BOTTLE HILL DAY TO FEATURE LIVE MUSIC WITH A LOCAL FLAIR

Madison's annual Bottle Hill Day (BHD) street festival will return to town on Saturday, Oct. 7. The event, sponsored by the Madison Downtown Development Commission, will feature live, family-friendly music all day on four stages across the business district beginning at 10 a.m.

"Madison is a great arts town," explained Johanna Habib, BHD entertainment committee member. "Bottle Hill Day gives residents an opportunity to enjoy a variety of musical genres and gives many of our local musicians an opportunity to showcase their talents."

The musical performances on the Allergan Stage at Hartley Dodge Memorial will include Pepperville, a Madison-based Beatles cover band that performs at 12:40 p.m., as well as two bands featuring Madison High School alumni, including Dona Ward with the acoustic version of her band, Mama D at 2 p.m., and Brian Rigby and Simon Pajaro in The Brian Rigby Band at 3:25 p.m.

Local favorite, Jumping the Gun, above, will close out Bottle Hill Day at 4:45 p.m. at the Hartley Dodge stage.

Local favorite, Jumping the Gun, will close out Bottle Hill Day, appearing at 4:45 p.m. at the Hartley Dodge stage, which will remain open until 6 p.m.

Performances on the Investors Bank Stage on Lincoln Place include Above the Moon, an indie/alternative rock band, at 1 p.m. and Sunnyside Jazz, a quintet playing jazz interpretations of the American Songbook at 2:15 p.m. Popular Madison School District faculty members Kathleen Wallace and Richard Bradshaw lead Sun-

Dodge Memorial at 11 a.m. Two Drew University student groups, 36 Madison Ave, Drew's all male a cappella ensemble and All of the Above, a co-ed a cappella ensemble, will follow.

Students of the Madison schools will be performing from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Provident Bank Stage on Elmer Street, as coordinated by Madison Music & Arts, a community advocacy and fundraising non-profit, which supports the visual and performing arts programs K-12 in the Madison schools. In addition, members of the Grace Church choirs will perform at 1 p.m. also on the Elmer Street stage. Students of the Fairleigh Dickinson University music department and Mariana Karpotova's voice studio will perform beginning at 2:45 p.m.

Many other musical groups as well as martial arts and fitness demonstrations from Madison-area studios round out the day to make Bottle Hill Day one of the most enjoyable music festivals in Morris County each year, organizers said.

All performances are free and open to the public. There is no seating at any of the stages. Performance times are subject to change.

SOUNDS AND VOICES

Madison's annual Bottle Hill Day (BHD) street festival returns to town Saturday, Oct. 7. The event, sponsored by the Madison Downtown Development Commission, will feature live, family-friendly music all day on four stages across the business district beginning at 10 a.m. Among the many performers are Above the Moon, above left, which performs at 1 p.m. on the Investors Bank Stage on Lincoln Place; The Brian Rigby Band, above right, which performs at 3:25 p.m. on the Allergan Stage at Hartley Dodge Memorial; and Jeff Webb, left, who performs at 10 a.m. on the Merck Animal Health Stage on Central Avenue.

BOBROW ORTHODONTICS

Since 1983, families have trusted their smiles to Howard B. Bobrow, DMD, PA. Our patients become part of our orthodontic family, and we provide only the highest quality care.

Our practice also recognizes that adults and children have different needs, and require a different level of attention and care. We will work with you to ensure that you receive the most appropriate treatment, and that your needs are met with understanding, respect, and full commitment from us.

The American Association of Orthodontists recommends visiting the orthodontist for the first time around age seven. We welcome your family to our practice and offer your first orthodontic screening free of charge.

THE DOWNTOWN DEVELOPMENT COMMISSION VOLUNTEERS FOR DOWNTOWN

The Downtown Development Commission (DDC) consists of 19 mayor-appointed volunteer commissioners, which represent a balanced cross section of public officials, business owners, landlords, residents and representatives from the local colleges, news media, merchants, nonprofits, seniors and corporations.

In an effort to bring people and attention to downtown Madison, the DDC coordinates several events and fundraisers, which either take place in the center of town, or raise funds that benefit downtown in the form of physical improvements to public spaces, marketing initiatives and free entertainment programs.

The DDC runs the Madison Farmers Market, located off of Main Street every Thursday from June to October. We sponsor and coordinate May Day in Madison, a day of volunteerism that recruits close to 900 people to clean up the town.

And, we throw the biggest party of the year, Bottle Hill Day, a huge street festival held on the first Saturday of October with rides, live music, food, crafts, vendors and more.

