

North Bend celebrates Gino's Pizza Inn – 60 years strong

FROM THE CITY OF NORTH BEND

Congratulations to Gino's Pizza Inn on their recent ribbon-cutting ceremony hosted by the Bay Area Chamber of Commerce, and on reaching an incredible milestone: 60 years serving North Bend. We are also excited to welcome the new owners, Kim and Steve, who are committed to keeping Gino's a family-owned North Bend tradition— with their daughter-in-law leading day-to-day operations and a plan to pass the restaurant down through generations. Gino's continues to serve the classics many of us grew up with—brick-oven pizza, wings, and longtime favorites like Benetti's lasagna and minestrone. And a big congratulations on being voted #1 Pizza and #1 Salad in the Toast of South Coast 2025, and #2 for Wings. If you have not stopped by lately, now is a perfect time to support a local legacy and enjoy a great meal.

HOLY COW! HISTORY: America’s First Viral ‘Fake News’ Moment

By J. MARK POWELL
InsideSources.com

We hear a lot these days about “fake news,” but it’s not a new complaint. In fact, one wartime reporting blunder hit America like a bombshell. Here’s the story.

Mankind had never seen anything like World War I. It featured brand-new horrors such as poison gas, bombs dropped from the sky, tanks and machine guns. More than 70 million people from 32 countries fought, and 17 million died. An additional 20 million were wounded.

Folks desperately wanted the war to end. When November 1918 arrived, it seemed peace was finally within sight.

Which is where Roy Howard enters the story. He was the president of United Press (later United Press International), a news service locked in fierce competition with rival The Associated Press.

With the war winding down, Howard was in Brest, France, on Nov. 7, meeting with Adm. Henry Wilson, the commander of American naval forces there.

Exactly what happened next is fuzzy. Wilson had just received word (either by telegram or phone) from a friend at the American Embassy in Paris that an armistice had been signed that morning. The war was over!

Journalists spend their entire career waiting for a scoop that big. And Howard had it all to himself.

He asked Wilson if it was OK to report the news. Sure, the admiral said.

Howard sped off to the nearest telegraph office, where he violated UP’s rules. All dispatches coming from France were to be signed by Howard and William Simms, UP’s foreign editor. But Simms was 375 miles away in Paris. Waiting to reach him would jeopardize the exclusive.

So Howard simply forged Simms’ signature and sent these words: “URGENT – ARMISTICE ALLIES SIGNED ELEVEN [this morning] — HOSTILITIES CEASED TWO [this afternoon]

HOWARD-SIMMS.”

The news hit New York like a bomb. Wall Street suspended trading at 1 p.m. Stores closed, with one merchant posting in his window, “Too happy to work. Come back tomorrow!” Traffic stopped as crowded streets turned into impromptu block parties. And of course, alcohol flowed very, very freely.

The world Americans, and all people the world over, had longed to hear was finally being said. Peace.

Except it wasn’t. Across the Atlantic, the war still raged in France. Adm. Wilson’s friend had merely passed along a rumor. And Howard hadn’t bothered to confirm it.

When the news reached Washington, Secretary of State Robert Lansing practically tripped over himself issuing a denial. It hit the wires at 2:15 p.m.

However, the people rejected it. They clung to what they wanted to believe, that the war was indeed over, and they weren’t going to let anyone take it away from them. Angry mobs destroyed copies of newspapers that ran the denial and even briefly attacked the Associated Press’ New York office when it couldn’t confirm an armistice.

Celebrations lasted all night across the country.

Yet, by the next morning, there could be no disputing it. Men were still fighting and dying in the trenches. The UP had got it wrong.

The New York Times called it “the most flagrant and culpable act of public deception” in the history of journalism. The New York Evening Sun gloated that it hadn’t reported the “fake news” as fact.

The armistice was actually signed a few days later, “on the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month.”

With the war really and truly over, Americans did it all over again. The so-called “False Armistice” of Nov. 7 had merely been a dress rehearsal for the real thing on the 11th.

As for Roy Howard, he wiped the egg off his face and soldiered on. He headed the E.W. Scripps Company in 1920, which later became the Scripps-Howard newspaper and broadcasting chain. He even interviewed Josef Stalin in the Kremlin in 1936. Yet, when Howard retired in 1953, his big mistake from 35 years earlier still hounded him. And always did.

