Request for PPE donations met by countless good Samaritans

THE NEWS GUARD

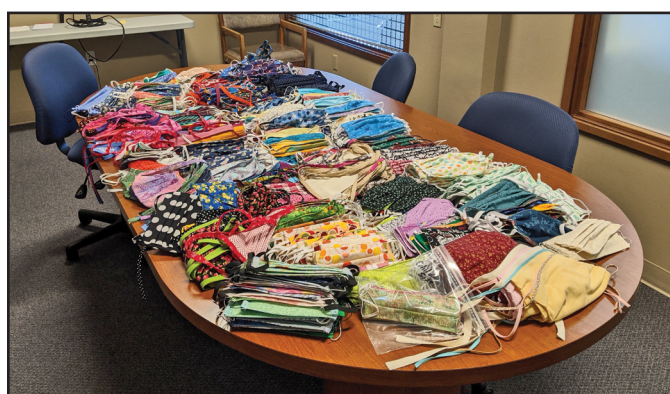

Samaritan Health Services put out a request on March 19 to the communities it serves for donations of personal protective equipment.

Facemasks and other items were requested as health care facilities grapple with an international supply-chain shortage as a result of COVID-19 response.

Instantly, Samaritan received phone calls, emails and responses via social media from people eager to help.

"The response has been remarkable," said Taylor Gilmour, assistant vice president of Samaritan Foundations. "It is

In times of crisis, it's important to come together and help those who need it. For several local businesses in Lincoln City, that's exactly what they're doing by providing 400 meals a week to those who are medically fragile or immune deficient.

This past week, Ocean's Apart Catering, The Grill 1646 and the Lincoln City Eagles Lodge have teamed up to provide 200 meals, free of charge, on Tuesdays and Thursdays. During the first week, the groups dished out 140 meals to anyone who signed up from Gleden Beach to Rose Lodge.

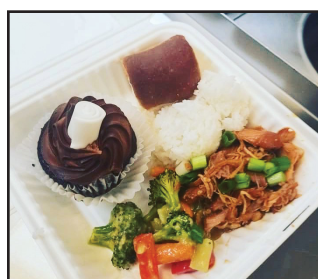

"The Grill 1646 is taking donations to buy most of the product that we need to make this happen," Ocean's Apart Catering owner Frank Paoakalani Napoleon said. "The Eagles Lodge in Lincoln City is providing their facilities to cook in as well as delivery drivers. Special mahalo to some Lincoln City Fire Department personal and other volunteers for helping in delivery and prepping of the meals." As The Grill 1646 owner Dan Clanton rounds up the supplies, Ocean's Apart has been cooking up warm meals and the Eagles have delivered them straight to people's doors. But these community members aren't the only ones giving up their time and resources for others. Depoe Bakery and My Petite Sweet have also been providing food, such as bread, dinner rolls, cupcakes and cookies. Also, Left Coast Coffee has provided a delicious beverage to go with their meal.

"Left Coast Coffee donated a bunch of coffee for people," Clanton said. "We have a bunch of cupcakes and cookies going out from My Petite Sweet and not only did (Ray Degale at Depoe Bakery) make all the rolls for the dinner, he donated 120 loaves of bread to give away. Not only are they all local companies...

they're all in this together with us."

This week, the generous team of businesses decided to up the ante and hand out 200 meals Tuesday and 200 meals Thursday. To get on the delivery list, call the Eagles Lodge at 503-857-5823.

President approves Major Disaster Declaration for Oregon

newsguardeditor@countrymedia.net

FEMA announced that federal emergency aid has been made available for the state of Oregon to supplement the state, tribes and local recovery efforts in the areas affected by the COVID-19 (Coronavirus) pandemic.

Federal funding is available to state, tribal and eligible local governments and certain private nonprofit organizations on a cost-sharing basis for emergency protective measures (Category B), including direct federal assistance under Public Assistance, for all areas affected by COVID-19 at a federal cost share of 75 percent.

Michael E. O'Hare has been named as the Federal Coordinating Officer for federal recovery operations in the affected area. Additional designations may be made at a later date if requested by the state and warranted by the results of further assessments.

Oregon Governor Kate Brown said the declaration is an important first step toward unlocking all available federal resources for Oregon's state, tribal, and local response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

"I appreciate the responsiveness of Vice President Pence and federal administration officials to our requests for aid," Brown said. "However, this is far from everything Oregon needs from the federal government to actively and effectively combat this crisis. We have a number of significant requests pending with the federal government, first and foremost Oregon's request for more personal protective equipment from the national stockpile."

Brown said in addition, a significant part of the state's disaster declaration request was for individual assistance for all Oregon counties and tribes, including child care assistance, crisis counseling, disaster case management, disaster legal services and disaster unemployment assistance for Oregonians. That request is still pending, and would provide significant relief to Oregon families if approved, says state officials.

"This is an unprecedented public health crisis that demands a coordinated national response, backed by the full resources of the federal government," Brown said. "I will continue to work with the White House and Oregon's congressional delegation to fight for access to every tool available to keep Oregonians safe from COVID-19."

Organizations eligible for recovery efforts on a cost-sharing basis for emergency protective measures include, but are not limited to:

- Management, control and reduction of immediate threats to public health and safety.
- Emergency operation and coordination costs.
- Disinfection of eligible public facilities.
- Medical sheltering.
- Purchase and distribution of food, water, medicine and other consumable supplies, including Personal Protective Equipment.

