

Your 2025-26 tax bill takes shape

As expected, Lincoln County's final total taxable values for 2025-26 drove down interim property tax bills for the six sample homes and agricultural operations in The Telegraph's annual "tax tracker" coverage. The effect comes from the final calculations of each local government's total "tax base," which naturally limits the tax impact of any increase in an individual property's taxable value. Tax requests set as those governments adopt their budgets will determine the final size of the sample properties' 2025 tax bills, which will be further reduced by state tax discounts.
