Late Laughs

The Late Show With Stephen Colbert (R)

In recent months, Republicans in Iowa, Arkansas, Alabama, Oklahoma and Tennessee have all passed bills addressing bathroom use for trans people. What is the obsession with who's in the bathroom? My house only has gender-neutral bathrooms. Everyone uses them, and the only complaint I've heard is that the "Rolling Stone" in the magazine rack is from 2004.

It turns out a popular handgun, the SIG Sauer P320 pistol, fires without anyone pulling the trigger. Finally, hands-free firearms. "Siri, set my alarm to go off at 6 a.m. and set my gun to shoot my alarm." She's on it!

[Rupert] Murdoch recently called off his engagement to former dental hygienist Ann Lesley Smith just two weeks after announcing it. I know, that's so sad. But, on the bright side: ladies, he's back on the market. Hello, put on your flirting shoes and get good at telling whether something is a liver spot or a lesion.

Ikea has recalled thousands of mirrors because they could fall and cut people. Honestly, customers should have seen this coming because the name of the mirror is Fällüncütü.

Starbucks just introduced a new line of olive oil-infused coffee, and customers are complaining that the drink gives them stomach issues. Yeah, but don't worry — I hear Dunkin's new Crisco Coolatta is great. Of course, Starbucks is already taking advantage: they're now selling a Peptoccino.

Google just released their own artificial intelligence chatbot called Bard. ... But people have noticed that Bard makes a lot of mistakes and is less accurate than ChatGPT. So we decided to test them out by asking them both the same questions. For instance, if you ask, "What do humans need to survive?" ChatGPT said, "Food, water and shelter." While, Bard said, "Fuego Chili-Lime Takis."

Jimmy Kimmel Live! (R)

According to a new poll from ABC News, a majority of Americans believe the former president [Trump] intentionally broke the law, whereas 20% believe he didn't do anything wrong. These are the same people who think JFK is coming back from the dead to win "The Masked Singer."

Hundreds of Southwest flights were grounded due to what the FAA described as "equipment issues." ... I tell you, they spend so much time on the ground, they're basically a railroad now. In a social media post, the company said, "We apologize for any inconvenience this may cause, but that's what you get for flying Southwest."

President Biden has officially declared the COVID national emergency to be over. He did do it about a year after the rest of us did, but I have to say I learned a lot during the pandemic. I learned that the people who are most resistant to the government telling them what to do also happen to be the people who most need the government to tell them what to do.

Late Night With Seth Meyers (R)

Lamborghini this week unveiled its first plug-in hybrid supercar. Now you can help save the planet for your children from all three of your marriages.

Republican Congressman Mike Gallagher warned this week that China wants to use artificial intelligence to perfect its "Orwellian surveillance state." Unfortunately, Republicans don't know what that means because they banned that book.

The Biden administration has reportedly warned that it will ban TikTok if its Chinese parent company doesn't sell the app. Don't mess with this man. He has no use for your addictive apps! Biden's the kind of guy who can make it through a whole two-week vacation with nothing but a deck of cards and a print edition of "Sports Illustrated." "You know what we're going to do during dinner tonight? We're actually gonna talk to each other! That's what!"

Fandom made 'Super': New competition series honors music fans

By Dana Simpson
TV Media

After decades of competitive reality shows committed to finding the most talented singers, dancers, performers and the like, CBS launches an unscripted series dedicated to the fans — well, to the "superfans," to be exact. Honoring the most loyal of six celebrities' fan bases, the network's new competition series tests a group of contestants' knowledge in exchange for a chance to meet their idols up close and personal. Originally scheduled to arrive in June, "Superfan" premieres Wednesday, Aug. 9, on CBS, the CBS app and Paramount+.

Created by executive producers Keltie Knight ("Footloose," 2011) and Jodi Roth ("Inappropriate Jeff," 2014), "Superfan" makes use of a classic game show model — think BBC's "Mastermind," if you've seen it — testing players on a smattering of facts about the musician they all share a love for. Each week, beginning with LL Cool J ("NCIS: Los Angeles"), one music star is welcomed to perform and look on as their biggest fans settle the No.1-fan question once and for all.

The series, which has a six-episode freshman season, is hosted by Knight and former NFL wide receiver Nate Burleson ("The NFL Today"). It features one new musical celebrity per episode, and following LL Cool J's inaugural episode, the weekly guests include Canadian country music legend Shania Twain ("That Don't Impress Me Much," 1997); Cuban-American pop sensation Gloria Estefan ("Rhythm Is Gonna Get You," 1987); Alabama-born country foursome Little Big Town ("Pontoon," 2012); rapper and Miami native Pitbull ("I Know You Want Me," 2009); and Tennesseean singer/songwriter Kelsea Ballerini ("Miss Me More," 2017).

As the artist's fans compete across several rounds to figure out who will come out as the one and only "superfan," they each get the opportunity to interact with their favorite artist, thus making their music fandom dreams come true just by taking part. By the end of each episode, the artist in the spotlight will crown their No. 1 fan and present to them a unique set of prizes.

While discussing his excitement about co-hosting the new show, Burleson stated that "Superfan" "perfectly captures the energy of concert vibes and competition," adding that "as a host, I get to meet music icons and watch everyday fans compete for a dream prize."

