Late Laughs

The Late Show With Stephen Colbert

Tonight [Nov. 20] was also the annual pardoning of the White House turkeys. ... The lucky birds were chosen by the White House, and in a nod to the swing state of Pennsylvania are named Liberty and Bell. Much more elegant than when Clinton needed New Jersey's vote, so he named the turkeys "Exit 154" and "Gabagool."

Liberty and Bell enjoyed all the comforts of a hotel, starting with taking a bubble bath. Oh yeah, bubble baths are great for turkeys. Put 'em in the warm water, you add some bath salts, maybe some bath pepper, carrots and onions, whatever herbs you have lying around, and just bathe them low and slow. They love it.

The Tonight Show Starring Jimmy Fallon

Today [Nov. 20], President Biden took part in a classic White House tradition by pardoning two turkeys, named Liberty and Bell. Yeah, they could've made Biden look hip by naming them Ken and Barbie, but instead they went with a reference from 1776.

I saw that President Biden and his family spent Thanksgiving in Nantucket. Biden made sure an authentic Thanksgiving meal was served, and he would know because he was there for the first one.

Ron DeSantis had a good Thanksgiving, although things got a little tense when he yelled, "For the last time, why am I seated at the kids' table?"

Jimmy Kimmel Live!

Here we are all powered up on another Monday night of football: Kansas City versus Philadelphia tonight [Nov. 20]. Much hyped faceoff between the Kelsey brothers, Travis and Jason. Or as the Swifties know them: Taylor's boyfriend and who?

It was Taylor Swift night on "Dancing With the Stars," which means tonight [Nov. 21] millions of young Americans found out that "Dancing With the Stars" is still on television.

The Trump Media and Technology Group just filed a lawsuit against 20 news organizations for reporting that Truth Social ... lost $73 million when they say they only lost $31.6 million. So now they're suing for $1.5 billion in damages, which getting sued for spreading misinformation by Truth Social is like getting sued for spreading Lyme disease by ticks. It's ironic.

Late Night With Seth Meyers

President Biden turned 81 today [Nov. 20], despite his campaign staff specifically advising him not to.

Former president [Donald] Trump traveled yesterday [Nov. 19] to the southern border, but they caught him before he could make it across.

'Gettin' at 'er' one last time: 'Letterkenny' gifts fans final season

By Dana Simpson
TV Media

Nathan Dales and Michelle Mylett in "Letterkenny"

After nearly eight years, 12 seasons, 75 episodes and eight specials, Canadian premium network Crave's first-ever original series is calling it quits, bud. "Letterkenny," created by the series' leading star, Jared Keeso ("Elysium," 2013), has made the tough decision to pack up the Puppers following its 12th season, thus passing the torch to its hockey-driven spinoff series, Shoresy (also available on Hulu). Don't miss the dry double talk, loaded innuendo and small-town Canadian drama when "Letterkenny" premieres its final season Tuesday, Dec. 26, on Hulu.

To be released as a sort of unique, quippy late Christmas present to fans celebrating the holiday this season, the final season of the Canadian gem "Letterkenny" comprises a respectable six episodes, all collectively marketed with a 31-second trailer of the series' leading female character, Katy (Michelle Mylett, "El Camino Christmas," 2017), scantily clad in leather and donning a cowboy hat. Set to the tune of native Torontonian k-os's "B-boy Stance," a song from 2004's "Joyful Rebellion" album, the teaser trailer shows that "Letterkenny" remains resolutely Canadian, right up to the final season, while continuing to resonate with the inhabitants of small towns across North America.

Keeso's award-winning series was inspired by his own life growing up in the small town of Listowel, Ontario, and emerged from his own Twitter (now X) feed, titled "Listowel Problems." In a 2016 interview, the creator and actor told the Toronto Star, "What we do on 'Letterkenny' is we just take the portrait of small-town life and exaggerate and embellish the [expletive] out of it."

The fictional town of Letterkenny, whose inhabitants "belong to one of three groups: the hicks, the skids and the hockey players" (per Hulu), has become a staple TV visit for many households — even the country town of Listowel has seen a bit of tourism since the show began in 2016. Now adorned with 12 Canadian Screen Awards, "Letterkenny" prepares to take its final bow and leave the laughs up to its spinoff, "Shoresy," which also stars Keeso.

