Did you know?

Did you know that dental implants are highly successful, and often a better option than a bridge?

It's true! Dental implants have a success rate of over 95%. Many patients have had implants for more than 20 years. And an implant saves adjacent teeth, works like a natural tooth, and is easy to keep clean.

We've come a long way! With excellent dental care from Dr. Strong, you will protect your teeth, look great, and feel even better. With dental implants, you can now keep your smile for a lifetime! We enhance people's lives!

Langlois library offers events

LANGLOIS – The Langlois Public Library invites children ages 3-15 to Build a Better World during its 2017 Summer Reading Program.

At 10 a.m. Friday, Aug. 4, The Museum of Natural and Cultural History will present "Engineer it! - Exploring Ancient Technologies." The event is free and open to the public.

The Langlois Public Library invites the public to its first open house from 1-3 p.m. Friday, Aug. 18. Library staff will be celebrating its volunteers and interns with a light potluck-style spread and encourages patrons to bring something to share. For Summer Reading Program participants, this will also be a time to pick up projects and prizes.

For more information on either event, visit the Langlois Public Library Facebook page call 541-348-2066.

Langlois Music Fest coming Aug. 4 and 5

LANGLOIS – Experience the hospitality of Langlois at the second annual Langlois Music Fest on Friday, Aug. 4, and Saturday, Aug. 5, at the Old Langlois Cheese Factory, 94179 Allen Boice Drive. Music will be offered from 7-11 p.m. Friday and from 1-11 p.m. Saturday. Local food and beverages will be available for purchase.

Friday night will feature Sly and Friends from 7-9 p.m. on the outdoor stage. From 9-11 p.m., the Blue Ramblers will play for an indoor dance party inside the Old Cheese Factory building.

Saturday on the outdoor stage includes, from 1-3 p.m., T-Bird and The Demarzo Trio; from 3-5 p.m., Left Coast Jazz; from 5-7 p.m. the Giardinelli Hot Club Quintet; and from 7-9 p.m. the Bone Mountain String Band. From 9-11 p.m., the Blue Ramblers will again offer an indoor dance party.

Detailed information on the musicians and bands is available at www.langloischeesefactory.com.

Cost of admission is $10 for Friday's events if purchased prior to the festival, or $15 at the gate. Saturday's admission is $20 pre-sold or $25 at the gate. Tickets for both days are $30 pre-sold. Attendees need to bring their own lawn chairs for seating.

Camping is available in the field next to the Old Cheese Factory and opens at 10 a.m. Friday and closes at 2 p.m. Sunday.

Camping fees are $80 for two nights, which includes a two-day ticket to the Music Fest, or $50 for one night, which includes a one-day ticket to the Music Fest.

Dogs are allowed on leash only in the camping area and are not allowed in the festival.

No outside alcohol is permitted. Camping and ticket information is available at www.langloischeesefactory.com. Advanced tickets can be purchased online or at the Langlois Market. Bring your receipt for payment confirmation to the ticket booth to receive tickets and wrist bands.

All profits from the festival will be used to repair the Old Cheese Factory sign. Anyone wanting to help with the festival or with the sign project can find contact information on the website.

“If you have enjoyed indoor events at the Old Langlois Cheese Factory, you will be sure to enjoy the talents of local musicians on the outdoor stage, while taking in the views of the surrounding hills, distant ocean and farmland,” said Old Langlois Cheese Factory owner and Langlois Music Fest organizer Dennis Bowman.

For more information about the events going on in Langlois, visit www.worldfamouslanglois.com, the World Famous Langlois Facebook page and the Old Langlois Cheese Factory Facebook page.

Preparing for the ‘Great American Eclipse’ at the library

BANDON – Are you prepared to view the “Great American Eclipse,” which will happen at 10:15 a.m. the morning of Monday, Aug. 21?

Visit the Bandon Public Library’s Sprague Room from 1-3 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 12, to pick up a free pair of NASA viewing glasses. (First come, first served, while supplies last.)

There has not been a solar eclipse like this one in the United States since 1979 and it isn’t expected to happen again for about 100 years.

The viewing of a solar eclipse absolutely requires the correct protection for your eyes to prevent damage to the retina.

While at the library, take time to enjoy the display of eclipse-related information, including a guide to the path the eclipse will take across North America, handouts on watching this phenomenon safely and making pin-hole viewers. Lots of information is available. The eclipse information, handouts and protective glasses will also be available Aug.15-19 in the library’s Logan Room during regular library hours, while supplies last.

For more information, contact Julie Tipton at the library, 541-347-3221.

Cape Blanco Living History presentations underway

CAPE BLANCO – Scenes depicting life at the Hughes House near Cape Blanco in the early 1900s are underway. Visitors to the historic home can listen in on five-minute conversations between Jane Hughes (played by Inge Licon) and members of her family, neighbors and travelers. The presentations run each Wednesday, between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. with the final presentation Aug. 30.

Jane’s conversations include those with her son Edward (played by Greg Ryder) just back from a trip to bustling San Francisco, with neighbor Georgina McKenzie (a role shared by Deborah Wayne and Sonja Mason), with new daughter-in-law Annie (Ruth Barnes), with newly-ordained Father Keveny (Greg Ryder), with a young Irish immigrant Catherine Kelly (Emily Gwyn), and with Jane’s young grandchildren Annie and Agnes (Jada Ryder and Lily Albiston).

Kalee Shores, understudy for several roles, will assist the new Living History coordinator Susan Russell with preparations and rehearsals. Local historian Shirley Nelson wrote most of the scripts.

All participants volunteer their time to bring these scenes to life under the auspices of Oregon State Parks and the Cape Blanco Heritage Society.

Admission to Hughes House is free. Donations to the Living History Program are welcomed.

‘Wizard of Oz’ coming to Sprague

BANDON – “The Wizard of Oz” is coming to Bandon for 12 performances starting Thursday, Aug. 10, and concluding on Sunday, Aug. 27.

“The Wizard of Oz” is a heartwarming tale of magic and fantasy, good and evil and family and friendship. Based on L. Frank Baum’s novel and the 1939 film, this musical adaptation of “The Wizard of Oz” was originally produced by the Royal Shakespeare Company in London in 1987 with music by Harold Arlen and lyrics by E.Y. Harburg. The score is full of tunes from the timeless film such as “We’re Off To See the Wizard,” “If I Only Had A Brain,” “The Merry Old Land of Oz,” and, of course, the classic “Over The Rainbow.”

The Bandon Playhouse revival features a cast and crew of more than 40 local performers led by Zeta Hay as Dorothy, the charming young girl from Kansas. The supporting cast includes Lori Straley as Glinda the Good Witch, Heather Bouher as Miss Gulch/the Wicked Witch, Josiah Hay as the Tin Man, Dustin Wilson as the Scarecrow, Joe Latimer as the Cowardly Lion, and Peter Braun as Professor Marvel/The Wizard. This production also features a complete castle set, full costumes and many special effects.

The show is directed by Jeff Norris, with Paul Hay as producer.

The Sprague Theater performances are Thursday-Sunday, Aug. 10, 11, 12, and 13; Aug. 17, 18, 19 and 20; and Aug. 24, 25, 26, and 27. Thursday-Saturday performances are at 7 p.m., with Sunday matinees at 2 p.m. Tickets, priced at $13 to $15, can be ordered by phone at 541-236-5105, online at www.wizardinbandon.net or at the door, one hour prior to show.

The Bandon Playhouse, founded in 1976, is a non-profit community theater organization based in Bandon that has produced more than 100 revivals of hit Broadway shows. More information is available at www.bandonplayhouse.org.
