North Bend police endorse Engelke for mayor

By DAVID RUPKALVIS
The World

Just more than a year after the North Bend Police Officers Association wrote a letter signifying no confidence in City Administrator David Milliron and disappointment in the city council, the union voted unanimously to endorse incumbent Mayor Jessica Engelke in the mayor's race for the city.

Patrick Kinney, the president of the association, said members met with Engelke last week and listened as Engelke gave her ideas for the future of the city.

"That coupled with our knowledge of what she's done over her tenure, we voted unanimously to support her," Kinney said.

Kinney said the letter signifying its lack of trust in Milliron was never meant to be public, and he acknowledged over the last year, a lot has changed in the city. That change is what led the police force to decide the city is on the right track.

"The other part of it is all the members of the police association are very committed, not just to the safety of our city but the future of our city," Kinney said. "We believe what she's accomplished over the last two years in indicative of what she will continue to accomplish."

Kinney said the controversy that erupted when the former police chief resigned has long been settled inside and outside the department.

"It's night and day," he said. "Obviously, you can't seek perfection out of any relationship. In North Bend, we obviously have a business relationship we maintain. At the same time, we're smaller and it's kind of like a big family. Yes, there was some tur-

Bandon officials prepare to amend vacation rental, ADU rules

By BREEANA LAUGHLIN
The World

The city of Bandon held a joint meeting between the City Council and Planning Commission on Monday, Sept. 19 to direct city staff to clarify and update multiple ordinances.

The main focus of the meeting was a discussion to update the city's vacation rental ordinance.

An issue in the 2018 vacation rental dwelling ordinance came up because it failed to accurately count the number of existing vacation rentals. The 2018 code requires vacation rentals to be single-dwelling detached residences. However, this caused multiple-unit vacation rentals that were already in existence to only be counted as a single vacation rental.

Planning commissioners and city council members discussed ways to accurately capture the "saturation" of vacation homes by counting each rental unit separately. They also discussed enacting fines for non-compliant vacation home rentals that were operating without permits.

Council members and commissioners said they would like to be able to track complaints to hold vacation rental owners accountable for renters who violate rules such as illegal parking, noise complaints and litter from overflowing garbage bins.

The group also directed staff to look into creating a vacation rental licensing system that would require a certain size of garbage can, as well as a potential checklist that would need to be completed before allowing a dwelling to become a vacation rental. There was also a discussion about a tiered licensing system that would allow an unlimited, a five year, or a partial vacation home rental license.

The planning commission and city council members also directed staff to only allow vacation rentals to be owned by a single person, and not a couple, or a corporation – and each person could only operate one rental in town.

Some local officials suggested putting a moratorium to put a temporary stop to new vacation rental permits until the existing ordinances were sorted out – although it was unclear if the ma-

Coos Bay gets a long-awaited look at Eastside School

By DAVID RUPKALVIS
The World

Two years after it first opened for students, the new Eastside School opened its doors to the public during an open house Tuesday.

The open house was an opportunity for parents and the community to get a look at the school that was built with bond funds after voters in Coos Bay approved a $60 million bond.

The bond money built Eastside on time and under budget and has also been used to build the new Marshfield Junior High and renovate Madison Elementary School.

Principal Kara Davidson greeted guests as they entered the school, which sits directly next to Millicoma Middle School. Davidson said with the two schools on the same parcel of land, they often work as one.

"We consider ourselves a K-6 campus, and we share employees," Davidson said.

Eastside was built to hold up to 400 students and currently has 310 to 315 enrolled, giving it room to grow.

"Our taxpayers, thank you for the building," Davidson said. "We're in our third year, and things are going smoother than ever."

Superintendent Charis McGaughy said she was thrilled to finally open the doors to the community after COVID restrictions limited on-campus activities the last two years.

"We're so excited to share with you this incredible learning space," McGaughy said. "Because of the pandemic, we haven't been able to have an open house."

McGaughy praised her predecessor Bryan Trendell and the school district staff that managed the money and the construction process for getting so much done with the bond money, not only at Eastside, but at every school in the district.

"I'm so proud to be part of Coos Bay School District," she said. "This school symbolizes how much this community values public education and our students."

Arnie Roblan, a member of the Coos Bay School District Board of Directors, said the bond that paid for Eastside is an unusual occurrence in the district.

"I have now been in Coos Bay School District for 50 years and had the opportunity to be the principal at Marshfield High for a number of those," Roblan said. "We got to build a new building, that was Pirate Hall. That was the first new building since Bunker Hill, and that was 50 years ago."

And Pirate Hall was built without bond funds, Roblan said.

It took two votes before the current bond was approved, and Roblan said the district has used the money from taxpayers very well.

Former school superintendent running for Congress

By BREEANA LAUGHLIN
The World

Jim Howard, a candidate running to represent Oregon's 4th Congressional District in the Nov. 8 general election, appeared at the Chetco Library in Brookings on Tuesday, Sept. 20 for a stop on his campaign trail.

The Eugene resident is a long-time superintendent of schools in the Pleasant Hill School district. He says this position gives him great negotiation skills.

"I was a very successful superintendent, and I negotiated delicate and sensitive subjects," Howard said.

Howard said he believes he could be a good influence on negotiations with countries in the Middle East, such as Israel and Palestine, as well as in Eastern Europe with the conflict between Russia and Ukraine.

If elected, Howard said, national defense would be one of his main points of emphasis.

"We must have a robust military to protect ourselves and negotiate from a strong position," he said.

Howard said he would also focus on finance, and living within our budget – as well as pay down the national deficit.

"I will also work to protect Medicare and social security," he said.

Howard is running as a candidate in the Constitution Party. He is running against Democrat Val Hoyle, Republican Alek Skarlatos, Independent Party Levy Leatherberry and Pacific Green Party Michael Beilstein.

Incumbent Peter DeFazio is not running for re-election.

Bay Area Fun Festival draws huge crowds

Thousands of spectators crammed downtown Coos Bay on Saturday to watch the Bay Area Fun Festival Parade. After being shut down for two years due to COVID, the crowd was eager for some fun, and the parade did not disappoint.

League to discuss election security

The League of Women Voters of Coos County will meet on Saturday, September 24, from 10:30 a.m. to noon at the North Bend City Council Chambers, 835 California Ave., North Bend. DeDe Murphy, Coos County Clerk, will be the guest of the League and will discuss election procedures and the security measures which protect against voting fraud. The public is invited to attend.

US Coast Guard Auxiliary offers boating class

The US Coast Guard Auxiliary will conduct an eight-hour boating safety education course on Saturday, October 15, in Coos Bay. The course covers the basics of boating safety, required equipment, rules of the road and Oregon boating laws. A test at the end of the course will qualify boaters for their Oregon Boater Education Card, under the Oregon Mandatory Boater Education Program. The Boater Education Card is required for all motorboat operators of all ages for boats over 10 horsepower. Additional provisions apply to youths. The class is taught by certified US Coast Guard Auxiliary and Oregon State Marine Board instructors. The cost of the course and materials is $15. Pre-registration is required. To register for the class, call (541) 267-6152

“We thought we’d get two buildings out of it,” Roblan said. “We’re going to get all of the buildings except the high school because the people in the district used the money wisely. We have been extremely fortunate. I can’t say how impressed I’ve been.” Nancy Giggy, with Integrity Management Solutions, explained the building process at Eastside, saying keeping the building on budget and on schedule was not an easy task. “This one was particularly fun,” Giggy said. “Every construction project has challenges; this one was a particular challenge. This is not a real hill. It’s made of dredgings. How do you build a three-story building on that?” To accomplish that, the contractors had to take 126 steel pilings and drive them 60 feet into the ground to establish a secure foundation. And the end result is a building designed to be used as an emergency shelter in case of an earthquake. And, it’s also a school the students and the community can be proud of. Once Davidson opened the school for tours, students grabbed their parents and rushed to their classrooms, while others leisurely toured the building that still looks almost brand new more than two years after it opened. Coos Bay School District is planning to host similar open houses in the coming months at Marshfield Junior High and Madison.

moil. We’ve worked really closely with Chief (Gary) McCullough and Capt. (Cal) Mitts. The relationship we have with them is phenomenal.”

Kinney said when McCullough and Mitts agreed to come out of retirement to help North Bend, it sent a strong message to the officers. “Knowing there was turmoil, they looked at us, they looked at our department and our city and said we could do something,” Kinney said. “Since they stepped in, the overall safety of our city has improved. I’ve seen more improvement. It’s kind of like we’re getting back to the North Bend we used to be.” And as a result, the relationship with the city administrator and the council has also healed. “I’ve personally met with Mayor Engelke and City Administrator Milliron and addressed the things that were in that letter,” Kinney said. “I’ve not seen the concerns we had continue. I’ve seen a complete and total turnaround. In some of the meeting I had with Mr. Milliron, he made some statements about what he wants in the city. So far, everything he said has happened.” Kinney said under the leadership of Engelke, the police force has been able to make changes that have not only improved the safety of the city, but the morale of the officers who work day to day to keep it safe. He said her biggest accomplishment was letting McCullough and Mitts make needed changes. “I have the utmost faith in both Chief McCullough and Capt. Mitts,” Kinney said. “I’ve been in North Bend 18 years, and the work environment we have right now is probably the very best I’ve seen in a long time. I see great things for North Bend. Obviously, there’s a lot of different issues at play and a complicated job market. Right now, none of the senior officers are looking to leave and a year ago, we were all looking to leave.” Kinney said the police association has endorsed in the past, but it does not endorse every year or in every race. But, he said, with the strides North Bend has made, the association felt endorsing Engelke had to be done. “Right now, we see things on such a forward-moving trend, that if we didn’t say something, we would be failing our city,” he said.

