Late Laughs

The Late Show With Stephen Colbert

It’s been a long time since our last “Late Show.” We looked at the calendar today [Oct. 2] and, check my math on this, I believe we have been off the air for 154 indictments.

Russia banned America’s late-night hosts, including me. But for some reason, they did not ban my friend, Jimmy Fallon. I’m guessing because of Jimmy’s popular segment Slow Jam the Borscht.

After just nine months of sucking at his job, McCarthy was stripped of the gavel by eight members of his own party. To make it even worse, this all happened, and this is true, on National Kevin Day.

The Tonight Show Starring Jimmy Fallon

It was kind of weird coming back after being gone for five months. The studio was empty for so long, NBC converted it to a Spirit Halloween.

Some big news from Washington today [Oct. 3]. For the first time in history, the House voted to oust its speaker. That’s right. After only nine months on the job, Kevin McCarthy has been removed as speaker of the House. Yeah, nine months. Even Aaron Rodgers is like, “Damn, that was fast.”

Delta Air Lines said that they discovered that some of their aircraft engines had fake parts. It’s weird when you see parts of your plane being built on “Lego Masters.” You know what I’m saying? They looked inside one of their planes and found a guy just making engine noises with his mouth.

Uber just announced that you can now have drivers deliver your return packages to the post office, FedEx or UPS. That makes sense. At night, they drive drunk people, and in the morning, they drive the stuff that the drunk people order.

Jimmy Kimmel Live!

Apparently, while we’re gone, they’ve been renting our studio out as a pickle ball court, so uh ... sorry guys! You can’t play here anymore ... you got to wrap it up, you got to take it somewhere else. I’m sorry, but you know what? Try James Cordon’s studio; he moved to England.

In case you’ve forgotten, my name is Jimmy. I’ve been off the air for five months. We’ve been gone so long ... the Bachelor is now a grandfather.

As you know, the writers strike is over, but not only are members of the actors union still out on the picket line, today [Oct. 4] more than 75,000 employees of Kaiser Permanente walked off the job as well. It’s the largest health care strike in American history, which is very bad news for anybody they left in the MRI machine.

I have to say, honestly, we owe a major debt of gratitude to Kentucky Fried Chicken. Literally, the only time Donald Trump’s mouth is not actively destroying America is when he has a drumstick in it. And I say thank you, KFC.

Late Night With Seth Meyers

Justice Clarence Thomas yesterday [Oct. 2] recused himself from a Supreme Court decision for the first time. Not because he had a conflict of interest — just because he had a fishing trip planned. And it would have been rude to cancel, ‘cause someone else paid for it.

That’s right, the House voted yesterday [Oct. 3] to remove a speaker from power for the first time in 234 years. Well, they removed him from office. It’s hard to have power when you have all the fire and charisma of the Facebook silhouette guy.

The Biden administration announced today [Oct. 4] that it will forgive $9 billion in student loans. “Well, that should at least cover most of it,” said one NYU kid.

In a new statement about climate change, Pope Francis criticized fossil fuel companies and said the transition toward renewable energy is, quote, “not progressing at the necessary speed.” And you know you’re in trouble when the Catholic Church thinks you’re stuck in the past.

Operatic opposition: HBO period drama lifts curtain on Season 2

By Dana Simpson
TV Media

Whether first heard as a quippy one-liner from famous New York humorist Fran Lebowitz ("Pretend It's a City") or read in Esther Crain's book "The Gilded Age in New York, 1870–1910," there is little doubt you've heard about New York City's penchant for change. Per Crain's aforementioned book, released in 2016 and available through most major booksellers, "the most common observation about New York is that it never stops evolving."

This is especially true in the HBO series "The Gilded Age," premiering Season 2 on its home network and the Max streaming service Sunday, Oct. 29. Starring Carrie Coon ("Gone Girl," 2014), Cynthia Nixon ("Sex and the City") and Christine Baranski ("Mamma Mia!," 2008) as some of New York's finest wealthy gossips, the series follows a group of business moguls and socialites as they work hard to make a name for themselves and build an empire in New York City during the turn of the 20th century.

Coon stars as Bertha Russell, a "new money heiress" who caused some major waves in Season 1 alongside her husband, railroad tycoon George Russell (Morgan Spector, "The Plot Against America"), and her fellow socialite Mrs. Caroline Astor (Donna Murphy, "The Nanny Diaries," 2007), the leader of aristocratic social society called The Four Hundred. With her own societal standing foremost in her sights, Bertha often stirs up more trouble than is necessary to get what she wants.

Also to blame for her fair bit of trouble is Marian Brook (new talent Louisa Jacobson), who fell on hard times when her father died in the series premiere and began Season 1 by moving into her estranged aunts' house for a bit of a lifestyle makeover in the Big Apple. Marian's aunts, Ada Brook (Nixon) and Agnes Van Rhijn (Baranski), both belong to the old-money world and thus have very particular views on how things should be done among New York's finest. While Marian does her best to please her aunts, she has also learned that not everyone subscribes to her family's conservative school of thought.

