Late Laughs

The Tonight Show Starring Jimmy Fallon (R)

A painting of a woman from 1860 is going viral because people think she's walking while texting on an iPhone. The name of the painting is "Getting a DM from Adam Levine."

You've got to hand it to [Donald] Trump, though. He has endless scandals for six years and he always manages to keep them feeling fresh and new. Yeah, the action never stops. It's like if Discovery ran "Shark Week" 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

Just a thought, but if the government doesn't want people reading [top secret] files, maybe they shouldn't label them 'top secret.' It's like a guy labeling a porn folder on his computer 'best porn.' It's like, just call it 'banana bread recipe.'

Snoop Dogg launched his very first breakfast cereal, called 'Snoop Loopz.' ... But he's not the only rapper launching his own breakfast cereal. ... There's also 'Sa-Wheaties,' next there's '2 Charmz' and finally, of course, 'Drake-Nuts.'

Scientists are working to bring back the Tasmanian Tiger, which went extinct almost 100 years ago [in 1936]. Scientists were like, "We brought back Taco Bell's Mexican Pizza, we can bring this back, too!"

Jimmy Kimmel Live! with Nicole Byer (R)

I'm your guest host, Nicole Byer. I'm an actress and standup comedian. I host four podcasts, as well as "Wipeout" on TBS and "Nailed It" on Netflix ... [I'm in] "Grand Crew" on NBC and yet, somehow, Jimmy [Kimmel] is the one who needs a vacation.

At least one case of polio has been reported in New York City, and health experts believe it could end up here in L.A. very soon. So, that's fun, right? How is polio making a comeback? Polio feels like a disease that you should only be able to catch in a black-and-white movie. Didn't we get rid of polio in, like, the '50s? Why can't we bring back the fun stuff from the '50s, like potato sack races [and] smoking on airplanes?

Papa Johns is stripping the toppings off their pizza for a weird new dish. They're called "Papa Bowls," which are just loose pizza toppings and cheese — with no crust. ... These are perfect for people who love pizza but wish eating it made them feel like a feral raccoon.

According to a new study, there has never been a worse time to be a single man: "Younger and middle-aged men are the loneliest they've been in generations." ... Now that I think about it, we can't have all these depressed straight guys on the loose; that's how insurrections happen. And murders. And podcasts!

Not only is it harder to meet someone right now, it's also more expensive. New research found that 42% of singles have started going on cheaper dates because the cost of living has gotten so high. ... Here in L.A., one of the go-to moves is to ask a woman out for a hike, which is, like, not OK. We're dating; we're not Lewis and Clark discovering Montana.

Late Night With Seth Meyers (R)

The discount department store corporation that operates T.J. Maxx, Marshalls and HomeGoods agreed to a $13-million fine for selling recalled infant sleeper products. OK, I knew this [electrified crib] felt unsafe.

Elon Musk reportedly had an affair with Google co-founder Sergey Brin's wife that resulted in Brin cashing out on his investments in Musk's company. Musk broke the cardinal rule: don't ever mess with a guy who knows how to check your Gmail.

A couple in the U.K. had a "Back to the Future" (1985) movie-themed wedding, including a replica of the DeLorean and the creepiest mother/son dance you've ever seen.

After singer Adele canceled her Las Vegas residency dates at Caesar's Palace earlier this year [2022], she told her fans she was "heartbroken to have to cancel them." On the bright side, that probably means you'll hear a couple of new songs.

'Fear' the undead: 'Fear the Walking Dead' returns with final episodes

By Sarah Passingham
TV Media

The end of the trail has just begun for some apocalypse survivors in the return of the final season of "Fear the Walking Dead." The "Walking Dead" spinoff series' midseason premiere airs on AMC Sunday, Oct. 22, just in time for an early celebration of the eeriest holiday of the year. Kim Dickens ("Friday Night Lights") stars as Madison Clark, a high school guidance counsellor before the outbreak who now oversees the reconstruction of a survivors' island colony.

"Fear the Walking Dead" closes out an impressive eight-season run with six episodes to go before the big, two-part series finale set to air Sunday, Nov. 19. The first of now six spinoffs of the original series, "Fear the Walking Dead" premiered in 2015 and followed an extended family as they tried to survive in post-apocalyptic Los Angeles. The series detailed the survivors' journey as they traveled and settled in California, Mexico and now an island off the Georgia coast.

The island, known as PADRE, was constructed after the walker outbreak as a military operation intended to distribute supplies to new communities of survivors. A tragic walker invasion decimated PADRE, and since then, desperate survivors have used the island's resources that once represented a more hopeful future.

In the first half of the final season of "Fear the Walking Dead," Madison landed on PADRE after a hard-fought journey to find the island with Morgan Jones (Lennie James, "Save Me"). The pair reunited Morgan with his daughter, Mo (Zoey Merchant, "The Price of Fame"), by force at PADRE before the show leaps seven years into the future. Madison is imprisoned on PADRE, while Morgan spends most of the first six episodes of the season on his own mission — trying to save Grace Mukherjee (Karen David, "Legacies") from radiation sickness before sadly losing her and setting off to Alexandria.

