Late Laughs

The Tonight Show Starring Jimmy Fallon

I read that Jeep is recalling over a million cars because they can overheat and catch on fire even when they're off. When they heard, Tesla was like, "Game recognize game."

Well, get this. Apparently, there's a new dating trend called "kittenfishing," where people tell small lies about themselves in the early stages of dating to make themselves seem more attractive. So, dating.

Tonight [June 10] in New York City, it was Game 4 of the NBA Finals between the San Antonio Spurs and the New York Knicks. The highest-priced ticket for tonight's game was over $100,000. Yeah, and Knicks fans were willing to pay double if [President] Trump stayed home.

I saw that ahead of the World Cup, Coors Light introduced the Tallerboy, a cannister that holds three beers at once. Three Coors Lights together. That almost makes one real beer.

The Vatican just announced that earlier this week Pope Leo XIV met with Bad Bunny. After being forgiven for his sins, he's now just Bunny.

Some news from Washington today [June 10]. [President] Trump talked about the Lincoln Memorial Reflecting Pool. And once again, he bragged that the pool is taller than any building in the world. At this point, Trump sounds like someone who dove headfirst into the shallow end.

Jimmy Kimmel Live!

Olivia Rodrigo is one of a few celebrities who are not at Madison Square Garden tonight [June 10] for Game 4 of the NBA Finals between the Knicks and the Spurs. I've been doing something interesting. I've been watching the Finals in "Star Wars" order. I started with Game 4. Next I will watch games 5 and, if necessary, 6, and then I will go to 1, 2, 3 and finally Game 7: The Phantom Wembanyama.

We recorded this show before the game, so I cannot tell you whether the fans outside the Garden are rioting because they're happy or mad, but they are rioting. That I know for sure. I feel confident about that.

Late Night With Seth Meyers

Former President Joe Biden suggested last week that his new memoir could be published as early as September. It's expected to be the next book that Joe Biden accidentally buys.

A hedge fund founder recently listed his Hamptons compound for a record $152.5 million, or two tickets to Game 4.

In a new interview, President Trump said that Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu would have to accept any ceasefire deal the U.S. makes and added that Netanyahu "won't have any choice. I call the shots. I call all the shots. He doesn't call the shots." And then, since he said "shots" three times, Pete Hegseth magically appeared.

The end zone: 'All American' wraps up with eighth season

By Sarah Passingham
TV Media

Baseball is America's pastime and FIFA fervor is in full swing, but no other sport brings out fan-demonium quite like the gridiron. The legendary Friday night lights of high school football fields have nurtured generations of professional-level talent. With the high stakes of each game's outcome, not to mention the possibility of making a play that could write one's own ticket to the big leagues weighing on young athletes' shoulders, the level of drama in the world of high school football is sky-high.

The final chapter of high school football drama "All American" unfolds, beginning with a special two-hour premiere event Monday, July 13, on The CW. First, the one-hour special "All American: The Final Season Special" celebrates the series that's already surpassed the 100-episode milestone. It is immediately followed by the season premiere.

The show's eighth season will be its last; its 13 episodes detail a single week in the lives of the beloved cast of characters that make up the Beverly and Crenshaw crew.

From The CW, the upcoming season spans "a week that will have them wondering if everything they've been through over the course of their lives has prepared them for this moment. A week that will ultimately reunite old with the new, friend with enemy, and alter the course of each of their futures forever."

Starring in "All American" are Michael Evans Behling ("The Queen's Jewels," 2025) as Jordan Baker; Greta Onieogou ("Heartland") as Layla Keating; Bre-Z ("Empire") as Tamia "Coop" Cooper; Osy Ikhile ("Citadel") as Cassius Jeremy; Alexis Chikaeze ("Miss Juneteenth," 2020) as Amina Simms; Nathaniel Logan McIntyre ("The Equalizer") as Kingston "KJ" Jeremy; Antonio J. Bell ("Manhunt") as Khalil Edwards; Kareem Grimes ("The Vince Staples Show") as Preach; and Lauryn Hardy ("Mann and Wife") as Tori.

College recruitment is the center of everyone's world, whether it is affecting Jordan's coaching duties at South Crenshaw High or KJ's laser-focused vision on becoming an NFL quarterback. Only a small fraction of high school football players make it to pro, and with that self-imposed pressure, KJ is at a boiling point when he confronts his father Cassius in the official trailer.

While Jordan is in charge of the South Crenshaw High program, Cassius is a coach at Beverly Hills High. After an unexpected introduction at school, KJ wants answers, telling Cassius, "pretty sure I just met your replacement."

Meanwhile, Khalil worries about the cost of tuition, Amina keeps a consequential secret from her father Preach and Layla struggles with her relationships and future plans.

This final season focuses on what "All American" has always been about, "football, family and friendship," per The CW. Olivia (Samantha Logan, "13 Reasons Why"), heavily pregnant with twins, puts one of those pillars into perspective in the trailer for the upcoming season.

