Late Laughs

The Late Show With Stephen Colbert (R)

Big dairy has been lobbying the FDA to prevent makers of non-dairy milks from calling it milk. Well, now the FDA has issued guidance that says plant-based beverages that bill themselves as milk can officially keep using the name. That is a huge win for non-dairy milks, especially all those almonds they keep artificially pregnant.

According to a new study, procrastination can make you depressed and poor. But, you know what? It's late, you're tired; be depressed and poor tomorrow.

Fox News settled their defamation suit with Dominion Voting Systems, averting a trial. ... I want my trial! You were supposed to provide me with six weeks of delicious content. I wanted to see Rupert Murdoch put his hand on the bible and burst into flames. According to Dominion, the settlement was for a gargantuan $797.5 million. That's a lot of dough-minion.

The Tonight Show Starring Jimmy Fallon (R)

Nearly half a billion dollars worth of cocaine was found floating off the coast of Italy. It's Italian cocaine, so you just sprinkle it over your pasta. Of course, everyone's talking about how it doesn't compare to the cocaine their grandma used to make.

For the first time, Amazon's self-driving car transported passengers on public roads. The car drove perfectly, then they were thrown onto their front porch like a cheap set of luggage. Unfortunately, after the Amazon car dropped one guy off at his doorstep, someone ran up and stole him.

The State Department is changing their official font from Times New Roman to Calibri. It feels like this is the government's attempt to be like, "We're fun. We're naughty." Yep, our government is changing fonts. Yep. When you heard that, President Zelenskyy was like, "Still here. This is still happening. We'll take anything. We'll take tanks, missiles, slingshots, boomerangs."

Jimmy Kimmel Live! (R)

Democrats, Republicans and Independents all agree that [George] Santos should not be a congressman anymore. There's a new survey. It says 66% of New York voters want him to resign. The other 34 are him in a variety of wigs and moustaches.

According to the U.S. patent office, Ford, the automaker, considered building self-driving cars that can repossess themselves. About two years ago, they filed a patent that laid out a design for vehicles that could drive themselves back to the dealership if the customer doesn't pay his bill. Can you imagine, like, getting evicted from your condo, you go outside, and you see your F-150 is leaving you, too?

George Santos, despite being exposed as a fraud — this guy has an almost comical list of lies to his name now — was assigned to not one but two committees. New speaker Kevin McCarthy put him on the Science Committee and the Space and Technology Committee, which makes sense because he's the only congressman who found a cure for cancer and successfully manned a mission to Mars, all this year alone.

Late Night With Seth Meyers (R)

Republican Congressman Mike Gallagher warned that China wants to use artificial intelligence to perfect its "Orwellian surveillance state." Unfortunately, Republicans don't know what that means because they banned that book.

President Biden reassured Americans the country's financial system is safe. OK, I think the fact that you're talking about a bank collapse proves it isn't — that's like going to a funeral and giving a eulogy about how Nana's going to be fine.

Tinder recently released an Australian edition of its dating dictionary, which includes the phrase "kitten fishing." That means "changing aspects of yourself to appear more attractive to others." Or, as we call that here, dating.

Powerful forces: 'Ahsoka' must save the universe in new Star Wars spinoff series

By Sarah Passingham
TV Media

A fan-favorite former Jedi Knight finally gets her live-action, starring moment in the new Disney+ limited series, "Star Wars: Ahsoka," debuting Wednesday, Aug. 23, on the streamer. Starring Rosario Dawson ("Dopesick") in the title role, the eight-episode series follows Ahsoka Tano as she takes on the not-so-small task of protecting the galaxy from imminent threats.

Former Jedi Padawan-turned-Rebel Alliance member Ahsoka is one of the most beloved characters in the Star Wars universe among fans of the franchise's animated films and TV series. Before Dawson's live-action portrayal of Ahsoka in the Disney+ series "The Mandalorian" and "The Book of Boba Fett," the character first appeared in the 2008 animated feature and subsequent TV series "Star Wars: The Clone Wars" as a teenage apprentice of Anakin Skywalker.

The new series is set just after the events of the animated series "Rebels" and in the same timeline as "The Mandalorian." Hayden Christensen ("Star Wars: Episode II - Attack of the Clones," 2002) reprises his role as Anakin yet again in "Ahsoka," after appearing in 2019's "Star Wars: Episode IX - The Rise of Skywalker," and bringing the character back to life in the spinoff series "Obi-Wan Kenobi" — presumably as a Force ghost, as he is long dead in this timeline.

