Chuck and Emma Heater celebrate 77 years of marriage today, in which they have created many long lasting memories.

A Lasting Love

Local couple celebrates their 77th anniversary

MAX KIRKENDALL
newsguardeditor@countrymedia.net

It was 1941, a young Charles (Chuck) Heater and his friend were cruising down the Newberg streets in his convertible when he spotted three girls. One of the girls, Emma, took a fancy to Chuck and his spiffy car.

"I was out walking with my friends and I saw these two handsome guys in a convertible," Emma said. "They stopped to talk and offered to give us a ride home. After that Chuck kept coming around to give me rides."

This happenstance meeting would lead to dating, engagement and 77 adventurous years of marriage.

Emma and Chuck Heater were married Nov. 13, 1942 and are currently living at Lakeview Senior Living in Lincoln City, where they are celebrated their 77th anniversary today. Emma, 95 soon, and Chuck, 97, have created many memories together, but they still remember their first meeting like it was yesterday.

"We were practically kids at that time," Chuck said. "She wasn't quite 18 and I wasn't quite 20."

After being engaged for six months, waiting to be old enough to get married, Chuck was summoned into service.

"Uncle Sam was hot on my trail," Chuck said. "But I didn't want to go to the Army, so I enlisted in the Navy in 1942."

Depoe Baykery named best bakery in Oregon

newsguardeditor@countrymedia.net

Baking runs in the family for Depoe Baykery owner Ray Degele. And with over two decades of baking experience, Degele has turned his little shop on Hwy 101 into the best bakeries in Oregon.

Taste of Home magazine recently compiled a list of the top bakery in each of the United States. For Oregon, Degele's Depoe Baykery was the top choice.

In 1966-69, Degele got his first job selling Spudnud Donuts door-to-door in Billings, Montana. After watching his family run their own bakery for several years, Degele moved to the Oregon Coast in 1982 to work as a cook at Salishan Lodge and later became lead baker for four years.

In 2010, Degele began taking his baked goods to the local farmers markets in Lincoln City and Waldport. After a year he decided it was time to take a chance and open up his own shop.

With a huge variety of treats from cookies, breads, quiches and of course doughnuts, Degele said what makes his baked goods stand out is their authenticity.

"I'd say about 90 percent of all our baked

City explores curbside composting plans

newsguardeditor@countrymedia.net

In an effort to become a 'zero-waste' city, the Lincoln City City Council is exploring some different programs for recycling and composting.

At the Nov. 4 special City Council meeting, the City Council heard a pitch from North Lincoln Sanitary on a new recycling and composting program for Lincoln City residents.

"The program is for every residential customer to have a 96-gallon recycle container, and a 96-gallon compostable, if it grows it goes as our motto, container and they would be picked up every other week, opposite weeks," North Lincoln Sanitary President Tina French said.

The alternating weeks would be labeled a green according to French. This program would also give every customer in Lincoln City three separate bins: a garbage bin, recycle bin and a compost bin.

"If you're a customer of ours, you're going to get one of these bins and you're going to pay the monthly fee," French said. "Now, if you call us and tell us to come pick it up, we will but you're still going to pay the monthly fee."

City Manager Ron Chandler said the cost for curbside composting would run $6.85 per month. French detailed the programs subscription program that would cost between $25 and $30 per customer that covers the cost of the bins, pickup, etc.

French said personally, she would vouch for an

Lincoln City Police are joining the Neighborhood Watch effort with Roads End leading the way and other neighborhoods in the city that are also looking into starting programs.

Roads End group takes lead on Neighborhood Watch in LC

THE NEWS GUARD

The Roads End Improvement Association (REIA), in conjunction with the Lincoln City Police Department (LCPD), is announcing the kick off of a new Neighborhood Watch group for the Roads End area.

Police Chief Jerry Palmer and REIA Board Member Marie McFarland have been meeting with her committee to establish the first Neighborhood Watch group in the city.

The main focus of this group is to add eyes on the area to assist the police in detecting suspicious events in the neighborhood before they become problems, said the LCPD. In addition to the many more eyes observing the neighborhood, the Neighborhood Watch group is planning on organizing events for neighbors to get acquainted with others in their area. The group has already established block captains and is looking for more people to become involved.

“The police can’t be everywhere, so we become the eyes and ears for the Police Department,” McFarland said. “We don’t try to make contact or apprehend, we just let people know we are there. Our main function is to observe, recognize and report as appropriate.