As the characters of "All American" face their futures, Olivia reassures Layla that "family is fear and joy tied together." Logan returns as Olivia in guest actor capacity this season, as does Daniel Ezra ("The Running Man," 2025) as Spencer James. The love story of Spencer and Olivia was a throughline of the series, with the happy couple tying the knot, packing up and moving across the country after Spencer signed with the fictional NFL team the New York Bobcats.

Showrunner and executive producer Nkechi Okoro Carroll ("Found") reflected on the experience of creating the final season of "All American" with the cast and crew of the show in a statement, thanking the viewers for their loyalty to the drama through its entire run (and a spinoff series, "All American: Homecoming," which aired for three seasons from 2022 to 2024).

Carroll said, "What we realized was that, just like when your kids grow up and finally leave home, this wasn't goodbye ... it was a tear-filled 'I'll see you soon.' So, to our fans who have rocked with us faithfully for over a hundred episodes, we hope you enjoy this final season as much as we enjoyed making it."

"All American" is executive produced by Greg Berlanti ("Brilliant Minds"), Jameal Turner ("Rosewood"), Sarah Schechter ("The Flight Attendant") and Davis Strauss ("One Tree Hill"), alongside Carroll.

The series is inspired by the life of professional football player Spencer Paysinger. Paysinger spent six years in the NFL. First signing with the New York Giants in 2011 as an undrafted free agent, Paysinger went on to play for the Miami Dolphins and signed with the New York Jets before playing three games with the Carolina Panthers and retiring from the sport in 2017.

While the show takes creative liberties with their Spencer, Paysinger played high school football in Beverly Hills, California, and was involved with setting up the story that became "All American." Paysinger shared in an interview on the "In The Zone" podcast, "there are some moments in that pilot that I wrote, that I changed, so to see those acted on a grand scale like that and then people actually like it was something that completely redefined the goals that I wanted in my life."

Don't miss the premiere of the eighth and final season of "All American" Monday, July 13, on The CW.

Back in the swing: Ferrell, Shannon star in golf comedy 'The Hawk'

Molly Shannon and Will Ferrell in "The Hawk"

By Dana Simpson
TV Media

The Professional Golfers' Association (or PGA, as it is more commonly known) has made the news several times this year for changes to the PGA Tour's eligibility criteria and game rules. According to Golf.com, these changes come on the heels of "new investment, new leadership, new schedules" and changes to field sizes. But one change golf fans likely never saw coming was the PGA Tour's involvement in a new series on Netflix.

Yes, in addition to implementing "five new model local rules" and one protocol modification (per Golf.com) as of the Sony Open in Hawaii this past January, the PGA Tour is a partner in "The Hawk," a new 10-episode comedy series from writer, producer and star Will Ferrell ("Anchorman: The Legend of Ron Burgundy," 2004). "The Hawk" premieres Thursday, July 16, on Netflix.

The series follows fictional professional golfer Lonnie "The Hawk" Hawkins (Ferrell), who is struggling to maintain relevance in a game he once mastered. Back in 2004, Lonnie was a golf legend, but a lot has changed in the world of professional sports — and in his personal life — since his time at the top of the leaderboard.

"Lonnie Hawkins ... struggles on the back nine of his career to recapture his magic," reads the series descriptions per Netflix's Tudum press site. "His body says retire, but his heart says he's not done yet. His ex-wife and his son Lance, golf's new golden boy, know he's through. But with one more major to win to complete golf's Grand Slam, Lonnie refuses to believe he's anything other than one stroke away from the greatest comeback in golf history."

"The Hawk" marks Ferrell's first-ever television comedy while providing viewers with another iconic onscreen persona in Hawkins. Having presented audiences with the crass 1970s TV news anchor Ron Burgundy in "Anchorman: The Legend of Ron Burgundy" in 2004 — the same year Hawkins supposedly rose to the top of his golf game — Ferrell returned two years later to portray another iconic comedy character: the cocky, America-loving racecar driver Ricky Bobby in "Talladega Nights: The Ballad of Ricky Bobby" (2006).

In recent years, Ferrell has been expanding his repertoire behind the scenes, too, producing movies such as "Quiz Lady" (2023), "The Menu" (2022) and "Am I OK?" (2022), in addition to television projects including "Succession," "Dead to Me," "Motherland: Fort Salem" and "No Good Deed," the latter starring Lisa Kudrow ("Friends") and Ray Romano ("Everybody Loves Raymond").

Joining Ferrell in "The Hawk" is his "Saturday Night Live" co-star Molly Shannon, a well-established and popular comedian who is no doubt familiar to fans of Ferrell's other work. Having previously starred in "Wet Hot American Summer" (2001), "Kath & Kim," HBO's "White Lotus" and the Hulu sensation "Only Murders in the Building," Shannon has starred alongside Ferrell in 11 known projects to date, including "A Night at the Roxbury" (1998), "Superstar" (1999), "The Spoils of Babylon," the aforementioned 2006 film "Talladega Nights," and a 2024 documentary titled "Will & Harper," which chronicles Ferrell's friendship with former "SNL" writer Harper Steele, showing the two on a meaningful road trip together shortly after Steele came out as trans.