As far as the at-home audience's interaction with the fun goes, Burleson notes, "You will dance, laugh and even cry by the end of each episode, but more importantly, you'll walk away a superfan yourself."

And Burleson isn't the only person delighted to be taking the game show genre to new heights; creators Knight and Roth also expressed their own love for the series in the CBS news release.

"We felt like it was time that fan bases across all genres of music get the love and recognition they deserve," the pair said. "'Superfan' gives celebrated musical artists a chance to honor their fans by engaging with them one-on-one and surprising them with once-in-a-lifetime prize packages. It's a feel-good show that everyone will enjoy."

The wide range in artist generation, background and musical genre opens the antics up to the entire family, regardless of initial interest, and provides wholesome entertainment for audiences of all ages. An added bonus for CBS and the artists involved is that, given the anticipated viewership in its prime-time slot, new fans may be born while existing fans are entertained.

Pitbull as seen in "Superfan"

One of the best parts, according to CBS's executive vice-president of specials, music, live events and alternative programming, Jack Sussman, is that "audiences can play along ... at home." Sussman also noted in the show's official release that, "[V]iewers will also be treated to an exclusive medley of hits performed by these mega musicians," adding that each concert "will feel all the more special when performed for their most passionate fans."

While music game shows such as "Don't Forget the Lyrics," "Beat Shazam!," "The Masked Singer" and late-night show host Jimmy Fallon's "That's My Jam" have all proven popular over the years — along with, of course, staple competition series such as ABC's "American Idol" and NBC's "The Voice" — "Superfan" is truly one of a kind in the world of cable television today. That said, only time and ratings will tell whether the series will blaze a new trail in prime time.

Find out whether CBS's new music series will make a superfan out of you this spring — "Superfan" premieres with special guest LL Cool J Wednesday, Aug. 9, on CBS. It is also available to stream on the CBS app and the Paramount+ streaming platform.

Final payday: 'Billions' rings up its last season

By Jay Bobbin
TV Media

The cast of "Billions"

The concluding season of "Billions" is a case of "Axe" and you shall receive.

One of the series' most prominent characters returns as the drama set in the upper levels of New York law and finance begins its seventh and final season Friday, Aug. 11, streaming on Paramount+ With Showtime, and Sunday, Aug. 13, on the linear Showtime channel. (Subsequent weekly episodes will maintain that release pattern.)

A good amount of the show's history is incorporated into its victory lap, a particularly notable aspect being the return of founding cast member Damian Lewis ("Band of Brothers") as Bobby "Axe" Axelrod, the former hedge fund king who relocated to Europe to avoid a prison term engineered by his longtime nemesis, federal attorney Charles "Chuck" Rhoades Jr. (Paul Giamatti, "Cinderella Man," 2005).

With the empire that Axe built now under the control of tycoon Michael Prince (Corey Stoll, "Transatlantic"), who has designs on winning the U.S. presidency, changes are looming … something that "Billions" is known for, which included Lewis' exit at the end of Season 5 and Stoll's promotion to full series regular. Still very much rooted in the flow of the saga is Maggie Siff ("Sons of Anarchy") as psychiatrist Wendy Rhoades, who has stayed on as performance coach at the company, despite the misgivings she has about Prince.

Wendy continues to have a confidant for her concerns in Mike "Wags" Wagner (David Costabile, "Suits"), Axe's former deputy who also remains on Prince's staff. Still present as well is Taylor Mason (Asia Kate Dillon, "Orange is the New Black"), the non-binary financial wizard who often posed a major challenge for Axe, and whose skills also have been retained by Prince.

Siff has spent the past month starring in an Off-Broadway staging of Tennessee Williams' "Orpheus Descending," which she terms "quite a swerve" from the "Billions" work that she finished recently. Despite the writers' strike, the show was able to complete its last season, and Siff allows that it was "a labored process. Everybody wanted to be respectful and honor picket lines, and it was really a matter of taking it day by day for the final month, but we finished it." (Note: This interview took place before the SAG-AFTRA actors' strike.)

The coda that "Billions" puts on Wendy's story satisfies Siff: "There's always been this thing of her being caught between two forces: Chuck and Axe. I think the beautiful thing about Michael Prince coming in, and the time she really was given to be with herself, it allowed her to carve a different kind of path. I do feel really good about where she's able to end, and I'll just say that I think Wendy (ends up) sort of her own person … truly independent of all of the forces she's been knocked around by, despite her best efforts."

The resurfacing of Axe in "Billions" was welcomed by Siff, who reflects: "There were a lot of dangling pieces that we'd all been working with in the wake of him leaving. It was very interesting in the way that it changed relationships and (formed) the new relationship with Mike Prince, and the kind of uneasy alliance that some of those who were particularly connected to Axe were left with. That was a fun thing to play with, but it did feel like Axe returning was going to have to happen to complete the story."

Thinking about her favorite "Billions" moments, Siff allows: "It's such a big blur. It's all those relationships and moments that really accumulate. There are so many things that have been so fun to film, like Chuck Sr.'s [Jeffrey DeMunn, "The Green Mile," 1999] wedding. It's kind of a little thing, but I had a dance number with Jeff that we worked really hard on. There are dozens and dozens of moments like that, and also all the stuff we've done in these amazing restaurants."