“We are coming together to keep an eye on our neighborhood and to assist our police department with their crime fighting and prevention. As we know, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.”

Chief Palmer said the LCPD is proud and excited to partner with REIA, and support the Neighborhood Watch Program in the community.

“We are so glad Marie is spearheading this initial effort to establish Neighborhood Watch in Roads End, and we are hopeful other areas of town will follow Roads End’s lead,” Palmer said. “We expect this to be an excellent partnership with our citizens.”

McFarland and Palmer are happy to share this program with other groups in the city to help get their own Neighborhood Watch Programs going if interested.

The Neighborhood Watch Program was first started in 1972. Its primary focus is to empower citizens to help in the fight against crime. This organization has become very popular in cities around the country and is sponsored by the National Sheriff’s Association.

Lincoln City is joining the effort with Roads End leading the way. There are other neighborhoods in the city that are also looking into starting programs of their own.

If you have questions about this program or wish to be put in touch with Marie McFarland and the Roads End group, please contact Lincoln City Police at 541-994-3636.

H.E.L.P. hygiene drive accumulates 1,500 lbs of supplies for students

newsguardeditor@countrymedia.net

The Lincoln County homeless student population is at an all-time high, but thanks to the Homeless Education and Literacy Project (H.E.L.P.) and the community, those students will have access to adequate hygiene supplies.

H.E.L.P. works with area

homeless kids and families to eliminate barriers related to school attendance and success. Recently, the H.E.L.P. program of Lincoln County wrapped up their 11th annual hygiene drive.

The Oregon Coast Student Nurse Organization collected approximately 1,500 lbs. of hygiene supplies over three days. The student nurse group was supported by Bi-Mart Lincoln City, Fred Meyer Newport and Walmart Newport.

“The community members of Lincoln County were very generous with the supplies and over $800 in cash donations to purchase supplies to help students and families in need of a little help,” said Lynn Barton, MSN, RN Nursing Faculty/Skill and Simulation Lab Coordinator at Oregon Coast Community College. “Thank you to all who participated at the collection sites, on-campus to separate and box supplies, and the dedication

City accepts County's offer to transfer control of Logan Road

newsguardeditor@countrymedia.net

Control of Logan Road in North Lincoln City will soon be shifting over from County to City.

The City of Lincoln City voted to accept Lincoln County's offer to transfer control of Logan Road to the City at the City Council meeting on Nov. 4. The deal will officially be made upon review of flood provisions by City Attorney Richard Appicello, Mayor Dick Anderson stated at the meeting.

During the summer, the City and County met for a work session to discuss the issues involved with transferring control of the road.

"It's proved to be a pretty thorny problem because of the need to do culvert work and so far our best efforts to come up with a solution acceptable with all agencies has come to not," Commissioner Claire Hall said on July 10. "We are hoping the City will have the success we have not had in bringing about solutions to negotiate transfer of the road with other considerations, hopefully to make the upgrades necessary."

County Public Works Director, Roy Kinion, highlighted some of the difficulties the County has had with maintaining parts of the road. These mostly included the lack of access to City owned utilities and City roads.

"I mean, this is kind of a thing that is more because of where it's at, it's more of a city thing than it is a county thing," Kinion said at the work session in July. "We're running into some problems trying to lead because of goals or standards that were set by the department, state land by the Oregon Department, fish and wildlife and a few others."

The City and County agreed in July that once they determine a cost for repairs on the various projects, the County would cut a check for the City that they would present once they transfer over control.

Special needs students to receive adaptive swim lessons

LINCOLN COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT

The Lincoln County School District (LCSD) Adaptive PE program has been awarded $9,469.09 from the Siletz Tribe for adaptive PE swimming lessons.

LCSD received the check on Friday, Nov. 1 at the Siletz Tribal Grant Award Reception. This is the third year receiving the grant for the Adaptive PE swimming program.

Connie Craddock, Adaptive Physical Education Assistant was there to receive the check and gave her thanks.

"This is important for these kids - many of them had never had swimming lessons until they were able to participate due to the grant funding," Craddock said. "The adapted swim lessons are taught at their level with adaptations so each child can progress at their level of ability. Many of the students look forward to these lessons as their favorite part of the school.

"At the beginning of this school year, several of our students were asking when their swimming lessons would be!"

The funds allow for water safety and adaptive swimming lessons for approximately 70 of LCSD's students with special needs during the upcoming school year due to funding from this grant and support from the Newport Recreation Center, Toledo Community Pool and Lincoln City Community Center.