Cruise the Coos brings back fond memories

Hundreds of people turned out to check out vintage vehicles during the annual Cruise the Coos car show at The Mill Casino on Saturday. While most of the guests came to see the classic cars, like this 1928 Model A Tub, an English mastiff named Tub also got a lot of attention. Another popular vehicle was this 1941 Cadillac rat rod owned by Janice Gibbs of Coos Bay. The vehicle was built by Gibbs' father, and Janice continues to show it every year in his memory.

OBITUARIES

Shelba Jean Summers

April 27, 1938 – September 14, 2022

Graveside service for Shelba Jean Summers, 84, of Myrtle Point, will be held at 1:00 PM on Friday, September 23, 2022 at Myrtle Crest Memorial Gardens in Coquille.

Shelba was born on April 27, 1938 in Madisonville, Tennessee to Kenneth and Lena (Ivans) Stratton. She died September 14, 2022 at her home in Myrtle Point.

She moved to Coquille at a young age, settling in Fairview. Shelba married Richard Keith Summers on June 27, 1954 in Fairview. She worked as a waitress at several restaurants for many years before buying the Busy Corner in Coquille which she ran for many years before she retired. After she sold the restaurant, she and Keith moved to Alaska for a few months before returning back to Oregon, settling in Myrtle Point. When she was able, she loved bowling.

Shelba is survived by her husband of 68 years, Keith Summers; daughters, Pam Snodgrass, Laurie Price and Tracey Godfrey; brother, Donald Stratton; she is also survived by eight grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her parents and six siblings.

Joe Eddy Burch

September 10, 1950 – September 13, 2022

Joe Eddy Burch, 72, of Coos Bay, Oregon, passed away on September 13, 2022, while holding the hand of his wife and love of his life, Kayte. Joe was born in Mesa, Arizona on September 10, 1950, and moved to Coos County with his family as a teenager.

Although raised in Arizona, Joe was a true Oregonian. He loved Coos Bay, its people, and mostly, the land. He worked in the fishing, timber and reforestation industries for most of his life. To walk the woods with Joe was a gift. His knowledge of local forests, their flora, and wild mushrooms was unparalleled, and his passion for them was contagious.

Joe was loved. Not just by his family, but by nearly everyone he met. Joe greeted everyone with a big, warm smile, earning him the moniker “Smilin’ Joe.” Joe’s smile, like everything about him, was genuine. He saw the best in people and was always available to lend a hand when needed. He was generous, kind, and joyful.

Joe’s greatest love was his wife, Kayte. They met in 1989 in Charleston. Kayte waited tables at the Basin Café where Joe would eat after working as an offshore fisherman. It was love at first sight. They married in 1992 and lived side by side for 33 years.

Joe was a dedicated husband, father, and grandfather. He is survived by Kayte; their sons, Jacob, Jason and Justin; and grandchildren, Gavin, Lillian, Jamin and Brandon. He is also survived by his sons from his first marriage, Joey, Jeremy and their families; his sisters, Cindy, Deb, Judy, Pam, Rebecca and Sherry; many wonderful nephews, nieces and cousins; and an incredible caregiver, Amber, who worked with Kayte and Jake to make Joe’s final days happier and more comfortable.

Joe was preceded in death by his parents, Betty and Jack; and his brothers, Jack, Bobby and Ralph.

At Joe’s request there will be no formal service this year. The family is planning a celebration of life to take place on what would have been his 73rd birthday in 2023.

Friends and family are encouraged to sign the online guestbook at www.coosbayareafunerals.com and www.theworldlink.com. Arrangements are under the care of North Bend Chapel, 541-756-0440.

Oregon Humanities invites Oregonians to exchange letters in a pen-pal project with a twist

The challenges of recent years have left many Oregonians feeling disconnected and alone: COVID, strident partisanship, and deepening social divides all make it harder to connect with others. Dear Stranger, a letter-exchange project from Oregon Humanities, offers a chance for connection by inviting Oregonians to write letters with someone they’ve never met.

Oregon Humanities is a statewide organization that brings people together to talk, listen, and learn from one another. "Dear Stranger asks us to intentionally reflect and share about our experiences," says Lucy Solares-Steger, the coordinator at Oregon Humanities who runs the Dear Stranger project. "While at first this can be daunting or challenging, many letter writers find that they're able to work through these experiences by writing them out, and through this, make a really impactful connection with another person."

The aim of Dear

Stranger is to create shared understanding among Oregonians with different backgrounds, experiences, and beliefs. The premise is simple: Write a letter, get a letter, and make a new connection. Oregon Humanities has operated Dear Stranger since 2014, with each round of the project asking writers to address a different question or theme. More than one thousand people have exchanged letters through the project to date.

This summer’s prompt for writers is about memory: “Who or what should we remember? How do you make new memories, and how do you process old ones? When do you choose to document them, and when do you hold them internally?”

Instructions for participation are available on the Oregon Humanities website at oregonhumanities.org. Letters are swapped anonymously, and each person receives a letter from the person who received the one they wrote. What happens next is up to the writers. If they’d like to write back, they can do so through Oregon Humanities.

Letters should be addressed to Oregon Humanities, Attn: Dear Stranger, 610 SW Alder St., Suite 1111, Portland, Oregon, 97205. Oregon Humanities will exchange letters mailed by October 31, 2022.

Questions about Dear Stranger should be directed to programs@oregonhumanities.org.

Oregon Humanities connects people and communities through conversation, storytelling, and participatory programs to inspire understanding and collaborative change. Oregon Humanities is an independent, nonprofit affiliate of the National Endowment for the Humanities and a partner of the Oregon Cultural Trust.

DEAR ABBY

By Abigail Van Buren

WIFE CAN'T ABIDE HUSBAND'S OTHER LOVE: HIS WEED

DEAR ABBY: I have been with my husband for seven years, and I'm tired of having the same fight every day. He smokes marijuana, and I hate it. It has been a constant battle for years. We tried therapy, which helped for a while, but he goes back to smoking behind my back. We tried to reach a compromise that he smoke only after a certain time of day, but it still leads to fights.

He shuts me out when he's doing drugs and says I don't care about his happiness because it's something he enjoys, and I am taking it away. I love him so much, but I hate drugs and don't like who he becomes when he's smoking.

I want to have a baby, but I am uncomfortable with drugs being in the house. I feel like I can't trust him to be alone with a baby when he's high. I don't want to leave him, but I can't take it anymore. Having the same fight every day is exhausting, and it's had a really negative impact on our marriage. I want him to choose me over this, but if I give him an ultimatum, he'll hate me. What do I do? -- ANTI-DRUG IN ILLINOIS

DEAR ANTI-DRUG: Give your husband that ultimatum and pack your bags. If you prefer the father of your child not have a marijuana habit and he cannot quit, then, as much as you may love him, this person isn't The One for you. Sorry.

DEAR ABBY: I've read your column for years, frequently taking advice you provide to others and applying it to my circumstances. I have developed a mutual bond with a woman who is 30 -- 28 years younger than myself. She's a waitress at a diner I frequent. I've seen her children grow over the past six or seven years. We have had many meaningful conversations and shared our highs and lows. She's naturally friendly.

Three or four years ago, she began sharing casual side hugs when I arrived. I never ask for them. Over the last year, these hugs have become more intimate, not in a sexual way -- just a deeper bond of friendship. We occasionally IM when she's off work, but I don't see her socially.

Lately she has been teasing that she'll be my next ex. I reciprocate the flirting and teasing. I believe there is a mutual attraction. If not for the age difference, which I'm OK with, or the fear of causing issues with our friendship, I'd ask her out. Societal taboos weigh heavily on my mind, and I am pragmatic. Should I or shouldn't I? Or am I reading too much into our friendship? -- UNSURE

IN THE MIDWEST

DEAR UNSURE: Not having witnessed the chemistry between the two of you, I couldn't say. However, nothing ventured, nothing gained. The next time you see her, after one of those "more intimate" hugs, tell her teasingly that you have been thinking about her comment that she'll be your next ex and ask if she'd like to have dinner with you sometime. Her response will tell you if you have been reading too much into the friendship.

Wild horses need to stop ruling the range

By TED WILLIAMS

They are icons of America’s past, symbols of our pioneering spirit. Eyes flashing, nostrils flaring, tails obscured by a cloud of dust, they tear across the landscape. I am, of course, referring to feral hogs.

More on feral hogs directly. But first some background on another feral ungulate. Few issues in the West are more incendiary than management of “wild horses.” Advocates proclaim them “natives” that should be “wild and free.”

