Late Laughs

The Late Show With Stephen Colbert (R)

There was a whole list of security officials the president [Trump] didn't reach out to that day [Jan. 6]. ... He did not call them from a box. He did not call while watching Fox. He did not help out Uncle Sam. His brain is made of eggs and ham.

If the court believes this type of Christian ritual [praying publicly at midfield during a game], then I'm sure they'll be fine with every religion going varsity. I can't wait for the Satanic cheerleaders: "D-E-V-I-L! Come on, team, let's burn in hell! Sacrifice a goat!"

The Tonight Show Starring Jimmy Fallon (R)

Thanks to some big wins in Congress, falling gas prices and a stronger economy, President Biden's approval rating has surged three points. That's it?! That's like donating a kidney and getting a text back that says "thx."

Jimmy Kimmel Live! with David Alan Grier (R)

[Donald] Trump sat for a deposition with the New York State attorney general and repeatedly pled the Fifth (Amendment) for over four hours. ... At this point, the hardest thing is figuring out which crime Trump is being investigated for. ... Is this the tax fraud thing, or the insurrection thing, or the voter fraud thing, or the paying off the porn star thing, or the Capitol Police thing, or one of the other two Capitol Police things, or the mishandling of classified document things, or the thing where you used the Oval Office to sell beans? Where is the House Committee on that one?

In other mating news, they've got a freaky problem down there in Florida right now. ... Folks have been messing with the manatees down in Florida while they're having group sex. So much so that the Sarasota Police Department had to tweet this warning: "If you see a manatee mating herd, observe respectfully from a distance. Do not touch." And I get that. I hate when I'm having sex in public and people try to touch me.

Now have you guys heard about the controversy over at the Sesame Street theme park in Philly? Well, they got in trouble because some of their costumed characters were accused of ignoring Black kids in the park. ... The theme park is being sued for $25 million by the kids' parents. Their lawyer said the lawsuit was brought to them by the letters F and U.

Late Night With Seth Meyers (R)

A Chick-fil-A restaurant in North Carolina is facing criticism after it was looking for volunteers to work at the location's drive-thru who would be given five free entrées for a one-hour shift instead of being paid. Perhaps most offensive, calling a sandwich from Chick-fil-A an "entrée."

A series 'Reborn': 'The Wheel of Time' returns for Season 2

By Dana Simpson
TV Media

Within the realm of the fantastic, several novels, movies, video games and series exist to tickle the adventure bone. However, despite the plethora of content, few franchises have the hold that Harry Potter, Game of Thrones and The Lord of the Rings do. One series that has recently re-entered the chat, however, is "The Wheel of Time," which is about to begin its second season on Prime Video.

First written by Robert Jordan beginning in 1990, the 15-book series was expected to comprise just six novels. In 2009, the book series was taken over by fellow fantasy writing powerhouse Brandon Sanderson, following Jordan's death two years earlier. As time progressed and more books emerged, fans of high fantasy craved a TV or film adaptation that would do the then-still-growing book series justice. Finally, in 2018, following nearly two decades of rights disputes, low-budget pilots and controversy, it was announced that Amazon Studios would partner with Sony Pictures Television to make everyone's otherworldly dreams come true.

Now, following further setbacks brought about by the COVID-19 pandemic and more, "The Wheel of Time" Season 2 premieres Friday, Sept. 1, on Prime Video.

Already renewed for a third season ahead of the Season 2 premiere, WOT fans can rest easy knowing that the series' writers did not need to rush to fit several books worth of content into one (potentially) final set of episodes. Instead, audiences get another eight episodes in the second season, while looking forward to even more come Season 3 (likely to be released 2024-25).

When Season 1 began, viewers met Moiraine (Rosamund Pike, "Gone Girl," 2014) as she began her quest to find the Dragon Reborn in the Two Rivers. As a member of the powerful Aes Sedai, an order of women with the ability to channel a form of elemental magic called the One Power, Moiraine has been called upon to find a kind of "chosen one," the reincarnation of a chaneller called the Dragon, who once destroyed the world. After gathering a small group — any of whom could possibly be the Dragon Reborn — Moiraine, her Warder, Lan Mandragoran (Daniel Henney, "Big Hero 6," 2014), and the four new candidates — Perrin Aybara (Marcus Rutherford, "Bulletproof"), Mat Cauthon (played by "Clique's" Barney Harris in Season 1 and replaced by "The Witcher's" Dónal Finn in Season 2), Rand al'Thor (Joshua Stradowski, "High Flyers") and Egwene al'Vere (Madeleine Madden, "Dora and the Lost City of Gold," 2019) — begin their quest to defeat a primordial evil known as the Dark One.

