National Guard to aid in vaccinations

MONIQUE MERRILL

Country Media

Two of the state's top priorities are to ramp up vaccinations in Oregon and get children back into classrooms, Gov. Kate Brown announced Friday.

For the former, Brown said she will be deploying the Oregon National Guard to assist with COVID-19 vaccination efforts to help reach the goal she set earlier this week of administering 12,000 vaccine doses a day.

National Guard members will be providing vaccine support in Oregon starting last weekend at a mass vaccination event at the state fairgrounds in Salem, Brown said. The goal is to vaccinate 250 people per hour and guard members will be providing logistical and nursing support.

The Oregon Health Authority has delivered vaccine doses to 190 sites across the state already and expects to allocate doses to an additional 30 next week, OHA Director Pat Allen said.

The 12,000 vaccine doses per day plan comes on the heels of a raised COVID-19 transmission rate across the state, Allen said. The transmission rate estimates how many people an infected person will spread the virus to; a transmission rate of 1.0 would indicate that a person with the virus passes it to one other person.

The state's estimated state transmission rate fell in late November to 0.8 and stayed low through mid-December, but the winter holidays brought a sharp increase, Allen said.

The estimate the OHA has, as of Dec. 23, is a transmission rate between 1.14 and 1.45.

"This estimation does not reflect any potential further increase in transmission related to social gatherings over Christmas and New Year's Eve," Allen said. "This means we could continue to see a sharp increase in diagnosed cases.'

In-person learning

In the effort to get students back into classrooms, Brown announced in December the state guidance and metrics on when districts can be reopened moved from mandatory to advisory — giving districts more local control. The change took effect at the start of the new year.

"All of our schools will still be required to adhere to health and safety measures," Brown said. "They must continue to work in close consultation with local public health departments."

Colt Gill, director of the Oregon Department of Education, said

two factors remain important for districts determining when students will return to in-person instruction. The first is to ensure community case rates stay low so COVID-19 is not regularly introduced to the schools and disrupting the learning environment. The second is the district's ability to implement health and safety protocols and requirements for the schools

The department has over 160 health and safety protocols that need to be in place at schools that reopen and remain mandatory, he said. Some of the requirements include entry screening protocols, use of facial coverings, physical distancing, cohorting and frequent hand washing.

"These protocols are mitigating the risk of transmission in schools in Oregon and across the country, and really around the world, when they are implemented with fidelity," Gill said.

The state's COVID-19 Vaccine Advisory Committee met for the first time Thursday and approved teachers and staff at K-12 schools to be next in line for the vaccine after the phase 1-A group which includes emergency responders, healthcare workers and residents and staff at long-term care facilities.

"I know the impacts for our children — having to learn online have been very, very challenging," Brown said. "Not just from an educational standpoint, but from a social and emotional standpoint, also from a social interaction standpoint. It's been really challenging for our children, so this needs to be a priority."

Further decisions about which groups of people will next be prioritized for vaccinations will be decided in the coming weeks.

North Bend returning pool money

DAVID RUPKALVIS The World

Some residents of North Bend are getting an unexpected surprise in the mail this week – a check from the city.

City Administrator David Milliron said North Bend began sending checks to people who prepaid for using the pool during 2020 because the pool was forced to close due to COVID-19.

Milliron said many people paid for yearly passes or paid in advance for special classes and similar things. When the pool was forced to close, the city had the money and held it due to the uncertainty of when the city pool might reopen.

"We've been holding this money," Milliron said. "I met with staff and said, let's make it a focus to get the money out because we are not a savings and loan.'

Milliron said returning the money was not a simple task. He explained the city pool did not use a computer system to track revenue, so city staff had to do an audit by going over paperwork piece by piece to determine who had money due. The majority of the work was complete early in the new year, and the city sent out checks totaling more than $32,000.

"Folks have been getting checks all week," Milliron said. "We are not done yet. We are still manually auditing. It is a process, but we moved as quickly as we could and sent out over $30,000 worth."

Milliron said returning the money was something the city was determined to do, even if it took a lot of work to figure it out.

"It's part of being open and transparent," he said. "The pool was closed, and we were holding the money. It was not ours, it was theirs."

Milliron said more checks will be sent out as soon as staff can determine who to send it to and how much. He explained some accounts were difficult to decipher because, in some cases, one person might have purchased a pass for another. In that case, the city wants to return the money to the person who made the actual purchase.

Milliron said the future of the North Bend pool is still up in the air. It will remain closed as long as the COVID threat continues, but what will happen after that is still

COOS BAY — Boosted by good weather in the fall that allowed workers to complete the ceiling for the second floor, construction is close to on schedule for the new Marshfield Junior High School, Coos Bay School District Superintendent Bryan Trendell said this

"Our last report was that due to weather and different things we were maybe a week behind schedule in some areas and ahead of schedule in other areas," Trendell said. "They will get caught right back up.'

The wall supports for the third floor are going up, and if the weather is favorable, the roof should be completed by the end of February, Trendell said.

The goal is to have the building completed by July and ready for students for the start of the 2021-22 school year.

Ideally, the state will be past the worst of the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic by then and return to school as normal.

"I'm very optimistic that by fall we will for sure be in-person with all of our kids," Trendell said. "Hopeful it will happen sooner."

With loosening restrictions statewide, many school districts are returning kids in most grades back to the classroom. Coos Bay is being cautious, in part to a bill passed last week by the legislature, Trendell said.

The bill provides some protections related to COVID-19 for schools and businesses, Trendell said, but only if they follow the guidelines provided by the state health authorities.

Meanwhile, the work is progressing well on the new school

Finishing the ceiling for the second story of the building was a big plus.

'That helped speed up some of the interior work on the first two floors down below," Trendell said. "We're about a week behind on the third floor framing and roof. They will catch that up in

"Hopefully we'll have the roof on and everything dried by February and then they can really go to town inside.'

School districts tackle student engagement and daycare concerns

JILLIAN WARD For The World

COOS COUNTY - With COVID-19 restrictions loosened for schools, many students have returned from winter break and are back in classrooms.

"A lot of students have returned ... not very many stayed home," said Tim Sweeney, superintendent at the Coquille School District. "That's a positive sign I think... There's a lot of energy and excitement."

And as upper grades are brought back to campus in the upcoming weeks, not everyone will need to transition away from Comprehensive Distance Learning.

"...There are some students doing really well with the Comprehensive Distance Learning and are allowed to continue and are not required to attend school," said Doug Ardiana, superintendent at Bandon School District.

Of the 618 students enrolled in Bandon, he said 106 are being allowed to continue distance learning instead of having to return to the classroom. "We're fortunate that our teachers are willing to work with us to engage CDL for folks with some concerns about in-person learning,' Ardiana said.

Even though a number of students have excelled with the distance learning program, Ardiana said he has "huge concern" for 6 to 8 percent of students currently unengaged and not doing their work.

"I recently have done home visits because people have not answered the phone," he said. "I've gone to houses and talked to parents and students about why they aren't doing their work or are not involved. I know two out of three (where) it has made a difference."

Lawmakers place blame for mayhem on Trump

DAVID RUPKALVIS The World

After chaos erupted at the nation's capital Wednesday when Congress was trying to confirm the Electoral College victory of President-Elect Joe Biden, Oregon lawmakers are pointing the blame squarely at Pres. Donald Trump.

A crowd of more than 10,000 Trump supporters rallied in Washington, D.C. on Wednesday, claiming Biden's victory was a stolen election. While the Senate was debating a protest to Arizona's results, hundreds of Trump supporters broke through barriers and rushed into offices at the capital.

Congressman Peter DeFazio, who represents all of Coos County, said Trump was directly to blame, and he said the country cannot afford to keep Trump in office until Jan. 20. DeFazio released a statement where he called on Trump's cabinet to invoke the 25th Amendment to remove the president immediately.

As yesterday's assault on the legislative branch, the rule of law and the will of the people showed, Donald Trump is a threat to our democracy, national security and the safety of all Americans," DeFazio said Thursday. "If President Trump will not resign, he must be removed from office immediately. The most expedient way to remove Trump from office is to invoke the 25th amendment. I am calling on Vice President Pence and the cabinet to immediately declare through the 25th Amendment that the president is unable to discharge the powers and duties of his office.

"I strongly support articles of impeachment in the House against the president for inciting an armed insurrection against Congress, subverting a free and fair election and trampling on our nation's Constitution. Should he be impeached and convicted

It is imperative that this individual be barred from any office entrusted with upholding the Constitution and serving the American people.'

Carla "K.C" Hanson, the chair of the Oregon Democratic Party, agreed with DeFazio, and said Trump needs to be removed by any means possible.

"Donald Trump poses a clear and immediate threat to the safety and security of our nation and the American people," Hanson said. "He is unfit to lead, and so long as he retains any degree of power, American democracy is at risk. We support efforts to limit the damage Trump can inflict on our democratic institutions in the final days of his presidency, whether through invoking the 25th amendment, through impeachment, through Trump's resignation or any other means that will contain his behavior and can ensure a peaceful transition of power to the incoming Biden/Harris administration. This is a dark, dangerous, and unprecedented moment in our country's history. But ultimately, America will not be safe until Donald Trump is no longer president of the United States.'

Sen. Ron Wyden echoed the sentiments, accusing Trump of domestic terrorism.

'Since the moment he took office, Donald Trump has presented a clear and present danger to the United States," Wyden said in a released statement. "He's spent every day of his presidency debasing the truth and undermining our democracy, all the while fanning the flames of violence and fanaticism. And for those same four years, Republican lawmakers have enabled him every step of the way. Yesterday, we witnessed the result. For two months, he's amped that mob up with lies and demagoguery. And yesterday, he set them loose on the United States Capitol. As his thugs tore through the building, Trump told them, 'We love

"Donald Trump can't remain in office one minute longer. Trump's cabinet must immediately use the 25th amendment to act. Should they fail to do their duty and hold him accountable, Congress must act. The Senate is ready to receive articles of impeachment from the House should they act to impeach this dangerous man. Trump has torn our nation apart long enough, and we have to use every means at our disposal first to remove him and hold him accountable for his role in yesterday's violence in Washington."