Oregon releases health care system action plan to fight COVID-19

THE NEWS GUARD

The fight against the coronavirus depends on Oregon hospitals having enough beds to treat the coming surge in patients who will become seriously ill with the virus.

Oregon health officials and hospitals announced a joint statewide action plan to dramatically bolster the state's ability to treat people with COVID-19 illness who need hospital care.

The plan was developed by the "Governor's Joint Task Force for Health Care Systems Response to COVID-19," convened by the Oregon Health Authority (OHA). It includes a broad range of health systems, health care providers, human services organizations, public health and public safety agencies, insurers and other organizations needed in the battle.

The plan addresses four urgent actions necessary to expand the health care system's capacity and maintain its capability as Oregon braces for a projected spike in new coronavirus cases:

- Procure and distribute critical medical supplies, including personal protective equipment (PPE) for health care workers and ventilators.
- Optimize hospital capacity to be able to treat COVID-19 cases.
- Mobilize the health care workforce to respond to COVID-19.
- Maintain a unified, coordinated and transparent emergency response to COVID-19.

New projections of COVID-19 cases in Oregon show the state is at a critical moment in the fight against the disease. Social distancing measures could alter the trajectory of new infections, which gives Oregon's health care system the chance to ramp up to meet the coming surge. But the state has little margin for error.

A return to "business as usual" or slight differences in actual infection rates (compared to projected ones) could swamp hospitals with more coronavirus cases than they could treat.

"Hospital leaders and health officials are doing their part to find beds, secure supplies and protect health care workers. Oregonians can make a difference too: stay home and save lives," Gov. Kate Brown said. "We all have a role to play in an unprecedented, unified effort across Oregon to stop the coronavirus from taking the tragic toll we've seen it claim elsewhere."

State agencies, hospitals and health care providers have already begun to implement the plan.

The state is collecting PPE for re-distribution to facilities in need.

Regional hospitals have signed mutual aid agreements to shift equipment, workforce and patients from overburdened facilities to others with adequate capacity.

The state is working with providers to stand-up alternate care locations (such as the Oregon Medical Station), identify and develop new alternate care sites, enable ambulatory care centers to house patients and re-purpose long-term care facilities.

The state and hospitals are sharing hospital bed utilization data so hospitals can manage the use of beds and equipment across their region.

The state is developing childcare options for health care workers, so their work isn't interrupted by school closings and family responsibilities.

"Oregon's health care system began preparing for a pandemic years ago, which gave us a head start on this plan," OHA Director Patrick Allen said. "From expanding testing to securing more ventilators for Oregon hospitals, we are united by a set of common strategies to save lives in every corner of the state."

The latest models state health officials released today forecast the following outcomes for three different scenarios:

- Return to business as usual: If Oregon lifted all the social distancing measures state leaders have instituted in recent weeks, there will be an estimated 15,000 cumulative infections by May 8th (within a range of 5,900-26,000). Approximately 1,100 people would need inpatient beds (850 AAC/250 ICU) across Oregon.

- Maintain bans on large gatherings and indefinite school closures: There would be an estimated 6,100 cumulative infections by May 8th (within a range of 2,000-12,000) and 340 people will need inpatient beds (260 AAC/80 ICU).

- Maintain aggressive interventions put into place on Monday, March 23rd (i.e., Stay Home, Save Lives) with high public adherence: There will be an estimated 1,000 (within a possible range of 700-3,800) cumulative infections by May 8th. Under this scenario, hospitals would have to boost capacity by a smaller number of beds.

The models show that only aggressive interventions, like the Stay Home, Save Lives executive order Governor Brown issued on March 23, are predicted to decrease the number of active infections.

"These projections tell us the sacrifices Oregonians are making right now can save lives," Dr. Dean Sidelinger, state health officer at OHA, said. "At the same time, they paint a dark picture of what could happen. We can't afford to drop our guard."

Driftwood Public Library offers online library cards during closure

THE NEWS GUARD

The doors to Driftwood Public Library may be temporarily closed, but the library remains open for business online.

Driftwood Public Library has instituted a temporary "Closure Card" policy, allowing Lincoln County residents to obtain a library card online or over the phone. Armed with a library card, residents gain access to thousands of e-books, downloadable audiobooks and other online resources.

Lincoln County residents who do not currently have a library card can obtain one by visiting www.driftwoodlib.org, or by calling the library at 541-996-2277 on weekdays between the hours of 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. Patrons will need to provide contact information and a Lincoln County address.

In exchange, they will receive a library card number that allows them to log into Library2Go and check out ebooks and downloadable audiobooks. They will also be able to access the library's full complement of research databases, including online Chilton's manuals, homework help, test prep and career development resources.

In addition to the thousands of e-books typically available through the library, DPL has also dedicated extra funds to purchasing additional copies of popular e-books and e-audiobooks, including a collection of titles suitable for families to listen to together. Once the library re-opens, residents with a Closure Card can continue library service by coming to the library and presenting ID and proof of address.

With the online library card, residents gain access to thousands of e-books, downloadable audiobooks and other online resources.

