Late Laughs

The Late Show With Stephen Colbert

Here's some shocking news. You know the shoe brand Allbirds? Well, they have announced a hard pivot from footwear into AI. That is the most random 180 since that insurance company debuted this slogan, "Nationwide makes shampoo now."

On Wednesday [April 15], Allbirds announced it is leaving shoes behind for AI to compute infrastructure and will change its name to NewBird AI. Keep in mind, Allbird's founding mission statement was to create quote "an entirely new category of shoes inspired by natural materials guided by an ethos to create better things in a better way. And now, incredibly not that. This is just like when Arby's changed their slogan to "Arby's, we have the bras."

The Tonight Show Starring Jimmy Fallon

A Carnival Cruise passenger just won a $300,000 lawsuit for claiming that the ship's staff served her 14 tequila shots in the span of eight hours. Carnival was like, "How else are we going to kill the norovirus?"

Gatorade announced that they're planning to remove artificial colors and reduce sugar in their drinks. Yeah, it's part of their revolutionary new beverage line called Water.

A new poll shows that [President] Trump's approval rating has dropped the most among Gen Z. It's bad. Right now, he's polling between sus and delulu.

Jimmy Kimmel Live!

You know, it's April 15. It's Tax Day. Although you could make a case that every day since November 2024 has been taxing, but today is officially that special time of the year when we all pitch in to pay for Melania's new plane.

Krispy Kreme had a deal today [April 15] where if you buy a dozen doughnuts, you get a second dozen free. And I think we can all agree that there is nothing more American than paying your taxes and then eating 24 doughnuts by yourself.

I'm glad you're here on the highest of all holidays. It is April 20, 4/20. A day on which if you don't know the history, according to the legend, St. Snoo the Dog drove the snakes out of Compton on 4/20, 1878 or something like that.

Late Night With Seth Meyers

NPR announced last week it has received the largest donation from a living donor in the network's history, totaling $80 million. And you would not believe the tote bag she got.

A new Grateful Dead app launched last week, which features high-quality recordings for more than 400 full live shows in better than CD quality. Said Dead fans, "Wow it sounds even better than I don't remember."

The food company Perdue Farms announced last week it will offer so-called 6-7 chicken nuggets, even though everybody who thought 6-7 was funny is now too old for chicken nuggets.

Ryan returns: Clancy agent back to big screen in 'Ghost War'

By Dana Simpson
TV Media

They say heroes never die; and although that statement rings true in a fairly abstract way in real life (and is largely understood to mean that an influential person's work and memory remain relevant long after their death), the magical world of film and television can adopt a much more literal, often otherworldly approach.

From James Bond (most recently portrayed by Daniel Craig in 2021's "No Time to Die") to Ethan Hunt (Tom Cruise, "Mission: Impossible — The Final Reckoning," 2025), many of the most unkillable on-screen heroes are powerhouse secret agents. Jack Ryan, a secret agent born to the page from the mind of late author Tom Clancy (Rainbow Six), has had the pleasure of surviving on both small- and large-screen formats. Now, Ryan returns for more.

"Tom Clancy's Jack Ryan: Ghost War," a new film from director Andrew Bernstein ("Ozark"), premieres Wednesday, May 20, on Prime Video.

In his current iteration (which emerged in August 2018 for Prime's "Jack Ryan" TV series), begrudging CIA analyst Jack Ryan is portrayed by "The Office" and "A Quiet Place" (2018) actor John Krasinski. The fifth actor to tackle the physically demanding role since 1990 — after Alec Baldwin ("The Hunt for Red October," 1990), Harrison Ford ("Patriot Games," 1992, and "Clear and Present Danger," 1994), Ben Affleck ("The Sum of All Fears," 2002) and Chris Pine ("Jack Ryan: Shadow Recruit," 2014) — Krasinski has starred as Ryan in 30 hour-long episodes over eight years, making him the most experienced in the role after Ford.

"Ghost War" will be Krasinski's first feature-length project as Ryan, which brings a whole new set of challenges for actor and character alike.

"In this new film," reads the official Prime Video plot synopsis, "Jack Ryan is reluctantly thrust back into the world of espionage when an international covert mission unravels a deadly conspiracy, forcing him to confront a rogue black ops unit, and the clock is ticking. Operating in real time with lives on the line and the threat escalating at every turn, Jack reunites with battle-tested CIA operative Mike November [Michael Kelly, "Dawn of the Dead," 2004]

Saturday, May 16, 2026

Michael Kelly in "Jack Ryan: Ghost War"

and former CIA boss James Greer [Wendell Pierce, "The Wire"], their combined experience the only edge they have against an enemy who knows their every move.

"Backed by an unlikely new partner — razor-sharp MI-6 officer Emma Marlowe [Sienna Miller, "G.I. Joe: The Rise of Cobra," 2009] — Jack and the team navigate a treacherous web of betrayal, facing a past they thought was long put to rest — making this the most personal, high-stakes mission any of them has ever faced."