Returning alongside Coon, Murphy, Jacobson, Nixon and Baranski for Season 2 is Denée Benton ("UnREAL"), who plays Peggy Scott, a highly motivated writer who moved from Pennsylvania to New York City with Marian. Despite holding down a job as Agnes' secretary, Peggy is of respectable societal standing herself and has come to enjoy the company of her old friend in a new city. She also enjoys testing the boundaries set in place by those in high-up positions, often complicating matters for herself and those closest to her.

Headed into the show's second season, the Primetime Emmy-winning series follows more of the petticoat-clad drama that comes along with Gilded-era expansion. This time, according to the official HBO trailer, it seems that the bulk of the hullabaloo centers on the world of the operatic arts. More specifically, it likely revolves around the 1886 closing of the Metropolitan Opera House.

As newcomers to the show (and maybe even some avid fans) may not yet know, "The Gilded Age" takes many of its plot lines from the annals of history. While hardly to be considered a true story, the first season held to realities of the robber barons of the late 1800s, like the railroading Russells. (The Astors were also a real family, fictionalized for the series.) Now headed into its second season, "The Gilded Age" is placing its focus on the so-called "Opera House War" of the 1890s and the subsequent end of the "Knickerbocker era."

According to Crain, who wrote of this historic moment in "The Gilded Age in New York," as the theater district began to spread across Manhattan, "seeing the opera wasn't the point" of going to the show, rather "being seen was." And as these types of outings began to cater to more and more people from varying walks of life, members of the wealthier classes could no longer procure seats. And so, they did what any multimillionaire family of the Gilded Age would do: they opened their own opera house.

While Crain's book and HBO's drama series are not affiliated, even just a quick glance at the literature signals that the show may feature more than a few interesting characters this season. While no such castings have been confirmed, Crain's accounts list circus showman P.T. Barnham, pianomaker William Steinway, socialite Alva Vanderbilt and more among influential figures in and around New York at the time.

A few more characters viewers can count on returning, however, are the aforementioned Russells — as well as Gladys (Taissa Farmiga, "American Horror Story") and Larry Russell (Harry Richardson, "Dunkirk," 2017) —

Oscar Van Rhijn (Blake Ritson, "RocknRolla," 2008), Mr. Bannister (Simon Jones, "The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy") and Mr. Church (Jack Gilpin, "21," 2008).

Meanwhile, joining the cast are Laura Benanti ("Life and Beth"), Christopher Denham ("Argo," 2012), Robert Sean Leonard ("House"), Matilda Lawler ("Station Eleven"), Ben Lamb ("Divergent," 2014), Dakin Matthews ("Gilmore Girls"), Nicole Brydon Bloom ("1BR," 2019) and David Furr ("The Highwaymen," 2019).

Don't miss the expansion of New York City and Julian Fellowes' ("Downton Abbey") period drama "The Gilded Age" when Season 2 premieres Sunday, Oct. 29, on HBO and Max.

Trivial pursuit: New comedy film 'Quiz Lady' wins big

By Sarah Passingham
TV Media

Fingers on buzzers! Which streamer premieres a brand-new comedy film starring Awkwafina ("Renfield," 2023) and Sandra Oh ("Grey's Anatomy") on Friday, Nov. 3? The answer is Hulu, and the film in question is "Quiz Lady," a buddy comedy about two sisters who come together to win a quiz show and save a dog.

Awkwafina is Anna, the reliable, type-A sister who is called away from her work as an accountant when her mom's senior living facility reaches out to let Anna know that they had lost her mom — but not to the afterlife. The attendant corrects herself in the trailer, telling Anna, "Sorry, that was terrible phrasing. I meant we don't know where she is."

After making it to the facility, Anna is joined by her estranged and distraught sister Jenny, portrayed by Oh, whose purple highlights, oversized sunglasses and flamboyant personal style contrast with Anna's head-to-toe grey wardrobe. Anna is clued in to her mother's whereabouts when a bookie informs her that her beloved pet pug, Mr. Linguini, has been kidnapped and is being held hostage over her mother's massive gambling debts.

With the debts creeping up her back and seniors home infractions stacking up, Anna and Jenny's mom flees to Macau, leaving them to sort out what she owes and be reunited with Mr. Linguini. Anna's salary isn't quite generous enough to settle their mother's $80,000 tab, and Jenny's constant search for her latest passion hasn't resulted in financial stability. Two weeks is all they're given to cough up the funds.

The siblings are at a loss for ways to get rich quick until Jenny sees Anna participate in her favorite game show, "Can't Stop the Quiz," from her sofa. The show is must-watch television for Anna, who tunes in daily, usually accompanied by her canine companion, and effortlessly answers every single question correctly. Seeing Anna in her element turns on a light bulb over Jenny's head.

