Challenge Accepted!

NEWS GUARD PHOTOS/MAX KIRKENDALL

What many might consider an impossible task was nearly conquered when two young men bravely took on a pair of The Grill 1646's eating challenges. In a challenge only one person has successfully finished, Gabriel Meyer (top left) thought he could take the heat by completing the 'Hot Wing Challenge.' The goal: finish all eight wings in less than four minutes with no external help, milk or juice and no upchucking. The catch: each wing was drenched in a sauce made up of Ghost Peppers and California Reaper Peppers. "We used the hottest peppers we could get our hands on to concoct this sauce," restaurant owner Dan Clanton (right) said. In a valiant effort, Meyer was only able to choke down a few wings before tapping out. His buddy, Titus Kirkpatrick (bottom left), is a student in Virginia and when his family told him about the eating challenge, he knew he had to make the trip to test his stomach. His challenge was properly titled, 'The Overkill Challenge.' Kirkpatrick was tasked with eating 4.5 lbs of various meats, 2.5 lbs of fries and a 24 oz milkshake in less than 45 minutes. After downing the entire burger, Clanton informed him that he was the first person ever to do so. Unfortunately, the starchy potatoes were too much to handle in the allotted time and Kirkpatrick was left with just 1.5 lbs of fries. "I'm stuffed... I don't think I'll eat for a week," Kirkpatrick said afterwards.

Coos County Commissioner enters State Senate race

MAX KIRKENDALL
newsguardeditor@countrymedia.net

Current Coos County Commissioner and local attorney, Melissa Cribbins, recently announced her candidacy for Oregon State Senate in Oregon's Senate District 5. Senator Arnie Roblan (D-Coos Bay), who currently holds this position, announced that he would not seek re-election at the end of his term. Lincoln City Mayor Dick Anderson also announced last week his intention to run for the District 5 seat in the coming election. Cribbins, who filed as a Democratic candidate, was raised in rural Coos County before graduating from Coquille High School and attending Southwestern Oregon Community

SNLH celebrates first baby of the new year

SAMARITAN NORTH LINCOLN HOSPITAL

Every newborn is special, but tradition gives more emphasis on the first baby of the new year. At Samaritan North Lincoln Hospital, the first baby born in 2020 was Hudson Kai Canchola, who arrived at 10:41 p.m. on Wednesday, Jan. 1. He weighed six pounds, seven ounces at birth and was 19.5 inches long. Parents Tori Clark and Ashton Canchola said their new son's middle name means "ocean" in the Hawaiian language. He will be welcomed to his Neotsu home by older brother Gabriel, who turns four years old in March. Dr. Meredith Mann assisted in the delivery, which came very quickly, Clark said. She labored for just a few hours and the delivery took a matter of minutes. Her first child also was in a hurry to see the world, but baby boy number two was even quicker, Canchola said, laughing. Clark has been an emergency department technician at Samaritan North Lincoln Hospital for the past two years while Canchola works at Kenny's IGA, his family's business in Lincoln City. Keeping with tradition, a large gift basket was presented by Leslie James, development specialist for the North Lincoln Hospital Foundation to the family. It included such things as stuffed animals, baby blankets, baby comb and brush, Binky Buddy, burp cloths and more. Another present, given by Sherri Nordyke on behalf of her non-profit organization, Clara's Closet, was a "baby shower in a box" – diapers, wipes, infant development toy, book, pacifiers, Lovey animal blanket, baby hygiene kit, hand-knit sweater and hat, hand-knit blanket, blanket,

The Grill 1646 gives out hundreds of burgers, blankets on Christmas

Local business owner Dan Clanton wants people to see people for who they are as a person, and not see them for their situation. That's why he and his family spent all of Christmas day this year dishing out hamburgers and giving blankets to the homeless of Lincoln City, Salem and Portland. Clanton and his family have lived in Lincoln City for the past 10 years and he has owned and operated The Grill 1646 restaurant for the past three years. With a passion for helping those in need, Clanton and his family

"We just finished up our Christmas activities and we all kind of looked at each other and said, 'we should be doing something, let's go feed the homeless,'" Clanton said. An Annual Tradition Last year they focused on the inland towns due to complications with the

Invasive species found in Devils Lake

The Devils Lake Water Improvement District found an increase in Parrot Feather during recent surveys.