Students from the Toledo Elementary School will receive lessons at the Toledo Community Pool. Students from Sam Case, Yaquina View, Crestview Heights, Newport Middle and Newport High Schools will receive lessons at the Newport Recreation Center. Students from Oceanlake, Taft Elementary and Taft 7-12 will receive lessons at the Lincoln City Community Center.

The swim lessons are taught by the district's Adaptive Physical Education Team of Nikki Holland and Connie Craddock.

Animal Planet's 'Crikey! It's the Irwins' features Oregon Coast Aquarium

OREGON COAST AQUARIUM

Animal Planet's 'Crikey! It's the Irwins' will feature the Oregon Coast Aquarium in an upcoming episode on Saturday, November 23 at 5 p.m.

The non-profit Aquarium in Newport, invited the Irwin family to learn first-hand about the extensive animal care that the AZA-accredited facility provides.

The Animal Planet film crew documented Bindi Irwin assisting Aquarium husbandry staff in veterinary procedures and health checks for a wide variety of animals.

"Boots," a harbor seal at the Oregon Coast Aquarium, is especially loved by visitors for her friendly demeanor. She found her home at the Aquarium after stranding on a beach in Mexico in 1988 as a pup.

At 31 years old, Boots is living much longer than she would in the wild. As a result, she needs increasingly specialized care to treat geriatric-related issues like arthritis. On the episode, Bindi works with Oregon Coast Aquarium Curator of Mammals, Brittany Blades, and Oregon Coast Aquarium Head Veterinarian, Dr. Dan Lewer, to provide a health check, laser therapy and chiropractic care to Boots.

"It was great to meet and share information about animal care with Bindi," said Blades. "She clearly has a good animal sense about her, and Boots responded very well to her, even interacting with her in the water

"WE NEVER FORGET THAT OUR CUSTOMERS ARE HERE TO HAVE FUN - THEY'RE ON VACATION"

Browse through the fashions at Lucky Beach Boutique in Pacific City and you can't help but smile. There's a certain aesthetic present, too eclectic to label, call it a continuity of style that customers definitely respond to. For lack of a better world, Lucky Beach Boutique definitely has its own vibe.

Everything displayed at Lucky Beach Boutique has been carefully curated by the store's owner, Nancy Horning, and her story is as interesting as the fashions she's brought to the coast.

Nancy grew up in the small logging town of Mill City, in the foothills of the Cascades. Yearning to see more of the world, she enlisted in the Navy after her high school graduation. Besides two deployments in the Persian Gulf, the Navy brought her to England, Scotland and much of Northern Europe.

She then settled near Washington, DC and began raising a family. About nine years ago, Nancy and her children moved back to Mill City. Soon she had caught the entrepreneurial bug and was operating a thrift store.

When her twins had graduated high school, Nancy decided to relocate to Pacific City. Not only did she love the area, but she had also determined that the town was in need of a women's clothing outlet, not just any store, but a place where "those of us who are still young at heart could find fun clothing that would still feel comfortable". That sounds like a tall order, but stroll through Lucky Beach Boutique and her description seems totally accurate.

Located on Brooten Road, Lucky Beach Boutique employs two and has garnered quite a following for fashion as well as accessories, jewelry, candles and Oregon-made keepsakes. The whimsical signs that adorn the walls (see photo above) are by Oregon artist Chelsea Bennett of Netarts. In a word, the feeling of the store is welcoming. "We never forget that our customers are here to have fun - they're on vacation," points out Nancy.

Keeping up with the latest trends means traveling to fashion markets in New York, Los Angeles and Las Vegas, an aspect of the job that Nancy thoroughly enjoys. Last year she also traveled to Vietnam and is currently planning a trip to the Philippines.

So how does a person build a boutique from scratch and grow the business to the point that it's ready for expansion? "Maybe it was the Navy that gave me the follow-through and determination to do things," explains Nancy. She also credits her children for inspiration.

"These days you can bank anywhere, but I chose Oregon Coast Bank because the people there are amazing," says Nancy. As much as she enjoys her visits to our Pacific City office, she's also a regular user of our suite of Oregon Coast Bank online banking products. That allows her to bank from anywhere at any time, which of course makes all the sense in the world for someone so comfortable traveling the world.

"If our average garbage bill is $20 a month and we do an average across the board 10 percent rate increase, that means the average residential customer is going to see around $2 a month for this program," French said. "The average commercial customer is going to pay around $12 to $14 a month for this program."

The City Council also discussed the notion of not delivering compost bins to commercial customers because it would increase the cost exponentially due to contamination.

