Much of the success which attended this campaign is due to the fact that the pastor did not say, "this is the steward's business." On the contrary by using the budget system, the pastor was relieved from embarrassment

This unique photograph, taken during Kerensky's recent visit to the Russian front, when the republic's fate seemed hanging in the balance before the gathering Kornilloff revolt, shows the Russian premier in the midst of a group of men from the ranks. Is he telling them a funny story, or joking with them over their war experiences? His comradeship shows why, whatever the upper classes may think of his rule, he has the loyalty of the troops. The arrow points to Kerensky.

LIBERTY LOAN CAM STARTS I

WITH SALES ORGANIZATION BETTER PERFECTED TO HANDLE THE SALES THAN ON FIRST LOAN

Effort Will Be Made to Market the Bonds Among the People Rather Than Among Corporations.

Engineered by the best committee organization that was ever constructed in the Grand Traverse region, the Second Liberty Loan campaign has been launched in this county. The rural committee, declared the most important part of the organization, has begun a systematic canvass of the outlying districts, and it is safe to say that not one person in the county who is capable of buying a Liberty bond will be overlooked.

The campaign for the selling of this second bond issue far surpasses that of the first in efficiency. In the first place, there is the experience gained from the first to work upon and profit by. Where mistakes were made in the initial campaign, they will be entirely lacking in the present drive. A world of statistics have been listed and computed since the first effort at money raising, and the working divisions will have these lists to work with. The United States government knows who bought the first Liberty bonds, as well as those who did not