Joining Keeso, who returns to his role as Wayne (and possibly in another cameo as Shoresy if fans are lucky), are fellow regulars Mylett as Katy, Nathan Dales ("Resident Evil: Welcome to Raccoon City," 2021) as Daryl and K. Trevor Wilson ("Mr. Viral," 2012) as Dan. Also likely to return (but still unconfirmed as of writing) are Andrew Herr ("Upload") as Jonesy, Evan Stern ("The Void," 2016) as Roald, Dylan Playfair ("Mr. Hockey: The Gordie Howe Story," 2013) as Reilly and Tyler Johnston ("The Odds," 2011) as Stewart. But as this is the series finale, it's hard to say which characters will return to bid farewell to viewers.

While "Letterkenny" typically takes a quick-witted approach to slow-paced life events, it seems the writers have a lot cooked up for the final season. According to the official Hulu news release, there will be lots of laughs in order as the local nightlife kicks into high gear.

"In Season 12, the small town contends with a comedy night at Modean's, a country music hit, the Degens' bad influence, a new nightclub, and an encore at the Ag Hall," the writeup reads. "And that's just for starters."

The final season of "Letterkenny" is, as usual, headed up by Keeso and his creative partner, Jacob Tierney ("Laurence Anyways," 2012), who also works on "Shorsey" both behind the scenes and on-screen (he stars as the show's more uppity recurring character, Glen, a character he has played in 42 episodes of the pair's flagship series, as of writing).

While "Letterkenny" fans, cast and crew are sad to see the show go, they are exiting with two Writers Guild of Canada Screenwriting Awards (Keeso and Tierney won in 2017 for the episode "Super Soft Birthday" and in 2018 for "Relationships") and 12 Canadian Screen Awards, including Best Comedy Series in 2017, Best Editing in a Comedy Program or Series (Kyle Martin, for "Sleepover"), and repeat wins for Best Writing (annually from 2017-20) and Best Direction (2017, 2018, 2020) in a Comedy Series.

Additionally, ahead of the show's second-season premiere, CraveTV noted that "Letterkenny" "had the biggest debut of any series on CraveTV since the premium TV streaming service launched in 2014, with more CraveTV users watching 'Letterkenny' than any other series or title" on the streamer. It was later confirmed that "nearly one in three subscribers" to the service have watched at least one episode of the groundbreaking series.

As for the decision to end the show after more than 80 installments, Keeso says, "I think we've done everything that we can do on that show."

"I'm always looking for something new and exciting to do with the characters, a new opportunity to develop them, to help the audience understand them just a little bit better," Keeso added in the Crave news release. "It gets tough around the 50 mark, and it gets really tough around the 70 mark. I guess I decided at the 80 mark that that was it."

Don't miss the final season of "Letterkenny," coming to Hulu Tuesday, Dec. 26. We know you'll be sad to see it go, but do it 'ferda' boys.

Back to 'Who'-ville: The Doctor makes a house call this Christmas

By Dana Simpson
TV Media

No matter the healthcare system to which you ascribe, there is one doctor who never fails to make house calls. "Who?" you may ask, and you'd be right.

"Doctor Who" has been making a comeback this holiday season, but one special Christmas Day event shows the Doctor as you've never seen him before. Ncuti Gatwa ("Sex Education"), the first Black actor to portray the infamous alien Time Lord, steps into the role of the Fifteenth Doctor when "Doctor Who: The Church on Ruby Road" premieres Monday, Dec. 25, on Disney+.

The perfect end to a series of fun new "Doctor Who" specials released on Disney+ in honor of the sci-fi series' 60th anniversary, "The Church on Ruby Road" is special not just because it is the first special to feature Gatwa in the role, but also because the special is the first to be released on Christmas Day since 2017's "Twice Upon a Time," Peter Capaldi's ("The Thick of It") last appearance as the Doctor.

While the Doctor(s) didn't exactly take the holidays off over the past six years — there had been a shift to New Year's-themed television events during that time — the return to Christmas Day programming is a welcome return to tradition for many.

"Doctor Who" is one of the most enduring series of our time, uniting Whovians from around the world and dividing them just as easily depending on proclaimed favorite Doctors or series. The sci-fi show, recognized largely by non-Whovians for its massive blue TARDIS and scarf-wearing Brit, began on BBC in 1963. Spanning nearly 900 episodes (97 of which are lost to time), the easiest way to track the series' progression is in two parts: 1963 to 1989 (26 seasons) and 2005 to present (13 seasons). Between both collections, there have been 14 — and as of this special, 15 — Doctors.