"What we send to recycle facilities and our compost facilities has to be clean, because if it's not, then the whole thing is garbage and you send it across the street to the landfill," French said.

However, French stated that if commercial business were able to work with North Lincoln Sanitary, they would explore a pilot program to test the waters.

"I'm not going to name any businesses now, but I can think of some businesses that I know would be really diligent about making sure this is clean," French said. "I can also think of other businesses that this would be a nightmare if we offered them composting containers."

The City Council discussed several other topics regarding reducing waste, but will need more time to mull over their thoughts on whether they will be going forward with any of these ideas. However, several City Councilors are in favor of adding more composting and recycling containers throughout the city.

"I think it's important for the city to set the example first," Councilor Riley Hoagland said. "I'd like to see more composting and recycling containers where there's eating and especially at city events."

Alzheimer benefit exceeds goal during 'The Longest Day'

LAKEVIEW SENIOR LIVING

The Longest Day, an event to benefit the Alzheimer's Association, successfully raised $2,150 this year.

"It took a lot of help from so many community members to make this event such a success," said Tamara Staples, Board Secretary at the Lincoln City Senior Center. "We exceeded our goal by $550."

Held at the Community Center, The Longest Day helped to raise awareness of and raise money to help end Alzheimer's disease and other dementias. The Longest Day events are held all over the country at various times, giving local communities a chance to fight back against the disease.

"Lincoln City has more senior citizens than the average town," said Joy Wilson, Community Relations Director of Lakeview Senior Living. "Dementia affects more than just the person who has it. Dementia affects the entire family, the entire community. Family members miss work or quit work altogether to help care for Mom or Dad. The drain on family resources can be devastating. Everyone in the community is hurt by dementia."

Alzheimer's disease affects the brain and is one of several forms of dementia that eventually causes brain failure and death. The Alzheimer's Association funds valuable research and helps reduce the risk of dementia by promoting brain health. They also provide help through hotlines, support groups and resources.

"It was a great event and we had a lot of fun," Staples said. "We want to say thank you to the Lincoln City Parks & Recreation Department, the Lincoln City Senior Center, the Lincoln City Community Center, Lakeview Senior Living, Oregon

Cascades West Council of Governments, the Lincoln City Quilters Guild and so many others who helped pull off this event!"

The Longest Day was held at the Lincoln City Community Center on Aug. 29 and featured a pool tournament, a pinocchio tournament, bingo, a silent auction, a quilt raffle and a healthy cooking demonstration.

"We're going to do it again next year on June 21," Staples said. "We would love for other organizations and businesses to join us to make it even more fun and help put an end to Alzheimer's."

Kathy Cope named November Artist of the Month

November's Artist of the Month at the Artist's Studio Association in Lincoln City is Kathy Cope.

Cope describes herself as always being a 'crafty' sort of person. She didn't start painting, however, until she retired from nearly 30 years in the medical profession.