In addition to library cards and the aforementioned online services, DPL continues to provide reference and technology assistance over the phone or via email. Children can enjoy virtual storytimes with Miss Teena on the library's Facebook page, and the library's website is constantly updated with reliable COVID-19

Health Matters

by Samaritan Health Services

Keep yourself, your family healthy during the coronavirus outbreak

To protect patients and reduce exposure to viruses circulating in our community, the hospitals of Samaritan Health Services — including Samaritan North Lincoln Hospital in Lincoln City and Samaritan Pacific Communities Hospital in Newport — are now restricting ALL visitors from hospitals and outpatient care areas, with a few specific exceptions. Those exceptions are for patients:

- Under the age of 18
- Who are in labor
- Arriving by ambulance to the Emergency Department
- Near the end of life
- Having a same-day procedure
- Who are incapacitated
- Who require emotional, physical or transportatopn support.

For these patients only, they may have one healthy visitor who is at least 12 years of age. All visitors will be required to sanitize their hands upon entry and they will not be allowed to enter if they show signs of illness.

Even though the COVID-19 virus is new, preparing for pandemic illness is not new for Samaritan Health Services.

“Emergency preparedness training is a year-round activity and our facilities treat patients with a variety of infectious diseases on a daily basis,” said Chief Medical Officer Robert Turngren, MD. “On top of that, Samaritan has been working for weeks to prepare for potential cases of novel coronavirus, in accordance with the Centers for Disease Control, the Oregon Health Authority and local public health departments.”

Concerns about coronavirus are likely to increase as cases are confirmed in our region, but it is important to remember that many cases of coronavirus are mild, and most people recover with no additional complications.

Protecting yourself and your family

While hospital staff are busy planning and prepping to provide medical care during this pandemic, here are some tips to help you and your family stay well.

“It’s a good idea to be prepared in case you need to be home for a few days,” said Adam Brady, MD, from Samaritan Infectious Disease. “Treat this as you would any other emergency scenario, like an ice storm or a flood, and have a few basics on hand to last you about two weeks.”

Dr. Brady notes that there’s no need for mass stockpiling — having supplies on hand is most useful in the event you become ill and can’t leave home, and to limit your time in crowds if the virus is present in the community.

Some items to have on hand include prescription medications; over-the-counter fever reducer like ibuprofen or acetaminophen; food staples and foods for when you feel sick such as soup, crackers and rehydration fluids; laundry and household cleaning supplies, including a surface cleaner that contains bleach or alcohol; hand soap, but not necessarily antibacterial soap; hand sanitizer with at least 60% alcohol; and personal care items like contact solution, feminine hygiene products and toilet paper.

Ways to reduce your risk of exposure

Before the virus becomes more common in the community, consider ways you can reduce your risk of exposure. Talk to your workplace about sick leave policies and whether you can work from home. You should also limit your time in crowds, including waiting in line at the store.

“The coronavirus travels in droplets in the air and can live on surfaces, and then enters your body through your nose, mouth and eyes,” said Dr. Brady. “Be aware of who you’re around and what you’re touching.”

Ways you can avoid being infected by coronavirus and other illnesses include:

- Wash, wash, wash your hands. It cannot be overstated — this is perhaps the most important thing you can do, especially before eating or touching your face. Wash your hands as soon as you come in the door when you get home.
- Maintain a distance of at least six feet from others.
- Clean high-traffic surfaces regularly, such as your phone, doorknobs and bathroom faucets.
- Be mindful of common surface areas in public: ATM pin pads, pens, touch screens in the self-checkout line at the grocery store, shopping cart handles, bathroom doors, etc. Wash or sanitize your hands after using these items

What to do if someone gets sick

If you or a family member gets sick, stay at home. The most common symptoms of coronavirus are:

- Fever above 100.4°F
- Cough
- Difficulty breathing

If you are having these symptoms and suspect there is a reason for you to have contracted coronavirus, please call your health care provider or complete an E-Visit through your Samaritan Health Services MyChart account. If you are not already a Samaritan patient, call 541-768-7080 to set up an account. If you do not have a primary care provider or online access, call 855-543-2780. You will receive instructions on appropriate care that will limit exposure to others.

Also, people who are not sick do not need to wear a face mask.

“Face masks are most effective when the people who are already sick wear one, or if you are in close contact and caring for someone who is sick,” said Dr. Brady. “At this point hand washing is really the most effective tool you have to stay healthy.”

Visit healthoregon.org/Coronavirus or samhealth.org/Coronavirus for more information.

Community classes cancelled through April

Most all Samaritan-sponsored classes, support groups and meetings have been cancelled through April, including those held at the Center for Health Education in Newport. The exception is recovery groups such as Alcoholics Anonymous.

For information, visit samhealth.org/Classes or samhealth.org/CHE or call the Center for Health Education at 541-574-4952, Monday through Friday.

Community update on new hospitals in Lincoln County

Old hospital demolition to begin soon

The old Samaritan North Lincoln Hospital has been emptied and is being prepared for demolition beginning the week of April 6. Every effort will be made to minimize noise and dust as the 52-year-old structure is torn down and removed to the local landfill. Please stay safe by using sidewalks on the perimeter of the hospital campus, parking only where allowed, and entering the new hospital building through the temporary south entrance.