As can be expected from any adaptation, there are a few differences between details from the novel and those from the series, but as Mashable writer Belen Edwards wrote after the Season 1 release, "A 100% faithful adaptation of 'The Wheel of Time' was never going to be possible," due to its "four million words" put to paper since 1990. Regardless, the crux of the tale remains the same, right down to the preview material at the end of the season (or novel).

Recently planted directly at the end of the Season 1 finale, titled "The Eye of the World" after the first official book in the saga, the full-scene insertion is reminiscent of Jordan's own decision to include a sneak-peek at the end of each one of his books. In fact, the keen observer may have already noticed that the Season 2 clip is an adaptation of the "Darkfriend Social" prologue that begins "The Great Hunt," the second book of the literary series and the main source from which this season's material was mined. (Though it should be noted that some elements were also included from Book 3, "The Dragon Reborn.")

For the sake of brevity and avoiding as many spoilers as possible, suffice it to say that the first season did not end on a high note for Moiraine and her tribe of villagers. Despite the unveiling of the Dragon Reborn, a battle between the reincarnation and a villain presumed to be the Dark One only appeared to awaken a more sinister energy. Needless to say, a war is on the horizon headed into this new installment.

"In Season [2], threats new and very old seek out the young friends from the Two Rivers, now scattered over the world," the Prime Video description reads. "The woman who found and guided them is now powerless to help, and so they must find other sources of strength. In each other, or themselves. In the Light ... or the Dark."

"The Wheel of Time" was adapted for the screen by creator Rafe Judkins ("Agents of S.H.I.E.L.D.") and the Season 2 premiere is directed by Sanaa Hamri ("Empire") and Thomas Napper ("Jawbone," 2017). Zoë Robins ("Black Christmas," 2019) and Guy Roberts ("Hanna"), who play Nynaeve al'Meara and Uno Nomesta, respectively, are both expected to return to the series for Season 2 as well.

"The wheel weaves as the wheel wills," so don't miss your chance to be a part of the journey. "The Wheel of Time" Season 2 premieres Friday, Sept. 1, on Prime Video.

World's greatest spy: 'Archer' returns for final season

By Sarah Passingham
TV Media

The clock is ticking down as The Agency takes on its last set of cases. Animated sitcom "Archer" returns Wednesday, Aug. 30, to FXX for its 14th and final season. This season, Lana Kane, voiced by "The Last Thing He Told Me" star Aisha Tyler, takes the lead of the spy agency as it bounces back from last season's narrow escape.

After the series debut on FX in 2009, "Archer" quickly became a sensation because of its slick, "Mad Men" style of animation paired with outrageous comedy at the expense of serious spy dramas and beloved film and TV antiheroes. The series revolves around International Secret Intelligence Service agent Sterling Archer, voiced by H. Jon Benjamin ("Bob's Burgers"), whose relentless narcissism is his defining feature.

The rest of the voice cast includes Judy Greer ("White House Plumbers") as office assistant Cheryl Tunt; Chris Parnell ("Inside Amy Schumer") as agency multitool Cyril Figgis; Amber Nash ("How to Ruin the Holidays" 2023) as questionably ready for field work HR director Pam Poovey; series creator Adam Reed ("Frisky Dingo") as agent Ray Gillette; Lucky Yates ("Frisky Dingo") as engineer Algernop Krieger; and Natalie Dew ("The Capture") as a new agent joining The Agency this season, Zara Khan.

According to the official description for "Archer" Season 14 from FXX, with Lana in the driver's seat this time, her "goal is to make money while also making the world a better place, but she quickly finds out running a spy agency isn't so cut and dry." One of the last times that the members of The Agency were cut loose, they became a cartel to fund themselves, and with that course of action off the table, The Agency has to find some more legitimate ways to make do-good money.

Fans of "Archer" will know that anything else could possibly be on the table, though, given how the series has historically taken advantage of its animated medium. Three seasons of the series took place in different imagined worlds from Archer's coma dreams, completely removed from the world of the intelligence agency. Season 8 marked the show's first season airing on FXX and saw the team in Archer's 1947 Dreamland, a Los Angeles noir. The following two seasons were set on an island on the cusp of the 1940s and aboard a spaceship.