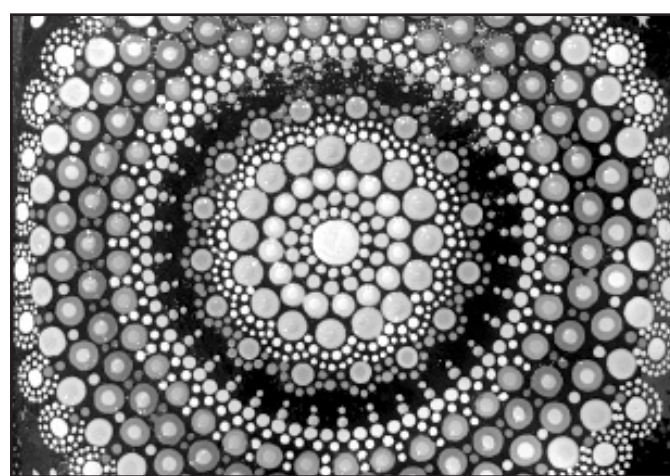

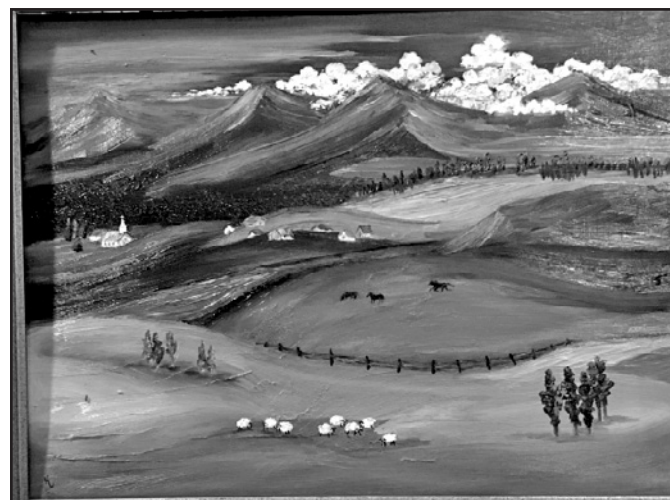

At the age of 67 she sat down with a Bob Ross Joy of Painting starter set and some videos, and started painting happy clouds and great big trees.

The house has not been thoroughly cleaned since. Oil painting has been her genre, although she soon found that she liked color (lots of color) over traditional realism. She has also ventured laterally into acrylic pour painting and mandala designs on practically everything. She is ably assisted by her four dogs and a variety of cats who have willingly spread, if not the joy of painting, at least paint absolutely everywhere.

Cope's work can be seen at the Artist's Studio, located at 620 NE Hwy 101 in Lincoln City, open every day from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

How to help someone being abused or neglected

LINCOLN COUNTY SHERIFF'S OFFICE

Child abuse or neglect is when a parent or other caregiver does something that harms—or will likely harm—a child. This also includes times when a parent or other caregiver fails to do things that will keep a child safe and healthy.

It's often really hard—even for adults—to know if a child is being harmed. Sometimes we may see it happening with our own eyes, such as if we notice an adult hitting a child. But other times we may only see signs of what could be happening. These signs may mean a child is being hurt by an adult, but there could be other causes, too.

If you suspect or know that a child is being abused or neglected, there are ways you can help. If you or someone else is in immediate and serious danger, you should call 911. In other cases, you can find a trusted adult to talk with. You don't need to be 100 percent sure that a child is being abused or neglected to talk with someone. You should share your worries, and the adult can help determine what to do next.

You also can encourage for the child to talk to a trusted adult. Many times, there is a trusted adult already in your life—such as a parent, teacher, school counselor, or coach—that you can approach. You can tell this trusted adult what your concerns are or what you've witnessed. Give a complete, honest description of what you know.

This may be a difficult conversation to have but remember the reason you're having it: to keep someone (maybe you) safe. The adult can help figure out what can be done. Some children and youth may not have an adult that they trust enough to talk with about their concerns, or they may have told an adult who does not believe them. In this case, there are national and local hotlines they can call for help.

The Childhelp National Child Abuse Hotline has counselors available 24 hours every day to talk with children and adults about abuse and neglect. To reach a Childhelp counselor, call 1-800-4-A-CHILD (1-800-422-4453) and then press 1. For more information about Childhelp, you can visit https://www.childhelp.org/hotline/resources-kids/.

Siletz Tribe set for 42nd annual Restoration Pow-Wow

SILETZ TRIBE

The public is invited to join the Confederated Tribes of Siletz Indians on Saturday, Nov. 16, as it holds its annual Restoration Pow-Wow at Chinook Winds Casino Resort in Lincoln City.

This free event begins with a grand entry at 6 p.m. American Indian vendors with jewelry, beadwork and other items for sale will be available throughout the day.

This is the 42nd year that the Siletz Tribe has celebrated the signing of Public Law 95-195, which re-established government-to-government relations between the Confederated Tribes of Siletz Indians and the federal government. The Siletz Tribe was terminated from federal recognition in August 1954.

In the late 1960s, it became apparent that the only way to preserve and revitalize Siletz Tribal sovereignty, community and culture was for the Siletz Tribe to regain its status as a Tribe recognized by the United States.

In November 1977, after years of intense lobbying, Congress and President Jimmy Carter approved Public Law 95-195, which reinstated recognition of the Siletz as a federal Indian Tribe. The Siletz Tribe was the second in the nation – and the first in Oregon – to achieve restoration.

Dedicated to improving the quality of life of its more than 5,400 members, the Tribe puts strong emphasis on the education, health and social well-being of all its members.

ments since Restoration include opening the original health clinic in 1991 and a new much larger clinic in 2010; building more than 150 homes and multiple dwellings for Tribal members, including 28 units at Neachesna Village in Lincoln City that have opened since 2009, 19 apartments in Siletz that opened in 2010 and 20 homes in the Tillamook subdivision in Siletz that have opened since 2013; completing the Siletz Dance House in 1996; opening the Tenas Illahee Child Care Center in 2003; opening the Tillicum Fitness Center and a new USDA food distribution warehouse in Siletz in 2008; and opening the Siletz Rec Center in 2009.

