Fair board president announces new and revived attractions in 2021

The Columbus County Agriculture Fair Board of Directors is pleased to announce the 41st Annual Columbus County Agriculture Fair season sponsored by Brunswick Electric Membership Corporation. Festivities will begin with our parade on Monday. We are honored to have Columbus County's last coroner, Linwood Cartrette, serve as our parade marshal.

More than ever, this year we want to celebrate all the great things about Columbus County, from our agriculture to our people! Look what we've got planned:

This year our livestock show returns at 6 p.m. Tuesday. We have moved our Old Macdonald Farm to better accommodate our chickens and rabbits in their own area.

Another new event will occur Thursday at 7 p.m when linemen from BEMC will conduct a pole climbing safety demonstration at the demolition track.

Local dance companies will take the stage Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. See our schedule for talent and other competitions as well. We have great bands booked, including some from Columbus County.

Crowd favorites include demolition derby on Friday and Saturday nights with fireworks afterward. And, of course, all the great rides and entertainment provided by Dreamland Amusements! Come support our businesses and services in our exhibition building. Our Evelyn Rabon building will display local crops, crafts and more.

Because we recognize the effects of the pandemic on almost every family, we've dedicated our 41st Annual Fair Book to the health care workers of Columbus County. We are blessed by their tireless efforts to help our community stay safe and get well. May God continue to be with them and their families as they continue their service to our citizens.

We humbly ask you to come out and support all the things that make Columbus County a great place to live. We appreciate each one of you. May God bless your family, and we hope to see you at the fair!

Jess Hill

President, Columbus County Agriculture Fair, Inc.

Jess Hill and family wish everyone "a family fun-filled week at the fair!"

Dedication

The Columbus County Agriculture Fair Board dedicated its 2021 Fair Book to health care professionals of Columbus County, praising them for serving "on the front lines in the fight against the COVID-19 pandemic."

"The effect of the pandemic on our nation this past year has been profound, reaching to every family in Columbus County," the board said in its dedication message. "Many lives in Columbus County have been lost, and many more have suffered through the effects of the virus. Through all of this, our health care workers have stood by us, in many ways risking their own health to protect us all."

Doctors, nurses and other health professionals continue to meet the challenge. Their efforts range from providing care and comfort to the sick, to volunteering with vaccine clinics, to working long hours, the board said. "We want to take this opportunity to commemorate these efforts and say "Thank you!"

The message, directed to "each one of you in the health care profession," said that the community is "indebted to you for your commitment and forever grateful for your fearlessness."

Parade Marshal is Linwood Cartrette

The Columbus County Agriculture Fair Board honors Linwood Cartrette as 2021 Parade Marshal.

A 1963 graduate from Williams Township School, Cartrette served in the U.S. Air Force, then returned to Columbus County. He married Sheila Spivey and opened Cartrette's Auto Sales and Body Shop.

In 1998 the Cartrettes became owners of Fowler's Grill in Tabor City.

"Always a public servant at heart, in 1986 Cartrette became the Columbus County assistant coroner," the board said in its message of recognition. Two years later he was elected coroner; he continued to be re-elected until his retirement in January 2017, when the county transitioned away from a coroner system to the use of medical examiners. Cartrette will go down in history as the longest serving and the last elected coroner of Columbus County.

He is a 32-degree Mason and a lifelong member of Beavertown Original Freewill Baptist Church, but he says his proudest distinctions are being a husband, father, grandfather and great-grandfather.

In 2017 Gov. Roy Cooper awarded Cartrette with the prestigious Order of the Long Leaf Pine for his many contributions to the community.

The fair board thanked Cartrette and his family "for their dedication to our community and their many contributions to help make it a great place to live."

Half Price Night

Thursday is half price night at the County Fair, thanks to Brunswick Electric Membership Corporation and Touchstone Energy. Instead of paying an $8 admission, pay only $4.

Multi-talented Greg Thompson is 2021 master of ceremonies

Columbus County will again welcome home Greg Thompson as master of ceremonies. Thompson is a storyteller, banjo player, clogger, Austin Powers impersonator and businessman.

Thompson's favorite fair food is a corn dog. "I even wrote a song about it!" he said.

The Chadbourn native and 1981 West Columbus High School graduate was already working as a radio disc jockey when the fair resumed in 1980. "The first couple of years of the fair I actually performed with my clogging team, The Strawberry Cloggers," Thompson said. He was master of ceremonies "for a couple of years" during the 1980s, he said. Since those days, he has returned occasionally to share emceeing duties with Dale McPherson.

Thompson will play the banjo and perform excerpts from his one-man show originally called "My Mason Dixon Life." The new title is "Bless your heart... in the good way."

Thompson is an agent for celebrity impersonators across the U.S. He is owner of Brown Street Station, a special event venue at 202 N. Brown St. in Chadbourn.

Thompson recently appeared on the ABC show "To Tell The Truth" and called it "one of the most fun things I've ever done." He has begun booking entertainers for this fall at Brown Street Station. Information is available on Facebook and by calling 910-477-8080.