Zara Kahn and Sterling Archer from season 14 of "Archer"

While the 10th season of "Archer" was the last with series creator and voice cast member Reed as full-time showrunner, he shared ahead of that season's premiere that no idea was too far out to not include in the brainstorm. When asked by The A.V. Club about the best/worst season theme idea, Reed said, "I wanted them to all work at a fast-casual restaurant called Archerbees. That was problematic for a whole bunch of reasons, but I think we could have done an OK job with it."

With a team that could potentially make a meal out of "Archerbees," there really is no telling where the final season of such an adventurous sitcom with regular unexpected twists will end up. While no guest actors have been announced yet for the upcoming season, "Archer" boasts some serious stars among its guest voice actor roster. Bryan Cranston ("Your Honor"), Jon Hamm ("Good Omens") and Christian Slater ("Fleishman Is in Trouble") have all voiced characters there to throw a wrench in The Agency's plans.

FXX is home to another long-running sitcom, in fact, "It's Always Sunny In Philadelphia" holds the record as the longest-running live-action American sitcom, having surpassed the family sitcom "The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet" when it aired its 15th season. The 16th season premiered this June and the series is renewed through its 18th season. The rest of the FXX original series roster includes the semi-autobiographical sitcom "Dave" and the adult animated sitcom "Little Demon."

"Archer" is not the only series under the FX umbrella saying goodbye to fans with a finale season this summer. Rural Oklahoma-set comedy-drama "Reservation Dogs" aired its final season this August, ending after three seasons on FX and Hulu. Parenting comedy-drama "Breeders," a co-production with U.K. network Sky Showcase, wraps up this September after four seasons on FX.

This summer also marked the return of a fan-favorite series to FX, when vampire roommate sitcom "What We Do In the Shadows" returned from dead air between seasons this July. The series has already been renewed for a sixth season. A much-anticipated spinoff series also dropped on FX last month when the crime drama limited series "Justified: City Primeval" premiered, this time placing Raylan Givens (Timothy Olyphant "Full Circle") in Detroit to smoke out a serial killer.

Get ready to join in on one last mission when "Archer" returns for lucky season No. 14. Two brand-new episodes air on FXX on Wednesday, Aug. 30. Episodes stream the next day on Hulu.

Lead your own romantic adventure with 'Choose Love'

By Caroline Collacutt
TV Media

Viewer's choice: Netflix is putting the power back in the viewer's hands, as the streaming platform is releasing its latest endeavor into the interactive format with "Choose Love," premiering Thursday, Aug. 31.

Joining the likes of Netflix's other interactive programming, such as "Black Mirror: Bandersnatch" (2018), "Cat Burglar" (2022), "Head-space: Unwind Your Mind" (2021) and "Trivia Quest" (2022), "Choose Love" comes from director Stuart McDonald ("Crazy Ex-Girlfriend") and writer Josann McGibbon ("Runaway Bride," 1999), who both have ample experience in the world of romantic comedies – but never before like this.

A "choose-your-own romantic adventure," so to speak, this film welcomes viewers into the seemingly perfect life of Cami Conway (Laura Marano, "The Royal Treatment," 2022). She's working her dream job as a recording engineer, has a steady, long-term boyfriend she loves, and the future looks bright. That is ... for now. What happens next is entirely up to you! As Cami's story continues, the film will intermittently prompt the viewer (you) with questions asking which direction Cami should go next. Should she choose a new career path? Rethink her relationship? The future is totally in your hands.

As Netflix describes: "Cami feels like she's missing out on life, but she isn't quite sure how. Maybe she's afraid of settling down for good with her boyfriend, Paul. Or perhaps she regrets abandoning the singing career she'd always dreamed of. What if Paul isn't meant to be her forever? What if Rex, the Brit musician, is?

And what about Jack, the proverbial "one who got away, who's now suddenly back in the picture? As Cami faces an array of choices ranging from the seemingly innocuous to some major ethical dilemmas, viewers help her decide exactly what to do. The result? A bunch of possible storylines and endings, depending on what you pick."