J. Mark Powell

“Fake news” has been around a long time. It will likely still exist a long time from now, too. And that’s a fact.

Letter to the Editor

I am in support of the Wild Coast Trail Association’s proposal to develop a dedicated in-town recreational trail system within our centrally located Pony Creek Watershed.

Having an in-town recreational trail system, accessible on foot or by wheels, will transform our community.

I believe this project is essential for several reasons:

- Community Health and Well-Being: Safe and easy access to recreational areas lowers the barrier to physical activity. Exercise is essential for our bodies and we know that physical activity, particularly when done outdoors, directly improves emotional health.

- Economic Growth and Talent Retention: Our community is growing and we need more talented workers, like those in public safety, healthcare, and education. But we must attract these working professionals, and their families too. Studies in economic development have shown that recreational trail systems are a top-tier amenity for families when choosing where to move, and also a key factor in why they stay.
- Tourism and Infrastructure: Recreational tourists prioritize trail networks easily accessible from a city center, often without needing a car. Financially wealthy, recreational tourists can typically afford to spend more, and for longer, directly supporting local eateries, hotels, and businesses.

The Wild Coast Trail Association has demonstrated a commitment to sustainable trail design and building positive relationships with land managers to ensure the long-term future of our natural spaces. I fully support their efforts to enhance our local landscape and provide a valuable asset for all trail users.

I strongly support the development of this in-town trail system on the Pony Creek Watershed.

Unclaimed Capital Credits

Find out if you have an unclaimed capital credit check from 2021

Coos-Curry Electric Cooperative Inc. (CCEC) is searching for members who have unclaimed capital credit checks issued in 2021. If you were a member who received electric service from CCEC between 1993 and 1994, there may be a capital credit check from 2021 with your name on it.

The names of members who have unclaimed capital credits paid in 2021 will appear in a special insert within the Curry Coastal Pilot newspaper. The insert will be published at least one time in January, February, March and April 2026. You can also visit www.ccec.coop/capital-credits to search for your name.

What are capital credits? Capital credits reflect each member's ownership in the cooperative. You, as a member, are an owner of CCEC, and the allocated margins, or capital credits, are just one of the many advantages of membership. Unlike investor-owned utilities, CCEC provides electric service to our members at cost and any profits from providing electric service are paid back to the members, and not paid to out of the area shareholders. Members invest in CCEC when they buy power. Each year, after all expenses have been paid, any remaining margin from providing electric service are allocated to members as capital credits in proportion to their electric use.

Contact Us
Go to www.ccec.coop/capital-credits to search for your name. If you are not the member listed, you must be legally authorized to claim one of these checks, including checks for members who are deceased.

A form is available to fill out on the CCEC website. Please provide your name, the listed member's name and telephone number. A member of our team will contact you as soon as possible. For additional questions, contact us at 541-332-3931 or by email at capitalcredits@cooscurryelectric.com.

Unclaimed capital credits will be forfeited and reclaimed by CCEC as permanent equity six months after the last published notice. A portion of the reclaimed capital credits are distributed to community organizations as charitable donations for the benefit of the communities we serve. Visit www.ccec.coop/capital-credits to search for your name.

Enjoy a zany comedy-mystery with The Liberty Theatre’s production of Moriarty.

It’s been 138 years since Sir Arthur Conan Doyle penned the first Sherlock Holmes story and adaptations of his classic characters are too numerous to count. Most of those adaptations take Sherlock seriously – but Tony award-winning playwright Ken Ludwig’s comedy – which opens on North Bend’s Liberty Theatre stage this January – most certainly does not. Instead, this take on Sherlock Holmes, directed by Jeremy Conway and Talis Slatcik, could definitely be called zany.

