Late Laughs

The Late Show With Stephen Colbert

There's news from the world of the sky. Today [March 25], the CEO of Boeing stepped down. Either that or they never installed the bolts that keep him in the boardroom. He just blew out. ... This all comes after a series of high-altitude whoopsies. ... But they had to do something. Things have gotten so bad for the company that nervous travelers are changing their flights to avoid Boeing airplanes. I'm sorry, but there is no way to avoid Boeing airplanes. Even if you're just walking down the street, their doors come to you.

One of the things that Joe Biden has been running on in this election is the success and the popularity of Obamacare. It's part of the radical political theory that people enjoy staying alive.

The Tonight Show Starring Jimmy Fallon

[Donald] Trump actually caught a break today [March 24] when an appeals court gave him an extra 10 days to post the bond in his civil fraud trial and cut the amount from $464 million to $175 million. ... Having 10 days to come up with $175 million doesn't sound like good news. It sounds like the plot to a Jason Statham movie.

Easter is almost here. And I saw that 'cause of supply issues, the price of chocolate is hitting record highs. ... Chocolate has gotten so expensive, Donald Trump just paid off his entire debt with a Butterfinger.

Late Night With Seth Meyers

After his lawyers argued last week [March 17-23] that he did not have the money for the $454-million bond in his civil fraud case, former president [Donald] Trump posted in all caps on Truth Social, quote, "I CURRENTLY HAVE ALMOST $500 MILLION IN CASH." Dude, they're trying to help you. That's like if O.J. tweeted, "The glove fits great."

Disgraced former congressman George Santos announced last week [March 17-23] that he plans to run for a Long Island House seat as an independent. Also, a Republican, a Democrat and a Libertarian.

McDonald's announced a new partnership with Krispy Kreme to offer doughnuts at the fast food chain. Because if you love McDonald's and you love Krispy Kreme, you don't have the energy to make two stops.

Jimmy Kimmel Live! (R)

Trump is getting more extreme and more erratic every day. Over the break, ... he mocked the late senator John McCain's physical disability, the one he suffered when he was a prisoner of war, he told families who were grieving about a school shooting in Iowa to get over it the day after it happened and, less importantly but more amusingly, former Republican congressman Adam Kinzinger says Donald Trump smells. ... Now we know why Melania [Trump] is always making that face.

Creative states: Tour America with homegrown artists in 'The Express Way'

By Sarah Passingham
TV Media

From sea to shining sea, Americans express their creativity, and the new, four-part documentary series "The Express Way With Dulé Hill," premiering Tuesday, April 23, on PBS, looks at the ways self-expression and creativity are intertwined. Featuring artists from four different corners of the United States, "The Express Way" looks at the ways these individuals use art to make connections within and outside of their communities. As host Dulé Hill ("The Wonder Years") joins artists in California, the Appalachian region, Texas and Chicago to learn how they use their artwork to challenge views and blaze a trail for others to follow in the future, the series explores the lengths art goes in breaking down barriers and making room for everyone to be included.

Best known by most for his portrayal of Gus in eight seasons in the detective sitcom "Psych," which he also reprised for three spinoff films, Hill, a real TV veteran, has also had starring roles in "The West Wing," "Ballers," "Suits" and more recently, the ABC sitcom "The Wonder Years."

Now, turning his attention to the artistic pursuits of others, PBS shared in a news release that Hill traveled across America "to connect with local visionaries, activists, changemakers and pioneers who are using their artistic passions to foster connection, deepen empathy and create meaningful change within their communities." In each episode, Hill meets with three local artists to learn about their work and the place it holds in their communities.

Dulé Hill in "The Express Way with Dulé Hill"

"There are many people in this world who create space out of nothing. They are the ones turning on the light, setting the path and then guiding others along the journey," Hill shared about the series in the release.

Shaheem Sanchez, known for his performance in the 2019 film "Sound of Metal," is a deaf dancer based in Los Angeles. Hill meets with Sanchez in the first episode of "The Express Way," connecting over a shared passion for dance before getting to know other artists across California.

Also featured in the California stop of "The Express Way" is a group of senior citizens who call themselves the Grant Street Follies. They are committed activists and cabaret performers in San Francisco who use their art to combat anti-Asian hate and celebrate the city's historic Chinatown. Before he crosses the country, Hill meets trailblazing musicians in Los Angeles's own Mariachi Arcoiris, the world's first LGBTQ+ mariachi group.

Then, visiting the Appalachian region, Hill gets a thorough musical education. In Kentucky, he meets first with Doug Naselroad, the founder and director of Troublesome Creek Stringed Instrument Company. His program, The Culture of Recovery, teaches people to make stringed instruments as an assistive outlet while they recover from opioid addiction.

In Johnson City, Tennessee, Grammy-nominated bluegrass musician Amythyst Kiah ("Black Myself") teaches Hill about the history of Black artists in traditional American music. The founder of "Latin-grass," musician Joe Troop ("Red, White & Blues"), shares how he fused folk music with bluegrass instrumentation and continues to innovate with his latest collaboration with Venezuelan musician Larry Bellorin ("Caballos Viejos").