Thanks to "Choose Love," the future is what you make it. With endless rewatch potential, and enough endings to rival 1985's "Clue," this foray into interactive romance also stars Scott Michael Foster ("You") as Paul, Cami's boyfriend; Avan Jogia ("Zombieland: Double Tap," 2019) as Rex Galier, the British rock star; Jordi Webber ("Power Rangers Ninja Steel") as Jack Menna, Cami's first love; and Megan Smart ("Class of '07") as Amalia, Cami's sister.

The interactive journey begins (and begins, and begins again) when you press play on "Choose Love," streaming Thursday, Aug. 31, on Netflix.

Phone frenzy: It's time to hang up the phone and spill the gossip: the third and final episode of "Telemarketers" airs Sunday, Aug. 27, on HBO, with episodes streaming on Max.

Directed by Adam Bhala Lough ("Alt-Right: Age of Rage," 2018) and Sam Lipman-Stern ("Live from the Streets") – the latter of whom uncovered the scandal in question – this eye-opening docuseries dives into the twisted world of telemarketing, exposing a billion-dollar scam that rippled through the industry at large.

This limited series, according to HBO, "chronicles the 20-year journey of two unlikely employees who stumble upon the murky truth behind a seedy New Jersey call center," introducing viewers to two former telemarketing employees – Pat Pespas and Sam Lipman-Stern himself – who met while working in the telemarketing industry during the early 2000s. At the time, Lipman-Stern was a 14-year-old high school dropout and Pespas a top salesman dealing with addiction issues. But eventually, their unlikely partnership led to the discovery of mass corruption and fraud throughout the industry: some taking place in their own backyard, as their own company advertised itself as raising money for charitable causes while in reality pocketing most of the money.

After their workplace was shut down by an FBI investigation, the pair became whistleblowers and continued their work bringing attention to the exploitative (and more often than not) illegal practices used fervently across the telemarketing industry, leading to (what HBO calls) "a madcap story of an unruly, low-wage environment and two longtime office buddies who find themselves hot on the trail of a sobering look at the dark side of American capitalism and the misuse of consumer trust." "With raw eyewitness footage and a comedic cast of characters," says HBO, "this three-part documentary takes you from an anarchic boiler room filled with booze, drugs and debauchery to the halls of the United States Senate as a billion-dollar telemarketing scam unravels."

From executive producers Benny and Josh Safdie (the Safdie brothers, both of "Uncut Gems") and Danny McBride (creator of HBO series such as "Vice Principals" and "The Righteous Gemstones"), "Telemarketers" airs its explosive final episode, Sunday, Aug. 27, on HBO, later streaming on Max.

"One Piece" - Season 1

Eiichiro Oda's "One Piece," Japan's highest-selling manga series in history, takes on a new seafaring adventure on Netflix. The new eight-episode, live-action series "One Piece" premieres Thursday, Aug. 31. Set in a world of magic, monsters, mythical creatures and pirates, the series stars Iñaki Godoy ("Who Killed Sara?") as Monkey D. Luffy, a young adventurer who has longed for a life of freedom for as long as he can remember — and who happens to be made out of rubber. Setting sail from his small village, Luffy embarks on a perilous journey to find One Piece, a legendary, fabled treasure that will help him to become the king of pirates. Pulling together what he hopes will be the crew he's always dreamed of, Luffy and his fellow pirates face off against enemies and monsters of all species and sizes in their quest for glory. Joining Godoy's Luffy on the crew are Mackenyu ("Rurouni Kenshin: Final Chapter Part I - The Final," 2021) as Roronoa Zoro, a pirate hunter and swordsman; Emily Rudd ("Hunters") as thief and navigator Nami; Jacob Romero ("Greenleaf") as Usopp, a sniper; and Taz Skylar ("Boiling Point," 2021) as the amorous cook, Sanji. Created in partnership with Shueisha and produced by Tomorrow Studios and Netflix, "One Piece" is created by writers, executive producers and showrunners Steven Maeda ("CSI: Miami") and Matt Owens ("Agents of S.H.I.E.L.D."). Vincent Regan, Iliá Isorely's Paulino, Morgan Davies, Aidan Scott, Langley Kirkwood, Jeff Ward, Celeste Loots, Alexander Maniatis, McKinley Belcher III, Craig Fairbrass, Steven Ward and Chioma Umeala also star.

