California is one of the top 10 states that employs farmworkers with H-2-A visas, landing at No. 4. Florida currently holds the top spot, followed by North Carolina and Georgia, according to the 2016 Office of Foreign Labor Certification Report.

The top two H-2A employers so far in 2016 are in North Carolina and Washington. California businesses, this year, take the No. 3, 4 and 8 spots on the top 10 list. The balance of the businesses on the list are mostly from the East Coast. In total, there are 7,737 H-2A nonimmigrant farmworkers in California.