It's decided, then, that the pair will travel to Los Angeles, get Anna on

Sandra Oh and Awkwafina in "Quiz Lady"

"Can't Stop the Quiz," and all their problems will be solved when she wins. Leaving the safety of her routine life in Philadelphia behind, Anna joins Jenny on a wild road trip across the United States and embraces her sister's chaotic, adventurous way of life. Neither of them is completely certain that Anna's trivia skills will transfer from the comfort of her couch to the pressure of the game show's set, but this is the best chance they've got to scrape together enough money to bring Mr. Linguini home unharmed.

Having spent years apart, estranged over their differences, Anna and Jenny have a lot of ground to cover — geographically and emotionally — on their road trip. Anna's strictly balanced life greatly differs from her sister Jenny's listless pursuit of purpose. They have things to learn from each other, whether it's how to let loose and go on an adventure or focus enough to successfully achieve a goal.

"Quiz Lady" also stars some recognizable faces in supporting roles. Holland Taylor ("The Morning Show") is Anna's neighbor, Tony Hale ("Veep") is a Benjamin Franklin impersonator, Will Ferrell ("Barbie," 2023) is the host of "Can't Stop the Quiz" and Jason Schwartzman ("Asteroid City," 2023) is Anna's stiff competition on the game show.

"The element that really attracted me was the sister dynamic," director Jessica Yu told Deadline at the world premiere of "Quiz Lady" at the Toronto International Film Festival in September. She added, "For one thing, I just haven't seen a lot of comedies about sisters, and the fact that at the center of this was two Asian-American sisters, made me think, 'Oh, this will be really fun to explore.'"

The slowly healing bond between Anna and Jenny is of course the heart of the film, but "Quiz Lady" is, after all, a comedy. An Academy Award-winning director for her 1997 short film "Breathing Lessons: The Life and Work of Mike O'Brien," Yu has directed episodes of some of TV's most popular dramas, including Showtime's

"The Affair," Netflix's "13 Reasons Why" and Prime Video's "Citadel," in addition to some very funny stuff like the 2017 standup comedy special "Maria Bamford: Old Baby" and an episode of the comedian's Netflix sitcom, "Lady Dynamite."

So how does Yu craft pitch-perfect comedy? She told Deadline, "I don't know if I have a secret to directing comedy, but one thing I do like is to keep a bit of a light hand and always shoot the rehearsal." Yu explained, "There's something that has to be a little bit buoyant about comedy and sometimes the natural timing is something that you just have to leave the space for."

Check out the premiere of "Quiz Lady" when it drops Friday, Nov. 3, on Hulu.

Contestants leave their fortune up to fate in 'The Wall'

By Caroline Collacutt
TV Media

The wishing wall: The wall giveth, and the wall taketh away. Count your lucky stars (or balls), as all-new episodes of the high-risk, high-reward game show "The Wall" premiere, starting Friday, Nov. 3, on NBC.

While it may be fun to watch from the couch, the infamous wall is much taller — and trickier — when your fate is in its hands. Players come from across the nation hoping to conquer it, but time and time again find that there is no way to control the randomness of a dropping ball.

"The rules are simple," NBC describes. "Get a question correct and a green ball will fall down the wall and add the value of the slot to the players' winning total. Miss a question and an ominous red ball will fall and deduct the value from the teams' total. Teammates have to work together to build a huge cash prize."

They continue: "However, the towering wall is not easily conquered. Wildly unpredictable, the wall is capable of millions of different outcomes. As the game progresses, the stakes get even higher when one player is sent into an isolation room behind the wall. It is here where the pairs' faith in each other will be tested as they play the remainder of the game without any communication."

Needless to say, skill can only take you so far. Players make it to the wall and brave that fateful drop, but once they do, any chance of winning is no longer in their hands. The wall has the final say.

Led by returning comedian, actor and host Chris Hardwick

("@midnight"), the upcoming season promises a record-breaking cash prize and a game-changing twist, as a brand-new segment — The Super-drop, in which all seven balls rain down in a waterfall drop with millionaire potential — allows contestants the chance to win up to $13 million each night.

But be careful: with more risk comes more reward, and even more chances to lose. "Every question and every decision could make the difference of millions of dollars on what is truly the most unpredictable show on television," NBC says.

Produced by NBA superstar LeBron James ("Space Jam: A New Legacy," 2021), a new season of "The Wall" begins Friday, Nov. 3, on NBC.

'Rock & Roll' & relax: For the first time ever, music fans far and wide will be allowed a front-row seat at this special event, when the "Rock & Roll Hall of Fame Induction Ceremony" is streamed live Friday, Nov. 3, on Disney+.

Having previously aired on HBO for nearly three decades (since 1995), this brand-new livestream format brings the event into the 21st century, allowing for a much larger audience to take part in the annual celebration.

Previously, the platform (Disney+) first branched into streaming live, staged events with their presentation of Elton John's farewell concert, which was broadcast from the Dodger Stadium earlier this year. This next foray into making live entertainment accessible comes with the promise of easy access — the ability to pause, rewind, replay and spend as much time as you'd like with your favorite performers.