Oh, there are still the familiar story lines (this play mashes up several familiar Sherlock tales), and we still have the legendary characters of Sherlock (played by Levi Goodman), Watson (Ansel Tauber), and, of course, the evil mastermind Moriarty (Johnny Crawford), but this, Slatcik says, laughing, is a “ridiculous stage-play that’s fun for the whole family. Think of the play Clue, or maybe Noises Off- but with too many quick changes to count and an over-the-top melodramatic antagonist.” Much of the comedy, he says, comes from the contrast of the legendary characters being in ridiculous situations. Conway adds, “The the action moves so quickly that by time we think we know what is going on, another twist is there, keeping us guessing.”

The plot is familiar enough: Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson are at it again – this time investigating the Bohemian king’s stolen letters, which turns into an international affair bursting with spies and blackmail. Holmes and Watson, in an effort to preserve world peace, team up with an American actress, taking down Holmes’ nemesis, Professor Moriarty, and his network of evil criminals. Yes, Holmes’ keen deductions still drive the plot, but there are almost two dozen locations in this play, and save for the actors playing Sherlock and Watson, each member of the cast (which also includes Jasmine Azure and Ariel Hicks) plays three to 12 different characters – some bringing near non-stop changes in persona and costumes, sometimes all in one scene.

Moriarty opens January 30th, 2026, and plays through January 31, February 6 and 7 at 7pm, with 2pm matinees on February 1 and 8 at The Liberty Theatre in North Bend.

Little Theatre on the Bay (LTOB) formed in 1947 and is the second-oldest, continuously-operating performing arts group in Oregon. As volunteer organization and 501(c)3 nonprofit, LTOB owns and operates the historic Liberty Theatre in North Bend.

North Bend's girls basketball team lost the first of three showdowns with Marist Catholic during the week, but bounced back with a win over rival Marshfield.

The Bulldogs, who were sixth in this week's Class 4A coaches poll, one spot in front of Marist Catholic, fell to the Spartans 40-33, just North Bend's third loss of the season.

North Bend bounced back with a 43-20 win over Marshfield to wrap up the first round of league play. The second round for the Bulldogs starts Tuesday with a game at Junction City, North Bend's only contest this week.

Marist Catholic finished the first round a perfect 4-0 while the Bulldogs were 3-1, second in the Sky-Em League.

Marshfield, which also lost to Junction City 45-19 last week, went winless in the first round of league play. They will try to get their first win Tuesday when they visit Cottage Grove, which was 10th in this week's coaches poll. The Pirates are at Marist Catholic on Friday.

SWOCC men pick up two wins

The Southwestern Oregon Community College men's basketball team won two of its three games during the week, including a wild afternoon holiday victory over Chemeketa that included an incredible comeback that led to two tense overtimes.

The Lakers outlasted the Storm 93-87.

Later in the week, SWOCC lost at Umpqua ? and beat Clackamas ?

The Martin Luther King Day win over Chemeketa looked doubtful with the Storm up 67-57 and less than two minutes showing on the clock.

But Brighton Palmer was fouled after an offensive rebound and made both free throws to start the comeback. Then Quinton Christman had a steal and a layup while being fouled that led to a three-point play.

Then Palmer blocked a shot then got a rebound on another miss and Jett Lundberg fed Connor Wilson for a layin to cut the deficit to three points. Wilson had another layup off a feed from Lundberg following a steal by MJ Tia as part of another three-point play and the Lakers had tied the score with 10 points in just 50 seconds.

After a Chemeketa miss, Palmer made a 3-pointer to give the Lakers a 70-67 lead but Chemeketa's Gavin Aguilar hit a 3-pointer at the buzzer to force overtime.

The overtime sessions didn't have the drama of the final minutes of regulation, but the Lakers eventually pulled away in the second OT after Tia gave the Lakers the lead for good with a 3-pointer.

Wilson finished with 30 points and 11 rebounds and Palmer had 15 points and 10 rebounds. Kai-son Hermann had 11 points off the bench and Tia and Lundberg both had nine points with Lundberg also posting nine rebounds and eight assists.

Aguilar had 29 points for Chemeketa.

On Wednesday, the Lakers lost to Umpqua 85-74, unable to rally from a 47-30 halftime deficit.

Wilson had 19 points, Asher Vanderburg 16 and Jeriah Macias 12.

Mikey Lloyd had 23 points for Umpqua.