Next, Hill makes his way down to Texas to meet artists who are leaders within their local communities. Hill meets Abuela M'api Rainflowa, founder of Houston Aztec Dance & Drum, who shows him the "Mexican" handshake, as well as the Aztec Sun Dance and a sweat lodge ceremony. Rainflowa only learned about her Indigenous identity when she was a young adult, and the discovery led her on a spiritual journey from devout Catholicism to Indigenous beliefs and practices.

At his next stop in Texas, David Lozano, executive director of Cara Mia Theatre, welcomes Hill to Dallas, sharing with him some of the theater's productions that focus on the Latino experience. In Denton, John Bramblitt, a man who lost his vision taught himself to paint again using touch. Bramblitt creates vibrant paintings and murals, leads workshops and helps foster artistic abilities in other people with vision impairment.

In the final installment of "The Express Way," Hill blows into the Windy City to meet artist activists. In Chicago's South Side, Hill watches on as the Andre Theatre Collective casts its first play written by incarcerated playwrights. The production explores crime in the city and its impact on Black communities.

Elsewhere in the city, Vershawn Sanders Ward's Red Clay Dance uses African Diasporic dance to make a space for People of Color in her community to feel seen. Hill later meets musician Bassel Almadani, of Bassel & The Supernaturals ("Smoke"), who spreads awareness of the Syrian civil war and refugee crisis with his platform.

"The Express Way" is directed by Danny Lee, who also directed the 2022 feature documentary "Who Is Stan Smith," which told the life story of the pioneering tennis champion and fashion icon. Lee shared in the PBS news release that, "as a filmmaker of color, art has not only been a way to be seen but a deeply transformative force in my life," adding, "To be able to craft a moving series that shines light on the power of creative expression, alongside such a phenomenal talent like Dulé Hill and my team at CALICO is a dream come true."

Take a guided tour across America and meet some of the most inspiring creative forces representing their communities when "The Express Way" premieres Tuesday, April 23, on PBS.

Sandman Universe begins: Gaiman comics come to life in 'Dead Boy Detectives'

By Dana Simpson
TV Media

Worlds collide in Netflix's newest series, "Dead Boy Detectives," premiering on the streamer Thursday, April 25. Not only does the series blend original comic book media with television — which has previously been done in shows such as CW's "The Flash," Netflix/Marvel's "Jessica Jones" and, of course, the AMC sensation "The Walking Dead," to name a few among many — but it also brings together some of the greatest minds and talents working in television today.

Based on the fictional crime-solving duo created for DC Comics by British master of fantasy Neil Gaiman ("Good Omens"), the series, which refers to itself as "a Netflix supernatural series" in the trailer, comes from Kelli Breslin, the producer behind "You," and Steve Yockey, the creator of HBO's "The Flight Attendant" and a former producer on the much-loved series "Supernatural."

As far as the show's leading dramatis personae are concerned, the Dead Boy Detectives are comprised of two ghosts: Charles Rowland and Edwin Payne, played by "The Lodge's" Jayden Revri and new talent George Rexstrew, respectively. First introduced to Gaiman's Sandman Universe by way of the "Season of Mists" storyline in "Sandman No. 25" (an issue with art by Matt Wagner and Malcolm Jones III), the spectral pair have since appeared in several of Gaiman's comic book issues, including two "Children's Crusade" annuals and their own four-issue miniseries called "Sandman Presents: Dead Boy Detectives" by Ed Brubaker ("Too Old to Die Young") and Bryan Talbot ("Alice in Sunderland").

"Charles was more or less me as a boy," Gaiman told Netflix's Tudum while explaining his personal connection to the pair that was originally a simple side story. "I loved writing him and Edwin, and was proud to send them out into the world."

Given that the pair of phantom investigators has been involved in several storylines since their April 1991 print creation, Netflix's "Dead Boy Detectives" acts simultaneously as a coming out party and as somewhat of a reimagining of Edwin and Charles' original story.

Presented as children in the source material, Netflix's Dead Boys have been given new life (on screen, anyway) as young men. According to Tudum, although Edwin and Charles are "dead and born decades apart, they've chosen to remain on Earth and use their powers for good." What this means is: old-timey ghost Edwin, known as "the Brains," and the much more newly dead Charles, known as "the Brawn," work together to solve crimes, hauntings and other various sinister phenomena. And they truly are best friends, despite the generation gap.

"They will do anything to stick together — including escaping evil witches, Hell, and Death herself," reads the Netflix plot synopsis. "With the help of a clairvoyant named Crystal [Kassius Nelson, "Hollyoaks"] and her friend Niko [Yuyu Kitamura, "Expats"], they are able to crack some of the mortal realm's most mystifying paranormal cases."

Joining the core four in their adventures in the Sandman Universe are Caitlin Reilly ("Hacks") as Litty, Briana Cuoco ("The Flight Attendant") as Jenny Green, Lukas Gage ("Euphoria") as Cat King, Max Jenkins ("Dead to Me") as Kingham, David Iacono ("The Summer I Turned Pretty") as David the Demon and Ruth Connell ("Supernatural") as Night Nurse.