Created by executive producers Brian Koppelman ("The Girlfriend Experience"), David Levien ("Super Pumped") and Andrew Ross Sorkin ("Too Big to Fail," 2011), "Billions" is scheduled to have several spinoffs: "Billions: Miami," "Millions" and "Trillions." After being a regular on FX's "Sons of Anarchy" previously, Siff isn't necessarily looking to jump into another series, though the right material could alter that thinking ("I just don't know how to answer that right now," she says). However, she has confidence that the makers of "Billions" know what they're doing in expanding that concept's universe.

"I think Brian and Dave could spin this thing many, many different ways if they want to," she reasons. "There's certainly lots of story to tell, and there are great characters who can come back or circle through. ('Billions') has carved out a niche and a style, and it's got such a good, smart spirit. And there's a lot of room in our culture to be talking about finance and money, and what people are doing with it, and what it looks like from the inside. I think they could spin this off as much as they want. It's just a question of how much of an appetite they have for it."

'The Challenge: USA' returns with star-studded second season

By Caroline Collacutt
TV Media

TV titans: Tie your shoes and gather at the starting line as Season 2 of "The Challenge: USA" kicks off with a high-octane, two-part premiere, beginning Thursday, Aug. 10, on CBS, and concluding Sunday, Aug. 13.

"The Challenge" pits reality superstars from the CBS-verse against each other, asking them to compete in (what CBS calls) "the most unpredictable and demanding game of their lives." CBS's description further shares: "With an ever-changing game, players will be in a constant state of paranoia, unable to trust anyone but themselves," as teams compete in numerous games, challenges and missions in order to win prizes and advantages in the game. As the competition heats up, some players will be able to keep up while others will learn "The Challenge" is simply too challenging to complete.

This season features titan players and winners from CBS franchises such as "Survivor," "Big Brother" and "The Amazing Race," along with (for the first time) some past contestants from MTV's own "The Challenge," all competing for the winning title and a spot on the upcoming series "The Challenge: Global Championship," which is set to pit the best of the best "Challengers" from this global franchise – from "The Challenge: Australia," "The Challenge Argentina: El Desafío" and "The Challenge UK" — against each other in one massive competition in Cape Town, South Africa, which will soon be available to stream on Paramount+.

Not only that, but this season's winners — one man and one woman — will each earn the title of "Challenge champion," and an equal part of the $500,000 grand prize.

Contestants for Season 2 include 18 players from former CBS shows and six veterans to the show, including: "The Challenge" vets Wes Bergmann, Tori Deal, Johnny "Bananas" Devenanzio, Amanda Garcia, Cory Wharton and Jonna Mannion; "Survivor" contestants Michaela Bradshaw, Cassidy Clark, Michele Fitzgerald, Chanelle Howell, Chris Underwood, Desi Williams and Sebastian Noel; "Big Brother" stars Paulie Calafiore, Tyler Crispen, Josh Martinez, Ameerah Jones, Alyssa Lopez, Tiffany Mitchell, Faysal Shafaat and Alyssa Snider; and Luis Colon and Dusty Harris from "The Amazing Race."

Hosted by T.J. Lavin (host of the original "The Challenge"), "The Challenge: USA" returns with a two-part premiere airing Thursday, Aug. 10, and Sunday, Aug. 13, on CBS. Following episodes are set to air twice weekly through August on the same schedule.

Power forward: The next generation of NBA greats takes to the court when "Destination NBA: A G League Odyssey" premieres Tuesday, Aug. 8, on Prime Video.

Helmed by directors Liam Hughes ("Fatal Crossing," 2017) and (first-timer) Bryant Robinson, this feature-length documentary follows the NBA's developmental league — the "G League" — and the many talented players who join the league in hopes of someday turning professional, documenting the highs and lows of the game as they all compete to earn highly coveted spots on an NBA roster.

T.J. Lavin hosts "The Challenge: USA"

"As the 2022-23 season unfolds, a unique group of athletes from diverse backgrounds takes you on a journey to passionate basketball locales, including Las Vegas, Mexico City, Detroit, (Portland) Maine and Fort Wayne, Indiana, as they navigate the highs and lows of chasing their shared dream of reaching the pinnacle of professional basketball," promises NBA.com.

It continues: "This compelling and visceral first-person narrative features an ensemble cast that includes a top draft prospect, an NBA veteran looking for a second chance, a cultural icon aiming to make history, and former G League stars turned success stories Seth Curry, Spencer Dinwiddie, Gary Payton II and Jalen Green. Together they inhabit all corners of a diverse ecosystem — an ultra-competitive proving ground, where the margins are razor thin and only some dreams are realized. No guarantees. No shortcuts. No clear path. Just grit, grind and hope. This is life in the G."

Praised for being immersive and character-driven, "Destination NBA" features both in-game footage (taken right from the sidelines) and exclusive, one-on-one interviews with the players themselves, as in a recent trailer for the film, NBA G League star Scoot Henderson — once the youngest player in G League history, and now, as of June 2023, a member of the Portland Trail Blazers – takes viewers off the court and invites them behind the scenes, sharing his overwhelming passion for the game, explaining: "When I get in that mode, it's like, I'm in that mode. I'm not going to back down for nobody," he says, as replays of his greatest in-game triumphs roll across the screen.