In "The Hawk," Shannon portrays Hawkins' foul-mouthed estranged wife, Stacy, who happens to be one of many trying to be supportive while ultimately urging Hawkins to retire and enjoy the downtime he has earned. Stacy is also a proud mother to her and Hawkins' adult son, Lance (Jimmy Tatro, "Home Economics"), who is a burgeoning professional golfer in his own right.

Katelyn Tarver ("Ballers") stars in the series as Natalie, a social media influencer and Lance's fiancée, while "The Mindy Project" and "Chelsea Lately" comedian Fortune Feimster stars as Hawkins' new cad, Sam.

"Of course," reads the Tudum article, "there are still old rivals left to vanquish: Golden Fisk [Luke Wilson, 'Legally Blonde,' 2001], the pro golfer who's beaten Lonnie twice; PGA Tour board member Anton [Chris Parnell, 'Rick and Morty']; even Stacy's new beau, Radford [David Hornsby, 'Mythic Quest']. No one ever said this would be easy."

Also not easy was the road to getting "The Hawk" out of the rough.

First announced in April 2023, the series was given the title "Golf" in May 2024 when Deadline released first details about the first stages of production. At that time, American stand-up comedian and actor Ramy Youssef ("Mo") was attached to the project with producer and fellow comedian Josh Rabinowitz ("Rel"). By late summer of 2025, both Youssef and Rabinowitz had left the project, citing "creative differences" as the reason for their joint exit.

"The Hawk" is created by Ferrell, who executive produces with Jessica Elbaum ("Booksmart," 2019) and Alix Taylor ("P2," 2007) for Gloria Sanchez Productions; Rian Johnson ("Knives Out," 2019), Ram Bergman ("Glass Onion," 2022) and Nena Rodriguez ("Poker Face") for T-Street; as well as Steele, Chris Henchy ("Land of the Lost," 2009), David Gordon Green ("Halloween," 2018) and Andrew Guest ("Brooklyn Nine-Nine").

Don't miss a new era of Lonnie Hawkins when "The Hawk" tees off Thursday, July 16, on Netflix.

'Dancing With the Stars: The Next Pro' asks: Who will bring their boogie shoes to Season 35?

By Caroline Collacutt
TV Media

Waltz to win: The Dancing With the Stars franchise expands with "Dancing With the Stars: The Next Pro," making its debut Monday, July 13, on ABC. Hosted by Robert Irwin ("I'm a Celebrity, Get Me Out of Here!") — the Australian conservationist, zookeeper, wildlife photographer and television presenter who recently won our hearts, and the Len Goodman Mirrorball Trophy, as the Season 34 winner of "Dancing With the Stars" — this addition to the DWTS franchise flips the show's usual format on its head.

Now, before cheering on celebrities as they foxtrot and tango alongside their professional counterparts, audiences will be offered the opportunity to cheer on their favorite pros, too, watching along as 12 talented, up-and-coming dancers take part in a grueling audition process, living side-by-side as they battle for a coveted, life-changing spot as a performer on "Dancing With the Stars."

"For the first time in 'Dancing With the Stars' history, the greatest dancers will compete for a spot as the next pro," Irwin explained, excitedly announcing his continued partnership with the DWTS franchise.

Season 1's impressive contestants — hailing from series such as "The Next Step," "World of Dance" and BBC's "Strictly Come Dancing" — include Adele Zaikman, AJ Pritchard, Allen Genkin, Benjamin Castro, Briar Nole, Jake Monreal, Natalie Jolley, Nina Mayster, Selena Hamilton, Stephani Sosa and Tristen Sanders. The dancers in question will be diligently judged by the "Queen of Latin" Shirley Ballas and her son, three-time "DWTS" winner Mark Ballas, along with a rotating slate of guest judges, such as "DWTS" alums Derek Hough and Britt Stewart.

The winner of "Dancing With the Stars: The Next Pro" will join "Summer House" star Ciara Miller, "Love Island" and "Traitors" alum Maura Higgins and Savannah Bananas player Jackson Olson in competing in Season 35 of "Dancing With the Stars," set to premiere this fall.

"If you've watched ['Dancing With the Stars'], you know our creative team is brilliant," teases Ballas. "I always say there's not a lot that shocks me anymore after doing the show for 21 seasons. But somehow, they keep coming up with these amazing creative ideas. They keep finding ways to shock me."

Produced by BBC Studios — with Hough, Ryan O'Dowd ("Weakest Link"), Alex Cross ("Got to Get Out"), Conrad Green ("Crime Scene Kitchen"), Jenny Groom ("Funny AF with Kevin Hart") and Krystal Whitney ("Life Below Zero: First Alaskans") acting as executive producers — "Dancing With the Stars: The Next Pro" premieres Monday, July 13, on ABC.

