

This 4th of July,
we celebrate the freedom that defines our nation -
the right to life, liberty, and the pursuit
of happiness.

But for thousands of children in foster care, freedom isn't just a patriotic concept. It's the simple hope of sleeping safely, being truly known, and having someone who believes in them.

At Lifespan Family Services, we believe that freedom begins with family. When you open your home to foster or adopt, you're giving a child more than shelter - you're giving them love, stability, and the freedom to dream big.