Through its economic development division, the Siletz Tribal Business Corporation, the Tribe purchased the Lincoln Shores office complex in Lincoln City in 2001 and opened the Siletz Gas & Mini-Mart in Siletz in 2004, the Logan Road RV Park in Lincoln City in 2004 and the Hee Hee Illahee RV Resort in Salem in 2006.

Tribal offices in Portland, Salem and Eugene are housed in Tribally owned buildings. The Eugene office moved to its current location in 2005, the Salem office did the same in 2006 and the Portland office moved to its current location in 2008.

The Tribe also played a lead role in opening Siletz Valley School in 2003 and Siletz Valley Early College Academy in 2006.

The Siletz Tribal Arts & Heritage Society (STAHS) was formed in 2013 as a nonprofit to enhance the Tribe's ability to develop the Siletz Tribal Cultural Center. STAHS also helps the Tribe with acquiring object and archival collections.

Chinook Winds Casino in Lincoln City opened in May 1995. In 2004, the Siletz Tribe purchased the former Shilo Inn adjacent to the casino and opened Chinook Winds Casino Resort. Chinook Winds Golf Resort opened in 2005 when the Tribe purchased the former Lakeside Golf and Fitness Center in Lincoln City.

The combination of Tribal employees and those at Chinook Winds Casino Resort has made the Siletz Tribe the largest employer in Lincoln County.

The Siletz Tribe has honored its tradition of sharing within the community by distributing more than $17.6 million through the Siletz Tribal Charitable Contribution Fund and other Tribal resources. Chinook Winds has donated more than $6.5 million in cash and fundraising items since 1995. It also provides in-kind donations of convention space for various fundraisers as well as technical support, advertising and manpower for events.

goods are made completely from scratch," Degele said. "Some of the fillings and other ingredients I have to buy but it's all homemade, which I think makes a big difference."

With several signature treats like their 'world famous' coconut macaroon cookies, which was an original recipe Degele's father created, the popular gluten-free cookies, which are basically like a walnut brownie in a cookie, the newer salted caramel vodka eclairs, as well as their unique take on the Hostess Ding Dong called the 'Depoe Dongs.'

For Degele, his favorite part of baking is trying out new unique combinations and accenting certain flavors.

"I like to experiment and have fun with baking, like you'll see with our strawberry jalapeno fritter," Degele said. "We made a regular strawberry fritter and it just wasn't selling, so we added the jalapeno and it became a hit. I never try to overwhelm you with a certain flavor. I like to add in little ingredients so that you can taste all the flavors you're eating."

Located at 3830 N Hwy 101, in Depoe Bay, the shop sits in between Depoe Bay and Gleneden Beach. Although Degele mentioned that it's not the ideal location for a business, he knew that his baked goods would set them apart.

"The first couple of years were really tough... but my wife and I both felt that if our product was good enough, it would work," Degele said. "Once word spread, we knew we'd be successful."

Degele said his wife Debi has been a huge supporter of him and does a lot of the behind the scenes work in the shop.

"She's been a huge asset to the bakery and oftentimes doesn't get the credit she deserves," Degele said. "She makes it all work."

Degele said this past year has been the shop's best year to date. They've been having a lot of fun creating new baked goods and has several regulars from police officers, firefighters and locals alike.

"I have people who will travel from Lincoln City and Newport just to stop by the shop," Degele said. "It's funny some of them say they're always looking for an excuse to make the trip so they can pick up some doughnuts."

The doughnuts are made fresh daily and take about a five hours to make from start to finish. Degele said they'll start rolling out the dough at 1 a.m. and work till they open at 7 a.m.

"I work a lot of hours, especially in the summer time... it's not uncommon to work a 12-14 hour day," Degele said. "But when I'm out talking to customers and I hear them raving about how great their doughnut is or whatever it might be, that boosts me up. It's like an adrenaline rush and makes all the hard work worth it."

Another aspect that sets Depoe Bakery about the rest is Degele's willingness to always accommodate a customer's request.

"I love making custom orders," he said. "I had a customer who wanted a Simpsons doughnut, a little girl who wanted a Baby Shark cake and a woman who didn't really like cake but loved maple bars, we made her a giant maple bar type of cake for her birthday. Seeing the joy on their face is the most rewarding part."