The DDC thrives on partnerships with almost every organization in Madison. We partner with other organizations, including – but not limited to – the Madison Chamber of Commerce, Madison Arts & Culture Alliance (MACA), Museum of Early Trades & Crafts (METC), Madison Music & Arts (MMA), The Rotary Club of Madison and Drew University.

In March, we host the Taste of Madison in collaboration with the Chamber of Commerce and The Rotary Club.

The DDC greatly values the collaborative relationship shared with Drew University. This has included the Prisonball Tournament, annual fireworks display, a summer Community Movie Night and the Drew Town Tour for incoming freshman students.

The DDC and the Madison Arts & Cultural Alliance (MACA) have been working together for years on favorite community programs such as the Holiday Arts Festival and Sidewalk Art Gallery.

The DDC also has a role in the area of economic development through its partnership with the Madison Area Chamber of Commerce. This includes the LOVE MADISON, SHOP MADISON campaign. Our organizations encourage everyone to support local downtown merchants. Not only do most merchants proudly display the LOVE MADISON, SHOP MADISON sign in their front windows and from this amazing partnership the “I Love Madison NJ – Madison Marketplace Newsletter” was born. The email newsletter is published twice a month and gives local entities another no-cost public relations tool, in addition to popular the I Love Madison NJ Facebook page, which has almost 5,000 followers.

Together we also produce the Madison Magazine, produced bi-annually by Town Square Publications. Look for a new edition in early summer of 2018.

In 2016-17 the DDC partnered with the Madison Borough Council on a Downtown Revitalization Study. As an outcome of this study, the DDC will be embarking on a full new Madison marketing and branding campaign this fall.

Also, just before the holidays we will introduce our latest venture, TAPintoClose. By/Madison App. This app is a turn-key marketing solution that gives a compelling digital presence to every Madison business 24/7. Funds raised through DDC events are used to enhance Madison's public spaces, parks, lots, and the Historic District. The DDC is thoroughly committed to and invested in Madison's business district.

DDC volunteers do an amazing amount of work throughout the year but the most important thing about the DDC is that it completely committed to making Madison beautiful and enjoyable.

The DDC is always looking for more volunteers and encourages you to join the fun.

For additional information, visit the DDC website at <http://www.rosenet.org/371/Downtown-Development-Commissionor>, call the DDC at (973) 593-3042 ext. 3101, or email ddc@rosenet.org.

MADISON FARMERS MARKET ENJOYS ANOTHER GREAT SEASON

The Madison Farmers Market continues to thrive on Central Avenue.

The 2017 Market has many new vendors and a great new variety of products to entice shoppers. Weekly features include the Madison Chamber of Commerce's Health/Wellness/Beauty event "Look Good Feel Good Madison." Each week features two local businesses that specialize in these fields.

The incorporation of Sidewalk Sounds into the market, with live music performances every week, has been a great addition, organizers said. In addition, many local businesses and non-profits visit the market as pop-up vendors on a weekly basis.

Vendors include Alstede Farms, Melicks Town Farm, and Vacchiano Farm, who will be selling their Jersey Fresh produce all season. Returning vendors for 2017 include Old Fashioned Kettle Korn, Pickle Licious, Paolo's Kitchen, Gourmet Nuts and Dried Fruits, Secret Garden Soap of Madison, Squeezed Fresh Lemonade, Lenny's Cocina De Abuelita, Ester's Treats, The Farmer & The Chickpea, J&J's Italian Ice, Patricia & Paul Artisans of Fine Oils & Balsamics, and Stefans': Pierogi, Stuffed Cabbage, Smoked Kielbasa.

New to the market for the 2017 season

The Madison Farmers Market continues to thrive on Central Avenue. The market runs 2 to 7 p.m. Thursdays until Oct. 26.

are: Chef Pat's Kitchen, Anthi's Greek Specialties, Naturalvert, Sweet Carol's Jams & Jellies, and Hunter's Family Farm.

The Madison Farmers Market is presented by the Downtown Development Commission (DDC) and sponsored by Drew University and Gary's Wine and Marketplace.

The market runs 2 to 7 p.m. Thursdays until Oct. 26.

MADISON AND DREW UNIVERSITY CELEBRATE A CLOSE RELATIONSHIP

Drew University, now celebrating its 150th year, will have a lot to share at Madison's Bottle Hill Day.

As in years past, the school will use the day to spread the word about its students, programs and events. More specifically, Drew students, faculty and staffers will:

- Explain how students are helping victims of Hurricanes Irma and Harvey, including raising money for grassroots relief organizations and traveling to Texas or Florida during spring break to help rebuild.

