Dear Attorney General Grewal:

I am writing this letter in regard to the upcoming general election. As an elected official in a very diverse city, I am alarmed and very concerned about the possibility of violence and voter intimidation due to President Trump's troubling statements and his overt appeals to racism.

I am sure that you are aware and preparing for the possibility that the bellicose rhetoric from our President may cause individuals to retaliate.

I believe that Atlantic City, because of its diversity, Democratic learnings, and the hate groups in our vicinity, may be a target for violence.

I hope that I am wrong in this assessment.

Yours truly,

Kaleem Shabazz