Opponents submit that these proliferating aliens are harming land and wildlife belonging to all Americans.

The federal management goal for these horses on public lands is 27,000. Yet the U.S. Bureau of Land Management (BLM), the agency charged with tending them, estimates the current population at 64,604. The Journal of Wildlife Management reports 300,000 on all lands — public, private and tribal. Federal law precludes effective feral-horse management. Unmanaged populations increase by 20 percent annually.

No less prolific are feral hogs. They’re “wild and free,” too. Having grown up with horses and hogs, I can attest that hogs are more intelligent than horses. And while feral hogs are destructive of native ecosystems, they’re no more so than feral horses. So why are there no feral-hog support groups protesting their culling on public lands?

Happily for native wildlife, there has yet to be a Wild Hog Annie. “Wild Horse Annie” was the Nevada woman whose campaign to save “wild horses” inspired animal lovers across America to write impassioned letters to senators and congressmen, demanding that feral equines be protected forever.

The result was the Wild Free-Roaming Horse and Burro Act of 1971, which mandated the BLM to manage these animals so as “to achieve and maintain a thriving natural ecological balance.” That task is impossible. No invasive species can thrive or even exist in “natural ecological balance.”

So we spend $160 million a year rounding up feral horses and placing them on perpetual welfare, with almost 50,000 permanently held in corrals or pastures. That’s more than half the $300 million we spend on all 1,618 endangered and threatened species native to the United States.

Horses and burros are the only ungulates in North America with solid hooves and meshing upper and lower teeth. Most native vegetation can’t deal with that. Yet in some areas BLM range management goals call for 15 or 20 horses when its own science tells it that 100 is the threshold for genetic viability. Why aren’t these marginal herds zeroed out?

“Feral horses are worse than cows,” declares retired BLM biologist

TED WILLIAMS

Erick Campbell. “When the grass between shrubs is gone, a cow is out of luck, but a horse will stomp that plant to death to get that last blade. When cows run out of forage the cowboys move them, but horses are out there all year. BLM exacerbates the problem by hauling water to them.”

And this from Dave Pulliam, former Nevada Department of Wildlife habitat chief: “Horses will stand over a spring and run off other animals. In desert country, seeps and springs are the most important habitats for a whole myriad of species — sagebrush obligate birds, mule deer, bighorns, pronghorns, everything. And horses absolutely beat springs into mud holes. But our wildlife constituents don’t get as vociferous as the horse lovers.”

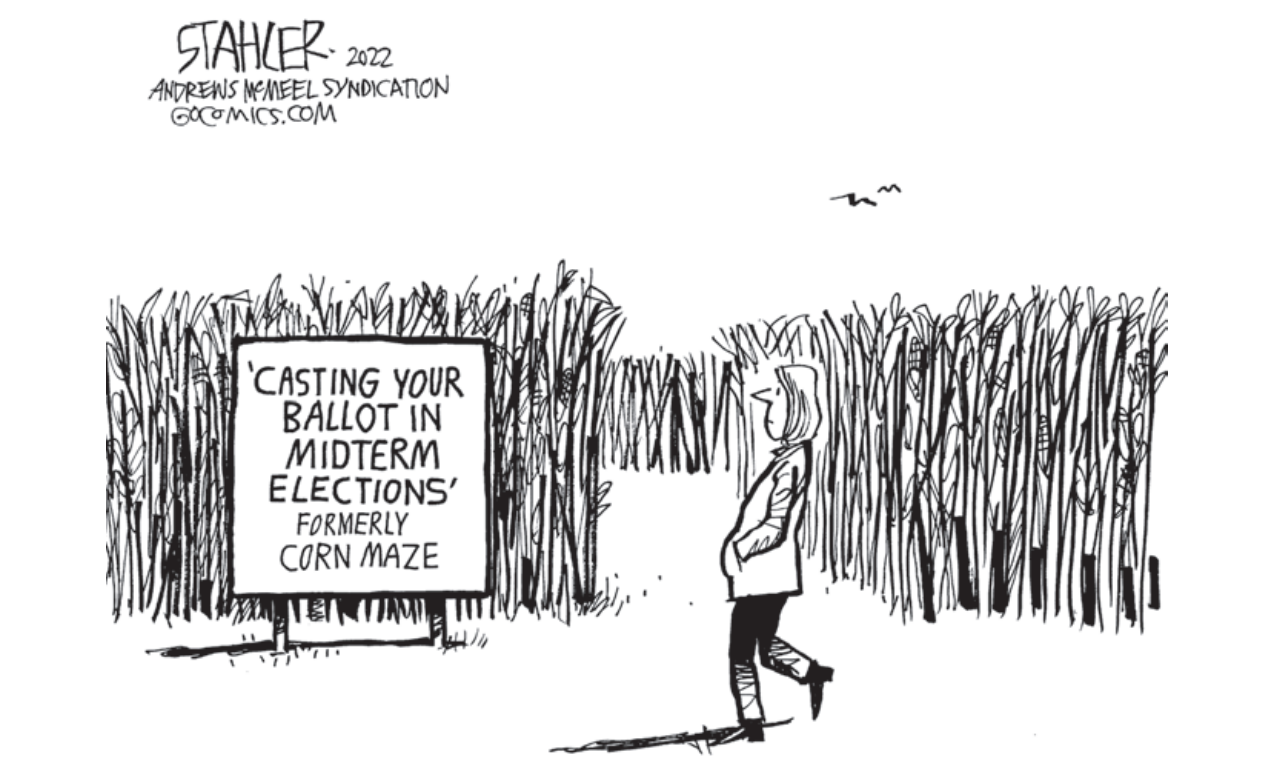

“Vociferous” is an apt adjective. Feral-horse groups confound the media, bully the environmental community, terrify Congress, beat up BLM and spew junk science. They are also well-funded and adept at manipulating people who have dreamed of owning horses since childhood. And they chant three mantras:

Cows do more damage than feral horses. That’s like saying we should ignore Covid because more people die from heart disease. The only thing wrong with cattle grazing is that it’s not always done right. When it is done right it can benefit native ecosystems by duplicating the range-renewal role of bison. That’s why the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and The Nature Conservancy lease land to ranchers.

Feral horses are historical treasures because they descended from animals brought from Spain by the conquistadores. They’re not. They’re mostly mongrels — a morass of domestic breeds that have recently escaped or been discarded. Feral horses are native because a somewhat similar species was found in North America before it went extinct 10,000 years ago. That’s like calling elephants native because the continent once sustained woolly mammoths.

With feral horses, facts should outweigh sentiment. Yet wise management is an uphill and losing battle. It’s time for science and common sense to prevail.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Engelke for North Bend mayor

Jessica has been a great mayor of North Bend during the most challenging of times and is the best choice for the city moving forward. She has collaborated continuously with the NB community and businesses as well as our ambassador with our neighbor Coos Bay and communities throughout the state.

She is the mayor we need now to help make our community and move forward to once again become a more thriving coastal economy. I wholeheartedly support Jessica and hope you will too.

Walk to stop suicide

As part of the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention’s Coos County Out of the Darkness Walk, I will be walking on Saturday, September 24, at Mingus Park to draw attention to the importance of suicide prevention. I won’t be walking alone. I will be joined by many who share my dedication. Last year, over 550 Out of the Darkness Walks took place in communities and on campuses across the United States, attended by a quarter of a million dedicated people who share my passion. Our movement is growing.

Like many, I walk because suicide has affected me personally. I have lost too many friends and family members and my resolve to end this epidemic is strong. In my effort to reduce suicide, I have dedicated my time to educating others about suicide prevention and mental health.

Our goal is to spread awareness of what is currently the 10th leading cause of death in the U.S., and let others know they are not alone. Please help us ensure that mental health is looked upon in equal importance to physical health, and continue to bring hope to those affected by suicide. Join me in this walk. We need you.

Logging does not stop fires

The timber industry and its politicians also want the public to believe more logging will stop large wildfires. But in 2016, in the most expansive analysis of the issue so far, scientists found that forests with the fewest environmental protections and the most logging had the highest — not the lowest — levels of fire intensity. Why? Because logging removes relatively non-combustible tree trunks but leaves behind flammable “slash debris” consisting of kindling-like branches and treetops.

In 2015, more than 260 scientists wrote to Congress opposing legislation that would weaken environmental laws and increase logging on national forests under the guise of curbing wildfires, noting that snag forests with their dead trees are “quite simply some of the best wildlife habitat in forests.”

Another comprehensive study, published in the Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences, thoroughly debunked the myth that beetle-killed trees lead to more intense fires. A more recent study found that forests with high levels of dead snags actually burn less intensely because pine needles and small twigs fall to the ground and quickly decay after trees die.

If politicians were really interested in forest ecosystem health, they should be advocating for the Northern Rockies Ecosystem Protection Act, S.936 in the Senate and H.R.2135 in the House of Representatives.

