

In Loving Memory of Cameron J. Kelly

December 25, 1991
to May 7, 2015

Dear Mom, Dad, Joe Jr., Shannon & Joseph,

I know I left you 11 years ago today. Just checking in, as I always do, to let you know I'm here today. I feel your heartbeat as you search for me and I am with you, for I am closer than you think. I am the whisper in the wind, the cool breeze that caresses your cheek. The warmth in your heart as I surge through your veins. I am the ray of sunshine in the sunrise that greets your loving eyes. I am the cool and vibrant colors of the sunset that reflects on the evening waters. I see your tears and I wish I could bear hug you one more time, to remind you that I am still yours and always will be. Listen to your heart for it is I that resides in it. I will be there until we are together again. I can't wait to show you around and meet my new friends. It is so unbelievable here and you can only imagine it. The dirt roads never end and the fishing is the best ever! I just caught the biggest bass the other day! I walk through the fields that never fade, to hunt for whatever my heart desires. Time stands still, but yet, it is endless. I am so proud of you all for keeping on, though I know at times, it is difficult for you to do so. I feel it. Please keep living fully for me and for you. Carry me in your heart at all times, but not as a shadow of loss, but as a full throttle bright light that keeps on giving and shining. I am your guardian star that watches over you. I will keep you safe until the end of time.

Love, Cam

P.S. I have the best mom, dad and family that I could ever had hoped for. I love you so very much. Did you feel it? I just bear hugged you and kissed you on the cheek!
