive recreation and educational programs for adults and children.

Built in 1785, the Ralston General Store on Route 24 served as the center of community life at the time. Open on Sundays and holidays, it is the oldest post office building in the country and houses 18th century memorabilia maintained by the Ralston Historical Association.

The Fourth of July Parade and Festival is an annual event in the Brookside section of town. The Main Street parade includes civic leaders, local float entries, bands, fire trucks, antique vehicles, clowns and occasionally, farm animals.

The parade route ends at the Brookside Community Center where families can participate in games and contests or buy a hot dog or hamburger at the Rotary Club food booth. Other local events include a clambake and pan-

MORRIS COUNTY: A RICH HISTORY

Centrally located in the Highlands region in northern New Jersey, Morris County blends natural landscapes, a history spanning the Colonial era though the technological breakthroughs of the 20th and 21st Centuries, with charming communities and impressive corporate campuses.

Situated about 30 miles from New York City, Forbes Magazine described Morris County as "... a suburb of the New York area which reaps the benefits of the big city's financial industry." Forbes also rated Morris as one of the top 10 wealthiest counties in the country. Between 2015 and 2019, Money Magazine selected several communities in Morris County as being among "The Best Places to Live."

Morris County was incorporated on March 15, 1738/1739, from portions of Hunterdon County. The inconsistency in the year relates to the Old Style (OS) and New Style (NS) calendars being used during the colonial period. Morris County was named in honor of the first Governor of the Province of New Jersey Lewis Morris (1671-1746).

Within its 469 square miles of land area, the county contains 39 municipalities with a 2024 population from the U.S. Census Bureau estimated to be around 517,627, making it New Jersey's 9th most populous county of the state's 21 counties. At its most distant points, the county stretches 30 miles from east to west and 30 miles from north to south.

Roads, bus and rail service link the 39 municipalities in the county to the metropolitan region. Two public airports, the Morristown Municipal Airport and the Lincoln Park Airport, are located in Morris County.

There are also an additional 12 FAA certified private corporate heliports and airports, one military heliport at Picatinny Arsenal and one medical helipad at Morristown Medical Center in Morristown. Three major airports, Newark Liberty International, John F. Kennedy and LaGuardia International Airport, are accessible by highway, train, and bus lines.

The area's civilian work force exceeds 275,500 as of 2023. The U.S. Census American Community Survey for 2023 shows total adult population in Morris County with a bachelor's degree or higher is 57.1 percent. More than 50 Fortune 500 companies have their headquarters or major operations in Morris County.

Morris County is rich in history and home to more than 150 historic sites listed on New Jersey's Register of Historic Places, with most also being included on the National Register of Historic Places. Four of these sites – Morristown National Historical Park, Historic Speedwell, Stickley Museum at Craftsman Farms, and Villa Fontana, home of Thomas Nast – have been designated as National Historic Landmarks by the Secretary of the Interior.

Strategic Location

During the Revolutionary War, Morristown's strategic location between New York City and Philadelphia prompted General George Washington and the Continental Army to make their winter encampments in Morristown in 1776-1777 and 1779-1780. Washington used Colonel Jacob Ford Jr.'s mansion as his headquarters during this time. The mansion is the centerpiece of the Morristown National Historical Park, the first national historical park in the country.

It also was in Morris County, at what is now Historic Speedwell in Morristown, where Alfred Vail and Samuel F.B. Morse perfected and first publicly demonstrated the electro-magnetic telegraph in 1838. Vail's distant cousin, Theodore Vail was educated in Morristown and served as the first president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company (AT&T).

Noted statewide for its recreational facilities and preservation of natural landscape, the Morris County Park System (www.morris- www.morris-parks.net) is the largest county park system in New Jersey based on acreage.

The park system attracts about 4.4 million visitors annually, and holds and supervises 20,455 acres of parkland, 253 trail miles and 38 recreational, historical, horticultural and environmental facilities. These include the Patriots Path hiking trail network, active and passive recreation fields, four award-winning golf courses, picnic sites, gardens, camping, cross-country skiing, and lakes. Some notable locations in the county park system include, Fosterfields Living History Farm, the Frelinghuysen and Willowood Arboretums, Mennen Sports Arena, Central Park of Morris County, Historic Speedwell Village, and Lee's County Park Marina on Lake Hopatcong.