So, who will the baddies in "Ahsoka" be without Darth Vader to represent the dark side? Returning to portray Grand Admiral Thrawn is "The Witcher" star Lars Mikkelsen, who lent his voice to the chilling Imperial officer in "Rebels."

Icy in demeanor and appearance — Thrawn is Chiss and his skin glows blue — he is only the tip of the villain iceberg in "Ahsoka." Portraying even more adversaries challenging the Jedi and the universe at large are Ivanna Sakhno ("High Fidelity") as Shin Hati, Diana Lee Inosanto ("The Last Tour," 2016) as Magistrate Morgan Elsbeth and the late Ray Stevenson ("Das Boot") as Baylan Skoll.

"Ahsoka" also stars Natasha Liu Bordizzo ("Day Shift," 2022) as Sabine Wren, Mary Elizabeth Winstead ("Kate," 2021) as Hera Syndulla, Eman Esfandi ("The Inspection," 2022) as Ezra Bridger and David Tennant ("Doctor Who") as the voice of droid Huyang, reprising his role from the Clone Wars series.

From her first appearances as a strong-willed, 14-year-old student of the Force to her final act as a Rebel agent in "Rebels," Ahsoka has always been voiced by Ashley Eckstein ("DC Super Hero Girls") in animated form. While Eckstein dashed fan hopes of a cameo in "Ahsoka" as she recalled her visit to the live-action series' set, telling Entertainment Weekly's Dagobah Dispatch podcast last October, "I don't wanna start a rumor ... it was just a set visit."

However, she didn't close the door on the possibility of popping up in the future, saying, "I talk about throwing your dreams out into the universe, so it would be a dream come true if I got to do a cameo, because my background is in live action."

Portraying a character that is as cherished as Ahsoka, and held in such high regard by one of film and TV's most active and vocal fan bases, is a daunting task. Dawson was up for the challenge, however, crediting stunt co-ordinator Ming Qiu ("Agents of S.H.I.E.L.D.") with getting her into shape when it came to wielding a lightsaber like a Jedi, as she shared on the Dagobah Dispatch podcast in May: "When [Qiu] said, 'This one did not make my eyes hurt,' that was the first compliment that I got, and I think I cried."

Stunts are one thing, but harnessing the Force is another. Luckily for Dawson, that became second nature. "I feel like I have it more than someone who just wants to move an object," explained Dawson. "I feel that there is an energy that we have, and a power that we have, that if we do concentrate it and focus it in the right ways, we can move mountains."

Behind the scenes, "Ahsoka" welcomes another familiar face from Tano's past adventures. Creator of the character Ahsoka, writer and director of both "The Clone Wars" and "Rebels," Dave Filoni, carried her story into a new medium as showrunner of the new series. Admitting that he was worried about bringing such a stylized character as Ahsoka into live-action form, Filoni told the Dagobah Dispatch podcast in May that he questioned, "Can a performer bring that to life in a way that is meaningful?"

With one of TV and film's most talented actors bringing Ahsoka to life, Filoni shared that it didn't take much convincing once he saw Dawson to believe that "Ahsoka" was on the right track. "The whole thing kind of came together for me with Rosario when we talked with her and when she put on the costume and became Ahsoka," he shared. "I was like, you know, this is going to work. It really kind of was as simple as that."

Whether you're a Rebel or a member of the dark side of the Force, buckle in and get ready for an adventure across the universe when "Ahsoka" premieres on Disney+. Catch the first two episodes of the eight-episode series when they drop Wednesday, Aug. 23, on the streamer, with new episodes added weekly.

Puttin' on the mitz': The Slanders take Netflix in new comedy

By Dana Simpson
TV Media

Life is a tapestry of tiny moments, but some moments are more significant and formative than others. Whether you looked forward to a quinceañera, a sweet 16, your senior prom or another teenage milestone event, it seems more than likely that the day came and went with a certain level of anticipation and expectation. Unfortunately, those two feelings often team up to create unattainable standards, as is the case in Netflix's newest family comedy.