The event — airing from Brooklyn's Barclays Center, starting at 8 p.m. EDT — is set to feature special guests, including St. Vincent ("Daddy's Home," 2021), Brandi Carlile ("The Story," 2007), Dave Matthews ("Crash," 1996), H.E.R. ("H.E.R.," 2023), New Edition ("Home Again," 1996) and the aforementioned Elton John ("Goodbye Yellow Brick Road," 1973), according to a recently released article from Pitchfork magazine. Deadline went on to confirm that performances will also be made by singers Sheryl Crow ("Wildflower," 2005), Missy Elliott ("The Cookbook," 2005), Chaka Khan ("Chaka," 1978) and Willie Nelson ("Stardust," 1978), each taking the stage to honor their fellow musicians.

Inductees listed for this year's ceremony include Kate Bush ("Hounds of Love," 1985), George Michael ("Faith," 1987), Rage Against the Machine ("Evil Empire," 1996) and The Spinners ("Spinners," 1973), alongside Crow, Elliott and Nelson. Guitarist Link Wray ("Bullshot," 1979) and hip-hop legend DJ Kool Herc ("Last of The Classic Beats," 2019) will both receive the Musical Influence Award, while songwriter Bernie Taupin ("Tribe," 1987) will receive the Musical Excellence Award.

In addition, Don Cornelius (of "The Soul Train Gang") will be presented with the Ahmet Ertegun Award.

"This year's incredible group of inductees reflects the diverse artists and sounds that define rock 'n' roll," John Sykes, chairman of the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame Foundation, told Pitchfork.

Celebrating the best of the best, the "Rock & Roll Hall of Fame Induction Ceremony" will air live Friday, Nov. 3, on Disney+.

"All the Light We Cannot See"

Based on the Pulitzer Prize-winning novel of the same name by Anthony Doer, "All the Light We Cannot See" debuts its gripping story of history and hope on Netflix, Thursday, Nov. 2. The four-part limited series tells the story of Marie-Laure (played by new talents Aria Mia Loberti and Nell Sutton as the older and younger Marie-Laure, respectively), a blind French girl who flees German-occupied Paris with her father, Daniel (Mark Ruffalo, "The Avengers," 2012). Bringing with them a legendary diamond to keep it from falling into the hands of the Nazis, father and daughter take refuge in the once-idyllic port town of St. Malo to escape a relentless and cruel Gestapo officer who seeks to possess the stone for his own selfish means. While here, Marie-Laure's life takes another turn when she finds a kindred spirit in the unlikely of people: a brilliant teenager named Werner (Louis Hofmann, "Dark"), who was enlisted by Hitler's regime to track down illegal broadcasts. As Marie-Laure and Werner's lives interweave and unfold over the course of a decade, the series tells a story of human connection and how it can be "a beacon of light that can lead us through even the darkest of times" (per Netflix). Developed for the screen by Shawn Levy ("Stranger Things") and Steven Knight ("Peaky Blinders"), who directed and wrote the series, respectively, "All the Light We Cannot See" also stars Hugh Laurie ("House M.D."), Lars Eindinger ("Clouds of Sils Maria," 2014) and Marion Bailey ("Vera Drake," 2004).

"Nyad" (2023)

Telling a remarkable true story, the new biographical drama film, "Nyad," premieres on Netflix, Friday, Nov. 3. At the age of 60, athlete Diana Nyad (portrayed by Annette Bening, "The Kids Are All Right," 2010) embarks on a new chapter of her life, three decades after giving up marathon swimming to take on a prominent career as a sports journalist. With the help of her best friend and coach, Bonnie Stoll (Jodie Foster, "The Silence of the Lambs," 1991), Diana is determined to take on a swim that always eluded her: a 110-mile open ocean swim stretching from Cuba to Florida, which is often referred to as the "Mount Everest" of swims. Determined to be the first person ever to complete the swim without a shark cage, "Nyad" follows Diana and Bonnie's four-year journey to make her dream a reality. Marking the narrative directorial debuts of Academy Award-winning documentary filmmakers Elizabeth Chai Vasarhelyi and Jimmy Chin ("Free Solo," 2018), the film is written by Julia Cox ("Recovery Road") and based on Nyad's autobiography, "Find a Way." "Nyad" also stars Rhys Ifans ("The Amazing Spider-Man," 2012), Anna Harriette Pittman ("The Resident"), Erica Cho ("The Looming Tower"), Luke Cosgrove ("The Mist"), Jee-na Yi ("Only Murders in the Building"), Karly Rothenberg ("American Vandal") and Ethan Jones Romero ("Special Ops: Lioness").