With the dangerous former co-leaders of PADRE no longer a problem, Madison attempts to reinvigorate the spirit of PADRE and the island with the remaining resources available to them. While the final episodes of "Fear the Walking Dead" could certainly detail the establishment of a post-apocalyptic paradise, this is the Walking Dead universe after all, so there will undoubtedly be danger lurking in the shadows of PADRE.

This season also stars Rubén Blades ("The Counselor," 2013) as resistance leader Daniel Salazar; Colman Domingo ("Sing Sing," 2023) as antihero Victor Strand; Danay Garcia ("Prison Break") as survivor Luciana Galvez; Austin Amelio ("Hit Man," 2023) as PADRE member Dwight; Christine Evangelista ("Mrs. Fletcher") as Dwight's wife, Sherry; Jenna Elfman ("The Twilight Zone") as nurse June Dorie, who is on the run from PADRE; and one former cast member whose appearance in a trailer for the upcoming return of the series may have come as a surprise to "Fear the Walking Dead" fans.

Daniel Sharman ("A Town Called Malice") returns as Troy Otto, a member of the Broke Jaw Ranch community who last appeared in the third season of "Fear the Walking Dead." It seemed unlikely that Troy would make any sort of comeback after he was bludgeoned, but leave it to the Walking Dead universe to bring someone back from the dead. In an official trailer for the upcoming season, Troy spits, "Madison, been a while," before removing his sunglasses, revealing his chilling new appearance. Though one icy-white iris doesn't seem too bad for having survived a hammer attack.

Jenna Elfman in "Fear the Walking Dead"

The trailer also teases, in addition to some gruesome walker kills, a sword-wielding Victor teaming up with Madison to "save PADRE"; Daniel, Luciana and June all preparing for battle; nearly everyone staring down the barrel of a gun; explosions, car flips and muddy battles.

After the original series, "The Walking Dead," concluded its run after 11 seasons in 2022, two exciting new series entered the franchise. "The Walking Dead" really made use of its filming locations in Georgia, but these two spinoffs took the stories of survivors far, far away from the Peach State. "The Walking Dead: Dead City" plants Maggie (Lauren Cohan, "Whiskey Cavalier") and Negan (Jeffrey Dean Morgan, "The Good Wife") in Manhattan as they search for her son while Marshal Perlie Armstrong (Gaius Charles, "Friday Night Lights") is on Negan's tail.

"Dead City" premiered this June and was renewed for a second season by AMC, along with the second new 2023 addition to the Walking Dead universe. "The Walking Dead: Daryl Dixon" follows Daryl (Norman Reedus, "The Bikeriders," 2023) after he finds himself on the shores of France with no memory of exactly how he got there. AMC promoted the series alongside the travel docuseries "Ride With Norman Reedus" airing immediately after the post-apocalyptic drama as "A Night With Norman." Daryl is a fan favorite in the Walking Dead franchise, having starred in nearly every single one of the original series' 177-episode-long run.

The future of the franchise rests in continuing spinoffs, including the upcoming series, "The Walking Dead: The Ones Who Live." Expected to premiere in 2024, the drama reunites beloved lovers Rick Grimes (Andrew Lincoln, "Guillermo del Toro's Cabinet of Curiosities") and Michonne (Danai Gurira, "Black Panther: Wakanda Forever," 2022) and is set after the events of the original series' finale.

Don't miss the return of "Fear the Walking Dead" Sunday, Oct. 22, on AMC.

Do the 'Hustle': Blunt, Evans star in new crime drama

By Dana Simpson
TV Media

Chris Evans, Andy Garcia and Emily Blunt in "Pain Hustlers"

There is something to be said for an empowering woman. Whether in film, on TV, within the pages of a book or in real life, women with drive are an inspiring force to be reckoned with. We've seen it with Jennifer Lawrence's take on Miracle Mop inventor Joy Mangano in the 2015 drama "Joy," Julia Roberts as the titular water-quality crusader in "Erin Brockovich" (2000), and on both sides — law enforcement and criminal — with Sandra Oh and Jodie Comer in the hit BBC America/AMC series "Killing Eve."

On Friday, Oct. 27, Netflix releases a brand-new empowering woman story, "Pain Hustlers." Not dissimilar to "Joy," "Pain Hustlers" is the fictionalized account of a true story involving a woman who will do anything to make ends meet.

Loosely based on the rise and fall of a now-defunct American opioid company called Insys Therapeutics, "Pain Hustlers" tells the company's story by way of an empowering female lead who accepts a job out of pure desperation and stops at nothing to make a name for herself while providing for her family. Like shows such as Hulu's "The Dropout" (about Elizabeth Holmes and Theranos) and "Dopesick" (about the impact of the opioid epidemic on various American communities), "Pain Hustlers" does not necessarily end well for its main character.

There are several big names behind "Pain Hustlers," first and foremost of which is Emily Blunt. The "Devil Wears Prada" (2006) and "A Quiet Place" (2018) star portrays leading lady and ill-fated empowering woman Liza Drake, who acts as the lens through which audiences see the action unfold.