Of these Time Lords, just one had been a woman/female presenting person (Jodie Whittaker, "Broadchurch"), and all — until now — have been white. Before Gatwa steps into the role, however, the Fourteenth Doctor, played by David Tennant ("Good Omens"), lives out his last few specials in the role on Disney+.

Released Nov. 25, "The Star Beast" follows the Doctor and associates as a spaceship drops into London city center and a battle breaks out, posing particular issues for Donna (Catherine Tate, the U.K.'s "The Office"). Later, Donna and the Doctor returned for "Wild Blue Yonder" (released Dec. 5) and "The Giggle" (released Dec. 9), the latter of which stars Neil Patrick Harris ("How I Met Your Mother") as the Celestial Toymaker, the key figure behind a puppet whose laugh has been driving the human race to the brink of insanity. But as the fourth "Doctor Who" special is released this holiday season, everything changes.

In "Doctor Who: The Church on Ruby Road" (released Dec. 25), Gatwa begins a new era. Like the 2005 decision to reboot the sci-fi action dramedy, writer and showrunner Russell T. Davies ("Torchwood") announced to SFX Magazine, "We're calling it Season 1." And thus, another generation of "Doctor Who" begins, this time with Disney+ behind it (but don't worry, BBC is still the series' leading network).

Not only does this new Season 1 introduce Gatwa in the coveted role, it also brings audiences his companion, the strong-yet-sweet Ruby Sunday, played by Millie Gibson ("Jamie Johnson"). And while Gibson has earned ample experience with a long-running British series during her 172-episode run as Kelly Neelan on "Coronation Street," she has clearly stated that she hopes to do Whovians proud through her hard work and appreciation.

"Whilst still being in total disbelief, I am beyond honored to be cast as the Doctor's companion," Gibson said while discussing her new duties. "It is a gift of a role and a dream come true, and I will do everything to try and fill the boots the fellow companions have traveled in before me. What better way to do that than being by the fabulous Ncuti Gatwa's side? I just can't wait to get started."

For Gatwa, the connection between him and Gibson has been there from the very start — a great sign for the chemistry between the two in the show's newest iteration.

"Millie just is the companion," Gatwa told the media during filming. "She is full of talent, strength, she has a cheeky sparkle in her eye and is sharp as a razor. From the moment she walked into the room, she captured all of our attention with her effervescence and then solidified that attention with the sheer torque of her talent."

As for the plot, "The Church on Ruby Road" introduces the new time-traveling companions through rather mysterious means. Not many details about the plot have been revealed as of press time, but given that the entire franchise is starting over once more, it could mean that all bets are off. One guess is that it will likely center on establishing the relationship between the two lead characters, while others have taken the title to mean that it is likely to take place in Walthawstow, a northeast area of London where Ruby Road is found. Either way, one thing is sure: there will be plenty of time travel, mystical beings, mortal peril, self-discovery and saucy adventure.

Don't miss the Dec. 25 Disney+ premiere of "Doctor Who: The Church on Ruby Road." After all, you are not the time traveler.

Star Wars, Marvel and Pixar characters to march in Disney's Christmas Parade

By Caroline Collacutt
TV Media

Disney darlings: Filmed at the Walt Disney World Resort in Orlando, Florida, this Disney-centric holiday event has occurred annually since 1962, when the parade marched its inaugural route through Main Street in California's Disneyland Park. First bringing families together in the heart of the Magic Kingdom — and now nationwide — this event spreads holiday cheer through music, heartwarming stories and a little bit of magic. "Disney Parks Magical Christmas Day Parade" airs Monday, Dec. 25, on ABC, streaming on Disney+ the following day.

As with previous years, the parade includes Disney characters who make their annual appearances, such as Mickey and Minnie Mouse, Donald Duck, Goofy, Pluto, Daisy and more, but it also features musical performances by some special Disney friends, including Derek Hough and Julianne Hough (both of "Dancing With the Stars"), singing "Good Morning" and "Deck the Halls"; Chrissy Metz ("This is Us"), performing "Silver Bells"; The Smashing Pumpkins ("Siamese Dream," 1993), performing their new, original holiday song, "Evergreen"; Iam Tongi ("Why Kiki?," 2023), singing "Mele Kalikimaka"; the Broadway and North American Tour cast of Disney's "Aladdin," singing "Friend Like Me," from the original motion picture, "Aladdin" (1992); and Meg Donnelly ("Zombies," 2018), performing "Christmas (Baby, Please Come Home)."