THE NEWS GUARD

The Devils Lake Water Improvement District (DLWID) has recently completed a vegetation control survey. Results of the survey have shown an increase in Parrot Feather within the lake.

DLWID urges all residents along the lake to watch for, and help prevent, this invasive species from spreading.

Parrot Feather, also known as Brazilian watermilfoil, is an aquatic invasive species native to South America. It grows in slow moving streams and shorelines of lakes and can survive a wide range of water levels and soils. Reported sightings in the Pacific Northwest began in the 1940's and it has now found its way into many slow-moving natural water bodies throughout Western Oregon.

Due to its attractive and easily cultivated nature, it is widely used for aquaria and water gardens. Like many other introduced invasive species, it made its way out of captivity and into natural water bodies.

The species has a small, lime-green tree structure. The leaves have a feather-like structure and typically have four to six around the stem. Parrot Feather can grow up to one foot out of the water, which makes it easy to spot and remove. DLWID urges all residents to be watchful and help with the removal of the species. "Parrot feather, at this time, does not pose any immediate harm to the health of the lake," said Josh Brainerd, District Manager. "However, it does impede water flow, which can cause flooding. It can also outcompete with other native plants, which reduce dissolved oxygen levels over time."

DLWID recommends that if you see this plant floating near docks and shorelines, please pick it up and remove it from the waterway completely and destroy it.

Composting is an excellent way to ensure the plant does not return to the environment.

For more information, visit DLWID.org or email Lake.Manager@DLWID.org.

Rock Creek Stables to offer Trail Riding in Lincoln City in 2020

THE NEWS GUARD

Rock Creek Equestrian Services, LLC (dba "Rock Creek Stables") has announced that it will begin offering guided trail riding in 2020 to the public.

Trail rides will be operated from Rock Creek's Lincoln City facility located just behind the Lincoln City Outlets, off East Devils Lake Rd.

In September, Rock Creek Stables took over a 40-stall horse-boarding facility previously known as Green Acres. Initial focus was on overdue cleaning and necessary improvements to the various facilities on the property to provide a more pleasant experience for boarders and horses.

"We want to make sure we can do what we can to elevate things and provide a good service," said Justin Alderman, owner of Rock Creek Stables. "To a lot of people, their horses are their family."

Rock Creek Stables felt that there is a missing opportunity for a horseback riding service for non-horse owners who live in Lincoln County, as well as for the many visitors during the spring and summer.

"There's really nothing else like this available in our area except for one other outfit in Tillamook County... Otherwise there is nothing within nearly two hours of Lincoln City" Aldermansaid. "While our main ride won't be directly on the beach, it does offer more expansive views from the mountain tops over the hills and ocean than what you'd get on the beach."

The rides will also be just short of two-hours long, offering a lot more value compared to those who might typically find one-hour rides for the same costs elsewhere. However, plans are in the works to explore the opportunity of offering separate horseback rides that could be on the beach.

As of now reservations are now available for June through September, as well as the week of spring break. Bookings are open online at www.rockcreekstables.com.

To celebrate this news Rock Creek Stables is offering an early bird booking rate for 30 percent off all reservations made before the end of January 2020. Additional savings available for groups of five or more and for bookings on Tuesday through Thursday each week.

Special rates and private booking portals are available to local area resorts and travel agencies who wish to be a reseller to offer packaged experiences. Rock Creek is open to considering other alternative options for joint promotions with local businesses as well. Affiliate links for simple commissions are available.

"Our staff has a lot of heart into this because it's all about the horses here," Alderman said of his crew. "This is about the heart and passion we have for these horses and for riding."

College. She and her husband, Troy, moved from Coos County in order to pursue their educations, but returned in 2006 to help with family health issues.

"I can't think of a place that I would rather live," Cribbins said. "Oregon is a great place to put down roots and raise a family and we have been fortunate to be able to give our children the ability to grow up in an amazing place."