Betty Gabriel ("Get Out," 2017), who portrays CIA director and Rome's former chief of station Elizabeth Wright, also makes the jump from series to the film, while the new actors joining Miller include JJ Feild ("Captain America: The First Avenger," 2011), Max Beesley ("Hijack"), Douglas Hodge ("Joker," 2019), Diarmuid de Faoite ("Monster," 2019), McKenna Bridger ("Three Months to Break Your Heart") and Khalid Laith ("A Hologram for the King," 2016).

In the film's trailer — which released on April 16 and, as of April 28, has more than 12.3 million views on YouTube — Ryan appears to be enjoying a quiet CIA-free "civilian life" when Greer appears in an unmarked black SUV and asks Ryan to join him.

"Whatever it is, I'm not doing it," Ryan tells his former boss. "I just need you to meet a guy," Greer responds, knowing Ryan can't deny a chance to save his country from threat. As expected, Ryan answers "no," but it's too late: the trailer cuts to an aerial shot of Dubai's Burj Khalifa, replete with dancing fountains, as November tells Ryan over earpiece, "God, I've missed this." What follows is a murder, a series of high-octane fight scenes and several recognizable landmarks from the UAE to the U.K. and around the world.

The story for "Ghost War" was created by Krasinski, Aaron Rabin ("Nobody 2," 2025) and Noah Oppenheim ("Zero Day") from the characters and backstories established in Clancy's extensive life's work. Before his death in October 2013, Clancy wrote 17 novels in the Ryanverse, the last five of which (released between 2010 and 2013) were co-written with Gray Man series author Mark Greaney. Since Clancy's death, Greaney has continued the Ryanverse, which will contain 47 novels as of the anticipated release of "The Coldest War" this coming November.

At the end of the day, Krasinski's return as Ryan affirms his 2018 statement to Variety that Clancy's protagonist is the relatable hero we need.

"Jack Ryan ... is such a great hero for right now," Krasinski said upon taking on the role. "He doesn't have a cape, he doesn't have stuff flying out of his hands, he's just a guy with his brain and his instincts," Krasinski said during his Variety cover interview, adding, "[He has] less sex, but he's our James Bond."

So, per Mike November in the trailer, "Let's go cause an incident." "Tom Clancy's Jack Ryan: Ghost War" premieres Wednesday May 20, on Prime Video.

Wrap it up: A stack of season and series finales air this week

Zeeko Zaki and Missy Peregrym star in "FBI"

By Sarah Passingham
TV Media

Of all the seasons, finale season is one of the most beautiful. With the views best enjoyed from the comfort of one's own couch, remote in hand, anyone with a cable or internet connection can take pleasure in the sights, sounds and suspense of their favorite shows closing their latest chapters.

CBS kicks off a week of endings with season finales of "FBI" and its newest spinoff series, "CIA," Monday, May 18. "Survivor" wraps up its historic 50th season Wednesday, returning to form and crowning the winner in a live vote reading. Thursday sees some sitcoms have the last laugh while a late-night show says goodnight for the last time.

Season finales of "Georgie & Mandy's First Marriage," "Ghosts" and "Elsbeth," air Thursday, May 21. Stephen Colbert ("The Colbert Report") bids viewers farewell from behind his "The Late Show With Stephen Colbert" desk for the final time Thursday, after more than a decade of nightly monologues, sketches, celebrity interviews and musical performances. Finally, it's finale night for first responders on Friday with "Sheriff Country," "Fire Country" and "Boston Blue" all closing out the season.

To catch up on any of these shows (with the exception of "The Late Show," catch those segments on the show's official YouTube page) ahead of their finales this week, stream them on Paramount+. While "The Late Show" sings its swan song this week, the rest of the mentioned series will return in CBS's fall 2026 or spring 2027 lineup.

After cleaning house of the first two spinoffs — "FBI: Most Wanted" and "FBI: International" — in May 2025, Dick Wolf's ("Law & Order") bureau-centric franchise focused on the eighth season of originating series "FBI" and its intriguing new show, "CIA." In the upcoming episode of "FBI," titled "Defector," FBI special agents Maggie Bell (Missy Peregrym, "Van Helsing"), OA Zidan (Zeeko Zaki, "Valor") and the team must reach out to an old foe when a bioweapon is stolen.

Meanwhile, in the "CIA" finale, Colin (Tom Ellis, "Tell Me Lies") and Bill (Nick Gehlfuss, "Chicago Med") are confronted with a dangerous figure from Colin's past. The show's debut season has seen the odd couple of CIA agent

Colin Glass — a suave British rebel — and FBI agent Bill Goodman, who lives up to his surname, learn to work together in the joint investigative cell aimed to out the mole within the CIA's New York City operation.