Jenn Lyon ("Claws"), Lindsey Gort ("All Rise"), Lauren K. Robek ("Resident Alien"), Sharon Taylor ("Smallville"), Troy James ("Channel Zero"), Rochelle Okoye ("Batwoman"), Miranda Edwards ("The Strain") and Gabriel Drake ("Nancy Drew") are also among the fantasy-action series' many cast members.

Showrunner duties are shared by Yockey and "Arrow" co-producer Beth Schwartz. Series direction is also shared across the series' eight episodes, featuring episodes by Glen Winter ("Smallville"), Andi Armaganian ("Stargirl"), Peter Chatmon ("The Flight Attendant"), Lee Toland Krieger ("Chilling Adventures of Sabrina") and Amanda Tapping ("Van Helsing").

When discussing the concept behind the Dead Boy Detectives and their agency of the same name, Gaiman told Tudum: "Who amongst us can honestly say that if we were hanging around the Earth as a ghost, we wouldn't want to start a detective agency? I think what fans responded to the most was their good-heartedness and dedication."

Co-showrunners Yockey and Schwartz also seized the opportunity to share their love for the series (and its titular "dead boys") with fans via Tudum.

"The bittersweet nature of Edwin and Charles having only become friends because of their tragic deaths is what makes their friendship such a unique story to explore," shared Schwartz, sympathetically. Yockey, meanwhile, took a much edgier approach to his excitement for the show.

"If 'The Sandman' is this really lush, rich supernatural drama," said Yockey, "then 'Dead Boy Detectives' is the Hardy Boys on acid."

Don't miss the eight-episode premiere season of "Dead Boy Detectives," the first spinoff in the potential zeitgeist that has recently been named Netflix's Sandman Universe. It all begins Thursday, April 25, on the popular streaming platform.

A return to 'Paradise' brings drama in '90 Day' new season

By Caroline Collacutt
TV Media

Passport to love: Hot, heavy and humid as ever, the fan-favorite spinoff "90 Day Fiancé: Love in Paradise" returns for its fourth season Monday, April 22, on TLC.

Following as "hopeful romantic" Americans test the waters and give international love a chance at sparking something long-term, this batch of episodes will see four all-new couples explore their relationships around the world, with U.S. citizens traveling to Italy, Malta, Brazil and Colombia.

Ahead of the season's premiere, TLC released the names (and a brief description) of each couple that will be featured this time around, introducing viewers to a cast of eight that's sure to lead to some explosive drama — and, for one man, potentially his 81st child.

That's right: 32-year-old Kyle, an L.A. native and one of Season 4's hopefuls, works as an accountant by day and a "donation dad" at night, with his excessive sperm donation resulting in 71 children, with another nine currently on the way.

Kyle met Anika, 39, a single mother living in Malta, when she found Kyle's donation information online and booked a consultation. After feeling a spark between them, however, their relationship progressed from "donating to dating," as TLC describes, and cameras now follow Kyle as he travels to the gorgeous archipelago Anika resides on. Hoping to continue his relationship and potentially grow a family of his own, Anika wonders "if Kyle is willing to stop spreading his seed and plant it only for her" (per TLC).

Joining the duo are three additional couples: Shawn, 61, a hairstylist who fell for the 25-year-old Brazilian beauty Alliya, a transgender woman; Alex, 30, who plans to live out all her romantic fantasies with 33-year-old Adriano, who lives in Italy; and finally, L.A. native Luke, a 30-year-old man moving to Colombia after one initial visit, where he met Madelein, 19, the so-called "love of his life."

Kyle and Anika in "90 Day Fiancé: Love in Paradise"

It's not all roses, chocolates and romance, however, as conflict strikes for all couples involved.

TLC went on to share a taste of the drama to come for one of the aforementioned couples, explaining: "After experiencing a hiccup with his money, Luke realizes that he can't support his girlfriend's lavish lifestyle, leading to some big blowouts between the two — including one after Madelein was topless in the bed with another man."

Equal parts heartwarming and heartbreaking, Season 4 of "90 Day Fiancé: Love in Paradise" begins Monday, April 22, on TLC.

Bengal beauty: Honoring our great blue planet — and marking 15 years since DisneyNature's inaugural release, "Earth" (2007) — the all-new feature-length documentary "Tiger" premieres Monday, April 22, on Disney+.

Narrated by Priyanka Chopra Jonas ("Baywatch," 2017), this compelling story combines "fast-paced action with remarkably intimate moments" (per Disney), as it lifts the veil on one of our planet's most revered and misunderstood animals — the tiger — and allows viewers to journey alongside a young tigress named Ambar and her three cubs, all living in the forests of India.

"In the film, the cubs — curious, rambunctious and at times a bit clumsy — have a lot to learn from their savvy mother, who will do all she can to keep them safe from pythons, bears and marauding male tigers," Disney describes, highlighting a story of perseverance, survival and a mother's never-ending love with over 1,500 days worth of footage.