Newport hospital building complete

The Samaritan Pacific Communities Hospital project is entering its third and final phase: demolition of the 1951 building so that the main parking lot can be completed. Beginning last week, the only public entrance to the hospital is via the Emergency Department entrance. A bit of remodeling is happening on the second floor of the new hospital building, too, which will create some construction noise and extra foot traffic, so your understanding and patience are appreciated.

Visit samhealth.org/NewHospitalLincolnCity or samhealth.org/NewHospitalNewport to follow the progress of the two Samaritan hospital projects in Lincoln County.

COVID-19 and Aerial Pesticide Spraying

The State of Oregon has insisted on allowing aerial pesticide spraying in spite of its documented link to many grave illnesses, in spite of a whole county's vote to ban it, in spite of the increase in cancer cases where spraying occurs, particularly among those whose work puts them in contact with the chemicals used for spraying, in spite of the harm it does to people's immune systems, in spite of the deformities it causes in human as well as non-human fetuses, in spite of the fact that Oregonians are overwhelmingly against this murderous practice. Raising life with poisons does not make sense, and we must expect the effects we are seeing everywhere.

Fighting the COVID19 pandemic calls for strengthened immune systems. People everywhere are being told to do everything they can to strengthen their immune systems.

Now that so many lives are at stake from a new virus that, like others, thrives on depressed immune systems, our government must rid us of these showers of toxic chemicals so that all of us have a better chance to survive the pandemic. Life must be protected over corporate profits, now and always.

A Call for Strict Enforcement

Once again, Vacation Rental Houses are getting preferential treatment over the locals.

When pressed, our police punt enforcement of the Governor's orders to stay at your primary residence because that house marked with a VRD plaque "might" have the second home owner there. Really?

The rainbow of license plates from all over the west in Olivia Beach and other VRD heavy zones are ALL second home owners (who are also not supposed to be here unless they are staying more than 30 days or are deemed essential)?

When will the citizens of Lincoln City actually be protected before long distance landowners and these businesses pretending to be houses?

If police are going door to door at the hotels and motels, why not the SAME with VRDS? We the citizens of Lincoln City are sick of the bias towards vacation rental houses and their abuse of our community and LAWS. They are either houses or businesses, not both and they do not get both protections.

Why is the Lincoln City Police department helping people break the law through biased enforcement? Are tourist dollars really worth more than our LIVES?

This is the message you are sending City Manager Ron Chandler and Chief Palmer, that tourist dollars, ONCE AGAIN, are worth more than our lives. BRAVO

Questions About Facemasks

Is it a plausible idea that if one was to wear a mask or should wear a mask, to spray the mask with an anti-viral or anti-bacterial solution? Could a solution be made from household products?

Is there a solution that isn't harmful when breathed and keeps from getting soggy and could possibly be sprayed at times throughout the day to keep some potency? It may be useful for people who are checkers in grocery stores or other necessary outlets.

I have not heard of this thought. We are supposed to wipe down and spray everything else, why not this?

Response to 'Ugliness and Hatred During Crises'

Santa Fe is similar to Lincoln City, in that it is a small town on the ocean and its economy is dependent on tourism.

It is a destination for foreigners and Filipino alike. I am extremely thankful to many here in Santa Fe that have showed us welcome, even though they have done much of the same as the rest of the world, closing businesses, social distancing and quarantine starting tomorrow. How would I fee as a stranger in a strange land, to walk down the street and read a hateful message aimed at me and my partner... unwelcome, fearful of our safety..?

Fortunately for us, the people here are kind and compassionate. I hope my hometown of Lincoln City will show the same kindness to those that find themselves weathering this storm away from their friends and family in Lincoln City, as the people of Santa Fe, Bantyan has showed to us. Be Well.

Thank You to Our Doctors

Since 1933, March 30 has been celebrated as Doctors Day – a time to say a special thank you to physicians everywhere for the vital role they play in fostering health and healing. The commemoration was established on the first anniversary of the date when Crawford W. Long, MD, first used ether anesthesia on a patient.

Today, as we struggle to address a global pandemic like nothing most of us have ever experienced, the critically important role of our doctors becomes even more evident.

Every day, physicians provide life-affirming and life-saving care to patients. In our region, doctors are also helping to train the next generation of physicians as part of Samaritan's Graduate Medical Education program. Others generously volunteer their time in our local free clinics, as members of medical missions throughout the world, or in other community leadership roles.

We are fortunate to have so many talented and compassionate physicians in our region. From our own organization, and from a grateful community, we say thank you.

IN MEMORY

Jack Harland Wilson

Jack Harland Wilson passed away January 14, 2020, peacefully with loving family present in Lincoln City, Oregon.

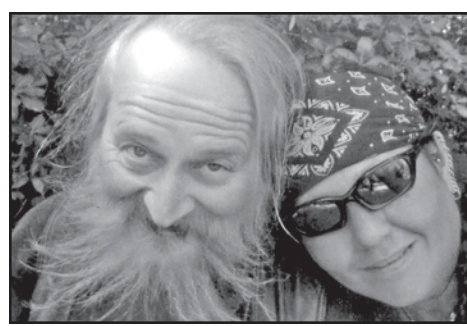

He was born July 6, 1932 in Portland, Oregon to Melvin and Mabel Wilson who lived in rural Yamhill, Oregon. He spent his life in Lincoln City, Oregon; one year in the merchant marine during the Korean War; Eureka, California; Carson City, Nevada; and finally back to Lincoln City, Oregon for over 30 years.