Getschooled: Crowned as "the celebrity competition no one wants to win," this international reality format makes its U.S. debut. "Nation's Dumbest" premieres on Fox Wednesday, July 15, asking its contestants to relive the lows (and occasional highs) of going to school — from pop quizzes, report cards and teacher conferences, to recess games and clique dynamics.

"'Nation's Dumbest,' a proven format across multiple international territories, channels celebrities' inner school spirit as they head back to summer school, facing a mix of brain-teasing tasks, fast-paced physical challenges and long-buried classroom knowledge," Fox explains. "Each week, the 'smartest' celebrity graduates, narrowing the field until a high-stakes final exam determines who will be left standing with the distinction no one wants — the title of The Nation's Dumbest."

"From influencers to wrestlers, comedians to politicians, the contestants are put to the test in a series of physical and mental rounds about all the things you really should know," Deadline adds.

This debut season sees an impressive class of "students," including film and television stars such as Hilaria Baldwin ("The Baldwins"), Carmen Electra ("Baywatch"), Anthony Michael Hall ("The Dead Zone"), Jon Heder ("Napoleon Dynamite," 2004), Ice-T ("Law & Order: Special Victims Unit"), Dr. Drew Pinsky ("Celebrity Rehab") and JoJo Siwa ("Dance Moms"), singer-songwriter Elle King ("Ex's & Oh's"), TikTok star Chase "Huddy" Hudson (@huddy), former presidential candidate Andrew Yang and "Jackass" stunt performer Steve-O.

"I can confidently say we have the absolute dumbest television format in the world — and for once, that's by design," says Ryan O'Dowd, president of unscripted, BBC Studios. "'Nation's Dumbest' celebrates humor, humility and the universal experience of not always getting it right. With Jack Whitehall ['Bad Education'] leading the chaos and a cast fully in on the joke, it's a bold, irreverent series packed with big laughs and real surprises."

Michael Thorn, president of Fox Television Network, adds: "'Nation's Dumbest' takes an instantly relatable format and flips it in a way that's 'smart,' unpredictable, and genuinely funny. It's a competition where the goal is to avoid winning, and that twist — combined with Jack Whitehall's sharp comedic voice and a great celebrity cast — makes it a bold, high-energy series built for big, co-viewing audiences."

Based on a format developed by Montreaux Films, "Nation's Dumbest" premieres Wednesday, July 15, on Fox.

"The East Palace" – Season 1

Whispers from beyond the grave echo through the halls of "The East Palace," with the first season premiering this Friday, July 17, on Netflix. In a kingdom where the boundary between the living and the dead is perilously thin, strange and terrifying events begin to plague the East Palace. Desperate for answers, the king (Cho Seung-woo, "Inside Men," 2015) summons two of his most trusted allies: Gu-cheon (Nam Joo-hyuk, "Vigilante"), a fearless ghost-slayer who can cross into the spirit realm and battle supernatural forces with his sword, and Saeng-gang (Roh Yoon-seo, "Love Next Door"), a court lady burdened with the ability to hear the voices of the dead. Together, they investigate the origins of the hauntings and uncover secrets hidden within the royal walls of the East Palace. As their investigation unfolds, restless spirits reveal fragments of a dark history tied to the royal family itself. With unseen forces closing in from both worlds, Gu-cheon and Saeng-gang must uncover the truth before the darkness consuming the palace spreads throughout the kingdom. Directed by Jung Kyu Choi ("The Flower in Prison").

neither of them can stop: growing up. Still deeply in love and seemingly inseparable, the pair find themselves standing at a crossroads as Nick prepares to leave for university while Charlie begins carving out a more independent life at school. The future they once imagined together suddenly feels uncertain, and the prospect of a long-distance relationship forces them to confront fears they have never faced before. Meanwhile, "their friends are also navigating the ups and downs of love and friendship, confronting the bittersweet challenges of growing up and moving on" (per Netflix). Starring Eddie Marsan ("Happy-Go-Lucky," 2008), Anna Maxwell Martin ("The Night Watch," 2011), Darragh Hand ("Silent Witness"), Yasmin Finney ("Doctor Who") and Joseph Balderrama ("The Batman," 2022), "Heartstopper Forever" is based on the graphic novel by Alice Oseman ("Heartstopper").

"Heartstopper Forever" (2026)

Can first loves really last forever? Continuing the love story that first unfolded in Netflix's series "Heartstopper," the romantic comedy "Heartstopper Forever" arrives this Friday, July 17, on Netflix. Nick (Kit Connor, "Rocketman," 2019) and Charlie (Joe Locke, "Agatha All Along") have weathered every challenge life has thrown at them, but their greatest test may be the one

"23,000 Lives" (2026)

Inspired by one of the most remarkable stories of our time, "23,000 Lives" premieres on Netflix Friday, July 17. In 2015, as refugees drowned in the Mediterranean by the thousands, a handful of people refused to look away. With no training in sea rescue, they did something that others told them was impossible: they started a crowdfunding campaign, bought a battered old fishing vessel and sailed it into one of the most dangerous stretches of water in the world. They named their ship the Iuventa and their organization Jugend Rettet, and went on to save the lives of more than 23,000 people. "But what begins as a shared mission full of hope and determination soon puts their understanding of law and justice to a severe test" (per Netflix). In 2017, authorities seized their ship, accusing the crew of colluding with human smugglers — charges that carried up to 20 years in prison. What had begun as a rescue mission for other became a years-long battle in court to save themselves. Louis Hofmann ("Center of My World," 2016) and Mala Emde ("And Tomorrow the Entire World," 2020) star in this drama directed by Markus Goller ("25 km/h," 2018) and written by Oliver Ziegenbalg ("Friendship!," 2010).