Degele hopes to eventually add a small breakfast and lunch menu that includes basic items such as breakfast sandwiches. In the next few years, he hopes to retire from baking and groom his nephew, who is also a baker, into taking over the Depoe Bakery. However, Degele said he wouldn't be quitting baking completely.

"I don't think I'll ever be able to stop completely," Degele said. "I like to keep busy, so I'm sure I'll still be around to help out when needed. This is something I enjoy doing."

Anniversary

But before he was off to boot camp, Emma made it her goal to marry him. The pair hatched a plan to venture to Vancouver, where they could legally be wed with parental permission, but things didn't go as planned.

"We got partway there and I forgot my permit from my mother," Emma said. "We had to go back and we ended up getting married on Friday the 13th."

Chuck was stationed in Pasco, Wash. for a few months, and then he spent time in San Diego. Back in Newberg, Emma was working at a fruit factory and nurturing their first child. After Emma gave birth, Chuck was able to return home for 10 days to meet his son before he was shipped off to Pearl Harbor where he remained until he was discharged in 1945.

The distance and unknown was difficult on their new relationship. However, they never lost touch while Chuck was away.

"We wrote letters back and forth everyday," Emma said. "I wrote everyday and he wrote most days when he was able."

After returning to Oregon, Chuck and Emma were looking for a place to live and work. And in 1945, that place happened to be Rose Lodge.

"My brother lived out here and the only thing for me to do down here was logging... So I was a logger for 30 years," Chuck said.

While Chuck worked as a logger, they had another boy and bought a little house that was small and unfinished.

"While he was working in the woods he kept working on our house," Emma said. "It was a real cute house."

The couple eventually bought a piece of property at Roads End and Chuck began building another house during his free time, that they would eventually move into and live in for 15 years.

The Heaters then bought a lot on what is now the Chinook Winds Golf Course, and built a house, which they lived in for 35 years.

"We both loved that house because she played golf for nearly 30 years, but I only played seldom... I didn't have the tempera-ment for it," Chuck joked.

Throughout the years Emma was involved in the Taft Schools, where both their sons graduated, she was a PT President, on the school board and worked several jobs in town. After they retired, the pair went 'cruising,' as Chuck would say.

The Heaters took their first cruise to Panama for their 50th anniversary and have since taken trips to China, Russia, the Cook Islands and more.

"One of my favorites was a trip to Australia and New Zealand with my brother for a month... that was quite the trip," Chuck said. "We've been fortunate and had our share of travels."

After 77 years of adventures, the Heaters live with no regrets and urge others to do the same.

"Do what you want to do and do everything you possibly can because you'll have nothing but memories to think about after that," Emma said. "For these young people, I'd say just hang in there, make it work. Chuck and I have had a really, really wonderful life together."

Taft boys soccer savors historic season

MAX KIRKENDALL
newsguardeditor@countrymedia.net

In the 2019 boys soccer season, the Taft 7-12 Tigers have had an undefeated regular season, won the District Championship, claimed eight post-season awards and made it to the semifinals of the OSAA State Playoffs. Saying this is a historic year for Taft soccer may be an understatement.

"I can't say it enough about how proud I am of these boys," head coach Ryan Ulicni said. "They have truly shown what a team can become and what they can accomplish when you put in the effort, believe in yourself and never give up."

It's no secret that the Tigers know how to score goals. In fact, coming into Wednesday's first round State Playoff matchup with Central Linn, the Tigers had one of the highest goal totals in all of the state.

Nobody was expecting a double-digit beatdown of the Cobras, but that's just what the Tigers handed out, all while sending a message to the rest of the state.

The State Playoffs pits the best teams against each other and after going undefeated in the regular season, Taft was given the No. 4 spot in the field of 16 teams. If the 11-0 victory over Central Linn is any indication, it's fair to say that the Tigers wanted to prove they weren't to be messed with.

"There is kind of a chip (on our shoulder)," Ulicni said before the game. "It becomes a mathematical nightmare as the season progresses. But when you are sitting with some of the top teams in your Division it is nice to recognize you are one of the top ones too."

William Calderon has been a catalyst this season for Taft and scored two goals in Taft's first round game.

I would not underestimate anyone and I would hope they don't with us."

Message heard loud and clear.

Taft opened up Wednesday's game with a goal from senior captain Edson Fuentes, who is fresh off being named Player of the Year for Taft's district. After a great save off a Central Linn shot from goalie Sam Cortes, Taft's offense had two goals by Sammy Vasquez, one by William Calderon and a miraculous goal from Ivan Cortes, the Tigers went ahead 5-0 at halftime.