This citizen-developed and science-based plan is inspired by conservation biology, bestowing the protection our region richly deserves and upon which our fish, wildlife and regional economy depend. Rather than further fragmenting and isolating our wildlife habitat, it would protect our last existing roadless areas by designating them as wilderness areas and work to reconnect them while employing thousands of people with good restoration jobs in the process.

Subsidizing more logging with millions of taxpayer dollars won’t make our forests healthier, keep water clean, or benefit the West’s fisheries and wildlife. What it will result in is more corporate welfare, more weed-infested, fire-prone forests, more sediment-filled streams, and less fish and wildlife. Stumps and slash are not the solution. Ancient wilderness is.

Experience is important

Alek Skarlatos did a brave thing. He was traveling in Europe with two men who had served a tour of duty in Afghanistan together. On a train in France they were confronted with an armed radical terrorist.

The three men using their training, skill and experience, attacked and overwhelmed the terrorist saving many lives. He did a brave thing.

Alek Skarlatos has absolutely no experience with working in the government. He has never been on a school board, or a library board, or a city council, or a budget committee or has had any other possible government related experience. He is unprepared to adequately represent the interests of the 4th CD in Washington.

The United States Congress is no place for on-the-job-training. Alek Skarlatos will be completely controlled and directed by the special interests, paid lobbyists and the radical right GOP who are paying for his campaign.

Val Hoyle has been a business woman for 25 years. She has served in the Oregon State Legislator for eight years during which time she has developed and honed the skills and experience required to write legislative items and regulations needed to accomplish the work and responsibilities of our state government. She has developed the ability to work with people of different parties and ideas and points of view to accomplish the things that need to be accomplished. Val is currently Oregon’s Labor Commissioner. She is the head of an extremely important agency of the State government. All through her government service, she has produced legislation and programs that have promoted the wellbeing of the people of Oregon, protecting women’s rights, workers rights, increasing the minimum wage, increasing apprenticeship programs, creating jobs, and protecting women’s health care.

Val Hoyle is eminently capable and ready to represent the interests and wellbeing of the people of the 4th CD in the United States Congress.

Given the choice between a skilled, knowledgeable, experienced candidate and a totally inexperienced, unprepared candidate, whom would you choose.

Think about it.

Abusing American privilege

I believe Stan Avery (Letters, World 9-16-22) is correct in pointing out that privilege and persecution have always existed. But it seems to me naive and demonstrably false to imply it no longer exists in America (“failure of past centuries”). I think there is a difference between indoctrination and education, and to prohibit relevant information about abuses of American privilege is detrimental to society. Students should be able to access books and media that expose these problems in our society in the hope that they can develop a better way going forward. I don’t see that as “cultivating conflict and division.” I see it as identifying problems that can be discussed and eventually corrected.

The United States of America is a nation born of immigrants on land largely taken from indigenous populations. We citizens have (or should have, after 240 plus years) an exceptional tolerance for diversity. Mr. Avery is right on target when he points to our Constitutional Republic as what draws people here from other countries. Freedom of expression should not be stifled by excluding a sensitive subject that is such an integral part of human nature.

Terry Moore
North Bend

We need more logging

With all the wildfires we are having, we need to stop and do some logging. Because being afraid to log has contributed to the fires. If less dead trees are used they would not be burnt and the smoke would be less.

The Four Freedoms

I am thinking about January 6. January 6, 1941. I was in the first grade at the Golden Falls School and that is the day President Roosevelt made his Four Freedoms speech in his State of the Union address that year. World War II had already started in Europe and throughout grade school at Allegany we were told of those Four Freedoms, that we were fighting for them. We were told that they were opposite of the “new order of tyranny which the dictators seek to create.

What are those four essential freedoms? Number one and two are freedom of speech and freedom of religion. They are enshrined in the First Amendment to the Constitution. Number three and four are different. They are freedoms FROM something: freedom FROM want, and freedom FROM fear. Freedom from want implies that there should be a living minimum wage, for example; that the wealth of the middle class should not continue to be siphoned off to the top 1%. Freedom from want implies a need for economic justice.

Freedom from fear is related but different. President Roosevelt used the bombs going off in Europe as his example of a cause of fear that we should be free of. (Bombs are going off in Europe again today, the result of another tyranny trying to overthrow a democracy.)

Roosevelt wanted a reduction in armaments to reduce aggression against neighbors. In our country, with its 400 million guns in private hands, too many of them are used against neighbors. Knowing that the stranger next to you in a crowd may have a loaded firearm concealed on his person can be a source of fear for many.

Exactly 80 years after the Four Freedoms speech was the violence of January 6, 2021. A lot happened in those 80 years but no one expected that a president of the United States would ever encourage his un-democratic followers to violently attack the Capital to stop Congress from exercising its constitutional duties; to prevent the peaceful transfer of power resulting from a free and fair election. No one thought that would ever happen, but it did. Our democracy, and the freedoms it is established to secure, are fragile and in danger. In grade school they taught us to be vigilant or we might lose them. We might.

TRUSTEE'S NOTICE OF SALE
Reference is made to that certain trust deed made by Harley Meservy and Raegan M. Meservy, as grantor, to Andrew D. Hahs, as trustee, in favor of BCIF Holdings I, LLC, as beneficiary, dated April 23, 2019, recorded on April 26, 2019, in the Records of Coos County, Oregon, as instrument number 2019-03380 covering the following described real property situated in that county and state, to-wit: SEE EXHIBIT A. Both the beneficiary and the trustee have elected to sell the real property to satisfy the obligations secured by the trust deed and a notice of default has been recorded pursuant to Oregon Revised Statutes 86.752 (3); the default for which the foreclosure is made in grantor's failure to pay when due the following sums: SEE EXHIBIT B. By reason of the default just described, the beneficiary has declared all sums owing on the obligation secured by the trust deed immediately due and payable, those sums being the following, to-wit: SEE EXHIBIT B. WHEREFORE, notice is hereby given that the undersigned trustee will on December 1, 2022, at the hour of 10:00 o'clock, A.M., in accord with the standard of time established by ORS 187.110, at Coos County Courthouse, front steps, 250 N. Baxter St., Coquille, OR 97423, in the City of Coquille, County of Coos, State of Oregon, sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash the interest in the real property described above which the grantor had or had power to convey at the time of the execution by grantor of the trust deed together with any interest which the grantor or grantor's successors in interest acquired after the execution of the trust deed, to satisfy the foregoing obligations thereby secured and the costs and expenses of the sale, including a reasonable charge by the trustee. Notice is further given that any person named in ORS 86.778 has the right, at any time prior to five days before the date last set for the sale, to have this foreclosure proceeding dismissed and the trust deed reinstated by payment to the beneficiary of the entire amount then due (other than such portion of the principal as would not then be due had no default occurred) and by curing any other default complained of herein that is capable of being cured by tendering the performance required under the obligation or trust deed, and in addition to paying those sums or tendering the performance necessary to cure the default, by paying all costs and expenses actually incurred in enforcing the obligation and trust deed, together with trustee and attorney fees not exceeding the amounts provided by ORS 86.778. Without limiting the trustee's disclaimer of representations or warranties, Oregon law requires the trustee to state in this notice that some residential property sold at a trustee's sale may have been used in manufacturing methamphetamines, the chemical components of which are known to be toxic. Prospective purchasers of residential property should be aware of this potential danger before deciding to place a bid for this property at the trustee's sale. In construing this notice, the singular includes the plural, the word "grantor" includes any successor in interest to the grantor as well as any other person owing an obligation, the performance of which is secured by the trust deed, and the words "trustee" and "beneficiary" include their respective successors in interest, if any. Both the beneficiary and the trustee have elected to sell the said real property to satisfy the obligations secured by said trust deed and notice has been recorded pursuant to Section 86.752(3) of Oregon Revised Statutes. There is a default by grantor or other person owing an obligation, performance of which is secured by the trust deed, or by the successor in interest, with respect to provisions therein which authorize sale in the event of such provision. The default for which foreclosure is made is grantor's failure to pay when due the following sum: TOTAL REQUIRED TO REINSTATE: $44,057.44 TOTAL REQUIRED TO PAYOFF: $226,788.97 Because of interest, late charges, and other charges that may vary from day-to- day, the amount due on the day you pay may be greater. It will be necessary for you to contact the Trustee before the time you tender reinstatement or the payoff amount so that you may be advised of the exact amount you will be required to pay. By reason of the default, the beneficiary has declared all sums owing on the obligation secured by the trust deed immediately due and payable, those sums being the following, to- wit: The installments of principal and interest which became due on 5/1/- 2019, and all subsequent installments of principal and interest through the date of this Notice, plus amounts that are due for late charges, delinquent property taxes, insurance premiums, advances made on senior liens, taxes and/or insurance, trustee's fees, and any attorney fees and court costs arising from or associated with the beneficiaries efforts to protect and preserve its security, all of which must be paid as a condition of reinstatement, including all sums that shall accrue through reinstatement or pay-off. Nothing in this notice shall be construed as a waiver of any fees owing to the Beneficiary under the Deed of Trust pursuant to the terms of the loan documents. Whereof, notice hereby is given that QUALITY LOAN SERVICE CORPORATION OF WASHINGTON, the undersigned trustee will on 12/6/2022 at the hour of 11:00 AM, Standard of Time, as established by section 187.110, Oregon Revised Statutes, At the Main Entrance to the Coos County Courthouse, located at 250 North Baxter Street, Coquille, OR 97423 County of COOS, State of Oregon, sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash the interest in the said described real property which the grantor had or had power to convey at the time of the execution by him of the said trust deed, together with any interest which the grantor or his successors in interest acquired after the execution of said trust deed, to satisfy the foregoing obligations thereby secured and the costs and expenses of sale, including a reasonable charge by the trustee. Notice is further given that any person named in Section 86.778 of Oregon Revised Statutes has the right to have the foreclosure proceeding dismissed and the trust deed reinstated by payment to the beneficiary of the entire amount then due (other than such portion of said principal as would not then be due had no default occurred), together with the costs, trustee's and attorney's fees and curing any other default complained of in the Notice of Default by tendering the performance required under the obligation or trust deed, at any time prior to five days before the date last set for sale. Other than as shown of record, neither the beneficiary nor the trustee has any actual notice of any person having or claiming to have any lien upon or interest in the real property hereinabove described subsequent to the interest of the trustee in the trust deed, or of any successor in interest to grantor or of any lessee or other person in possession of or occupying the property, except: Name and Last Known Address and Nature of Right, Lien or Interest KATHLEEN SARACENI 1365 FORD LN NORTH BEND, OR 97459 Original Borrower RICARDO SARACENI 1365 FORD LN NORTH BEND, OR 97459 Original Borrower For Sale Information Call: 800-280-2832 or Login to: www.auction.com In construing this notice, the singular includes the plural, the word "grantor" includes any successor in interest to this grantor as well as any other person owing an obligation, the performance of which is secured by the trust deed, and the words "trustee" and "beneficiary" include their respective successors in interest, if any. ## Area residents win age groups in Prefontaine Memorial Run

