

INJURED AT WORK?

Hager Law is devoted to helping those who are suffering from a workplace injury get all of the resources they need to recover quickly and get back to work!

The image shows a hand with a white bandage wrapped around the thumb, holding a 'WORK INJURY CLAIM FORM'. The form is titled 'WORK INJURY CLAIM FORM' in large, bold, black letters. Below the title is a section labeled '1 WORKER'S DETAILS' in a dark box. The form contains several fields for personal information: 'Title', 'Family name', 'Given names', 'Other known or previous legal names eg. Maiden names', 'Date of birth' (with a grid for day, month, and year), 'Gender' (with 'Male' and 'Female' checkboxes), 'Postcode', and 'Address for correspondence'. To the right of the main form, there are additional questions: 'What are your daytime contact phone' (with 'Mobile' and 'Phone' sub-headers), 'E-mail address', 'If you need an interpreter, what', 'Do you have special communication needs eg. Hearing or vision impaired', and a section for 'PARAMEDIC ONLY' with questions about supporting a partner, gross weekly earnings, and full-time students. At the bottom right, it says 'If you did not read this form please explain'.
