

Deborah Ann Christian-Moore

June 12, 1953 – October 13, 2025

It is with profound sadness and cherished memories that we announce the passing of Deborah Ann Christian-Moore, on October 13, 2025. Born under the warm Arizona sun in Phoenix on June 12, 1953, Deb's life was a shining beacon of compassion, strength, and unwavering dedication. She made her home in Casa Grande, where her presence brought comfort and inspiration to all who knew her.

Deb's greatest legacy was her deep commitment to others. As Director of the AZ Perinatal Trust, she devoted herself to nurturing hope and fostering new beginnings, for mothers and babies just as she did with dear friends. Her love extended beyond people to the love of animals, reflecting her boundless kindness and care. Through her leadership and generosity, she touched countless lives, leaving an enduring imprint of warmth and grace.

She was a beloved sister to Michael A. Lambard Sr., Timothy Lambard, Nancy Fulton-Lambard, and sisters Becky Kahn and Vicky Arnold. Her nurturing spirit embraced everyone she encountered, offering love, support, and encouragement with every word and deed.

Deb's laughter was infectious, her resilience inspiring, and her compassion eternal. Her spirit will continue to shine brightly in the hearts of all who loved and were blessed by her presence.

In honor of her remarkable life, the family kindly suggests donations to Central Arizona Animal Rescue, in celebration of her enduring kindness.

May Deborah Ann Christian-Moore rest peacefully, wrapped in the everlasting love of Jesus, God will shine her light on all who knew and loved Deb.