Cribbins and her husband, who works as a Physical Therapist, and their children call Coos Bay their home.

Cribbins was elected to the Coos County Commission in 2012 and re-elected in 2014 and 2018. Her priority has been to ensure Coos County is financially stable and sustainable, while also focusing on growing jobs and improving economic opportunities for citizens in Coos County.

Cribbins serves on the Land Conservation and Development Commission, the Energy Trust of Oregon

Board, the Elliott State Forest Advisory Committee Working Group and the Coos Bay North Bend Water Board. Cribbins also serves as the Chair of the Energy, Environment and Land Use Committee of the National Association of Counties.

She is currently the Second Vice President of the Association of Oregon Counties and previously served as the Board Chair of Rural Development Initiatives. She has served on numerous commissions, boards and councils to represent rural Oregon locally and at the state level.

"Senator Roblan has done a tremendous job at representing Senate District 5 at the state and local level," Cribbins said. "He has been the voice of the Oregon Coast, and I have nothing but admiration for his accomplishments and the work he has done for the citizens of Oregon."

Cribbins has filed her candidacy with the Secretary of State.

Newport man indicted on murder charge

MAX KIRKENDALL
newsguardeditor@countrymedia.net

Newport resident Ryan Steven Gaskins is facing charges of Murder, Assault II and Strangulation relating to the homicide of his 34-year-old girlfriend Alexandra Prezioso.

Gaskins, 27, was indicted by the Lincoln County Grand Jury on Dec. 31 after being identified as a person of interest by the Newport Police Department. The indictment came after a three-part Grand Jury session, which began on Nov. 5.

On Oct. 27, Prezioso was reported missing by a family member. Officers responded to the original complaint and later learned that a family member had discovered Prezioso's Newport home had been 'ransacked.' During their investigation, officers located Prezioso deceased in the home and ruled her death as suspicious.

An autopsy confirmed that Prezioso died as a result of homicidal violence and the Lincoln County Major Crime Team identified Gaskins as a suspect. Newport Police referred to Gaskins as Prezioso's 'live-in' boyfriend.

Gaskins, who was in custody at the Lincoln County Jail after an Oct. 29 arrest on unrelated charges, has now been charged for the above offenses and is scheduled for arraignment today (Jan. 2). He will remain in the Lincoln County Jail with his bail set at $1 million.

New Years DUII lands two in Lincoln County Jail

newsguardeditor@countrymedia.net

A driver and passenger were both arrested early New Years day in Lincoln City on charges of Driving Under the Influence of Intoxicants (DUII), outstanding warrants and Carrying a Concealed Weapon.

At approximately midnight, Oregon State Police (OSP) Officer David Wertz noticed a white Honda SUV making an illegal U-turn in the intersection of NW 17th St. near milepost 114 on Highway 101. Wertz then conducted a traffic stop near NW 13th St. in Lincoln City.

"Upon contact the female driver, she exhibited numerous signs of impairment and admitted to recently drinking alcohol," Wertz said in a report. "She consented to and performed poorly on standardized field sobriety tests."

The driver, 25-year-old Jamie Linn Wicklund, was then taken into custody and during a pat down search; Wertz discovered brass knuckles in her pants pocket. Wicklund then suggested her vehicle be released to her passenger, 35-year-old Christopher Lee Hollingsworth.

After an OSP identification of Hollingsworth, he was discovered to be the subject of an active misdemeanor warrant for DUII issued from Jefferson County on Oct. 1, 2019.

"The passenger (Hollingsworth) was taken into custody and during a pat down, a switchblade was discovered concealed in his pants pocket," Wertz said.

Hollingsworth was also discovered to have multiple previous felonies in his criminal history. The vehicle was secured at the scene and both occupants were transported to Lincoln County Jail.

Wicklund then consented to a breath test rendering a result of .08 percent blood alcohol content (BAC). She was lodged on charges of DUII - Alcohol and Carrying a Concealed Weapon.