From executive producers Ameeth Sankaran ("Tom vs. Time") and Gotham Chopra ("Goliath") of Religion of Sports and Bill Simmons ("The Bill Simmons Podcast") of The Ringer, "Destination NBA: A G League Odyssey" premieres Tuesday, Aug. 8, on Prime Video.

"Painkiller"

Netflix presents viewers with a new view of America's opioid crisis in the eight-episode limited series "Painkiller," premiering Thursday, Aug. 10. Based on the book "Pain Killer" by Barry Meier, and the New Yorker Magazine article "The Family That Built the Empire of Pain" by Patrick Radden Keefe, this fictionalized retelling of events digs into the origins and aftermath of the opioid crisis, "highlighting the stories of the perpetrators, victims and truth-seekers whose lives are forever altered by the invention of OxyContin," while examining "crime, accountability and the systems that have repeatedly failed hundreds of thousands of Americans" (per Netflix). Starring Uzo Aduba ("Orange is the New Black"), Matthew Broderick ("Ferris Bueller's Day Off," 1986), Taylor Kitsch ("Friday Night Lights"), Dina Shihabi ("Tom Clancy's Jack Ryan"), West Duchovny ("Saint X") and John Rothman ("One Mississippi"), the series is directed by Peter Berg ("Chicago Hope") and Dan Skene ("Shoresy") and written by Micah Fitzerman-Blue ("Transparent") and Noah Harpster ("For All Mankind").

"Heart of Stone" (2023)

A battle for the fate of humanity rages on in the new action flick "Heart of Stone," premiering on Netflix, Friday, Aug. 11. Secret Agent Rachel Stone (Gal Gadot, "Wonder Woman," 2017) is not your average operative — she is a member of an elusive and mysterious group of elite spies known as the Charter, the most highly trained agents of all, with no political leanings and no national allegiances, who work together to keep peace in a turbulent world. Relying on a one-of-a-kind, advanced artificial intelligence called the Heart to achieve their lofty goals, Agent Stone and her fellow operatives find themselves embroiled in a fight for world power when a hacker sets out to steal control of the Heart for their own nefarious plans. Also starring Jamie Dornan ("Belfast," 2021), Alia Bhatt ("Highway," 2014), Sophie Okonedo ("Slow Horses"), Jing Lusi ("Gangs of London") and Paul Ready ("Motherland"), "Heart of Stone" is directed by Tom Harper ("War & Peace") and features a screenplay written by Greg Rucka ("Stumptown") and Allison Schroeder ("Hidden Figures," 2016).

"Untold: Johnny Football" (2023)

The critically acclaimed docuseries "Untold" returns with Vol. 3, a four-week summer event that pulls back the curtain on tales from the wide (and wild) world of sports. The second installment, "Johnny Football," premiering Tuesday, Aug. 8, looks at Johnny Manziel, who, in 2012, was the brightest star in all of sports as an undersized freshman quarterback at unheralded Texas A&M. Dubbed "Johnny Football," the magnetic football player captured the nation's attention and initially relished his alter ego. But as the money rolled in, the scrutiny heightened, and Manziel rejected his newfound fame and suddenly lost his way. Now, Manziel — along with his family, coaches, friends and agent — gets candid about the grit, resilience, heartbreak and triumph of his career, and his search for inner peace and happiness with a quieter life. From director Ryan Duffy ("Home Game"), "Untold: Johnny Football" is executive produced by Howard Owens ("30 Days"), Ben Silverman ("The Office"), Isabel San Vargas ("American Song Contest"), Chapman Way ("Wild Wild Country") and Maclain Way ("The Lionheart," 2023).

"The Seven Deadly Sins: Grudge of Edinburgh Part 2" (2023)

The sequel spinoff movie to Nkaba Suzuki's anime series of the same name, 2023's "The Seven Deadly Sins: Grudge of Edinburgh Part 2" will officially be available to stream as of Tuesday, Aug. 8, on Netflix. The final installment of this two-part adventure, the film begins as Prince Tristan is reunited with Lancelot for the first time since a devastatingly tragic accident. A description given by Netflix explains: "14 years since the Kingdom of Liones defeated the Demon Clan and brought peace to the land, Prince Tristan is tormented by his inability to control two great powers: the Demon Clan power of his father, Meliodas, who served as captain of the Seven Deadly Sins as the Dragon Sin of Wrath, and the Goddess Clan power of his mother, Elizabeth." When Elizabeth's life is threatened, however, Tristan quickly flees the castle in search of Deathpierce – a member of the kingdom's Holy Knights – in order to unravel the knight's intentions and save his mother's life. "The Seven Deadly Sins: Grudge of Edinburgh Part 2" will feature the voice acting talents of the original cast, each reprising their roles save for Maaya Sakamoto, as Merlin. Stars include: Ayumu Murase ("Haikyu!!"), Mikako Komatsu ("The Garden of Words," 2013), Koki Uchiyama ("Horimiya: The Missing Pieces," 2023), Yuki Kaji ("Attack on Titan") and more.