State's case count rises

Oregon's went over 1,600 deaths linked to COVID-19 when 28 were reported by the Oregon Health Authority on Saturday.

Two more deaths were reported Sunday, leaving the state total at

None of the reported deaths were from counties on the South Coast.

But Coos County did continue to report significant numbers of new confirmed and presumptive cases. Between Friday and Sunday, the county had 41 more reported cases. Curry County had just eight and Douglas County had 60.

On a positive note, the state neared 100,000 total doses of the vaccine that have been distributed. The 8,648 doses added to the immunization registry Sunday pushed the state over 97,000 first and second doses of the vaccine.

The state also released a new COVID-19 model, which estimated that transmission of COVID-19 decreased dramatically between late November and Mid-December before surging sharply upward

According to the model, the statewide transmission in late November dropped to an effective reproduction rate – the expected number of secondary cases that a single case generates – of 0.8 before surging to 1.29 as of Dec. 23.

At the current level of transmission, the projected average of new daily cases will be 1,780 between Jan. 13 and Jan. 26, with 85 additional daily hospitalizations.

If transmission mirrors the levels from the late November to mid-December model, daily cases will number about 1,400 and hospitalizations would hover at about 55 per day.

The model shows that more Oregonians – about 53% – would accept the COVID-19 vaccine and that three out of four Oregonians are regularly wearing masks or face coverings.

The projections on spread of the virus emphasize the importance of continuing to practice preventive measures that can slow the spread of the disease.

- Maintain physical distance.
- Wear a face covering or mask.Avoid gatherings with
- non-household members.
 - Practice good hand hygiene.

Wyden plans first town halls for 2021 this week

U.S. Sen. Ron Wyden recently announced he will have his first live on-line town halls of 2021 this week hosted by Town Hall Project for residents of Coos, Curry, Gilliam, Grant, Lane, Sherman, Washington and Wheeler counties

A two-time winner of Town Hall Project's MVP award as well as a winner of Town Hall Project's Democracy Defender award, Wyden has held 970 in-person town halls statewide in fulfillment of his pledge to hold at least one town hall each year in each of Oregon's 36 counties.

Wyden has postponed in-person town halls until there are clear-cut public health guidelines that a large open-to-all public meeting poses no unusual health risk for Oregonians. After the pandemic in March 2020 required Wyden's town halls to go virtual, he held multiple regional and statewide virtual town halls hosted by Town Hall Project.

"With the start of a new year, a new Senate and a new administration, I am eager to continue the conversations with Oregonians to hear firsthand about their views and priorities," Wyden said. "While the coronavirus public health crisis puts in-person town halls on a temporary hold, these first virtual town halls of 2021 channel the best of the 'Oregon Way' to figure out solutions that allow these civil conversations to continue."

The virtual town hall for Coos and Curry counties will be at noon PT, Friday, Jan. 15. To watch, go to https://www.facebook.com/events/153733416268850

Alonzo Tucker memorial planned

COOS BAY —Last February, the Coos History Museum sponsored a soil collection event on Front Street during a reconciliation ceremony surrounding the 1902 lynching of Alonzo Tucker. Now the museum and a task force of volunteers from around the state are planning a lasting memorial.

People can read about the

Alonzo Tucker Memorial Project by visiting the museum's website at www.cooshistory.org/alonzo-tucker/

The website includes a short background newsletter explaining the history and rationale for the project.

The task force encourages the public to guide it with opinions about the project by filling out a short, eight-question survey after reading the newsletter

The city of Coos Bay, the Urban Renewal Agency and the Coos History Museum are currently reviewing statements of qualification from several landscape developers for proposed waterfront improvements at the museum, located at 1210 N. Front St. The memorial is among projects being planned on the museum grounds.

Preppers will meet in Coquille on Jan. 16

The Southwestern Oregon Preppers will hold their monthly meeting at noon Saturday, Jan. 16, at Sturdivant Park in Coquille.

The meeting will be held in the parks' gazebo. Participants are encouraged to dress warm and bring a chair.

The main topic will be "How have you prepared?"

Participants are encouraged to bring their preparedness plan. They will have an opportunity to share how they prepare and learn from others.

"The world as we knew it is no longer and we must adjust accordingly," organizers said

Preppers meetings always start with a question-and-answer period so all in attendance get a chance to participate. The meeting is free and provides a chance to get to know fellow preppers in Southwestern Oregon counties and exchange information and ideas. Organizers say it's important for people to know they will be on their own in the event of a disaster receiving outside help.

Mannequin or manikin or both?

By June Casagrande

Call it an occupational hazard: People who edit and proofread for a living see typos everywhere. Day in and day out, editors get paid to zero in on mistakes. Those antennae aren't retractable. The work follows you home, interrupts your news reading, pulls you out of stories in your fiction reading. It's a curse, I tell ya.

But there's something even worse than seeing typos everywhere they are: Seeing typos where they aren't — reading a news article and catching a usage error and feeling all smug — only later learning you were wrong: The word you thought was an error was fine. You're the one who was in error.

This happened to me recently while I was reading an article about a study on the efficacy of cloth masks for COVID protection. Researchers tested masks by putting them on mannequins, the article reported. Except the illustration that accompanied the article didn't call them mannequins. In the images, the dummies were referred to multiple times as "manikins."

I stifled an "aha!" and basked in a moment of smug satisfaction. Then I reined in my typo-slayer triumph. As I've learned over the years, it's always a bad idea to get cocky about a language issue without looking it up first. So, I looked up "manikin."

Merriam-Webster's set me straight. "Manikin" is not a spelling error. It's a synonym of "mannequin." Less frequently, so is "mannikin.

Often, variant spellings like these result from people accidentally misspelling a word over and over for years. But that may not be the case here. "Mannequin" started showing up in English around 1900, apparently adopted from the French "mannequin," which has the same spelling and definition. The French word goes back to the 15th century, when francophones seem to have adapted it from the Dutch "manneken," which meant literally "little

But when it comes to "manikin," etymologists dispense with all talk of the French. English speakers started using "manikin" at least as far back as the 16th century, when they adopted the word directly from the Dutch "manneken." The words may have followed parallel paths into the English language, with "manikin" carving out its place in English well before "mannequin."

"Manikin" and "mannequin" aren't exactly synonyms, either at least not in the minds of some English speakers.

Both words refer to models of the human form, but in some circles, mannequins are exclusively the models that display clothes. People in the design world also sometimes use "mannequin" to refer to dress forms — headless, armless tailors' dummies used for fashion design.

Manikins, to some minds, are different things entirely.

"Instead of being used to show off clothing, manikins are used to help simulate medical, surgical, or clinical scenarios," insists a blogger for a staffing firm that recruits technical professionals.

It's a popular opinion. And in language, popularity counts.

A website called AskDifference. com says pretty much the same thing: "The main difference between Manikin and Mannequin is that the Manikin is a life-sized anatomical human model used in education and Mannequin is a doll or statue used to show clothing in a store."

Others will tell you a manikin is a posable figure artists use for reference.

That brings us back to our article in which the illustrations identify the models as "manikins" but the text of the article uses "mannequins." In publishing, consistency is important. One way to get consistency is to have a simple rule in place: Always use the dictionary's preferred spelling, which in this case appears to be "mannequin." But the illustration appears to have been reprinted from the original scientific study, which reflected the scientists' lexicon, not the publisher's.

So "manikin" wasn't an error. "Mannequin" wasn't and error. And this was a rare case in which using two different spellings was not an error. Everyone involved was doing their job right. The only mistake here happened when I looked at "manikin" and congratulated myself for catching a mistake.

GUEST OPINION

Another pandemic is coming - it's time to prepare now

BY RANDALL RUTTA

Even as we confront a surging COVID-19 pandemic in advance of global vaccination - another looming pandemic threatens us.

This threat comes from rising numbers of drug-resistant bacteria and fungi.

These "superbugs" are immune to most antibiotics. They already kill 700,000 people around the world each year. And they're evolving faster than we are developing new treatments. One report warns that these infections could kill more than 10 million people worldwide each year by 2050, unless scientists invent more powerful antibiotics.

A superbug pandemic could prove even more devastating than COVID-19 - in terms of medical care interrupted and too many lives lost. The rise in treatment-resistant infections makes surgeries, as well as chemotherapy and immunotherapy, much riskier since superbugs abound in hospitals and prey on patients with weakened and suppressed immune systems.

Given the severity of the threat, it would seem that drug companies would spare no expense to find new treatments. After all, they have heroically moved heaven and earth to develop vaccines and therapeutics for COVID-19.

Yet, very few drug firms are investing in superbug treatments, largely because the antibiotics market is much different than the market for other drugs.

With most pharmaceuticals such as cancer therapies - new treatments are available to patients once FDA approved. But with antibiotics, to avoid resistance developing, doctors typically refrain from using the newest ones to minimize the chances of superbugs growing resistant to those new treatments.

Every time an antibiotic is used, resistance can develop. So, holding back new antibiotics makes sense from a scientific perspective and clinical recommendations. But it creates an enormous economic challenge when it comes to encouraging companies to fund antibiotic research. If doctors aren't using the newest antibiotics, companies can't sell enough doses to recoup their development costs. On average, it takes 23 years for an antibiotic to recover the costs it took to discover and develop it.

Simply put, the traditional pharmaceutical sales model - charging per prescription to recoup costs and make a profit - doesn't work for antibiotics.