Liza is a high school dropout who, in order to provide for herself and her daughter, needs to get a job — any job — as soon as possible. It seems her luck has finally begun to turn around when she lands a job at a local pharmaceutical startup. While the company is already failing upon Liza's arrival, her determination and eager-to-impress attitude sends her and her new employer on the adventure of a lifetime. Sadly, Liza soon finds herself in the middle of a criminal case involving fentanyl, racketeering and a whole lot of lies.

Working alongside Liza at the company is Pete Brenner, a fast-talking businessman with a deep love of money, played by Chris Evans ("Captain America: The First Avenger," 2011). Andy Garcia ("Father of the Bride," 2022) and Brian D'Arcy James ("West Side Story") also take on roles within the fictionalized pharmaceutical company, while Catherine O'Hara ("Schitt's Creek") and Chloe Coleman ("Big Little Lies") play Liza's mother and daughter, respectively.

Jay Duplass ("The Chair"), Aubrey Dollar ("Battle Creek"), Alexis Baca ("The Curse of Abigail Proctor," 2023), Amit Shah ("The Hundred-Foot Journey," 2014), Hillary Harley ("Queen America"), Alex Mitchell ("Candy"), Selena Anduze ("WandaVision") and Britt Rentschler ("Uncle Frank," 2020) also star in "Pain Hustlers."

The film, which had its official premiere Sept. 11, 2023, at the Toronto International Film Festival, is based on the book "Pain Hustlers: Crime and Punishment at an Opioid Startup" by Evan Hughes. Published just one month prior to its film release in select theatres (Oct. 20) and on Netflix (Oct. 27), the tell-all book touts business instincts and timing among the reasons Insys Therapeutics grew so quickly, but it is just as quick to cite backdoor deals, shady marketing decisions and, eventually, whistleblowers among the painkiller maker's downfall.

And with reviews such as that by New York Times bestselling author Patrick Radden Keefe, which called "Pain Hustlers" "a tour de force" and wrote that the story "unfolds with the velocity and verve of a Scorsese film," the film version is all but sure to be a fast-paced thrill ride for true crime lovers and movie fans alike.

While diving into the gist of the film in a Sept. 12 article called "The True Story of Chris Evans and Emily Blunt's 'Pain Hustlers'," Esquire writer Laura Martin is quick to state that Blunt's character, Liza, is entirely fictional but that "the plot of the film is heavily drawn from real-life events, first reported by the New York Times journalist Evan Hughes in 2018" (this was prior to his recently published book).

"Pain Hustlers" was adapted for the screen by Wells Tower, author of the 2010 work of fiction "Everything Ravaged, Everything Burned." David Yates, of Harry Potter franchise and "Legend of Tarzan" (2016) fame, serves as director and producer alongside co-producers Cliff Lanning ("Meg 2: The Trench," 2023), Patrick Wade, Cyrus Mojibi, Lawrence Grey, Lloyd Everard and Lawrence Kao, who all worked together to produce the 2016 full-length horror flick "Lights Out."

Don't sleep on the hustle, "Pain Hustlers" hits select theaters in the United States as of Friday, Oct. 20, and premieres on Netflix the following week, Friday, Oct. 27.

Penn and Teller search for luminary illusionists in new show

By Caroline Collacutt
TV Media

Magic makers: Say "abracadabra" and "alakazam" as the curtain lifts for an all-new season of magic when Season 10 of "Penn & Teller: Fool Us" premieres Friday, Oct. 27, on the CW, welcoming an all-new face to the famed Penn and Teller stage.

While Alyson Hannigan ("How I Met Your Mother") bid farewell to the series at the end of its ninth season, she also set the stage for her enchanting replacement: Brooke Burke ("Melissa & Joey"), who is slated to take on the role of host, offering fans just the same flourish of excitement and insight as she joins the magicians on their journey to find the best in the biz.

The series — filmed at the Rio All-Suite Hotel & Casino in Las Vegas — follows as the famed illusionist/comedian duo, Penn and Teller, welcomes hopeful magicians and illusionists to the hotel's stage. Asked to perform their best stunts, the illusionists will ideally (and hopefully) fool even greats like Penn and Teller.

Four magicians perform their routines each episode, and following, Penn and Teller put their heads together and see if they can solve the trick behind the magic, then recreate the act for its original performers. If the duo can replicate the illusion, the game is over. Alternately, if they find themselves fooled, the magician in question will earn themselves a "Fool Us" trophy, alongside a five-star trip back to Las Vegas to perform as the opening act in Penn and Teller's highly popular show, also held at the hotel.

Seeing as a magician never tells their secrets, however, when the time comes to guess whether the duo has figured out the trick correctly, the answer must be presented without revealing any illuminating details to the audience, meaning Penn and Teller make their guesses via cryptic clues and descriptions, or through super-secret notes, shared only with their fellow magicians.

After all is said and done, Penn and Teller then go on to perform their own illusions, wowing not only their competitors but also viewers at home, as they bend reality into something more magical.