In "You Are So Not Invited to My Bat Mitzvah," premiering Friday, Aug. 25, on Netflix, Stacey Friedman (Sunny Sandler, "Grown Ups," 2010) is dead set on having the perfect bat mitzvah party. The film is based on the young adult (YA) novel of the same name by Fiona Rosenbloom, in which Stacey's desires are made very clear: all she wants is "the perfect BCBG dress to wear, her friends by her side, and her biggest crush ever, Andy Goldfarb [Dylan Hoffman, "Next"], to dance with her (and maybe even make out with her on the dance floor)." So naturally, when the day doesn't exactly go off without a hitch, Stacey is massively disappointed.

Adding insult to injury, Stacey always seems to be in competition with her so-called best friend, Lydia (Samantha Lorraine, "The Walking Dead: World Beyond"), who is also hosting her bat mitzvah around the same time. When popularity, romantic crushes and other middle school dramas creep into the picture for Stacey, her flubbed ceremonial rite of passage threatens to ruin her reputation.

While the last name Sandler is most closely associated with "Billy Madison" (1995) and "Happy Gilmore" (1996) comedian Adam Sandler, the entire Sandler family is on board for this new production. The plot may revolve around the character played by his youngest daughter, Sunny, but Sandler's wife, Jackie Sandler ("The Wrong Missy," 2020), stars as a member of the Rodriguez-Katz family, while their eldest daughter, Sadie Sandler ("Pixels," 2015), plays Stacey's sister, Ronnie.

Directed by Sammi Cohen, the creative mind behind Hulu's coming-of-age romcom "Crush" (2022), "You Are So Not Invited to My Bat Mitzvah" is just one of a series of recent films and television shows to highlight various moments in Jewish life around the world. Following the streamer's expansion into Israel in early 2016, audiences everywhere were introduced to a plethora of content they may have been otherwise unfamiliar with.

Samantha Lorraine, Sunny Sandler and Millie Thorpe in "You Are So Not Invited to My Bat Mitzvah"

As was the case with Netflix's expansion into other countries, the streamer quickly began to offer Hebrew subtitles and dubbing for English and other language titles within Israel. Even more notably, Netflix also became a bridge between the Israeli entertainment industry and the West, encouraging onscreen representation and inclusivity for the Jewish diaspora.

Series like "Unorthodox," "The Club" and "Fauda" quickly gained popularity alongside films such as "Maktub" (2018), "Shiva Baby" (2021) and "Tick, Tick ... BOOM!" (2021), about late Jewish Broadway legend Jonathan Larson (Broadway's "Rent," 1994), and Netflix began promoting more widespread Jewish content in the United States as well. In this regard, the Sandler family seems the perfect choice to front an American bat mitzvah comedy.

Despite the fact that the Slanders tend to stay out of the limelight in the media, the well-known patriarch has shared his delight about his daughters following in his comedic footsteps. And if the Sandler girls' real-life bat mitzvahs are anything to base Netflix's new movie on, this is not one to miss.

Sunny, now 14, had her own bat mitzvah in May of last year. The festivities invitees included, among Sunny's friends and family, Sandler's "Murder Mystery" (2019) co-star and friend Jennifer Aniston, Twilight franchise star Taylor Lautner and performances by pop sensations Halsey ("Colors," 2015) and Charlie Puth ("We Don't Talk Anymore," 2016).

"It was the craziest bat mitzvah I've ever seen in my life," honored guest and musician Halsey told Jimmy Fallon on "The Tonight Show" shortly thereafter. "I mean, it was like Coachella."

While Halsey does not appear in the Netflix version of events, Sandler's "Uncut Gems" (2019) co-star, Broadway's Idina Menzel ("Cinderella," 2021), does — though there has been no word as to whether her famed "Uncut Gems" bat mitzvah dress will be joining her. Starring as his wife, Bree Friedman, Menzel helps add star power to an already powerful cast that includes comedy greats Sarah Sherman ("Saturday Night Live"), Jackie Hoffman ("Only Murders in the Building") and longtime Sandler collaborator Dan Bulla ("Hubie Halloween," 2020).

Adam Sandler produces the film via his Happy Madison production company, with help from executive producers Tim Herlihy ("The Wedding Singer," 1998), Barry Bernardi ("Pixels," 2015), Judit Maull ("You Don't Mess with the Zohan," 2008) and Kevin Grady ("Murder Mystery," 2019). Alloy Entertainment's Leslie Morgenstein ("The Sisterhood of the Travelling Pants," 2005) and Elysa Koplovitz ("Idiocracy," 2006) also produce.

Don't be tardy for the party: "You Are So Not Invited to My Bat Mitzvah" premieres Friday, Aug. 25, on Netflix.

