MISSION STATEMENT

Our newspaper strives to achieve several things as part of our mission:

- To produce quality products of unquestioned credibility and integrity.
- To promote a unique identity and culture for Oskaloosa and surrounding counties to differentiate this area from the remainder of Southeast Iowa.
- To advance the business community in this area, understanding that it is those businesses, and the profits and tax dollars that they generate, which support fire, police, roads, public safety and everything from youth sports to the arts in the communities we cover.
- To treat everyone with a sense of respect and fairness.
- To be centrist, in our political viewpoints, a friend to neither the right nor the left, but to strive to support what's best, no matter the political ideology.
- To retain our role as the last "mass medium" in our communities, leaving our forums with the widest sense of openness.

4th of July

Parade of Honor

On the fourth of July, our country celebrates its birthday, thus reaffirming the principles on which this nation was founded. Freedom from tyranny, the right to free speech, life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, just to name a few. Our local merchants take great pride in joining in this affirmation and in celebrating it with all of you.

Thank You to all who are fighting to defend our freedoms."