"The Westies" – Season 1
Hell's Kitchen has always run on blood and loyalty, and for one notorious Irish-American gang, both are about to be tested in "The Westies," premiering its first season this Sunday, July 12, on Prime Video via MGM+. Set in 1980s New York, the series drops into a neighborhood on the edge of transformation — where the promise of a financial windfall tied to the construction of the Jacob Javits Convention Center has put every criminal crew in the city on alert. Outnumbered fifty-to-one by the Five Families of the Italian Mafia, the gang's patriarch Eamon Sweeney (J.K. Simmons, "Juno," 2007) has forged a fragile truce built not on trust, but on fear. But the rising ambitions of young lieutenant Jimmy Roarke (Tom Brittney, "Grantchester") are straining that detente from within, while NYPD officer Glenn Keenan (Titus Welliver, "Argo," 2012) — a Hell's Kitchen native with past connections to the gang — walks a dangerous line between his badge and the streets he never truly left. As the FBI closes in on the families, the gang finds itself caught in the crossfire, and the fuse is already burning. Showrunner Chris Brancato ("Godfather of Harlem") serves as executive producer, alongside Michael

"Ride or Die"

They thought they knew everything about each other, but in Prime Video's new limited series — premiering all eight episodes Wednesday, July 15 — two best friends are about to learn what it truly means to be a "Ride or Die." The series stars Octavia Spencer ("The Help," 2011) and Hannah Waddingham ("Ted Lasso") as Debbie Claybourne and Judith Burton, two longtime best friends who are about to go on the ride of their lives when

Hannah Waddingham in "Ride or Die"

Judith reveals herself to be an international assassin. This news is shocking to Debbie, but she has to buckle up fast when a mysterious figure from Judith's past reappears, and the pair are forced to go on the run together across Europe. Suddenly, the road trip Debbie never asked for becomes a race against time, "with law enforcement, highly trained assassins and some very dangerous criminals at their heels" (per Prime Video). Created by Tessa Coates ("Smothered"), the series is executive produced by showrunner Matt Miller ("Lethal Weapon") alongside director Peyton Reed ("Ant-Man," 2015), Spencer and Waddingham.

"Young Farts Trailer Parts" – Season 1

In small-town Vegreville, Alberta, one man's busted RV is another man's gold mine, and "Young Farts Trailer Parts" rolls into Season 1 on Thursday, July 17, on Prime Video. The six-episode unscripted series follows real-life brothers Jagger and Dawson Glowatsky, who turned a scrappy salvage operation into Young Farts RV Parts, a multi-million-dollar business built on reclaiming and reselling vintage camper pieces. What started as a couple of viral TikTok videos — featuring cold brews, lit darts and beat-up trailers — has snowballed into a fast-growing empire, and the cameras are along for every chaotic stunt and big-hearted scheme. Between outrageous business gambles and family ribbing that never quits, the brothers chase one wild idea after the next, all in the name of growing the company and keeping their parents proud. Season 1 of "Young Farts Trailer Parts" is executive produced by Jacob Tierney ("Letterkenny," "Shoresy").

'Pitmasters' premiere helps summer sizzle

Ernest Servantes, Andrew Zimmern, Jess Pryles and Moe Casen judge "Pitmasters"

By Dana Simpson
TV Media

If the month of July is made for anything, it's barbecue. So as Americans light up the grill to celebrate 250 years of independence from Britain this July 4, "Bizarre Foods" host Andrew Zimmern dishes up some tasty new content on Food Network.

"Pitmasters," a new competition series that blends wilderness survival and cooking skills, premieres Monday, July 13, on Food Network. The series is also available to stream via HBO Max.

Not to be confused with "BBQ Pitmasters," a seven season barbecue competition series that first aired on TLC in 2009 before moving to Destination America in 2012 and wrapping in 2015, "Pitmasters" is more than a traditional culinary competition series. As much a test of exhaustion levels as it is a test of pure kitchen skill, the team-based competition mixes "Top Chef" with "Survivor" for a more complex challenge.

"Pitmasters," is a raw, relentless, real-world BBQ competition unlike anything ever attempted on Food Network," reads the network's official series description, per its July programming announcement. "It's a nonstop, weeklong battle set deep in the wilderness where teams of the most notable pitmasters will push the boundaries of what BBQ can be. Competitors will cook from sunrise to sunset to sunrise again, fighting for survival and their share of up to $50,000.