"Selling Sunset" - Season 7

The glamorous real estate agents of The Oppenheim Group are back for another drama-filled season of "Selling Sunset," premiering Friday, Nov. 3, on Netflix. Old feuds still burn and new ones ignite in season 7 of this reality series; in particular, Chelsea Lazkani and Bre Tiesi continue their feud from the previous season, while Chrishell Stause is on a collision course with Jason Oppenheim's new girlfriend. Furthermore, the Oppenheim brothers deliver some bad news when the Orange County, California office outperforms the LA office. In addition to Chelsea, Bre and Chrishell, Mary Fitzgerald, Amanza Smith, Emma Hernan and Nicole Young return for this new season. A noteworthy absence from this season is longtime cast member Heather Rae El Moussa, who went on maternity leave after giving birth in early 2023. Outside of one scene that she shared behind-the-scenes footage of on Instagram, Heather wasn't called back to do filming for the remainder of season 7.

"Blue Eye Samurai" - Season 1

Vengeance cuts deep when "Blue-Eyed Samurai" debuts Friday, Nov. 3, on Netflix. Set in 17th-century Japan and using a hybrid of 2D and 3D animation, this show tells the story of Mizu (Maya Erskine, "PEN15"), a mixed-race samurai that disguises her gender in order to seek revenge. The target of Mizu's revenge is her father, one of four white men living in Japan at the time of her birth. This journey leads Mizu across the whole of Japan, where she's joined by an eclectic group of misfits. This includes excessively eager soba maker Ringo (Masi Oka, "Heroes"), overbearing samurai Taigen (Darren Barnet, "Never Have I Ever") and Princess Akemi (Brenda Song, "Dollface"). The main cast are joined by the likes of George Takei ("Star Trek"), Cary-Hiroyuki Tagawa ("Mortal Kombat," 1995), Randall Park ("Fresh Off the Boat"), Kenneth Branagh ("Murder on the Orient Express," 2017), Stephanie Hsu ("Everything Everywhere All at Once," 2022), Ming-Na Wen ("Mulan," 1998), Harry Shum Jr. ("Crazy Rich Asians," 2018) and Mark Dacascos ("John Wick: Chapter 3 - Parabellum," 2019). Produced by Erwin Stoff ("The Matrix," 1999), Haven Alexander ("Batman Beyond: Return of Joker," 2000), Nick Read ("Enter Galactic," 2022) and Jane Wu ("Mulan," 2020), "Blue-Eyed Samurai" comes from the minds of wife and husband team Amber Noizumi and Michael Green ("Logan," 2017), who also serve as executive producers.

"Invincible" - Season 2

No one wants to live their life in a shadow — especially a super-sized one. Based on the groundbreaking comic book by Robert Kirkman, Cory Walker and Ryan Ottley, Season 2 of "Invincible" premieres Friday, Nov. 3, on Prime Video. The series follows the story of Mark Grayson (voiced by Steven Yeun, "The Walking Dead"), an 18-year-old who is just like every other guy his age — except for his famous superhero father, Omni-Man (voiced by J.K. Simmons, "Whiplash," 2014), and his own budding powers of flight, super strength and invincibility. As he steps out of his father's once-great shadow and settles into his own skin, Mark begins to realize his father's legacy may not be quite so "super" after all. Moving into the new season, Mark, still reeling from his father's betrayal in Season 1, "struggles to rebuild his life as he faces a host of new threats, all while battling his greatest fear — that he might become his father without even knowing it." (per Prime Video). The series' all-star voice cast includes Sandra Oh ("Killing Eve"), Zazie Beetz ("Atlanta"), Grey DeLisle ("The Loud House"), Chris Diamantopoulos ("The Wonderful World of Mickey Mouse"), Walton Goggins ("Justified"), Gillian Jacobs ("Community"), Jason Mantzoukas ("Big Mouth"), Ross Marquand ("The Walking Dead"), Khary Payton ("The Walking Dead"), Zachary Quinto ("Star Trek," 2009), Andrew Rannells ("Big Mouth"), Kevin Michael Richardson ("Lilo & Stitch," 2002), Melise ("The Shannara Chronicles"), Max Burkholder ("Parenthood"), Mark Hamill ("Star Wars: Episode IV — A New Hope," 1977) and Seth Rogen ("Platonic").

"Scary Stories to Tell in the Dark" (2019)

From horror director André Øvredal ("The Autopsy of Jane Doe," 2016), the creepiest of tales are brought to life in 2019's "Scary Stories to Tell in the Dark," available now to stream on Prime Video. Based on the original book series of the same name by author Alvin Schwartz, this adaptation was written by Dan Hageman and Kevin Hageman (of "The Lego Movie," 2014) and Guillermo del Toro ("Pan's Labyrinth," 2006) and features a selection of the most haunting stories, now brought to life — literally. On Halloween night 1968, three teenagers — Stella (Zoe Margaret Colletti, "Annie," 2014), Ramon (Michael Garza, "Hacks") and Auggie (Gabriel Rush, "Do Revenge," 2022) — enter an abandoned home and find a book of stories written by the mysterious Sarah Bellows (Kathleen Pollard, "The Strain"), a young girl once accused of witchcraft. When the teens take the book, new stories begin to appear, describing horrific monsters and spooks that soon begin to appear in their real lives. Plagued by scary stories, the trio must find a way to settle Sarah's soul, and return the book where it rightfully belongs.