Jack's work history and interests covered a broad and interesting spectrum. To view a more complete biography on Jack's life, you may enjoy visiting bwilson.cs.georgefox.edu/jackwilson.

Jack is survived by his wife, Judy Wilson of Lincoln City; two sons, Daron Wilson (w. Wendy) of Lincoln City, Oregon and Brent Wilson (w. Kami) of Dundee, Oregon; nine grandchildren, and 10 great grandchildren.

No service is planned at this time as the family wants to protect everyone's health and well-being.

Tony Dean Cooney

Tony passed away at Samaritan North Lincoln hospital March 19, 2020.

Tony was born on September 20, 1953 in Lebanon Oregon. He moved to Lincoln City in 1965 and attended Oceanlake then Taft High School.

Tony was active in sports, participating in surfing, football and track. His track and field team went to the State Championships in Eugene and set records that held for years in the 220-meter relay.

Tony loved his Harley-Davidson and was a life-long member of the Free Souls motorcycle club. He was the president in Eugene then at the North coast chapter. Tony owned Tony's Taxi Cab for years and was appreciated around town by many friends as he would make sure you would get where you were going, even if you didn't have the full fare.

Tony also loved elk hunting where he lived up Bear Creek.

Tony is survived by his father Jack and Jane Cooney, mother Anette Cooney, his wife Julia, who he loved dearly. She stood by him through the bad times and his cancer. His sons Alex and Tylor, sister Liz and Kurt Later, Brother Terry and Danette, son Jeb, daughter Tasha and many grandchildren, as well as the whole Free Soul and Anubis families.

or, if such action has been instituted, such action has been dismissed except as permitted by ORS 86.752(7). Both the beneficiary and the trustee have elected to sell the said real property to satisfy the obligations secured by said trust deed and notice has been recorded pursuant to Section 86.752(3) of Oregon Revised Statutes. There is a default by grantor or other person owing an obligation, performance of which is secured by the trust deed, or by the successor in interest, with respect to provisions therein which authorize sale in the event of such provision. The default for which foreclosure is made is grantor's failure to pay when due the following sum: TOTAL REQUIRED TO REINSTATE: $6,301.56 TOTAL REQUIRED TO PAY-OFF: $111,872.97 Because of interest, late charges, and other charges that may vary from day-to-day, the amount due on the day you pay may be greater. It will be necessary for you to contact the Trustee before the time you tender reinstatement or the payoff amount so that you may be advised of the exact amount you will be required to pay. By reason of the default, the beneficiary has declared all sums owing on the obligation secured by the trust deed immediately due and payable, those sums being the following, to-wit: The installments of principal and interest which became due on 8/1/2019, and all subsequent installments of principal and interest through the date of this Notice, plus amounts that are due for late charges, delinquent property taxes, insurance premiums, advances made on senior liens, taxes and/or insurance, trustee's fees, and any attorney fees and court costs arising from or associated with the beneficiary's efforts to protect and preserve its security, all of which must be paid as a condition of reinstatement, including all sums that shall accrue through reinstatement or pay-off. Nothing in this notice shall be construed as a waiver of any fees owing to the Beneficiary under the Deed of Trust pursuant to the terms of the loan documents. Whereof, notice hereby is given that QUALITY LOAN SERVICE CORPORATION OF WASHINGTON, the undersigned trustee will on 7/29/2020 at the hour of 9:00 AM, Standard of Time, as established by section 187.110, Oregon Revised Statutes, At the Front Entrance of the Lincoln County Courthouse, located at 225 West Olive Street, Newport, OR 97365 County of LINCOLN, State of Oregon, sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash the interest in the said described real property which the grantor had or had power to convey at the time of the execution by him of the said trust deed, together with any interest which the grantor or his successors in interest acquired after the execution of said trust deed, to satisfy in which the above described real property is situated. Further, no action has been instituted to recover the debt, or any part thereof, now remaining secured by the trust deed, or, if such action has been instituted, such action has been dismissed except as permitted by ORS 86.752(7). Both the beneficiary and the trustee have elected to sell the said real property to satisfy the obligations secured by said trust deed and notice has been recorded pursuant to Section 86.752(3) of Oregon Revised Statutes. There is a default by grantor or other person owing an obligation, performance of which is secured by the trust deed, or by the successor in interest, with respect to provisions therein which authorize sale in the event of such provision. The default for which foreclosure is made is grantor's failure to pay when due the following sum: TOTAL REQUIRED TO REINSTATE: $41,954.46 TOTAL REQUIRED TO PAYOFF: $343,810.85 Because of interest, late charges, and other charges that may vary from day-to-day, the amount due on the day you pay may be greater. It will be necessary for you to contact the Trustee before the time you tender reinstatement or the payoff amount so that you may be advised of the exact amount you will be required to pay. By reason of the default, the beneficiary has declared all sums owing on the obligation secured by the trust deed immediately due and payable, those sums being the following, to-wit: The installments of principal and interest which became due on 1/1/2019, and all subsequent installments of principal and interest through the date of this Notice, plus amounts that are due for late charges, delinquent property taxes, insurance premiums, advances made on senior liens, taxes and/or insurance, trustee's fees, and any attorney fees and court costs arising from or associated with the beneficiaries efforts to protect and preserve its security, all of which must be paid as a condition of reinstatement, including all sums that shall accrue through reinstatement or pay-off.