"Disenchantment" - Season 5

Hear ye, hear ye! The end is near for "Disenchantment," as this hit animated series premieres its fifth and final season Friday, Sept. 1, on Netflix. Back for one last grand misadventure, heavy-drinking Queen Bean (Abbi Jacobson, "Broad City"), her feisty elf companion, Elfo (Nat Faxon, "HouseBroken"), and her personal demon, Luci (Eric André, "The Eric Andre Show"), are out to save Dreamland from Queen Dagmar's (Sharon Horgan, "Catastrophe") wicked rule. The stakes are higher for the trio (and the kingdom) as Bean, outrunning a prophecy that foretells she will kill someone she loves, must vanquish her mother, while facing down foes and her own destiny with Elfo and Luci. From "The Simpsons" and "Futurama's" Matt Groening and Josh Weinstein, "Disenchantment" also features the voice talents of John DiMaggio ("Futurama"), Tress MacNeille ("The Simpsons"), Richard Ayoade ("The IT Crowd"), Matt Berry ("What We Do in the Shadows"), Noel Fielding ("The Mighty Boosh"), Meredith Hagner ("Search Party"), David Herman ("Office Space," 1999), Maurice LaMarche ("Rick and Morty"), Lucy Montgomery ("Dodger") and Billy West ("Futurama").

"The Great Seduction" (2023)

Based on the 2003 French Canadian comedy-drama "La Grande Séduction," this new, Spanish take, "The Great Seduction" (or "La Gran Seducción"), premieres on Netflix Wednesday, Aug. 30. The small fishing island of Santa María del Mar had its heart broken when industrialization brought its residents' prosperous livelihoods to an end. But, with the chance to have a fish-packing plant set up in town, things look like they are about to take a turn for the impoverished residents. All they have left to do: find a doctor to move there. Hoping to "seduce" big city doctor Mateo (Pierre Louis, "Amsterdam") to move his practice to Santa María del Mar, the townspeople, led by their leader, Germán (Guillermo Villegas, "Sin Nombre," 2009), put together an elaborate scheme to convince the doctor their little island is the best place he could possibly live. Directed by Celso R. García ("The Thin Yellow Line," 2015) and written by García and Luciana Herrera Caso ("Donde Nace el Agua," 2018), the film is produced by Nicolás Celis ("Roma," 2018) and Sebastián Celis ("Birds of Passage," 2018). Yalitza Aparicio ("Roma," 2018), Eligio Meléndez ("I Dream in Another Language," 2017), Julio Casado ("Camelia La Texana"), Héctor Jiménez ("Nacho Libre," 2006) and Arath Aquirino ("Vencer la ausencia") also star.

Ben Whishaw, Rooney Mara and Claire Foy in "Women Talking"

By Caroline Collacutt
TV Media

"Women Talking" (2022)

Written and directed by Canadian filmmaker Sarah Polley ("Stories We Tell," 2012), the critically acclaimed, 2022 film, "Women Talking," will make its streaming debut Tuesday, Aug. 29, on Prime Video. Based on the novel of the same name, written by Canadian author Miriam Toews (itself inspired by a remote and isolated Mennonite community based in Bolivia), this carefully crafted adaptation features an all-star ensemble cast including Rooney Mara ("Carol," 2015), Claire Foy ("First Man," 2018), Judith Ivey ("The Devil's Advocate," 1997), Jessie Buckley ("Wild Rose," 2018), Ben Whishaw ("The Lobster," 2015) and Frances McDormand ("Fargo," 1996), who also served as a producer on the film. Together, the ensemble tells the story of a group of similarly isolated American Mennonite women – women who begin to question their past, present and future once they begin sharing with each other, and discover an overarching truth: the men of their colony have a disturbing history of committing acts of sexual violence and assault against them. When left with the space to do so, the women gather and must decide once and for all: stay quietly, stay and fight, or leave for good – a vote that will change their lives forever. "Women Talking" also features performances by Sheila McCarthy ("The Day After Tomorrow," 2004); Michelle McLeod ("Don't Talk to Irene," 2017); Kira Guloien ("Lullaby," 2022); August Winter ("Mary Kills People"); Shayla Brown ("See") and more.