"Scooby-Doo" (2002)

Grab your Scooby Snacks and hop into the Mystery Machine: 2002's live action "Scooby-Doo" is now available to stream on Prime Video. With a cast featuring Freddie Prinze Jr. ("She's All

That," 1999), Sarah Michelle Gellar ("Buffy the Vampire Slayer"), Matthew Lillard ("Scream," 1996), Linda Cardellini ("Dead to Me") and Neil Fanning ("Daybreakers," 2009), this fantasy adventure sees the Mystery, Inc. gang invited to solve a curious case on a tropical resort called "Spooky Island," where guests have seemingly fallen under a demonic curse. For Shaggy (Lillard), Scooby (voiced by Fanning), Daphne (Gellar), Fred (Prinze Jr.) and Velma (Cardellini), however, it's been two years since their last case and the gang is feeling far more than rusty. Uncertain if they can figure it out at all, the fate of their Mystery-solving future seems bleaker than ever. The franchise's first foray into live action films, "Scooby-Doo" is directed by Raja Gosnell ("Never Been Kissed," 1999) and features a screenplay written by James Gunn ("Guardians of the Galaxy," 2014). Rowan Atkinson ("Mr. Bean"), Isla Fisher ("Wolf Like Me"), Miguel A. Núñez Jr. ("The Family Business") and Steven Grives ("BeastMaster") also star.

Blue Beetle

Teenager Jamie Reyes (Mariduena) has his life changed forever when an alien scarab selects him to be its symbiotic host, granting him incredible super-powers. Working to help support his struggling parents, Jamie encounters Jenny Kord (Marquezine), daughter of the late founder of Kord Industries, which secretly works on alien technology. Disagreeing with her mother's (Sarandon) views on utilizing the alien artifacts as weaponry, Jenny secretly steals the scarab and places it under Jamie's protection. Unaware of its origins, Jamie touches the scarab encased in an armored exoskeleton, marking him as the "Blue Beetle." Retribution

A father is pushed to his limits when a standard day is turned into a twisted game of life or death. Driving his children to school, financier Matt Turner

(Nesson) receives a threatening phone call learning that a bomb has been placed under his car seat, rigged to explode upon exiting his vehicle. With his children, Emily (Aspell) and Zach (Champion), in danger, Matt is forced to complete a series of tasks for the mysterious caller. Unable to leave his car, Matt races around Berlin, alerting the authorities and setting off a high-speed chase. Perplexed by the unusual crime-spree wheelman, Europol agent Angela Brickmann (Dumezweni) investigates and uncovers a past-connection binding Matt to the mysterious caller. *Director: Nimród Antal. Peruvian chef Franco Noriega sizzles in 'Hot Dish'

By Caroline Collacutt
TV Media

Good food and good stories — that's what makes a perfect meal. And having tried everything — from acting to modeling to competitive swimming — before becoming a professional restaurateur, this Peruvian chef certainly has a lot to share. All-new episodes of "Hot Dish With Franco" air Saturdays on Food Network.

During this series, "Franco shares personal heartfelt stories of his Peruvian and Italian roots as he prepares delicious dishes with his signature flare for flavor," Food Network describes. "From quick and easy weeknight meals to brunch and classic Latin dishes with a twist, all of Franco's food is easy, accessible and brings people together."

Even before the show's premiere, Noriega's enthusiasm for the program was evident. "Delicious food has always been central in my life as some of my favorite memories have been in the kitchen eating and cooking with my family and traveling across the world enjoying fantastic meals. Now, I'm thrilled to share my favorite recipes and lifelong passion for cooking with Food Network viewers," he recently shared.

Throughout the series' six half-hour episodes, Food Network promises that "Franco takes viewers on a culinary journey, sprinkling in tidbits of his Latin American and Italian background along with cooking tips and tricks," exploring everything from cheese-covered arepas with chorizo and vegetable ceviche to crispy parmesan lemon asparagus, deconstructed tiramisu and ooey-gooney lava chocolate chip cookies in previously aired episodes.

During the season's fifth episode, chef Franco invites viewers to taste a Peruvian-inspired feast — what he dubs the perfect comfort food.

"Crispy and fluffy baby arepas with melted cheese and chorizo are the perfect appetizer," the episode description promises, "and there's nothing more comforting than juicy pollo a la brasa with crispy skin, smothered in a spicy green sauce. Papas huancaína with a spicy cheese sauce makes for the perfect side, especially when paired with a Pisco Sour."

Finally, during the series' upcoming Season 1 finale, Franco tackles brunch, sharing his recipe for piled-high Avocado Toast before crafting an elevated take on Tex-Mex Huevos Rancheros, complete with fried tortilla strips then covered in homemade salsa, refried beans, crema and fried eggs.

Bursting with flavor and Franco's signature flair, the Season 1 finale for "Hot Dish With Franco" airs Saturday, Nov. 4, on Food Network.

