A quarter-century of TIF in North Platte

North Platte tax increment financing projects have been listed in annual Nebraska TIF reports since 1999. Even with greater usage the past seven years, the city's total of 30 projects approved or reported since 1999 trails the number of active 2024 projects by five other cities with populations between 10,000 and 100,000. North Platte also ranked sixth among that 14-city group in the percentage of its 2024 taxable value dedicated to repaying TIF-approved costs, even with the Sustainable Beef meatpacking plant being listed for the first time in the 2024 state report.