"Red, White & Royal Blue" (2023)

Based on Casey McQuiston's critically acclaimed New York Times best-seller of the same name, the new rom-com "Red, White & Royal Blue" premieres on Prime Video Friday, Aug. 11. Alex Claremont-Diaz (Taylor Zakhar Perez, "Minx"), the son of the first woman president of the United States (Uma Thurman, "Kill Bill: Vol. 1," 2003), has everything going for him, from his stunning good looks and undeniable charisma to his international popularity. While he shares all of this and more with Britain's Prince Henry (Nicholas Galitzine, "Chambers"), they also share a complete and total disdain for one another. When their long-standing feud comes to a head in a disastrous and very public way, their powerful families force them to come to a staged truce. While forced to work together to save their public image, Alex and Henry find their icy relationship melting into unexpected sparks. Directed by Matthew López ("The Newsroom") and written for the screen by López and Ted Malawer ("Rise"), the film also stars Sarah Shahi ("Sex/Life"), Clifton Collins Jr. ("Star Trek," 2009), Ellie Bamber ("Willow"), Stephen Fry ("V for Vendetta," 2005), Gaia Mondadori ("The Witcher"), Rachel Hilson ("Love, Victor"), Sharon D Clarke ("Holby City") and Thomas Flynn ("Bridgerton").

"Destination NBA: A G League Odyssey" (2023)

Produced by Religion of Sports and The Ringer, the new documentary "Destination NBA: A G League Odyssey," premiering Tuesday, Aug. 8, on Prime Video, follows some of the most intriguing prospects in the NBA's developmental league, the NBA G League, as they compete to earn the ultimate reward of an NBA roster spot. The film follows along as the 2022-23 season unfolds, journeying from passionate basketball locales including Las Vegas, Mexico City, Detroit, Portland, Maine, and Fort Wayne, Indiana, as a unique group of athletes navigate the highs and lows of chasing their shared dream of reaching the pinnacle of professional basketball and earning their spot on an NBA roster. From directors Liam Hughes ("Fall Into Me") and Bryant Robinson ("Everything's Gonna Be All White"), "A G League Odyssey" is executive produced by Ameeth Sankaran ("Tom vs. Time") and Gotham Chopra ("Headstrong: Mental Health in Sports," 2019) of Religion of Sports and Bill Simmons ("30 for 30") of The Ringer.

"Bones and All" (2022)

From director Luca Guadagnino ("Call Me by Your Name," 2017), the bone-chilling and heart-stopping film "Bones and All" (2022) makes its streaming debut, Tuesday, August 8, on Prime Video. Based on the 2015 novel of the same name and written by author Camille DeAngelis, this film adaptation stars Taylor Russell ("Lost in Space") as Maren and Timothée Chalamet ("Dune," 2021) as Lee, a pair of young cannibals who flee on a cross-country road trip during the late 1980s. Together, the pair search for Maren's biological mother, soon digging into a twisted and terrifying past that neither is fully prepared to face. Throughout their odyssey, Maren and Lee develop all-consuming feelings for each other, forming a bond unlike any other. Written by David Kajganich ("A Bigger Splash," 2015) and DeAngelis, "Bones and All" also stars Mark Rylance ("Bridge of Spies," 2015), Kendle Coffey ("Freaky Profiling," 2022), Ellie Parker ("Echo Rhyme," 2016), Andre Holland ("Moonlight," 2016), Madeleine Hall ("Thundercats"), Christine Dye ("Aftermath," 2017), Sean Bridgers ("Room," 2015), Anna Cobb ("We're All Going to the World's Fair," 2021), David Gordon Green ("Prince Avalanche," 2013), Michael Stuhlbarg ("A Serious Man," 2009), Jake Horowitz ("The Vast of Night," 2019) and more.

97 Minutes

It's a race against time when terrorists hijack a 767 airplane en route to Los Angeles. With fuel dwindling rapidly, authorities have only 97 minutes to save the passengers before disaster strikes. As government officials struggle to determine a plan, NSA Director Hawkins (Baldwin) passionately argues for shooting down the plane, regardless of the civilian cost. Meanwhile, NSA Deputy Toyin (Martin) opposes, adamant that the passengers can be rescued with the help of an inside agent, Alex (Rhys Meyers), an Interpol agent working undercover in the terrorist cell. With the clock ticking down, it's up to one operative to save the passengers and prevent tragedy.
Director: Timo Vuorensola. Stars: Jonathan Rhys Meyers, Alec Baldwin, Myanna Buring, Jo Martin, Michael Sirow, Anjul Nigam, Pavan Grover. 2023. 93 mins. Action/Thriller.

The Angry Black Girl and Her Monster

A promising young scientist unintentionally causes chaos after resurrecting the body of her deceased brother. Vicaria (Hayes) is a 17-year-old prodigy caught in a violent neighborhood, where conflict is a regular way of life. Having lost her mother to violence, Vicaria views death as a disease that can be cured. Becoming fixated on developing a cure to prevent death, Vicaria's brother, Chris (Atsu-Swanzy), is brutally murdered with no hope for justice. Pushing ahead with her experiments, Vicaria successfully resurrects her family, only to discover she's created a monster hungry for vengeance. A modern take on the classic tale of Mary Shelley's "Frankenstein."
Director: Bomani J. Story. Stars: Laya DeLeon Hayes, Denzel Whitaker, Chad L. Coleman, Reilly Brooke Stith, Keith Holliday, Edem Atsu-Swanzy, Beth Felice, Shiloh Xavier, Tracie Frank. 2023. 91 mins. Horror.

