Did you know?

Did you know that dental hygiene principles were recorded a thousand years ago by a Middle Eastern doctor?

It's true! About 1100 AD the Persian physician Abulcasis wrote about plaque and tartar on teeth, how infection was transferred to the gum tissue, and recommended scraping the teeth with small tools, much like we do today.

We've come a long way! With excellent dental care from Dr. Strong, you will protect your teeth, look great, and feel even better. We're here to help!

Golf for Health Classic is Saturday

BANDON - The 10th Annual Golf for Health Classic is on Saturday, July 22, at Bandon Crossings Golf Course. The tournament is hosted by The Southern Coos Health Foundation, which raises money to benefit the Southern Coos Hospital & Health Center. Each year, golfers come to Bandon Crossings for a weekend of golf and fun — and to support a facility providing excellent healthcare on the southern Oregon coast. The Classic is generally recognized as the premier fundraising golf event on the Southern Oregon Coast, according to organizers.

Entry cost is $125 per player. For a Bronze Team (includes lunch on course and a special edition visor): $600

To sign up, call 541-329-1040 or go to www.southerncoos.org/bandongolfclassic.

Over the past 10 years, The Golf for Health Classic has raised nearly $200,000 for The Southern Coos Hospital & Health Center. These funds go directly to support the most critical needs of the community hospital. Funds raised at the Classic have helped purchase digital imaging systems - including digital mammography, an automated medication management system, a new heart monitoring system, upgrades to the laboratory equipment, swing beds, blanket warmers and many other pieces of necessary equipment.

"We are very proud of the efforts of our foundation and the generosity of our corporate and business sponsors, players and volunteers," said Southern Coos Health Foundation Executive Director Scott McEachern.

Wedgy Winchester, a former PING employee, the 1984 U.S. Long Drive Champion and one of the greatest golf trick shot artists of all times, will be performing at the Golf for Health Classic this year. Because Bandon is a town that truly appreciates golf, in honor of Winchester's visit, and in recognition of his contribu-

Oregon Coast Music Festival begins with Mingus Park concert

COOS BAY - The Bay Area Concert Band will perform its annual outdoor concert at noon Saturday, July 22, in Mingus Park; this marks the opening of the Oregon Music Festival's 39th year, which the band has been a part of since its inception. Steve Simpkins will be conducting.

The array of musical offerings will include "Andante et Allegro" by J. Ed. Barat, a challenging trombone solo featuring Don Walden. Currently Walden is the conductor of Southwestern Oregon Community Orchestra.

A rather unusual arrangement, "Mazama" by Jay Chattaway, will have the band vocalizing Native American Chants, as well as the effects of Native Flutes with multiple percussion instruments being played. "Mazama" is the Legend of the Pacific Northwest.

Another showcase, Satchmo!, a tribute to Louis Armstrong arranged by Ted Ricketts. The medley will include; "What a Wonderful World," "When the Saints Go Marching In," "St. Louis Blues" and "Hello, Dolly!" Wilbur Jensen will be in the spotlight on this one; rather fitting as he performed with Louis Armstrong on two separate occasions.

Rounding out the performance, tunes from "The Little Mermaid" by Alan Menken as well as traditional marches.

Bring your friends and families and a picnic lunch to enjoy this presentation. This concert is free, but donations appreciated.

The festival will continue at Marshfield High School Auditorium with OCMA's festival orchestra on Tuesday, July 25; Thursday, July 27; and Saturday, July 29. All performances will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Striders off Blacklock Point hike

PORT ORFORD -- Hike with the South Coast Striders to Blacklock Point from Floras Lake on Sunday July 23.

There will be long and short options for this hike.

Long Hike: Join Reg Pullen for this rugged 8.5 mile journey from Floras Lake to Blacklock Point along beaches, densely wooded trails and exposed rocky points with beautiful ocean views. This is a beautiful hike with plenty of history and local lore in the mix. It is rated difficult to most difficult, with some mild bush-whacking.

Dress in layers; a wind-breaker with a hood is highly recommended. Bring water and something to eat during a stop at the point.

Short Hike(s): Those wanting a shorter hike can hike with the long hikers to certain key landmarks, and then return (will range from 3-5 miles depending on the turnaround). This is always a great hike no matter what option is chosen.

Cape Blanco Living History presentations underway

CAPE BLANCO – Scenes depicting life at the Hughes House near Cape Blanco in the early 1900s are underway. Visitors to the historic home can listen in on five-minute conversations between Jane Hughes (played by Inge Licon) and members of her family, neighbors and travelers.

The presentations run each Wednesday, between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. with the final presentation Aug. 30.

Jane's conversations include those with her son Edward (played by Greg Ryder) just back from a trip to bustling San Francisco, with neighbor Georgina McKenzie (a role shared by Deborah Wayne and Sonja Mason), with new daughter-in-law Annie (Ruth Barnes), with newly-ordained Father Keveny (Greg Ryder), with a young Irish immigrant Catherine Kelly (Emily Gwyn), and with Jane's young grandchildren Annie and Agnes (Jada Ryder and Lily Albiston).

Kalee Shores, understudy for several roles, will assist the new Living History coordinator Susan Russell with preparations and rehearsals. Local historian Shirley Nelson wrote most of the scripts.

All participants volunteer their time to bring these scenes to life under the auspices of Oregon State Parks and the Cape Blanco Heritage Society.

Admission to Hughes House is free. Donations to the Living History Program are welcomed.