Kody faces a reckoning in Sister Wives Season 18

By Caroline Collacutt
TV Media

Trouble in paradise: Fans will finally be allowed a glimpse into the multi-relationship breakdown between polygamist Kody Brown and his wives (past and present), as “Sister Wives” returns for Season 18, premiering Sunday, Aug. 20, on TLC.

Having started in 2010, this thoroughly binged reality series follows the life of Kody Brown, 54, a husband and father, who (according to TLC) “fell in love, then fell in love again and then again,” soon finding himself partnered with four women: Meri, Janelle, Christine and Robyn — Robyn, who joined the family in the series’ first season (and, after his divorce from Meri, is now Kody’s only legal wife).

Since then, however, a lot has changed for the busy patriarch. Season 17 marked a historic turn in Kody’s life, as Christine announced she would be leaving Kody and their joint family in November 2021. The story unfolded further, as both Janelle and Meri announced their separation from Kody in December 2022, during the tell-all that aired following the Season 17 finale, “Sister Wives: One on One.” The last fans heard, Kody was down three wives, with only Robyn at his side.

The special episode, hosted by Sukanya Krishnan, also brought light to an ongoing feud between Kody and Christine, as Kody went on record to allege that his ex-wife was a “game player” who often caused drama throughout the family by starting confrontations. Krishnan later brought out Christine, who categorically denied Kody’s accusations, stating they were “absolutely ridiculous.”

The Season 18 premiere will be the first conversation Kody and Christine have had face-to-face since sitting with Krishnan during the tell-all special. While details of their exchange have been kept under wraps, a teaser trailer for the season suggests Kody is facing difficult conversations with all members of the family. “I’m in this bad place with Janelle and Christine’s gone ... don’t even know what to do with Meri,” he says, setting the tone for what’s to come.

Following the explosive tell-all, this season of “Sister Wives” promises to unravel the events that led to separations between Kody, Meri and Janelle, as previews of the season suggest that Janelle has been questioning Kody’s interest in maintaining their plural family, while later showing Meri expressing to Robyn that she feels her marriage may be over once and for all.

It’s choppy waters ahead for the Brown family when Season 18 of “Sister Wives” begins Sunday, Aug. 20, on TLC.

Now or never: It’s “marriage or bust” when “The Ultimatum: Marry or Move On” returns with its second season, premiering Wednesday, Aug. 23, on Netflix.

Reality romance experts Nick and Vanessa Lachey (both of “Love is Blind”) return to host another round of this relationship rodeo, in which pre-existing couples are put to the test and asked once and for all whether they will pop the question and get married or move on from the partnership permanently.

The 10-episode season allows couples to participate in an experience unlike any other, as it offers a unique opportunity: to see if the grass is really greener on the other side. During the experiment, each person will choose a new partner from the other participants, then act as husband and wife to simultaneously see what a new relationship may be like, while also experiencing a taste of married life before making any vows. At the end of eight weeks, the original couples reunite and make their final decision: to marry or move on.

This second season features five new couples, each facing the same dilemma as one wants to marry while the other does not.

Lisa, 32, and Brian, 29, have been exclusive for a year and a half after starting as a “situationship” — now, however, Brian isn’t sure if he’s ready to commit to forever. They are joined by Ryann, 24, and James, 24, high school sweethearts who have been together for almost seven years. After spending nearly a decade together, Ryann believes that James should know without a doubt whether she is “the one.” Meanwhile, Riah, 25, and Trey, 29, are only two years into their relationship. They have survived long distance and are now living together, but as Trey wants to take the next step, Riah longs for more romance in her relationship. Outdoorsy Alex, 32, is similarly unsure, as his conflict-averse girlfriend, Kat, 28, wants to get married, but he is looking for a partner more willing to challenge him. Finally, Antonio, 30, is ready to marry after four years with girlfriend Roxanne, 31. She, however, wants her husband to be more financially stable.

The pressure is on and the clock is ticking down as these confused couples face forever in “The Ultimatum: Marry or Move On,” premiering Wednesday, Aug. 23, on Netflix, with the life-changing finale and reunion airing the following Wednesday, Aug. 30.