This year's parade also features musical performances from marching bands appearing from various schools and communities across the country, decorated Disney-style floats and highlights from Disney's latest and greatest properties, including characters from Star Wars, Marvel and Pixar films.

Visitors and viewers alike will take a trip through Christmases past, present and future, as the parade promises to take a look back at some of its most iconic past performances, before then treating viewers to a special look at Disney's latest theatrical release — "Wish," which released in theaters Nov. 22, 2023 — with a spectacular performance of the song "This Wish," from the film, sung by Ariana DeBose ("West Side Story," 2021).

As all great Christmas Day Parades should, the event concludes with the arrival of Santa Claus — an appearance tied in popularity with Walt Disney's iconic Babes in Toyland Soldiers, who have been marching through the parade since the very first year.

Produced by Disney executive and senior executive producer Sally Conner for Disney Parks, Film 45 Live and executive producers Michael Antinoro ("The Wonderful World of Disney: Magical Holiday Celebration," 2022) and Richard Godfrey ("Harmonious Live!," 2022), this year's annual "Disney Parks Magical Christmas Day Parade" airs Monday, Dec. 25, on ABC, streaming on Disney+ the following day.

Excellence honored: Held on the Kennedy Center Opera House stage in Washington, D.C., this star-studded event celebrates creativity from New York to Hollywood and beyond, sharing recognition and gratitude as the 46th Annual Kennedy Center Honors airs Wednesday, Dec. 28, on CBS.

Home to the event, The Kennedy Center describes: "'The Kennedy Center Honors' recognizes and celebrates individuals whose unique contributions have shaped the way we see ourselves, each other and our world. Recipients have each had an impact on the rich tapestry of American life and culture through the performing arts. Whether in music, dance, theater, opera, motion pictures or television, each Kennedy Center Honoree has a unique place in the national consciousness and their influence has inspired audiences from all walks of life."

Featured in a night hosted by former Kennedy Center honoree (2017) Gloria Estefan ("Mi Tierra," 1993), who returns to lead the event for a third year in a row, this 46th class of honorees includes actor and comedian Billy Crystal ("Forget Paris," 1995); acclaimed singer Renee Fleming ("Dark Hope," 2010); member of the Bee Gees, singer-songwriter Barry Gibb ("Saturday Night Fever," 1977); actress and singer Queen Latifah ("Hairspray," 2007); and singer Dionne Warwick ("Friends," 1985), each offering their own influential talent.

"This year's slate represents an extraordinary mix of individuals who have redefined their art forms and demonstrated remarkable tenacity and authenticity in becoming an original," said Kennedy Center president Deborah F. Rutter, alongside the release of this year's honorees. "Each of them has explored new terrain, stretched artistic boundaries, and, most importantly, committed to sharing their gifts with the world."

Additionally, this year's event will also pay tribute to 50 years of hip-hop, with the event's host — The Kennedy Center — going on to say: "Hip-hop has been an important, thriving art form here at the Center for a number of years; what a privilege it is to bestow an honor to the First Lady of Hip-Hop [Queen Latifah], who has inspired us along the way."

As the 'First Lady of Hip-Hop,' singer, rapper, actress and entrepreneur Queen Latifah has, according to Kennedy Center chairman David M. Rubenstein, "shaped and innovated the art form in its earliest days, representing black women everywhere and using the idiom to become a powerful voice for change."

Alongside her fellow artists, Queen Latifah will be celebrated during the "46th Annual Kennedy Center Honors," airing Wednesday, Dec. 27, on CBS, and streaming Thursday, Dec. 28, on Paramount+.

"Berlin" - Season 1

Going back to the very beginning, the new "Money Heist" spinoff, "Berlin," premieres Friday, Dec. 29, on Netflix. Long before he finds out about his terminal diagnosis and takes the Royal Mint of Spain hostage, Berlin (Pedro Alonso, "Padre Casares") was living in his golden age. The series follows Berlin through this exciting and prosperous period of his life, as he prepares for one of his most extreme heists yet — disappearing $44 million worth of jewels. To pull it off, he needs to enlist the help of a savvy group of criminals, including Keila (Michelle Jenner, "Isabel"), a cybersecurity mastermind; Damián (Tristán Ulloa, "The Time in Between"), an academic and Berlin's close friend; Cameron (Begona Vargas, "Welcome to Eden"), a loose cannon who lives life on the edge; Roi (Julio Pena, "Bia"), a locksmith and Berlin's faithful sidekick; and Bruce (new talent Joel Sánchez), who's fluent in gadgets and weaponry. Created by "Money Heist" and "Sky Rojo" collaborators Álex Pina and Esther Martínez Lobato, "Berlin" is directed by David Barrocal ("Sky Rojo"), Geoffrey Cowper ("Day Release," 2015) and Albert Pintó ("Nowhere," 2023).