South Coast residents finished first in 12 different age groups in the Prefontaine Memorial Run last weekend.

The annual event, held for the 41st time and first after being cancelled two straight years due to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, drew more than 400 runners.

The overall winner was Manuel Finley of Seattle, who had twice finished second and finally won with a time of 34 minutes and 31 seconds for the 10,000-meter course. The top female finisher was Nicole Goens of Rogue River, who finished in 40:31.

Female runners from the South Coast who finished first in their age groups included Hazel Millet of Coquille in the 1-9 age group with a time of 1:01:45; Riley Mullanix of Coos Bay in the 10-14 division (55:37); Amarissa Wooden of Coos Bay in the 40-44 age group (44:34); Ellen Kramer of Coos Bay in the 45-49 division (49:50); Jennifer Fedorov of Florence in the 50-54 age group (44:20); Barb Young of Coos Bay in the 60-64 division (58:19); Diane Williams of Coquille in the 70-74 age group (1:10:17) and Judy Remele of Coquille in the 75-79 division (1:23:15).

South Coast male runners who finished first in their divisions were Dominick Low of Coos Bay in 1-9 (59:57), Noah Brown of Bandon for runners 10-14 (43:02); Paul Danakowski of Coos Bay in the 20-24 division (44:31); and Denny Littrell of Coos Bay in the 75-79 age group (55:15).

DevilCats hand Gold Beach first league loss in boys soccer

The combined Coquille-Myrtle Point boys soccer team got a big league win Tuesday when it topped visiting Gold Beach 4-2 in a Class 3A-2A-1A District 4 match.

The DevilCats kept their league and season record perfect with the victory. They now are 4-0, and one of two remaining unbeaten teams in the league along with Umpqua Valley Christian, which beat Sutherlin 4-1. Gold Beach suffered its first league loss.

Coquille also was in the coaches poll for the first time, in 10th place for Class 3A-2A-1A. The DevilCats hosted South Umpqua on Thursday (results were not available by press time) and visit Glide on Tuesday before their first meeting with Umpqua Valley Christian next Tuesday in Coquille.

MARIST CATHOLIC 3, NORTH BEND 1: The Spartans topped the visiting Bulldogs in their Sky-Em League opener. North Bend fell to 1-3-1 overall with a match Thursday at Junction City and another at home against Cottage Grove on Tuesday.

GIRLS SOCCER
MARIST CATHOLIC 5, NORTH BEND 0: The powerful Spartans shut out the visiting Bulldogs in their Sky-Em League opener on Tuesday.

The Spartans improved to 6-1, with five of the wins coming by shutout. North Bend was 2-4 heading into a match Thursday at Junction City and hosts Cottage Grove on Tuesday.

LAKEVIEW 8, COQUILLE 0: The Honkers shut out the visiting Coquille-Myrtle Point team in a Class 3A-2A-1A District 4 match on Monday.

The DevilCats, now 0-5, are off until hosting North Valley next Monday.

North Bend volleyball team follows tourney title with first league win

North Bend swept host Junction City in a Sky-Em League match on Monday, 25-16, 25-23, 25-20, improving to 1-1 in league play.

The win continued a hot streak for the Bulldogs that started during the weekend.

North Bend was coming off taking the tournament title in the Estacada Invitational on Saturday.

The Bulldogs, who finished second in their morning pool to Scappoose, beat Fort Vancouver of Washington 25-16, 28-29, 15-7 in the quarterfinals, topped Scappoose in the semifinals 25-13, 25-19 and beat host Estacada in the championship match 23-25, 25-20, 15-11.

The title was particularly impressive given some unusual circumstances, according to an article by OSAA today on the Oregon School Activities Association platform that reported:

“North Bend had an eventful but ultimately successful weekend at the Estacada Invitational on Saturday. The Bulldogs intended to stay the night before Saturday’s tournament at a hotel in Wilsonville, but discovered bed bugs in their rooms, prompting a change.

The next morning, a fire alarm at the tournament disrupted pool play. North Bend finished second to Scappoose in its pool, then won three bracket matches to take the championship. The Bulldogs defeated Fort Vancouver in three sets in the quarterfinal, exacted revenge on Scappoose in a semifinal sweep then recovered from a dropped set in the final to Estacada, which hadn’t dropped a set all tournament long, to down the Rangers in three sets. Senior setter Hayden Napier sparked North Bend with some great serving to start the final set.

“We played a solid match and it was a great all-around team performance to beat the home team on their own turf,” noted North Bend coach Summer Sawyer. “We are a young team which has had a pretty rocky start coming off of a tremendous senior-led season last year. We are learning to work through the growing pains and this weekend was just what we needed to boost our confidence and morale!”

North Bend hosted Cottage Grove on Thursday (results weren’t available by press time) and compete in the North Marion tournament this weekend.

PIRATES SWEEP LIONS: Marshfield got off to a fast start and dominated host Cottage Grove 25-3, 25-13, 25-13 to improve to 2-0 in Sky-Em League play.

Bridget Gould and Tatum Montiel had nine kills each and Paige Macduff eight. Ava Ainsworth had 23 assists and three aces. Gracie Peach had 13 digs.

The Pirates host Marist Catholic on Tuesday and then have their first match of the season at North Bend on Thursday.

RED DEVILS GET BIG WIN: Coquille outlasted visiting Cascade Christian in a five-set marathon for a key win in the Class 3A Far West League.

Coquille won 25-14, 14-25, 23-25, 25-15, 15-10, handing the Challengers their first league loss and improving to 3-0 in the process. This year, the 11 members of the league face each other just one time each.

Coquille, which was at Glide on Thursday, are at the Creswell tournament on Saturday and host St. Mary’s on Tuesday.

TIGERS TOP BRAVE: Bandon swept host Reedsport 25-8, 25-19, 25-21 for its second straight Valley Coast Conference win on Tuesday.

The Tigers are 4-1 in league play, the lone loss at home to Monroe on Saturday. They hosted Oakland on Thursday and will be at Illinois Valley on Tuesday. Reedsport is still seeking its first win and hosted Illinois Valley on Thursday. The Brave face Central Linn and East Linn Christian on Saturday in a pair of league matches at Waldport and then travel to Waldport again Tuesday to face the Irish.

BOBCATS FALL: Days Creek handed host Myrtle Point its first Skyline League Loss, beating the Bobcats 25-18, 25-21, 20-25, 25-22 on Tuesday. Myrtle Point fell to 3-1 heading into a home match against Umpqua Valley Christian on Thursday. They compete in the Mustang Classic at Mohawk High School on Saturday.

HORNETS SWEEP PACIFIC: The Pirates fell in a Skyline League match at Camas Valley 25-4, 25-18, 25-18 on Tuesday. Pacific fell to 0-4 in league play heading into a home match against Days Creek on Tuesday.

Bandon girls get win in battle of top teams

Bandon’s girls cross country team edged Siuslaw in an early battle of two state champions from last fall now in the same classification as the Tigers hosted the Fugate Farms Invitational last week.

The Tigers edged Siuslaw 27-29, led by individual winner Dani McLain and runner-up Marley Petrey. Glide had the only other complete team among the 13 schools in the event.

