

Dr. Joel Braunstein

Dr. Joel Braunstein was an exceptional human being. Wise, funny and observant, he was the ultimate provider; willing to spend as much time with his patients as was needed to diagnose and treat them. Born October 22, 1948 in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, he was the elder of two sons born to Margaret and Oscar Braunstein. An alumni of Temple University (1970) and the College of Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery (1973), he practiced across New Jersey, Texas, Illinois, Indiana and Arizona, impacting and saving thousands of lives in his 50 years of practice in Family Medicine. He is survived by his wife, Debra Braunstein, and their four children, Jeremy Braunstein, Jennifer Braunstein, Amanda Turner and Stefanie (Terrance) Voss; their five grandchildren, Treyshon, Marquell, Israel, Kyden and Brielle; and his brother, Michael Braunstein. He's preceded in death by both parents and his beloved dog, Moose. He was a wonderful husband, father and friend who is already missed tremendously. Services were private, but Dr. Braunstein was a patron of the following charities: Boys & Girls' Club, any chocolate Labrador Rescue, and Wounded Warrior Project. Those who wish to show support to his widow and family, please make a donation in his name. Cheers, Dad, we drank the expensive wine to toast: until we hear "oh it's you" again, we'll hold the line and remember.
