executives with research. She had resided with her husband and children in New York City, Santa Monica, Calif., and Placerville, Calif. During her time in Placerville, she worked in administration of Placerville's middle school while also serving 12 years on the board of trustees of the El Dorado High School. After moving to Bandon, she was asked to briefly fill a temporary vacancy on the Bandon High School finance committee as well as its board.

During retirement Lee designed five flower gardens while calling plants by their Latin names; played bridge with delightful people at the senior center; traveled throughout Europe, China, the South Pacific and South America; all while correctly predicting the stock market. However, her primary role always was being a great mother, grandmother, friend and loving wife.

ROSEMARY MCLEAN
DEC. 4, 1919 - MAY 22, 2017

youth. She graduated from Laguna High School in 1937 and Occidental College in 1941, Phi Beta Kappa with a degree in economics.

In 1942 Rosemary married Robert Norris "Bob" McLean Jr. who was in his first year of studies at San Francisco Theological Seminary. While raising four children, she enjoyed extending hospitality to the churches her husband served in Los Angeles, Calif., Wapato, Wash., and Sacramento, Calif. Rosemary was the ultimate hostess, always ready to welcome guests in her home and to help where needed. While officially Rosemary's occupation is listed as homemaker, she served her family and church in a wide array of volunteer and community endeavors. She was active in Church Women United and Presbyterian Women, in addition to serving as assistant clerk to Sacramento Presbytery. In the 1970's Rosemary branched out in her church service to take on the position of secretary-treasurer for the National Executive Committee of Presbyterian Women. With the children out of the nest, she was able to travel throughout the country in this position.

In 1980, Bob retired and the couple moved to Bandon, to build a new home on the bluff overlooking the ocean. Bob passed away in 1991 from cancer. Rosemary had lived in Bandon for the past 37 years, active in the First Presbyterian Church, South Coast Cluster of Pastors, Church Women United, and as a volunteer at the Bandon Historical Society. She proudly claimed that she had lived in Bandon longer than anywhere else in her life! She loved the beach, the sunsets, and the sound of the waves at night. She delighted in the many visitors who came to enjoy the hospitality of her beach home.

Rosemary loved to knit and crochet with a project always at her side and her hands constantly in motion. The girls remember new outfits flowed from the sewing machine, with many late nights to finish a special garment. She enjoyed crafts and maintained a variety of houseplants, filling quart jars with new starts she shared with her extended family. She traveled to Alaska, East Asia, New Zealand, and Fuji with Bob, and later to Costa Rica and various countries of Europe with her daughter, Margaret. Rosemary enjoyed the adventure of new places.

Children and grandchildren, as well as guests, will remember Rosemary's love of games - board games or cards, it didn't matter. Multiple forms of solitaire were played alone, and everyone learned the card game "Spite and Malice" if they visited. Running scores were often kept for the duration of a stay!

Rosemary is survived by her four adult children and their spouses, Margaret Taylor (Ron), Elizabeth Simmons (Dave), Robert 'Mac' McLean (Diane) and Ginger Rembold (Rick); nine grandchildren, Jennifer Taylor (Ken Pallais), Tom Taylor (Heather), Kirsten Simmons (Erik Schirmer), Gretchen Walker (Shawn), Douglas Simmons, Michelle Tvedt (Mike), Thom McLean, Jedediah Rembold and Luke Rembold; and 10 great-grandchildren, Matthew, Danielle, Kaila, Everett, Tucker, Tyler, Thomas, Michele, Allora and Meaghan. Many others proudly knew her as "Grandma Mac".

Rosemary was preceded in death by her husband, Bob; parents, Fredrick and Evie; her three brothers, Stan, Bill, and Nip; and numerous nieces and nephews.

A memorial service for Rosemary will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday, July 8, at the First Presbyterian Church in Bandon. Rosemary will be interred at the Oddfellow's Cemetery in Grants Pass, next to her husband Bob. Memorial donations can be made in Rosemary's name to Bandon First Presbyterian Church or to a charity of your choice. Final arrangements were handled by Crown Memorial Center of Milwaukie, Ore.

ing, in which he would spend countless hours recreating scenes from his lifelong home on the Oregon coast. There's not a beach or a rock between Bandon and Brookings that hasn't been put on canvas in one of his paintings or another. BETTY HILEY
MARCH 24, 1929 - JUNE 13, 2017

Betty Amelia Hiley, a longtime resident of Bandon passed away June 13, 2017 at the age of 88.

Betty was born March 24, 1929 in Eugene and moved to Bandon at a very young age after her father passed away. She was raised by her mother, Flossie and stepfather. She married Harvey Hiley in November 1947. Betty not only survived The Bandon Fire of 1936 and the Columbus Day Storm in 1962, she and Harvey also raised three children in and around the 1960's.

Betty Hiley lived a full and purpose filled life. She held the position of telephone operator before the premier of dial phones. Remember lifting the receiver and saying Fillmore 7? Betty felled a perfectly good pine tree on her first attempt to ride a motorcycle. She totally lost her cool when Rudy modified the exhaust system on the new VW bug. She was an accomplished water color artist. Was quite excitedly pleased when a fish jumped into the boat; she hunted and fished with the best of them. Though fortunately she did not inherit her mother's sometimes hazardous sense of sports enthusiasm. Her drywall texturing skill came in handy while she and Harvey were flipping houses long before such things were in vogue.

Betty was on the local school board for 16 years, volunteered her time as a board member of the Bandon Historical Society, held membership in the Daughters of the American Revolution and among other things was a member of the VFW Auxiliary.

She was preceded in death by her father, Marion Simmons; mother, Flossie Mae Backland; stepfather, Rudy Backlund; grandson, Scott Chase; and faithful tabby cat, Polly.

Betty is survived by her brother, Victor and wife, Karen Backlund; daughters, Susan and husband, Floyd Chase and Tracie Hiley; son, Rudy and wife, Pam Hiley; grandchildren, Deryk and wife, Allison and Mindy Hiley; and great-grandchildren, Madilyn and Kacyn Hiley.

Betty, we miss you so!