Monday Best Bets

Travina Springer in “The Irrational”

NFL Football

(22) ESPN 8:00 PM

All bets are off (not really) when the Las Vegas Raiders head north to the Motor City to take on the resurgent Detroit Lions. The Lions have had the top rushing defense in the league this season, while the Raiders started the year searching for Lady Luck.

2023 World Series

(44) 8:00 PM

Batter up: Game 3 of the 2023 MLB World Series airs live, with footage broadcast straight from the field. Teams have yet to be announced, but the Marlins, Brewers, Blue Jays and Rays have all been eliminated during the series’ wild card round.

American Experience

(33) (57) 9:00 PM

By the late 1970s, disco had unseated rock as America’s most popular music. But diehard rock fans found its repetitive beat and cultural emphasis on pleasure as shallow and superficial. This new episode looks at how the anti-disco backlash came to a head.

The Irrational

(5) 10:00 PM

World-renowned behavioral science professor Alec Mercer (Jesse L. Martin) testifies as an expert witness in a wrongful death trial. With the help of his assistants, a tech-savvy sister and his ex-wife, he has solving crime down to a science.

"Black Cake" - Season 1

Based on the New York Times best-selling book of the same name by Charmaine Wilkerson, the new drama series "Black Cake" premieres Wednesday, Nov. 1, on Hulu. Set in the late 1960s, a runaway bride named Covey (Mia Isaac, "Don't Make Me Go," 2022) disappears into the surf off the coast of Jamaica and is feared drowned or a fugitive on the run for her husband's murder. In present-day California, a widow named Eleanor Bennett (Chipo Chung, "Into the Badlands") loses her battle with cancer, leaving her two estranged children, Byron (Ashley Thomas, "Them") and Benny (Adrienne Warren, "The Woman King," 2022), a flash drive that holds previously untold stories of her journey to America. This leads them through an astounding adventure that spans decades, taking them from the Caribbean to London to California and ending with her famous black cake, ultimately forcing the siblings to rethink everything they thought they knew about themselves and their family. Created by Marissa Jo Cerar, "Black Cake" also stars Rupert Evans ("The Man in the High Castle"), Cara Horgan ("The Sandman"), Rebecca Calder ("Love Me Do," 2015), Faith Alabi ("We Are Who We Are") and Anthony J. Abraham ("Tom Clancy's Jack Ryan").

"Reporting for Christmas" (2023)

It's never too late to find your true calling (and love) in life. That's what happens to idealistic reporter Mary Romero (Tamara Feldman, "Hatchet," 2006) in "Reporting for Christmas," streaming on Hulu starting Thursday, Nov. 2. Over the holidays, Mary is sent to Brunswick, Iowa, to produce a puff piece on a local toy manufacturer. During her time there, Mary grows close with charming toymaker Blake Johnson (Matt Trudeau, "General Hospital"), who helps Mary embrace what truly makes her happy. However, when Mary's boss (D.B. Sweeney, "The Cutting Edge," 1992) changes the angle of her piece, her relationship with the town and Blake is put in jeopardy. Joining the main cast are Maura Kidwell ("Sirens"), Jeremy Warner ("The Unseen," 2023), Ira Amyx (" Fargo"), Cedric Mays (" Candyman," 2021), Kimberly Michelle Vaughn ("North of the 10," 2022), Suzanne Johnson ("The World Without You," 2019), Torrey Hanson ("The Exorcist") and Kelvin John Davis ("The First Lady"). "Reporting for Christmas" was written by Adam Rockoff ("Christmas Matchmakers," 2019) and directed by Jack C. Newell ("Monuments," 2020).

"A Christmas Frequency" (2023)

The holiday cheer continues when "A Christmas Frequency" premieres Thursday, Nov. 2, on Hulu. Kenzie Parker (Ansley Gordon, "The Abigail Mysteries," 2023) is the producer for Breakfast with Brooke. Unfortunately, Brooke (Denise Richards, "The World Is Not Enough," 1999) has recently separated from her husband and her gloomy mood has put the radio show in danger of cancellation. To solve the problem, Kenzie pitches to set up Brooke with a series of blind dates live on-air. However, when Kenzie falls for one of the contenders (Jonathan Stoddard, "Furry Little Christmas," 2021), she needs to choose between her job and her heart. In addition to playing the lead role, Ansley Gordon serves as writer and executive producer of "A Christmas Frequency." Directed by Lindsay Hartley ("Romeo and Juliet Killers," 2022), this holiday romance also stars Casey Waller ("Secrets of Sorority Row," 2021), James Hyde ("Passions"), John F. Henry II ("Hargrave"), Edward Lewis French ("The Scapegoat," 2015), Anastacia McPherson ("Vaction Home Nightmare," 2023), Emrhys Cooper ("The Shuroo Process," 2021), Iris Anthony ("Curb Your Enthusiasm") and Carolyn Grundman ("A Thousand Little Cuts," 2022).