Hollingsworth was lodged on the misdemeanor warrant and charged additionally with Felon in Possession of a Weapon and Carrying a Concealed Weapon. He remains in Lincoln County Jail with his bail set at $15,000.

VOICES OF THE COMMUNITY

Thank you!

Panther Creek Senior and Community Center has been in operation since the late 1950s. Services at the center include a monthly Sunday breakfast, a seasonal or holiday monthly meal, a community space for meetings or activities, such as chair yoga, bazaars, county service groups, and church services, and an active Thrift Store. The meal costs and Thrift Store items meet the financial ability of the population. The center's services are provided by a core group of dedicated volunteers.

Since the center has been in operation for many years, from time to time there are expensive repairs that are needed to maintain safe access and building longevity. The individual/family donations and the small savings of the center are able to meet most of the day-to-day repairs but the larger, more expensive upgrades lie dormant for years due to the lack of funding.

In April 2019 Panther Creek Senior and Community Center received a grant from the Siletz Tribal Charitable Contribution Fund. This $6300 grant allowed for two of the waiting projects to be completed. The projects included enlarging and improving the parking lot and the purchase of a storage van for the overflow items and emergency disaster supplies for the center's role in a crisis. These two projects are now completed and the center's community users can now walk on smooth gravel to and from their cars to attend an activity.

Panther Creek Senior and Community Center would like to publicly thank the Siletz Tribal Charitable Contribution Fund for supporting our community activities and population.

If you have not heard of the Panther Creek Senior and Community Center before and would like to know more or join us or enjoy the best $6 Sunday breakfast, please contact us at (541) 994-8222.

Oregon Sen. Ron Wyden reacts to U.S. airstrike in Iran

newsguardeditor@countrymedia.net

The United States Pentagon confirmed Thursday, Jan. 2, reports that Gen. Qasem Soleimani, top commander of Iran, had been killed in a U.S. airstrike.

Soleimani served as the head of the Iranian Revolutionary Guard Corps – Quds Force, which was designated as a foreign terrorist organization by the U.S. The United States Department of Defense released a statement saying the attack, at the direction of President Donald Trump, was a decisive defensive action to protect U.S. personnel abroad.

“General Soleimani was actively developing plans to attack American diplomats and service members in Iraq and throughout the region,” the statement said. “General Soleimani and his Quds Force were responsible for the deaths of hundreds of American and coalition service members and the wounding of thousands more.

“He had orchestrated attacks on coalition bases in Iraq over the last several months — including the attack on Dec. 27 — culminating in the death and wounding of additional American and Iraqi personnel. General Soleimani also approved the attacks on the U.S. Embassy in Baghdad that took place this week.”

The attacks on the U.S. Embassy in Baghdad lasted a total of two days and prompted President Trump to deploy approximately 750 U.S. soldiers.

Oregon Senator Ron Wyden released a statement today regarding the airstrike, citing his concerns of possible retaliation from Iranian forces.

“Qasem Soleimani was a bad man with a lot of blood on his hands, but Donald Trump's decision to assassinate him was a reckless escalation that will take us further down the road to ruinous war,” Wyden said. “A president has the responsibility to ensure that all necessary steps have been taken to protect vulnerable American military and civilian targets before taking such a precipitous act.

“Given Trump's awful record on foreign policy I'm extremely concerned that he has not prepared for the fallout, which could put more American lives at risk.”

The Associated Press reported that oil prices have skyrocketed since the report of the airstrike, up nearly four percent.

President Trump reiterated the statement made by the U.S. Department of Defense today at a brief television press conference at Mar-a-Lago resort in Florida, stating Soleimani was plotting “imminent and sinister attacks.”

“We took action last night to stop a war,” Trump said. “We did not take action to start a war.”

blankets, bibs, burp cloths, Halo SleepSack, newborn clothing, thermometer and infant safety kit.

In addition, this year's new year baby received a plush commemorative baby blanket embroidered and donated by Oregon Corrections Enterprises (OCE), which is now doing laundry service for the hospital. Included with the gift were heartfelt notes from the women who helped make the blanket. The following are just a few of the thoughtful sentiments:

“My heart was filled with joy and hope for the newborns and their families. Wishing them a life full of love and happiness!”