"Untold: Swamp Kings"

Volume 3 of the critically acclaimed docuseries "Untold" continues to pull back the curtain on the sports world when its newest installment, "Swamp Kings," premieres on Netflix, Tuesday, Aug. 22. This documentary heads down to Florida — where college football is life — to dig deeper into the story of the University of Florida Gators football team and its extraordinary return to victory. After achieving incredible success under coach Steve Spurrier in the 1990s, the Gators had found themselves in another lull by 2005. Taking on Urban Meyer and his take-no-prisoners style as head coach, the team — including future NFL stars Brandon Siler, Tim Tebow, Brandon Spikes, Major Wright and Ahmad Black, among many others — rose to claim a string of legendary victories between 2005 and 2010. Through extensive interviews and archival footage, "Swamp Kings" gives viewers an inside look at how the Gators went from underdogs to two-time BCS National Championship winners, "drilling down with a riveting play-by-play of some of the Gators' most blistering wins and losses ... [zooming] in on each turbulent year of Meyer's reign and isn't afraid to tackle the challenging sides of his leadership and the perils of his players being star athletes at such a young age" (Per Netflix). Directed by Katharine English ("First Ladies"), "Swamp Kings" is produced by Alexandra Lacey ("Anna Nicole Smith: You Don't Know Me," 2023) and Joe Softley ("College Sports, Inc.," 2021).

"Who is Erin Carter?"

But, when Erin finds herself caught up in a supermarket robbery and reveals her impressive fighting skills, her life threatens to come unraveled as her true identity bubbles closer to the surface. With writing by Jack Lothian ("Strike Back"), "Who is Erin Carter?" is directed by Ashley Way ("White Lines"), Savina Dellicour ("Pandore") and Bill Eagles ("Strike Back"), and produced by Nuala O'Leary ("Strike Back"). Sean Teale ("The Gifted"), Indica Watson ("Deep State"), Pep Ambros ("Matadero"), Douglas Henshall ("Shetland") and Charlotte Vega ("American Assassin," 2017).

"The Black Demon" (2023)

Stay out of the water. The 2023 science fiction film, "The Black Demon," will be available to stream on Prime Video as of Tuesday, Aug. 22. From director Adrian Grünberg ("Rambo: Last Blood," 2019) and writers Boise Esquerre ("Blackwater") and Carlos Cisco ("Star Trek: Discovery"), this legend-based thriller stars Josh Lucas ("Sweet Home Alabama," 2002), Fernanda Urrejola ("Cry Macho," 2021), Carlos Solórzano ("Flamin' Hot," 2023) and Venus Ariel ("Exposed," 2016) as a family stranded on an oil rig off the coast of Baja California, Mexico — a family who, while already facing unbelievable danger, find themselves in the company of a beast unlike any other: a vengeful and hungry megalodon shark, known by locals as the "Black Demon." With no boat to escape on and no functioning radio, the family must face the reality of their situation, including their patriarch's involvement in a risky — and now deadly — endeavor. "The Black Demon" also stars Omar Chaparro ("Pokemon: Detective Pikachu," 2019); Bolívar Sanchez ("The Man From U.N.C.L.E.," 2015); Raul Mendez ("Narcos"); Arturo Duverge ("Shotgun Wedding," 2022); Luis del Valle ("Vis a vis"); Omar Patin ("The Lost City," 2022); Julio Cesar Cedillo ("Cowboys & Aliens," 2011); Jorge A. Jimenez ("Alita: Battle Angel," 2019) and more.

"Mechanic: Resurrection" (2016)

With an all-star cast featuring Jason Statham ("Crank," 2006), Jessica Alba ("Fantastic Four," 2005), Tommy Lee Jones ("The Fugitive," 1993), Michelle Yeoh ("Everything Everywhere All at Once," 2022) and more, 2016's "Mechanic: Resurrection" will be available for streaming as of Thursday, Aug. 24, on Amazon Prime's Freevee. Directed by Dennis Gansel ("Before the Fall," 2004), this sequel to "The Mechanic" (2011) — itself a remake of the 1972 film, which shares the same name — follows the ongoing adventures of Arthur Bishop (), who has been living in Rio de Janeiro under a fake name since faking his own death. There, Bishop meets a woman named Renee Tran — a woman who knows his true identity, and has a mission for him to complete: to kill three targets for her employer, staging their deaths as accidents. Making matters worse, if he doesn't complete the task at hand, the love of his life will pay the price. Bishop's peaceful life returns to chaos in an instant, leading him down a deadly path once again. An explosive film from start to finish, this sequel also stars Sam Hazeldine ("Peaky Blinders"); John Cenatiempo ("Tulsa King"); Toby Eddington ("K-12," 2019); Femi Elufowaju Jr. ("The Legend of 1900," 1998); Anteo Quintavalle ("The Last Executioner," 2014); Bonnie Zellerbach ("The Impossible," 2012) and more.

