

INDIANA UNIVERSITY NORTHWEST

A graduate degree is like insurance for your career.

IU Northwest has got you covered!

Master of Science in Educational Leadership

In this or any economy, education is the best possible investment for a secure future. Advanced degrees can lead to pay raises, promotions, and increased career options. Indiana University Northwest now offers a master's degree in Educational Leadership.

The program focuses on three important areas of learning for future administrators: the knowledge base, technical skills, and interpersonal skills. This master's degree is recommended for licensed classroom teachers who wish to earn a building-level administrator's license.

Conveniently located just a half-mile south of I-80/94 at Broadway, IU Northwest offers flexible evening schedules, small class sizes, and friendly, knowledgeable professors who are active in research and involved with the community.

To learn more about the Master of Science in Educational Leadership, or other graduate degrees offered at IU Northwest, visit www.iun.edu.

Other Graduate Program Offerings:

- M.S. in Clinical Counseling with Specialization in Drug and Alcohol Counseling

- M.L.S. Master of Liberal Studies ▪ M.S. Master of Elementary Education ▪ M.S. Master of Secondary Education

- M.S.W. Master of Social Work

Concentrations in: ▪ Health ▪ Mental Health and Addictions ▪ School Social Work

- M.B.A. Master of Business Administration

Concentrations in: ▪ Management ▪ Administrative Studies

- M.P.A. Master of Public Affairs - Concentrations in: ▪ Criminal Justice

▪ Health Services Administration ▪ Human Services Administration ▪ Public Management

www.iun.edu