

In Loving Memory of my precious son
Jesse "Jet" Miller "Forever 30"
Oct 24th 1988- September 17, 2019

Seven years ago today, my world changed forever. It feels like just yesterday I was standing right beside your car, holding onto you as you made your journey home. The pain of losing you on September 17, 2019, is just as raw now as it was then—a deep ache that time simply cannot heal.

Jesse, my sweet "Jet," you brought so much bright light and unshakable joy into my life. You were always laughing, always cracking jokes, and always finding a way to lift everyone's spirit. We didn't just share a mother/son bond we shared a life. From working side-by-side to working out at the gym, to spending hours hunting through weekend yard sales, every moment with you was a gift. I thank God that not a single day went by where I didn't tell you I loved you, and not a single day went by where I didn't feel that love returned.

You were a tireless worker, taking on multiple jobs—including lighting up every room as a DJ—to make sure your family always had everything they needed. Above all else, you were an extraordinary father. The way you loved and raised your beautiful daughter, Trinity, remains your greatest legacy. Every time I look at her, I see your strength, your heart, and your joy shining right back at me.

Jet, I miss your laugh. I miss your jokes. I miss my gym partner, my coworker, my yard-sale buddy, and mostly my son, and the future I will never get experience with you.

I carry you in my heart every second of every day until we are together again. I hold tight to the promise of our Heaven reunion, counting down the moment when my time on earth is finished and Jesus turns to me, smiles, and says, "I have somebody waiting for you."

Until that day comes, my sweet boy, rest in paradise, Always know you are loved beyond measure, missed beyond words, and remembered forever, I will never let your memory die. My heart is shattered beyond words but until we meet again Heaven holds my son. I love you! I miss you more with each passing day

Forever your Mom XOXO

Love MOM, Tom, Trinity, Chris ,Shey, Sheila and little Lori