"It's just wonderful to be able to be a part of something so special and to tell the story of this magnificent animal that comes from my country — I was very honored," Chopra Jonas said. "I have always loved tigers and I feel a kinship with the female tiger — I feel very protective of my family." Now a young parent herself, she added: "Ambar's journey is something I think every mom would really relate to."

Alongside this touching story, Disney is also set to release "Tigers on the Rise" — a companion piece releasing in tandem with Ambar's story and aimed to celebrate the majesty of this great and mighty predator while delving into the complexities of living amongst their growing population.

"[As] tiger populations have rebounded so successfully, many of the big cats are venturing from India's forest reserves into farms and villages — a monumental challenge for both people and animals," explains Disney. "The heroes in this story are the vets, scientists and community patrols dedicated to ensuring that tigers and people can coexist."

With both features directed by Rob Sullivan ("America's National Parks"), along with co-directors Mark Linfield ("Earth," 2007), Vanessa Berlowitz ("Planet Earth") and Alistair Tones ("Animals with Cameras, a Nature Miniseries"), "Tiger" and "Tigers on the Rise" will be available to stream as of Monday, April 22, on Disney+.

"City Hunter" (2024)

Be sure to get wild and tough as Netflix's live-action adaptation of "City Hunter" premieres Thursday, April 25. Based on the legendary manga by Tsukasa Hojo, the film follows Ryo Saeba (Ryohei Suzuki, "The Blood of Wolves II," 2021), a private eye based in the Shinjuku ward of Tokyo and notorious playboy. Along with his partner Hideyuki Makimura (Masanobu Andô, "Battle Royale," 2000), Ryo forms City Hunter, a business that takes on odd jobs including investigation services. While investigating the disappearance of a famous cosplayer, Hideyuki is tragically murdered, which sends Ryo on a dangerous quest to find the truth of this seemingly random event and its link to the mysterious drug known as "Angel Dust." Joining Ryo on this quest are Hideyuki's sister, Kaori Makimura (Misato Morita, "Missing," 2021), and Saeko Nogami (Fumino Kimura, "The Fable: The Killer Who Doesn't Kill," 2021), a Tokyo police detective that shares an interesting relationship with Ryo. Featuring a screenplay by Tatsuro Mishima ("Yu Yu Hakusho") and directing by Yûichi Satô ("Kasane," 2018), "City Hunter"

Saturday, April 20, 2024

also stars Asuka Hanamura ("Mr. Unlucky Has No Choice but to Kiss!"), Isao Hashizume ("The Tale of The Princess Kaguya," 2013), Tetta Sugimoto ("Departures," 2008), Ayame Misaki ("Tokumei Sentai Go-Busters"), Takaya Sakoda ("Noise," 2022), Moemi Katayama ("Shoplifters," 2018) and Yasushi Ami ("Kamen Rider Zero-One Others: Kamen Rider Vulcan & Valkyrie," 2021). Furthermore, the film is produced by executive producer Shinichi Takahashi ("Zom 100: Bucket List of the Dead," 2023) and producers Kôsuke Oshida ("The Outsider," 2018) and Keisuke Sanpei ("Mahiru no hoshizora," 2005).

"The Asunta Case"

Witness a new side of the 2013 murder case that rocked Spain and attracted international interest when the six-episode limited series "The Asunta Case" premieres Friday, April 26, on Netflix. On Sept. 21, 2013, Asunta Basterra is reported missing by her adoptive parents Rosario Porto and Alfonso Basterra, played by Candela Peña ("Princesses," 2005) and Tristán Ulloa ("Sex and Lucía," 2001), respectively. However, Asunta's lifeless body is soon found on the side of the road just outside of town, quickly turning this missing person case into a murder investigation with the parents as the prime suspects. What follows is an exploration of what events cause a seemingly perfect family to collapse so tragically. In addition to Peña and Ulloa, the limited series also stars Javier Gutiérrez ("Marshland," 2014), María León ("The Sleeping Voice," 2011), Raúl Arévalo ("Con el culo al aire"), Alicia Borrachero ("Terminator: Dark Fate," 2019), Francesc Orella ("Mirage," 2018), Carlos Blanco ("Volver," 2006), Ricardo de Barreiro ("Cell 211," 2009), Tito Asorey ("Arima," 2019), Vianessa Castaños ("American Crime Story"), Xaime Vilasoa ("Néboa") and Judith Fernández ("Santo"). Produced by Bambú Producciones, "The Asunta Case" is created by showrunner Ramón Campos ("Gran Hotel"), Gema R. Neira ("High Seas"), Jon de la Cuesta ("Águila Roja") and David Orea ("La Fortaleza," 2022) and directed by Carlos Sedes ("Fariña") and Jacobo Martínez ("Velvet").

