

Affidavit of Guaranteed Right to Reputation and Demand to Cease and Desist From Publishing Story Violating the Same

Notice to Agent is Notice to Principal and Notice to Principal is Notice to Agent

Affiant, Timothy A. Beyer, one of the People (as seen in the Indiana Constitution, Article 1, Section 1), republican in form, Sui Juris, do serve you, Maria Flora and the Lebanon Reporter, this Affidavit, in this court of record, to make the following claims that you and your agents may provide immediate due care:

Please take Notice that this is sent in response to a potential story being published containing unsubstantiated or false claims about Affiant. This is a common law action; And

Please take Notice that Maria Flora and the Lebanon Reporter have established a pattern of practice of publishing stories containing unsubstantiated or false claims about Affiant; And Affiant claims that all People have a guaranteed right to reputation and that the publishing of a story with unsubstantiated or false claims, not sworn under penalty or perjury, is an injury and burden and will cause irreparable harm to Affiant. Furthermore, printing presses are free to every person, subject to being responsible for the abuse of that liberty, such as violating the guaranteed right to reputation. Moreover, entities in public commerce that make money, such as the Lebanon Reporter, are regulated by government and are also bound to the terms of constitutions, including the protection of all People's guaranteed right to reputation and for being liable when using the printing presses to violate one of the People's right to reputation. Such entities cannot be in public commerce and violate the guaranteed rights of the People in the course of such public commerce.

Affiant claims my rights are unconditional and can never be deprived or restricted and that the deprivation of rights, including the right to reputation, is an injury and burden and may be punished. (See evidence below)

Indiana Constitution Article 1 Section 12 (Bill of Rights): All courts shall be open; and every person, for injury done to him in his person, property, or reputation, shall have remedy by due course of law. Justice shall be administered freely, and without purchase; completely, and without denial; speedily, and without delay. (Bolded for Emphasis)

Indiana 1816 Constitution Article 1 Section 9 (Bill of Rights): That the printing presses shall be free to every person, who undertakes to examine the proceedings of the Legislature or any branch of Government; and no law shall ever be made to restrain the right thereof. The free communication of thoughts, and opinions, is one of the invaluable rights of man; and every Citizen may freely speak, write, and print on any subject, being responsible for the abuse of that liberty.

Maxim: It would be idle and trite to say that no right is absolute.

Maxim: Law is a rule of right; and whatever is contrary to the rule of right is an injury.

Maxim: In law, none is credited unless he is sworn.

Therefore, my order and demand of remedy is that you and your agency immediately cease and desist publishing a story that violates my right to reputation.

Maxim: Remedies are the life of rights.

Please take final Notice that if you disagree with any of the above claims, rebut by sworn affidavit, under penalty of perjury, point by point, to the Affiant's address below within three (3) days or you agree by tacit acquiescence that all is truth and law and shall remain forever a part of this court of record and shall be heard by an arbitrator of my choice at your expense, and that you are acting with full knowledge, intent, and malice against one of the People. You also agree the matter is forever settled. All responses not sworn under penalty of perjury are considered non-responses and agents or attorneys under contract who suppress this Affidavit agree to pay the Affiant $100,000. Furthermore, proceeding with publishing a story that violates my right to reputation will incur a fee of $1,000,000 per infraction upon receipt of this Affidavit.
