

Richard Mowery Jr., left, 829 Ave. M, and his brother, Randy, work on the roof of a shed that was picked up by tornado winds. In the background, a tree rests on top of Mowery's home where he and his family weathered the storm. One of the tree's branches can be seen sticking through his roof. It went into the kitchen of the house and out through a kitchen window. — Photo by Kevin McAndrews.

Damage was rampant along W. Broadway. These cars narrowly missed disaster. They were parked at the Mad

Hatter muffler shop which wasn't so lucky. — Photo by Kevin McAndrews.