Nothing in this notice shall be construed as a waiver of any fees owing to the Beneficiary under the Deed of Trust pursuant to the terms of the loan documents. Whereof, notice hereby is given that QUALITY LOAN SERVICE CORPORATION OF WASHINGTON, the undersigned trustee will on 6/29/2020 at the hour of 10:00 AM, Standard of Time, as established by section 187.110, Oregon Revised Statutes, At the south entrance to the Lincoln County Courthouse, located at 225 W Olive Street, Newport, OR 97365 County of LINCOLN, State of Oregon, sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash the interest in the said described real property which the grantor had or had power to convey at the time of the execution by him of the said trust deed, together with any interest which the grantor or his successors in interest acquired after the execution of said trust deed, to satisfy the foregoing obligations thereby secured and the costs and expenses of sale, including a reasonable charge by the trustee. Notice is further given that any person named in Section 86.778 of Oregon Revised Statutes has the right to have the foreclosure proceeding dismissed and the trust deed reinstated by payment to the beneficiary of the entire amount then due (other than such portion of said principal as would not then be due had no default occurred), together with the costs, trustee's and attorney's fees and curing any other default complained of in the Notice of Default by tendering the performance required under the obligation or trust deed, at any time prior to five days before the date last set for sale. Other than as shown of record, neither the beneficiary nor the trustee has any actual notice of any person having or claiming to have any lien upon or interest in the real property hereinabove described subsequent to the interest of the trustee in the trust deed, or of any successor in interest to grantor or of any lessee or other person in possession of or occupying the property,

Oregonians statewide can now use SNAP to buy groceries online

THE NEWS GUARD

In keeping with Governor Kate Brown's "Stay Home, Save Lives" executive order, Oregonians across the state who receive Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) benefits can now purchase groceries online from Walmart and Amazon, helping to keep SNAP recipients and their families safe from COVID-19 by opening new avenues for social distancing.

Oregon has been exploring ways to increase access to food including a pilot project to provide Oregonians the opportunities to purchase groceries online with SNAP benefits. In March 2020, the Department of Human Services (DHS) provided access to online purchasing in Portland and Grants Pass at Walmart and Amazon. Due to the COVID-19 crisis, both retailers moved up their expansion dates for online food shopping to help those who are unable or who have difficulty getting to the store another option to purchase food.

"We are grateful that these retailers expanded their grocery services to all Oregonians receiving SNAP benefits," said Dan Haun, Self-Sufficiency Programs director at the Oregon Department of Human Services. "Convenience, quality and fresh groceries should not be determined by how someone pays. The expansion will increase food access for those who experience challenges visiting brick-and-mortar stores."

As the COVID-19 pandemic has led to an increase in the number of people eligible for SNAP, the ability to purchase groceries online supports physical distancing necessary to help slow the spread of the virus.

"We appreciate the accommodatations that many retailers have made to support individuals at high risk of serious health consequences from COVID-19," said Mike McCormick, interim director of the DHS Office of Aging and People with Disabilities. "Anything we can do to help Oregonians access necessities and limit their potential exposure to illness, is absolutely crucial at this time."

If your work hours are reduced or you lose your job, you may become eligible for SNAP if you meet eligibility requirements. You can apply for SNAP benefits without visiting an office. Apply online at OHP.Oregon.Gov.

DHS is keeping local offices open during this pandemic to serve people who do not have access to the Internet. To find an office in your community: <https://www.oregon.gov/DHS/Offices/Pages/Self-Sufficiency.aspx>.

OSP answers questions about the 'Stay Home, Save Lives' order

THE NEWS GUARD

Since Oregon Governor Kate Brown issued Executive Order 20-12 "Stay Home, Save Lives," the Oregon State Police have received several questions regarding what people can and can't do, and what the legal ramifications are.

To answer some of these questions, OSP compiled this list that covers the basics.

Is this martial law?

No, not even close. There are no curfews and a person's movements are not restricted under the Governor's Executive Order. While details are offered in the order relating to social distancing, specific business closures and non-essential social gatherings- Oregonian's movements are generally unrestricted.

Do I need documentation from my employer deeming me essential?

No. The Governor's Executive Order closes certain businesses, outlined in section (2). These businesses reflect operations that would make close contact difficult or impossible to avoid. Officers are not asking or looking for any type of special paperwork from your employer.

Do I need a special placard on my car, when going to work or if I drive for work?

No. There is no special documentation or placards for people going to work or permitted activities.

Will I be pulled over for driving on the highway?

Not for violation of the Governor's Executive Order, which specifically outlines efforts to avoid large gatherings- not restrict the movement of Oregonians. If, however, you are committing a traffic violation or crime that would be enforced independent of the order, you may be stopped, like any other day.

Are the state lines closed and are there roadblocks?

No, traffic is moving freely within Oregon and our border states. There are no roadblocks or restrictions of vehicle movement. Washington State is operating under a similar executive order from their Governor, so Oregonians should be aware of these provisions when traveling in their state.