Filled with awe, wonder and delight, "Penn & Teller: Fool Us" premieres its 10th season, Friday, Oct. 27, on the CW.

Artistry abounds: With boundless creativity and a taste for experience, artist and restaurateur Michael Chow has left his impression far and wide. Now, director Nick Hooker ("Everything is Copy," 2015) tells his story from start to finish, as the feature-length documentary, "AKA Mr. Chow," premieres Sunday, Oct. 22, on HBO.

"Born Zhou Yinghua, he triumphed over trauma, loss and prejudice through acting and art before crafting a new identity as restaurateur Mr. Chow," HBO describes. "After decades as a successful businessman and celebrated host to artists, actors, musicians, designers and models, Mr. Chow has turned to painting and once again redefined himself — this time, as the artist M."

Mr. Chow now has locations worldwide, serving authentic Beijing cuisine alongside creative original recipes, such as their infamous Chicken Satay and Ma Mignon. While offering a unique dining experience, Mr. Chow restaurants consider a meal to be, according to the website,

Penn Jillette, Brooke Burke and Teller in "Penn & Teller: Fool Us"

"a social event meant to be experienced with others." They go on to explain: "Food is shared in a communal setting. Dishes are served 'family style' to ensure all guests get a taste of everything. The principles of Chinese cuisine are entrenched in a theory of harmony, dictating that all facets of the senses are stimulated equally. A balance of tastes, textures, fragrances and colors is presented to enhance and accentuate the other."

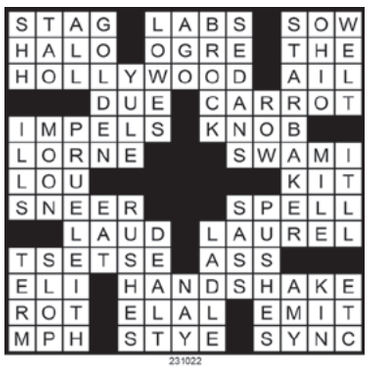

Since opening its flagship London location in 1968, Mr. Chow has now opened restaurants in Beverly Hills, Calif., New York City, Miami Beach and Las Vegas. Now expanding to Middle Eastern diners, as the franchise is set to open its newest location later this year in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia.

Serving famous clientele such as The Beatles, Federico Fellini, Frank Sinatra and Jeanne Moreau, the Mr. Chow restaurant empire is certainly one of Chow's crowning achievements — but not his only.

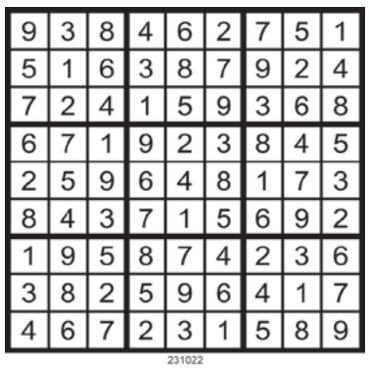

"AKA Mr. Chow" is also set to dive into the visionary's latest endeavor: his art — a talent the man is returning to after a 50-year hiatus. Currently, Chow — now 'M' — dabbles in painting, sculpture, poetry and installation pieces, like his immersive experience, "The Blind Room, Global Warming for all Seasons." His next exhibition — "Bridges" — is scheduled to run from November to January of this year, at the Waddington Custot in London, England.

Dive into a life filled with artistry, when "AKA Mr. Chow" premieres, Sunday, Oct. 2, on HBO.

"Life on Our Planet" - Season 1

Explore the vast history of the planet we call home in the new docuseries "Life on Our Planet," premiering Wednesday, Oct. 25, on Netflix. After four billion years and five mass extinction events, the approximately 20 million species currently living on Earth make up just one percent of the planet's past inhabitants, with so many of them lost to time. Narrated by Academy Award winner Morgan Freeman ("The Shawshank Redemption," 1994), the series, created in partnership with Industrial Light & Magic, uses the latest technology and science to bring long-extinct creatures back to life, chronicling the dramatic and storied history of rising and falling life on Earth and what it means for life today. Created by Silverback Films and Steven Spielberg's ("Schindler's List," 1993) Amblin Television, "Life on Our Planet" is executive produced by Alastair Fothergill ("Planet Earth"), Keith Scholey ("David Attenborough: A Life on Our Planet," 2020), Darryl Frank ("The Americans") and Justin Falvey ("Resident Alien").