In an interview with CBS New York in March, Ellis explained how "CIA" differentiated itself from its action-packed originating series, saying, "The CIA approach to law enforcement is a much more voyeuristic approach where they spend a lot of time watching and collecting intelligence about people before they actually operate and do anything about it." The table's been flipped in a sense in "CIA" as unbeknownst to Colin, he is being closely watched by Bill, the one tasked with rooting out the department's mole. Will Colin discover that he himself is the subject of investigation? Only the finale will tell.

There hasn't been a similar season-arcing storyline in the latest season of "FBI," however, a baddie from Season 7 did make his return in a recent episode, titled "Forgiven," this time with a very personal crime. Ray DiStefano (Matthew Rauch, "Your Friends & Neighbors"), out of prison after Maggie sent him away, lured her into his trap by abducting her estranged sister, Erin (Adrienne Rose Bengtsson, "Inventing Anna"), and then Maggie. DiStefano set the "FBI" team on a wild chase that ended in his demise off the edge of a cliff and the discovery of Erin's body in a remote cabin.

If heart-pounding action dramas aren't your thing, rest assured there's more to catch this week on CBS. With "Survivor" handing select gameplay decisions over to fans in celebration of the show's 50th season, the long-running reality competition show became a democracy run by viewers for the first time. The results ranged from inconsequential — tribe colors — to essential, like whether the castaways had to earn their rice and supplies. The fan-voted decisions come to their conclusion with the already decided live finale in Los Angeles, airing Wednesday, May 20, as well as the final four challenge and whether to keep fire-making to determine the final three contestants.

Then, back-to-back episodes close out this season of "Georgie & Mandy's First Marriage," "Ghosts" ends its fifth season with a two-part finale and the titular Elsbeth (Carrie Preston, "True Blood") finds herself investigating the murder of a cabaret performer as the third season of the quirky police procedural wraps up this Thursday.

With a successful debut season nearly under its belt, "Sheriff Country" is almost ready to step into its sophomore season boots, but not before Sheriff Mickey Fox (Morena Baccarin, "Gotham") deals with fallout from a major investigation in the season finale Friday, May 22. "Boston Blue" also wraps up its freshman season with Danny (Donnie Wahlberg, "Blue Bloods") and Lena (Sonequa Martin-Green, "Star Trek: Discovery") responding to a crisis at a local hospital. Lastly, "Fire Country" attends to flooding conditions in Edgewater, California, in the drama's Season 3 finale with Shawn Hatosy ("The Pitt") returning to his guest role as battalion chief Brett Richards in the season's last two episodes.

Make sure to catch your favorite CBS shows as they wrap up this week and stream them on Paramount+.

2026's Academy of Country Music Awards offers a dazzling line up

By Caroline Collacutt
TV Media

Duets and debuts: Returning to the MGM Grand Garden Arena in Las Vegas after a three-year stint in Texas, the 61st annual Academy of Country Music Awards will see glitz, glamor and great music broadcast live on Prime Video, Sunday, May 17.

Featuring categories such as Album of the Year, Song of the Year and Entertainer of the Year, this annual celebration honors the best singers, songwriters and performers from across the country genre. This year's event is set to see a busy stage, with unforgettable debut performances, an iconic first-time host and more.

With plenty still to be announced, the Academy of Country Music has already confirmed 2025's ACM Song of the Year winner Cody Johnson ("I Want You") as one of the night's performers, alongside four-time ACM Award winner Riley Green ("My Way") and 16-time winner Lainey Wilson ("Things a Man Oughta Know"), who returns to the ACM Awards stage for the world premiere performance of her 2026 song "Can't Sit Still."

All three performers have also been nominated for awards throughout the night. While Johnson received four nominations — for Entertainer of the Year, Male Artist of the Year, Single of the Year and Visual Media of the Year — Green earned himself a similarly impressive three nominations for Male Artist of the Year, Album of the Year and Music Event of the Year. Lainey leads both her male counterparts with seven nominations, in categories including Entertainer of the Year, Female Artist of the Year, Song of the Year and more.

According to People, singer Kacey Musgraves ("Rainbow") is also expected to debut a song from her new album, "Middle of Nowhere." Miranda Lambert ("Wranglers") has also been announced as one of the night's performers, leaving fans of the singers to wonder if a duet of "Horses and Divorces" off Musgraves's forthcoming project — which features Lambert — might be in store.

One thing is for certain: fans of the genre will be delighted to see country icon Shania Twain ("You're Still the One") sharing the spotlight with this year's honored guests, as she hosts the night's festivities for the first time.

"It's such an honor to be part of this incredible night celebrating country music's biggest stars, especially with so many talented women leading nominations this year," Twain said in a statement. "I can't wait to welcome all of the fans and artists out for this unforgettable night."

A night of firsts for performances, artists and hosts alike, the 61st annual Academy of Country Music Awards airs Sunday, May 17 — live on Prime Video.