Fair licensed, rides inspected

The Columbus County Agriculture Fair is approved and licensed by the N.C. Department of Agriculture and is a member of the N.C. Association of Agriculture Fairs and International Association of Fairs and Expositions.

Midway rides provided by Dreamland Amusements, are inspected by the N.C. Department of Labor.

The Columbus County Agriculture Fair began in 1980, 50 years after the last County Fair had been held in Columbus County. It was a project of the Columbus County Law Enforcement Officers Association. The first fair was completely dependent upon big circus tents, but as time passed nice buildings were built to house the commercial and educational booths, livestock barn and food stand. In more recent years an old building was remodeled to serve as the fair's office building.

Early on, the fair board asked the public to help give the fair a suitable motto, and a contest was held. The fair board liked "It's A Family A-Fair," so that became the motto.

Several years ago the fair called on the public again to choose a name for the fair's mascot, a gigantic fiberglass rooster who stood sentinel on the fairgrounds. "Fearless Fair-ley" was the name chosen by the fair board.

Events and entertainment to expect when the fair is open:

Dreamland provides rides for family fun

Dreamland Amusements has been providing exciting rides for children and adults for the Columbus County Fair for many years, and their rides spend winters right here in Columbus County. The company has a 15-acre winter headquarters in downtown Delco, 15 miles west of Wilmington, where the equipment is stored until spring.

The rides then go on the road, traveling from New Hampshire to Miami, Fla., supplying rides, games and food stands for county and state fairs and also playing concert dates. The equipment has been featured in TV ads, at many private parties, corporate rentals and concert dates. The company supplies silent generators, benches and covered seating areas and at many fairs Dreamland Amusements does an extensive landscaping package. The company markets its events through cable TV, radio, coupon distribution as well as a custom Dreamland Amusements mailer designed especially for its demographics.

When their event has ended, the Dreamlands staff does a thorough clean-up of the grounds, leaving them as they found them.

Fair and festivals make a comeback in 2021

After being canceled in 2020 due to coronavirus danger, the Columbus County Agriculture Fair is returning in near-usual form this year.

Columbus County Agriculture Fair President Jess Hill said his committee of volunteers is working to "create a situation for people to enjoy seeing and being amongst other people."

The same is true of most of Columbus County's other traditional festivals.

Fair Bluff put on the 35th Watermelon Festival August 14, with the traditional parade, size and quality contests, vendors, music and the watermelon eating contest.

The N.C. Honey Festival on Sept. 11 turned downtown Whiteville into a dancing, mead-tasting street party, with vendors, food, prizes and entertainment. Funds raised will go to fight suicide, domestic violence and sexual assault.

On the horizon Oct. 23 is the N.C. Yam Festival in Tabor City, with food and craft vendors, a parade, entertainment and a car/truck/bike show. Events earlier in the week of Oct. 16 include a scholarship pageant, an art show, a sweet potato quality contest, a merchant decorating contest and a Taste of Tabor event at Sunnyside Equestrian Farm.

Volunteers on festival organizing committees and the community in general are ready to return to "a more normal routine," said Joan Ward Council, head of the N.C. Pecan Harvest Festival Committee. "Everybody is going over and beyond this year" as a result and "getting ready to put on a great show," she said. "The enthusiasm is contagious." The N.C. Pecan Harvest Festival will begin Thursday, Nov. 4, with a reception from 7-8:30 p.m. at the Columbus County Arts Council to introduce the festival queen and parade marshal.

The traditional luncheon at Vineland Station will be Nov. 5. The street festival will be Saturday, Nov. 6, beginning with a 5K walk/run to benefit Community CPR, followed by the 10 a.m. parade. This year's car show will benefit Columbus Baptist Association's Christmas Toy Store.

Kids' Block, adjacent to the depot, and a variety of vendors will be open throughout the festival. Local and regional bands will entertain from noon to 5 p.m.

Flimsey, always a County Fair favorite.

Flimsey Clown is back again

Flimsey, that wacky, funny clown who has been entertaining County Fair crowds for many years, will be back daily (and nightly) this year.

Flimsey is a talent with crowd appeal, making friends and clowning around with people from baby stage to the most senior adults. He wears his signature colorful striped trousers, painted face and a hat that bears his name in the event someone forgets who he is.

Flimsey does tricks on a skateboard, has been seen with a baby bottle in his mouth and cracks jokes at every turn. You'll see him not only on stage, but prowling the midway to entertain young and old.

If you haven't met Flimsey, introduce yourself.

Car Load Sunday, always a big hit, will be offered again

Board members decided a few years ago to offer a bargain that would be difficult to refuse.

They advertised that people could load their cars with all the people they could pack in, and pay a flat rate per carload. And that included armbands allowing unlimited rides.

Board members have decided they're doing it again this year.

So if you're contemplating skipping the Sunday afternoon fair activities, give it some thought and load the car with as many people as you can pack in and come to the fair.

