Community 101 Grant Awards Ceremony at Bandon High School

BANDON - Bandon High School's Community 101 program, sponsored by the Oregon Community Foundation and the Rotary Club of Bandon-By-the-Sea, will be presenting grant awards to six non-profits at 10 a.m. Friday, May 25, in the Bandon High School gymnasium. The students, under the direction of teacher Kevin Haan, will also be sharing their learning experiences and project highlights at an all-school assembly. This year, the students chose to address the topic of child abuse and neglect. Students researched the issue and then reached out to nonprofits that tackle this challenging issue, inviting them to apply for a grant. After an interview and review process, the students selected six groups that they felt best matched their vision statement.

The Bandon High School leadership class invites members of the public to attend the award ceremony.

About Community 101

Community 101 is a classroom-based program of the Oregon Community Foundation that gives students the opportunity to get involved in their communities through grant-making and volunteering. Each school presents $5,000 in grants to local nonprofits. The students work hard to identify community needs and determine how to best meet those needs with limited resources.

The Community 101 class acts as a mini-foundation. The students receive grant-making funds, work to identify community needs, decide where to focus, and then implement the program. As part of the program, students participate in at least one service project, which brings them even closer to the community issues. Many Community 101 classes are supported by generous local donors and businesses.

Safety reminders for the Oregon Coast

OREGON COAST - The arrival of spring brings many visitors to the Oregon coast and the Oregon Parks and Recreation Department wants people to be safe while exploring the shoreline.

Coastal threats can come in the form of powerful waves, unstable logs on beaches and erosion of rocks and cliffs.

“People are so excited for the spring sunshine that sometimes safety takes a back seat,” said Lisa Stevenson, OPRD beach ranger speaking at Cape Kiwanda State Natural Area. “But preparation and common sense go a long way to keeping you safe on the coast.”

Stevenson listed several tips for ensuring your trip to the coast is a safe one:

■ Always keep one eye on the ocean so you won’t be caught off guard if a bigger wave surges up the beach. These “sneaker waves” are unpredictable, powerful and especially dangerous for children.

■ Stay away from logs on the wet sand or in the surf. These logs can weigh several tons and can be moved by only a few inches of water. The ocean is strong enough to pick up even the biggest log and roll it over you.

■ Know when the tide is coming in, especially when exploring tidepools. It’s easy to become stranded by the incoming tide when your attention is elsewhere. You can keep track of tides with a tide table; OPRD park rangers and many local businesses can give you one for free.

■ Be careful on cliffs and rocks. They can be unstable due to erosion. Stay on marked trails and do not climb over fences. Both are there to keep you safe.

For more Oregon coast safety information, watch the new Cape Kiwanda safety video on the Oregon State Parks YouTube page.
