Did you know?

Did you know that without saliva you cannot taste food?

It's true! Saliva is necessary for tasting. It carries dissolved flavor molecules in food to receptors on taste buds, which send flavor signals to the brain. Saliva also contains substances which eliminate viruses, bacteria and fungi from the mouth.

Spring safety reminders for the Oregon Coast

OREGON COAST - The arrival of spring brings many visitors to the Oregon coast and the Oregon Parks and Recreation Department wants people to be safe while exploring the shoreline.

"March can be a tricky time of year on the coast," said Lisa Stevenson, OPRD beach ranger speaking at Cape Kiwanda State Natural Area. "The ocean can still experience stormy winter weather despite the warmer temperatures on land."

Coastal threats can come in the form of powerful waves, unstable logs on beaches and erosion of rocks and cliffs.

"People are so excited for the spring sunshine that sometimes safety takes a back seat," said Stevenson. "But preparation and common sense go a long way to keeping you safe on the coast."

Stevenson listed several tips for ensuring your trip to the coast is a safe one:

■ Always keep one eye on the ocean so you won't be caught off guard if a big- ger wave surges up the beach. These "sneaker waves" are unpredictable, powerful and especially dangerous for children.

■ Stay away from logs on the wet sand or in the surf. These logs can weigh several tons and can be moved by only a few inches of water. The ocean is strong enough to pick up even the biggest log and roll it over you.

■ Know when the tide is coming in, especially when exploring tidepools. It's easy to become stranded by the incoming tide when your attention is elsewhere. You can keep track of tides with a tide table; OPRD park rangers and many local businesses can give you one for free.

■ Be careful on cliffs and rocks. They can be unstable due to erosion. Stay on marked trails and do not climb over fences. Both are there to keep you safe.

For more Oregon coast safety information, watch the new Cape Kiwanda safety video on the Oregon State Parks YouTube page.

Children should bring their own baskets for collecting the eggs. Grand prizes will be awarded for those who find the “special eggs.”

For more information or to help, call Judy Sombart at 541-329-0120.

Call to artists for Port of Bandon Boardwalk Art Show

BANDON - Art boards and entry forms are available now for the 2018 Port of Bandon Boardwalk Art Show. Artists of all ages are invited to enter.

The annual show is Bandon's uniquely accessible public art display on the picturesque boardwalk in Old Town. The 2018 theme is “Salmon Dreams, Marshes and Streams.”

Paint is the most common medium, but past shows have included photography, collage and three dimensional pieces. The show features works by amateur and professional artists living throughout southwestern Oregon and beyond. Prizes are awarded in youth and adult categories, along with people's choice winners.

Submissions are accepted now through May 18, at 12 p.m. The show opens Memorial Day weekend and continues through the second weekend in September.

Artists create original works on weatherproof plywood. Art boards and entry forms are available in Bandon at the Port of Bandon office, 390 First St. SW; and Art by the Sea Gallery, 145 Fillmore Ave. SE. Duo performance combines poetry, music

BANDON - PoetryMusic, “Where Words and Music Meet,” is a concert and poetry reading featuring the duo of Colleen O’Brien, voice and cello, and Chris Lee, percussion. In celebration of National Poetry Month, PoetryMusic will be performed at 7 p.m. Wednesday, April 4, at the Bandon Public Library Sprague Room, 1204 11th St. SW.

For over 30 years, Lee and O’Brien have performed as the eclectic chamber jazz duo Primal Mates. Along the way, they have performed at the Mt. Hood Jazz Festival and the Festival Internacional de Jazz in San Miguel, Mexico, and were featured on the Denver PBS series “Artist Profile.”

Their current performance, PoetryMusic, “Where Words and Music Meet,” is dedicated to poetry set to music, music composed to poetry and poetry as a catalyst for free improvisation. The performers combine poetry, music and visual images for a unique multimedia experience. Following the program, Lee and O’Brien will take questions from the audience and facilitate a discussion about poetry and music. Learn more at <https://www.poetrymusic.org>.