"Dungeons & Dragons: Honor Among Thieves"

Grab your dice and roll a D20 — "Dungeons & Dragons: Honor Among Thieves" will be available to stream on Prime Video as of Friday, Aug. 25. An otherworldly adventure led by dungeon masters (or, as we call them, directors) Jonathan Goldstein ("Game Night," 2018) and John Francis Daley ("Spider-Man: Homecoming," 2017), this 2023 fantasy-heist-comedy is based on the popular tabletop roleplaying game, "Dungeons & Dragons," and is set in the world of the Forgotten Realms campaign. "Honor Among Thieves" stars Chris Pine ("Star Trek," 2009) as Edgin, a Bard (musician) who found himself imprisoned after leading a group of adventurers — including a barbarian named Holga (Michelle Rodriguez, "Furious 7," 2015) Edgin's daughter, Kira (Chloe Coleman, "My Spy," 2020), and sorcerer Simon Amur (Justice Smith, "Jurassic World Dominion," 2022) — in a search for the "Tablet of Reawakening." After escaping imprisonment, the bard must find his accomplices, and even more importantly, his daughter. Along the way, Edgin comes face to face with wizards, gladiators, druids and more, heading on a journey unlike any other. "Dungeons & Dragons: Honor Among Thieves" also stars Regé-Jean Page ("Bridgerton"), Sophia Lillis ("It," 2017), Hugh Grant ("About a Boy," 2002) and more.

Secret showdown

"Bobby's Triple Threat" takes the competition underground

By Caroline Collacutt
TV Media

Somewhere deep under the hustle and bustle of New York City stands a kitchen unlike any other: a kitchen built for titans. Only accessible by password — and to us lucky viewers — chef Bobby Flay invites the most talented in the industry to visit his underground kitchen and compete in another round of culinary's most exclusive competition: Season 2 of "Bobby's Triple Threat" begins Tuesday, Aug. 22, on Food Network.

The series, hosted and orchestrated by Flay, follows as a trio of culinary titans (talented chefs handpicked by Bobby) head to the host's speakeasy-style kitchen, where they will face off in a secret showdown against some of the most skilled chefs in the game in order to see who really is the best of the best.

This season, Flay welcomes titans including Brooke Williamson, who earned worldwide acclaim as the youngest female chef to ever cook at the James Beard House; Michael Voltaggio, a Michelin star-rated chef and "Top Chef" winner; and Tiffany Derry, a two-time James Beard Award finalist, former "Top Chef" contestant, and current owner of Roots Southern Table.

"[The titans] have competed in and won countless tournaments, proving their culinary excellence and securing their names and reputations among the very best in the biz," Food Network explains. "This time, though, they won't be competing to earn glory but to keep it. Over the course of three head-to-head rounds, elite chef-contestants will battle the titans and have their food judged in blind taste tests." Making matters more complicated, Flay will choose an ingredient that must be featured in each dish.

Whoever finishes the competition on top earns not only bragging rights, but a whopping $25,000 prize.

"Season 1 of 'Triple Threat' was just a warm-up," Flay recently claimed. "In Season 2, I welcome 10 of the best chefs in the country to take on the titans. The challengers walk through the speakeasy door with the utmost confidence — but will they walk out with the same swagger and $25,000? Not if my chefs have anything to say about it."

The competition will put Bobby's best to the test, however, as this season's guest competitors include "Iron Chef" stars Michael Symon and Jose Garces; "Chopped" judge Scott Conant; Kelsey Bernard Clark; Esther Choi; Kelvin Fernandez; Byron Gomez; Rashida Holmes; Mei Lin and Shota Nakajima.

Season 2 of "Bobby's Triple Threat" begins Tuesday, Aug. 22, on Food Network.

Picked a touch early in the ripening season and cold fermented in stainless steel tanks, this is a wine with mouthwatering acidity complemented by beautiful aromas and flavors on the palate. Loaded with notes of lime, boxwood and freshly cut grass, this crisp and lean expression gives way to a long, textured finish of pineapple and passion fruit.