"Get Gotti"

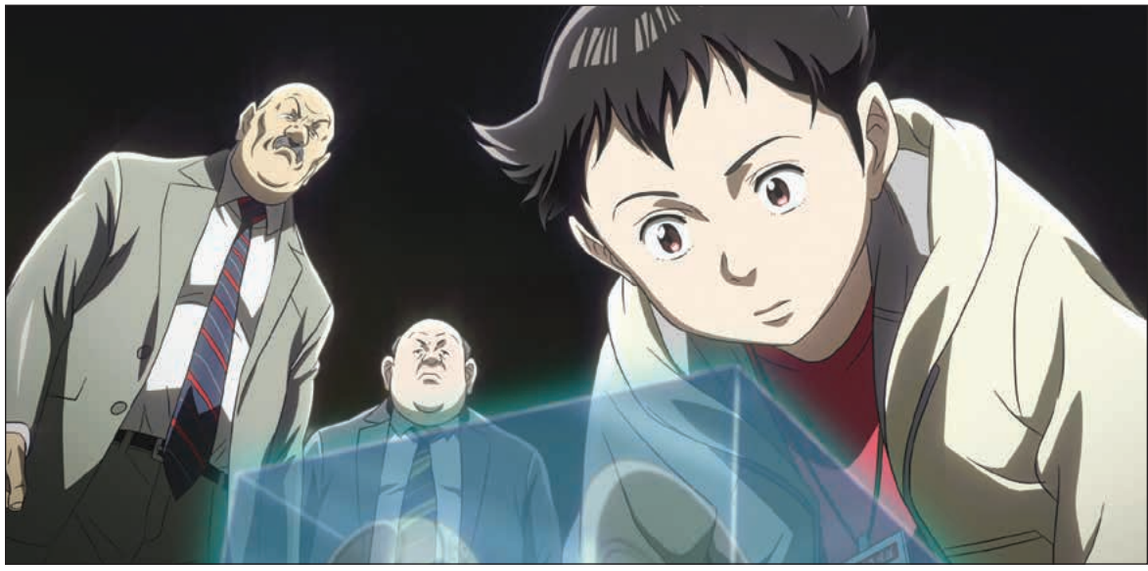

The riveting story of the FBI's battle to bring down infamous mob boss John Gotti in the new, three-part docuseries "Get Gotti," premiering Tuesday, Oct. 24, on Netflix. In 1985, John Gotti, part of the Gambino crime family, was both the most powerful and most surveilled man in New York. After his public execution of "Boss of Bosses" Paul Castellano, the young mobster catapulted to the head of America's most powerful Mafia family, while law enforcement and state prosecutors scrambled for their chance to bring the charismatic Godfather down. Told from both sides of the law, "Get Gotti" follows Gotti's "meteoric rise and crashing fall — all told from the very mouths of those who brought him down" (per Netflix).

"The After" (2023)

Leave grief alone for long enough, and it'll find a way to deal with you. Broken rideshare driver Dayo (David Oyelowo, "Selma," 2014) finds out just that when the newest Netflix Original British short film, "The After," premieres Wednesday, Oct. 25, on the streamer. Following the loss of a family member, Dayo picks up a passenger who forces him to confront his grief head-on. From the minds of John Julius Schwabach and director Misan Harriman ("Harry & Meghan"), "The After" is produced by star David Oyelowo, Nicky Bentham ("Moon," 2009) and Daisy Robinson. Jessica Plummer ("EastEnders"), Sule Rimi ("Andor"), Izuka Hoyle ("Boiling Point," 2021), Alan Williams ("The Cockroach That Ate Cincinnati," 1996), Nikesh Patel ("Indian Summers"), Ellen Francis ("Chemistry of Death"), Dan Griffiths ("Outlawed," 2018), Ruth Sheen ("Another Year," 2010) and Dominique Tipper ("The Expanse") also star.

"Pluto" - Season 1

Can robots become more human than their creators? Mystery thriller "Pluto" asks those questions and more when it debuts Thursday, Oct. 26, on Netflix. Based on the manga written and illustrated by Naoki Urasawa of "Monster" and "20th Century Boys" fame, "Pluto" is a mature take on Osamu Tezuka's family-friendly "Astro Boy" — specifically the "Greatest Robot in the World" story arc. It follows Gesicht (Shinshu Fuji, "Blade Runner: Black Lotus"), a robot detective from Europol, as he investigates the murders of the world's seven most advanced robots and their human allies. What Geischt discovers is a plot to destabilize the peace between man and machine. Yoko Hikasa ("K-On!"), Minori Suzuki ("I'm Quitting Heroing"), Toshihiko Seki ("Kamen Rider Den-O"), Romi Park ("Attack on Titan"), Ron Bottitta ("The Adventures of Tintin," 2011), Toshio Furukawa ("Dragon Ball Z: Battle of the Gods," 2013) and Eizô Tsuda ("Wolf Children," 2012) all provide voiceover for the show. With directing by Toshio Kawaguchi ("Fullmetal Alchemist: The Sacred Star of Milos," 2011) and music by Yugo Kanno ("Psycho-Pass"), the production of "Pluto" is handled by Genco and Studio M2. Genco's past work includes producing "Accel World," "Serial Experiments Lain" and "Sword Art Online," while Studio M2 has helped with animation for Season 2 of "Granblue Fantasy The Animation" and "Ohihei."

