

AGWAY®

W. 2nd Ave., Clearfield

Clearfield Agway is currently owned and operated by Clair Wriglesworth and his sons, Alex, Ben and Noah. For over 40 years the Wriglesworth family has been instrumental in providing quality agricultural products to Clearfield and its surrounding communities at Clearfield Agway. Clair and his sons are known for giving educated, helpful advice, whether it be for providing proper animal nutrition, fertilization for farm fields, or planting food plots for wildlife. They are also known for their ways of offering friendly service through filling propane tanks and loading purchases onto vehicles.

Having grown up on the Wriglesworth Family dairy farm, Clair is passionate about being involved with The Creamery at Knob Farm. He is happy to be able to assist them with their operation and he proudly offers their quality milk products at Clearfield Agway. In addition, he and his wife, Kristin, have owned and operated Sherwood's Creamery next door to Agway for 17 years. Kristin is thankful to be able to provide a family-friendly location to serve ice cream treats to the kind people of our community, and looks forward to seeing them year after year during the summer months.

Clair, Kristin, Alex, Ben, and Noah are happy to be able to serve our local community as a family. "We are truly grateful for your support and friendship!"