As a result, most major pharmaceutical companies have abandoned antibiotic research. And many smaller biotech firms have gone bankrupt or chosen to leave the field. Today, just four major pharmaceutical companies maintain antibiotic research programs.

A new piece of legislation aims to create a sustainable business model to encourage more private investment in much-needed anti-

The bipartisan PASTEUR Act, introduced by Senators Michael Bennet (D-CO) and Todd Young (R-IN), would create a subscription model for new, innovative antibiotics that kill superbugs. Federal insurance programs would receive unlimited access to the drugs, regardless of how many doses doctors prescribe by paying companies in advance for innovative, new FDA-approved antibiotics that tackle priority areas of greatest

By not linking payments to usage but incentivizing research in priority areas, the legislation addresses the economic disincentives to antibiotic research and will spur innovation to meet the growing threat of drug-resistant infections.

The world will face a deadly new pandemic relatively soon, one that is fueled by a superbug that may already exist. Will we be prepared to fight and defeat it? That depends entirely on whether our leaders take the growing threat of superbugs seriously.

Eunice Corinne Peterson

May 24, 1928 - December 28, 2020

Eunice Peterson, 92, died December 28, 2020 in Healdsburg, California of complications from Covid-19.

Eunice was born in Marshfield (now Coos Bay), the youngest of seven children of Swedish-immigrant parents. Her father died before she was a year old. Her mother then moved the family to a 30-acre farm on Ross Inlet, a backwater of the Coos River seven miles south of town. There Eunice grew up picking berries, herding cows, and driving a hay truck. She trapped muskrats and sold the pelts for $3 apiece (big money in those days) to help her mother make the mortgage payments. The family's struggles through the Great Depression gave her an abiding empathy for working people and made her a lifelong and vocal Democrat.

She was a bright and active girl who excelled in academics, sports and music. After graduating from Marshfield High School in 1946, she started her freshman year at the University of Oregon, but dropped out after two terms to care for her mother, who was sick with cancer. Her mother died in 1947, and Eunice went back to college and graduated in 1951 with a bachelor's in vocal music and minors in English and Psychology.

She taught music for a year in Springfield, then was hired by the Air Force in Tachikawa, Japan to manage recreational programs for servicemen and women. She spent two years at the air base there creating all kinds of entertainment, including a full-length musical comedy that she wrote, scored and produced herself, called "Doko Charlie." She also organized the base's civilian women employees into a basketball team, which went on to win a championship.

Back in the States, in 1954, she was hired by the Santa Clara County juvenile probation department. She took a leave of absence in 1957 and went to France for another Air Force service club stint. She traveled throughout Europe during those years; a favorite destination was Sweden, where she met relatives of both parents and gained an admiration for the Swedish social welfare system.

In 1959 she returned to the States and resumed her job in Santa Clara County. She was instrumental in organizing and managing an innovative program to identify, treat and prevent child abuse, including sexual abuse, at that time a little recognized tragedy. The program encompassed the juvenile court system, law enforcement, family therapists and community support networks. She received many honors for her work, including a 1973 "Woman of the Year" award from the San Jose Mercury newspaper.

Also in 1973 she earned a master's degree in political science from San Jose State University. She went on to superintend two children's residential facilities before retiring in 1984.

She lived happily for many years at her home in Saratoga, California, enjoying her big garden and a succession of cats, and taking occasional road trips to visit family in California, Oregon and Idaho. In 2011 she moved to Healds-burg Senior Living facility, where she received excellent care for the rest of her life.

She was preceded in death by her parents, Erland Anselm and Hilma Ferdinanda (Larson) Peterson; six siblings, Irma, Henning and Herbert Ahlquist; Kenneth, Bertil and Reynold Peterson. She is survived by eight nieces, three nephews, and 28 great nieces and nephews.

Our aunt Eunice never married and never regretted it. She had a fine contralto voice and loved to sing for an audience, accompanying herself on the ukulele. She knew scores of songs; Hawaiian ones were particular favorites. She was a passionate champion of society's have nots, especially women and children. She loved cats. She was vain about her thick dark blonde hair (not "light brown," as a niece once made the mistake of suggesting) with barely a touch of gray. She researched her family's genealogy and shared her findings with all of us.

A favorite saying of hers: "I never had any children, but I have all these terrific nieces and I love them very much." We never got tired of hearing it. Near the end of her life, when her strength and speech were mostly gone, her face would burst into incandescence at the sight of a loved one. She was our dear Auntie Eunice and we will miss her very much.

DEAR ABBY By Abigail Van Buren

MOM THREATENS DIVORCE AFTER TEENS FIND THEIR DAD'S STASH

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are going on 19 years of marriage and have three teenage girls. We have had multiple rounds of marriage counseling, mostly with good results, although the benefits seem to be short-lived. Most of our problems have stemmed from my husband's drinking or smoking pot. He's not abusive, he's a good provider, but he just likes to get high. Thank God it's not often, but I'm not nor have I ever been OK with it.

Our girls recently found his pot stash and helped themselves. When I questioned them about where they got it, they admitted they found their dad's stash. For me, this is the last straw. How can I teach my kids this is not OK when their dad's actions say otherwise? I'm now made out to be the prude since apparently I'm "no fun."

I'm a nurse, and even if it were legal in our state, I wouldn't use it. I told my husband that I'm done and I'm ready for a divorce. He says I'm being ridiculous. Do I need to lighten up? I think I already know your answer, but I just need to see it to validate my feelings. -- ANTI-DRUG WIFE

DEAR ANTI-DRUG: Although marijuana may be legal in an increasing number of states, "supplying" drugs to minors is against the law in all of them. What happened cannot and should not be ignored, but ending a good marriage because your husband likes to use pot OCCASIONALLY seems extreme.

It may take more visits to a marriage and family therapist for you to agree to disagree on this, but it is very important that your daughters be disabused of the idea that what they did was OK with either of you. It's time you and your husband form a united front, and he needs to find a better place to keep his stash. DEAR ABBY: Because of the recent COVID-19 crisis, my wife and I, like so many others, have been stuck at home. I have asked her questions about former boyfriends and lovers. She told me some things, but when I bring it up now, she gets defensive and accuses me of belittling her and bringing back memories she has asked God to help her forget. I feel I am owed an explanation since they all took place while we were dating (including with my best friend) and with a house sitter after we were married. Am I wrong to bring it up after many years and a great marriage?

P.S. It's eating at me, and her stonewalling by saying "I can't remember" is frustrating, especially because all her friends talk about her great memory. -- DEPRESSED IN TEXAS

DEAR DEPRESSED: Yes, you are wrong because this isn't getting you anywhere positive. In fact, it's the opposite. If you are looking for a divorce after "many years and a great marriage," keep digging.

While your wife's poor judgment and infidelity are deeply regrettable, the two of you managed to build a life together and move beyond it. Sometimes people forget what they need to forget in order to function. Accept it and use your quarantine time to do something more positive than playing "20 Questions."

100 YEARS - 1921

Legislature is opened today

Thirty-first biennial session starts business Many important matters to be considered by the Senate and members of the Lower

SALEM — The thirty-first biennial session of the Oregon legislature opened here today. In the senate there are 27 republicans, one democrat and two independents. The membership in the house is composed of 58 republicans and two democrats.

Senator Roy W. Ritner, of Pendleton, was the selection for president of the senate, made some time ago, when Senator B.L. Eddy, of Roseburg, withdrew from the race. Representative Louis E. Bean, of Eugene, was unopposed for speaker of the house.

The program for the opening day consisted of origination of both houses and the scheduled delivery of the message of Gov. Ben. W.

Important questions

Among important measures to be proposed during the session, according to forecasts made by members before the opening of the legislature today will be legislation dealing with the Japanese situation, bills for $10,000,000 more bonds for highway construction, regulating highway traffic, reorganizing the fish and game commission, making the fish commission one body and the game commission another, measure for consolidating the Portland dock and port commission, an amendment changing the tenure of office for Portland school teachers, protection for bond investors, payments to soldiers, sailors and marines for service during world war, promoting the tourist traffic, and amending the syndicalism and workmen compensation

Light cases of flu reported

Three mild recurrences of disease during last week

Three mile cases of "flu", the first since the last epidemic of the dreaded disease here, have occurred within the last week and local physicians are urging extra precautions to avoid a possible repetition of the epidemic.

Dr. E. Mingus said this morning that H.S. Murphy and daughter and Mrs. Mary Campbell had practically every symptom of it. In the early stages, it differs little from la grippe. The high temperature recedes about the third day and if the patient, who feels as though he is all right, renews activity, there is a recurrence of the temperature with the most feared stages of the flu.

Guarding against the patient getting out too soon, that is just after the first three-day stage of it, is the best prevention of the serious phases of the flu, it is said.

The frosty weather is said to be especially conductive to la grippe and the flu-

Mrs. F.E. Wilson left this morning for Portland, where she will make investigations of the "Little Theatre," which she and others plan to start here. Mrs. Reidar Bugge, Mrs. M.D. Bromberger and a number of others who have discussed the matter informally are sponsoring the plan.

The plan, briefly, is to make available good plays for each community, acted and staged by home talent which keeps the expense down to the minimum. The matter has been under consideration since the unusually successful home talent performance was staged under the auspices of the Elks.

In addition to the regular cast who take part in the presentation of the plays, it is expected to enlist others who have some knowledge of staging plays, handling scenery, etc.

Brookings is now deserted

Industry of busy Curry county town stops C. & O. Lumber Company closes down its plan but will open again in 90 days

Another big lumber plant, the mill at Brookings in Curry county, has closed and what was a thriving little town is now practically deserted. The shut down however is said to be only temporary. The Gold Beach Reporter tells the following of the suspension:

The C. & O. Lumber company's plant at Brookings has closed down, operations being temporarily suspended. In an address to the employees, Manager Owens said the shutdown would last at least thirty days, possibly for sixty days, but that the plant would positively resume within ninety days. Old employees of the company, men with families who wish to remain, are to be given work occasionally, providing they desire to remain, but the majority have left and Brookings is now a "Deserted village," according to the reports. Many of the single men have gone back into the hills, and every cabin in that vicinity is now occupied.

