Hi Vanessa,

Hate to be writing you about this, as I know this was a last year issue. And I'm sure this is overwhelming for you! Please know I appreciate you and all the work you put into the school.

I'm writing as a concerned parent in light of the recent news coverage regarding Mr. Craswell. Like many in the school community, I was deeply unsettled by what I read — and even more so by the fact that I learned about this through the media rather than from the school directly.

As a parent, I expect transparency and timely communication when it comes to matters that may impact the safety, trust, and wellbeing of our children. I understand these situations are sensitive and complex, but I believe the school had a responsibility to inform families proactively and directly.

I would appreciate understanding the school's rationale for how this was handled and whether communication protocols are being reviewed in light of this situation.

Thank you,