"Champions" (2023)

Woody Harrelson ("White House Plumbers") stars as temperamental basketball coach Marcus Marakovich in the 2023 sports comedy "Champions," which will be available to stream as of Tuesday, Aug. 29, on Prime Video. Acting as the solo directorial debut for filmmaker Bobby Farrelly ("There's Something About Mary," 1998), "Champions" features a screenplay written by Mark Rizzo ("Green Eggs and Ham"), who worked to adapt the 2018 Spanish film of the same name. The story follows as Marakovich (Harrelson) faces consequences in court (the legal kind) after letting his temper get the best of him during a game. Once the assistant coach for a minor league team, Marakovich is removed from the job and sentenced to community service, eventually landing him as the head coach for a basketball team made for people with learning differences and disabilities: The Friends. As the team improves, so does Marakovich, and soon the coach is left to choose between the NBA and the friends he's made outside of it. "Champions" also stars Kaitlin Olson ("It's Always Sunny in Philadelphia"); Matt Cook ("Man with a Plan"); Ernie Hudson ("Ghostbusters," 1984); Cheech Marin ("Born in East L.A.," 1987); Madison Tevlin ("Mr. D"); Kevin Lannucci ("Embattled," 2020); Matthew Von Der Ahe ("Code Black") and more.

"God. Family. Football."

- Season 1

The complete first season of "God. Family. Football." will be available to stream on Amazon Prime's Freevee as of Friday, Sept. 1. From creator Aaron Benward ("Playing God," 2021), this documentary series follows the hard work of Pastor Denny Duron, who stands as the creator and head coach of the Evangel Christian Academy's highschool football team, located in Louisiana.

After taking a break from his position, Duron returned to the field after the team – who once dominated the competition – went a whole season without a single win. Now back in the game, Duron hopes, according to an Amazon description, to: "lead this talented group of kids with dreams of playing in college and the NFL into prominence on the field, while molding them into future leaders off of it" – and, of course, to lead the Evangels to glory once again.

The Flash

Timelines collide when the superhero speedster — Barry Allen (Miller) secretly acting as "The Flash" — triggers a universe-threatening event upon going back in time to prevent his mother's murder. Basking in the success and aftermath of having saved Earth alongside his Justice League peers, Barry reassesses his life and sets out to save his mother, Nora (Verdu), by racing back through time utilizing his super speed. Unintentionally creating a new universe in which past heroes and villains of the DC Universe are restored to their original or new forms, Barry must seek the assistance of an aged Bruce Wayne/Batman (Keaton) to reverse the damage and return to the original timeline. *Director: Andy Muschietti. Finding Percy to be the complete opposite of her expectations, the mismatched pair clash before bonding, finding shared interests and a longing for independence. As the summer deadline approaches

Maddie must decide whether to continue the charade for her future or fess up and shatter the potential romance. *Director: Gene Stupnitsky. Ready Jet go

Celebrity chef Jet Tila hosts new how-to show

By Caroline Collacutt
TV Media

As a renowned chef, entrepreneur, "culinary anthropologist" and Food Network star, Jet Tila has made quite the name for himself. His innovation, creativity and delicious, Asian-inspired dishes have inspired many to try something new, and Tila's mission to spice things up in kitchens across America has only just begun, as he teaches chefs, cooking enthusiasts and kitchen newbies alike in his new show, "Ready Jet Cook," airing Sundays on Food Network.

According to a biography for the chef, highlighted on the Food Network website: "Jet has roots deeply embedded in the industry and ones that significantly establish him firmly in the art form he is most passionate about: storytelling through food. Along with a host of accolades and achievements, Jet's television career is vast and includes being the new floor reporter on 'Iron Chef America,' 'Parts Unknown with Anthony Bourdain,' 'Chopped,' 'Cutthroat Kitchen,' 'Beat Bobby Flay,' 'Guy's Grocery Games,' and 'The Today Show.'"

They continue: "Born from the first Thai food family of Los Angeles, California, a family which established the first Thai markets and restaurants in the U.S. — Jet brings innovation and artistry into the traditional Thai food fold to create a signature style that is at heart, his own."

Now, Jet is sharing his expertise with us, the viewers at home. For the first time, the chef will be giving detailed tutorials on how to cook some of his best, most delicious dishes, each aimed to highlight Jet's favorite flavors from all across Asia. Throughout the series, Jet turns up the heat (in more ways than one), dishing out Panang Chicken Curry, Sichuan Mapo Tofu, Hong Kong-style Chicken Chow Mein, Korean Short Rib Tacos, his own signature Pad Thai recipe and so much more, taking aspiring cooks (or hungry onlookers!) step-by-step through the process of making mouth-watering, Asian-inspired meals.