If my business is closed, can I still go to work if my employer makes me? Won't I be arrested?

While the order prohibits the public from congregating at a closed business, the employer may still have work to do on site. As long as employees are not conducting business that is prohibited by the Executive Order, it is okay to still be at the worksite. No "passes" or paperwork is required.

Are rest areas open?

Yes, generally. Some rest areas are connected to parks, which are currently closed to comply with the Executive Order.

Are police arresting or ticketing people in public or in violation of the Governor's Executive Order?

People that violate the Governor's Order in an Emergency Declaration could be arrested or cited, which is a C Misdemeanor- the lowest level of criminal conduct designation. All Oregon law enforcement are united on the premise that police action is extremely undesirable and we hope to educate Oregonians if congregating in violation of the Governor's Order. Citation or arrest would be an extreme last resort if a person failed to comply with the lawful direction of a police officer.

What about my kids that may congregate in a place without my permission, like a skate park?

Police know our children don't often take their parent's advice and may ignore direction when away. Like adults found to be congregating in a location, officers will likely approach the youths and educate them on the order. Citations and arrest are extremely unlikely, reserved for only the most extreme circumstances.

Can I still go hiking and fishing?

Yes. Oregonians can still recreate outdoors, if their recreational activity involves non-contact with others and they can maintain appropriate social distancing, which is defined as 6 feet or more from others. Oregonians and visitors to our state should be aware most campgrounds and boat ramps are closed, so you should research your plans before recreating.

Should I call 911 if I see people congregating?

No. The level of this violation is not for reporting police, fire or medical emergencies through 911. People may choose to self-educate their fellow Oregonians or if a large gathering is noted, they may call their respective police agency's non-emergency number.

Stay Home

This past week, Gov. Brown launched a statewide public awareness campaign with Portland-based ad agency Wieden+Kennedy, the Oregon Health Authority and public health partners to inform Oregonians about the urgent importance of staying home to save lives during the COVID-19 pandemic. The campaign includes a strident statement that has come to the forefront: "Don't Accidentally Kill Someone."

"We are facing an unprecedented crisis. None of us have been through anything like this before," Brown said. "The single most important thing each of us can do to protect our community and frontline workers, and to save lives right now, is stay home."

The campaign was created to speak directly to Oregonians across the state about the significance of the COVID-19 health crisis in Oregon, and what they can do to help. It also highlights the essential workers on the front lines of this crisis, such as health care workers, first responders, grocery store employees and many more, who are working every day to ensure Oregon continues to operate during this crisis. "We created this campaigned with the Governor because we don't want to look back and wish we had done more," said Jason Bagley and Eric Baldwin, executive creative directors at Wieden+Kennedy Portland. "We have a lot of heart for Oregon and all who live here, and we know that staying home will save lives. This campaign provides clarity and conviction around what staying at home means — and how we all have a role to play to help our community."

The Stay Home, Save Lives campaign will appear on television, radio, on social media, and online. Oregon Health & Science University contributed their expertise by providing information and perspective from doctors and scientists. The work by Wieden+Kennedy was done on a pro-bono basis for the state.

Travel Oregon, a semi-independent state agency, has an existing contract with Wieden+Kennedy, which permitted the agency to work with the Governor's office on the public awareness campaign related to the COVID-19 pandemic.

"As the newly released modeling has shown, we know that if Oregonians continue practicing social distancing measures, we can give our health care system time to ramp up and get ready to meet the serious threat COVID-19 poses to Oregon," said Patrick Allen, director of the Oregon Health Authority. "It's important for Oregonians to remain vigilant through this crisis and continue to stay home for all those who must be outside for them."

Masks

clear that we are surrounded by a caring community who wants to ensure the health and safety of health care professionals and patients and for that we are thankful. We have received donations from individuals and local businesses, including Hewlett-Packard and the Lowe's and Target distribution centers."

Samaritan's original

request was for facemasks of all kinds, including but not limited to N95 masks, disposable gowns and gloves, eye protection, swabs and viral transport tubes, and 70 percent or greater isopropyl alcohol. After four donation drop-off sessions, eight pallets of PPE items were collected and the need for gloves has been fully met.

"While we received donations of commercially-produced facemasks, we also received a lot of homemade masks," Gilmour said. "The craft of sewing is alive and strong in Benton, Linn and Lincoln counties."

In settings where facemasks are not available, the CDC does allow for health care professionals to use homemade masks for care of patients with COVID-19 as a last resort. Samaritan's strategy is to use standard PPE first as it offers the best protection for health care professionals, especially those treating patients with COVID-19. Homemade masks will be used if standard PPE supplies are depleted or will be used in care settings not requiring as stringent PPE use to free up available supplies in COVID-19 treatment areas.

"All donations collected from the community will now be sanitized or sterilized before being circulated in patient care areas," said

Karen Keuneke, infection prevention supervisor at Good Samaritan Regional Medical Center.

At the conclusion of Samaritan's supply drive, the counties of Benton, Lincoln and Linn announced plans to host supply drives, which they will then distribute to organizations in need throughout each county. To learn more, visit co.benton.or.us/coronavirus and co.lincoln.or.us/covid. Linn County's drive information will be forthcoming.

