

A dining room table rests on the lawn of a home destroyed by the tornado Friday evening, the night of the storm as family members and friends help unload household belongings in the background. — Photo by Dan Koenig.

Local resident affected by the tornadoes take a break from cleanup duties, standing outside a Red Cross emergency relief truck along North 25th Street the day after the storm. — Photo by Dan Koenig.

Bobby Nusser picks up a set of golf clubs from the rubble of his parent's home at 2318 Ave. K. — Photo by Dan Koenig.

The home of Jeff and Mary Gaul, 2316 Ave. K was spared complete destruction although suffering major damage. Just two houses to the west at 2318 and 2320 Ave. K, the families weren't so lucky. Those two dwellings were completely destroyed. — Photo by Steve Glowacki.