Costumes are prize-winners

There are those who would question the sanity of anyone who runs a seven-mile race in 80-degree heat, but when they run dressed up as a firetruck, a chocolate chip cookie, or pulling a Roman chariot, one really has to wonder.

But the costumed runners have become a favorite of Bix 7 watchers and this year they were awarded with a special contest of their own.

The contest was sponsored by radio station KLIK-FM and The Athlete's Foot.

The winners in the individual category were: Jean Kelly, "Bix Run Lady," 1st, $204 cash; Eric Halen, chocolate chip cookie, 2nd, $80 gift certificate; Lupe Martinez, ghetto blaster, 3rd, $80 gift certificate; Cyndi Smith, "Flying Nun."

4th, $80 gift certificate; Joan Jojo, Bix notes, 5th, $30 gift certificate; and James Harper, fisherman, 6th, $30 gift certificate.

In the group category the winners were: Bix 7 Fire Squad, 1st, $204 cash; Running shoes, 2nd, $190 gift certificate; Roman chariot team, 3rd, $160 gift certificate; The Blues Brothers, 4th, $160 gift certificate; Legions in pools, 5th, $60 gift certificate; and The Jack King Conservatory of Music, 6th, $60 gift certificate.

Receiving honorable mention were three runners in a children's category: Kamel DeToyo, Stabbe of Liberty; Brock DeToyo, Uncle Sam; and Windy Johnson, the genie.

THE BIX in '86: We ran with the best

Age 57, time 54 minutes

The one he wore this year proclaimed: "57 isn't old... if you're a tree."

His time Saturday of about 54 minutes was an improvement by four minutes over his time last year.

He'd pushed hard, so that beer at the end of the seven miles was welcome relief.

"This is one of the best race crowds I've ever seen. The crowd really picks the race up," he said.

... And they're off! Runners get off

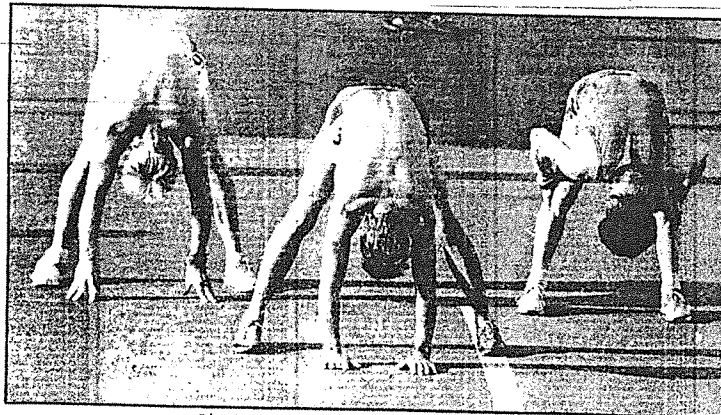

A little bit serious

It was neck and neck for the two leaders, Geoff Smith, right, and Mark Corp, until just past the six-mile mark. Smith pulled away and held on for the win.