"Fern Brady: Autistic Bikini Queen" (2024)

Scottish comedian Fern Brady's ("BBC Comedy Feeds") latest comedy special "Fern Brady: Autistic Bikini Queen" — her first for the streamer — premieres Monday, April 22, on Netflix, tackling everything from relationships, to autism, to aging in an honest and authentic way. "This show, despite its title, is 1% about autism and 99% about relationships, marriage and death," Brady said about her special in a recent press release. "I'm delighted my bleak worldview will find a bigger audience on Netflix, but I am sorry that as the first Scottish lady with a Netflix special, it will mislead people into thinking we're all like this when we aren't." Known for her caustic wit, irreverent comedy and electric writing, Brady commands the Bristol stage and audiences watching across the globe.

"Them: The Scare" - Season 2

Double-check your locks and settle in for a spine-chilling new season of "Them: The Scare," premiering Thursday, April 25, on Prime Video. Set this time in 1991 in Los Angeles — moving up from Season 1, which took place in Compton, California, in 1952 — this new story follows LAPD homicide detective Dawn Reeve (Deborah Ayorinde, "Riches") as she is assigned to a gruesome new case. While she grapples with the murder of a foster home mother that has left even the most hardened detectives shaken, Det. Reeve also does her best to navigate a tumultuous time in Los Angeles. Determined to hunt down the killer, Reeve finds a malevolent threat looming larger as she gets closer to the truth. From creator and showrunner Little Marvin ("The Time is Now," 2006), "Them: The Scare" also stars Pam Grier ("Jackie Brown," 1997), Luke James ("The Chi"), Joshua J. Williams ("Wayne"), Jeremy Bobb ("The Knick"), Wayne Knight ("Seinfeld"), Carlito Olivero ("Step Up: High Water"), Charles Brice ("In from the Cold") and Iman Shupert ("The Chi").

"Luxe Listings Toronto" - Season 1

Jumping across the globe to take on an all-new market, "Luxe Listings Toronto," based on the hit Australian original, "Luxe Listings Sydney," makes its debut Friday, April 26. Marked by iconic neighborhoods, towering skyscrapers and ultra-luxurious properties, Toronto's real estate market is one of the fiercest and most competitive in the world. Following along with Peter Torkan, Paige Torkan and Brett Starke, a trio of Canada's top real estate titans, the series gives viewers an inside look at some of the multimillion-dollar properties that are in demand in the country's largest city. Looking at properties in prominent neighborhoods — including The Bridle Path, Forest Hill, Yorkville, downtown Toronto and more — the team gives viewers a glimpse into their all-star work ethic, while they work to balance their demanding careers with their busy personal lives. Produced by MEM, the series is executive produced by Angela Jennings ("Dish It Out"), Nanci MacLean ("Renovation Resort Showdown") and Scott McGillivray ("Scott's Vacation House Rules"). David F. Mewa ("Buyers Bootcamp With Scott McGillivray") directs.

"Spectre" (2015)

Shaken, not stirred. The infamous 007 dazzles in 2015's "Spectre," available to stream Monday, April 22, on Prime Video. Acting as the 24th installment of the ever-popular James Bond franchise, this high-octane flick was written by John Logan ("Skyfall," 2012), Neal Purvis ("No Time to Die," 2021), Robert Wade ("Casino Royale," 2006) and Jez Butterworth ("Ford v Ferrari," 2019), following author Ian Fleming's infamous crime-fighting character as he embarks on his latest life-threatening mission. Here, Bond (Daniel Craig, "Knives Out," 2019) receives a cryptic message that sends him searching for a sinister criminal syndicate — S.P.E.C.T.R.E. — and in the process, begins to uncover a web of secrets that stretches years into the past, enmeshed with Bond's own childhood. Directed by Sam Mendes ("1917," 2019), this globe-trotting adventure also stars

Christoph Waltz ("Django Unchained," 2012), Léa Seydoux ("Blue Is the Warmest Colour," 2013), Ralph Fiennes ("The Grand Budapest Hotel," 2014), Monica Bellucci ("Malena," 2000), Ben Wishaw ("The Lobster," 2015), Naomie Harris ("Moonlight," 2016), Dave Bautista ("Knock at the Cabin," 2023), Andrew Scott ("All of Us Strangers," 2023), Jesper Christensen ("Quantum of Solace," 2008), Stephanie Sigman ("S.W.A.T.") and many others.

Celebrity guests join Garten in six all-new episodes

By Caroline Collacutt
TV Media

The table has been set for Season 4 of "Be My Guest With Ina Garten," beginning Sunday, April 21, on Food Network.

According to an episode description shared by the network, the six-episode season begins as Ina welcomes her close friend, actress Jennifer Garner ("13 Going on 30," 2004), for a day of cooking and conversation on Ina's property.

"Since Jennifer mentions she has trouble nailing her grandmother's cornbread recipe, Ina troubleshoots with her incredible Brown Butter Skillet Cornbread," the description shares. "After discussing family, love and childhood memories, they head into the kitchen for a pizza collaboration to create the ultimate Garner and Garten Pizza and Jen's Pizza Crackers."