The second half proved to be more of the same, more Taft goals and smothering defense. Vasquez added another goal to give him three on the night, Calderon netted a second and Alex Del Valle also scored two. Mauricio Rivas and Diego

Gomez also scored to give Taft the 11-0 victory, the largest margin of victory of any first round game in the State.

"I believe it was Central Linn's first time to the playoffs," Ulicni said. "The pressure of the playoff games affects everyone differently."

The win put Taft in a second round game against Riverdale Saturday, Nov. 9. Riverdale eliminated the Tigers from the quarterfinals of the 2017 State Playoffs and was coming off a 1-0 victory in the first round.

"I know that Riverdale has been at this level before and having played us as well, so we knew it would be a challenging match up," Ulicni said.

In the first half, Fuentes got the Tigers on the board with a goal that gave Taft a 1-0 lead going into the half.

Ethan Thomas has provided energy, communication and support to the Taft defense all season.

In the second half, Riverdale scored on a scramble at the net that saw the ball trickle in after some physical play. After that, the momentum shifted in favor of the visiting Mavericks.

"We have experienced this before and talked about it greatly in practices on how to get ourselves back into playing the game the best we know how," Ulicni said. "It was fantastic to see the team pull together and bring it back under control. A game like this being so end-to-end packed with action and fouls it was only going to take one moment to change it."

And that moment came late in the game when the Riverdale goalkeeper got out of position, allowing Fuentes to sneak behind him, receive a long pass and punch it in for the game winning goal.

"Edson stepped up in one of the big moments and skillfully made the winning goal and on the other end the whole team played together and worked out of the back, which was nice to see."

The 2-1 victory in front of their home crowd set Taft up with a semifinal matchup with unbeaten Catlin Gabel on Nov. 12 (results unavailable for print), marking the Tigers furthest trip in the playoffs, according to Ulicni. Throughout the playoffs, the Taft coaching staff has been impressed with the improved play of all the individuals on the team, especially the defenders.

"Captain and senior Estib Hernandez has been a great leader as one of the center defenders, Ethan Thomas has provided a powerful energy always being in support and communicating, Ivan Cortez and Adam Lascano have secured their spots on the outside where you can always count on them to do the work on the line and helping out in the middle," Ulicni said. "Then there is goalkeeper Sam Cortes, who has come up huge in a lot of key moments and done such a fantastic job. He is setting records with his defense on shutting teams down."

Taft runners hold their own at State Championships

newsguardeditor@countrymedia.net

It's been a special season for the Taft 7-12 cross country team. After numbers were low to begin the year, the Tigers continued their streak of sending a boys team to the State Championship while also sending their first girls runner in a decade.

The Tigers took to the State course at Lane Community College on Nov. 9. First up was senior Autumn Ellis, who competed as an individual in the 5,000 meter 3A/2A/1A girls race. Facing a field of 85 runners, Ellis turned in a respectable time of 21:54.80 in her final race of her career to place 38th overall.

Next up, the boys team ran against nine other 3A schools and ended up placing eighth collectively. Senior exchange student Matias Vesma was the top Tiger finisher at 17:19.90 to place 18th overall.

Senior Lucas Hindman placed 30th with a time of 18:02.40, followed by junior Rafael Perez Del Valle at 19:05.50, which placed him at 49th. Sophomore Brayan Mateo was 53rd, senior Hunter Lundstedt was 54th, freshman Cooper Fitch was 61st and freshman Eli Jones was 63rd to round out Taft's efforts.

With much uncertainty to start the season, to make it to state was a huge accomplishment for Taft and head coach Eva Ahumada. And that success started with the positive attitudes of the runners and the cohesiveness of their group.

"The kids want to be here, they like being at practice and they like being together," Ahumada said of her team. "They ask for team dinners, and they all enjoy them together. We really have become a sort of family over the season. This cohesiveness will only improve the longevity of the program."

Having multiple stand-out performances this season, sending multiple runners to state, winning coach of the year, the list of accolades Taft has accumulated bodes well for the future of the Tiger cross country team. For Ahumada, she has enjoyed the diversity of their team and how much fun they've had this season.

"We have athletes from every walk of life," Ahumada said. "You would never put them all together if you saw them in a room. But they all get along and they all truly care for each other. I love how much fun they have together. It is so much fun to just be around them.

"Coaching is definitely my favorite part of my work day. They are a truly great group of kids. I am proud to be a part of their lives and excited to see what the future holds for them."