– Suzanne
“Even though I don't have children, I know what a blessing a baby can be. I loved that I played a part in making memorable keepsake blankets for someone's precious new arrival.”

– Rebecca
“It brings me joy to make these baby blankets, to give the newborns a little bit of love. It reminds me of my own children and grandchildren, and I love making new families happy.”

Portland where they stopped at the Union Gospel Mission and Portland Rescue Mission. They then finished in Salem at the Union Gospel Mission there.

“We targeted the higher populated areas like around the homeless shelters and camps,” Clanton said. “We wanted to feed the most people we could.”

All together they gave out about 600 burgers and over 400 blankets.

Clanton owns and operates The Grill 1646 food truck, located in Bend, in addition to the Lincoln City restaurant. This made it easy for him and the volunteers to cook a fresh and tasty meal right on the spot.

“We just run an extension cord out of the back, hook up the generator and we get to work wherever we're at,” Clanton said. “The most common question we get is what do you charge or who's allowed to eat, we don't limit it to anyone, just get in line and we'll feed you.”

A Community Effort

Clanton said it wasn't just him and his family and volunteers making a difference this year, it was the whole community, as Franz Bakery voluntarily donated bread, U.S. Food donated a lot of the meat and the restaurant covered all the veggies and condiments. As for the blankets, those came in part thanks to the Lincoln City community members and local businesses who helped with the Blanket Drive, such as Game Over Arcade, Ace Hardware, Food Service America, Bevel Beer and 9th Street Village.

Throughout their Christmas day journey, Clanton documented bits and pieces by posting videos on their social media. It was a decision that he was on the fence about.

“We had started with a blanket drive and we challenged the community by matching each donation with a blanket of our own... and we collected over 400 but then we felt bad that a lot of people who donated never got to see it happening or be there to support,” Clanton said. “So we wanted to document some of it but still respect people's privacy. That's why a lot of the videos were from inside the truck so there weren't any people in it because that's oftentimes their lowest points in their lives.”

Change Is Needed

Clanton himself was originally against publicizing the donations since it started as more of a spur of the moment action. But then he thought maybe this could bring awareness to a rapidly growing issue.

“The community came together for just 20 hours of work and helped feed almost 600 people and provide over 400 with a warm blanket... that's amazing,” he said. “We've lived in Lincoln City for 10 years and the homeless population has increased dramatically. It's always been here but now it's got to the point that we see people sleeping in the streets, in their cars. And it's all the time.”

Clanton said the most humbling part of the experience is hearing the individual stories from these normal people that just happen to be homeless.

“I talked to someone who was telling me how difficult it was to get a job,” Clanton said. “He didn't have a permanent address, so he would put down the homeless shelter address on the application. As soon as the employer saw that, oftentimes they would just throw it away right it front of him. They don't give these people a chance.”

Business Is Booming

As The Grill 1646 already plans on how to make next years giving event even bigger and reach more people, Clanton said his restaurant is making continual growth. Recently, The Grill 1646 became a recommended restaurant on ResturantGuru.com and touts the title of 'Best Burgers in Lincoln City.'

“I had to stop my duties with the fire department because we've been so busy,” Clanton said. “We've gone from a hole in the wall kind of restaurant to a popular place to eat for locals and visitors.”

And for him and his family they will continue to give back as long as their able.

“This business is not about the money for me, I want to be able to give what I can and as long as my family is comfortable where we're at, that's what we'll continue to do.”

The Grill 1646 is located at 1646 NE Hwy 101 in Lincoln City and is open 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday and Thursday, 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday.

All Oregon Coast Bank customers are invited to an "Open House" honoring Rose Wharton at our Pacific City office on January 15th from 9 am – 5 pm. Cake, cupcakes and coffee will be served.

THANKS ROSE

Perhaps most of all, we'll miss her laugh – a sound so warm and spontaneous it could only come from one person. We've been fortunate enough to hear that laugh dozens of times a day for fifteen years and none of us will ever forget it.