"Pokémon Concierge" - Season 1

Check in and relax with the imaginative stop-motion animated series "Pokémon Concierge," the first-ever collaborative production between Netflix and The Pokémon Company, when it makes its series debut Thursday, Dec. 28, on Netflix. From dwarf studios, this ambitious project centers on Haru (Karen Fukuhara, "The Boys"), a concierge at the Pokémon Resort, where Pokémon go when they need a well-earned break and a peaceful place to relax. Following Haru through her interactions with the Pokémon and their owners who visit as she learns how best to take care of her guests, the series also sees Haru discover a new side to herself along the way. Directed by Iku Ogawa ("Hidari," 2023) with a screenplay by Harumi Doki ("Ghost in the Shell: SAC_2045 - Sustainable War," 2021), the English dub voice cast includes Imani Hakim ("Everybody Hates Chris"), Josh Keaton ("The Spectacular Spider-Man") and Lori Alan ("SpongeBob SquarePants").

"Thank You, I'm Sorry" (2023)

Grab your popcorn and settle in for a heartwarming story about forgiveness, family and sisterhood with the Swedish comedy-drama film "Thank You, I'm Sorry," streaming Tuesday, Dec. 26, on Netflix. The film centers on Sara (Sanna Sundqvist, "Tore"), the mother of a perfect nuclear family that includes her husband, Daniél (Mattias Ramos, "Steam Room Stories"), their young son, Eliot (newcomer Amael Blomgren Alcaide), and a second child on the way. When a heavily pregnant Sara suddenly finds herself left on her own, help arrives in the shape of her estranged older sister, Linda (Charlotta Bjorck, "Charlotta × 8"), a helpless, immature adult with a big, erratic dog. Offering to move in and help out Sara, the sisters find a new side to their strained relationship. Directed by Lisa Aschan ("Call Mom!," 2019), "Thank You, I'm Sorry" is written by Aschan and Marie Osterbye ("Rita"). Ia Langhammer ("Love Me"), Juan Rodriguez ("Labyrint"), Ville Virtanen ("Bordertown") and Peshang Rad ("Before We Die") also star.

"Ricky Gervais: Armageddon" (2023)

Celebrate the holidays with a brand-new comedy special from Netflix as "Ricky Gervais: Armageddon" premieres Monday, Dec. 25, on the streamer. Taped at the Londo Palladium earlier in the year, Ricky Gervais, the outspoken and controversial actor-comedian behind "The Office" and "Extras," takes the stage for a stand-up routine filled to the brim with the hottest of takes on topics such as artificial intelligence, family weddings, funerals, oversensitivity, political correctness and the end of humanity. For the special, Gervais reunites with the director of his previous Netflix specials, John L. Spencer ("All Round to Mrs. Brown's").

"Sound of Freedom" (2023)

Crime thriller "Sound of Freedom," which is based on the life of former government agent and founder of Operation Underground Railroad Tim Ballard, makes its streaming debut Tuesday, Dec. 26, on Prime Video. The film follows Tim, played by Jim Caviezel ("Person of Interest"), as he moves on from a personally unfulfilling job with the Department of Homeland Security to save children from sex trafficking on his own. Tim's vigilantism soon takes him to the dangerous jungles of Columbia to confront the sex traffickers and free a young boy's sister. Directed by Alejandro Monteverde ("Little Boy," 2015) and written by Monteverde and Rod Barr ("Is That You?," 2014), "Sound of Freedom" stars Mira Sorvino ("Shining Vale"), Bill Camp ("12 Years a Slave," 2013), Eduardo Verástegui ("Paul Blart: Mall Cop 2," 2015), Javier Godino ("Into the Night"), José Zúñiga ("The Dark Tower," 2017), Kurt Fuller ("Midnight in Paris," 2011), Gary Basaraba ("Killers of the Flower Moon," 2023), Gerardo Taracena ("Apocalypto," 2006), Scott Haze ("Jurassic World Dominion," 2022), Gustavo Sánchez Parra ("The Legend of Zorro," 2005), Yessica Borroto ("Narcos: Mexico"), Kris Avedisian ("Donald Cried," 2016), Cristal Aparicio ("Stolen Away") and Lucás Ávila ("Enfermeras").