McLain covered the 5,000-meter course in 19 minutes and 23 seconds, more than a minute ahead of Petrey (20:46). Teammate Cassie Kennon was fifth (21:22) and Lilly Iverson was 10th (22:21). Safaa Dimitruk finished Bandon’s scoring in 12th (22:27).

Siuslaw had all five of its scoring runners in the top nine. Corduroy Holbrook was third (20:48), Alison Hughes sixth (21:26), Maya Wells seventh (21:37), Jane Lacouture eighth (22:11) and Addison McNeill ninth (22:19).

Coquille’s Ada Millet finished fourth in 20:54 while the next runner not from Bandon or Siuslaw was Marshfield’s Riley Mullanix in 14th (22:36).

Siuslaw won the boys title with 30 points, while Marshfield was second (48) and Bandon third (50).

Gold Beach’s Gianni Altman edged Marshfield standout Alex Garcia-Silver for the title, finishing in 16:19, about half a second ahead of Garcia-Silver.

Bandon’s Damian Avalos ran with Altman and Garcia-Silver much of the race before finishing third in 16:31, followed by four straight Siuslaw runners — Sam Ulrich (16:56), Kyle Hughes (16:58), Jacob Blankenship (17:15) and Brayden Linton (17:24).

Marshfield’s Brody Lutes was eighth (17:48), followed by Bandon’s Patton Clark (17:50), Marshfield’s Elijah Cellura (17:55) and Bandon’s Owen Brown (18:00).

First Interstate Bank hosts volunteer day in Bandon

To give back to the places it calls home, First Interstate Bank, a community bank with more than 300 branches across 14 states, held its fifth annual Volunteer Day on Wednesday, Sept. 14. First Interstate locations closed that day at noon, giving its employees paid time to volunteer through nearly 400 separate service projects in its communities.

"This day concentrates and magnifies the efforts of our wonderful employees, who give generously to the places where they live and work," said Kevin Riley, president and CEO of First Interstate BancSystem, Inc. "We are honored to celebrate the power of community with our neighbors today."

The overarching philanthropic focus for this year's volunteer day was anchored in combating poverty, hunger, and homelessness. However, employees were empowered to select service projects that cater to the specific needs of their communities. First Interstate's Volunteer Day microsite has a complete list of these service projects organized by location, and includes project descriptions, event locations, and on-site points of contact.

An Attitude of Gratitude

Giving back on Volunteer Day is not just a one-and-done focus for First Interstate; it's a philanthropic philosophy employees bring to life every day.

"Investing in our communities, whether through local sponsorships, donations, volunteer efforts, or business development, is what makes us who we are — a full-service community bank offering a unique set of products and services, yes, but more importantly, a trusted community partner and neighbor," Riley said.

During the past three months, First Interstate brought this commitment to life through its inaugural "Believe in Local" campaign, awarding 40 separate $25,000 gifts to deserving nonprofits in its service area, totaling $1 million. First Interstate's annual Volunteer Day underscores and punctuates these efforts, amplifying the Bank's impact to never-before-seen levels. Making a Difference in the Places the Bank Calls Home

In addition to Volunteer Day and Believe in Local, First Interstate champions other innovative philanthropy-focused programs, including Teach Children to Save, Neighbors Feeding Neighbors, Coats and More, and Get Smart About Credit.

Additionally, through its volunteer match program, First Interstate pays nonprofits $10 for each hour First Interstate employees volunteer at their organizations (minimum of 10 hours). First Interstate also matches employee donations to nonprofits and donates 2% of net income before taxes to charitable organizations.

World-class bluegrass by Ace Arlo

Prolific singer-songwriter, Ace Arlo (born Mark Madden), of Bandon, has just released his third album since 2020, World-class Bluegrass, on September 14. Ace may be best known locally for composing the Bandon Well & Pump Jingle "Call The Well Guy."

With Ace Arlo on lead vocals, the album features 14 original songs arranged by Grammy nominee Jason Roller who also provides backup vocals, fiddle, guitar and mandolin along with an all star Nashville backing band: Justin Moses, dobro; Mike Bub, upright bass; Aaron McDaris, banjo; Josh Shilling, background vocals.

About the album Ace shared... "Recording a bluegrass album is something I've always wanted to do. Jason Roller is one of the most sought after musicians in Nashville and has played on at least the last 50 songs I have written and recorded. With Jason in charge of production, engineering and choosing the musicians I had no doubt that this album would end up being literally 'world-class' bluegrass."

World-class Bluegrass was produced at Magic Shack Productions in Nashville/Murfreesboro, Tenn. The album was mixed and mastered by Jason Roller and released by Whiskey Run Records.

World-class Bluegrass is now available on all streaming and download services.

Mason named Bandon volunteer of the month

Donna Mason was recognized by the Greater Bandon Association as Bandon's Volunteer of the Month at the September 12 meeting of Bandon's City Council. GBA presents this award to one of the many outstanding individuals that contribute to making Bandon a better community to live in. Donna was presented the award in the form of a commemorative plaque and a gift certificate contributed by WinterRiver Books.

One of Bandon's many treasures is its Historical Society Museum. Donna spends countless hours keeping their exhibits top notch and their building in good shape.

She plays so many other roles as well such as volunteering at the front desk, setting up the museum for events, and helping with off-site displays.

Donna also has served on the board of directors for many years. She recently volunteered to serve as interim president when the former president moved.

The Greater Bandon Association will be honoring one of Bandon's many volunteers that are making a difference in the community each month. Nominations for the October award should be e-mailed to ninerharv2@msn.com or mailed to P.O. Box 161 by close of business on September 26th.

Rentals

jority of the city council would support a moratorium.

Local officials also said they would like to hold a town hall to get more input from the Bandon community before an official update was made.

Accessory dwelling units were another topic discussed at the meeting.

An accessory dwelling unit is a second dwelling on the same property (or attached to) a single-family house, such as an apartment over the garage, a tiny house on a foundation in the backyard or a separate a basement apartment.

Bandon's current ordinance was adopted in 2019 after cities were required to allow accessory dwelling units anywhere a single-family detached dwelling is outright permitted. But the city was tasked to make their own regulations regarding the site and designs that would be allowed.

The sticking point with Bandon's accessory dwelling unit ordinance is that it only allows an ADU to be 40 percent of the primary dwelling's floor area or 650 square feet, whichever is smaller, or it allows the conversion of an entire floor, even if it's larger than that.

Staff suggested making the language clearer with less exceptions. The city council and planning commissioners agreed, with many urging the staff to be more liberal and allow larger accessory dwelling units on properties.

Bandon's current accessory dwelling unit ordinance does not allow them to be operated as vacation rentals, so many members of the planning commission and city council seemed to be onboard with accessory dwelling units as a means to allow more affordable housing.

"I think we need to make it as easy as we can because we are trying to address the lack of housing issue," one local official said.

"If we are really trying to address the shortage of homes we need to have it big enough to have a family live in it," another said.

Accessory dwelling units would still be subject to building codes such as setbacks from the road, height requirements, etc.

Bandon's Planning Manager Dana Nichols facilitated the meeting.

Teamwork in the bay

Two tugboats did what seemed almost impossible when they stopped and turned Bay Island, a massive ship that came into Coos Bay to have logs loaded. The tugboats guided the ship through the bay to the area near The Mill Casino, where they worked as a team to stop the ship and turn it completely around. The tugs then guided the ship backwards into North Bend to be loaded.

Emergency preparedness workshop offered October 21

At 1 p.m. on Friday, October 21, the Coos Bay Public Library is teaming up with Terry Plotz, Department of Geology and Mineral Industries earthquake and tsunami preparedness educator, to offer an online workshop on emergency preparedness. Emergencies are inevitable. Therefore, it is important to understand how to prepare for them so you know what to expect, know how to communicate with family and outside agencies, and are able to keep yourself and your family as safe as possible. Families are invited to this event as well as individuals. Terry will provide information in an understandable and sensitive way so all can benefit from it. The topics that will be covered are earthquakes (Cascadia), tsunamis, fire, communication, as well as other important topics such as a “go bag.” This workshop is scheduled to be one hour long. The zoom registration for this workshop hosted by the Coos Bay Public Library is <https://tinyurl.com/CBPLEmergency> For information, go to the Coos Bay Public Library website or check out their Facebook page.