'Summer House' spinoff: Follow Amanda Batula ("Winter House"), Kyle Cooke ("Entrepreneur Elevator Pitch"), Lindsay Hubbard ("Vanderpump Rules") and their fellow "Summer House" co-stars into a new chapter, with the premiere of "In The City" — making its debut Tuesday, May 19, on Bravo, following the Season 10 finale of "Summer House."

Filed immediately after cameras cut for Season 10 of "Summer House," this next adventure joins the aforementioned Batula, Cooke and Hubbard as they return to their lives in New York City, joined by Danielle Olivera ("Scorched Earth," 2023), Whitney Fransway ("The Bachelor"), Andrea Denver ("Winter House"), Lexi Sundin ("Project Runway") and more, as they "navigate the biggest transitions of their lives at the time — marriage, separation, parenthood, reinvention and the reality of growing up without growing apart" (per Bravo).

A major throughline of this first season will follow ongoing separation between Amanda and Kyle, who met, began dating and got married within the first six seasons of "Summer House." In January 2026, the couple announced their separation via Instagram Stories. Now, Amanda and Kyle find themselves handling the logistics of their impending divorce, with cameras watching as they navigate prenups, lawyers, new relationships and more.

Lindsay, meanwhile, has her own love life to worry about. As a single mother with a young daughter, Gemma, Lindsay has bravely decided to embrace a new season of her own, diving headfirst into NYC's dating scene.

"Rebuilding life on her own terms and rediscovering herself, Lindsay balances mommy time with an intentional return to dating, leaning on her closest friends along the way," Bravo describes.

Lindsay has also described how "In The City" differs from "Summer House" in tone, content and setting.

"We're not really, like, in a place where we can party in the Hamptons, in a shared house all summer, every weekend, right? Like I have a baby now, and that's just not where my head is at," she said, speaking with The Daily Dish at BravoCon 2025.

"But I think 'In The City' is so great because you see our day-to-day lives," she continued. "Like, some of us are new parents. Some of us have kids. Some of us are married. Some of us are trying to have kids. So, it really is like the show of just learning how to take that new chapter in stride."

Cities change, relationships change — but will anything stay the same for these friends? Season 1 of "In The City" debuts Tuesday, May 19, on Bravo.

Denis O'Hare, Alfred Molina and Alfre Woodard "The Boroughs"

By Kimberly Tremblay
TV Media

"The Boroughs" - Season 1

The Duffer Brothers ("Stranger Things") are trading Hawkins for the New Mexico desert with their latest supernatural series, "The Boroughs." From creators Jeffrey Addiss ("The Lord of the Rings: The War of the Rohirrim," 2024) and Will Matthews ("Life in a Year," 2020), the eight-episode drama premieres Thursday, May 21, on Netflix and tells the story of a picturesque retirement community hiding a dark secret beneath its perfectly manicured lawns. When newcomer Sam Cooper (Alfred Molina, "Spider-Man: No Way Home," 2021) encounters something monstrous stalking the neighborhood, he's dismissed as a senile old man. However, his neighbors Renee (Geena Davis, "Thelma and Louise"), Judy (Alfre Woodard, "Clemency") and Wally (Denis O'Hare, "American Horror Story") know there's more to this town than meets the eye. Matt and Ross Duffer — known for their work on Netflix's hit series "Stranger Things" — executive produce alongside Hilary Leavitt ("Killing Eve"), with Ben Taylor ("Sex Education") directing the first two episodes.

"Wanda Sykes: Legacy" (2026)

Wanda Sykes ("Curb Your Enthusiasm") returns to her roots in "Wanda Sykes: Legacy," dropping Tuesday, May

Saturday, May 16, 2026

19, on Netflix. Filmed live at her alma mater, Hampton University, Sykes delivers her third Netflix stand-up special with a fearlessly funny takedown of everything from the state of the world to the cultural clash over washcloths. "With the trademark wit and fearless insight that have earned her multiple Emmy wins and nominations," says Netflix, "Sykes delivers an hour of bold, smart and laugh-out-loud comedy that cements her legacy as a comedy icon." Directed by acclaimed filmmaker Julie Dash ("Daughters of the Dust," 1991), the special is produced by Sykes and Page Hurwitz ("The Upshaws") via Push It Productions.

"Mating Season" - Season 1

Finding "the one" is the wildest adventure of all. From the creators behind "Big Mouth," a group of animals stumble through love, lust and relationships when the animated comedy "Mating Season" lands Friday, May 22, on Netflix. Spring has arrived in the forest, and while most creatures are pairing off, Josh the bear (Zach Woods, "Silicon Valley") finds himself flying solo once again. That is until his best friend, Ray the raccoon (Nick Kroll, "Big Mouth"), sets out to change his friend's luck, enlisting neighbors Fawn (June Diane Raphael, "Grace and Frankie") and Penelope (Sabrina Jalees, "Carol's Second Act") to help find Josh a partner before nature's clock runs out. Created by Kroll, Mark Levin ("Nim's Island," 2008), Jennifer Flackett ("Journey to the Center of the Earth," 2008) and Andrew Goldberg ("Family Guy"), "Mating Season" is executive produced by Chris ("Metalocalypse: Army of the Doomstar," 2023) and Shannon Prynosi ("Father of the Year," 2018).