"Teams must manage fire, fatigue and challenges within challenges to impress an elite panel of judges: Andrew Zimmern, Jess Pryles ['BB-Quest'], Moe Cason ['BBQ Pit Wars'] and Ernest Servantes ['Chopped']," the synopsis continues, adding that "only one team will be crowned the Pitmasters Champion."

Zimmern, although best known to Food Network viewers for his "Bizarre Foods" shows, is a travel-loving chef, writer and restaurateur. Dedicated to curating unique food experiences and fighting to end world hunger by working closely with organizations such as Alight and the World Food Program USA, Zimmern is joined by "Pitmasters" judges Jess Pryles, an Australian-born meat scientist and founder of Hardcore Carnivore; Moe Cason, an Iowa-based barbecue chef and author known colloquially as "Big Moe"; and Ernest Servantes, aka the Pope of BBQ, chef and founder of The Burnt Bean Co. in Seguin, Texas.

Don't miss the beginning of a brand-new summertime series on Food Network and HBO Max. "Pitmasters" turns up the heat Monday, July 13.

Lee Cronin's The Mummy

Charlie (Reynor) and Larissa Cannon (Costa) are a married couple living in Egypt with their children when their young daughter, Katie (Mitchell), disappears into the desert without a trace. Despite searching, no explanation is ever found, leaving the family devastated and struggling to move on. Eight years later, Katie (Grace) suddenly returns. Although she appears to be alive, something about her is deeply unsettling. What should be a joyous reunion quickly becomes a nightmare as Katie begins exhibiting strange behavior and disturbing physical changes. As her parents try to understand what happened during the years she was missing, they uncover connections to ancient Egyptian rituals, dark supernatural forces and a curse that may have followed their daughter home.

Director: Lee Cronin. Stars: Jack Reynor, Laia Costa, May Calamawy, Natalie Grace, Veronica Falcon, Hayat Kamil, Emily Mitchell. 2026. 133 min. Horror.

Obsession

Baron "Bear" Bailey (Johnston) is a shy and socially awkward music store employee who has been secretly in love with his childhood friend and co-worker, Nikki Freeman (Navarrette), for years. While shopping for a gift for Nikki, Bear discovers a mysterious artifact known as the "One Wish Willow," an object said to grant a single wish. Desperate for a chance at romance, he uses it to wish that Nikki would love him more than anyone else in the world. At first, Bear appears to get exactly what he wants. Nikki suddenly becomes deeply devoted to him, showering him with affection and attention. However, her feelings quickly grow beyond ordinary love and transform into something far more disturbing. Nikki becomes intensely possessive, emotionally unstable and increasingly detached from reality. As her obsession deepens, strange and frightening supernatural events begin to occur around her, suggesting that Bear's wish may have unleashed forces neither of them understands.

Director: Curry Barker. Stars: Michael Johnston, Inde Navarrette, Cooper Tomlinson, Megan Lawless, Andy Richter. 2025. 109 min. Horror.

Deep Water

When a fire breaks out onboard an international flight traveling from Los Angeles to Shanghai, the crew is forced to attempt an emergency landing in the middle of the Pacific Ocean. After the aircraft crashes, the survivors find themselves stranded among the wreckage with limited supplies, mounting injuries and little hope of immediate rescue. Leading the fight for survival is First Officer Ben (Eckhart), who works to keep the remaining passengers calm and organized as they search for a way to signal for help. As the wreckage slowly sinks and the survivors struggle to stay afloat, a new threat emerges. Blood, debris and the chaos of the crash attract numerous sharks to the area, turning the ocean into a deadly hunting ground.

Director: Renny Harlin. Stars: Aaron Eckhart, Angus Sampson, Ben Kingsley, Lucy Barrett, Molly Belle Wright. 2026. 107 min. Survival Thriller.

Best Bets

Anna Fisher features in the first episode of "Once Upon a Time in Space"

America's Got Talent

⑤ 8:00 PM
Singers, dancers, magicians, comics and the gloriously strange all parade before the celebrity panel, each one gunning for a life-altering jackpot and a whole nation's affection. Dreams soar or shatter as the world's boldest amateurs take their shot.

2026 MLB All-Star Game

④④ 8:00 PM
The American League's brightest stars invade Citizens Bank Park in Philadelphia to face the host National League. Last summer's Midsummer Classic ended in baseball's first-ever swing-off, with Kyle Schwarber's three blasts earning him MVP honors.

Once Upon a Time in Space

③③ ⑤7 9:00 PM
The Space Shuttle era roars to life as America finally narrows the gap on its Cold War foes. A bold new wave of astronauts reaches orbit, but tragedy strikes when sudden disaster leaves NASA shaken in the opening chapter of this ambitious new series.

Castle Impossible

hgtv 9:00 PM
In this season finale, the race is on to complete renovations on Dove Tower. With costs mounting, deadlines closing in and a baby on the way, Daphne and Ian will need to start making some tough decisions if they hope to finish the project on time.