Bandon Playhouse auditions for By-the-Sea Variety

Come play with Bandon Playhouse in our first post-pandemic production! Performers and crew are wanted for the Bandon Playhouse production “By-the-Sea Variety,” featuring “Folly of the Lighthouse Keeper’s Daughter.” Auditions are Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 27 and 28, starting at 6 p.m. at the Sprague Community Theater, 1202 11th St. SW in Bandon. Parts are available for crew and performers – actors, singers and dancers age 12 and older. Performance dates are set for November. “Folly of the Lighthouse Keeper’s Daughter” is a classically comedic melodrama written by Corrie Gant. Lark Sparky, the lighthouse keeper’s daughter, dreams of a life of adventure. Will she embrace the affection of local dairyman Clark Barker, or fall for the suave but shady investor, Lester Holstein? The melodramatic cast also includes Minnie Myrtle Morrison, a keen eyed poetess and owner of the Dusty Crab Saloon; crafty real estate broker Rosa DeRhodes; and Otis Sparky, the kindly and often tipsy lighthouse keeper. “By-the-Sea Variety” will feature coastal-themed variety acts, such as music and dance or other theatrical content, between play scenes. Parts are available for soloists or small groups as well as full ensemble pieces. The production team has a list of options for coast, ocean and river-themed tunes. And performers are invited to suggest thematic content. Auditions are set for two evenings. Variety ensemble auditions will be held at 6 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 27, with music direction and accompaniment provided for the group. Callbacks for soloists and small groups will be held at 6 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 28. Actors interested in auditioning for the melodrama are invited at 7 p.m. on Tuesday or Wednesday. Those interested in joining the production crew, assisting back stage or front of house, are welcome either evening. “By-the-Sea Variety” performance dates are Nov. 18, 19 and 20. The show is directed by Corrie Gant and Geneva Miller and produced by Amy Moss Strong. Those with questions or who cannot make the audition dates but would like to be involved are welcome to send an email to TheBandonPlayhouse@gmail.com or call Amy Moss Strong at 541-290-9989 and leave a message. Since 1976, the Bandon Playhouse has provided the best in community theater, from classic musicals to premiere works by new playwrights. Bandon Playhouse volunteers are proud to keep the performing arts alive and accessible on the Southern Oregon Coast. Membership is just $5 per year, or $15 for families. # Douglas County leases new retail building in Umpqua Dunes Campground

Douglas County Commissioners Tim Freeman, Chris Boice, and Tom Kress along with the Douglas County Parks Department recently announce a 3,400 square-foot commercial retail building being constructed on the grounds of Umpqua Dunes County Park & Campground in Winchester Bay has been leased to Fritz, Jeff and Steve Bailey, who are also the new owners of the Pelican Market on Highway 101 in Winchester Bay. The Baileys were the successful bidder in a request for proposal process conducted earlier this summer.

Umpqua Dunes County Park & Campground located at 1 Umpqua Dunes Way in Winchester Bay, formerly known as Discovery Point, was purchased by the county from private owners in March 2018. Construction of a new retail building began in May and is expected to be completed in October.

The new building replaces a previously existing structure that had served as a small convenience store providing limited amenities, but was removed due to its poor condition. The construction of the new building at Umpqua Dunes Campground is one of a series of improvements the commissioners and the Douglas County Parks Department have initiated as a part of the Douglas County Parks enhancement plan.

The new building construction will be followed by the rehabilitation of campsites in the north loop of the campground, with an anticipated completion date of Spring 2023. The first renovation of the campground was initiated in 2018, with the redesign and paving of the front entrance and demolition and removal of several dilapidated rental trailers and cabins. The south loop of the campground was renovated in 2020, and included the redevelopment of 26 full-hookup paved campsites as well as the installation of a new restroom and shower building.

“The board and I felt that it is imperative to add value and improve user experience wherever we can when it comes to recreating in our parks. Many families drive RVs and toy haulers to the area to enjoy our dunes, so we knew that replacing the previous building and making it available to the private sector for a retail market is one of the best ways we can serve this unique group of outdoor enthusiasts,” stated Commissioner Chris Boice. “We were excited to open it up for bidding and had hoped to find business owners who are familiar with this particular industry. I’m an OHV enthusiast myself and worked with the engineers on incorporating several of the amenities in the layout and functionality of the building. The idea was to enhance the user experience by providing access to things like fuel, food, and repairs available in close proximity to the riding area.”

According to the Baileys, the plan for the new store is to offer every possible amenity OHV users might need. The multi-purpose design of the building allows for designated areas for customer convenience. It will include a convenience store, pizza, laundromat, camping and fishing supplies, accessories for RVers, fuel, OHV rentals and a small repair shop. The convenience store will offer groceries, beer, wine, bags of ice, toiletries, fishing bait and firewood. Fresh, hot pizza will be offered for sale from their conventional pizza ovens and a laundromat area will be equipped with three washers and three dryers.

As part of the retail space they plan to offer camping and fishing supplies, accessories for RVers and a pro shop for motorsports. A garage on the east side will house several quads and side-by-sides available for rent, small mechanic repair services, and tires and tire installation will also be available onsite. Above-ground tanks will store

1,000 gallons of OHV fuel and 500 gallons of propane for sale. The Baileys plan to open the Umpqua Dunes location in January.

“We are planning a one-stop-shop user experience for OHV enthusiasts. We’ve owned and operated campgrounds for over 28 years, and we understand our customers,” said Jeff Bailey. “What we don’t have space to provide here, we’ll provide from our Highway 101 location and will provide the best customer service we are known for, even if that’s one of us pulling a pizza out of the oven one minute and installing a flag the next, or hopping in the rig to do a parts run for a customer, we are here to serve.”

Being no strangers to campground operations or the off-highway vehicles (OHV) industry, Fritz Bailey and his sons Jeff and Steve submitted a bid to lease the new building. They saw it as an opportunity to expand their retail business beyond their first retail store in the area, Pelican Market located at 75298 Highway 101 in Winchester Bay. The family purchased Pelican Market in October 2021, completely renovated the establishment and reopened it in March of 2022 to better serve customers recreating and traveling through the area. The old

Pelican Market, which had been a haven for piles of unorganized products cluttering every corner, turned into an expansive OHV enthusiasts’ dream, complete with an open layout that feature spaces organized and designated for apparel, motorsports accessories, a fully-stocked parts counter and a well-stocked convenience store.

Located on the edge of the Umpqua Dunes portion of the Oregon Dunes National Recreation Area, Umpqua Dunes County Park & Campground is tucked behind the foredune, overlooking Half Moon Bay. The campground offers water views, direct access to the dunes for off-highway vehicles (OHV) and is designed to enhance the OHV experience. The park includes 80 full-hook-up campsites, four partial hook-up sites, five group campsites (non-hook-up and partial hook-up sites), and two cabins. Umpqua Dunes County Park and Campground is conveniently located near the Crab & Fishing Dock, picnic and swimming areas, Salmon Harbor Marina, Umpqua National Sand Dunes and beaches. # Taylor named South Coast regional teacher of the year

“Excellent educators have always been the most important resources to ensure students’ success, and they stepped up in new ways throughout these last few singular years.” – CCSO National Teacher of the Year Program.

With passion, commitment and innovation at the heart of their work even through extraordinary circumstances, 16 teachers have been selected from across the state of Oregon as 2023 Regional Teachers of the Year.

Pacific High School’s math teacher, Steven Taylor has been named South Coast ESD’s 2023 Regional Teacher of the Year. Taylor wins a $1,000 cash prize and is in the running for Oregon’s 2023 Teacher of the Year – to be announced in just a few short weeks.

“We are so proud of the work Mr. Taylor has done for our students, both in and outside of the classroom. He’s truly one of those teachers who engages with students to really show them that he cares about them as people and wants them to succeed. I’m proud of the work he’s done and continues to do on behalf of our students,” said Krista Nieraeth, Pacific High School’s principal.

Regional Teachers of the Year are nominated by students, colleagues, administrators, friends or family members to apply for the award, and are selected by a diverse panel of regional representatives. Later this fall, one of the Regional Teachers of the Year will be named the 2023 Oregon Teacher of the Year.

Thanks to the Oregon Department of Education’s partnership with the Oregon Lottery, the 2023 Oregon Teacher of the Year receives a $10,000 cash prize, $5,000 is also awarded to their school, and they serve as a spokesperson and representative for all Oregon teachers. Three finalists will receive $2,000 with a matching $2,000 going to their school. Please visit OregonTeacheroftheYear.org for more information or to nominate a deserving teacher for 2024.

Is the end finally near for COVID?

By DR. CHARLES HURBIS

People are just fascinated by records. Who can run the fastest or jump the farthest, who can win the most times, who's the oldest or youngest to achieve a particular endeavor. One recent example was Serena Williams playing in her record 25th U.S. open. The last match is worth watching.

COVID has also set many new records as well, although none of these are particularly worth celebrating. Here's a new one. A Manhattan man recently died of COVID after spending his final days, a record 850 of them, on a ventilator. Tell me that doesn't make you feel just a bit unsettled. It did me. Just when I'm starting to forget about COVID, a story like this surfaces to reinforce just what a frightening few years we've been through.

I think we've all reached a point where this subject matter holds a lot less interest. It really takes a headline like the one above to even get my attention anymore. We've become immune to the news (if not the virus). Most of us have been multiply vaccinated, a large percentage of the population has already been infected by Omicron and, for those who haven't been infected yet, we now have a vaccine which protects against Omicron. Does this seem like maybe we're nearing an endpoint? It's really impressive just how many people Omicron has infected within the last few months. The BA.5 variant has rampaged. None of our prior vaccinations have been able to protect against infection with this strain. The only two things that remained effective were either: 1) complete isolation (which isn't reasonable), or 2) continuously wearing a bona fide, high quality (likely 3M) N-95 mask. In reality, truly functional N-95 masks are quite uncomfortable and the possibility for a small gap in protection, maybe when just readjusting it, are high. Omicron doesn't need much.

