MORRIS COUNTY: A RICH HISTORY

Centrally located in the Highlands region in northern New Jersey, Morris County blends natural landscapes, a history spanning the Colonial era though the technological breakthroughs of the 20th and 21st Centuries, with charming communities and impressive corporate campuses.

Situated about 30 miles from New York City, Forbes Magazine described Morris County as "... a suburb of the New York area which reaps the benefits of the big city's financial industry." Forbes also rated Morris as one of the top 10 wealthiest counties in the country. Between 2015 and 2019, Money Magazine selected several communities in Morris County as being among "The Best Places to Live."

Morris County was incorporated on March 15, 1738/1739, from portions of Hunterdon County. The inconsistency in the year relates to the Old Style (OS) and New Style (NS) calendars being used during the colonial period. Morris County was named in honor of the first Governor of the Province of New Jersey Lewis Morris (1671-1746).

Within its 469 square miles of land area, the county contains 39 municipalities with a 2024 population from the U.S. Census Bureau estimated to be around 523,053, making it New Jersey's 9th most populous county of the state's 21 counties. At its most distant points, the county stretches 30 miles from east to west and 30 miles from north to south.

Roads, bus and rail service link the 39 municipalities in the county to the metropolitan region. Two public airports, the Morristown Municipal Airport and the Lincoln Park Airport, are located in Morris County.

There are also an additional 12 FAA certified private corporate heliports and airports, one military heliport at Picatinny Arsenal and one medical helipad at Morristown Medical Center in Morristown. Three major airports, Newark Liberty International, John F. Kennedy and LaGuardia International Airport, are accessible by highway, train, and bus lines.

The area's civilian work force exceeds 279,183 as of May 2025. The U.S. Census American Community Survey for 2023 shows total adult population in Morris County with a bachelor's degree or higher is 57.2 percent. More than 50 Fortune 500 companies have their headquarters or major operations in Morris County.

Morris County is rich in history and home to more than 200 historic sites listed on New Jersey's Register of Historic Places. Four of these sites – Morristown National Historical Park, Historic Speedwell, Stickley Museum at Craftsman Farms, and Villa Fontana, home of Thomas Nast – have been designated as National Historic Landmarks by the Secretary of the Interior.

Strategic Location

During the Revolutionary War, Morristown's strategic location between New York City and Philadelphia prompted General George Washington and the Continental Army to make their winter encampments in Morristown in 1776-1777 and 1779-1780. Washington used Colonel Jacob Ford Jr.'s mansion as his headquarters during this time. The mansion is the centerpiece of the Morristown National Historical Park, the first national historical park in the country.

It also was in Morris County, at what is now Historic Speedwell in Morristown, where Alfred Vail and Samuel F.B. Morse perfected and first publicly demonstrated the electro-magnetic telegraph in 1838. Vail's distant cousin, Theodore Vail was educated in Morristown and served as the first president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company (AT&T).

Noted statewide for its recreational facilities and preservation of natural landscape, the Morris County Park System (www.morris-parks.net) is the largest county park system in

New Jersey based on acreage.

Morris County has the largest county park system in New Jersey, attracting more than 5.4 million visitors annually and supervising 20,611 acres of parkland, over 260 miles of trails and 39 recreational, historical, horticultural and environmental facilities. These include the Patriots Path hiking trail network, active and passive recreation fields, four award-winning golf courses, picnic sites, gardens, camping, cross-country skiing, and lakes. Some notable locations in the county park system include, Fosterfields Living History Farm, the Frelinghuysen and Willowood Arboretums, Mennen Sports Arena, Central Park of Morris County, Historic Speedwell Village, and Lee's County Park Marina on Lake Hopatcong.

Education

Education in Morris County commands a leading role, with outstanding public and private elementary, secondary and higher educational facilities. The Morris County Vocational School District offers high school students and adult learner's vocational education and training through the Morris County School of Technology. The School of Technology offers both shared and full-time programs for the county's high school students and continuing education programs for adults.

Fairleigh Dickinson University's Florham Campus in Madison, the College of St. Elizabeth in Morris Township and Drew University in Madison, and the two-year County College of Morris (CCM) in Randolph, provide easy access to higher education.

While the seven-member Board of County Commissioners oversees and approves activities relating to the business of running the county, the county administrator supervises day-to-day operations of the many departments of county government.

The county administration building is located at 10 Court St. in Morristown. The phone number is (973) 285-6010 or visit morriscountynj.gov. Most regular public meetings are conducted at 7 p.m. on the second Wednesday of the month, excluding holidays.

ABOUT THIS GUIDE

The Essex-Hunterdon-Morris-Somerset area served by The New Jersey Hills Media Group is a diversified area inhabited by high-level corporate executives, middle management, and trade and service employees in all fields. Schools are ranked with some of the best in the state and cultural offerings are plentiful. The coverage area shares borders with Warren, Sussex, Passaic, Middlesex and Union counties.