In the following episode, Ina is joined by astronaut Nicole Mann, who rolls her sleeves up and joins the "barefoot contessa" in the process of making an Apple Crostata—a dish Mann craved regularly while commanding the International Space Station. Together, they discuss their careers and family lives, before digging into a slice of warm, ooey-goey, apple-y goodness.

With great conversation to be had—and many dishes to taste—Ina

then bids farewell to her "out of this world" sous chef, preparing for a whole season's worth of formidable friends. From actress Emily Mortimer ("Mary Poppins Returns," 2018) and restaurateur Danny Meyer ("Top Chef"), to writers like professor Frank Bruni and the New Yorker's acclaimed editor, David Remnick, Ina's kitchen-table philosophy shines through: the more, the merrier.

"Ina then welcomes culinary entrepreneur Danny Meyer to dish about the highs and lows of the restaurant world over Croissants and Smoked Salmon served with delicious Vanilla Coffee Shakerato; shares amazing stories with journalist Frank Bruni as they enjoy her foolproof Gruyere and Herb Omelet with fresh herbs from her garden; treats actress Emily Mortimer to her favorite ravioli in Ravioli en Brodo while talking life, love and the secret to Emily's Yorkshire Pudding; and has dinner in the garden with brilliant editor David Remnick joined by their other halves — Ina's husband, Jeffrey, and David's wife, Esther," Food Network continues.

With plenty of conversation to come, Ina shared her excitement for the upcoming season of guests and was quoted as saying: "I learn so much about my guests when they visit and viewers will, too. There's nothing better than chatting with interesting people over great food — each episode is filled with unexpected stories, laughs and inspiration."

Produced by Pacific Productions, Season 4 of "Be My Guest With Ina Garten" premieres Sunday, April 21, on Food Network.

Val Little and Tylor Tuskmon in "Monsters at Work"

The Beekeeper

When retired schoolteacher Eloise Parker (Rashad) is scammed out of $2 million, most of which belonged to a charity she managed, she takes her own life out of guilt. Adam Clay (Statham), a mild-mannered beekeeper who rented space in her barn, is arrested on suspicion of murdering her, though he's released after Eloise's death is ruled a suicide. Once free, Adam contacts the Beekeepers, a secret organization, in order to find the scammers responsible, setting out on a violent mission to avenge Eloise's death. Director: David Ayer. Stars: Jason Statham, Emmy Raver-Lampman, Bobby Naderi, Josh Hutcherson, Jeremy Irons, David Witts, Phylicia Rashad. 2024. 105 min. Action Thriller.

American Star

Aging hitman Wilson (McShane) feels himself on the verge of retirement but accepts a job in Fuerteventura, a volcanic island in the Atlantic Ocean. The absence of his target on the island grants Wilson with a short reprieve from his work and, while there, he meets the beautiful and charming bartender named Gloria (Arnezeder), befriendng her and some of the locals. As Wilson begins to relax and enjoy his stay, the violent reality of his profession is quick to pull him back to reality. Director: Gonzalo Lopez-Gallego.

The Last Kingdom: Seven Kings Must Die

When King Edward of the Anglo-Saxons dies, Anlaf (Strang), the Viking king of Dublin, travels to his kingdom to take advantage. As none of Edward's three sons have been appointed his successor, the kingdom is left extremely vulnerable. Lady Eadgifu (Cassidy), Edward's third wife and mother of his youngest son, Edmund (Sutcliffe), takes her son and flees to Bebbanburg to seek help from Uhtred (Dreymon), Edward's former ally. Before departing to stop Edward's other two sons from attacking each other and save the kingdom from destruction, a vision from the wife of Uhtred's most trusted warrior prophesizes that for order to be restored, seven kings must die. The chain of events that follows shapes a crucial part of Anglo-Saxon England's history. *Director: Edward Bazalgette. Stars: Alexander Dreymon, Harry Gilby, Mark Rowley, Arnas Fedaravicius, Cavan Clerkin, James Northcote, Laurie Davidson, Elaine Cassidy, Pekka Strang, Zak Sutcliffe. 2023. 111 min. Freddie Highmore stars in "The Good Doctor"

Justice takes many forms. A suspected family affair triggers the alarm bells for Maggie (Missy Peregrym), OA (Zeeko Zaki), Stuart (John Boyd) and the rest of the team as they attempt to keep New York City safe from terrorism and organized crime.

Wildcard Kitchen

FOOD 9:00 PM

Things get "fishy" in this new episode as Eric Adjepong welcomes chefs Stephanie Izard, Joe Sasto and Justin Sutherland to a night of out-bluffing, out-betting and out-cooking one another. Adjepong asks the trio to make dishes with noodles and sardines.

The Good Doctor

②② 10:00 PM

Dr. Shaun Murphy (Freddie Highmore) continues to be tested when new case prompts Charlie's (Kayla Cromer) incessant stream of questions in pursuit of an answer. Meanwhile Morgan (Fiona Gubelmann) grapples with naming a guardian for Baby Eden.

Shogun

FX 10:00 PM

After a season of battle, betrayal and uncertainty, the first season of this highly-acclaimed series concludes as Blackthorne (Cosmo Jarvis) determines the true intentions of Lord Toranaga's (Hiroyuki Sanada) plan in the wake of a tragic death.