So, is the virus winning this round? It depends on how you look at it. If you want to consider viral penetrance, come December, very few people will still be able to consider themselves having never been infected. This last viral variant, the BA.5, is exceptionally effective at infecting its host.... point virus. On the flip side, this latest wave has left the population more immune than it ever has been, so here the virus effectively shot itself in the foot. COVID really will not be able to extend its damage until the next variant arrives, which ideally will be quite a while.... point host. So, it looks like a tie.

With the pandemic maybe winding down, how have we fared? If we are considering the effect on life expectancy, not so well. Life expectancy for the U.S. population has dropped from 79 to 76 years during the pandemic. Experts start to worry when population life expectancy has dropped only 1/10th of 1% year over year. Here it's down almost 4% in two years. It has affected some segments of the population much worse than others. Life expectancy for Native Americans has dropped from an already miserable 72, to just 65 years of age which is tragic. Is this difference due to genetics, lack of access to healthcare, higher levels of co-morbidities or a lack of trust in the vaccine? Likely it's a combination of all of these factors. What this pandemic has done for Americans is effectively erase four decades of life expectancy gains, for Native Americans it's 1944 again. Not all of this decrease can be blamed on COVID directly, there has also been much collateral damage. During the pandemic, many people put off routine medical surveillance or skipped follow-up care for pre-existing conditions. Left unchecked, many have unfortunately succumbed to new diseases or their unmanaged conditions.

What COVID has done here is to create one more disease category we have to contest with, giving us one more excuse to leave the planet early. As this settles out, cancer and heart disease will remain by far the major causes of death. Of the 10 major causes, experts figure COVID will slot in around #8, adding about 100,000 deaths per average year in the U.S. As we enter the endemic phase they expect 5% of the population will be infected by COVID each month, and on the average 300-400 will die daily. This equates to approximately 50% of the US population sustaining COVID annually. Periods of waxing and waning immunity will cause these numbers to vary widely. For instance, this year deaths will exceed 300,000 since essentially none of the population had Omicron immunity. This year's toll will be 10x that of the annual deaths due to the garden variety flu, which was already bad enough.

So, what does an Omicron infection look like? One thing three years of experience has taught us is that it affects everyone differently, and there is no predicting the outcome. The 92-year-old in the nursing home may get a mild head cold whereas the presumably healthy 40-year-old triathlete next door succumbs to his infection in three weeks. This all comes down to a number of factors, the most important always

These Final Ten Films represent the best short films from among 870 submissions from 70 countries received by MANHATTAN SHORT for 2022, testimony to the enduring vibrancy and creativity of short films worldwide.

The MANHATTAN SHORT Final Ten are:

Don vs Lightning (Scotland), Love, Dad (Czech & Slovakia), Save the Bees (USA), The Treatment (Spain), Freefall (France), Fetish (USA), Freedom Swimmer (Australia), The Blanket (Finland) Warsha (Lebanon) The Big Green (France).

Read Interviews with each Finalist: <https://www.manhattan-short.com/finalists.html>

If the 10 short films presented by MANHATTAN SHORT have one common theme, it's how people deal with adversity in its various forms. Short films like The Blanket, Freedom Swimmer and Freefall explore how individuals react when caught up in large-scale, traumatic events. Adversity on a more personal level is the focus of short films like Warsha, Fetish, The Big Green and Love, Dad. Sometimes, the response is laughable, as in Save the Bees and The Treatment, especially when even the universe seems to be against you, as in Don vs Lightning.

How these stories are told is varied as the directors that tell them. In short, there is plenty of drama and comedy interwoven with surprisingly effective newer ways of storytelling like animated documentaries. MANHATTAN SHORT also is a showcase for rising-star actors and recognizable favorites like Disney stalwart Peton List and Scotsman Peter Mullan, himself a prize-winning director, appearing in unexpected, talent-stretching roles.

All Final Ten short films become Oscar-qualified, meaning they will be automatically eligible for an Academy Award nomination by screening for a week at the Arena CineLounge in Hollywood in the county of Los Angeles from Sept. 23 to 29.

You Be the Judge!

Which of these Final Ten short films is the best? That's up to a worldwide audience to decide. Cinema-goers across the United States and around the globe will become instant film critics as they are handed a ballot upon entry that allows them to vote for the Best Film and Actor. MANHATTAN SHORT is the ultimate audience award that salutes the creative talents of both directors behind the camera and actors in front of it. Votes will be sent through to MANHATTAN SHORT HQ with the winner announced at ManhattanShort.com on Monday Oct 3, at 10AM EST.

DOONESBURY

BY GARRY TRUDEAU

YOU KNOW, TRFF, NEXT TIME I'M RE-ELECTED, I'M GOING TO FOCUS MORE ON LOYALTY! ESPECIALLY FROM MY GENERALS!

I WANT GENERALS WHO ARE AS LOYAL AS HITLER'S!

I ONCE TOLD THAT TO JOHN KELLY, AND HE CLAIMED HITLER'S GENERALS TRIED TO KILL HIM! THREE TIMES! WHAT A LOAD!

ACTUALLY, IT'S TRUE, SIR...

AFTER THE LAST ATTEMPT, THE FUHRER WAS SO ANGRY, HE HAD THEM ALL HANGED FROM MEAT HOOKS!

LIKE IT OR NOT, SIR, THE PAST CAN BE INSTRUCTIVE.

I GUESS. THANKS.

HMM... MEAT HOOKS...

HAPPY TO CHECK YOUR HISTORY ANYTIME, SIR.

WHAT'S THE GENERAL SPEAKING ABOUT TODAY?

HIMSELF

HMMMMMMM...

THAT'S FUNNY.

NOW, WHY DID I COME IN HERE?

I KNOW WHY!

YOU WANNA TAKE ME AN' JOEY OUT FOR ICE CREAM!

I'VE GOT TO STOP THINKING OUT LOUD.

AND THAT'S THE STORY OF MY LIFE

ANY QUESTIONS OR COMMENTS?

YES?

YOU'RE AN INSPIRATION TO US ALL, SIR

WHY, THANK YOU!

IF A GUY LIKE YOU CAN BECOME A GENERAL, ANYONE CAN!

LOOK, LIZ! A JELLYFISH!

STING

LOOK, LIZ! A CRAB!

SNAP!

OWW!

LOOK, LIZ! A BABY SHARK!

CHOMP!

YAAAAH!

OKAY, THAT'S ENOUGH OF THAT

WHAT NEXT?

IS THAT A GORILLA IN SWIM TRUNKS?

TIME TO RELAX AND ENJOY A NICE BAG OF CHIPS

UH... JON?

HONEST! I'M JUST GOING TO PLAY ONE HOLE TODAY!

THE NINETEENTH!

I MUST BE THE WORST GOLFER OF ALL TIME!

AND THE LUCKIEST!

LATER, MOM.

WHOA.

UGH! YOUR SHIRT IS COVERED IN CRUMBS, FUZZIES, CAT HAIR AND SCHMUTZ!

I'LL GET THE LINT ROLLER.

STAND STILL.

WHAT MADE YOU THINK I WAS WEARING A SHIRT?

The FAMILY CIRCUS

By Bill Keane

THIS IS THE EARLIEST I'VE EVER BEEN READY FOR SCHOOL.

RIGHT! YOU HAVE PLENTY OF TIME BEFORE THE BUS COMES.

BILLY! LOOK AT THE TIME!

HURRY UP, BILLY! WE CAN'T WAIT HERE ALL DAY!

LATE AGAIN!

MUST'VE OVER-SLEPT.

AN INVITATION?

TO A BARBECUE!! HOW NICE!

MMMM! I CAN SMELL THE COOKING FROM HERE..

MEDIUM RARE, IF YOU PLEASE!

FRANK & ERNEST

LET'S GET AN EARLY START ON OUR LONG TRIP SOUTH, ERNIE!

BETTER FUEL UP FIRST.

HOW ABOUT THAT PLACE?

NAH. THEIR PORTIONS ARE LIGHT AS A FEATHER.

NOT OPEN DURING THE DAY. IT'S FOR NIGHT OWLS.

THERE?

BAD ONLINE REVIEWS. QUOTH THE RAVEN: NEVERMORE.

THERE?

MAYBE. WE NEED A BETTER BIRD'S-EYE VIEW!

IT'S PERFECT! A SEEDY JOINT!

THE EARLY BIRD GETS THE SEED!

A PROTEST IS FORMING OUTSIDE OUR HEADQUARTERS BECAUSE WE DESIGNED OUR NEW ROBOT TO BE TOO HANDSOME.

HUSBANDS AREN'T COMFORTABLE LEAVING THEM HOME WITH THEIR WIVES.

WHAT NOW?

MARKETING THINKS WE NEED TO MAKE THEM LOOK LIKE TOTAL LOSERS.

HOW DO WE DO THAT?

THEY SUGGESTED MAKING IT LOOK AND TALK EXACTLY LIKE YOU.

MARKETING SAID THAT???

I MIGHT HAVE PRIMED THE PUMP.

ONE MONTH LATER

HOW ARE SALES?
