

Edith Frances Eisenhart

Edith Frances Eisenhart, 83, of Casa Grande, AZ passed away peacefully on May 28, 2021. She was born on May 29, 1937 in Tucson, AZ to Robert Johnson Taylor, Sr. and Alice Marie Huffman.

Edith, known fondly as Dee, was raised in the Catalina Foothills and spent her high school years in Phoenix playing sports “like a tomboy”. She pursued an Associate’s Degree in Arts from the University of Arizona and Glendale Community College. She loved drawing horses but specialized in live portraits. Dee’s favorite thing to paint was unicorns. Her art can be found in her children’s, grandchildren’s and great-grandchildren’s homes. She’s remembered for her sewing abilities, once sewing her and her late husband’s entire square dancing outfits as well as her children’s clothes.

She had a green thumb and was an amazing gardener. She could grow anything she set her mind and heart to. Edith enjoyed nature and feeding the birds that visited and the sound of water. In her younger years she enjoyed playing softball and baseball, riding horses and loved being surrounded by her family.

Her personality was a strong, solid, graceful woman who stepped up and raised her grandchildren when needed. She had core values and was raised with etiquette that she passed on to her family.

She is preceded in death by two husbands; one daughter, Tina Marie Clements; and two great-grandchildren.

Edith is survived by three children, Valena F. Eisenhart-Villa, James V. Eisenhart Sr. and Leslie A. Eisenhart Jr.; one brother; 12 grandchildren; and 21 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held at Redemption Church on Friday, June 11, 2021 with a visitation at 2 p.m. and Celebration of Life at 3 p.m.

Heritage Casa Grande Funeral Home entrusted with the arrangements.