"Hot Potato: The Story of The Wiggles" (2023)

The incredible true story of one of the most popular children's musical groups of all time unfolds on Prime Video when "Hot Potato: The Story of The Wiggles" premieres Tuesday, Oct. 24. After four friends and early childhood educators — Anthony Field, Greg Page, Murray Cook and Jeff Fatt — recorded a one-off album of children's music in the early 1990s, they changed the global music industry forever. After numerous rejections from industry producers, The Wiggles take their career into their own hands and become the most successful children's act of all time. Now, with the original Wiggles in semi-retirement, a new generation of bright-eyed performers — including Simon Pryce, Lachlan Gillespie, Tsehay Hawkins, Caterina Mete, Evie Ferris, John Pearce, Lucia Field, Emma Watkins, Sam Moran and Kelly Hamilton — have been taking the reins. "A backstage pass to one of the world's greatest entertainment stories, [the documentary] features decades of personal archive footage and intimate access to their sold-out shows" (per Prime Video). Directed and written by Sally Aitken ("The Pacific: In the Wake of Captain Cook with Sam Neill"), "Hot Potato: The Story of The Wiggles" is produced by Aitken, Cass Avery ("Chasing Great," 2016), Kate Chiodo ("Ready, Steady, Wiggle!"), Luke Field ("The Wiggles: Toot Toot!," 1998), Fraser Grut ("Syrenia," 2015), Aline Jacques ("Living Universe," 2018) and Daniel Story ("Housebound," 2014).

"Zainab Johnson: Hijabs Off"

Comedian, actress and writer Zainab Johnson's ("Growing Fangs," 2021) debut stand-up special, "Zainab Johnson: Hijabs Off." premieres Tuesday, Oct. 24, on Prime Video. This hour-long event is set to release only days after the Season 3 premiere of Johnson's other Prime collaboration – her scripted series, "Upload," in which she stars alongside Robbie Amell ("Simulant," 2023), Allegra Edwards ("Briarpatch," 2020) and more. "Hijabs Off," however, allows Johnson to get far more personal. Nothing is off limits, according to the special's trailer. During her routine, Johnson delves into her unique identity as a Black Muslim woman – one who grew up in Harlem alongside 12 siblings. Despite being her first special, Johnson has performed her comedy on television numerous times, competing on the late NBC reality show, "Last Comic Standing," on HBO's "All Def Comedy" and on "Late Night with Seth Meyers." Even more, Johnson also has appeared on many scripted television series, such as "Ramy," "A Black Lady Sketch Show," "American Koko," "Avant-Guardians," and "Private Practice." Adding to her impressive resume, Johnson also acts as executive producer for the special, alongside Mike Bertolina ("Mae Martin: SAP," 2023).

"Studio 666" (2022)

Starring the Foo Fighters ("The Colour and the Shape," 1997), Jenna Ortega ("Wednesday"), Whitney Cummings ("2 Broke Girls"), Leslie Grossman ("American Horror Story") and more, the 2022 horror-comedy, "Studio 666," makes its streaming debut Wednesday, Oct. 25, on Prime Video – just in time for Halloween. Directed by B.J. McDonnell ("Slayer: The Repentless Killogy," 2019), with a screenplay written by Jeff Buhler ("Pet Sematary," 2019) and Rebecca Hughes ("Der Vulkan," 1999), "Studio 666" is based on a story by Foo Fighters frontman Dave Grohl ("Tenacious D in the Pick of Destiny," 2006), who stars in the movie alongside bandmates Nate Mendel ("The Morning Show"), Pat Smear ("Citizen Tania," 1997), Rami Jaffee ("Happily Divorced"), Chris Shiflett ("Duncanville") and the late Taylor Hawkins ("CBGB," 2013). The film follows as the band – acting as themselves, the Foo Fighters – attempt to overcome their writer's block by moving into a mansion together in order to write their tenth studio album, only to find the place is home to a suspicious amount of satanic artifacts … and a very gruesome past. Fun and frightening, "Studio 666" also stars Will Forte ("MacGruber," 2010), Lionel Richie ("Can't Slow Down," 1983) and the famed horror filmmaker, John Carpenter ("Halloween," 1978).

Zainab Johnson stars in "Zainab Johnson: Hijabs Off"

Meg 2: The Trench

Just when you thought it was safe to go back into the water — a megalodon makes an appearance. Five years removed from defeating a massive, man-eating shark, deep-sea diving expert Jonas Taylor (Statham) is contacted by his former peers at the Zhang Institute to help map unexplored sections of the Mariana Trench. Believed to be the breeding site of megalodons and other oceanic giants, Taylor, accompanied by his brother-in-law Jiuming (Jing), discovers the intended sanctuary to be host to a disruptive mining operation, led by the mercenary Montes (Peris-Mencheta). Caught between the protective plunderers and the territorial sharks, Taylor must once again lead his family and friends to safety.

Mary knows best

Chef Mary Berg teaches aspiring chefs in how-to show

By Caroline Collacutt
TV Media

Calling all aspiring chefs! It's time to sharpen your knives and prepare your mise-en-scène, as "Mary Makes it Easy" airs an all-new episode, Sunday, Oct. 22, on Food Network.

Hosted by Canadian television host, cookbook author and chef Mary Berg (winner of "MasterChef Canada" Season 3), this how-to series follows as Berg gives step-by-step instructions to follow recipes that are guaranteed to impress even the pickiest of eaters, as the chef hopes to teach culinary novices and cooks alike how to expand their recipe book without any of the stress.