On Saturday, the Lakers topped Clackamas 90-84, outscoring the Cougars 44-34 in the second half. Wilson had 30 points, Palmer 20 and Tia 18 in that win. Palmer also had 13 rebounds.

Connor Oertel had 25 points for Clackamas.

The week's results left the Lakers 5-2 nearing the midpoint of the NWAC South Region season.

Clark is 7-1 and Umpqua 6-1 and Lane, the other team to beat the Lakers, is 4-3.

This week, SWOCC finishes the first round of league play with a home game against Linn-Benton on Wednesday and then has a crucial trip to play Clark on a neutral court in Portland.

WOMEN

SWOCC's women lost all three games during the week, all to squads in the top four of the South Region standings.

Chemeketa topped the Lakers 68-56, pulling away by outscoring SWOCC 16-6 in the fourth quarter.

Morgan Cole-Hand had 14 points, Kaydence Apkaw 13 and Gwyn Button 10 for the Lakers. Umpqua beat SWOCC 71-51.

Bree Turner had 14 points and Apkaw 11 in the loss. Rebekah Beltran had 24 for the River-hawks.

Top-ranked Clackamas jumped out to a huge lead Saturday with seven 3-pointers and 39 points in the first quarter on the way to a 106-37 win. Turner had 14 points and Aniah Harris eight for the Lakers.

Mollie Miller had nine of the 17 3-pointers by the Cougars and scored a game-high 31 points.

Clackamas is as perfect 7-0 in league play and Umpqua and Lane both are 6-1. Chemeketa is 5-2 while the Lakers are 1-6 heading into this week's contests.

Robert (Bob) DePeal

November 24, 1948 – January 18, 2026

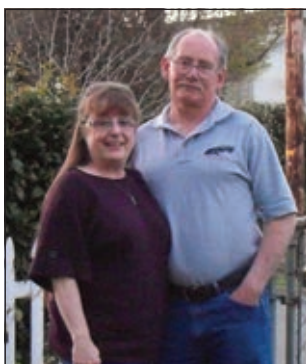

Robert “Bob” DePeal passed away surrounded by the love of his family. He was known for his strong work ethic, quiet strength, and appreciation for life’s simple joys—es-pecially time spent with family and beloved dogs.

Bob grew up in Las Vegas, Nevada, gradu-ating from Basic High School in 1966. He built a long career in hospital-ity, serving more than 30 years as an engineer at the Flamingo Hotel in Las Vegas. In 1990, Bob and his wife Gayle “retired” to Coquille, Oregon, where they owned and operated Bob’s Appliance Sales and Service for over 20 years, becoming trusted members of the community.

Bob had a lifelong love of classic cars, including a bright yellow 1941 Ford and several Corvettes. He especially enjoyed driving the Oregon coast with Gayle and their dogs, most recently TJ, their mixed-breed rescue.

Bob is survived by his wife, Gayle DePeal; his sons and families, Jim and Alicia DePeal and their children Raven, Robert, and Charlotte of Penn-sylvania, and Chris and Bridget Pasquinzo and their son Nicholas Burkett of Colorado; and his sib-lings, Nancy Green, Laurel Phillips, and David De-Peal. He was preceded in death by his parents Lester and Geraldine DePeal, his youngest son Robert Jr. DePeal, and his brother Joe DePeal.

No services are planned at this time. The family plans to spread Bob’s ashes in the summer of 2026. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the animal charity of your choice or the Oregon Coast Humane Society in Florence, Oregon.

Robert Alton “Bob” Dyer

July 18, 1935 – December 24, 2025

A Celebration of Life service will be held for Robert “Bob” Dyer at Cornerstone Church, 63848 Harriet Rd, Coos Bay, OR at 11am January 24th. Refreshments and a light lunch will follow. Please bring your stories and memories of fun times with Bob and his adven- tures. We’d love to hear it all!

Robert “Bob” Dyer, 90, of North Bend, was born July 18, 1935, in West- brook, Maine to Lavina and Lawrence Dyer. After moving across the country, he spent his early years in North Bend, Oregon, with his mother, where he grew into a hardworking and ambitious young man. After graduating from North Bend High School, he worked at Weyerhaeuser before proudly serving in the U.S. Navy aboard the USS Forrestal as a machinist.