Coos County snowfall

Schools closed, traffic snarled

Coos County residents awoke to a snowfall today that snarled traffic, closed schools and made road travel hazardous.

Greatest trouble spot was Ocean Boulevard where Coos Bay city police reported one car jam after another during the morning.

Police said the worst stretch was near the entrance to the Coos Bay-North Bend Water Board building. Another trouble spot was reported on Newmark near the Southwestern Oregon Community College entrance where a number of cars and a chip truck slid off the Schools were closed in North Bend School District 13 and Coos Bay District 9 due to slick condition of the highways and not so much because of snow, according to superintendent James Ulum and John Crowley. Both said they expect normal school operations to resume Wednesday.

Schools were reported closed today at Coquille and Myrtle Point, but operating at Bandon and Powers.

About one inch of snow mixed with ice pellets reportedly fell in the Bay Area and over most of Coos County, with two to four inches reported at higher altitudes. Occasional snow showers were predicted for today.

Well over 1,000 partisans witnessed the nine freestyle and three Greco-Roman matches in which — if team scoring was kept according to the prep dual format — the Japanese scored a 42-5 victory.

Marshfield's Kip Oswald drew rousing support from the crowd as he twice used his foe's holds to score near-falls, only to drop a 7-6 decision to Akira Ishida in freestyle.

Partisan crowd blasts Wyden and Smith

Bipartisan: Senators agree fishing regulations foremost on their agendas

Oregon's senators, Democrat Ron Wyden and Republican Gordon Smith told a South Coast audience Tuesday they want to set a national example by setting a bipartisan agenda for the 107th Congress and reach a common ground to build a stronger Senate.

But the standing-room only crowd of about 200 at the Coos Bay Public Library lacked most elements of bipartisanship.

Emotions were at high-octane levels at the bruising 90-minute meeting in the packed library meeting room. Wyden took the brunt of the accusations, finger-pointing and personal attacks from the crowd that bulged out of the meeting room and across the library lobby, although mild boos hushed some of his most vocal critics.

"Feelings run high on the South Coast," Wyden said following the meeting, adding that he understands people's resentment in an area where key industries such as fishing and timber have been hit hard by regulations. Yet, the senator said he wasn't discouraged by the

The lack of bipartisan support from the audience was most evident in people's opinions of fishing regulations. Some asked the senators to pass a strong buyback plan to reduce

Reserve hopes to increase land possibilities

In an effort to increase the scope of land available for purchase to the South Slough National Estuarine Research Reserve, the reserve's management commission is proposing changes to state statutes governing the Michael Graybill, manager of the South Slough National Research Reserve, told the Coos County Commissioners on Wednesday the change of wording within the statute will allow the management commission to enter into partnerships and purchase land outside of the reserve's designated boundary to the north — Valino Island.

'The main thing that will happen is this will allow us to form partnerships and participate in the management of property north of our current boundary. It will allow us to participate in activities throughout the region that our reserve has responsibility for," Graybill told the commissioners.

Graybill said the National Estuarine Research Reserve is not restricted by boundaries to the south.

The current statute makes it difficult for the reserve to accept land donations outside its boundary without the state intervening, he

"We are often approached by people who would like to donate property and at the moment it is kind of an awkward situation for the reserve to receive donations of property,' he said. "This legislation would give us a chance to consider receiving those property donations."

Japanese visitors pin local stars

Wrestling: Touring group entertains crowd in Coquille

COQUILLE — Before Tuesday night, the Japan national wrestling team rode across the dunes and visited the Bay Area.

The 14 wrestlers and three coaches also roasted marshmallows at a campfire at Sunset Beach and spent a couple nights in Coquille and Myrtle Point.

They took in the South Coast culture, and on Tuesday night at Coquille High School, they showed their prowess in freestyle wres-

Matched against the Japanese team were the South Coast All-Stars, a handful of wrestlers representing Coquille, Marshfield, Myrtle Point, Siuslaw and Roseburg high

Thirteen exhibition matches took place, and from the opening match at 97 kilograms to the 130-kilogram finale, the night was full of high-level wrestling, smiles and laughs.

The Coquille gym was pretty packed, too.

"It is exciting for the kids and the community," said Coquille wrestling coach John Breuer, who helped organize the event. "They get to see a little bit of our culture."

South Coast wrestling fans got to see a little different style of wrestling as freestyle was the choice of competition, the same style used in all international events like the Olympics. From the opening warmups, to post-victory backflips, the Japan team scored victory in the entertainment department.

'They are funny and outgoing," said Coquille wrestler David Granger.

"I had a really good time," added Marshfield wrestler Aaron Heyer. "I think everybody had a good time."

Homeless advocates decry HUD rule change

Programs hurt: Two South Coast groups lose $115,000 in grants that had been approved Cancellation of $1.3 million in U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development funding for Oregon will bring service cuts to a local drug and alcohol recovery program.

Bay Area First Step of Coos Bay lost a $49,245 grant this week when a newly enacted congressional rule change made the grant application ineligible.

First Step won't be the only local program that suffers.

The decision also eliminated $64,392 slated to start a new program for homeless veterans at the Temporary Help and Emergency House in Coos Bay. The grant loss won't devastate THE House since the program hasn't begun, but it will hurt First Step, according to Bob More of Southwestern Oregon Community Action. "This piece of money was going to pay for operating funds," said More, who wrote both grant applications.

First Step provides alcoholand drug-free housing for homeless people enrolled in intensive outpatient treatment.

Fervent Trump fans fueled Capitol takeover

Extensive look at those arrested and involved debunks theory that Antifa led attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — The insurrectionist mob that stormed the U.S. Capitol at the president's behest last week was overwhelmingly made up of longtime Trump supporters, including Republican Party officials, GOP political donors, far-right militants, white supremacists, and adherents of the QAnon myth that the government is secretly controlled by a cabal of Satan-worshiping pedophile cannibals. Records show that some were heavily armed and included convicted criminals, such as a Florida man recently released from prison for attempted murder.

The Associated Press reviewed social media posts, voter registrations, court files and other public records for more than 120 people either facing criminal charges related to the Jan. 6 unrest or who, going maskless amid the pandemic, were later identified through photographs and videos taken during the melee.

The evidence gives lie to claims by right-wing pundits and Republican officials such as Rep. Matt Gaetz, R-Fla., that the violence was perpetrated by left-wing antifa thugs rather than supporters of the

"If the reports are true," Gaetz said on the House floor just hours after the attack, "some of the people who breached the Capitol today were not Trump supporters. They were masquerading as Trump supporters and, in fact, were members of the violent terrorist group

Steven D'Antuono, the assistant director in charge of the FBI's Washington field office, told reporters that investigators had seen "no indication" antifa activists were disguised as Trump supporters in Wednesday's riot.

The AP found that many of the rioters had taken to social media after the November election to retweet and parrot false claims by Trump that the vote had been stolen in a vast international conspiracy. Several had openly threatened violence against Democrats and Republicans they considered insufficiently loyal to the president. During the riot, some livestreamed and posted photos of themselves at the Capitol. Afterwards, many bragged about what they had done.

So far, at least 90 people have been arrested on charges ranging from misdemeanor curfew violations to felonies related to assaults on police officers, possessing illegal weapons and making death threats against House Speaker Nancy Pelosi, D-Calif.

Among them was Lonnie Leroy Coffman, 70, an Alabama grandfather who drove to Washington to attend Trump's "Save America Rally" in a red GMC Sierra pickup packed with an M4 assault rifle, multiple loaded magazines, three handguns and 11 Mason jars filled with homemade napalm, according to court filings. He was arrested carrying a 9mm Smith & Wesson handgun and a .22-caliber derringer pistol in his pockets.

His grandson, Brandon Coffman, told the AP on Friday his grandfather was a Republican who had expressed admiration for Trump at holiday gatherings. He said he had no idea why Coffman would show up in the nation's capital armed for

Also facing federal charges is Cleveland Grover Meredith Jr., a Georgia man who in the wake of the election had protested outside the home of Republican Gov. Brian Kemp, whom Trump had publicly blamed for his loss in the state. Meredith drove to Washington last week for the "Save America" rally but arrived late because of a problem with the lights on his trailer, according to court filings that include expletive-laden texts.

"Headed to DC with a (s--) ton of 5.56 armor-piercing ammo," he texted friends and relatives on Jan. 6, adding a purple devil emoji, according to court filings. The following day, he texted to the group: "Thinking about heading over to Pelosi (C——'s) speech and putting a bullet in her noggin on Live TV." He once again added a purple devil emoji, and wrote he might hit her with his truck instead. "I'm gonna run that (C—-) Pelosi over while she chews on her gums. ... Dead (B——) Walking. I predict that within 12 days, many in our country will die.'

A participant in the text exchange provided screenshots to the FBI. who tracked Meredith to a Holiday Inn a short walk from the Capitol. They found a compact Tavor X95 assault rifle, a 9mm Glock 19 handgun and about 100 rounds of ammunition, according to court filings. The agents also seized a stash of THC edibles and a vial of injectable testosterone.

Meredith is charged with transmitting a threat, as well as felony counts for possession of firearms and ammunition.

Michael Thomas Curzio was arrested in relation to the riots less than two years after he was released from a Florida prison in 2019. He had served eight years for attempted murder.

Federal law enforcement officials vowed Friday to bring additional charges against those who carried out the attack on the Capitol, launching a nationwide manhunt for dozens of suspects identified from photographic evidence

The FBI has opened a murder probe into the death of Capitol Police Officer Brian D. Sicknick, who was hit in the head with a fire extinguisher, according to law enforcement officials who spoke on the condition of anonymity because they were not authorized to discuss the ongoing investigation publicly.