"Ladies First" (2026)

Men will often say "ladies first," but what happens when they're forced to mean it? An adaptation based on Eleonore Pourriat's ("You

Wanda Sykes stars in "Wanda Sykes: Legacy"

Will be a Man," 2013) French film "I Am Not an Easy Man" (2018), "Ladies First" arrives Friday, May 22, on Netflix with Thea Sharrock ("Wicked Little Letters," 2023) directing the film. High-powered advertising executive Damien Sachs (Sacha Baron Cohen, "The Trial of the Chicago 7," 2020) has the world at his fingertips until he wakes up living in his worst nightmare: a parallel universe where women run everything. Suddenly, he's going head-to-head with the fierce Alex

Fox (Rosamund Pike, "Pride and Prejudice," 2005), a former underappreciated employee who now holds all the cards. As they battle for the CEO position, Damien finally experiences what life looks like when the script is flipped. Richard E. Grant ("Can You Ever Forgive Me?," 2018), Emily Mortimer ("Paddington in Peru," 2024), Charles Dance ("The Crown," "Game of Thrones"), Fiona Shaw ("Killing Eve") and Tom Davis ("Wonka," 2023) round out the cast.

"Maximum Pleasure Guaranteed" - Season 1

In a quiet town, a killer is hiding in plain sight. The problem is Paula (Tatiana Maslany, "Orphan Black") is the only one who seems to think so. Her investigation begins Wednesday, May 20, on Apple TV, when "Maximum Pleasure Guaranteed" premieres with its first two episodes. Paula, a newly divorced soccer mom, is already drowning in a bitter custody battle with her ex-husband (Jake Johnson, "New Girl") when she witnesses a crime no one else believes happened. Dismissed at every turn, she refuses to let it go. As she digs deeper to prove she's not losing her mind, her investigation exposes a conspiracy tangled in blackmail and murder. From creator-showrunner David J. Rosen ("Us & Them"), the series also stars Charlie Hall ("Bel-Air") as Rudy, Jessy Hodges ("Barry") as Mallory and Jon Michael Hill ("Elementary") as Det. Baxter.

"You're Killing Me"

Something stranger than fiction lifts off the pages of a famous novelist's work when "You're Killing Me" premieres Monday, May 18, on Acorn TV. The series follows a best-selling novelist, Allie Chandler (Brooke Shields, "Pretty Baby," 1978), who teams up with Andi (Amalia Williamson, "Sullivan's Crossing"), an aspiring podcaster, and Jack (Tom Cavanagh, "Scrubs"), a detective, to investigate a friend's mysterious death. Their investigation leads Allie to believe a killer is stalking the streets of her quaint New England town, and what's worse: they're copying murders from Allie's books. Now, the trio must work together to stop a murderer who's following a script Allie knows all too well. "You're Killing Me" is created and executive produced by Robin Bernheim ("The Princess Switch," 2018), alongside Shields and Lee Goldberg ("She-Wolf of London").

"Kyle Larson vs. The Double"

"There are feats so audacious they border on impossible," according to Prime Video's official synopsis, and for two-time NASCAR Cup Series champion Kyle Larson ("Logan Lucky," 2017), The Double was dream that would have him stop at nothing to get it. It all unfolds in director Cynthia Hill's ("A Chef's Life") documentary "Kyle Larson vs. The Double," which premieres this Thursday, May 21, only on Prime Video. The Double had Larson attempting the Indianapolis 500 and NASCAR's Coca-Cola 600 in a single day — a combined 1,100 miles across two cities, two different cars and two of the sport's most demanding tracks. The logistics alone were staggering: after racing 500 miles at Indianapolis Motor Speedway, Larson would board a helicopter, fly from Indiana to North Carolina and climb into a stock car to take on NASCAR's longest race at Charlotte Motor Speedway, all while battling heat, dehydration and the mental exhaustion that compounds with every lap. Only a handful of drivers have dared to attempt it, but in 2024 and 2025, Larson pushed himself to the absolute limit in pursuit of "one of racing's most elusive accomplishments" (per Prime Video). "Kyle Larson vs. The Double" hails from executive producers Brian Grazer ("A Beautiful Mind," 2001) and Ron Howard ("Arrested Development").