Bob was deeply shaped by the guidance of his stepfather Eugene Mc- Bride, a North Bend police officer who became a cher- ished father figure. After returning from military service, Bob honored Mc- Bride’s legacy by joining the North Bend Police Department, where he built a distinguished 36 year career. He rose through the ranks from patrolman to captain and served as acting Chief of Police. His dedication, strength, and integrity left a lasting mark on his community.

Bob was the proud father of two children, Michael and Kathy. After retiring in 1994, he embraced travel, rock and gem shows, and the simple joys of life. In time, he found love again with Ella, a longtime friend and col- league. The two married in Las Vegas and shared years of companionship, faith, and service, volunteering together at the Coos Bay Senior Center and remain- ing active in their church.

After Ella’s passing in 2019, Bob was lovingly supported by his family, who ensured he remained cared for, connected, and uplifted. He spent his final years surrounded by those who cherished him, finding joy in small adventures, Sunday services, and the company of loved ones.

Bob passed away peacefully on December 24, 2025, joining his wife

Ella, his mother Lavina, and his children Michael and Kathy in Heaven. He leaves behind many friends, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, his step daughter and her husband who remember his kindness and sense of adventure.

May we honor his mem-ory by living as he did, was strong, generous, and full of heart.

Cremation rites have been held under the direction of Nelson’s Bay Area Mortuary, 405 Elrod Ave, Coos Bay, Oregon and inurnment will be at Sunset Memorial Park in Coos Bay.

1. In order to maintain County roads, the Coos County Road Department intends to institute a brush control program on March 1st, which may include the use of herbicides on the rights-of-way of certain Coos County roads.
2. Property owners may request the Coos County Road Department not spray the right-of-way abutting their property. Without limiting the trustee's disclaimer of representations or warranties, Oregon law requires the trustee to state in this notice that some residential property sold at a trustee's sale may have been used in manufacturing methamphetamines, the chemical components of which are known to be toxic. Prospective purchasers of residential property should be aware of this potential danger before deciding to place a bid for this property at the trustee's sale. NOTICE TO RESIDENTIAL TENANTS The property in which you are living is in foreclosure. A foreclosure sale is scheduled for 02/18/2026 (date). The date of this sale may be postponed. Unless the lender that is foreclosing on this property is paid before the sale date, the foreclosure will go through and someone new will own this property. After the sale, the new owner is required to provide you with contact information and notice that the sale took place. The following information applies to you only if you are a bona fide tenant occupying and renting this property as a residential dwelling under a legitimate rental agreement. If the foreclosure sale goes through, the new owner will have the right to require you to move out. Before the new owner can require you to move, the new owner must provide you with written notice that specifies the date by which you must move out. If you do not leave before the move-out date, the new owner can have the sheriff remove you from the property after a court hearing. You will receive notice of the court hearing. PROTECTION FROM EVICTION IF YOU ARE A BONA FIDE TENANT OCCUPYING AND RENTING THIS PROPERTY AS A RESIDENTIAL DWELLING, YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO CONTINUE LIVING IN THIS PROPERTY AFTER THE FORECLOSURE SALE FOR: 60 DAYS FROM THE DATE YOU ARE GIVEN A WRITTEN TERMINATION NOTICE, IF YOU HAVE A FIXED TERM LEASE; OR AT LEAST 30 DAYS FROM THE DATE YOU ARE GIVEN A WRITTEN TERMINATION NOTICE, IF YOU HAVE A MONTH-TO-MONTH OR WEEK-TO-WEEK RENTAL AGREEMENT. least 30 days' written notice after the foreclosure sale before you can be required to move. A bona fide tenant is a residential tenant who is not the borrower (property owner) or a child, spouse or parent of the borrower, and whose rental agreement: Is the result of an arm's-length transaction; Requires the payment of rent that is not substantially less than fair market rent for the property, unless the rent is reduced or subsidized due to a federal, state or local subsidy; and Was entered into prior to the date of the foreclosure sale. SECURITY DEPOSIT You may apply your security deposit and any rent you paid in advance against the current rent you owe your landlord as provided in ORS 90.367. To do this, you must notify your landlord in writing that you want to subtract the amount of your security deposit or prepaid rent from your rent payment. You may do this only for the rent you owe your current landlord. If you do this, you must do so before the foreclosure sale. The business or individual who buys this property at the foreclosure sale is not responsible to you for any deposit or prepaid rent you paid to your landlord. ABOUT YOUR TENANCY AFTER THE FORECLOSURE SALE The new owner that buys this property at the foreclosure sale may be willing to allow you to stay as a tenant instead of requiring you to move out after 30 or 60 days. After the sale, you should receive a written notice informing you that the sale took place and giving you the new owner's name and contact information. You should contact the new owner if you would like to stay. If the new owner accepts rent from you, signs a new residential rental agreement with you or does not notify you in writing within 30 days after the date of the foreclosure sale that you must move out, the new owner becomes your new landlord and must maintain the property. Otherwise: You do not owe rent; The new owner is not your landlord and is not responsible for maintaining the property on your behalf; and You must move out by the date the new owner specifies in a notice to you. The new owner may offer to pay your moving expenses and any other costs or amounts you and the new owner agree on in exchange for your agreement to leave the premises in less than 30 or 60 days. You should speak with a lawyer to fully understand your rights before making any decisions regarding your tenancy. IT IS UNLAWFUL FOR ANY PERSON TO TRY TO FORCE YOU TO LEAVE YOUR DWELLING UNIT WITHOUT FIRST GIVING YOU WRITTEN NOTICE AND GOING TO COURT TO EVICT YOU. Oregon Main Street recognizes North Bend, Reedsport as newly designated Main Street Level Organizations