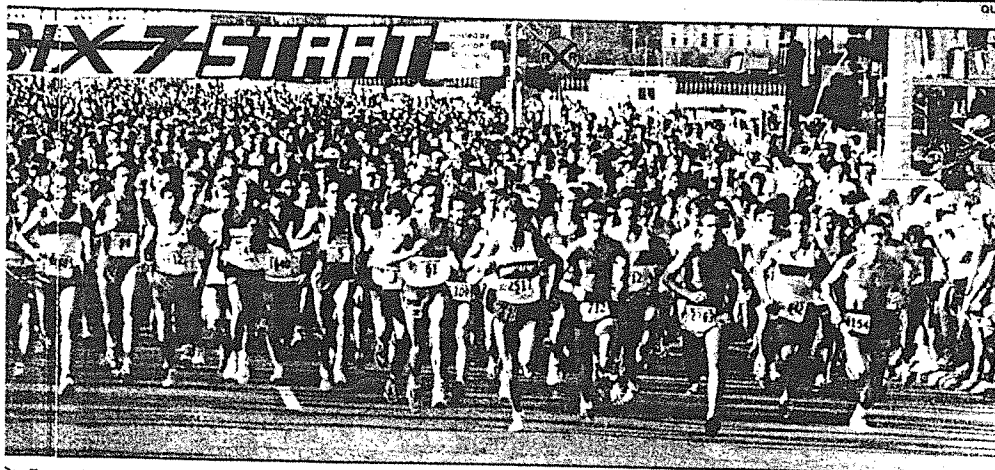

A handshake and a shower of cold water mean a lot after running your heart out.

B-e-n-d and s-t-r-e-t-c-h. It looked like synchronized stretching exercises before the race on Saturday.

Get off to a quick start at the foot of Brady Street.

... And a little bit silly

One of the Heineken six-packers popped his top during the race.

Spectators even got into the act — cheering your friends, your neighbors, or just anyone giving it their all.

These guys made a splash without water by bringing their pools with them.

Somehow THE BIX draws families together

Lady Liberty, Uncle Sam

Miniature versions of Lady Liberty and Uncle Sam ran the Bix this year in the form of Kamie DeToye, 6, and her brother Brock, 5.

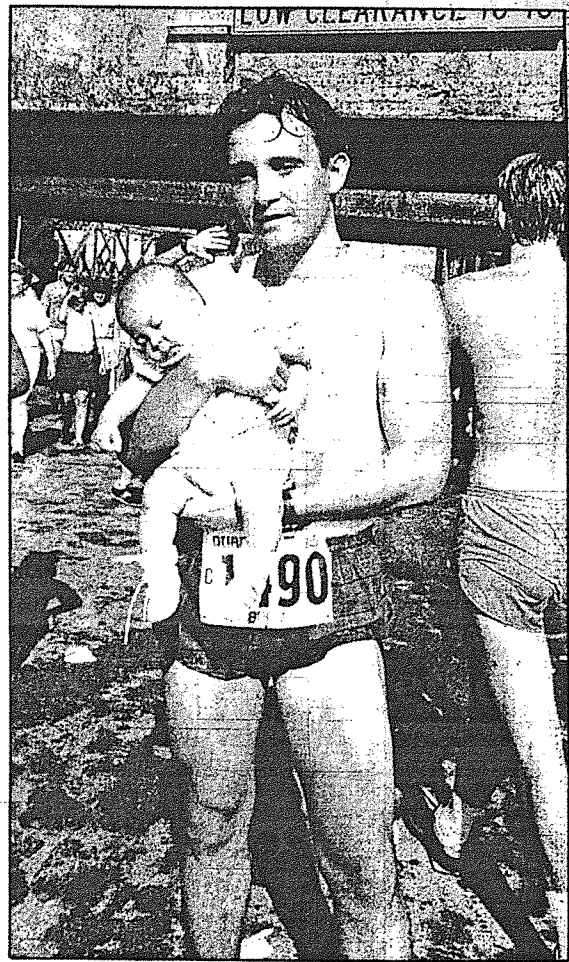

The two were dressed up for the costume contest part of the race, but they were serious about crossing the finish line, too.

Asked if she had run in road races before, Kamie said, "Yep. Lots of 'em. Even when I was two."

The costumes were the idea of Kamie's and Brock's grandmother, Phyllis Gill, of Davenport, who ran the Bix with the little ones and their mother, Cheryl DeToye, also of Davenport.

The whole family belongs to the Cornbelt Running Club and the kids have run a couple of five-kilometer races.

— Diana Penner

She'll run, too, someday

Attention Ashley Segura: You may be only four months old, but Dad has some plans for you.

"She'll be a runner, too," Mark Segura, of Como, Ill., said as he carried a sleepy Ashley around after he ran the Bix in 48 minutes, 43 seconds. It was his second Bix run, and he has already improved his time by two minutes.