Anyone still wanting to make fabric masks, please refer to the following instruction video on from EasySew on YouTube (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=BCJcE-r7kcg>) for the now preferred pattern that includes a filter pocket. Samaritan encourages community members to support their county's efforts.

Local schools adjust as statewide limitations continue

newsguardeditor@countrymedia.net

If the COVID-19 pandemic didn't hit the United States, Lincoln County School District students would be back from spring break this week, entering the final stretch before the end of the school year.

Instead, students remain at home until at least April 28 and several questions have been raised about where students will get their valuable education and what's next for graduating high school seniors. LCSD Superintendent Dr. Karen Gray gave another update this past week, but unfortunately, there seems to be more questions than answers at this point.

"I have attempted to provide our staff, families and community with as much information as possible knowing that certain things are still not yet known," Dr. Gray said. "I hope that everyone has had some fun with family... Enjoy this time while you can (and have to) because we will be back at it at some point and as busy as ever."

Dr. Gray spoke about their supplemental learning opportunities for students K-8, which starts today (April 1).

"As the Coronavirus situation continues to develop, we are looking at a number of ways to deliver the best possible experiences for students during the extended break, and we want to make sure all of our students can remain connected to their peers, teachers, and schools and have regular access to supplemental learning opportunities and materials," Gray said.

LCSD is introducing Supplement Education and Learning Supports, or SEALS, which includes some education online, some with learning applications and some paper and pencil. Work will be prepared to last a week at a time, none of it is turned in as it is ungraded and not credited and is provided in order to keep kids engaged in learning.

"This is not the same as our regular education," Dr. Gray said. "It is supplemental only. This work is also for ALL students including those with special abilities, English language emergent and others."

Dr. Gray also highlighted the Meals on the Bus Program, which goes back to Monday through Friday this week for the foreseeable future. The consolidated new bus routes are working well along with the new bus times, according to LCSD.

"We are giving out between 2,600 and 3,000 plus meal boxes (each containing 3 meals for the day) per day to our students and families," Dr. Gray said. "Please thank a meal prep and delivery person when you see them!"

The biggest question seems to surround graduating seniors and meeting the necessary requirements. Unfortunately, there hasn't been much clarity from the Oregon Department of Education.

"We still have no answers from the Oregon Department of Education as to the new Graduation Requirements nor answers to our questions regarding Dual College Credits," Dr. Gray said. "As soon as we have guidance from ODE we will tell you about it immediately."

OCCC starting classes online

There is tape on the floor, designating where students should stand when getting personal assistance at the front desk.

There are dispensers of hand sanitizer. Everywhere. Windows and bathroom mirrors are obscured by the wallpapering of helpful instructions on handwashing and social distancing.

Oregon Coast Community College is coupling robust on-site precautions with moving classes online in order to launch its Spring 2020 term undaunted. Per new statewide rules for this Spring, all classes will be delivered via remote instruction, excepting some health-care programming. The Central Campus and North County center will be open to students only throughout the term for walk-in support and assistance.

Oregon Coast Community College welcomes new students each term; those in pursuit of new career opportunities, a transfer degree, or some other academic goal need not wait until fall to enroll. Spring term begins Monday, April 6, but there is still time for students considering starting out to apply and meet with an academic advisor. Links to get started are available at oregoncoastcc.org/start-here.

"Some students are a little wary of online instruction," said OCCC President Dr. Birgitte Ryslinge. "And, we completely understand. Our greatest strength is our talented faculty, and we leverage that strength to our students' benefit, by putting them together in small, interactive classroom environments. This term, there may be a digital screen between our faculty and their students, but we know the connections between them will still be close and personal. Our faculty aren't going to let physical distance come between getting to know each of our students and making the most of their time at college."

To help students get comfortable with online tools, the college has rolled out a number of resources.

"One of our own students, Jason Miranda, will be hosting Zoom Labs online, helping fellow students get familiar with the powerful videoconferencing application that many instructors will be using throughout the term," said Dan Lara, OCCC's Chief Academic Officer.

For students who have no reliable internet access at home, or who lack a suitable workspace, the College will offer safe, social-distance-appropriate workspaces at its Central Campus in Newport and its North County Center in Lincoln City. There are also Chromebooks and other resources available to check out for use from home. Students interested in these resources should contact Student Services at 541-867-8501 to learn more.

"Like students at every other community college and university in the state, OCCC students will be in unfamiliar territory this Spring," Lara said. "We'll be rolling out a number of resources to help them get comfortable."

Among these resources are academic advising services delivered live via Zoom, at the students request. Appointments can be booked online at oregoncoastcc.org/advising. The College will also be offering live virtual meetings with the OCCC financial aid staff to answer questions about paying for college. These services will be available from inside the Central County Campus in Newport, or from the North County Center, via Zoom workstations.

"Our students have been through a lot, in a short time," President Ryslinge said. "They've had small children sent home from school, demanding round-the-clock care. They've faced layoffs and financial hardship. They are deeply concerned about their most vulnerable family members. It's not been easy."

In response, she said, the College is looking for creative ways to help students cope with these changes.

"For example, longtime OCCC Community Education meditation instructor Joe Armenio is offering a free service to students," Ryslinge said. "They can call upon his free meditation hotline, exclusively available to OCCC students, throughout the term, when they need just a moment to relax and step away from the challenges they're facing 24 hours a day."