Oregon Main Street (OMS) has advanced Downtown Medford Association, North Bend Main Street, Port Orford Main Street, and Reedsport Main Street to the Designated Main Street level of the OMS Network.

The Designated Main Street level is a mark of distinction that reflects a demonstrated effort to develop an impactful and sustainable organization focused on improving a community’s historic downtown by leveraging partnerships and engaging community members. Communities at this level have access to technical assistance to help them continue to strengthen their efforts and impact.

All four of these communities have a high degree of commitment to using the nationally recognized place-based Main Street Approach™ methodology to create lasting impact in enhancing their historic downtowns. They must have a cohesive core of historic or older commercial and mixed-use buildings that represent the community’s architectural heritage and may include compatible in-fill. They must also have a sufficient mass of businesses, buildings, and density to be effective, as well as be a compact and walkable district.

“The City of Reedsport and the Reedsport Main Street Program Board of Directors would like to express our gratitude to Sheri Stuart, OMS Coordinator, and the Oregon Main Street Program for their leadership and support in helping us achieve this milestone”, stated Deanna Schafer, Reedsport City Manager.

“We are incredibly excited to step into this new designation”, said Rosa Solano, Reedsport Main Street Program Director. “Since formally joining Oregon Main Street in 2014, our community has been the driving force behind our success – from dedicated local businesses and volunteers to property owners and neighbors who invested their time and passion in Reedsport. This milestone reflects our collective commitment, and we look forward to continuing to work together to strengthen our community and celebrate the vibrancy of our historic downtown.”

Previously, these organizations have been participating in the OMS Network at the Affiliated Main Street level where they benefited from technical assistance from OMS staff to help support their organization’s development.

Currently, there are over 100 communities in Oregon participating in the Oregon Main Street Network which includes the following tiers: Accredited Main Street, Designated Main Street, Affiliated Main Street, Rural Regional Main Street, and Connected Communities. There isn’t a fee to participate in the Oregon Main Street Network.

Oregon Main Street is part of Oregon Heritage in Oregon Parks and Recreation Department. For more information on the Oregon Main Street program visit www.oregonmainstreet.org.

Oregon Fish and Wildlife seeks feedback on Dungeness Crab Fishery rule update

On December 11th, 2025, the Oregon Fish and Wildlife Commission (OFWC) received a formal petition (available here) from several conservation groups to adopt new measures and amend existing rules in the Oregon commercial Dungeness crab fishery to reduce the risk of marine life entanglements.