Bobby's battlefield

Stars shine in Season 41 of 'Beat Bobby Flay'

By Caroline Collacutt
TV Media

Bobby Flay stars in "Beat Bobby Flay"

How many bests can Bobby beat? Chef Bobby Flay ("Boy Meets Grill with Bobby Flay") competes against top chefs in "Beat Bobby Flay," airing a new episode Tuesday, May 19, on Food Network.

In this fan-favorite series, Flay invites two guests — often celebrities, fellow chefs or friends of Flay's — to come down to the kitchen, where they introduce that week's duo of competitors. These competitors must cook a quick and easy dish involving a mystery ingredient chosen by Flay, and then present their dishes to Flay's visiting guests. The player who serves the better dish then moves on to the second round, where they go head-to-head in a cook-off against Flay himself.

To even the playing field, this second round offers Flay's competitors a "home-field" advantage. Flay enters the kitchen without knowing what he's about to cook — and what he's cooking is his challenger's signature dish. In the end, a panel of Food Network's top chefs determines a winner through a blind taste test.

And, as the network describes: "If Bobby goes down, the winner can tell the world, 'I beat Bobby Flay!'"

Recently, "Beat Bobby Flay" has seen an impressive lineup of guests, such as actor Josh Gad ("Frozen," 2013) and chef Damaris Phillips ("Southern & Hungry"); "Abbott Elementary's" Quinta Brunson and chef Michael Voltaggio ("Top Chef"); and "Shark Tank's" Lori Greiner, who appears alongside chef Scott Conant ("Chopped"). But no matter the guest, the chef or the challenge, it's always a toss-up to see who'll win the round.

Since the series' premiere in 2013 — and across the series' 500-plus episodes — Flay has certainly seen his fair share of wins. But even the grill master himself can't win 'em all.

During an appearance on "The Drew Barrymore Show" in October 2021, Flay shared his own thoughts on competing, shutting down rumours of favouritism in the kitchen.

"I lose plenty," Bobby told Barrymore. "A lot of times, people will come up to me on the street and be like, 'You know ... you never lose.' And I'm like, 'You don't watch enough, because I lose a lot ... it's like 60%, 70%.'"

"I mean this wholeheartedly, I actually love [when I lose] because I created this show for two reasons: to hang out with friends and to cook," Bobby continued. "Those are the two things I love to do most."

From Rock Shrimp Productions, "Beat Bobby Flay" airs Tuesday, May 19, on Food Network.

The Bride!

After being brought to life as an intended mate for a tormented creature (Bale), the Bride (Buckley) rejects the role she was literally built for. Rather than submitting to a predetermined existence, she escapes into a chaotic society where she must learn what it means to be human. As she navigates this strange new world, the Bride encounters outsiders, artists and misfits who challenge her understanding of identity, love and autonomy. Meanwhile, her creator (Bening) and the creature she was meant to complete struggle with their own loneliness and expectations.

Director: Maggie Gyllenhaal. Stars: Jessie Buckley, Christian Bale, Peter Sarsgaard, Annette Bening, Jake Gyllenhaal, Penelope Cruz. 2026. 126 min. Gothic Romance.

Avatar: Fire and Ash

Following the tragic death of Jake Sully (Worthington) and Neytiri's (Saldana) son Neteyam (Flatters), the loss deeply affects their family, shaping their actions as they struggle with grief. Meanwhile, as tensions on Pandora rise, the Sullys face a new and dangerous enemy: the Mangkwan clan, or the "Ash people," a hostile Na'vi clan from volcanic regions led by the fierce Varang (Chaplin). Unlike other Na'vi, the Ash people have turned away from traditional spiritual beliefs and embrace a harsher, survival-driven philosophy, even aligning at times with human forces. At the same time, the Resources Development Administration continues its campaign to exploit Pandora's resources, escalating the conflict into a broader war involving multiple Na'vi clans, powerful creatures and returning human enemies. The Sully family becomes central to the resistance, fighting not just for survival, but for the future of Pandora.

Director: James Cameron. Stars: Sam Worthington, Zoe Saldana, Sigourney Weaver, Stephen Lang, Kate Winslet, Oona Chaplin, Cliff Curtis, Joel David Moore, Edie Falco, Giovanni Ribisi, David Thewlis, Jack Champion, Jamie Flatters. 2025. 197 min. Science Fiction.

The Yeti

Merriell Sunday Sr. (Bernsen) and Hollis Bannister (Sadler), a powerful oil tycoon and a renowned adventurer, mysteriously disappear during an expedition into a remote, icy region. Concerned for their fate, their children — Ellie Bannister (Allen) and Merriell Sunday Jr. (Nelsen) — lead a rescue mission into the harsh and unforgiving Arctic to find them. As the search party ventures deeper into the harsh landscape, they realize the environment isn't the only threat. A massive prehistoric creature is stalking them, turning the rescue missions into a desperate fight for survival.