Residents can enjoy music, art, theater and other endeavors as spectators or participants. Recreation opportunities abound with many playing fields, bikeways and other sites for the active. Scenic parks beautify the area for the passive. Community service clubs and other organizations are plentiful, forming the lifeblood of our communities.

Our Town is a guide for both the newcomer to the area and the longtime resident. In it you will find brief histories of our communities, listings of service clubs and organizations, health care facilities, schools, places of worship, libraries and the key people to contact for any of those organizations.

You will also find listings of the key players in municipal government. Not sure of the name of the president of the local Board of Education? You can find it in this book. Want to contact the chair of the Planning Board? You can find it here.

Browse through Our Town, keep it on the kitchen counter, the table next to the recliner, the magazine rack in the family room. Refer to it often.

CHATHAM BOROUGH

Chatham, a quiet residential community 25 miles west of New York City on the eastern edge of Morris County, has a strong sense of community.

There are actually two Chathams: the borough and the township.

Chatham Borough, with its 9,212 residents, has a mix of fine homes, townhouses, garden apartments and condominiums and is an easy commute to New York City and other employment centers by train or highway.

Little more than 2.8 square miles in size, it is surrounded by Florham Park to the north, Madison to the west, Chatham Township to the south and Union County to the east. The borough offers excellent shopping and restaurants along Main Street as well as at the nearby Mall at Short Hills and the Livingston Mall. The K-12 school system, which the borough shares with Chatham Township, consistently scores very high in state and national rankings.

Local cultural opportunities include many historical, art, garden and musical groups as well as the facilities and programs of neighboring Drew and Fairleigh Dickinson universities. The Great Swamp National Wildlife Refuge, Morristown National Historical Park (Jockey Hollow) and other recreation facilities are nearby, including the Historic Riverside Trail along the Passaic River accessible off Shepard Kollock Park in the borough. The Chatham Playhouse on North Passaic Avenue is the venue for quality theatrical productions.

The annual Fishawack Festival is held in downtown Chatham. The word "Fishawack" was the Lenni Lenape Indian name for the Passaic River that winds through the area.

Chatham borough has a mayor, who is elected to a four-year term, and six council members, who serve three-year terms.

Only 25 miles west of New York City, on the eastern edge of Morris County, Chatham Township is bordered by Chatham Borough and Madison to the north, Harding to the west, Long Hill to the south and Summit in Union County to the east. New Providence and Berkeley Heights (both in Union County) border Chatham Township on the south. Summit is east of the township.

Recreation is a major facet of life in the Chathams, which created a joint recreation advisory board to ensure the quality of these programs.

Within the township, there are a number of recreational opportunities, including a skate park next to the police station on Southern Boulevard.

Township-owned and -operated Colony Pool Club features a sand-bottom pool, tennis courts, lessons, and competitive swim and tennis teams.

Private clubs include Fairmount Country Club, with an 18-hole golf course, and Noe Pond Club, with its large dock, diving boards, slides, float, small boats, tennis and paddle courts, playgrounds and clubhouse.

A Sign of The Times

Today's Businesses are Ever Evolving – And The Funeral Business is No Exception

Over the years, the Funeral industry has shifted from the "Traditional" Funeral to different ways of honoring a loved one – tailoring a Funeral or Memorial Service/Celebration of Life to create unique and meaningful tributes that reflect the individual's life, personality, and passions.

Options that Bring Comfort & Peace of Mind

Let's face it, the topics of Death and Funerals are not easy topics to discuss with a family member. But, do you know all of your options when it comes to planning a funeral? At Burroughs, Kohr & Dangler Funeral Home, we will take the time to answer questions you may have about Funeral Planning, whether it is pre-need (before a loss) or at-need (during a loss). We want you to be aware of all of the options you have regarding possible Funeral Arrangements and to be comfortable with the decisions you make with/for your loved one.

Memorialization Ideas to Make a Service Unique

You give us an idea...We'll make it happen! Whether a family chooses to honor their loved one through a Traditional Funeral, Cremation, or even a Green Burial, Burroughs, Kohr & Dangler Funeral Home wants to make sure you are aware of the various choices you have to honor your loved one. Whether it is a uniquely-themed service, special readings or music selected, military honors performed, photos or a tribute video, or displaying hobby memorabilia, etc....All of these options can be carried out, no matter what type of funeral arrangements you choose to honor your loved one.

Personal Touch That Stays With You

How you feel when you leave a Funeral Home is just as important as how you feel when you're there. Burroughs, Kohr & Dangler offers a welcoming, safe and calm gathering space for those who are grieving. From the moment you step through our doors, you are treated like family...Because we are family. We are honored to take care of the families in our community. We take this responsibility very seriously and are here to make sure every detail is handled with the utmost dignity and respect.

As part of the Madison community, Burroughs, Kohr & Dangler family and staff are here to serve you and your family. We will take you step-by-step through planning funeral arrangements. We will take care of you like family, and will support you so you can start the grieving process and begin your journey to healing.