Charity Lawson from “The Bachelorette”

90 Day: The Last Resort

TLC 7:00 PM

Five couples have traveled to a retreat in search of counseling. This time: infidelity shakes Kalani and Asuelu’s world; Angela threatens divorce; Yara confronts her nemesis; Ed and Liz want to move beyond their breakup cycle; Molly and Kelly try to heal.

The Bachelorette

(22) 8:00 PM

Charity has been fairly charitable during her season-long run, giving roses to guys that probably deserved some thorns. But she has finally gotten to the final rose on this season finale and might just find the love of her life. Does she reach the altar?

NFL Football

ESPN 8:00 PM

It’s still way too hot out for helmets and pads, so it must be Week 2 of preseason NFL action. The Baltimore Ravens take on the Washington Commanders live from FedEx Field in Landover, Md., to settle the question: How bad is traffic on the Beltway?

Ugliest House in America

HGTV 8:00 PM

Three ugly homes in the Northeast vie for the chance at a $150,000 makeover by designer Alison Victoria! It’s between an eclectic house full of panels, a church-like home with zebras on the walls, and a retro red shed that has it out for its owners. Only one will move on to the finals.

"Amsterdam" (2022)

Christian Bale ("The Dark Knight," 2008), Margot Robbie ("Barbie," 2023), John David Washington ("Tenet," 2020), Anya Taylor-Joy ("The Queen's Gambit") and more all star in the comedic mystery, "Amsterdam" (2022), which will be available to stream on Hulu as of Sunday, Aug. 20. Based on the "Business Plot" — a political conspiracy theory in the United States, erupting in 1933 — "Amsterdam" follows three friends — a doctor, a nurse and a lawyer — who together seek to uncover the truth after the mysterious death of U.S. general found with lethal amounts of poison in his system. In a wild goose chase that leads them from wealthy textile heirs to New York's Waldorf Astoria hotel, the trio must unravel an international conspiracy and prove their innocence before America is forever and irrevocably changed. Written and directed by David O. Russell ("Silver Linings Playbook," 2012), the film's cast also includes Alessandro Nivola ("The Many Saints of Newark," 2021); Andrea Riseborough ("Oblivion," 2013); Chris Rock ("Top Five," 2014); Matthias Schoenaerts ("Rust and Bone," 2012); Michael Shannon ("Take Shelter," 2011); Mike Myers ("Bohemian Rhapsody," 2018); Taylor Swift ("Cats," 2019); Timothy Olyphant ("Justified");

Zoe Saldana ("Guardians of the Galaxy," 2014); Rami Malek ("Mr. Robot") and Robert De Niro ("Cape Fear," 1991).

"Primal Survivor" (Complete Series)

Pack your bags for adventure: the complete "Primal Survivor" series, including seasons 1 to 5 of "Primal Survivor," and each of the series' spin-offs — "Escape from the Amazon," "Mighty Mekong" and "Over the Andes" — will be available to stream on Hulu as of Monday, Aug. 21. This National Geographic reality survival series follows wilderness guide and survival instructor Hazen Audel as he finds himself in some of the most remote and rigorously overgrown locations, where he must employ skills learned from the area's native inhabitants in order to survive the elements. After first spending time living with locals in order to learn their customs, strategies and ways of life — techniques often honed over thousands of years, passed down generation to generation — Audel then embarks on extreme solo journeys of exploration that push even him, a well-traveled expert, to his furthest limits. While making tools from nature, hunting apex predators and even braving the freezing cold Arctic waters, Audel invites cameras along for an experience unlike any other. Not to mention: this worldly adventurer does it all barefoot.

"Transfusion" (2023)

Written and directed by Australian filmmaker Matthew Nable ("Riddick," 2013), the potent, 2023 thriller, "Transfusion," will make its streaming debut, Thursday, Aug. 24, on Hulu. Starring Sam Worthington ("Avatar," 2009) as former Special Forces operative Ryan Logan, the film follows as Logan is forced back into the blood thirsty criminal underworld he once opposed, desperate to keep his son Billy (newcomer Edward Friday Carmody) — now Logan's only family, after the loss of his wife — from being taken out of his care. Despite his best efforts, however, Logan's involvement may just introduce Billy to the very danger he hoped to keep his son away from. Nable's directorial debut, "Transfusion" also stars Phoebe Tonkin ("Babylon," 2022); Richard Cotta ("Shang-Chi and the Legend of the Ten Rings," 2021); Laurie Yassin ("Pieces of Her"); Akram Joseph ("Hidden Peaks," 2018); Gilbert Bradman ("The Twelve"); Damian de Montemas ("Hounds of Love," 2016); Alison McGirr ("Ladies in Black," 2018); Susie Porter ("The Monkey's Mask," 2000); Christopher Stollery ("Predestination," 2014); Jessica Napier ("Ghost Rider," 2007); Trystan Go ("The Family Law"); Alex Malone ("The Heights"); Julian Maroun ("The Secrets She Keeps"); Darius Williams ("The Secret Kingdom," 2023) and more, including newcomers Ben Hogan and JK Peralta, and Nable himself.

