Gators hoping to turn around fortunes in 2018

Football at East Columbus has remained an uphill climb the last several years, and second-year head coach James Hobbs is hoping that his Gators can shake off the effects of the recent disappointments and try to regain some of the prowess that they have been known to carry in the gridiron sport.

"It's been a process," said Hobbs, whose Gators went 1-10 in his first season at the helm last fall at East Columbus.

"Trying to work your way back can be difficult, but we feel we can make it a good season as far as getting things turned around."

East Columbus has had only two winning seasons in football since the school opened in 1992. Its best season came in 2012 when it posted a 9-5 record and

Jamar Williams

Fisher Reaves

advanced to the Western N.C. 1A semifinals.

Both of the Gators' wins over the past two seasons were against county rival West Columbus, both by 20-14 scores.

The Gators showed some spark in a recent jamboree scrimmage at Pender as they registered three touchdowns.

Fisher Reaves returns at the quarterback spot this fall. Jamar Williams is also expected to be a heavy contributor.

The only full-time physician in eastern Columbus County.

Stallions set to contend for another conference title

The South Columbus High School football team has for the past 26 years become one of area's most successful and consistent units when you consider their year-to-year status.

Now heading into their third season under head coach Russell Dove, the Stallions are coming off back-to-back seasons of 12 wins, including a fourth-round appearance in 2016 and a third-round appearance in 2017.

"The past two years have been good for our program," Dove said. "We've managed to do pretty well in the conference and in the playoffs, and hopefully we can keep up the hard work and dedication the team has shown."

Over the past five seasons, South Columbus has won or shared four Three Rivers Conference football championships.

The Stallions took a pretty big hit from graduation last spring, but there is plenty left in the Stallion corral.

Quarterback/safety and punter Robby Spencer, a three-year starter, will be playing his college football at UNC-Pembroke following his brilliant high school career.

Fullback-linebacker Seth Buffkin has taken his talents to St. Andrews, and running back Daron Stephens will play at East Carolina.

Senior Trequan Bellamy has become one of the area's top running backs and should continue to be an offensive leader this fall.

Senior Brady Ivey, a two-year starter in the Stallion secondary, has stepped in at the quarterback spot. Tate Lee steps in at fullback.

Markarios Brunson

The Stallions return with an experienced line that includes Makarios Brunson and Caleb Fonvielle.

The Stallion squad made a good showing in the BB&T

Trequan Bellamy

Jamboree held on Aug. 10 in Wilmington.

The Stallions outpointed South Brunswick 13-0 in the Jamboree that was played at Wilmington's Legion Stadium.

Caleb Fonvielle

The SCHS squad will open its 2018 season on Aug. 24 at Fayetteville Douglas Byrd.

Good Luck to all Columbus County Coaches & Teams!

Good Luck To All Players & Coaches For A Safe & Successful Season!

West Columbus

Vikings hoping to escape hard-luck gridiron

Going 0-22 over two seasons is a tough thing to endure on a football field, but it is something that the West Columbus Vikings have endured

They are hoping that its fortunes can be reversed when they open their 2018 season on Aug. 17 at Green Sea-Floyds, S.C.

WCHS head coach James Pierce came into a situation that brought on a huge challenge to his team.

The 2016 arrival of Hurricane Matthew to the western end of Columbus County in the middle of the season brought major hardships to many of the Viking players and their families.

Then last year, the Vikings encountered a rash of injuries with as many as eight players being slowed or side-lined during the season.

"We have found ourselves battling uphill just about the whole way," Pierce said. "But still, our program remains intact and we're looking forward to the season."

Quarterback Shawn Tyson

and versatile Nigel Ceesay both played key roles on the Vikings' state 1A runnerup baseball team this past season, providing additional hope and incentive for the Vikings football squad.

Whiteville Wolfpack enters 2018 season with JP Price at the helm

The Whiteville Wolfpack set school records for points scored in a season (566) and points per game (43.5) while compiling a record of 11-2 in 2017. The defense allowed 16.1 points per game, but was unable to stop the Mountain Heritage offense in a 52-44 second-round loss in the state 2A playoffs. It was the third time in six seasons under Coach Luke Little Whiteville had won 11 games.

The most obvious loss from last year's team is Little, who accepted a job at Freedom High in Morganton. However, the Wolfpack kept the job in the family by hiring Little's brother-in-law, Jarret (JP) Price. Price comes to Whiteville from St. James High in South Carolina. He is best known as the offensive coordinator for five state championship teams in an eight-year span at Wallace Rose Hill, working for his father Joey Price.

Price is looking to replace productive offensive players Phillip Powell, Jatiek Martin, Cameron Smith, Monchovia

Ty Moss

Gaffney, Kiante Webb and Keshawn Bellamy. Gone from the trenches are Cameron Cartrette, Nathan Edwards and Roshad McNeill. All of the above except Martin were key defenders as well.

The Wolfpack is not without talent. One skill position with a known commodity is quarterback. Junior Ty Moss is back after a season in which he accumulated more than 2,700 yards of total offense. Several less experienced players will need to step into starting roles and excel for the offense to continue to roll. Junior running back Javonte Davis burst onto the scene with his BB&T Jamboree performance. Jordan Faulk and Joziah Bell are also talented ball carriers.

Price hopes Elijah Currie and Ervin Moore will be able to fill the void at receiver.

Coastal Carolina commit Donnell Wilson will anchor the offensive line and is likely to be joined by seniors Eli Wilson and Chase Dyson. Juniors Lincoln Ransom, Darius Slade and sophomore Evans Humphreys are slated to see significant time up front.

Donnell Wilson, Ransom, Bell, Faulk and Autrell Baldwin will be key defenders. Ransom hopes to see the field as the punter as infrequently as last season. Ethan Bass will replace the reliable Will Hinson as the place kicker.

Whiteville will face three of its four toughest TRC opponents on the road. The Wolfpack is at East Bladen (9/7), Red Springs (10/12) and St. Pauls (10/26).