The petition’s stated purpose is “to strengthen Oregon’s current entanglement risk reduction measures, create a pathway for authorization of safer pop-up fishing gear, and establish a process for timely public reporting of marine mammal or sea turtle entanglements in Oregon commercial Dungeness crab fishing gear.” Key requests include:

- Establishing a process for pop-up gear authorization,
- Adjusting late-season measures to include a 40% pot limit reduction and 30 fathom depth restriction (exempting pop-up gear), effective April 1 each season through 2028,

- Prohibiting conventional (non-pop-up) gear after April 1 each season starting in 2028,

- Requiring ODFW to provide public notice of any marine mammal or sea turtle entanglement in Oregon or in gear originating from Oregon within 48 hours of receiving a report, and

- Requiring emergency procedures be taken, including zonal or state-wide closures to conventional gear, in response to confirmed entanglements of ESA-listed animals in Oregon crab gear (or unknown gear that may be Oregon crab gear).

By statute, the OFWC must either initiate rulemaking or issue a written denial within 90 days of the petition being received (by March 11, 2026). The agency is in the process of reviewing the petition as required by statute. ODFW will provide an assessment and recommendation to the OFWC at their meeting on February 20, 2026.

We invite the public to comment on the petition’s proposed new rules and rule amendments, and specifically on whether options exist for achieving the substantive goals of these rules in a way that reduces the negative economic impact on businesses.

Comments can be sent via email to: odfw.commission@odfw.oregon.gov

I was sorry to learn that long-time Bandon resident Bob Dahl had died Wednesday at the age of 75. A friend said his lung cancer had returned and he was having problems breathing. He was taken by ambulance to the hospital that morning, but he died that day. His late parents, Mel and Aili Dahl, had operated Lloyd's Cafe for many years, and after Mel's death, Bobby took over the business. Among his survi-

Tuesday evening, around 8:30, the Sheriff's office was investigating a shooting near West Beaver Hill, which was said to be unrelated to the search for Marquis White, who at that time remained at large. Details about that shooting are pending but it appears to have occurred at a residence on West Beaver Hill and Hemlock where a victim was said to have suffered a gunshot wound to the chest.

A crew member posted that the boat was too damaged to be salvaged. The boat had filled with sand, the windows were broken and the damage was too extensive. The parking lot at the location is closed while the 65-foot vessel is cut apart and removed from the beach.

Joyce Farr

March 13, 1923 – January 13, 2026

Joyce was born in 1923 and lived in Portland until she attended the University of Oregon, where she met Len Farr. They married in 1943 before Len was sent overseas for service in WWII and Joyce moved to Marshfield which became Coos Bay in 1944. Their first daughter, Susan, was born while Len was stationed with the Army Medical Corps in Europe. Len joined them after his war service and their family grew to include daughters Nancy and Janet, and son Jay. Although they lived in Coos Bay from then on, after Len’s retirement from Farr’s Hardware, they traveled and worked as volunteers all over the world on 43 different projects including polio vaccination in Africa, latrine and stove building in India, and establishing a cottage industry of weaving in Portugal. That was one of their last projects and was based on Joyce’s passion and skills. Len and Joyce were not only lifelong Oregonians; they considered themselves to be citizens of the world. Joyce referred to herself as a “fiberholic.” She sewed all of her daughters’ clothes and coats until they also learned to sew. She had a variety of looms and spinning wheels and also dyed the yarns she spun. She was fond of announcing, “I’m going downstairs to dye.” In addition to their four children, they shared their home and family life with three American Field Service high school exchange students—Ute from Germany, Alex from Chile, and Susanne from Denmark—and Jay’s friend Ted during their senior year at Marshfield High. With an empty nest, Joyce opened a weaving and knitting store in Bandon with two other partners. Len said Joyce was the original hippie, but perhaps feminist was the better moniker. A woman once came into Westerly Webs and introduced herself as “Mrs. her husband’s name.” Joyce replied, “Don’t you have a name of your own?” Joyce was generous and open-minded. She was a lifelong universal blood donor to Red Cross. On election nights, she worked as a volunteer well into the night tallying votes. Once Joyce was introduced to a new concept or skills, she was determined to learn everything and brought her perfectionism to each task. She learned to swim in the Bay Area and became a Red Cross swimming instructor. Both Len and Joyce were private pilots and owned a plane with Len’s brother. When Ute brought yoga into the home, Joyce picked it up and practiced it for years after. Later in life, she walked over two and a half miles every day up and down the hills of Coos Bay. After Len died, she chose to live at Evergreen Court where she could overlook the Bay. For the last 3 years of her life, she was lovingly cared for by her children and wonderful caregivers at Amazing Grace Adult Care Home in North Bend. She is survived by her sister, Sara Mae Wiedmaier in Beaverton; her children and their spouses, Susan (Otto Wassenaar in Groningen, The Netherlands), Nancy (Dale Sekijima in Winthrop, WA), Jay (Vicki Crumpacker, in Coos Bay), and Janet (Rodney Eiger, in Chicago, IL); five grandchildren and their families, Maaike, Eelco and Doeke Wassenaar (in The Netherlands), Will Farr (in Stony Brook, NY), and Lillie Eiger (in London, England); six great-grandchildren;