Hollywood Q&A

By Adam Thomlison
TV Media

Q: What has Dwight K. Schrute done since "The Office" ended?

A: Rainn Wilson's career is a classic example of Hollywood struggling to make use of an actor's inexplicable charm.

Wilson, as you say, is best known as "The Office's" most annoying assistant to the regional manager, Dwight Schrute, a character who was designed to be hard to like. Yet audiences (yourself included) loved him anyway.

When that now-classic sitcom ended its run on NBC in 2013, Wilson, his agents and a whole army of TV and film producers set about trying to recapture that Schrute magic. But so far, none of

There was a similar attempt, before "The Office" ended, to make Wilson into a movie star. He played an inept, would-be superhero in 2010's "Super," which, despite its superstar director/writer (James Gunn, who would soon direct the first "Guardians of the Galaxy" movie in 2014), was a massive flop.

After these big swings, Wilson has mostly settled into a supporting-star career, in shows such as AMC's "Dark Winds" and major films like 2022's "Weird: The Al Yankovic Story."

But NBC is still a little extra invested in Wilson. Earlier this year, it launched a new docuseries on its streaming platform, Peacock, that puts Wilson in the

Q: Is it true that Indiana Jones was modeled on a real-life person?

A: If, like the man himself in "Indiana Jones and the Last Crusade" (1989), you're willing to take a "leap of faith," then perhaps it is true. It's possible that Indiana Jones was based on real-life, fedora-wearing adventurer Roy Chapman Andrews.

The "leap" required is skipping over the fact that Indy creator George Lucas has never admitted this, and we don't even know if he knew about Andrews at all.

But the parallels are striking. There's the already-mentioned fedora that seemingly never left his head. There's the fact that, despite boldly charging around the world in search of ancient artifacts, Andrews, too, was terribly afraid of snakes.

But most important is the radically hands-on approach that Andrews took to history. He crisscrossed the globe in his work for the American Museum of Natural History in the first half of the 20th century and is best known for his pioneering work in the Gobi Desert of Mongolia throughout the 1920s.

It should be noted that Andrews was more paleontologist than archeologist — his greatest discovery was a fossilized nest that proved dinosaurs were born via eggs and not live birth. And, he was actually a zoologist by training. Historical human traces, Indiana's stock in trade, were of little interest to Andrews.

Again, the fact that Lucas has never mentioned Andrews as an inspiration makes this theory controversial. But some historians have found a compromise — namely, that Andrews inspired an image of the professional adventurer that was taken up by loads of filmmakers in the mid-20th century, and that those films then inspired Lucas.

This matches Lucas's own explanation, that he modeled his famed archeologist on the adventure movies he grew up watching, featuring similarly styled globetrotters played by the likes of Alan Ladd (in, for example, 1943's "China") and Clark Gable (in 1945's aptly titled "Adventure").

Q: Does Melissa Fumero have a new project lined up after "Blockbuster"?

A: Melissa Fumero has been a fast mover in the past. She leaped into the starring role on "Blockbuster," a sitcom about the world's last Blockbuster Video location, a year after her star-making role in "Brooklyn Nine-Nine" came to an end in 2021.

That said, "Blockbuster" was only canceled last December (after one underwhelming season), so it would be unrealistic for her to have a new full-time gig by now.

But she nonetheless has done quick work finding a number of part-time ones. Most notably (and most excitingly for "Nine-Nine" fans), she's voiced a character on all eight episodes of "Digman," a new animated comedy created by and starring her former "Nine-Nine" co-star Andy Samberg.

She also voiced the character Sophie in another animated comedy, "Velma," a prequel series of the enduringly popular "Scooby-Doo."

Those two would add up to a full-time job for many, but the hard-working Fumero clearly wasn't satisfied. She's also taken up directing, helming two episodes of the streaming series "Primo" and two more of the NBC sit-
