MALHEUR NWR: A GEM IN OREGON

Malheur NWR, a unique high desert oasis is an essential migration stop for birds following the Pacific Flyway. Carl Woodward, Great Swamp NWR volunteer and board member of Friends of Malheur NWR, will provide an overview of this fascinating Refuge with a history of collaboration and controversy.

This presentation will be both in-person at the Helen C. Fenske Visitor Center and by Zoom. Registration is required for both formats.

Register online at <https://ttsu.me/malheurnwr>

Zoom log-on information will be sent to all registrants on Sunday, February 8, at NOON.