"Terminator: Genisys" (2015)

Arnold Schwarzenegger ("Last Action Hero," 1993) is back in his career-defining as the titular Terminator in "Terminator: Genisys," which is available for streaming Wednesday, Dec. 27, on Prime Video. In an attempt to reboot the franchise, "Genisys" is a slightly different take on the first Terminator movie. Before John Connor (Jason Clarke, "Zero Dark Thirty," 2012), the leader of the human resistance, can claim victory over Skynet, the rogue AI sends a Terminator back in time to kill John's mother, Sarah (Emilia Clarke, "Game of Thrones"), in order to stop this resistance. As a precaution, John sends Sgt. Kyle Reese (Jai Courtney, "Suicide Squad," 2016) back in time to protect his mother. However, something goes wrong during the process, causing Kyle to travel to an alternate timeline where Sarah is under the protection of a reprogrammed T-800 (Schwarzenegger). Although the resistance gains a powerful new ally in this timeline, Skynet has gained a few of their own. In addition to the main cast, J.K. Simmons ("Whiplash," 2014), Dayo Okeniyi ("Rise," 2022), Matt Smith ("House of the Dragon"), Courtney B. Vance ("The Hunt for Red October," 1990), Lee Byung-hun ("Squid Game"), Michael Gladis ("Mad Men") and Sandrine Holt ("House of Cards") also star. This rebooted take on Terminator is directed by Alan Taylor ("Thor: The Dark World," 2013), with writing credits from Laeta Kalogridis ("Shutter Island," 2010) and Patrick Lussier ("Drive Angry," 2011).

"The Affair" - Complete Series

Get ready to binge all five seasons and 53 episodes of the award-winning drama series "The Affair" when it becomes available to stream Saturday, Dec. 30, on Prime Video. Created by Hagai Levi ("In Treatment") and Sarah Treem ("How to Make It in America"), the series follows how the affair between Noah Solloway (Dominic West, "The Wire") and Alison Bailey (Ruth Wilson, "The Woman in the Wall") affects their lives and the lives of their family and friends. Taking place over the course of decades, viewers get to see how one selfish decision can ripple throughout the entirety of peoples' lives. Told through the conflicting perspectives of the lead characters, this storytelling device quickly expands to the main cast of the following seasons, including the original spouses Helen Butler (Maura Tierney, "ER") and Cole Lockhart (Joshua Jackson, "Fringe"). Joining West, Wilson, Tierney and Jackson in the main cast are Julia Goldani Telles ("Slender Man," 2018), Jake Siciliano ("Shame," 2011), Jadon Sand ("The LEGO Movie," 2014), Leya Catlett ("You're Not Alone," 2020), Josh Stamberg ("J. Edgar," 2011), Catalina Sandino Moreno ("Silent Night," 2023), Omar Metwally ("Munich," 2005), Irène Jacob ("The Double Life of Véronique," 1991), Sanaa Lathan ("The Perfect Guy," 2015) and Anna Paquin ("True Blood").

Fieri and friends cook up football-ready eats in 'Guy's Ranch Kitchen'

By Caroline Collacutt
TV Media

Make room at the table: an all-new episode of "Guy's Ranch Kitchen" airs Saturday, Dec. 30, on Food Network.

Each episode, celebrity chef Guy Fieri ("Guy's Grocery Games") invites his friends and family — some of whom just so happen to be accomplished chefs — to his ranch kitchen, where together they share stories and prepare delicious dishes that prove perfect for watching football while partaking in a fun cook-off between friends.

Now airing its seventh season, "Guy's Ranch Kitchen" welcomes chefs Nyesha Arrington ("Next Level Chef"), Nate Appleman ("The Next Iron Chef"), Shota Nakajima ("Top Chef"), Jet Tila ("Kitchen Lab"), Jose Garces ("Iron Chef America"), Adam Sobel ("Chopped"), Lee Anne Wong ("Top Chef") and many others to meet at Guy's ranch and make some mouth-watering, multicultural eats.