Directors: Gene Gallerano, William Pisciotta. Stars: Brittany Allen, Eric Nelsen, Jim Cummings, William Sadler, Corbin Bernsen. 2026. 93 min. Horror.

Matt Damon stars in "The Bourne Identity"

Free Guy

FREEFORM 5:10 PM

When a boring bank teller named Guy (Ryan Reynolds) realises he's actually a non-playable character in a video game, he becomes determined to be the hero and accidentally opens up a world of trouble both in the game and out in the real world.

The Bourne Identity

AMC 5:30 PM

Jason Bourne (Matt Damon) wakes up with no knowledge of his past or his present, only to be handed a name and an impossible mission: dodge the assassins seemingly hell-bent on killing him. Franka Potente, Chris Cooper and Clive Owen also star.

Antiques Roadshow

(33) (57) 8:00 PM

As Season 30 continues, the appraisers bring back the annual "Junk in the Trunk" special to highlight some interesting finds from the season. This time, the finds include a 1979 Ed Ruscha Stage Fright ink on paper and a John Juzek violin circa 1950.

Sullivan's Crossing

WPX 8:00 PM

Maggie (Morgan Kohan) searches for the cause of Tracy's (Emerson MacNeil) fever, while Cal (Chad Michael Murray) learns of Ben's (Colby Frost) dishonesty and Liam (Marcus Rosner), Maggie's ex-husband, finally comes clean about the past.

CIA

(3) 9:00 PM

In the middle of investigating a company suspected of covering up their intelligence theft, Colin (Tom Ellis) and Bill (Nick Gehlfuss) must pivot to dealing with a ghost from Colin's past during the season finale of this police procedural.

Stephen Colbert hosts "The Late Show With Stephen Colbert"

Incredibles 2

FREEFORM 7:30 PM
During this sequel from 2018, Elastigirl must spring into action and battle a cybercriminal trying to hypnotize the world through their computer screens. Meanwhile, Mr. Incredible is left at home, challenged by taking care of his three rambunctious kids.

Next Level Chef

(12) (44) 8:00 PM
The final chefs battle it out to be the food world's newest superstar and win $250,000 as another season of this one-of-a-kind cooking competition reaches its conclusion. However, Gordon Ramsay, Nyesha Arrington and Richard Blais stand in their way.

Killer Investigations

A&E 10:00 PM
This episode recalls the chilling tale of Nikki Sue Entzel, who killed her husband, staged a deadly fire to cover it up, and then cashed in on her man's life insurance policy — all so she could live happily ever after with her secret lover, Earl Howard.

The Late Show With Stephen Colbert

(3) 11:35 PM
After being a staple of late-night television for nearly 33 years, the curtain closes on CBS's Late Show franchise tonight. For its final episode, host Stephen Colbert is expected to pull out all the stops to leave things on a wonderful note.

"Alien: Romulus" (2024)

Set between the events of "Alien" (1979) and "Aliens" (1986), the seventh installment in the film franchise, 2024's "Alien: Romulus," arrives on Hulu this Thursday, May 21. When Rain (Cailee Spaeny, "Priscilla," 2023) discovers her employer has extended her contract, forcing her to remain on the mining colony she has worked on for nearly two years, she realizes she's trapped on planet LV-410. But when her ex-boyfriend Tyler (Archie Renaux, "Shadow and Bone") discovers an abandoned Renaissance space station drifting in orbit, Rain sees a chance to escape. Alongside Tyler, Kay (Isabela Merced, "The Last of Us"), Bjorn (Spike Fearn, "Tell Me Everything"), Navarro (Aileen Wu, "Closing Doors," 2022) and Rain's android brother Andy (David Jonsson, "Rye Lane," 2023), they board the ship hoping to steal cryo pods for their planned nine-year journey to planet Yvaga III. But after they accidentally trigger a lockdown, deadly face-hugger parasites are released into the station, putting everyone in danger. As the creatures hunt them down, Rain upgrades Andy with a corporate control chip to help them survive, only to realize it rewired his loyalty toward the very company they are trying to escape. Directed by Fede Alvarez ("Don't Breathe," 2016) and co-written with Rodo Sayagues ("Evil Dead," 2013), Elizabeth Cantillon ("Concussion," 2015) serves as an executive producer.