But don't get worried yet, Ashley. Before you're a runner, you've got to be a walker, so you've got a little time.

And Dad promised to be there not only for next year's Bix, but for a lot of Bix races after that.

"Oh, I will be there next year. I'm going to be running 'til I'm 60," he promised.

— Diana Penner

Next year's their year

Last year, the Al Durbin family of East Moline watched some of the Quad-City Times Bix 7 race live on television.

This year, they parked their lawn chairs on Brady Street street between 2nd and 3rd streets to watch in wonder as about 9,300 Bixers rolled up the dreaded hill.

And next year, the Durbins plan to be among the watched, not watchers.

"It's just really fun to be here," Durbin, still the spectator this year, said.

"And it really takes your breath away to see that enormous crowd coming up that hill," he said.

So Durbin and his wife, Judy, son Greg, 16, daughter Erin, 10, and nephew Matt Lussan, 13, of Corpus Christi, Texas, are all planning to be participants next year.

Hey, it's magnetic marriage

Jim and Susan Rounds, of Colons, started the Bix together at the foot of Brady Street.

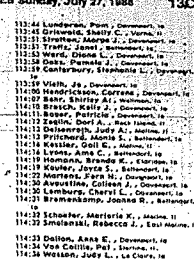

Not surprisingly, with the throng that headed up the hill in a crush, they lost sight of each other.

But amazingly enough, right about at the staple mark, they found each other again. Must be a magnetic marriage.

So together, they finished what she started together, both with times of about one hour, 15 minutes.

Bix Fever is catching on. In the Rounds family. Next year, they plan a five-some to include the kids: Greg, 18, and Lisa, 15, who speculated this time around. And oldest daughter, Christi, 14, will also be drafted for the team, the Rounds said.

Because of the large number of volunteers who helped put on the Quad-City Times Bix 7 race this year, it is possible that some names may have been left out of this list.

A look back at Bix '86

Whether it was watching an aerobics workout during the Fit Fest at the River Center ...

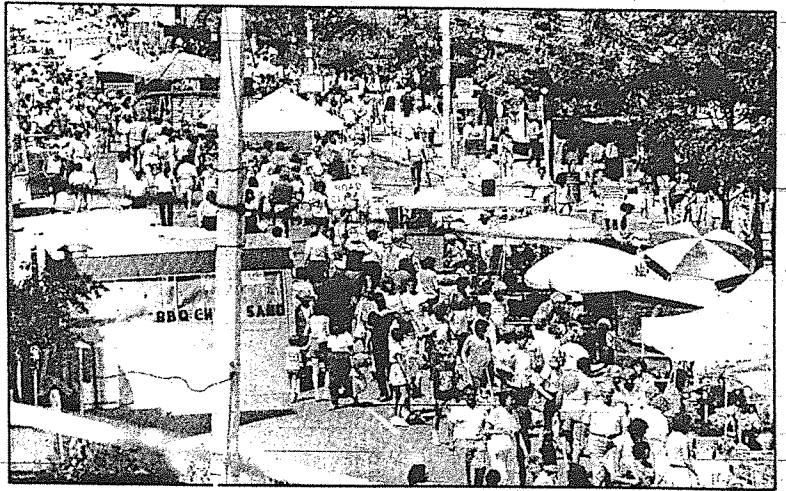

... Or partying on top of Bishop's on a sunny afternoon, the Bix Fest had it all.

The music was as upbeat as ever, bringing thousands of fans to the Davenport levee.

Even kids had great fun getting their faces painted.

Downtown was packed — with great bargains, good food, and unusual, hand-crafted items.

We'll Turn Your Head!

The Quad-City Times Bix 7, hosted by the Cornbelt Running Club, is one of our area's major assets, and that was proved again — 9,319 times over — this weekend.

Because whether you run the race or watch it, or support the Bix weekend activities, the Quad-Cities wins.