"Magic Mike's Last Dance" (2023)

This is one dance that's worth waiting for. After nearly eight years, male stripper-extraordinaire Mike Lane (Channing Tatum, "21 Jump Street," 2012) is back to close out his self-

Strapped for cash, Mike starts taking bartender gigs in Florida. Fortunately, one gig leads to the offer of a lifetime. After a passionate evening with wealthy socialite Maxandra Mendoza (Salma Hayek, "Frida," 2002), Mike heads to London to choreograph a special dance production being put on by Max. Written by Reid Carolin ("Dog," 2022) and directed by Steven Soderbergh ("Erin Brockovich," 2000), "Magic Mike's Last Dance" also stars Ayub Khan-Din ("Ackley Bridge"), Juliette Motamed ("We Are Lady Parts"), Vicki Pepperdine ("Getting On"), Alan Cox ("Young Sherlock Holmes," 1985), Caitlin Gerard ("American Crime"), Matt Bomer ("Suits"), Joe Manganiello ("True Blood") and newcomer Jemelie George.

Q: How did Hugh Grant get his start? And has he ever won an Oscar?

A: I think most people imagine Hugh Grant ("Notting Hill," 1999) bursting onto the film scene fully formed in 1994's "Four Weddings and a Funeral." But in fact, he was 34 when that film came out, at which point he'd been struggling to make his mark on screen for years.

Its success determined his future career as a rom-com idol, but in recent years he's been trying to shake that up a little. And that seems to offer him the best chance of getting the Oscar that has so far eluded him.

Grant actually had more than two dozen roles on film and TV prior to "Four Weddings," with a big focus on historical drama. His first role was in a university-produced film called "Privileged," about a bunch of students struggling to stage a version of the play "The Duchess of Malfi." Being that it was produced on a micro-budget by Oxford University, it's pretty hard to find, despite Grant's involvement.

His best-known pre-"Four Weddings" role was in the 1987 historical drama "Maurice," for which he won a best-actor award at the Venice Film Festival.

His move to broad-appeal romantic comedies in the '90s hampered his chances of getting that kind of hardware again (the genre is generally overlooked during awards season).

But lately, he's been expanding his range again. Most notably, he has a role in the upcoming family adventure "Wonka," playing an Oompa Loompa — a magical creature first introduced in the book "Charlie and the Chocolate Factory." "Wonka" is prequel to that story, detailing the early life of Willy Wonka, creator of the famous factory.

With a release date right before Christmas this year, this one's already getting a bit of Oscar buzz. But it remains to be seen if it will actually pan out, and if any of it will go to Grant himself.

Q: What's Denzel Washington going to do next, after the new Equalizer movie? Will he do another one?

A: Without spoiling the plot of "The Equalizer 3," released earlier this fall, I can say that whatever happens at the end, another sequel is always possible. Writers and producers have always found ways to continue a story if the demand (in the form of ticket sales) is there.

But I can also say that, at the moment, there's no "Equalizer 4" included in the list of star Denzel Washington's ("Training Day," 2001) upcoming projects.

There is, however, a very different, even more high-profile sequel on the list: "Gladiator II."

Washington will have a sizable role in the upcoming sequel to the 2000
 Roman-period action hit.

Details of Washington's character haven't been released yet. But he's a major action star, so we can at least expect him to get in on the sword-swinging, which is clearly the fun part of being in a historical epic like this.

It seems he's been added to replace the star power that was lost when Russell Crowe's ("L.A. Confidential," 1997) character died at the end of the first film.

It's been confirmed that Crowe will not be returning for the 24-years-late sequel. Instead, the film will focus on Lucius, a child in the first film who was in line to be the next emperor. In the sequel, he's now an adult (played by Paul Mescal, "Aftersun," 2022) tangling with his own future — and that of the empire.

"Gladiator II" was only partway through filming when the actors' strike began, so its predicted November 2024 release date could now be in jeopardy.

Q: Is it true they were going to make an Indiana Jones movie about aliens?

A: Technically, aliens did make an appearance in the fourth film, "Indiana Jones and the Kingdom of the Crystal Skull" (2008), but they were originally going to be a much bigger part.

The birdcages of Hollywood are lined with decades' worth of un-filmed Indiana Jones scripts that were commissioned by creator George Lucas ("Star Wars: Episode IV
 - A New Hope," 1977). One such script, by "Die Hard" (1988) screenwriter Jeb Stuart, would have seen Indy chasing aliens around the U.S. in a sort of pulp-sci-fi take on the character.

The timing makes some sense, at least. "Indiana Jones and the Saucer Men from Mars" (the working title of the script) was set after the events of the third film, 1989's "The Last Crusade," thus placing it in the 1950s — the peak of little-green-man mania in the U.S.

But it was ultimately scrapped.
 Copies of the script have circulated online, and elements of it were reused for "Crystal Skull," but Stuart's vision never saw a screen.

Rumor has it Steven Spielberg, who had directed the three previous films, saw the smash hit 1996 film "Independence Day" and decided he and Lucas couldn't make an alien-invasion movie that could compete.