It's safe to say that without Rose Wharton there never would have been an Oregon Coast Bank office in Pacific City. It's quite a story, but essentially this is what occurred:

Oregon Coast Bank was founded in 2002, when more than a hundred area families pooled their resources to bring a locally-owned and operated financial institution to Newport. “We're not a big chain bank, so we don't have to act like one,” wrote Fred Postlewait, the bank's President and Chief Executive Officer. “That means our customers can talk face-to-face with decision makers who are more interested in solving their financial needs than in following bank policy.”

That formula was successful from day one and by the end of 2003 the bank's board of directors began discussing possible locations for additional branches. Frank Brawner, a retired president of the Oregon Bankers' Association and a founding director of Oregon Coast Bank, suggested that Pacific City would be an ideal location. More importantly, Brawner said that he knew of the perfect person to lead that office.

Brawner introduced Postlewait to Rose Wharton, a Cloverdale native and resident who had worked for more than 30 years at the local US Bank branch, serving as manager for the prior 15 years. Rose mentioned that it had been a longtime dream of hers to be part of a true community bank attuned to the economic interests of South Tillamook County, a bank that could provide the needed capital for the area's businesses and residents to thrive.

Postlewait quickly realized that Rose was exactly the type of community banker that they were looking for and recommended to his board of directors that as long as Wharton would agree to manage the new office, the bank should immediately expand to Pacific City.

An old medical building located between Airport Way and Brooten Road was purchased and plans were drawn up to convert it into a 3000 square foot bank office with a drive-up window, 24-hour ATM, safety deposit boxes and plenty of off street parking.

On the day after Christmas in 2003, Rose became an Oregon Coast Bank team member. At first, she commuted to Newport to learn the bank's systems and culture. After discovering that Rose had joined OCB, many South Tillamook County families and business owners asked her to open Oregon Coast Bank accounts for them in anticipation of the new Pacific City office. Often Rose would stop by the customers' homes and businesses to pick up deposits as she traveled to Newport.

Within a few months, a small temporary bank office was brought to the Pacific City construction site. Rose and her staff operated in those cramped quarters until July 19, 2004, when the remodeled building was complete. Remarkably, 287 new accounts totaling more than $4.5 million were opened during the construction period.

On August 24, 2004 an overflow crowd of more than 350 people joined in the festivities as the new Pacific City office of Oregon Coast Bank was dedicated. Refreshments at the event included barbecued salmon, albacore tuna and fresh oysters prepared and served by the bank's management team and board of directors. The crowd enjoyed live jazz by the duo “Mario & Brent” and won prizes for answering South Tillamook County trivia and for participating in an old fashioned "cake walk". Speeches were made, fun was had by all, and somehow Rose was able to make everyone feel at home.

The Pacific City office of Oregon Coast Bank continued growing that first year with more than a million dollars of new deposits coming in each month. Although it would be impossible to keep up that pace, the Pacific City office has continued growing steadily for the past 15 years. That's quite an achievement, and although she humbly attributes the success to her co-workers, it's Rose's passion, leadership and genuine concern for her customers that has fueled that growth.

Laughingly, which surprises none of us, Rose points out that some of the children she began babysitting at the age of eleven are now grandparents. “After 47 years as a banker, it may be time to slow down,” she explains.

We hoped the day she chose to retire would never come, yet we're happy for Rose, who will undoubtedly find as much success in the next stage of her life as she has in her banking career.

Our loss is her family's gain. Rose's husband, Randy, retired two years ago and has kept busy serving as the general contractor as they recently completed their dream home along the Little Nestucca River. There's a granddaughter to be visited at Oregon State and another, who at just the age of four, is looking forward to having Grandma Rose next door full time.

Besides more time to be spent with family and friends, retirement will allow Rose and Randy to travel. She's also looking forward to volunteering even more in the community.

In the words of our current Oregon Coast Bank President, Joe Postlewait, "her successor will do a wonderful job, but none of us will ever forget Rose. I'm sure I'm not just speaking for her co-workers, but for all our customers, when I say thanks Rose. We each owe you a debt of gratitude and consider ourselves lucky to be your friend." Maybe she'll blush, perhaps she'll shed a tear, but then we'll get to hear that laugh.