FLORHAM PARK

The Borough of Florham Park, part of Chatham Township until the 19th century, occupies 7.6 square miles of southeastern Morris County. The population is 12,605. First settled by the English in the late 17th century, the area was prime farming land.

Columbia Turnpike was built in 1817 to connect Newark to Morristown, sparking an influx of residents and businesses to form a rural community producing roses, bricks, brooms and whiskey.

Multimillionaires Florence and Hamilton Twombly arrived in the late 19th century. Owners of 1,000 acres in the area, they began a campaign to separate "Afton" from Chatham Township, knowing it would result in lower taxes. Dr. Leslie Ward, owner of a huge estate he called Brooklake Park, shared the Twombly's ideas and joined in their quest for secession. In 1899 secession was approved. The Twomblys added the first syllables of their first names to a piece of the Ward estate name, and called the newly independent borough "Florham Park."

The Twombly estate now graces the campus of Fairleigh Dickinson University.

Florham Park's original town center had been located around Columbia Turnpike and Ridgedale Avenue, where the Little Red Schoolhouse, the town's symbol, has been standing since the 19th century. Today the look of that section barely resembles what it once was. Many of the town's historic buildings were removed in the 1950s and 1960s to make way for a wider highway and shopping centers.

In June 2005 the historic Afton building was taken down. The adjacent Hoping Canfield House at first survived the demolition, but later was demolished when no acceptable site or use could be found for the structure.

In 2008, Florham Park became home to the Jets corporate headquarters and training facility, which occupies 20 of the former Exxon property's 485 acres. Relocating from their facilities in Long Island, the Jets chose Florham Park after searching for land easily accessible to the Meadowlands, Newark Airport and New York City.

Florham Park hosts a summer concert series on The Great Lawn on Ridgedale Avenue at the Borough Complex. Beginning in June, each week hosts musical artists performing everything from Big Band, Rock 'n' Roll, Orchestra and Doo Wop music.

Florham Park's Colonial-style Borough Hall is located on a 70-acre complex on Ridgedale Avenue, a center of town cultural and recreational activities.

Florham Park has a highly rated school system of two elementary schools and a middle school. High schoolers attend Hanover Park Regional High.

Florham Park has a mayor and council form of government. The mayor serves a four-year term, and Borough Council members serve three-year terms. Public council meetings are held on the first and third Tuesdays of each month in Borough Hall, unless otherwise noted.

If you are looking for high quality, HEALTHY mattresses and bedding all from an incredibly well-run, caring LOCAL business, look no further. Pam (the owner) and her team are knowledgeable, responsive, kind and price things fairly to boot. After trying for months to cobble together healthy options for mattresses and bedding for our new home, a friend told us about Hibernate Bedding — "just call Pammy," she said. We did and couldn't be more thrilled. In an age of online customer service Hell, Hibernate Bedding is an incredible breath of fresh air. A local brick-and-mortar retailer where you can try before you buy, get great advice and have a great person to work with who stands behind everything they recommend and sell. Bravo!

MADISON BOROUGH

Incorporated in 1889 and named for the country's fourth president, Madison is situated in four square miles of southeastern Morris County. Its first inhabitants were the Leni Lenape tribe of Indians, who wandered the area for thousands of years before Europeans arrived in 1715. The Minnisink Trail, a famous Indian pathway, runs right through the borough along what is now Kings Road. In 1837 the Morris-Essex Railroad Line was completed. One of America's first commuter railroads, it had an enormous impact on area residents.

The area became more attractive than ever for wealthy families from New York City, who built grand estates from Madison to Morristown, stretching along a strip that was known as Millionaires Row. Owners of these estates were the first Madison residents to rush out their doors mornings to catch trains into New York City.

Madison's rose industry began around the mid-19th century.

Thanks to the area's rich soil and the new railroad tying the town to larger cities, Madison enjoyed more than a century-long run as one of the country's major producers of greenhouse roses for commercial sale.

By the turn of the century, Madison had evolved into a community blended with people of varied nationalities, religions and socio-economic positions.

True to its roots, present-day Madison remains a richly diverse town with a flavor all its own. Drew University, which occupies almost 200 wooded acres in the borough, serves as a major cultural center. Housed on Drew's campus is The Shakespeare Theatre of New Jersey.

The campuses of Fairleigh Dickinson University and the College of St. Elizabeth both border on Madison.

Madison combines a quaint atmosphere with modern conveniences, offering residents strong recreational programs, civic associations, community groups, neighborhood parks and a vibrant town center. Much of the tree-lined downtown area, including borough hall and the train station, is on the State and Federal Registers of Historic Places.

In recent years Madison has captured the attention of several filmmakers who have chosen the town's tree-lined streets, center and college campuses as a backdrop for their movies.

The Hartley Dodge Memorial Building is the seat of the Madison Municipal Government.

Madison is home to more than 15,000 residents, many of whom still race for New York City trains in the morning.

Madison is governed by a voter-elected mayor and six-member Borough Council whose public meetings begin at 8 p.m. the second and fourth Mondays of the month.