"Arco" (2025)

One wrong turn through time leads a boy 1,000 years from home in "Arco" (2025), an animated film streaming Friday, May 22, on Hulu. In the year 2932, 10-year-old Arco (Oscar Tresanini, "Mini-Court") lives in a cloudy paradise where humans have left Earth behind to heal and rainbow flight suits make time travel possible. Too young to fly, he steals a cape and gemstone and launches himself into the past hoping to see dinosaurs. Instead, he crash-lands in 2075, a world ravaged by wildfires and violent storms, where robots care for children and giant bubble barriers protect cities from disaster. After spotting a rainbow streak across the sky, a lonely girl named Iris (Margot Ringard Oldra, "Along Came Love," 2023) finds Arco injured in the forest and befriends him. As Arco and Iris grow close, he tells her stories of a future Earth where humans float among the clouds. But when a massive wildfire closes in and police robots begin hunting for Arco, the children are forced to flee into the wilderness, with nowhere else to run. Directed by Ugo Bienvenu ("Ant-Man"), with a screenplay written by Felix de Vivry ("A Kind of Testament," 2023), "Arco" features the voices of Alma Jodorowsky ("Split"), Nathanael Perrot ("The Dreamers," 2025), Vincent Macaigne ("Dog," 2017) and Louis Garrel ("The Innocent," 2022).

"Camp Rock" (2008)

An unforgettable summer at music camp begins when "Camp Rock" (2008) arrives on Hulu this Friday, May 22. Shy teenager Mitchie Torres (Demi Lovato, "Sonny with a Chance") dreams of spending her summer at Camp Rock, a prestigious music camp that her family can't afford. But when her mother (Maria Canals-Barrera, "Wizards of Waverly Place") lands a catering gig at the camp, Mitchie finally gets in on the condition that she work in the kitchen — a secret she's desperate to keep. While trying to fit in among the wealthier campers, Mitchie tells a lie about her family that quickly takes on a life of its own, capturing the attention of popular camper Tess Tyler (Meaghan Martin, "10 Things I Hate About You") and her crew of fellow campers. Meanwhile, spoiled pop star Shane Gray (Joe Jonas, "A Very Jonas Christmas Movie," 2025) is forced to spend the summer teaching at the camp and becomes fixated on a voice he overhears singing. As the camp's Final Jam competition approaches, Mitchie must decide whether she is ready to step into the spotlight as herself or the person that people believe her to be. Directed by Matthew Diamond ("Jane the Virgin"), Mitchie's story continues in "Camp Rock 2" (2010), also streaming on Hulu.

antagonist in Season 2, which they called Titan X. "I think that we felt like it would be really fun to do something new and to give audiences something that they weren't expecting."

That doesn't mean they're not willing to play with the lore. For example, at one point in Season 2, we're given a brief look at records of past monster appearances, and they refer to a historical sighting of one called "Titanus Mo-sura," which is the original, Japanese name of Mothra.

Hollywood Q&A

By Adam Thomlison
TV Media

Q: Is Mothra going to show up in "Monarch: Legacy of Monsters"?
A: So far, the Apple TV series "Monarch: Legacy of Monsters," a continuation of the classic Godzilla movies that have been produced since the 1950s, has stuck mostly to the big guy himself.

King Ghidorah, Godzilla and Mothra in "Godzilla, Mothra and King Ghidorah: Giant Monsters All-Out Attack"

I say "mostly" because (spoiler alert for anyone who hasn't seen Season 2, which aired this spring) the second season featured King Kong as a sometimes-rival, sometimes-ally of the amphibious mega-lizard. This tracks with the recent big-screen films, most notably 2021's "Godzilla vs. Kong."

But as you point out, the Godzilla movies have produced a rich list of other monsters over the years, one of the most notable being Mothra, a giant moth who has similarly worked and tangled with Godzilla multiple times over the decades.

But "Monarch" has no plans to introduce Mothra or any of the other classic monsters. Not that they haven't thought about it.

"We had some bad auditions from Mothra," executive producer Tory Tunnell ("Novocaine," 2025) told Comic-Book.com. Instead, the producers decided to create a new monster as the Q: Is Dan Brown going to do more "The Lost Symbol"?

A: There won't be any more of Peacock's "The Lost Symbol," though it doesn't look like author Dan Brown had much to do with that decision.

"The Lost Symbol" took Brown's novel of the same name, the third in the series featuring globe-trotting symbolologist Robert Langdon, and turned it into a prequel, showing a younger version of the character who would become famous through the hit book, and 2006 movie, "The Da Vinci Code."

Peacock canceled the series after one season in 2021, saying it had told the novel's complete story. However, it just so happened that the show underperformed in the ratings and was presumably expensive to make.

But if it had been a hit, Peacock could have continued on. There are six books in Brown's series. Three have already been adapted to the screen — "The Da Vinci Code" in 2006; "Angels & Demons" in 2009; and "Inferno" in 2016 — but that leaves two more yet to be filmed —

"Origins" and "The Secret of Secrets," though the latter was published four years after "The Lost Symbol" was canceled — that could have been drawn on for plots.

But the world is still hungry for Dan Brown content. Last year, Netflix took out an option for film version of "The Secret of Secrets," though not much is known about that, except that "Lost" co-creator Carlton Cuse is involved.

Meanwhile, Brown himself is still writing, if his Instagram is anything to go by. He's shared a couple of "still writing" posts in the past few months, in between promoting "The Secret of Secrets," which is not yet a year old.