NG19-473 NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING FOR A CONDITIONAL USE PERMIT

The Lincoln City Planning and Community Development Department has scheduled a public hearing for the project described below. The Lincoln City Planning Commission will hold a public hearing to consider the request on Tuesday, January 21, 2020 at 6:00 p.m. in the Council Chambers at City Hall, 801 SW Highway 101, Lincoln City, Oregon. Any person who may be affected is invited to attend and participate in the hearings and present written and/or oral testimony concerning the project.

Description of Project CUP 2019-05 requests a conditional use permit to add 4 additional spaces to the Devils Lake RV Park, an existing 85-space R.V. park. The project site is 4041 NE West Devils Lake Drive (Assessor's Map 07-11-02-BD, Tax Lot 1201) in the General Commercial (GC) zone. The applicant is Devils Lake R.V. Park. The property owners are Bob and Lori Swan. (File CUP 2019-05)

Public Hearing Criteria The applicable criteria by which the conditional use application will be evaluated by the Planning Commission are Lincoln City Municipal Code Chapter 17.28 Recreation-Commercial (RC) Zone and Chapter 17.60 Conditional Uses. Appeals to the Land Use Board of Appeals (LUBA) are limited to only persons who have presented written and/or oral testimony at the hearing(s) before the Lincoln City Planning Commission and/or City Council. The failure to raise an issue at the public hearing(s), in person or by letter, or the failure to provide sufficient specificity to allow the Planning Commission and/or City Council an opportunity to respond to the issue precludes an appeal to LUBA on that issue. Unless there is a continuance, if a participant so requests, the record shall remain open for at least seven (7) days after the initial evidentiary hearing.

For More Information A copy of the application, all documents and evidence submitted by or on behalf of the applicant, and applicable criteria are available for inspection at no cost and will be provided to any person upon request at reasonable cost. A copy of the staff report will be available for inspection at no cost seven days prior to the hearing and will be provided to any person upon request at reasonable cost. The public may view application materials on the City of Lincoln City website at www.lincolncity.org (search for "Land Use Applications in Process").

If you have questions concerning the project, please contact Anne Marie Skinner, Planning and Community Development Senior Planner, at the Planning and Community Development Department, 801 SW Highway 101, Lincoln City, Oregon, 97367, by phone at 541.996.1227, or email at askinner@lincolncity.org. Planning Commission meetings are televised live on Charter Channel 4 Lincoln City and rebroadcast at various times. They are streamed live on the internet through a link on the City of Lincoln City website, and can also be viewed following the meeting. The meeting location is accessible to persons with disabilities. A request for an interpreter for the hearing

Lady Tigers prep for league play with successful winter break

newsguardeditor@countrymedia.net

Winter break games can be tricky for basketball teams.

Teams are often playing tournaments against unfamiliar opponents, traveling all over the map and dealing the player absences who are on vacation or sick.

But for the Taft 7-12 girls basketball team, they've used this break as an opportunity to improve and win games.

The Lady Tigers started off the break with a pair of games at the Westside Christian Showcase Dec. 20-21. During those two games Taft defeated the host Eagles 49-38 and followed it up with a commanding 42-18 victory over league opponent Rainier.

"I am pleased with my team's commitment and effort over the break," head coach Jake Tolan said. "Many programs struggle with games over the break because of the holiday and players leaving for family vacations. We have really used the past two weeks as opportunities to get better and stronger as a team."

Taft then traveled to Scio Dec. 27-28 to play two tournament games. On day one they easily handled the host Loggers 55-36, which set them up with a challenging bout with league opponent Willamina in the second game. Trailing just nine points at the half and cutting the Bulldog lead early in the third, the Lady Tigers seemed to let the Willamina pressure get to them for the rest of the game.

"Willamina then made some defensive adjustments and seemed to increase their pressure and intensity, which we didn't handle very well and my girls lost a little of their composure," Tolan said. "It was a good game to identify areas that still need improvement."

Tolan said they would work to grow in those areas

before facing Willamina again on Jan. 14.