The Trump supporters who died in the riot were Kevin D. Greeson, 55, of Athens, Alabama; Benjamin Philips, 50, of Ringtown, Pennsylvania; Ashli Babbitt, 35, of San Diego; and Rosanne Boyland, 34, of Kennesaw, Georgia.

Boyland's sister told the AP on Friday she was an adherent of the QAnon conspiracy theory that holds Trump is America's savior. Her Facebook page featured photos and videos praising Trump and promoting fantasies, including one theory that a shadowy group was using the coronavirus to steal elections. Boyland's final post on Twitter — a retweet of a post by White House social media director Dan Scavino — was a picture of thousands of people surrounding the Washington Monument on Wednesday.

The AP's review found that QAnon beliefs were common among those who heeded Trump's call to come to Washington.

Doug Jensen, 41, was arrested by the FBI on Friday in Des Moines, Iowa, after returning home from the riot. An AP photographer captured images of him confronting Capitol Police officers outside of the Senate chamber on Wednesday.

Jensen was wearing a black T-shirt emblazoned with a large Q and the phrase "Trust The Plan," a reference to QAnon.

Jensen's older brother, William Routh, told the AP on Saturday that Jensen believed that the person posting as Q was either Trump or someone very close to the presi-

"I feel like he had a lot of influence from the internet that confused or obscured his views on certain things," said Routh, of Clarksville, Arkansas, who described himself as a Republican Trump supporter. "When I talked to him, he thought that maybe this was Trump telling him what to do."

Biden picks Burns to lead CIA

WASHINGTON (AP) - President-elect Joe Biden announced Monday he has chosen veteran diplomat William Burns to be his CIA director.

A former ambassador to Russia and Jordan, Burns, 64, had a 33year career at the State Department under both Republican and Democratic presidents. He rose through the ranks of the diplomatic corps to become deputy secretary of state before retiring in 2014 to run the Carnegie Endowment of International Peace.

Amid tumult in the State Department after President Donald Trump took office in 2017, Burns held his tongue until last year when he began writing highly critical pieces of the Trump administration's policies in Foreign Affairs and other publications. Burns has been a staunch advocate of rebuilding and restructuring the foreign service, positions Biden has aligned himself with.

"Bill Burns is an exemplary diplomat with decades of experience on the world stage keeping our people and our country safe and secure," Biden said in a statement Monday. "He shares my profound belief that intelligence must be apolitical and that the dedicated intelligence professionals serving our nation deserve our gratitude and respect. Ambassador Burns will bring the knowledge, judgment, and perspective we need to prevent and confront threats before they can reach our shores. The American people will sleep soundly with him as our next CIA director."

Burns was said to have been a candidate to be Biden's secretary of state. Biden chose Anthony Blinken instead.

Browns build big lead, stun Steelers in playoffs

PITTSBURGH (AP) — So much for the weight of history. Or practicing. Or having your head coach on the sideline. Or an emotional leader on the field.

The Cleveland Browns overcame all of it. The burden of carrying the mantle of a franchise that's long been a punchline. A schedule ravaged by a COVID-19 outbreak. A rival that for years has treated them like a harmless little brother.

All of that's over. For now. And maybe for good.

The Browns dismantled the Pittsburgh Steelers 48-37 in the wild-card round Sunday night, picking up the franchise's first postseason victory in more than a quarter-century and earning a trip to Kansas City next Sunday to face the defending Super Bowl champions.

"We believe in the people in the room no matter what's going on," quarterback Baker Mayfield said. "We knew that everybody was counting us out. There was no extra pressure or anything. No one believed in us besides us.3

Playing with first-year head coach Kevin Stefanski, Pro Bowl guard Joel Bitonio and top cornerback Denzel Ward back in Cleveland after all tested positive for COVID-19, Cleveland (12-5) raced to the biggest first half by a road team in NFL playoff history then held on.

Mayfield threw for 263 yards and three touchdowns, including a screen pass that Nick Chubb turned into a 40-yard score that halted Pittsburgh's momentum after the Steelers pulled within 12. Kareem Hunt added 48 yards and two TDs on the ground while Cleveland's defense forced five turnovers to hand the Steelers (12-5) a staggering loss.

The victory was the Browns' first postseason triumph of any kind since beating New England on New Year's Day 1995 — three months before Mayfield was born — and their first playoff win on the road since Dec. 28, 1969.

The significance wasn't lost on special teams coordinator Mike Priefer, a Cleveland native who found himself filling in when Stefanski tested positive for "I grew up (a Browns fan), so

I know what this means," Priefer

Cleveland did it despite practicing just once over the last two weeks and having lost 17 straight at Heinz Field. The Browns did it with efficiency and swagger. And they did it with Priefer at the controls and offensive coordinator Alex Van Pelt taking over the play-calling duties as Stefanski watched in his basement back in Ohio.

"We have a resilient team," Mayfield said. "Defense played great in the first half and we kind of stalled out and let them climb back in the game, but that's a great team win right there — guys stepping up all over the board. I'm proud of these guys."

The Steelers certainly helped, ending a season in which they started 11-0 with a thud that could reverberate for years. Ben Roethlisberger ended his comeback season by throwing for 501 yards on an NFL-record 47 completions with four touchdowns and four interceptions

"I don't have any magical answers," Roethlisberger said. "We just didn't put it together. Tonight, the glaring issues is we turned the

And over. And over. And the NFL's third-ranked defense could do little to stem the tide. The Steelers led the NFL in sacks but failed to get to Mayfield. Cleveland's 48 points were the most Pittsburgh has given up in the playoffs, surpassing the 45 to Jacksonville in the 2017 playoffs.

Pittsburgh's problems started on the first play from scrimmage when center Maurkice Pouncey's snap sailed by Roethlisberger into the end zone. Cleveland's Karl Joseph fell on it for a touchdown. Roethlisberger threw three first-half interceptions, two of which led directly to Browns scores.

By the time the Steelers found their footing, they were down 28-0. Even when they did get it going on a 1-yard touchdown run by James Conner with 1:44 to go in the half, the Browns stormed right back. Mayfield capped a cathartic opening half with a masterful 64-yard drive that ended with a 7-yard toss to Austin Hooper with 34 seconds remaining. Pittsburgh countered with a field goal in the closing seconds but trailed 35-10 at the break.

Pittsburgh tried to claw back in it. The Steelers pulled within 35-23 at the end of the third quarter. Facing fourth-and-1 at the Pittsburgh 46 on the first play of the fourth, Tomlin opted to punt.

"I wanted to pin them down and maybe provide a short field for their offense," Tomlin said. "I just wanted to keep the momentum going in terms of field positioning.

It didn't work out. The kick bounced into the end zone for a touchback and Mayfield calmly took Cleveland 80 yards in six plays. The sideline erupted as Chubb streaked into the end zone.

So much for the Browns being the Browns, a winking assessment Steelers wide receiver JuJu Smith-Schuster made about Cleveland in the middle of the week. Regardless of the intent -Smith-Schuster said after the game he didn't regret it — Mayfield and All-Pro defensive end Myles Garrett took it to heart.

Then, in front of a mostly empty stadium and a national audience so accustomed to seeing them stumble, the Browns, who didn't win a game in Garrett's first season, took out their frustration by landing one haymaker after another.

Boise State hires UO assistant

Andy Avalos was a standout linebacker for the Broncos

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Andy Avalos is taking over as head coach at Boise State, returning to the school where he was a standout linebacker and defensive coordi-

Avalos was announced Saturday as the replacement for Bryan Harsin, who left Boise State to take the head coaching position at Auburn just before Christmas.

The hiring of Avalos continues Boise State's trend of keeping the job running the program within the Broncos family. Boise State has hired either an assistant within the program or a former player to run the show dating back to Dirk Koetter taking over in 1998.

Avalos played for the Broncos from 2001-05 and later returned as a defensive assistant and took over as defensive coordinator in 2016. For the past two seasons, he has been the defensive coordinator at

"This is a dream come true, and a very humbling opportunity for myself and my family to be back in this program," Avalos said in a statement. "I'm excited to get back around the players I have missed the last two years, and to provide an elite experience for all the young men in the Boise State football program.'

The Broncos job seemed to come down to which former Boise State connection would end up in charge - former quarterback Kellen Moore, Montana State coach Jeff Choate or Avalos. Moore has always seemed destined to be a head coach, but he withdrew from the process after signing a new contract to remain the offensive coordinator of the Dallas Cowboys.

After Moore withdrew, the decision for new Boise State athletic director Jeremiah Dickey came down to Avalos or Choate, a former assistant for the Broncos under Chris Petersen.

"We did our due diligence with this search in a very short period of time, and this was a national search, not just something we were looking at keeping within the family,' said Dickey, who was hired by the school just a week ago. "Andy left no doubt that he was the individual that would continue building on the well-established culture within Bronco Football."

Avalos was a two-time all-WAC first-team selection during his playing career. Once he finished playing, Avalos coached at Division II Nebraska-Kearney and Sacramento State before returning to Boise State in 2012 as an Avalos was hired as the defensive coordinator at Oregon in February 2019.

Bullards Run

Runners and walkers were greeted with pleasant conditions Sunday for the annual Bullards Run, a popular South Coast Running Club event held in early January each year at Bullards Beach State Park north of Bandon.

This year's event was limited to 50 participants and sold out several days before the race, which included a trip near the historic Coquille River Lighthouse for all participants for the first time. In past years, when the event started in the park campground, the shorter of the two races, a 5-kilometer run/walk, did not get all the way to the lighthouse, but a new start/finish line this year changed that.

Results from the race, which also included a 10-kilometer distance, and more pictures will be included in Friday's edition of The World.