With two cookbooks to his name — the award-winning "101 Asian Dishes You Need to Cook Before You Die: Discover a New World of Flavors in Authentic Recipes" and, written with his wife, Allison: "101 Epic Dishes: Recipes That Teach You How to Make the Classics Even More Delicious" — Tila has endless recipes to share, and does so with enthusiasm, experience, and an easy-going, approachable attitude.

From his groundbreaking restaurant, Wazuzu, and straight to your television screen, Jet Tila brings yummy to you with "Ready Jet Cook," airing Sundays on Food Network.

"The Conversations Project"
- Season 1

Be a part of the conversation when Hulu's newest docuseries, "The Conversations Project," premieres on the streamer Monday, Aug. 28. Inspired by The Harlem Renaissance Salon, "a dinner gathering of great African American philosophers, writers, musicians, singers, dancers, comedians and actors of the period" (per Hulu), this series is a reimagined take on these incredible gatherings. Featuring "unscripted, candid, and never dull" (Hulu) topical conversations between Black American individuals from the worlds of science, sports, arts, entertainment and more, the group comes together over drinks and dinner for candid discussions, where everything is on the table.

"Spellbound" - Season 1A

Feel the sparks with the action fantasy tween series "Spellbound" when it makes its premiere on Hulu, Thursday, Aug. 31. When 15-year-old Cece Parker Jones (new talent Hailey Romain) relocates from a small town in the U.S. to France to study at the Paris Opera Ballet School, she's on top of the world. But, things turn upside down for Cece when she discovers a book of family spells in the back room of her aunt's apothecary — and unknowingly casts an antidote to a spell that has been keeping her safe her whole life. Learning that she is descended from a line of powerful witches called the Wizens — and that her rivals, called the Mystics, are after her magic — Cece must now juggle the pressures of an elite ballet school, intense academics, friendships and crushes, all while learning how to handle her incredible, new-found ability to activate magic and keeping it a secret from her friends. From "Find Me in Paris" creators Jill Girling and Lori Mather-Welch, "Spellbound" also stars Rik Young ("Find Me in Paris"), relative newcomer Margherita Barberi ("Love Sarah," 2020), Sam Darius ("Coroner"), Zac Gabriel Werb ("The Stand Up Sketch Show"), Raven Dauda ("Star Trek: Discovery"), Malou Beauvoir ("Imani's Story," 2022), Cameron James-King ("Miss Peregrine's Home for Peculiar Children," 2016), Imogen Mackie Walker ("Karen Pirie") and new talents Abigail O'Regan, Etienne Moana and Gmolémo Tsagaé.

Hailey Romain stars in "Spellbound"

"Finnick" (2022)

Home is where the heart is ... Or where the finns are. Mikhail Khrustaliov ("Barboskiny Team," 2022) stars as the titular troublemaker in the 2022 animated film "Finnick," available to stream as of Thursday, Aug. 31, on Hulu. Born into a world of finns, Finnick, a young, care-free prankster, wants nothing to do with the responsibilities of his kind. He wants nothing to do with taking care of his human's home, couldn't care less about the hearth — Finnick only cares for his tricks, tricks that leave families running from the house before ever settling in. Eager to keep up his punkish behavior, Finnick's plans are thwarted when he meets 13-year-old Christine (Nathalie Ferare, "Tales of Annualia"). Despite being his opposite in every way, Finnick and Christine must team up and work together in order to solve (and stop) a series of inexplicable events taking place around the city, threatening homes, humans and finns alike. Originally released as a Russian-language film, this 2022 English adaptation also features the voice acting talents of Artur Babich ("Ne drogni!"); Paul Castro Jr. ("The Skeleton Twins," 2014); Clifford Chapin ("Attack on Titan"); Emily Cramer ("Daniel X: Genesis") and more.

"Belle" (2013)

Starring Gugu Mbatha-Raw ("Beyond the Lights," 2014), Tom Wilkinson ("In the Bedroom," 2001), Miranda Richardson ("The Crying Game," 1992), Matthew Goode ("The Imitation Game," 2014), James Norton ("Little Women," 2019) and more, the star-studded feature film, 2014's "Belle," will be available to stream on Hulu as of Thursday, Aug. 31. Inspired by a 1779 painting of the very real Dido Elizabeth Belle, this film expands upon the woman's life — or what it might have been, as very little is known about Belle. Directed by Amma Asante ("Where Hands Touch," 2018), "Belle" follows a young, mixed-race woman living in gentle society during the 1760s, who earns a vast fortune after her father's death. Worried that no man will marry her due to her race (or that a lower-class man might take interest in marrying Belle for her money), Belle's remaining family decides to send the girl to live with her spinster aunt, insisting that she will never come "out" to society. Determined as ever — and perhaps in love — Dido then takes her life into her own hands, defying conventions as she sets her own course.