With multiple seasons now under her belt, Berg has focused episodes on a myriad of topics, including: how to make multiple recipes all utilizing the same base ingredients — like coleslaw used both in golden brown Japanese Okonomiyaki-inspired pancakes and store-bought rotisserie chicken, turned into a nearly unrecognizable, quick and easy Coq au Vin; upgrading store-bought cookie doughs and pie crusts to make impressive desserts; using your kitchen tools — cast iron included — to their fullest potential; and even making the correct wine and alcohol pairings, in an episode in which Berg "shakes things up with Wine Can Chicken that's cooked with a cocktail of dry white wine, lemon and herbs" (Food Network).

In episodes to come, Food Network reveals that Berg shares her love for cooking outside, detailing recipes that "take grill night to the next level."

"Brie and Pancetta Burgers are topped with chunky grilled red onion and gooey Brie cheese," they describe. "For a vegetarian grill-friendly main, Mary's Grilled Soy Maple Mushrooms caramelize beautifully, and on the lighter side, Grilled Scallops with Minty Pea Salad are flavored with garlic, lemon and herbs on a peppery arugula base. Finally, Mary does some barbecue baking with decadent Cheese Stuffed Grilled Garlic Flatbreads."

And — taking her creative approach, as always — Berg even shares her own, unique "mash-up" recipes throughout the series, melding common dishes like Caesar Salad and Roast Chicken, even crafting a Taco Meatball skillet.

Delving into the best tips, tricks and tools necessary for any cook, Mary Berg impresses in every episode of "Mary Makes it Easy," airing Sundays on Food Network.

"American Horror Stories" - Huluween Event

Bringing out a new slate of spooky tales to celebrate the season, the four-part "American Horror Stories" Huluween special event streams Thursday, Oct. 26, on Hulu. A spinoff of the long-running horror anthology "American Horror Story," which involves a terrifying new theme each season, this edition from original series creators Ryan Murphy and Brad Falchuk features a stand-alone horror story in every episode. This special installment explores the unknown danger of online friendships, overly attached artificial intelligence devices, a hunger for success and the lengths one woman is willing to go to achieve it, and an online blind date gone wrong. Written by Falchuk, Murphy, Manny Coto ("American Horror Story") and Joseph Baken ("Mailman," 2021), directors include Max Winkler ("Flower," 2017), Elegance Bratton ("The Inspection," 2022), Petra Collins ("Olivia Rodrigo: vampire," 2023) and Alexis Martin Woodall ("American Horror Story"). Falchuk, Murphy, Coto, Woodall and Jon Robin Baitz ("Brothers & Sisters") are executive producers.

"Shoresy" - Season 2

Never lose again when the Canadian comedy series "Shoresy" premieres its second season, Friday, Oct. 27, on Hulu. A spinoff of the hit fast-talking, Canadian comedy series "Letterkenny," this hockey-focused series heads up north to follow the titular character, Shoresy (played by series creator Jared Keeso of "Letterkenny"), as he joins the Northern Ontario Senior Hockey Organization (a.k.a. The NOSHO) to play alongside the Sudbury Blueberry Bulldogs, hoping to never lose a game ever again. And now that they've taken the NOSHO championship once, Shoresy's attitude is even worse as he works to keep his team on top and their winning streak running. Across each of the series' six 30-minute episodes, the Sudbury locals gather to play hockey, drink, socialize and, of course, chirp one another mercilessly. Shot on location in Sudbury, Ontario, "Shoresy" co-stars Tasya Teles ("The 100"), Ryan McDonell ("Smallville"), Keilani Elizabeth Rose ("Flimsy"), Blair Lamora ("Paranormal Nightshift"), Terry Ryan ("A Fire in the Cold Season," 2019), Harlan Blayne Kytwayhat ("Tribal"), Max Bouffard ("Letterkenny"), Jonathan-Ismaël Diaby ("Tout le monde en parle"), Keegan Long ("Letterkenny") and new talent Andrew Antsanen.

"Susie Searches" (2022)

When an awkward college student attempts to gain popularity for herself — and her true crime podcast — she decides to unravel a story known by the entire school: the mysterious disappearance of the campus heartthrob. "Susie Searches" is available to stream on Hulu as of Friday, Oct. 27. Starring Kiersey Clemons ("The Flash," 2023) as Susie and Alex Wolff ("Hereditary," 2018) as the missing Jesse, this thriller boasts a script written by William Day Frank ("Fixation," 2022) and Sophie Kargman ("Malibu Horror Story," 2023), the latter of whom also acted as director, as the film is based on her 2020 short film of the same name. Packed with nonstop twists and turns, "Susie Searches" also features the acting talents of Jim Gaffigan ("Chappaquiddick," 2017), Ken Marino ("Wanderlust," 2012) and Rachel Sennott ("Bottoms," 2023).