So far this season, Fieri has: enjoyed an international Thanksgiving, celebrated with chorizo clam toast, cacio e pepe potato casserole and turkey porchetta with fennel apple salad; turned up the heat to fend off the cold, with mango hibiscus margaritas, spicy shrimp with pork Szechuan wontons, parmesan habanero crusted ribeye and chicken tamales with mole; and readied himself for a farm-to-table holiday, tasting pumpkin-tamarind soup with crispy curry leaves, Nana's lemon broccoli with toasted pine nuts and morel mushroom toasts.

Guy Fieri hosts "Guy's Ranch Kitchen"

In upcoming episodes, Fieri gets a "little taste of everything," says Food Network, as "chef Adam Sobel pours white peach and purple basil bellinis and treats Guy to his Tokyo-style hashbrowns and some strawberry coconut crème brûlée French toast."

Later on, Fieri welcomes "Tournament of Champions" competitor chef Mei Lin to craft fried mochi dumplings with pork and dried radish, opening his palate with a taste of okonomiyaki. To top the episode off, Food Network promises: "Chef Aarti Sequeira ["Aarti Party"] has Guy try savory tomato chaat pie and rolls up some rice and coconut crêpes with mango cardamom stuffing," and "Chef Joe Sasto ["Top Chef"] bets on 'nduja baked clams casino and crossing over cuisines with 'Chicago beef' birria tacos."

Fieri even welcomes family to the kitchen, as Guy Fieri's son, Hunter Fieri ("Guy's Hawaiian Eats"), pops in to "[please] pops with mezquila palomas before plating up prosciutto and mozzarella Neapolitan pizza and some charred cauliflower with chimichurri," Food Network claims, serving up some brunch favorites alongside chefs Tiffani Faison ("Beachside Brawl"), Joe Sasto ("Outchef'd") and Justin Sutherland ("Fast Foodies").

Sundays might be for football — but Saturdays are for good food and good friends. Favorites join their friend Fieri on "Guy's Ranch Kitchen," airing new episodes Saturdays on Food Network.

"Raffa"

Get an inside look at the life of a global icon when the three-part documentary miniseries "Raffa" premieres Wednesday, Dec. 27, on Hulu. Beloved by audiences the world over for more than 50 years, Italian singer, dancer, television presenter, actress and model Raffaella Carrà is a "symbol of freedom, queen of TV [and] LGBTQ+ icon" (per Hulu). However, the personal life of this legend has remained a mystery to the public for decades. Digging deep into both her public and private life, the series explores everything from her childhood in Romagna marked by her father's abandonment, to "her alleged flirt with Frank Sinatra, her great loves, her regret for having missed out on motherhood, crises and rebirths" (Hulu). Including footage of the artist, exclusive images from her private archives and never-before-seen testimony of those who really knew her, "Raffa" attempts to bring forth a complete picture of this elusive icon. Directed by Daniele Luchetti ("My Brilliant Friend"), the series is executive produced by Marco Di Pasqua ("Kill Me If You Can," 2022), Valeria Licurgo ("Fortune Seller: A TV Scam") and Alessandro Saba for The Walt Disney Company.

"Such Brave Girls" – Season 1

Created by (and starring) Kat Sadler ("Tell Me Everything"), Season 1 the British sitcom, "Such Brave Girls" is now available to stream on Hulu. Following a dysfunctional family composed of sisters Josie (Sadler) and Billie (played by Sadler's real life sister, newcomer Lizzie Davidson), and their single mother Deb (Louise Brealey "Brian and Charles," 2022), as they navigate life and the various struggles that come with possessing poor judgment and low self-esteem. Sadler has based the series much on her own experiences in life, describing the sisters as: "Not us, but they are certainly inspired by bits of us … we have taken some of the worst aspects of ourselves," then going on to share that her own mother had seen episodes of the series, and "laughed in all the right places." Directed by Simon Bird ("The Inbetweeners," 2011) and Marco Alessi ("The Bower," 2022), and produced by A24, Season 1 of "Such Brave Girls" also stars Paul Bazely ("The Ipcress File"), Sam Buchanan ("The Power"), Freddie Meredith ("The Personal History of David Copperfield," 2019), Carla Woodcock ("Tell Me Everything"), Amy Trigg ("Luther: The Fallen Sun," 2023), Jude Mack ("I Hate Suzie") and Richard Cunningham ("45 Years," 2015).