- Highlight upcoming community activism workshops from Drew's Freedom School initiative. This fall's lineup includes the Safety Pin Box Project's Leslie Mac and Paige Ingram and Liza Jessie Peterson, a playwright, poet, actress and educator.

- Publicize its Drew Forum speaker series, which runs through March and includes astrophysicist Neil de Grasse Tyson, satirist Samantha Bee, political commentator David Axelrod and former Vice President Joe Biden.

The flurry of campus activity comes as Drew experiences significant growth in enrollment – particularly among transfer and international students – and aims to make college more affordable to more students. To that end, the University is cutting tuition by 20 percent next year to $38,668, even while continuing to provide financial aid.

A big part of Drew's appeal is its location in Madison. Each fall, Madison leaders and businesses welcome new students downtown, sharing a bit of history and a lot of great food.

In addition, Madison Mayor Robert Conley is a regular at major campus events like commencement and last year's exhibition of Shakespeare's First Folio.

To recognize the close relationship between Drew and Madison and the University's sesquicentennial, the mayor will present a proclamation to Drew President MaryAnn Baenninger on Thursday, Oct. 5 — two days before Bottle Hill Day. The ceremony will take place 3:30 p.m. at the Madison Farmers Market on Central Avenue.

When a new class of freshmen arrives on campus, the DDC and Drew University collaborate to welcome students to the Madison community. Every August, DDC commissioners and other Madison residents volunteer as town tour guides leading Drew freshmen through downtown and then taking them out to one of the many fine Madison eateries.

THE MADISON CAR SHOW RETURNS OCT. 7

The Madison Area Chamber of Commerce and Madison P.B.A. 92 will host their 25th annual Madison Car Show on Saturday, Oct. 7.

This popular event runs in conjunction with Madison's Bottle Hill Day street festival.

Madison Tire & Auto Repair, 285 Main St., is the event's main sponsor. The Madison Car Show is held in the parking lot of the Madison Volunteer Ambulance Corps headquarters at the corner of Kings Road and Prospect Street.

The event site is a short walk from the Bottle Hill Day festivities, which are centered in Madison's business district.

One of the most prestigious automotive events in New Jersey, the Madison Car Show features many vehicles in several classes, including hot rods, trucks, customs, antiques, classics and street machines. There is no set price for fan admission, but donations are encouraged and generously accepted at the gate.

Peter Daniele, the proprietor of Rose City Collision, 291 Main Street, is the long-time chair of the Madison Car Show committee. Daniele is also a vice president of the Madison Area Chamber of Commerce, an independent, non-profit business league.

"This is our 25th car show and we're expecting several hundred car enthusiasts to enjoy the sparkle, shine and spectacle of dozens and dozens of unique automobiles and trucks right here in our hometown, the Rose City, for one day only," said Daniele.

The site of the car show is located between the Madison Borough Hall and the Madison Public Safety Building on the corner of Prospect Street.

"Along with attracting great cars and producing a very festive atmosphere the day of the event, the Madison Car Show showcases the businesses of our local automotive industry and helps to raise the prestige of the community," said John Morris, co-owner of Stewart-Morris Awards, Gifts & Flags, 71 Kings Road. Morris is also the president of the Madison Area Chamber of Commerce.

The Madison Area Chamber of Commerce and Madison P.B.A. 92 will host their 25th annual Madison Car Show on Saturday, Oct. 7.

BEER GARDEN SERVES UP SEVENTH YEAR

The Bottle Hill Day Beer Garden returns for its seventh year to its location between Prospect Street and Maple Avenue on Kings Road.

The Beer Garden will feature a variety of beer on tap, wine, and will also include some specialty items. The Downtown Development Commission (DDC) is exceptionally grateful for the generous and continuous support provided by the Beer Gardens principal sponsor, Amrish Vakil/Mail Street Wine Cellar, organizers said. McMahon, Martine & Gallagher, LLP and the Boyd/Eckhardt team at Kienlen Lattmann Sothebys International Realty will again be high level Beer Garden sponsors. New View Windows and Doors and Hollenbach Family Chiropractic also will sponsor the event.

More than 20 volunteers will be on hand to check IDs, serve customers, and monitor patrons. Wristbands for each patron cost $5, which will allow them fast and easy access to the taps. And for only $5 per cup, you can enjoy an icy cold brew on tap, specialty craft beer, or glass of wine, while supporting the DDC's efforts to improve downtown Madison.

Thanks to J&M Home and Garden, this fenced area will boast a tropical atmosphere, adorned with lush plants and flowers.