"Leprechaun" – Complete Film Collection

At the end of this rainbow, there's a pot of gore. All eight films in the horror-comedy Leprechaun series are now available to stream on Hulu. That's right — "Leprechaun" (1993), "Leprechaun 2" (1994), "Leprechaun 3" (1995), "Leprechaun 4: In Space" (1996), "Leprechaun In the Hood" (2000), "Leprechaun: Back 2 tha Hood" (2003), "Leprechaun: Origins" (2014) and even 2018's "Leprechaun Returns" are all available, with each film in this slasher franchise following the rampage of one murderous (and pun loving) leprechaun. Lubdan — played by Warwick Davis ("Willow," 1988) in the series' first six films, later by Dylan Postl ("Leprechaun: Origins," 2014) and Linden Porco ("Leprechaun Returns," 2018) — searches for his gold and attempts to take down anyone in his way, including Jennifer Aniston ("Friends"), Mark Holton ("Teen Wolf," 1985), Ice-T ("Law & Order") and more than a few aliens.

Hollywood Q&A

By Adam Thomlison
TV Media

Q: Is the guy who played Mark on "Parks and Recreation" still working? Why did he leave the show?

A: City planner Mark Brendanawicz on the late-2000s NBC sitcom "Parks and Recreation" is Paul Schneider's best-known role. But according to both him and series creator Michael Schur ("The Office," "The Good Place"), he left to try to change that.

Shortly before leaving the show, Schneider appeared in the hit indie film "Bright Star" (2009). To hear Schur tell it in a 2010 interview with the L.A. Times, Schneider wanted to pursue those sorts of meatier, big-screen roles. So his character was written off "Parks and Recreation."

Meanwhile, Schneider, in a different interview (with ScreenCrush.com), said he left because he didn't like the direction Schur was taking the character, but also said he wanted to instead pursue "more interesting" roles.

Both arguments amount to the same thing for Schneider's career, though, and he did indeed find further success on the art-film circuit. For example, he appeared in the smash-hit 2011 film "Water for Elephants," and a few years later did a Woody Allen movie (2016's "Cafe Society"), seemingly a must for any indie star.

He's continued on in that vein ever since — mostly doing indies, while occasionally popping up on TV.

Most recently, he had a supporting role in the Netflix comedy series "Florida Man," which debuted on the streamer last April. And a year earlier, he popped up in the low-budget crime drama "American Murderer" (2022).

Schneider's currently filming the family-themed, sci-fi adventure movie "Xeno," about a young girl who befriends and protects an alien who crash-lands near her home.

Q: I just saw a stage production of "Little Shop of Horrors," and I'm wondering which came first: the play or the movie with Rick Moranis?

A: You're missing the third option: the original film that started it all.

The 1986 film "Little Shop of Horrors," featuring Rick Moranis ("Honey, I Shrunk the Kids," 1989) as a meek florist who accidentally adopts a carnivorous plant from outer space, is actually the last in line.

The play debuted four years earlier, in 1982 at the WPA Theater in New York (that's "off Broadway" in local stage parlance). It, in turn, was based on a 1960 movie of the same name produced and directed by legendary low-budget genius Roger Corman ("The Masque of the Red Death," 1964).

That film wasn't exactly a hit (though, with a production budget of $28,000, it was at least a financial success), and was, in fact, pretty obscure by the time playwright, director and lyricist Howard Ashman came up with the idea of adapting it for the stage. He had seen the movie when he was a kid and later became obsessed with the idea of turning it into a stage musical.

In an oral-history article written by the New York Times for the play's 40th anniversary, Ashman's sister, Sarah Ashman Gillespie, said she tried to talk her brother out of it after she and her husband rented the movie (on Betamax — a fun little historical detail). "We were appalled. We didn't think it would be a good idea at all to do the show. Of course, [Ashman] ignored us entirely."

It's a good thing he didn't listen. The play was an enormous success, spawning the 1986 movie, which was an even bigger hit.

Much of the joy of "Little Shop" comes from the songs — those you can credit to the stage version. But if you love it for the story, about a regular guy who turns to murder to satisfy his bloodthirsty plant, you should consider looking up the original movie.

Q: Is the guy who played Admiral Chegwidden on "JAG" doing anything these days?

A: The short answer is no, but it looks like he's always at least open to putting on the admiral's uniform again.

John M. Jackson played Adm. Chegwidden on the first nine seasons of "JAG," checking out in 2004 before the final season. But he hasn't done a whole lot since.

His most notable non-Chegwidden role was a six-episode arc on "Bones" from 2005 to 2006, playing FBI Deputy Director Sam Cullen. Other than that, it's just been a few movies and a lot of one-off TV guest spots.

Well, that and regularly reprising his "JAG" role.

For those who don't know, the mega-franchise series "NCIS" actually spun off from "JAG" in 2003. And so Jackson's Chegwidden role is part of that sprawling TV universe (four spinoffs and counting).

Jackson has appeared in two of the NCIS shows. He reprised his role once in the original-flavor "NCIS" in 2013, and did a six-episode arc in "NCIS: Los Angeles" from 2017 to 2018. As of now, that's his most recent screen role.

But the NCIS shows are going strong, so there's always a chance we'll see Jackson (and Adm. Chegwidden) again.