"Once Upon a Time in Hollywood" (2019)

Starring Leonardo DiCaprio ("Inception," 2010), Brad Pitt ("Fight Club," 1999) and Margot Robbie ("Barbie," 2023), "Once Upon a Time in Hollywood" (2019), will be available for viewers to stream on Hulu as of Monday, Dec. 25. From acclaimed writer and director Quinten Tarantino ("Reservoir Dog," 1992), this "dramady" is set in Los Angeles, Calif., during the summer of 1969, exploring the rapid changes that were taking place throughout the industry at the time as it follows a fading actor and his stunt double trying to find success in Hollywood, their dreams of being in the spotlight overshadowed by the looming of the infamous Tate murders, committed by The Manson Family. Featuring multiple entangling storylines, the film has been dubbed a "modern fairy tale" that pays homage to the final days of Hollywood's golden age. Boasting an all-star cast, "Once Upon a Time in Hollywood" also stars Luke Perry ("Beverly Hills, 90210"), Emile Hirsch ("Into the Wild," 2007), Margaret Qualley ("Maid"), Timothy Olyphant ("Justified"), Austin Butler ("Elvis," 2022), Dakota Fanning ("War of the Worlds," 2005), Al Pacino ("Serpico," 1973), Lena Dunham ("Tiny Furniture," 2010), Maya Hawke ("Do Revenge," 2022), Victoria Pedretti ("The Haunting of Bly Manor"), Sydney Sweeney ("Euphoria"), Bruce Dern ("The Hateful Eight," 2015), Mike Moh ("Ghosted," 2023) and Damian Lewis ("Band of Brothers").

Hollywood Q&A

By Adam Thomlison
TV Media

Q: I just watched the new season of "Our Flag Means Death" and thought I recognized the guy playing the evil, violin-playing captain. Who was that?

A: So you're saying he wasn't a "Perfect Stranger" to you?

In case the bad joke didn't give it away, what I'm trying to say is that the actor playing Ned Low, the sadistic captain who tortured his captives with his violin bow (among other tools) in a Season 2 episode of "Our Flag Means Death," was Bronson Pinchot.

Just about everyone who recognizes Pinchot knows him for playing the vaguely foreign Balki Bartokomous on the hit late '80s/early '90s sitcom "Perfect Strangers."

But this new turn to piracy has proven, again, that there's more to Pinchot than just Balki.

Yes, Max's "Our Flag Means Death," an oddball romantic pirate comedy, is still in the sitcom realm, but Pinchot's turn is as far from his kindhearted and naive "Perfect Strangers" character as possible.

Of course, he's had other notable roles over his 40 years in the business.

His other most famous part was the one that made him a star: a small but memorable role in "Beverly Hills Cop" (1984) as an art gallery salesman with an accent almost as outrageous as the one he used for Balki.

It was a small role, but it proved so popular that he was brought back for "Beverly Hills Cop 3" (1994), with more lines.

And what's more, he's returning to it again: He'll be reprising the role in the 30-years-belated fourth film, called "Beverly Hills Cop: Axel Foley," scheduled for release on Netflix sometime in 2024.

Q: What is Shane Black working on now? And is it a sequel to "The Nice Guys"?

A: With this year's "Barbie" movie making Ryan Gosling one of the most famous actors in the world, interest in his back catalogue is at its highest. That includes his 2016 crime-comedy "The Nice Guys," even though it was a flop at the time.

So, you aren't the only person wondering — seven years later — if director and writer Shane Black will make a sequel. Unfortunately, it's not in his plans at the moment.

Right now, it seems he's more concerned with a couple of other long-gestating projects: a fifth entry in the Lethal Weapon franchise (the first one, released in 1987, is what made Black the hotshot filmmaker he is today) and "Play Dirty," a new film based on the Parker character created by author Donald E. Westlake.

Unfortunately, not much is known about either one. Mel Gibson ("Braveheart," 1995), who starred in the first four "Lethal Weapon" films, said late last year that the fifth one is now being delayed by shake-ups at Warner Bros. Those shake-ups include getting a new boss (David Zaslav) and merging with Discovery.

Even less is known about the status of "Play Dirty." IMDb.com lists it as being in "pre-production," but it's been that way since March 2022.

So, while a "Nice Guys" sequel is not currently on Black's to-do list, that could change at any time, especially if its current resurgence in popularity lasts.