The bargain is only $40 for a carload, including armbands and unlimited rides.

Upon entering fairgrounds parking, each driver will receive a number representing the number of people in their vehicle.

When going through the gate, the driver will show his number and each person in the group will receive entrance into the fair, including a ride band.

It will be several hours of good entertainment on the cheap.

Gates open at 1 p.m. and stage activities include local arts and crafts displays in the Evelyn Rabon Building, a talent contest and entertainment nightly by various groups and bands.

Scheduled throughout the afternoon are Flimsey the Clown, Pirates of the Colombian Caribbean and local entertainment.

Diaper Derby is a popular fair event

The Columbus County Agriculture Fair has a lot of interesting and entertaining events and the Diaper Derby is one of them.

That event will be held on stage this year at 6 p.m. Thursday, but registration is at 5:45 p.m. Entries must be between 6 and 12 months old and not walking. They must be residents of Columbus, Bladen, Robeson or Brunswick counties or Horry County, S.C. Only one adult may accompany the baby at each end of the race track and at no time can the parent or guardian enter the boundaries of the race track.

Babies will crawl the length of the race track, which will be 10' x 20' on the stage. If no baby has completed the race within three minutes, the baby closest to the finish line will be declared the winner. The first place winner will receive a $65 cash award, second place will get $35 and third place will get $15. The 19th Annual Pick of the Litter winner will receive a first place trophy. That contestant is chosen as the winner by how cute he or she is or how entertaining they were on the race track while competing in this year's Diaper Derby. This division was an idea suggested by the late Jimmy Ferguson, who also suggested that the board, of which he was a member, have Kindergarten Day.

Kathy Faulk, chairman of the Diaper Derby for many years, can provide additional information or entry forms. Call her at 642-4009, 910-770-4595 or forms can be obtained at the County Fair office the day of the Derby.

Diaper Derby registration is Thursday at 5:45 p.m. Derby will begin at 6 p.m.

Diaper Derby rules

Registration for the diaper derby will be at 5:45 p.m. Thursday, with babies revving up at 6 p.m.

the proper delivery of any article or livestock on the grounds and the proper care to the latter; as no charge for transportation of drayage will be paid by the Fair.

6. All entries will be numbered and recorded in the book of entry of the proper department. Entry tags will be issued, bearing entry number and exhibit number - tag to be attached to the exhibit and the stub retained by the exhibitor and presented on Monday when the exhibit is called for. These claim checks are your proof that you have entered all your exhibits as required. There will be categories in which there may be a youth and adult entry. The designation "Y" will be added to the letter category for youth.

7. Any and all articles judged by the registrar to be obnoxious or repulsive in character will be forbidden entry, or, if entered without being fully known, shall be removed at once.

8. The right is reserved to place an exhibit in its proper class if it has been incorrectly entered.

9. All entries should be for the first premium of the premium number, under which they are entered. Failing to take the first, entries shall compete for the second, if second is offered, but shall not be awarded more than one premium under the same number.

10. No article or animal will be entitled to space until the proper entry has been made. Space is limited. (All entries will be accepted in order of receipt until all available space is filled. In any case all entries must be received by the date specified under each department and when all space is filled, the management reserves the right to refuse entries, even if received before the specified date.

11. The management reserves the right to withhold premiums in any case in which it shall appear to them that the regulations have not been complied with, or that fraud has been practiced. Anyone wanting to enter a complaint should do so in writing, not later than noon Tuesday, the opening day of the fair.

12. Should any person misrepresent his/her exhibit and a premium be awarded upon it, such premium will be withheld by the management.

13. Payment of premiums awarded: Premiums will be paid by check at the end of the fair week. All checks are void after Nov. 15. Winners assume the responsibility of claiming their checks at the exhibit building between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday after the fair when they pick up their exhibits.

Competition is open to all residents of Columbus, Bladen and Brunswick counties and by special permission to other residents of North and South Carolina. All articles shall have been grown, made or prepared by the exhibitor unless otherwise specified in the rules.

All articles which are the product of the soil must be entered in the name of the producer. Those showing handiwork or skill must be entered in the name of the one whose skill they represent. Such may be individuals, firms or factories. Failure to comply with this rule will bar violators from competing for any premiums whatsoever and render them and their exhibits liable for expulsion from the grounds.

When an individual exhibit made from a farm wins first premium, an exhibit of the same kind from the same farm cannot win the second or third premium. Example: a farm is awarded first prize for corn. That same farm cannot win second or third prizes for corn (even if in a different name).

Exhibitors may make only one entry in each class: No exceptions.

No person will be allowed to see the entries or to have access to the entry book until after the awards have been made.

Notice - The fair assumes no responsibility in cases of loss or damage to stock or other exhibits from any cause, and upon this condition only are all entries received.

A sweepstakes prize of $100 will be awarded to the winner of the most blue ribbons, $75 for second place, $50 for third place and $25 for fourth place.

No exhibitors will be permitted inside the Exhibit