Wednesday

Best Bets

Dr. M. Sanjayan hosts "Changing Planet"

Survivor

③ 8:00 PM

This is about the time when someone makes a shocking, crafty move that disrupts the expected plan at Tribal Council. Tiffany and Kenzie certainly look like the castaways that could go the distance, but, as always, the safe money is on Jeff Probst.

Changing Planet

③③ ⑤7 8:00 PM

In this season premiere, healthy coral reefs are vital to marine life. More than one million species depend on them, but climate change threatens these reefs. M. Sanjayan heads to the Maldives to see the efforts being taken to help their reefs survive.

Animal Control

④④ 9:00 PM

Amit (Ravi Patel) gets his father to help Victoria (Grace Palmer) cram for an exam, but Emily (Vella Lovell) makes a mistake that eats up Victoria's spare time. Meanwhile, Frank (Joel McHale) and Shred (Michael Rowland) take on an aggressive swan.

Chucky

SYFY USA 10:00 PM

Chucky is rolling through Washington, D.C., like a lobbyist with a full tank of gas, and he plans on going out with a little blood on his hands. Will 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue remain the People's House? Or will the White House turn a sticky shade of red?

"Thank you, Goodnight: The Bon Jovi Story"

Follow the continuing legacy of one of the most recognizable bands of all time when the new, four-part docuseries, "Thank you, Goodnight: The Bon Jovi Story," premieres Friday, April 26, on Hulu. Led by its namesake front man, Jon Bon Jovi, the band — including keyboardist David Bryan, drummer Tico Torres, guitarist Phil X and bassist Hugh McDonald — gives audiences access to their life behind the scenes like never before, as they chronicle their epic past and look towards their uncertain future. Bringing fans 40 years' worth of personal videos, unreleased early demos, original lyrics and never-before-seen photos, "Thank you, Goodnight" "relives the triumphs and setbacks, greatest hits, biggest disappointments, and most public moments of friction" (per Hulu). Joining Bon Jovi through February 2022, the series follows their journey towards sorting out their future, as "a vocal injury threatens to bring everything to a screeching halt" (Hulu). Directed and executive produced by Gotham Chopra ("Tom vs Time"), the series is also executive produced by Giselle Parets ("The Amazing Race") and Ameeth Sankaran ("Man in the Arena: Tom Brady"), and is produced and edited by Alex Trudeau Viriato ("Man in the Arena: Tom Brady").

Producer Jeezy appears in "Hip-Hop and The White House" Saturday, April 20, 2024

"Hip-Hop and The White House" (2024)

From Andscape, this first installment in the "&360" documentary anthology, "Hip-Hop and The White House," premieres Monday, April 22, on Hulu. Narrated by Atlanta rap giant Jeezy ("Mr. President"), this documentary looks at the intersection of hip-hop and one of the most powerful positions in the world: the President of the United States. Unveiling the "transformative 50-year history of a world-changing culture, illustrating hip-hop's journey from outsider status to the pinnacle of power," the film "showcases the pivotal contributions of artists who created some of the most powerful political songs of all time and explores the experiences of rappers who interacted with presidents and performed inside the world's most famous residence" (per Hulu). Starting from the very beginning in the neighborhoods where the culture was born, "Hip-Hop and The White House" "describes the complex web of influence, culture and celebrity that is now a permanent feature of American politics" (Hulu). Directed, written and executive produced by journalist and filmmaker Jesse Washington ("Black Will Shoot"), the film features appearances by artists Bun B ("Int'l Players Anthem"), Chika ("SONGS ABOUT YOU"), Common ("Invocation"), Waka Flocka Flame ("No Hands"), Curren$y ("3AM in New Orleans"), Grandmaster Caz ("Get Down Grandmaster"), KRS-One ("Sound of da Police"), Roxanne Shanté ("Roxanne's Revenge"), and YG

("Who Do You Love?"); Newark, New Jersey, mayor Ras Baraka; novelist, journalist and radio host Farai Chideya (author of "The Episodic Career"); hip-hop journalist and historian Davey D ("I-5 North Hiphopumentary," 2000); author Bakari Kitwana ("Hip-Hop Activism in the Obama Era"); and United States Representative Maxine Waters.

"The New York Times Presents: Broken Horses"

Adding to FX's "The New York Times Presents" series of independent documentaries, its newest installment, "Broken Horses," premieres Saturday, April 27, on Hulu. The series, produced by The New York Times and Left/Right, "is a series of standalone documentaries representing the unparalleled journalism and insight of The New York Times, bringing viewers close to the essential stories of our time" (per FX). This time, the story delves into the systemic issues and questionable practices in horse racing that have brought forth urgent calls for change, shaking the sport to its core. Narrowing in on the 2023 racing season, the documentary looks at how "the world's finest racehorses arrived at Louisville's famed Churchill Downs ahead of the 2023 Kentucky Derby, but by the time the showcase event started on the first Saturday in May, seven of them were dead," with five more deaths in the days following (per Hulu). Later, "the two other showpieces of the sport's Triple Crown series, the Preakness in May and the Belmont in June, were also marred by deaths on the track that horrified spectators and intensified pressure on racing officials to reckon with the problem" (Hulu). With the use of confidential documents, recordings and exclusive interviews, The New York Times reporters Joe Drape, Melissa Hoppert, Rachel Abrams and Liz Day investigate what, exactly, sent the sport into such crisis, and why so many horses, supposedly in peak physical condition, are suffering so greatly.

