SMALL BUSINESS OF THE YEAR

Hungry Howie's – Never Just “Another Pizza Place”

For over two decades, Hungry Howie's in Ludington has been far more than a purveyor of delicious pizza; it has been an integral thread in the vibrant tapestry of this community. This enduring commitment is rooted in the deep personal connection of our family, the Pattersons, who have poured their hearts into creating a truly local establishment. My wife, Melissa Reed, and our sons, Cameron and Cody, work alongside an incredible crew, all united by a shared passion: to not just serve food, but to foster genuine relationships.

We believe that extraordinary service begins with truly knowing our patrons. From recalling your preferred order to greeting you by name, we strive to make every interaction a memorable one, ensuring you leave with a smile and a satisfied palate. This dedication to our customers and our town hasn't gone unnoticed. We were deeply honored to be voted the number one pizza place in the area and, even more humbling, to be named the 2023 Small Business of the Year. While these accolades are incredibly gratifying, the true reward has always been the opportunity to uplift and support the community that has so steadfastly supported us.

Our commitment to giving back runs deep. We take immense pride in contributing to local schools, nurturing youth programs, and actively participating in organizations that tirelessly work to strengthen Ludington. As I often reflect, the aspiration to be a pillar in the community has always been central to our business philosophy. I vividly recall an evening years ago with Melissa at a local fundraiser, observing an older couple whose generosity and deep connections within the community, coupled with their thriving business, deeply inspired us. We turned to each other and knew then that this was the path we wanted to forge.

This philosophy has been embraced and fortified by our sons, Cameron and Cody, who have been my dedicated partners for the past decade. Working alongside them every day is a profound joy, and watching them embody these values fills me with immense pride. It's my cherished dream that they will carry this legacy forward when Melissa and I eventually step back, continuing to serve Ludington with the same passion and dedication.

Being an active part of the community also means collaborating with fellow local businesses. We're particularly proud of our unique late-night delivery service, providing fresh, hot pizzas to local employers who wish to show appreciation to their night-shift teams. We understand that many companies operate around the clock, and the hardworking individuals on the third shift deserve the same delicious, fresh meal as those working during the day. Delivering stacks of warm pizzas and Howie Breads at 2:00 AM to places like Whitehall or House of Flavors isn't just about a sale; it's about the profound satisfaction of knowing we've brought a moment of comfort and appreciation to those dedicated employees.

When you choose Hungry Howie's on US 10 in Ludington, you're not just indulging in our famously flavored crust pizzas, wings, or Howie Bread. You're investing in a local business that has faithfully served this community for two decades, a business dedicated to nurturing its strength and vitality for generations to come in Mason County. So, for your next pizza night, please remember the establishment that has been here for you, proudly voted number one by you, and trusted for over twenty years. Hungry Howie's on US 10 in Ludington: still local, still yours, and still serving up flavor with heart!