Wednesday

Marcello Hernandez hosts the 2026 ESPYS

The 2026 ESPYS

(22) 8:00 PM

Sports and showbiz collide for one glittering victory lap of the past year, toasting the biggest athletic feats, reliving the most jaw-dropping moments and saluting the standout names behind them. Comedian Marcello Hernandez has hosting duties.

Starting Over

TCM 8:00 PM

When his wife (Candice Bergen) leaves him to pursue a music career, Phil Potter (Burt Reynolds) is heartbroken. Starting over in Boston, he finds new love with Marilyn (Jill Clayburgh). However, his ex-wife's return leaves him torn.

Nation's Dumbest

(44) 9:00 PM

Famous faces head back to the classroom for a battery of school-themed trials, except here finishing dead last is the goal that nobody wants. Whoever flubs the most ends up saddled with the cringeworthy crown in this competition's series premiere.

Next Gen NYC

BRAV 9:00 PM

In New York City, a close-knit group of ambitious young friends chase big dreams while navigating careers, romance and family expectations. As pressures mount and loyalties are tested, they lean on one another while forging their own paths.

Guy's Grocery Games

FOOD 9:00 PM

The Global Games rage on as Guy Fieri orders up the chefs' finest international fried creation, with Haitian peanut butter folded into the mix. The bottom two then scramble to survive, crafting noodle dishes from just eight pounds of ingredients.

Julie Chen Moonves hosts "Big Brother"

Big Brother

③ 8:00 PM

Sealed off from the outside world, a houseful of strangers scheme, bond and backstab under constant surveillance. As alliances wobble, one resident eyes the exit while the rest cling to safety. Julie Chen Moonves presides over the latest reckoning.

The Bear

FX 9:00 PM

Gridlock. A snarl of traffic boxes everyone in just as the kitchen's relentless pressures press in from every other angle. As stress leans into the small chaos rippling through the frazzled crew, new decisions constrict Carmy (Jeremy Allen White).

Press Your Luck

⑫ 9:00 PM

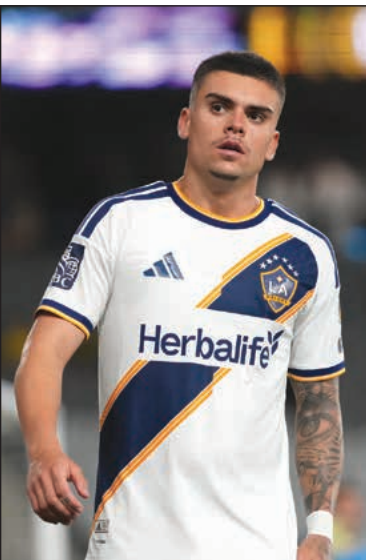

Three players trade wits and raw nerve, answering questions to bank precious spins on the Big Board for shots at cash and prizes. But one wrong stop summons the dreaded WHAMMY, ready to swipe every cent. Elizabeth Banks presides over the mayhem.

The Da Vinci Code

SYFY 10:30 PM

A murder in Paris' Louvre Museum and cryptic clues in some of Leonardo da Vinci's most famous paintings lead to the discovery of a religious mystery. For 2,000 years a secret society closely guards information that — should it come to light — could rock the very foundations of Christianity.

Kieran Culkin and Jesse Eisenberg in "A Real Pain"

TV Media

"A Real Pain" (2024)

Family inheritances rarely come with road maps, but for two estranged cousins, a grandmother's last gift sends them straight into the heart of their own history. Written and directed by Jesse Eisenberg ("The Social Network," 2010), "A Real Pain" begins streaming Thursday, July 16, on Hulu, starring Eisenberg as David and Kieran Culkin ("Succession") as Benji, mismatched cousins who use money left behind by their late grandmother to fund a Jewish heritage tour through Poland. As they retrace her path through Warsaw, Lublin and the grounds of a former concentration camp, old wounds resurface as the cousins confront their grief and what it means to truly show up for someone you love. Starring Will Sharpe ("Flowers"), Jennifer Grey ("Red Dawn," 1984), Ello-ra Torchia ("In the Earth," 2021), Kurt Egyiawan ("Beasts of No Nation," 2015), Liza Sadoy ("A Small Light," "Patience"), Daniel Oreskes ("Law & Order: Organized Crime"), Piotr Czarnecki ("Lesson Plan," 2022) and Jakub Pruski ("Hold Tight").

"They Fight" (2026)

Starring André Holland ("Moonlight," 2016), Wendell Pierce ("Selma," 2014) and Samira Wiley ("Orange Is the New Black") — alongside stand out newcomers Toussaint Franco Battiste and Anthony B. Jenkins — "They Fight" makes its streaming debut on Hulu this Friday, July 17. This 2026 sports docudrama from writer-director Sheldon Candis ("Luv," 2012) follows a ragtag group of young boxers and their formerly-incarcerated coach, Walt Manigan (Holland), as they fight to defend their national titles. While Walt's students work to find their footing, Walt does the same in his everyday life, trying to rebuild a relationship with Ketta (Wiley), the mother of his son, as he integrates back into society. Based on the eponymous 2018 documentary — and the Washington Post article that inspired it, "It ain't all about boxing: Young D.C. boxers find a role model and find their way" by Michael Minahan — "They Fight" also stars Mykelti Williamson ("Forrest Gump," 1994), Andre Royo ("The Spectacular Now," 2013), Amanda Warren ("The Leftovers"), Erika Woods ("Power Book III: Raising Kanan"), J. Alphonse Nicholson ("They Cloned Tyrone," 2023), Aaliyah Mayo ("Miss Virginia," 2019) and more.