‘adopted’ children, Ute Preisser, Ted Cookson and Susanne Testrup; and many nieces and nephews. Arrangements are under the care of Coos Bay Chapel, 541-267-3131. Family and friends are invited to sign the online guestbook at www.coosbayareafunerals.com

Oregon Cracking Down on Abandoned Boats

FROM THE OREGON DEPT. OF STATE LANDS

Abandoned boats continue to harm Oregon’s rivers and coastlines. From huge vessels like the 100-foot Dredge Herb Anderson, removed from the Columbia River last year, to smaller recreational craft, these derelict boats leak harmful toxins, drift dangerously into navigational channels, and degrade water quality.

Oregon Department of State Lands has been leading the charge on this issue since launching the statewide Abandoned and Derelict Vessel (ADV) Program in Sept 2024.

“We can’t continue polluting our Oregon waterways or risking a large marine accident,” said Kaitlin Lovell, recently appointed Director at Oregon Department of State Lands, “The scope of this issue has motivated bipartisan legislators and community members along impacted waterways to come together for solutions.”

After a successful push during the state’s 2025 legislative session, two significant changes to state law came into effect on September 26, 2025.

- Streamlined Disposal: Allows the state to classify severely degraded ADVs as marine debris, opening a more efficient and cost-effective route for disposal.
- Reduced Administrative Burden: Allows authorized entities throughout the state to remove ADVs from the waterway without a time- and resource-intensive process, reducing delays and red tape.

“The legislative wins for this program might sound like words on a page, but these are the systematic changes we need to get these dilapidated vessels out of our waters,” said Democratic State Representative David Gomberg from Oregon District 10. In agreement was Republican State Senator Legislator Dick Anderson from Lincoln City, “This issue requires all of us to stay vigilant for ways to be more effective, and removing red tape is a good place to start.”

In addition to legislative progress, Oregon’s statewide ADV Program secured a $1,000,000 grant from the BoatUS Foundation, with support from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration’s Marine Debris Program. The dollars awarded to Oregon will support the removal and disposal of dozens of high-priority boats in counties throughout Oregon.

“Some of the really large vessels can cost hundreds of thousands of dollars when there is toxic material,” said Aaron Bretz, Deputy Director of the Port of Newport, “so obviously significant funding is required, but there’s also a lot of coordination with the Coast Guard, sheriff’s offices, environmental regulators, and companies equipped to perform the complex dismantling work.”

Coordination of involved parties was top-of-mind for Oregon Department of State Lands when updating the statewide ADV Program website to include new procedures for ADVs based on the changes in state law.

A remaining challenge for the nascent program is stemming the flow of ADVs into Oregon waterways.

“We pursue penalties against owners who fail to resolve their problems and leave DSL to address the hazards they’ve created,” said Josh Mulhollem, the Department’s Waterways Stewardship Program Manager. “But many of the biggest, most expensive cleanups are ships that have already drained the owner’s assets. Many people just don’t understand that bidding on a cheap ship at auction can lead to financial ruin.”

Despite the challenges that remain, momentum is building. With new tools, funding, and partnerships in place, Oregon’s ADV Program is charting a clearer course toward cleaner, safer, waterways.