Bon Jovi, subject of "Thank You, Goodnight: The Bon Jovi Story"

"Little Women" (2019)

The Oscar-winning adaptation of Louisa May Alcott's classic book, "Little Women" (2019), will be available to stream on Hulu as of Monday, April 22. Directed by Greta Gerwig ("Barbie," 2023), this faithful retelling stars Saoirse Ronan ("Brooklyn," 2015) as the beloved Jo March, an aspiring writer reflecting back on a life spent living with her sisters in 1860s Massachusetts while the family dealt with the fallout of the Civil War and beyond. Gerwig's A-list cast also features the talents of Emma Watson ("The Perks of Being a Wallflower," 2012), Florence Pugh ("Oppenheimer," 2023), Eliza Scanlen ("Sharp Objects"), Laura Dern ("Jurassic Park," 1993) and Bob Odenkirk ("Better Call Saul") as the remaining members of the March family, and Timothée Chalamet ("Dune: Part Two," 2024) as Theodore "Laurie" Laurence.

Hollywood Q&A

By Adam Thomlison
TV Media

Q: I loved the B movie "Enter the Ninja" when I was a kid, and recently someone told me it had a sequel. I watched it, but it had nothing to do with the original. What gives?

A: I'll top that by saying "Enter the Ninja" (1981) was actually part of a trilogy, and none of their plots connect.

The names do, though: if you saw "Enter the Ninja," "Revenge of the landmark 1973 action film "Enter the Dragon.")

The three films in the trilogy also shared a fascination, to put it mildly, with old-timey Japanese weaponry — think katana swords and throwing stars.

And the three were also linked by one on-screen presence: the great Sho Kosugi ("Pray for Death," 1985). He appeared in different roles in all three, going from villain in the first one to hero in the second to, well, something or other in the third — the plot of that one was pretty unhinged, focusing on an aerobics instructor (Lucinda Dickey, "Breakin'," 1984) possessed by the soul of an evil ninja.

Q: I loved the actress who played Mallory on "Heartland," and was so sad when she left. Where can I see her now?

A: My first piece of advice would be to keep watching "Heartland." Not just because it's a great show and a landmark of Canadian television, but because Jessica Amlee still pops up now and again.

Indeed, her character, Mallory, has been an irregular part of the show for years now, ever since the end of Season 6 ("Heartland" just aired its 17th season on CBC in Canada, though that season has yet to air in the U.S.). She's left and come back numerous times since then.

Amlee has made the most of those absences, bouncing between film and TV roles.

Most notably, she starred in the first two seasons of Netflix's teen adventure series "Greenhouse Academy." She left the show in 2019, seemingly to pursue bigger roles.

And sure enough, 2019 proved to be a big year. She had the lead in the experimental, virtual-reality show "The Nightmare Tapes," and later in 2019 appeared in an episode of the high-profile Apple TV+ sci-fi series "For All Mankind."

That year she also started filming the feature-length indie thriller "The Runner." However, it wasn't released until 2021, when it did the film festival circuit and raked in piles of awards.

Q: What's Jeffrey Donovan doing now that he's left "Law & Order"?

A: The short answer is, we don't know.

The long answer is also "we don't know," but it adds the fact that Jeffrey Donovan (previously of "Burn Notice" fame) always seems to land on his feet.

It was announced late last year that Donovan's character, Frank Cosgrove, would not be returning for "Law & Order's" whopping 23rd season. This happened in the off-season, so when the season premiere aired in January, his character was written off with just a couple of lines about him being "too honest" for a job on the force. With that, the show moved on.

Donovan has presumably moved on as well, but he hasn't announced what he's moved on to just yet.

But as I said, it's likely just a matter of time.

For example, two whole years went by between the end of his star-making series "Burn Notice" and his next big project. And in that case, there were two big projects: in 2015, he had a lead role in the big-screen hit "Sicario" and a villain role in the star-studded second season of the FX series " Fargo."

Other, incredibly diverse roles followed before he took the full-time gig on "Law & Order" in 2022. So it's clear Hollywood will find something to do with him soon enough.

Ninja" (1983) and "Ninja III: The Domination" (1984) lined up next to each other at the video store — which is exactly how most people encountered them — you'd certainly think they were related.

And they were related — very closely, in fact. Just not by their stories.

All three were churned out by the famed B movie production house Cannon Films, aiming to capitalize on a growing American fascination with Japanese martial arts. (Indeed, the title of the first film seems like a pretty clear attempt to sucker in fans of the