"Blippi's Spooky Spells Halloween" (2021)

Celebrate "Summerween" with the whole family when "Blippi's Spooky Spells Halloween" comes to Hulu this Thursday, July 16. Starring Clayton Grimm ("The Patch," 2021) as Blippi — the popular children's entertainer and educator, who has amassed nearly 30 million subscribers on YouTube — this adventure-filled special sees Blippi embracing the Halloween spirit. As the holiday approaches, Blippi discovers an old, leather-bound book filled with spooky spells — spells he uses to make the best Halloween ever, including through campfires, ghoulish stories and more. This "Blippi" special comes from director Bryce Fishman, producer of "Blippi," "Meekah," "T-Rex Ranch," "Cocomelon" and more.

"Blippi's Trick-or-Treat Halloween Adventure" (2024)

The spooks continue with "Blippi's Trick-or-Treat Halloween Adventure," arriving alongside "Blippi's Spooky Spells Halloween" this Thursday, July 16, on Hulu. In this 2024 holiday special, Blippi (Clayton Grimm, "The Patch," 2021) is joined by Meekah (Kaitlin Becker, "The Sunny Side Up Show") for a night of trick-or-treating, and what starts as a normal, sweet-filled night turns chaotic when Blippi and Meekah meet a mysterious Halloween King who hands out slimy tricks instead of delicious treats. The best friends must complete three tricky challenges before Halloween night ends, or the other costume-clad trick-or-treaters will miss out on their candy for good! Sean K. Lambert ("Gamer's Guide to Pretty Much Everything") directs.

Clayton Grimm stars in "Blippi's Trick-or-Treat Halloween Adventure"

Brett Goldstein, Jason Sudeikis and Brendan Hunt in "Ted Lasso"

true for this one. Much of the story, and the drama, comes from seeing the show's soccer team play in front of larger and larger crowds as it succeeds under its unorthodox American coach.

The shortest answer to your question is that they aren't actually filming huge crowds. The crowds are, to varying degrees, computer-generated.

The key to making it realistic is usually using at least some human actors and finding ways to make them look like more.

There are a few ways to do that, according to Lawson Deming ("Thor: Love and Thunder," 2022), whose visual-effects company, Barnstorm VFX, does the crowd work for "Ted Lasso."

In an interview with Business Insider, he said they used three main techniques: crowd tiling, plate extras and digital doubles.

In crowd tiling, a small group of actors is filmed together on set and that group is essentially cut-and-pasted around the scene to give the impression of a larger crowd. Plate extras uses individual actors filmed in front of a green screen, behaving as if they're in a crowd, and then digitally scattering them around the set.

In the case of digital doubles, the people in the crowd are fully computer-generated (they are digitally generated "doubles" of real people). But even here, sometimes the animations are based on digital scans of real actors.

It's a long way from the old days of filmmaking, when sometimes thousands of extras were hired to make up crowds. 1982's "Gandhi" holds the Guinness record here, having employed over 300,000 people to fill out the crowd for the funeral scene.

Q: Is Anthony LaPaglia still working? Is there any chance he'll revisit "Without a Trace"?

A: From cult-classic comedy films — such as "Empire Records" (1995) and "So I Married an Axe Murderer" (1993) — to hard-as-nails crime dramas — like "Lansky" (1999) and "The Salton Sea" (2002) — Anthony LaPaglia has been a screen fixture for four decades. And he still is.

He's appeared in a couple of Netflix miniseries recently — the one-season crime-comedy "Florida Man" in 2023 and

Hollywood Q&A

By Adam Thomlison
TV Media

Q: How do shows like "Ted Lasso" film their scenes with such huge crowds?

A: There are numerous different ways to film a crowd scene, and Apple TV's "Ted Lasso" has used most of them.

It is, of course, a crowd-hungry show. Sports shows always are, but it's especially the Australian crime-comedy "Boy Swallows Universe" in 2024.

More recently, he filmed a role in the dystopian sci-fi film "R.U.R.," which has been in post-production for a year. Hopefully, it'll secure a release soon.

As for returning to his lead role in "Without a Trace," the procedural cop show that ran from 2002 to 2009 and helped define the genre in its heyday, it's unlikely. But a small piece of news from a year ago suggested it's not impossible.

Series creator Hank Steinberg ("The Last Ship") said in an interview with TheWrap.com promoting his new show "Doc" that he has ideas for a reboot and suggested he's testing the waters now.