'Love at First Bite' tosses singles into culinary bootcamp

By Caroline Collacutt
TV Media

Premiering with a larger-than-life, 90-minute episode, "Worst Cooks in America: Love at First Bite" chomps down on Food Network, Sunday, Aug. 6.

The eight-episode season brings chefs Anne Burrell ("Beat Bobby Flay") and Jeff Mauro ("The Kitchen") to the kitchen, asking them each to lead a team of fun-loving singles – all self-proclaimed "kitchen disasters" – through a relentless and life-changing culinary boot camp. As Burrell and Mauro teach the contestants the skills required to master the kitchen once and for all, they hope to turn them, as Food Network says, from "cooking duds into kitchen studs."

In its description for the series, Food Network explains: "The recruits not only learn how to make date-friendly dishes like sushi, spicy wontons and classic French pastries, they also go head-to-head in romantic dating-inspired challenges like the Cupid Games, the Bagel-orette and the Inferno Zone. In the end, only the most improved recruit left standing is awarded a $25,000 grand prize, bragging rights for their mentor and the ability to add "great cook" to their dating profile.

The network continued with a deep dive into the season's first episode, dishing out some juicy details: "Before picking teams, Anne and Jeff kick off the competition by having the recruits make their signature 'seal the deal' meal to show off their skills, or lack thereof, in the kitchen. Then in the main dish challenge, the teams learn to make duck paired with a fruit sauce. After assessing everyone's skills, Anne and Jeff reveal a unique twist when choosing their teams."

Anne Burrell, Jeff Mauro (middle) and the contestants from "Worst Cooks in America: Love at First Bite"

During following episodes, these culinary (and relationship) hopefuls are introduced to some of the classic dishes of Italy, take a lesson on hand-pulling made-from-scratch noodles with chef Victor Huang and compete in a dazzling, Las Vegas-inspired challenge, recreating an over-the-top dish without a recipe.

In the grand finale — a double date of its own, with the two final episodes airing back-to-back on Sunday, Sept. 10 — the two "most improved" chefs put their newfangled know-how to the test as they are asked to serve a three-course, restaurant-quality meal to a panel of expert judges, including chef Hawa Hassan, Christian Petroni ("Food Network Star") and Chris Scott ("Top Chef"). Whoever can serve the most date-worthy meal will go on to win it all.

With twists, turns and romance in abundance, "Worst Cooks in America: Love at First Bite" premieres Sunday, Aug. 6, on Food Network.

Yolanda Gampp, Joel McHale and Curtis Stone host "Crime Scene Kitchen"

The Bachelorette

(22) 8:00 PM

Charity Lawson continues her search for prince charming as handsome and eligible men continue to vie for her attention. While she's already started to spark with a few, she'll need to whittle the group down even further if she hopes to find the one.

Ugliest House in America

HGTV 8:00 PM

Retta is undaunted by seriously ugly domiciles as she tours properties that were nominated based on gaudy designs, botched renovations and amazingly terrible taste. Four homes look for the title of "worst" in a new episode from Season 4.

Crime Scene Kitchen

(44) 9:00 PM

Joel McHale hosts a new episode of this true crime-inspired baking competition, following as bakers try and decode what dessert was made using only the leftover crumbs and clues left behind in their kitchens. Guest judge Dwight Howard.

Bump

WPIX 9:30 PM

With the knowledge her life plan has been irrevocably changed, overachieving 17-year-old Oly (Nathalie Morris), keeps her ambition for the future high, while Santi (Carlos Sanson) is being overwhelmed by fear, in this new episode from season 2.

Tuesday Best Bets

Howie Mandel from "America's Got Talent"

America's Got Talent

⑤ 8:00 PM

The show must go on, and does with a new episode. Hosted by Terry Crews, this series sees judges Simon Cowell, Heidi Klum, Howie Mandel and Sofia Vergara critiquing performances from amateur performers – including singers, dancers, magicians and more.

Windy City Rehab: Alison's Dream Home

HGTV 9:00 PM

It may have taken every bit of 10 months, but Alison is laser focused on finally having a place of her own in Chicago. Unfortunately, the push to the finish line isn't easy. She needs more money and has to ride the contractors hard to wrap it up.

Hot Wheels: Ultimate Challenge

⑤ 10:00 PM

Rev up your engines! Contestants transform cars from their past into the life-sized Hot Wheels of their dreams — in the hopes of winning a life-changing cash prize in this season finale. The winner has their creation made into a Hot Wheels die-cast toy.

Justified: City Primeval

FX 10:00 PM

Raylan Givens (Timothy Olyphant) is sent to Detroit during the first season of this series, where he collides with a sociopath and a formidable attorney. During this episode, Carolyn's past becomes Raylan's present; Mansell puts a plan into action.

Wednesday Best Bets

Captain Scott Woods from "LA Fire & Rescue"

Big Brother

③ 8:00 PM

This historic 25th season heats up with a brand-new episode, offering an inside look at what happens when strangers must coexist in an isolated house. With all-new competitors, this season offers some classic "BB" must haves, like 24/7 live-streams.