Kyle Petersen celebrates as he hits the turnaround point near the Coquille River Lighthouse as longtime race director Tom Bedell watches in the background Sunday.

PGA pulls 2022 championship from Trump course

KAPALUA, Hawaii (AP) — The PGA of America cut ties to President Donald Trump when it voted Sunday to take the PGA Championship event away from his New Jersey golf course next year.

The vote comes four days after the Trump-fueled riot at the nation's Capitol as Congress was certifying the election victory of President-elect Joe Biden. This is the second time in just over five years the PGA of America removed one of its events from a Trump course.

PGA President Jim Richerson says the board voted to exercise its right to "terminate the agreement" with Trump National in Bedminster, New Jersey.

"We find ourselves in a political situation not of our making,"

Seth Waugh, the CEO of the PGA of America, said in a telephone interview. "We're fiduciaries for our members, for the game, for our mission and for our brand. And how do we best protect that? Our feeling was given the tragic events of Wednesday that we could no longer hold it at Bedminster. The damage could have been irreparable. The only real course of action was to leave."

The PGA of America, which has some 29,000 golf professionals who mostly teach the game, signed the deal with Trump National in 2014.

It canceled the PGA Grand Slam of Golf in 2015 at Trump National Los Angeles Golf Club after Trump's disparaging remarks about Mexican immigrants when he announced he was seeking the Republican nomination for president. The event was canceled for good the following spring.

The shocking insurrection Wednesday rattled the country, and in golf circles, attention quickly focused on whether the PGA of America would keep its premier championship — and one of golf's four major championships -

Trump's course in 2022. "Our decision wasn't about speed and timing," Waugh said. "What matters most to our board and leadership is protecting our brand and reputation, and the ability for our members to lead the growth of the game, which they do through so many powerful programs in their communities." The Trump Organization said in a statement it has "a beautiful partnership with the PGA of America and are incredibly disappointed with their decision."

"This is a breach of a binding contract and they have no right to terminate the agreement," the statement said. "As an organization we have invested many, many millions of dollars in the 2022 PGA Championship at Trump National Golf Club, Bedminster. We will continue to promote the game of golf on every level and remain focused on operating the finest golf courses anywhere in the world."

Waugh declined to say whether the PGA of America expected any legal challenges from the Trump Organization.

NFL Playoffs: Brees to meet Brady again

ASSOCIATED PRESS

The NFC divisional round will give fans a third-time treat: another meeting between old-timers Tom Brady and Drew Brees.

Possibly the final one.
The AFC matchups, meanwhile, will include the Cleveland Browns for the first time since they re-entered the NFL in 1999, and Lamar Jackson and the Rayens.

Brees assured that the NFC South rival Saints and Buccaneers will meet once more, throwing for two touchdowns in a 21-9 victory over Chicago. The New Orleans quarterback, who turns 42 on Friday — one year younger than Tampa Bay's star — is toying with retirement, but with the way the Saints defense is playing, a second trip to the Super Bowl is not a long shot.

Tampa Bay (12-5) defeated Washington 31-23 on Saturday. The Bucs will travel to New Orleans (13-4) next Sunday night.

"The minute that he signed with the Bucs and came to the division, you felt like that was going to be a team to contend with, that was going to be a team that would have playoff aspirations and beyond, just like us," Brees said of meeting Brady in the playoffs for the first time. "So, I guess it was inevitable."

The other NFC game next weekend will be on Saturday as Green Bay (13-3 and coming off a bye) hosts the Los Angeles Rams (11-6), who downed Seattle this weekend.

In the AFC, Cleveland's return to the postseason for the first time in 18 years went very well. The Browns not only snapped a 17-game skid at Heinz Field, they manhandled the mistake-prone archrival Steelers 48-37 Sunday night. On to face reigning Super Bowl champion Kansas City (14-2 and coming off a bye) next Sunday.

After two postseason flops, Jackson was his usual dynamic and decisive self in leading the Ravens to a 20-13 wild-card victory at Tennessee. That sends them to Buffalo on Saturday night.

Browns 48, Steelers 37: In their first playoff road victory since 1969, the Browns (12-5) overcame all sorts of problems and history.

Baker Mayfield threw for three touchdowns and the Browns got their first playoff win in 26 years. Kareem Hunt added two touchdown runs for Cleveland, playing without several high-profile players and head coach Kevin Stefanski due to COVID-19.

It hardly mattered as the Browns raced to a quick 28-0 lead then turned aside Pittsburgh's second-half rally. Steelers quarterback Ben Roethlisberger passed for 501 yards and four touchdowns but also threw four interceptions.

Saints 21, Bears 9: Michael Thomas and Latavius Murray caught Brees' touchdown passes, and Alvin Kamara rushed for 99 yards and a 3-yard scoring run after sitting out the regular-season finale and not practicing this past week because of COVID-19 protocols.

"Our defense played outstanding," coach Sean Payton said. "We tackled well in space. ... Ultimately we forced them to become one-dimensional, and when you do that you're going to win a lot of games."

The Saints won both meetings with the Bucs during the regular Ravens 20, Titans 13: Some first steps are far longer than others. Such as what Jackson achieved Sunday.

He isn't in any way the only reason Baltimore is advancing — the defense shut down 2,000-yard rusher Derrick Henry like no other team has come close to doing. But he was a positive contributor, unlike in losses to the Chargers and Titans in his other playoff appearances.

Jackson ran for 136 yards and a 48-yard touchdown while throwing for 179 more, rallying the Ravens from a 10-0 hole. The Ravens (12-5) went 21 straight losses in either the regular season or playoffs when trailing by 10 or more points.

Despite being sacked five times and throwing an interception, Jackson turned in the sixth 100-yard rushing game by a quarterback in the postseason, and joined Colin Kaepernick with two.

"We stayed focused. We didn't get rattled. Our coaches didn't get rattled. We had to put points on the board," Jackson said. "I throw an interception, a dumb interception. We just kept fighting."

Especially the defense: Henry had his worst performance this season with 18 carries for 40 yards and the Titans (11-6) were held to their fewest points of the season.

"Our defense was tired of hearing the noise," Jackson said. "And they did what they were supposed to do."

SATURDAY

Buccaneers 31, Washington 23: In his first postseason game wearing a uniform other than New England's, Brady showed why he was so responsible for the Patriots' two-decade dynasty. While leading his new team, the Buccaneers (12-5), to their first playoff win since Tampa Bay won the 2002 championship, Brady extended his record for playoff victories to 31. He threw for 381 yards and two touchdowns in his 42nd postseason start.

"You could win 100-0 and it's going to be the same result in the end," Brady said. "You'd love to play great every game; I think it's good to win and advance. If we don't play well next week, we're not going to be happy. Glad we won, glad we have another week of work."

Bills 27, Colts 24: At Buffalo, there actually was a playoff game played, for the first time in 15 years. And won by the Bills, the AFC East champions for the first time since 1995. Josh Allen threw two touchdown passes and scored another rushing, and the Bills (14-3) knocked down a desperation pass by Philip Rivers to end the game.

The Bills have won seven in a

"We understand that whatever's going on in the game, we feel like we've got a chance," Allen said. "That's just based on how we play, how we trust one another, how we care for one another, how we practice. Just the foundation. ... It is a family-like atmosphere here and we want to do everything in our power not to let each other down."

Rams 30, Seahawks 20: At Seattle, a staunch defensive performance by the league's top-ranked unit lifted Los Angeles (11-6) into the divisional round. The Rams, even with unanimous All-Pro DT Aaron Donald sitting out much of the second half with a rib injury, rattled Seahawks QB Russell Wilson, sacking him five times and getting a pick-6 from Darious Williams. LA also shut down the Seattle rushing attack.

"We expected to do this," Rams coach Sean McVay said. "Nobody acted surprised."

Defenses rise to the occasion

BARRY WILNERAssociated Press

The lasting memory of the offenses for Seattle, Tennessee and Chicago this weekend is how offensive they were.

Not in a good way.
Even in a league where scoring was at an all-time high, with more touchdowns than ever, defense becomes a priceless commodity in the postseason. Ask the quarterbacks who were victimized by it, including a Super Bowl winner, the Seahawks' Russell Wilson.

Ask Derrick Henry, the 2,000-yard All-Pro running back for the Titans whose production in Sunday's loss to Baltimore almost could be measured in inches.

And anyone on a Bears attack that that was more teddy than grizzly — thanks to New Orleans' dominant D.

"Our defense played outstanding," coach Sean Payton said of a 21-9 victory. "We tackled well in space. ... Ultimately we forced them to become one-dimensional, and when you do that you're going to win a lot of games."

John Harbaugh and Ravens defensive coordinator Wink Martindale could say the same. Rams DC Brandon Staley could echo those thoughts. So could his boss, Sean Mc-Vay, an offensive guru whose unit is a placeholder while the defense is destructive.

"This might be the best win I have ever been associated with," said Harbaugh, who merely won a Super Bowl in the 2012 season and now has a record eight away victories in the playoffs.

There weren't many fans on hand for any of the games due to COVID-19 restrictions, and chants of DEE-FENSE weren't rocking any of the stadiums. But the message remains clear: If you bring the D, it's a smoother pass to the W. And possibly the SB (Super Bowl).

For all the complexity of the NFL these days, when offenses have more schemes and formations and variables than ever — not to mention so many rules slanted to help scoring — a big pass rush is the antidote. A unanimous All-Pro Aaron Donald as an inside force, particularly when complemented by a revitalized Leonard Floyd and shutdown backs, can make a defense destructive. It's happened in LA, which won at Seattle 30-20.

A veteran group with dynamic performers at each position is how New Orleans' unit has reached equal status with the Drew Brees/Alvin Kamara offense. This might be the best defense in the Big Easy since Brees arrived in 2006, and if this is his final season, he certainly has the accompaniment to make it special.