"Our goal was to have a little oasis, a place for friends to gather and take a little time to relax during all the excitement of Bottle Hill Day. It's the perfect place to come to eat and drink, or when you need a few minutes to recharge," said Russell Stern, beer garden coordinator and DDC commissioner. "We are always looking for new ways to help the DDC raise funds. By supporting the Beer Garden, Bottle Hill Day and other DDC events, you are contributing directly to the success of our downtown."

"The Beer Garden took years of careful research before implementing. We were happy to find that beer gardens have proven to be very successful in nearby towns," said beer garden originator and DDC Chairman, Mike Kopas. "It initially took a lot of effort and planning, as well as approval and support by the town council, along with the help from the Madison Police Department. I'm looking forward to this year's beer garden, and hope to see lots of new faces coming out to show their support."

Mark Fabyanski, DDC Vice-Chair and Beer Garden Coordinator explains, "Our motto for the beer garden is always 'Safety First!' Our goal is to create a fun, successful, social event, but it is paramount that everyone inside and outside of the beer garden are safe. Before the event, volunteers are required to undergo special training by law enforcement personnel on properly checking identification, as well as safety protocols."

The Beer Garden will be open from noon to 6 p.m.

WHAT DO THE DDC VOLUNTEERS DO? ...

...HELP WITH THE TASTE OF MADISON

The Taste of Madison event combines excellent food with fine wine in an informal, yet classy environment. Taste of Madison is a collaborative effort between the Downtown Development Commission (DDC), the Madison Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club of Madison. Volunteers from all three groups work for months to coordinate one of the biggest fundraising events of the year. At the event, more than 100 volunteers assist with wine pouring, the gift basket raffle and supporting the restaurant participants. The Taste of Madison Organizing Committee recently announced that the 17th annual Taste of Madison will be held on Monday, March 19, 2018, at Brooklake Country Club in Florham Park.

...PARTNER WITH THE VOLUNTEERS OF THE MADISON ARTS & CULTURE ALLIANCE

In 2016 the Madison Storytellers Festival was introduced to the calendar of DDC events with a vision to aggregate in one place on one day Madison's unique arts and culture community for celebration, performance, readings, and interactive and arts education events, showcasing Madison's unique qualities as a creative and cultural destination. In partnership with MACA and a group of very talented and dedicated volunteers, this first-ever cultural festival was held on Green Village Road. The second annual event was held on Saturday, Sept. 16, and was an overwhelming success. The DDC/MACA Holiday Arts Festival 2017 will take place on Friday, Nov. 24, and Saturday, Nov. 25.

WHAT DO THE DDC VOLUNTEERS DO? ......PARTNER WITH THE GARDEN CLUB OF MADISON

The first sign of spring in Madison is the return of hanging flower baskets that decorate the downtown lampposts. Each year, the DDC partners with the Garden Club of Madison to raise money and buy more than 200 baskets of beautiful flowers that line the streets all spring and summer. Approximately 80 members and growing, the Garden Club volunteers maintain the Waverly Place planter in the center of town year round, weed and maintain the Rose Garden Park throughout the summer and maintain the garden at the east entrance of Madison.

...PARTNER WITH THE MUSEUM OF EARLY TRADES & CRAFTS

Every summer brings the return of the Downtown Concert Series to Green Village Road. METC and the Madison Downtown Development Commission sponsor these six Friday evening, family-friendly concerts, held outside on the lawn of the museum. The community is invited to bring the family and plan to spend time Friday evening in beautiful, historic downtown Madison exploring the town's many unique shops and restaurants.

WHAT DO THE DDC VOLUNTEERS DO? ......COORDINATE AND SPONSOR BOTTLE HILL DAY

For more than 30 years, Bottle Hill Day has been brought to you by the Downtown Development Commission (DDC). Rides, a rock climbing wall, food, live music, crafts, shopping – Bottle Hill Day has it all. The DDC takes months to organize this massive event. Did you know that Bottle Hill Day is one of Madison's biggest fund-raising events? All money raised at Bottle Hill Day is used to support the DDC, Madison merchants, beautify downtown and sponsor events.

MADISON

—MEMORIAL HOME—

For 70 years, Madison Memorial Home has provided compassionate and dignified service to Madison and the surrounding communities. We are a family owned and operated funeral home, and providing families with the highest level of service is our priority.

We are a full-service funeral home with caring and professional staff prepared to serve you and your family's needs. We create a meaningful, personalized service that maintains that utmost dignity and respect towards your family and, most importantly, your loved one.

We are familiar with and sensitive to the traditions of many different faiths. We specialize in all phases of funeral service, both traditional and non-traditional funeral services, cremation, memorial and life celebration services, pre-arranged and pre-financed funeral arrangements, and monuments. Personal service to all faiths since 1948.