Education

Education in Morris County commands a leading role, with outstanding public and private elementary, secondary and higher educational facilities. The Morris County Vocational School District offers high school students and adult learner's vocational education and training through the Morris County School of Technology. The School of Technology offers both shared and full-time programs for the county's high school students and continuing education programs for adults.

Fairleigh Dickinson University's Florham Campus in Madison, the College of St. Elizabeth in Morris Township and Drew University in Madison, and the two-year County College of Morris (CCM) in Randolph, provide easy access to higher education.

While the seven-member Board of County Commissioners oversees and approves activities relating to the business of running the county, the county administrator supervises day-to-day operations of the many departments of county government.

The county administration building is located at 10 Court Street in Morristown. The phone number is (973) 285-6010 or visit morriscountynj.gov. Most regular public meetings are conducted at 7 p.m. on the 2nd Wednesday of the month, excluding holidays.

WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP

At 45 square miles, Washington Township is one of Morris County's largest municipalities and is located in the county's most westerly edge. Although the community technically is composed of several neighborhoods with names such as Schooley's Mountain, Naughtright and Pleasant Grove, most people refer to the area collectively as Long Valley.

Known for hundreds of years as German Valley for the original German Protestants who settled the area, the name was changed during World War I, a time of anti-German sentiment which residents feared would be directed against them.

Although there has been much growth in town in recent years, mostly of upscale residential homes, the town still is characterized as rural with many working farms, as well as "pick-your-own" farms that attract day-trippers from out of town.

The section of town known as Schooley's Mountain was probably America's earliest summer resort and spa. The pure mountain air, romantic surroundings, and mineral spring, which in 1815 was declared to be the purest and best chalybeate water in the country, attracted people to the area who came to drink and bathe in the waters which were believed to heal all types of disorders. The Lenape Indians, of course, long had known about the waters which drew healing powers from the iron deposits in the nearby mountains.

Recreation is an important aspect of life in Washington Township, which enjoys easy access to a number of township, county, and state recreation facilities. Running though town on the south side of town and into Hunterdon County is one of the state's best native trout-fishing rivers, the South Branch of the Raritan River.

Washington Township has its own grades K-8 school district. Children now attend one of the three elementary schools before progressing to Long Valley Middle School, then West Morris Central High School, a highly rated school with one of the few International Baccalaureate programs in the state.

The township is governed by a five-member elected Township Committee, which meets at 7 p.m. the third Monday of every month in the municipal building on Schooley's Mountain Road.

The mayor is selected annually by his or her peers on the Township Committee.

Come see how EASY it is to shop for a mattress.

*We offer an exclusive collection of ORGANIC AND CHEMICAL FREE mattresses and accessories, as well as traditional brands such as Sealy, Stearns & Foster, and Beautyrest, to name a few. We have something for everyone at all prices.
...a truly ONE OF A KIND store!*

Over 30 Years Family Experience.
Once a Customer, Always a Customer.
Education is our top priority.

Platform Beds, Headboards,
Adjustable Bases, Toppers, Pillows, Sheets, & Organic Crib Mattresses.

If you are looking for high quality, HEALTHY mattresses and bedding all from an incredibly well-run, caring LOCAL business, look no further. Pam (the owner) and her team are knowledgeable, responsive, kind and price things fairly to boot. After trying for months to cobble together healthy options for mattresses and bedding for our new home, a friend told us about Hibernature Bedding — "just call Pammy," she said. We did and couldn't be more thrilled. In an age of online customer service Hell, Hibernature Bedding is an incredible breath of fresh air. A local brick-and-mortar retailer where you can try before you buy, get great advice and have a great person to work with who stands behind everything they recommend and sell. Bravo!

FAR HILLS COUNTRY DAY SCHOOL

A Preschool through Grade 8 Independent School

We offer a seamless educational experience fostering academic and personal growth. Students form a tight-knit community, challenging each other to think independently and achieve confidently. Small class sizes and a robust curriculum encourage critical thinking, creativity, and leadership. Beyond the classroom, students engage in diverse extracurricular activities and service opportunities, preparing for success in an interconnected world.