LA Fire & Rescue

⑤ 8:00 PM

The season finale airs, following the day-to-day emergencies and personal lives of the members of the LA County Fire Department as they protect millions of people through wildfire suppression, search and rescue, EMS, air support, beach patrol and more.

Gordon Ramsay's Food Stars

⑫ ㊹ 9:00 PM

Gordon Ramsay continues his search for the next big culinary entrepreneur in this new episode. Another tough challenge awaits the four remaining competitors, who are all vying for the grand prize of a business investment. Wayne Newton guest judges.

"Only Murders in the Building" - Season 3

A new game is afoot in Season 3 of "Only Murders in the Building," when it premieres on Hulu, Tuesday, Aug. 8. Starring Selena Gomez ("A Rainy Day in New York," 2019), Steve Martin ("The Pink Panther," 2006) and Martin Short ("Innerspace," 1987) — as Mabel, Charles and Oliver, respectively, an unlikely trio of amateur sleuths brought together in the first season by their mutual love of the same true crime podcast — the series follows their adventures as they work to solve the mysteries behind murder cases that have taken place in their shared New York City apartment building. Building off of the dramatic conclusion to Season 2, this new installment follows Mabel, Charles and Oliver as they take on the theater world and work to solve the murder of actor Ben Glenroy (Paul Rudd, "Ant-Man," 2015). Created by series star Martin and John Hoffman ("Grace and Frankie"), "Only Murders in the Building" welcomes Rudd and Meryl Streep ("Don't Look Up," 2021) to the cast this season, alongside Ashley Park ("Emily in Paris"), Jesse Williams ("Grey's Anatomy"), Linda Emond ("Lodge 49"), Jeremy Shamos ("Better Call Saul"), Wesley Taylor ("Smash") and returning star Michael Cyril Creighton ("The Marvelous Mrs. Maisel").

Martin Short, Steve Martin and Selena Gomez star in "Only Murders in the Building"

"Sam & Kate" (2022)

Sissy Spacek ("Carrie," 1976) and Dustin Hoffman ("Rain Man," 1988) pull inspiration from their very own (very real) family in the upbeat, 2022 comedy, "Sam & Kate," which makes its streaming debut, Friday, Aug. 11, on Hulu. A family affair written and directed by Darren Le Gallo ("It Goes," 2010), the film stars Spacek and Hoffman's real life children — Jake Hoffman ("The Wolf of Wall Street," 2013) and Schuyler Fisk ("Orange County," 2002) — as the titular Sam and Kate, respectively. Sam, a regular man working a regular job, meets bookshop owner Kate upon returning home to his small town, and he is immediately intrigued. She turns down his advances, but eventually, the two start a budding relationship. As they get to know each other, both open up about the complicated relationships they share with their ailing parents, but little do they know that parents Bill (Dustin Hoffman) and Tina (Spacek) have started an odd relationship of their own, one that soon leads to chaos for everyone involved, and an emotional trip down memory lane. The cast of "Sam & Kate" also includes Elizabeth Becka ("Southern Gospel," 2023), Pat Dortch ("Appendage," 2023), Dylan McNamara ("First Kill"), Larry Larson ("Mr. 3000," 2004), DeMorris Stroud ("For My Man"), Barbara Wallace ("Riverdale"), Orian Williams ("Control," 2007) and Darren Le Gallo himself.

"RED" (2010) & "RED 2" (2013)

The team is back together, as "RED" (2010) and "RED 2" (2013) are now available to stream on Hulu as an action-packed double feature. The first film, "RED," loosely inspired by the limited Homage Comic series of the same name, was directed by Robert Schwentke ("The Captain," 2017) and features an all-star cast including Bruce Willis ("Die Hard," 1988), Morgan Freeman ("Invictus," 2009), John Malkovich ("In the Line of Fire," 1993), Helen Mirren ("The Queen," 2006), Brian Cox ("Succession") and more. Willis leads as former black-ops agent Frank Moses (now R.E.D: Retired, Extremely Dangerous), who must abandon his once peaceful life and reunite with his old (literally, old) team in order to capture the assassin who has made it their personal mission to kill him. The film's sequel, "RED 2," brings the gang back together and introduces some new big names, including Anthony Hopkins ("The Silence of the Lambs," 1991) and Catherine Zeta-Jones ("Wednesday"), as this newfangled team of experienced operatives is tasked with tracking down a missing nuclear device. The films also star Mary-Louise Parker ("Weeds"), Karl Urban ("Star Trek," 2009), David Thewlis ("The Theory of Everything," 2014), Neal McDonough ("Minority Report," 2002), Richard Dreyfuss ("Close Encounters of the Third Kind," 1977) and more.

Hollywood Q&A

By Adam Thomlison
TV Media

Q: Why did Vanessa Bayer leave "Saturday Night Live"? And what's she been doing since?

A: Vanessa Bayer has never said specifically why she left "Saturday Night Live" in 2017 after seven seasons. But it seems her only plan was to figure things out as she went. "My attitude is just that stuff kind of works out," she told the New York Times in 2022 when asked about her exit.

And it did work out, because she was doing that Times interview to promote her very own show, "I Love That for You."

She created and starred in the Showtime sitcom, based on her own very specific experience of being both a childhood leukemia survivor and someone who dreamed of being an on-air personality on a home shopping network.