Hollywood Q&A

By Adam Thomlison
TV Media

Q: I've kind of lost sight of Vicki Lewis from "NewsRadio," but I always found her delightful. Is she still acting?

A: Vicki Lewis is still acting, but you have to be in New York to see it — she's been exclusively doing theater since 2021.

But depending on when it was that you lost track of her career, there may be a fair bit in there you haven't seen.

"NewsRadio" was definitely her most notable role. She played Beth, the poorly paid station secretary, on all five seasons of the hit NBC sitcom, from 1995 to 1999.

After that she leaped straight into another full-time gig on another NBC sitcom — "Three Sisters" — but it only lasted a season. Since then, she's mostly been taking on a range of guest spots on other people's shows, plus a burgeoning sideline as a voice actor.

If you know any kids who are big "Doc McStuffins" fans (or maybe you're a fan yourself — no judgment here), you might have recognized her as the voice of the teddy bear-turned-doctor, Tundra. She also voiced Wonder Woman on "Batman: The Brave and the Bold," and did a couple of episodes of another popular children's series, "Ben 10."

But the screenwork seemed to dry up a little, which is perhaps what led her to go back to the stage. She's been on and off Broadway for years, going back to 1982. But most recently, starting in 2022, she starred in "Between the Lines," a musical adaptation of the novel of the same name by Jodi Picoult and Samantha van Leer.

Q: I know it didn't last, but I loved the drama series "The Philanthropist." What has its star been doing since then?

A: You're right that it wasn't a hit, and so "The Philanthropist" was really just a blip in star James Purefoy's long and successful career.

It was, however, a great showcase for his combination of grit and refinement — a combination he displayed again as a villainous cult leader in the Fox drama "The Following" from 2013 to 2015.

More recently, he did lengthy arcs on TV dramas "Pennyworth" and "Malpractice" and appeared in the historical PBS miniseries "Marie Antoinette."

But he's not just a TV guy. Lately, he's launched his own, unlikely film franchise: the "Fisherman's Friends" movies.

It started as an independently made British comedy, "Fisherman's Friends." It was a runaway hit, based on a true story of a group of fishermen from the British region of Cornwall who sang sea shanties to pass the time but suddenly launched to fame after getting a global record deal.

The success of the first led soon to a sequel, "Fisherman's Friends: One and All," released last year. Purefoy stars in the films as one of the singers, and signed on as a producer of the sequel.

The series' success must have been welcome for Purefoy, whose big-screen career was a bit tarnished by a pair of all-time flops. In the same year he did "The Philanthropist" (2009), he had the title role in the big-budget adventure film "Solomon Kane," which didn't even earn back half of its $45-million budget. He followed that up with a leading role in 2012's "John Carter," one of the most notorious bombs of all time.

Q: Has Vanna White done anything other than "Wheel of Fortune"?

A: TV icon Vanna White, who reveals the letters on and otherwise co-hosts the long-running game show "Wheel of Fortune," found her calling early in her career, but it wasn't her first try.

She was a model and actress first, and was a contestant in the Miss Georgia 1978 pageant. She soon moved from Georgia to Los Angeles to try her luck on screen.

She didn't have a lot of it at first. She had roles in a few films and TV series, including the 1981 slasher film "Graduation Day" and the slightly more reputable 1981 thriller "Looker."

And then there's the odd case of "Gypsy Angels," a film she shot in 1980 (thus making it, technically, her first role) but which ran into myriad production problems. It wasn't released until 1990, by which point she was a major TV star. The fact that she played a stripper in the movie contrasted a little with the wholesome image she had built on "Wheel."

She started building that image in 1982 when she won an open casting call (beating more than 200 other would-be letter-turners) to get the coveted "Wheel of Fortune" gig.

Almost all of her screen work since has been "Wheel"-related, at least. She has, for example, played herself on numerous shows and in a couple of films.

But to give your question a fuller answer, she's "done" a lot more than just entertain. She has an endorsement deal with Lion Brand Yarns due to the fact she's an avid crocheter. And she also has a side-line flipping houses and investing in real estate.