On Dec. 30, Taft looked to get back on track with a non-league game against the Nestucca Bobcats at home. Facing a familiar opponent, the Lady Tigers knew the Bobcats would look to rely on the scoring prowess of senior guard Olivia Leslie, so they made it their goal to limit her attempts.

"Easier said than done sometimes, as she is a very good player," Tolan said. "Between Clairra Tolan and Jordyn Ramsey, the two girls were able to stick on her all night and limited her to under 10 points."

Nestucca played an aggressive style of defense early in the game, but Taft had some open looks that they were able to capitalize on, including two three-pointers from Lily Hatton in the first quarter to give the Lady Tigers a 16-10 lead after the first quarter. Taft found more open looks in the second quarter including a couple of buckets from Addie Gates off the bench and another Hatton three-pointer, which gave Taft a 31-19 lead.

In the second half, the game began to creep along as fouls and jump balls became frequent. Scoring also slowed as Taft continued to lead 39-30 after the third.

The Lady Tigers were able to overcome a few questionable calls in the fourth quarter and knock down their free throws down the stretch to earn a 46-37 victory over the visiting Bobcats.

"Between scouting reports and in-game adjustments, our girls have been able to execute well enough to get some wins over the break," Tolan said. "Our current record of 6-3 reflects the girls hard work, not only this season, but also all the time they spent this past summer. Our goal is continual improvement and growth as we get closer to league."

In a rare matchup, Taft faced 5A Dallas on Jan. 2 in what Tolan expected to be a great challenge for his team.

He was right, as Taft nearly managed an upset, losing 48-44 to the much larger Dragons.

After Tuesday's game at Siuslaw (results unavailable for print), the Lady Tigers will be back at home Jan. 10 to face Yamhill-Carlton in a non-league game. Tip off is scheduled for 6 p.m.

Taft wrestlers compete on the road

MAX KIRKENDALL
newsguardeditor@countrymedia.net

A week after claiming a first place team trophy at Nestucca High School, the Tigers traveled to Willamina High School Dec. 28 to compete in the 15-team field.

Taking the top spot in the team scores was defending 3A State champion La Pine, who tallied a commanding 237.5 points. Host Willamina came in second with 139 points while Taft finished eighth as a team with 85 points.

"We had to fight and scratch to get eighth out of 15 teams," head coach Robb Ellis said. "We fought against injuries, very competitive brackets full of state placers and some calls that didn't seem to go our way, but overall we fought to the end."

The Tigers were led by a pair of fourth place finishers in Jose Flores and Arnoldo Ortiz. In the 120-weight bracket, Flores dropped his first match to Elias Scholten of Willamina before recovering to win his next three to put him in the third place bout. In the third place match Flores battled Scholten once again and narrowly lost an 8-5 decision.

In the 126-weight bracket, Ortiz went 2-2 on the day with victories over Xander Hartsock of Toledo and Daniel Beltran-Reyes of Kennedy, both by fall.

Also scoring points for Taft were fifth place finishers Riley Ellis (152 bracket) and Bane Brown (285 bracket). Ellis won his first two matches of the day before dropping a 4-2 decision in overtime in the semifinals. In a strong bracket, Brown won four out of his six matches throughout the day, all by pin.

Taft's jam packed 2019-20 schedule continued at the Elmira Invitational Jan. 4. Saturday's tournament featured 13 teams, including top ranked La Pine.

"Great job today battling against the defending state champs for the second week in a row and some other solid teams, including some 6A schools," Ellis said.

With just nine varsity boys competing, Taft placed 6th out of 12 teams. The girls also competing, taking a 6th place finish as well.

Oscar Rodriguez placed 1st for Taft in the 182 weight bracket, while Riley Ellis placed 2nd at 152 pounds, Ortiz, Flores and Kevin Acosta placed 3rd respectively. Brown also cracked the top five, placing 4th.

For the girls, Ryan Sou placed 2nd at 125 pounds and Kadence James placed 3rd.

This week, Taft won't have to travel too far as they prep for the Toledo Invitational at Toledo High School.