In the time between leaving "Saturday Night Live" and getting "I Love That for You" off the ground, she did the usual combination of guest runs (on sitcoms such as "Single Parents" and the "Will & Grace" reboot) and big-screen supporting roles (in 2021's "Barb and Star Go to Visa Del Mar" and 2018's "Ibiza") that come to people in her position. "SNL" comedians have reputations as hard workers who can be funny on command, and those skills are always in demand.

Unfortunately, "I Love That for You" was canceled after just one season, but since then, she's been busy with little things like doing an ad/short film with Hollywood heartthrob Ryan Gosling ("Drive," 2011) and being part of the star-studded voice cast of the animated superhero movie "DC League of Super-Pets" (2022).

So it seems like, once again, stuff is working out for Vanessa Bayer.

Q: What did Bob Barker do before "The Price Is Right"?

A: The magic Bob Barker brought to "The Price Is Right" was in how he interacted with the contestants. And it was his gift with audiences that got him into the TV business in the first place.

He actually studied as an economist but soon moved to a job in radio. His job at KTTS in Springfield, Missouri, gave him his first taste of crowd work.

"All the hosts were taking unrehearsed contestants out of the studio audience and creating spontaneous entertainment with them," he told Emmys.com (after being inducted into the Emmys Hall of Fame in 2004). "I had never been in a school play and I had never been in front of an audience before, but I found that I thoroughly enjoyed it. My wife had heard the show and when I got home she said, 'That's what you should do. You do that better than you've done anything else.'"

That's the sort of advice you shouldn't ignore, and he didn't. He soon moved with his wife to Los Angeles to do his own radio show, "The Bob Barker Show." And when TV producer Ralph Edwards heard Barker on his car radio, he knew he'd found what he was looking for: someone to host the new, daytime version of the hit game show "Truth or Consequences."

Barker hosted that for 18 years. During the final two of those years, he moonlighted with another hosting gig, on "The Price Is Right."

And the rest is daytime TV history.

I mean that literally, by the way — across his 35-year run, Barker made history on "The Price Is Right," setting precedents (shortly after he joined, it was expanded to become the first hour-long game show in TV history) and breaking records (in 2002, he broke Johnny Carson's record for continuous performances on the same network television show).

Q: What's Dylan McDermott doing now? I last saw him on "American Horror Story," but I figured he'd have a new show by now.

A: Far from not having a show on TV in the past few years, at one point Dylan McDermott had two.

The ruggedly handsome leading man, still best known for his role on the long-running legal drama "The Practice" (from 1997 to 2004), was starring in two separate procedural cop dramas last year: "FBI: Most Wanted" and "Law & Order: Organized Crime."

To be fair, there are reasons why you might not have known that.

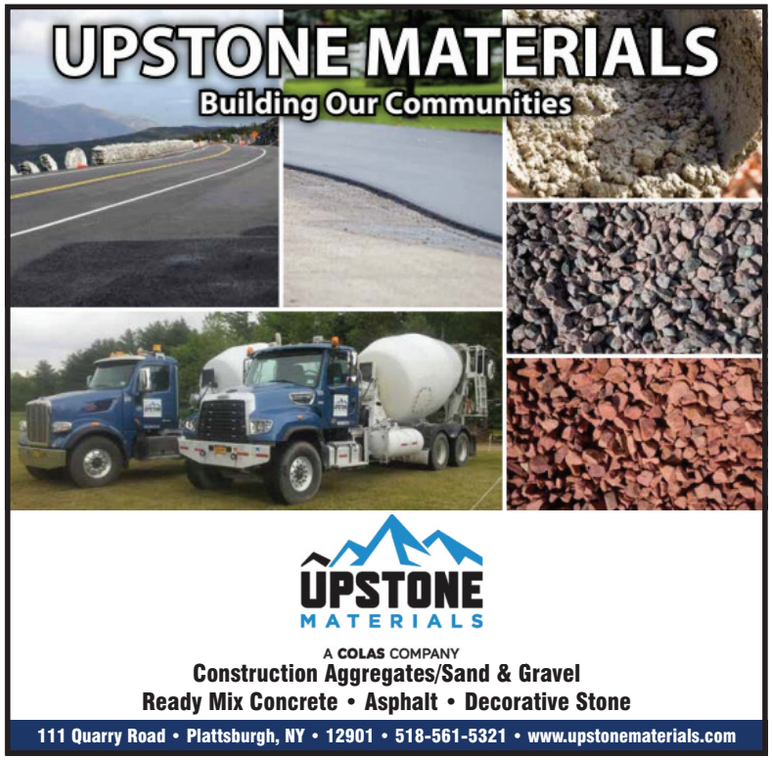

He actually played a bad guy in "Organized Crime" — a crime boss being pursued by the show's good guys — and he left midway through the show's second season.

He immediately signed on to do "FBI: Most Wanted" after that, joining it midway through its third season.

He says he was grateful for the opportunity "FBI" gave him to be a "good guy" again.

In September 2022, he told E! News, "I played a lot of good characters in my career, but recently, the last 10 years, I think they've been more questionable — certainly from 'American Horror Story' to 'Organized Crime' and some movies in between. So it was time to go back to the good."