Consider, also, that the Chiefs, for all their score-board-exploding magic with the ball, didn't win a championship until their defense reached a higher level. Remember the Legion of Boom? Or Baltimore's powerhouse D with Ray Lewis and Ed Reed in 2012?

Tom Brady unquestionably was the major reason for New England's dynasty, but even he needed help from the defense in the Super Bowl victories against the Seahawks (Malcolm Butler's interception) and Rams, who scored three points in 2019. In two of his Super Bowl defeats, Brady was harried and sacked by the Giants' unyielding pressure.

Why do defenses play a bigger role in many postseason games?

For one, teams with weak Ds don't get to the playoffs very often. Yes, the NFC East was abysmal in 2020, but the winner had, by far, the division's best defense. Contenders (actually pretenders) who failed to get into the championship chase — Las Vegas, Dallas and Minnesota — came up short on that side of the ball.

Also make note of how good defensive teams turn up the heat in the biggest games. The Rams and Saints were the best examples of that during wild-card weekend. Both are capable of giving fits to the Packers and Bucs, respectively, next weekend. Indeed, the style and makeup of New Orleans' group is exactly what bothers Brady the most, and the Saints beat him and Tampa Bay twice already this season.

And the last guy Aaron Rodgers is eager to meet up close next Saturday afternoon is that other Aaron from the West Coast.

This is not to claim that A-Rod and Patrick Mahomes and Josh Allen are doomed in these playoffs. Nor that such
All-Pros as Buffalo receiver
Stefon Diggs, Chiefs tight end Travis Kelce or Green Bay wideout Davante Adams will underachieve.

But anyone who believes the shootout in Pittsburgh won by Cleveland 48-37 is a harbinger for these playoffs, well, maybe such an observer needs to meet Donald while in possession of the ball.

Another early exit adds to Seattle's playoff frustrations

SEATTLE (AP) — For all the success through the years, there is an indisputable fact Russell Wilson, Pete Carroll and the rest of the Seattle Seahawks more veteran players can't avoid.

Since the Seahawks loss to New England in the Super Bowl in February 2015, their playoff performances have been complete failures by their own standards.

It's now been six years since Seattle won more than one game in a single post-season. The Seahawks have failed to advance beyond the divisional round since that last Super Bowl appearance following the 2014 season. No NFC championship game appearances. No chances at getting back to playing for a title.

The latest abrupt playoff exit may be the most troubling following Saturday's 30-20 loss to the Los Angeles Rams. After getting outcoached and outplayed by their division foe, the Seahawks are unexpectedly headed into an important offseason sooner than anyone expected.

"Out of all the years since we lost to New England, I thought that this year was our best chance in going," Seattle linebacker K.J. Wright said on Sunday. "I truly felt like we had all the pieces. We had all the confidence in the world to go back, and 12-4 that's a really good season. It's just unfortunate that yesterday was just one of them days."

It's the second time in three seasons the Seahawks were ousted from the postseason in the wild-card round after losing in the 2018 playoffs at Dallas.

In the five playoff appearances since losing in the Super Bowl, the Seahawks have a 3-5 record.

Most franchises would be thrilled to have that many playoff appearances. But for the Seahawks, it's a continual run of what they see as missed opportunity. "We got to be better. We

"We got to be better. We got to find ways to win these type of matchups," Wilson said. "Frustration? I mean, yeah, of course I'm frustrated."

In previous seasons, there seemed to be an understanding or justification for why playoff runs fell short of reaching their full potential.

A year ago, there was a feeling of optimism after losing in the divisional round at Green Bay when Seattle was so depleted by injuries at the key position of running back that Marshawn Lynch was brought out of retirement to carry the load.

That was not the case in the aftermath of Saturday. Optimism was scarce. Left in its place was confusion about what happened and what the path is going forward after Seattle mortgaged a significant amount of its future by acquiring Jamal Adams and Carlos Dunlap to win this season.

"We got to make that next step. I think this is part of the process, to figure out this offseason along the way, and how we can do that and do whatever it takes," Wilson said. "So I'm looking forward to starting 2021 with a new season come next fall. Unfortunately today we didn't get it done."

The aftermath of the loss to the Rams made clear there are issues about identity on the offensive side for Seattle, which seemed unfathomable at the start of the season. Wilson was the leading MVP candidate throwing a record number of touchdowns to begin the season as Seattle started 5-0.

But the limitations of that offense which grew as the season progressed were on full display in the loss to the Rams. Seattle's' 278 total yards were a season worst, as was Wilson's 40.7% completion rate, the only time all season he didn't hit at least 55% of his passes.

Both Wilson and Carroll expressed a frustration at the lack of offensive adjustments as the season progressed, even as Seattle's defense was making dramatic improvement.

"At one part of the year, it was available, and we took it, and then in the second part of the year, against the really good defenses that we played, they were able to keep us out of that kind of a mode," Carroll said. "I wish we would have adapted better under those circumstances."

LaMelo Ball is quick to make big impact PGA From A8

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — LaMelo Ball isn't wasting any time making an impact in the NBA.

The rookie point guard became the youngest player in league history to record a triple-double, with 22 points, 12 rebounds and 11 assists on Saturday night, helping the Charlotte Hornets beat the Atlanta Hawks 113-105 for their third straight win.

"A 19-year-old rookie does not look like this," Hornets coach James Borrego said. "This is rare what you're seeing."

Ball's history-making performance came just two nights after he missed out on his first triple-double when he finished with 12 points, 10 rebounds and nine assists in a win over his brother Lonzo's New Orleans Peli-

He said he hasn't begun to process the accomplishment.

"I live my life and I know what I'm capable of, so stuff like doesn't move me like that," Ball said. "I know that's supposed to happen."

Ball replaced Markelle Fultz as the youngest NBA player to record a triple-double by 177 days.

"He's a tall PG who can pass, can rebound and he's a smart player," said Atlanta's Trae Young. "Things are going to become even easier for him in this league as he plays more and more games."

Terry Rozier had 23 points to lead the Hornets.

Cam Reddish scored 21 points and De'Andre Hunter had 20 for the Hawks. Young struggled all night, shooting 5 of 19 from the floor to finish with 15 points and 10 assists Ball tied his highest scoring night on 9-of-13 shooting from the field as the Hornets handed the struggling Hawks their fourth consecutive loss. He became only the fifth rookie in NBA history to record a triple-double and the first Hornets player to do it coming off the bench.

Borrego said he loves Ball's spirit and his energy, but what has impressed him the most is his poise and confidence.

"He's not rattled by the moment.

It's like he's been doing this for a number of years," Borrego said of Ball, who played overseas before becoming the third pick in the NBA draft Ball had several sharp passes, including a perfect behind-the-back strike to set up a 3-pointer by P.J. Washington.

"It's tough because you don't know when it's coming. He might throw it behind his head, behind his back or straight to you," joked Washington, who also had 22 points and was on the receiving end of several of Ball's passes. "You have to be active and aware when he has the ball. It's always fun playing with a guy like that."

Trump had delivered a speech to his supporters in which he repeatedly made baseless claims that the election was stolen from him and urged them to "fight."

They stormed the U.S. Capitol as lawmakers were in the process of certifying President-elect Joe Biden's victory. After forcing their way inside, the violent crowd ransacked the building and sent terrified staff and lawmakers into hiding. Five people, including a Capitol police officer, died.

A new ABC News/Ipsos poll released Sunday found that 67% of respondents said Trump deserves a "good amount" or a "great deal" of blame for the insurrection.

"This is not because of any pressures we feel. We're not being forced into a decision," Waugh said. "We had to make a business decision. It's a perpetual institution. My job is to hand it off better than when I found it. One hundred years from now, we still want to be vibrant."

The PGA of America, which operates separately from the PGA Tour and its week-to-week tournaments, previously held the Senior PGA Championship at Trump's course outside Washington in 2017. That was the same year the USGA staged the U.S. Women's Open at Trump National in Bedminster

Trump also owns Turnberry in Scotland, one of the most picturesque links in the British Open rotation most famous for the "Duel in Sun" between Tom Watson and Jack Nicklaus in 1977, and most recently Stewart Cink beating a 59-year-old Watson in 2009. The R&A, which determines the British Open rotation, has not returned to Turnberry since Trump took

He also owns Trump Doral outside Miami, for years a venerable stop on the PGA Tour schedule and most recently a World Golf Championship site. Trump's presence made it difficult to find a corporate sponsor, and the tournament moved to Mexico in 2017.

Waugh said the PGA of America already had a team in place in New Jersey to start work on selling the events to the public and local sponsorship. Now it's about finding a place to play the PGA Championship, which dates to 1916, for next year.

The PGA is at Kiawah Island in South Carolina in May.

"We've had a number of places reach out already," Waugh said. "We think we'll have a bunch of options."

Boise

He will inherit a Boise State program in flux. The Broncos have not matched the same level of success from the time when Moore was the quarterback and Petersen was in charge, but the program has remained the benchmark for most Group of Five programs. Boise State went 69-19 under Harsin, won three Mountain West championships and claimed a Fiesta Bowl title in Harsin's first season.

Boise State went 5-2 this season and lost to San Jose State in the Mountain West title game.

But there have been rumblings of unhappiness with the Broncos' current situation in the Mountain West, as evidenced by recent emails from Harsin revealed through public information requests and published by the Idaho Press that suggest change could be in order.

The Broncos have not played in a New Year's Six bowl game since 2014 and have seen a number of programs in the American — Cincinnati, UCF, Memphis — pull even or surpass Boise State in terms of prominence and recent success among the Group of Five schools.

Avalos' task will be getting Boise State's on-field product back to the top of that conversation while the school seems to be exploring what's the best move for the future of its football program.

Oregon women dominate Cal 100-41

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Kylee Watson scored a career high 12 points on 6-for-8 shooting and 11th-ranked Oregon obliterated Cal 100-41 on Sunday.

Oregon entered with a four-game win streak over Cal with an average margin of victory of 39 points per game.

Taylor Chavez, Te-Hina Paopao and Nyara Sabally each scored 13 points to lead the Ducks who had a half-dozen players score in double figures and a total of 11 score.

Oregon shot 42 of 80 (52.5%) from the field.

After the Ducks (9-2, 7-2 Pac-12 Conference) built a quick 10-2 lead, Cal responded by outscoring the Ducks 13-8. Ugonne Onyiah's 3-pointer with 3:10 left in the first quarter brought the Bears within 18-15.

But Oregon responded with a vengeance and outscored the Bears (0-10, 0-7) 28-4 for the remainder of the half and led 50-19 at halftime. The Ducks had runs of 18-2 and 12-0 during that stretch.

Cal scored four points in the second quarter and eight in the third. Onyiah scored 13 for Cal and Evelien Lutje Schipholt 10.

Oregon was coming off back-to-back losses, including a 70-63 setback to topranked Stanford on Friday. The Ducks had won the past three against Stanford but have never beaten a team ranked No. 1.

MEN

OREGON 79, UTAH 73: Chris Duarte scored 25 points and Eric Williams Jr. added 19 to lift No. 17 Oregon to a victory over Utah on Saturday night.

LJ Figueroa scored 15 points for the Ducks (9-2, 41 Pac-12) before exiting late in the second half with an apparent leg injury. Amauri Hardy added 13. Oregon beat Utah for the 18th time in the last 20 games between the two schools.

Timmy Allen scored 23 points and Mikael Jantunen added a career-high 20 points to lead the Utes (4-4, 1-3). Pelle Larsson had 15 points, five rebounds, and five assists before fouling out in the final minute.

Utah shot 57% from the field but could not overcome 18 turnovers. Oregon scored 25 points off those turnovers.

Jessie Diggins is first to win Tour de Ski for United States

VAL DI FIEMME, Italy (AP) — Jessie Diggins won a first title for the United States in cross-country skiing's Tour de Ski on Sunday.

Leading the women's time standings after seven events, Diggins placed second in the 10-kilometer final stage of the 10-day competition raced in Italy and Switzerland.

Her final time of more than three hours was 1 minute, 24 seconds ahead of Russian Yulia Stupak. Ebba Andersson of Sweden was third.

In 15 years of the marathon competition, Diggins's third place three years ago is the only other podium finish by an American man or woman.

Four different Norwegians combined to win the past seven editions of the women's Tour de Ski. The cross-country skiing power did not enter the 2021 competitions because of safety concerns over the coronavirus pandemic.

Diggins, from Saint Paul, Minnesota, won an Olympic gold medal at the 2018 Pyeongchang Winter Games in team sprint with Kikkan Randall.

Consider what makes you happy and adjust your life accordingly. The changes you make will help you see things more clearly. Choose your words wisely, and make sure you practice what you preach. Personal growth and an updated look are favored.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) -- It's OK to do things differently. Don't feel bound to tradition or to what someone wants you to do. A change will lift your spirits and encourage you to be more active.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) -- You will meet with opposition if you show signs of insecurity or confusion. Stand tall and be clear about what you want. Look for an opportunity, and follow through with a plan. PISCES (Feb.

20-March 20) -- You'll get the opportunity to explore something you want to pursue. How you represent yourself will make a difference. Direct your energy where it will be most effective.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) -- You'll have to rely on your connections to help you get ahead. A competitive individual will try to make you look bad. Preparation, intelligence and strategy will help you come out on TAURUS (April 20-May 20) -- Keep an open mind, size up situations and make decisions based on facts. Personal improvements, growth and unique friendships will develop if you use social media to your advantage. Be direct.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) -- Gather information. Trusting someone to take care of your business will set you back. Question everything and everyone before you agree to make a change. CANCER (June 21-July 22) -- A change someone suggests will be useful for you emotionally, but not financially. Think twice before you let someone push you in a bad direction. Concentrate on creativity, romance and personal happiness. LEO (July 23-Aug.

22) -- You'll have plenty of ideas, but consider your motives before you leap into action. A change will lead to uncertainty if you haven't thought matters through sufficiently. Be smart and take your

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) -- Jump at the chance to learn something new or to use your skills differently. The more you know and have to offer, the greater the reward. Look at the trends, and be as versatile as possible.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) -- Don't let your desire for change lead you down a rabbit hole. Don't trade one negative situation for another. Baby steps will help you incorporate a promising strategy.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) -- Let your intuition be your guide. Stay focused on knowledge and facts. Use your imagination to outmaneuver anyone who tries to get in your way. Romance is favored.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) -- Let go of negative baggage. Prepare to move forward with optimism, intelligence and a disciplined attitude. Giving anyone the chance to speak on your behalf or take care of your responsibilities will result in disappointment.

Swimmers compete in the 2017 district swim meet at North Bend Municipal Pool. The pool, which has frequently hosted big swim meets, as well as many local users, has been closed since the start of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Late last year, Milliron met with city council and explained the pool loses significant money every year, often between $200,000 and $300,000. He told council it had to determine whether operating the pool at a loss was still an option or whether there was a way to bring in additional revenue. He also told council the pool needed significant infrastructure upgrades before it could reopen. Milliron told council some things they could consider included bonds or a tax levy to pay for the upgrades and offset the losses.

"I've kept council informed," he said. "They know we've been working on a grant. If North Bend was a little poorer, we would qualify for federal and state grants But we're not

In fact, Milliron said the city has not found any outside funding to help with the pool. He explained grants are available for many things, but he has not found one to help operate a pool. There are grants for low-income communities, but North Bend is not close to qualifying for those.

After hearing from the city administrator last year, Mayor Jessica Engelke said the council would have a retreat early this year to discuss the pool and other key issues.

That retreat is scheduled Jan. 19 at the community center. During the meeting, the council will meet with all the city department heads and will come up with a list of between 12 and 15 priorities for the city to focus on for the next two years.

"You can only have 12 to 15 top goals," Milliron explained. "If you have more that that, it's hard to do in two years. The city still has to provide basic needs for citizens."

After the council sets the goals, city staff will create a plan on how to implement the council goals. That will then go back to council for formal approval.

The challenge, with the pool or any other goal, is how to fund it, Milliron said.

"I know we don't have enough money, so I have to be very, very creative with staff," he said. "When I say creative, I know the police department is working on grants for new patrol cars. We have to be able to accomplish the initiatives with no additional debt."

He said one option was to borrow money to finance current goals with a plan to pay them off over 20 or 30 years. He explained if the city wants to pave all its roads, it would cost $14 million. Since North Bend does not have that money, it could borrow the money and pay it off slowly. Milliron said a properly built and paved road would last for 50 years, long after the loan was paid off.

"You spread the cost out inter-generational so no one generation pays for it," he said. "That's the path I'm taking."

The final decision, he said, would belong to the council.

At the North Bend School District, Superintendent Kevin Bogatin said there are "more than a couple kids that need support" from the difficulties of distance learning. To help, he said the district is discussing options with the goal to get students to graduate.

"I put aside some of our COVID federal money for summer school, for extended days in the future," he said. "Our seniors are resilient. They've been good at understanding we're in the midst of a pandemic and have been good at understanding (they) can't do what a normal senior class would be doing."

He added the district has also done outreach to help struggling students get what they need and "shepherd them through."

In Bandon, Ardiana said the first few days back from winter break have "been great" so far and that he is seeing excitement on the faces of students and teachers.

"It's good to see our kids bounce down the road to go to their music classes, running around with their band instruments and books," he said. "It's getting back to the focus of our school.'

Tackling daycare

In the Coquille School District, Sweeney echoed that it is good to see students back. But he added he was also glad to have daycare again. He said for most of the year, the Coquille School District has struggled to cover all the daycare needs for families and staff but there is now a plan in place starting this

"When we shut down a week early in December, we had cross-contamination from one group to another which had a lot of students and staff being quarantined," Sweeney said. "We have opened up classrooms for a daycare at the Lutheran Church across the street from Coquille Valley Elementary and opened up a daycare at Winter Lakes Elementary."

This is in addition to the multiple daycares set up at Lincoln Elementary. Sweeney said the daycare problem was solved by Amy Flora, principal at Lincoln Elemen-

"...It was a headache and she spent much of her winter break solving that problem," Sweeney said. "I'm proud of her for the work she has done. It was not an easy task."

On Monday next week, more students will return to the Winter Lakes High School and Coquille Junior and Senior High School. Sweeney said "we will see how many return then. We're feeling really good about where we are...."

He added, "There is some trepidation because we don't know what the virus will do, but I'm excited we will see more kids. And the kids and families are excited, and that makes me feel good."

One day at a time

For the North Bend School District, just like many of the others along the South Coast, older grades will return to the classroom over the next few weeks. Kindergarten through 3rd Grade returned first from the break to the now-regular hybrid schedule. On Jan. 19, 4th and 5th grade will return, and students at North Bend Middle School will be back during the last week of the month.

"For high school, we have a tentative date for Feb. 8, but that may change," Bogatin

He described how teachers have been creative in making sure students could still get the most out of their classes, including ones that typically need in-person instruction such as band, choir and the district's popular culinary program.

"(Culinary teacher) Frank Murphy has set up an elaborate video culinary experience, doing lessons and asking kids to do stuff along at home," Bogatin said. "(Murphy) brings in small groups to teach things life knife skills, which can't be done online."

For the band and choir courses, virtual playing has impressed Bogatin and the school board.

"I shared one (video) at the last board meeting," Bogatin said. "(The band) has always been good and they're being creative... We want kids in our buildings and know, especially in the middle and high school, (students) need social experiences... There is a bit of a wait-and-see because the county (COVID-19) numbers are still pretty high, but we're watching pretty carefully
